S. H. Dupuis and family of East Main street and his cousin, Ralph Dupuis, and family of Indian Orchard returned last Saturday from a two-weeks' vacation spent at Pookookapog lake, Fiskdale. They report a very pleasant outing, and among the places of interest visited was Prof. Fortier's summer home at Brookfield, where the Newton family were murdered by Paul Mnller Friday, Jan. 7, 1898. On the lawn in front of the house is a large elm with a winding stairway built around the tree to a height of 44 feet, leading to a large platform built among the branches by C. S. Earle in 1901. This is where Mr. Fortier and his guests have their Sunday dinners. Mr. Dupuis and his cousin had good success fishing, having caught 422 fish—perch, ponts, eels and bass; one of the black bass weighing two ponnds.

Miss Nettie Rogers, who has been quite ill at her home, is improving.

O. J. Fenton has returned after spending several days on the Maine coast.

Mrs. Ellen Twiss' house on Springfield street has recently been painted.

Bradford Stone of the Wennimesset spent Sunday at his home in Springfield.

Nathan Kramer spent the latter part of the week at his home in Worcester.

John F. Twiss of Springfield street is spending the week at Revere Beach.

Floyd Graham of Florence spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, J. E. Allen.

Clifford Geer has returned home after a few days' stay in the Berkshire hills.

Peter Smith has taken a position as fireman in the boiler house of the Palmer Mill.

Miss Lena Bryans of Monson spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Sarah Fenton.

Mrs. Fannie Germain has returned from a few days' visit with friends in Worcester.

Miss Blanche Upham is substituting as organist in the Methodist church in Monson.

John Fitzgerald of Greenfield was the guest Sunday of friends on Springfield street.

Mrs. F. A. Upham and daughter Blanche returned Saturday from a few days' stay at Northfield.

Robert Blair has moved his family into a tenement in A. S. Geer's new house on High street.

Mr. Brown of West Warren spent Sunday at the home of Pembroke Pierce on Front street.

Irving Allen of Worcester spent Sunday at the home of his father, J. E. Allen of Maple street.

Henry Fredette of West Springfield has been spending a few days at his home on Ruggles street.

Mrs. William Praries' two nieces from Northampton have been guests at her home this week.

Master Rene Boissy spent the week at the home of the Misses Emma and Clara Boissy in Holyoke.

Fred Minnie of Wauregan, Ct., has returned to his home after a visit at the home of Clement Russett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Senecal of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Senecal.

Elton Chamberlain left last Friday for a visit of several weeks with his aunt, Mrs. M. Chamberlain, in Woodstock, Ct.

Frank Fleury left this week for Brooklyn, N. Y., where he has taken a position with the Lowe Manufacturing Company.

Matthew Horgan of Holyoke spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan on East Main street.

Miss Eva Bryans of Monson spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Fenton of Springfield street.

Peter Manser, clerk for James Wilson, has returned after a two-weeks' vacation spent at St. Albans, Vt, and Lake Champlain.

Miss McGuy of Barrington, R. I., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, returned to her home last Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Butler of Demarest, Ga., a former pastor of the Union church, has been visiting friends in this place during the week.

Rev. Gilbert L. Forte, a former resident of this place, was married in Pittsfield Tuesday of this week to Mrs. Minerva Gillett of that city.

Miss Florence Collins of Springfield, a former resident of this place, has returned home after a few days' visit at the home of Miss Beatrice Abare.

Mrs. May Chamberlain has returned to her home in Woodstock after a few days' visit at the home of Mrs. M. K. Chamberlain on Maple street.

Raymond R. Warriner and friend, Floyd Turner, of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warriner of Maple street.

Carl Perrin of West Woodstock, Ct., has returned to his home after a few weeks' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calkins on Maple street.

BONDSVILLE.

A party of young men from here are in camp at North Dana.

John McVickar has returned from a vacation at the Boston beaches.

Elwin Hayes has gone to Montreal, Que., where he will spend a few days.

Misses Agnes and Etta Sullivan spent Sunday with their cousin in Thorndike.

Miss Nellie Crowley will leave to-morrow for Fitchburg for a vacation with friends.

Miss Mary Griffin of High street is entertaining Miss Lena Flynn of Chicopee.

Miss Molly Rooney of Springfield spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Minnie Shea.

Miss Mary Manning of Springfield is the guest of her aunt, Miss Katherine L. Quirk.

Mr. Sexton of Worcester was in town yesterday calling on friends for a short stay.

Miss Edna Monat has returned to her home after a visit with relatives in Springfield.

Miss Marguerite Hanifin spent Wednesday and Thursday with friends in Springfield.

Miss Lena Larkin of Boston is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of High street.

Miss Anna Lusty spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lusty.

Allan Murphy of Southbridge spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Keyes.

Ed Wludyka of Whitinsville spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wludyka.

Master Gordon Parent of Ludlow is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent.

Timothy Sullivan of Holyoke was a guest Sunday of Miss Ellen Sullivan on Main street.

Misses Mary and Josephine Ford of Boston are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bordeaux.

Mrs. Robert Henry and daughter will leave the coming week for a month's stay at Block Island.

Mrs. James Garvey of Springfield was the guest Sunday of her mother, Mrs. Patrick Landers.

Thomas Carmody of Springfield was the guest of his sister, Miss Anna Carmody, on East street over Sunday.

Miss Edith McFarlane has returned to her home on Crawford street after a visit with relatives in Springfield.

Mr and Mrs. Thomas Giaccnm of Brooklyn, N Y., are the guests of Mrs. Giaccum's mother, Mrs. Dennis Fenton.

Miss Doris Fitzgerald of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of her aunt, Miss Katherine Fitzgerald, on Pleasant street.

Miss Nellie Carroll of Ware resumed her studies with her pupils on the piano yesterday after an absence of several days owing to illness.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated Monday morning in St. Bartholomew's church for the repose of the soul of Mrs. David Fitzgerald.

Rev. Father Griffin of St. Mary's church is entertaining two of his former altar boys, Masters Moriarty and Kane, of the Sacred Heart parish, Holyoke.

Mrs. Nolan and children and Miss Marguerite Casey of Chester visited friends here yesterday. Miss Ella Casey of this place returned with the party, who made the trip in an automobile, for a vacation with her sister there.

The Salt in the Sea.

The Pythagoreans held that the sea was salt by reason of the tears shed by Kronos, father of Zeus. According to the old Hebraic tradition, the ocean was originally a great body of fresh water, but which was made salt by the abundant tears of the fallen angels. One sect of Buddhists believe that Lot's wife—that is to say, the "pillar of salt" which was once the wife of the humble gentleman named above—lies at the bottom of the ocean in a certain narrow strait and that once each year the waters of all oceans flow through that narrow channel. The Talmudic writers say that it was never salt until Moses wept repentance after breaking the tables of stone.

The Mascot of Sweet Briar Gulch

By HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

[Continued from Third Page.]

"My God! What might have happened if the boy hadn't waked me?" he thought. The superstition of the miner rose in him rampant. "I believe that kid's going to bring me good luck," he said. "Darned if I don't. Well, I could stand some."

He took up the body of the rattler on a stick and heaved it far away, then lit his pipe.

"I don't think I care for any more sleep tonight," he laughed. "Like Ches, it ain't that anything will hurt me out here, but I'm everlastingly scared."

He watched the night out, reveling in his enjoyment of the mystery of the coming morning, that phase of the day which never ceases to be unreal and which calls out of the watcher sentiments and emotions he is a stranger to for the rest of the day.

The sun hung on the sharp point of Old Dog Tooth like a portent before he woke the boy.

Ches was all amazement for a second; then he gave a glad cry.

"Gee! Yer still here, ain't yer? No pipe in dis." He looked all around him. "Say, dis is a reg'lar teeayter uf er place, ain't it?" he remarked. "Dis is der scene where der villun almost gits der gent wid der sword if der stage maunecher didn't send sumun ter help 'im out."

Jim laughed at the sophisticated infant. "You don't believe in the theater much, then, Ches?"

"Aggh!" replied Ches. "If it ain't seven it's 'leven on der stage, but it's mostly craps in der street."

"Well, son, there are such points on the dice," admitted Jim. "But let's have something to eat and we'll feel better."

Ches rustled around after sticks in his funny, angularly active style, singing a song the while from the gladness of his heart. It was a merry song about mother slowly going down the hectic path of phthisis pulmonalis and sister, who has, one is led to believe, taken to small bottles, small hours and undesirable companions, refusing to come home and lift the mortgage which is shortly to be foreclosed, all in the narrow confines of twenty-five verses.

Jim listened to the inspiriting ditty in astonishment.

"Bird of the wilderness, blithesome and cumberless, Sweet be thy matin o'er moorland and lea!"

he quoted. "For heaven's sake, child," he continued in some irritation, "where did you learn that echo of the morgue?"

"Don't you like 'er?" asked Ches, in his turn astonished at such a lack of taste. "Wy, dat's er gig in der city. Everybuddy an' der ginnies wid der organs is givin' dat out all day long."

"Well, let 'em," commanded Jim. "Don't introduce it to this part of the country. As you render it through the nose and with the wail at the end it is a thing to make a strong man lie down and give up the ghost in sheer disgust. Ches, does it really make you feel good to sing it?"

"Yessir—kinder," replied Ches hesitatingly.

"Lord," thought Jim, "what a life to make a song like that a recreation!" Then aloud: "It's bad luck to sing before breakfast, Ches. I'll teach you a livelier song than that when we hit the trail again."

So it came to pass that during the first miles of their day's journey the way was enlivened by the notes of "The Arkansas Traveler," "Garry Owen," "Where's My Linda-Cinda Gone," "Baltimore Girls" and other songs of a lively character.

Ches approved of these in moderation. Then Jim tried an experiment. With a serious face, but half an eye on the boy, he howled, moaned and grunted "The Cowboy's Lament," which still presents the insoluble problem of whether the words or the music are drearier. "Oooooo001 Pla-a-ay yonr fifes l-o-o-w-l-y, a-a-nd beee-at your drums sl-o-o-o-wly and play the dead m-a-arch as you carry me o-o-o-onl" mourned Jim. Ches was all attention. "For I'm o-o-o-nly a p-o-o-or cowboy, and I know I've done w-r-o-o-o-o-ngl" wailed the singer in conclusion. "How'd you like that, Ches?"

"Say, dat's a ringer!" cried the boy enthusiastically.

Jim sat him down by the roadside and laughed his fill. "I think you're hopeless," he gasped.

The boy was hurt in a way he could not understand. Something pained him, a new sensation of not being up to the requirements of another's view. His forced acute intelligence made a bullseye shot.

"P'r'aps w'en I've got er chist and t'umpers on me like you I'll like der udder kin' er song," he said.

Jim looked at the pathetic little figure on the burro, and his conscience stone and hammered off a specimen for future reference. In the meantime Ches, on the burro, got around the turn of the trail.

Suddenly the boy set up a shout of excitement. "Oh, mister," he yelled, with a string of profanity, his promise forgotten in his heat, "come quick an' look at der cat! Come quick, quick, quick! What a cat! You never see sich a cat!"

Jim dashed forward. "Well, I should say cat!" he remarked as he took in smote him. "That's right, boy," he replied very kindly. "I was only joking. Ought not to be any ill feeling between friends over a joke, you know. Now, you slug ahead all you plenty please."

"FOR I'M O-O-O-NLY A P-O-O-OR COWBOY."

"Don't say nuttin' more about it," replied Ches. "It's all square."

A little farther on Jim noticed a piece of quartz outcrop with a metal stain on it. Now, a miner can no more pass such a thing than some others could refuse to pick up the pin shining at their feet, so he took a the situation. On a ledge about fifty feet above the road crouched a full grown mountain lion, ears back, eyes furtively glimpsing every avenue of escape, yaggering at the intruders savagely.

The small boy in Jim Felton rose on the instant. "Pelt him, Ches! Pelt him!" he cried and let fly the rock in his hand by way of illustration. A wild animal seems to have little idea of a missile.

The lion held his ground and let the stone strike him in the side. Then, with a screech like the vital principle of 40,000 tomcat fights, a screech that left a sediment in the eardrums of the listeners for the balance of the morning, he fairly flew up the straight side of the cliff, followed by a rain of projectiles.

"Ches, we oughtn't to have done that," said Jim soberly. "If that fellow had been of another mind he'd have made this the warmest day of our lives."

"Why, will dey fight?" asked Ches, his eyes wide open.

"They will that, son, sometimes," replied Jim. Then he launched into the tales of wild beast hunts, drifted from that to the romance of the gold field, the riches coming in a day—the whole glamor of it.

Never did narrator have more attentive listener. There was a sort of white joy in the boy's face.

"Oh, ain't I glad to git in dis!" he cried. "Here's just wot I been lookin' fur." Suddenly he struck Jim on the shoulder with a tightly clinched fist. "I made jur youse der first t'ing. Didn't yer see me? I know me man all right. Der secont I put me peeps on yer I scs ter meself, 'Dat feller won't t'row yer down, Chimmy.' Ain't I right, hey? Ain't I right, mister?"

Jim patted him on the back. "I think you're right, old man," he said. "I'll do anything I can for you."

"Yer don't hafter tell me dat. I know it," replied the boy. A sudden sob gathered in his throat and choked him. "Yer don't know wot I been t'rough, mister. It 'ud laid out many er big stiff ten times me size. I'd—don't youse laugh at me now, beens I'm only a kid—I'd give me heart's blood fur youse, s'help me, I would, now!"

"Shake hands, pardner," said Jim, his own voice a trifle hoarse. "We'll do fine together. I know we will."

[Continued next week.]

"THE LEADING SPECIALTY STORE"

THE WOMAN'S SHOP

Tenth Quarterly Clearance Sale

A Drastic Clearance of Absolutely Every Garment in Our Stock.

This is the Tenth of our justly famous Quarterly Clearance Sales, and though each preceding one has been marked by the most extraordinary value-giving, this Tenth Quarterly Sale is going to be the most effective ready-to-wear garment clearance ever attempted in Springfield. In other words, we have established a standard of such low prices, that every single piece of Spring and Summer merchandise now in the store will positively be sold. Former prices and actual worth are utterly disregarded to make this possible. Our policy does not permit us to carry any garments from one season to another, so absolute clearance is the word, at no matter what cost or sacrifice. Every item—and those given below are only a small fraction—offers the most incredible sort of money-savings.

Tremendous Sacrifice Clearance of Every Cloth Suit in Stock

Everything Included at These Four Prices

SUITS AS HIGH AS $20

$5.00

About 20 Suits in Serge, Worsted, Mixtures and Natural Silk Pongee, mostly one of a kind. Ladies' and Misses' sizes—marked for quick clearance.

SUITS AS HIGH AS $25

$8.75

Fine French Serges lined with silk, strictly tailored and dressy sailor-collar models. Ladies' and Misses' sizes—all shades.

SUITS AS HIGH AS $35

$12.75

Beautifully Tailored Styles of Finest French Serge and distinctive Mannish cloths—also White Serges. Regular and extra sizes.

SUITS AS HIGH AS $45

$14.75

Practically every high-grade and exclusive suit in stock now at this price. Formerly sold up to $45.

COATS—Final Sweeping Clearance

Practically our Entire Stock of Coats, including Serges, Mixtures, Silks, Satins, Pongees and Cravenettes Now Offered at These Two Prices.

COATS SOLD UP TO $17.50

$5.00

Tailored styles in Serges and Mixtures—also Silk Pongees and Cravenettes.

COATS SOLD UP TO $25

$10.00

Handsome French Serges, Satins, Silks and Pongees.

387 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Drop Side Iron Bed Couch, $2.88

GRAND CLEARANCE ... OF ... FURNITURE

Iron Beds, All Sizes 98 cents

To make this sale the sale of the season we have called on our friends the manufacturers and asked them to give us all of the patterns, 1911 designs, which they are not going to run in 1912. We made a cash offer for six carloads solid of furniture which after some hesitation they finally accepted—we throw this vast purchase in with our regular stock and mark the entire line at such extremely low prices that in many instances it figures down to the wholesale prices that we paid for the same articles only a couple of months ago.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR SUCCESSFUL BUY; COMPARE PRICES; THEN WE KNOW YOU WILL COME JUST ABOVE THE ARCH TO GET YOUR OUTFIT. YOU'LL LIKE TRADING AT ADASKIN'S.

A Solid Carload of BRASS BEDS. The Finest Quality Made at Wholesale Prices

2-inch post Colonial design, bright or dull finish Brass Bed, all sizes. Adaskin's Price, Just Above the Arch $6.79

2-inch post continuous effect with neat husks and fillers, a beautiful design, satin or bright finish, was sold at $19 50. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $11.87

Very massive bed, continuous 2-inch posts with seven 1 1-2 inch fillers, nine massive husks, bright or satin finish, sold for $39. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $26.50

Dozens of other patterns too numerous to mention here, up to $60.00

A SOLID CARLOAD OF DINING ROOM FURNITURE

All of the best and latest patterns at prices that we had to pay ourselves only three months ago we offer to you. Grasp the opportunity.

No. 266 Buffet with china cabinet effect on top, bent glass ends, 48 inches wide, 72 inches high, two French plate mirrors 42 inches long, the finest selected quartered sawed oak, handsome finish, regular price $62. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $48.75

Selected Mahogany Buffet, Colonial design, 48 inches wide, French plate mirror 56 inches wide, 20 inches deep, piano polish finish dull, formerly $85. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $67.50

American Quartered Oak Buffet with one drawer lined for silverware, French plate mirror, carved panels. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $11.50

Others ranging at $16, $18, $22, $25 to $85.

DINING TABLES AT ALMOST THE PRICE OF KITCHEN TABLES.

Quartered oak round Extension Table with claw feet pedestal, opens to six feet, very neat design, formerly $15. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $8.79

Flush rim quartered oak round pedestal Dining Tables, the most handsome table design, $28. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $22.50

Others at from $4.88 to $65.

Dining Chairs, Slip Leather Seat Chairs, quartered oak, polish finish, formerly $3.50. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $2.19

Others at from $1.69 to $8.

RUGS

We offer an immense reduction on all of the 9x12 Rugs that the mills will not make in any other sizes. We purchased these at a great sacrifice and we will offer these to you at the same proportion of reduction. Comparison invited.

Seamless 9x12 Tapestry Brussels Rugs, floral and oriental designs, only a few more left. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $10.23

Axminster Rugs as low as $17.50, Velvets as low as $14.88, Wiltons as low as $32, Orientals as low as $28.

Small rugs at such good values that it will be a treat to the reduction of high cost living exponents.

RUGS

DRESSERS

In Oak, Mahogany, Bird's Eye Maple, Circassian Walnut, at what we used to pay for these only a few months past. Solid Oak Dressers with French plate mirror, beveled. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $6.39

Mahogany Dressers with glass knobs, French plate mirrors, piano polish finish, handsome design, formerly $28. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $18.75

Bird's-Eye Maple Dressers with very large French plate mirror, very massive edge, an extremely large case with carved claw feet, serpentine front, formerly $38. Adaskin's Price, just above the arch $26.75

No. 8 Range, with Removable Nickel, High Shelf, Indicator, Etc. $19.75

ADASKIN FURNITURE CO.,
234 MAIN ST.. SPRINGFIELD. Just Above the Arch

Large Porch Rocker with Arms, High Back Wove, Rattan $1.49

Just Received

A large quantity of

NEW BROOMS

Which are selling at 35 cents each.

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division R. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with R. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with R. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.

LEAVE Amherst, 8 44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.

LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9 55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9 40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4 45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.

LEAVE New London, 5 20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.

LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE

Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

The Antalgica

Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 11, 1911. NUMBER 19.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

O'Connor's Barber Shop

PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.

Light and Heavy Trucking.

To Ice Takers:

Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.5

If cash is paid in advance, $1.4

Give us your orders for PURE SPRING WATER ICE.

Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.

H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

AUDITORS.

W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith, H. E. W. Clark. E. E Hobson.

TRUSTEES.

H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton. H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter. R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid. Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor M. J. Dillon. C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro. E. E. Hobson, G. A. Rice.

TREASURER.

C. L. WAID.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Electric Motors, Gas, Gasolene or Kerosene Engines, Ventilating or Ceiling Fans, Forge lowers, Pulleys, Hangers and Shafting,

new or second-hand furnished and installed

Wm. C. Moulton, Electrical and Mechanical Contractor.

Phone 122-21 Monson, Mass.

"New Brooms Sweep Clean"

Just received, a large quantity of brooms which

Are Selling for 35 cts.

100 pieces of Percale at 12 1-2c yard

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Low-Mark Rug Sale

We have taken down from our rack all the rugs that the patterns are not to be made again. These you will find in piles on our carpet floor marked in plain figures, showing the actual savings on each. The sizes, designs and colorings are so varied that there is no question but you can find just what you want.

Whittall Hartford Bigelow Sanford Smiths Firth Dobsons Beattie Ettrick

27x54 in. 36x72 in. 54x90 in. 6 ft. x 9 ft. 7½ ft. x 9 ft. 9 ft. x 9 ft. 8¼ x 10½ ft. 9 x 12 ft. 11¼ x 14¼ ft.

Now On Sale Second Floor

Anglo Persian Rugs 9x12 ft. Daghestan and Kermansha designs. Beautiful fabrics. $60 value $48

Hartford Saxony Rugs very high pile, exceptional colorings. Oriental and Turkish patterns actually worth $55 $44

Axminster Rugs 9x12 ft. Floral and all-over patterns. Usually sell for $35 $27.50

Double Ex. Tapestry Rugs 8 1-4x10 1-2 sizes, made in one piece, $18 value for $15.30

One-Seam Tapestry Rugs 9x12 ft. sizes; medallion designs, $15 value for $12.75

Body Brussels Rugs A variety of patterns. 9x12 ft. sizes. Regularly $30 $24.75

Ye Olde Tyme Rugs In light, medium and dark shades. 7 1-2x10 1-2 sizes. Worth $9—at $7.25

Shirvan One-Piece Rugs 9x10 1-2 sizes, can be used on both sides. Only a very few in this lot. $11.50 value $9.75

Automobile Brush Mats 30x36 inch. $5 value at $2.75

50 Velvet Rugs 27x54 inches. In selected patterns. $2 value for $1.69

FLINT & BRICKETT CO.,

439 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Complete House Furnishers. Opp. Court Square

Johnson's Bookstore

BOOKSTORE BUILDING

391 Main St. Springfield

Our Government Survey Maps Are Wonders

They give the height of land every 20 ft., every road, good and bad, used and closed; every brook and river, names of all elevations, character of the land, location of houses, etc. in handy sections, covering about 200 square miles. Of interest and value to the whole family. 10c. Postage 3c.

Books Stationery Pictures Prompt attention to mail orders

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,

Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS

Given by

Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.

Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed..... $1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed..... 1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed..... .85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,

Bridge St., Palmer.

Edison Phonographs and Records

2 and 4 minute.

50c Cloth Bound Novels

Always in stock.

Eastman Kodaks and Supplies

Lynde & Gould

Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers

Palmer, Mass.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.30 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,

Palmer, Mass.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

The Theatre At Forest Lake Destroyed This Morning.

MASS OF FLAMES WHEN DISCOVERED

And Everything Burned. One Man Badly Burned. Theatrical Company Loses Trunks.

The pretty rustic theatre at Forest Lake was wholly destroyed by fire early this morning, not a single stick being left, the flames licking up even the fence surrounding it and the seats and flooring of the ampitheatre.

The fire was discovered by members of the Columbia Stock Company, which has been playing at the theatre this week. They were living in the cottage next the theatre, and about 6 15 were awakened by a roaring and crackling sound. Looking out of the window next the theatre they found the entire ampitheatre a mass of flames, seemingly heaviest next to the stage. From this the fire worked its way into the theatre by way of the stage. The building was erected some years ago, was dry and of open construction, and offered little resistance to the blaze.

The alarm was given at once, and members of the theatrical company set to work to secure their trunks. All in the ladies' dressing room were removed before the flames reached that part of the building. On the men's side there was not such good fortune. Two or three of the trnnks there were removed, bnt by this time the flames had worked into that part and others had to be left on acconnt of the fire. Ralph Campbell, a member of the company, was severely but not seriously burned on the face, hands and chest in attempting to get his trnnk out, a blast of fire striking him as he secured a grasp on the trunk; he was forced to let go and the trnnk was lost. He was taken to the Ware hospital for treatment.

Word was sent to the fire department at Palmer and a house call was rung in just after 6 o'clock. The auto truck made the run in 12 minntes, good time considering the poor condition of a part of the road. There was little that the boys could do however, as everything was flat when they arrived. The people living in the house next the theatre did good work in protecting it from the flames, and it is due to their efforts that it was saved.

The loss is about $5000, and there is probably some insurance, but this could not be learned, the street railway officials in Springfield having the papers. The origin of the fire is only conjectural, but is supposed to have been due to a match, cigar or cigaret. Smoking is allowed in all parts of the theatre, and from the location of the fire when discovered it is supposed that a match or discarded cigar dropped through the flooring during the evening performance and smouldered away until it broke out into flames.

Postal Savings Bank Here.

Palmer Will Have One Established on Tuesday, September 5.

Postmaster Walter L Shaw has received notification that the Palmer post office will be made a postal savings depository on September 5.

The Postal System is established for the purpose of providing facilities for depositing savings at interest with the security of the United States government for repayment, the government pledging itself to repay the deposits with interest Accounts may be opened by any person 10 years old or over, and by married women free from the interference or control of their husbands. Depositors must open their accounts in person and not by letter, although after opening an account further deposits may be made by mail. Deposits will be accepted only from individuals, and not from firms, societies, corporations, or in the names of two persons jointly, or in trust for any person or persons. There is no fee for the service, and no information as to deposits will be given out by the post office officials.

Deposits are to be evidenced by postal-savings certificates in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. No account will be opened for less than $1, and deposits of less than $1 will not be received. To facilitate savings in sums of less than $1 however, postal-savings cards and stamps to the value of 10 cents each are provided, and a card bearing nine of the stamps will be received as a deposit of $1. The savings stamps cannot be exchanged for postage stamps however, neither can they be used as postage. Interest at the rate of two per cent per annum will be allowed on deposits remaining a full year, and deposits will go on interest the first of the month following their deposit. They may be withdrawn at any time. No person may deposit more than $500.

BELCHERTOWN.

Special Town Meeting.

A special town meeting was held Friday with an attendance of 25 voters. G H. B. Green was chosen moderator and Arthur Bridgman clerk. The purpose of the meeting was to take action in regard to appropriating money for the necessary repairs and improvements on the high school, as ordered by the state inspector of buildings, Mr. Cleveland. There was a warm discussion on the subject, and it was finally decided to appropriate $1500 for the purpose. Selectman Peeso was chosen to act with the school committee in superintending and contracting for the work.

William Knowlton was painfully injured recently by having his foot crushed by a stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay, who have been in charge of the O'Donnell farm, have gone to New Hampshire, where they will make their future home.

William Lucey of Holyoke fell from the top of a freight car last Friday night and struck heavily on the ground near the railroad station. Dr. L F. Lake was called to attend him, and he was sent to Northampton Saturday.

Roy G. Shaw was painfully injured while playing ball Saturday afternoon, being struck twice in the same place by a ball. As a result he has a clean break of his collar bone. It is supposed that the first time he was struck the bone was fractured and the second blow completed the break. He was attended by Dr. L. F. Lake.

The Shaw family reunion held Saturday at the home of Frank Austin, was attended by 35 people from Prescott, Northampton, Ludlow and Belchertown. Mrs. Dean and her sister were the oldest members present. Refreshments were served on the lawn and music and readings were enjoyed. The next meeting will be held in Prescott.

Wales Old Home Observance.

Large Number of Former Residents Back. All Have Good Time.

The annual old home day of Wales was held Saturday with a large number of former residents present. In the morning there was a pleasant social time and at noon lunch was served in Shaw's grove. W. E Needham, chairman of the committee of arrangements, gave a short address of welcome, after which Rev. E. B. Dolan of Agawam gave the address of the day. He emphasized the desirability and importance of developing men and women of strong character. He also gave some pleasant reminiscences of the days when he lived in Wales and told some yarns that were told to him in those days by the older inhabitants of the town A letter was then read from Rev. H. P Smith of Dayton, Ohio, who is also a former pastor of the Baptist church and who would have been the principal speaker but for the serious illness of Mrs. Smith. During the afternoon there was a concert by the orchestra and a ball game between Wales and Fiskdale, in which the home team was victorious. In the evening the pavilion of the Lake Florence Social Club was crowded at the annual ball and reception, while some attended the dance at Town's grove.

The observance closed Sunday afternoon in the old Baptist church. Deacon W. E Needham conducted the ceremonies and Mr. Freeman of Wilbraham, acting pastor of the Wales Methodist church, read the scriptnre. Miss Vanderbeck of Providence, R. I., rendered a solo. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. E Thayer of Park Memorial church of Springfield, who made a strong plea for the making of homes that would develop better boys and girls and nobler men and women. He also emphasized the duties and responsibilities of the tax-payers and voters and gave some interesting and striking anecdotes to illnstrate his meaning. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. H. Upham of Bondsville, who was pastor of the Wales Methodist church for a year.

Old townspeople were present from numerous places, including Springfield, Holyoke, Worcester, Boston, Hartford and Rockville, Ct., and New York city.

O. F. and K. of P. Basket Picnic.

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Griswold near North Wilbraham Saturday afternoon, when the Chicopee and Palmer lodges of Odd Fellows and Cabot lodge of Knights of Pythias of Chicopee, and their families, held a basket picnic and field day. Dinner was served under the large maple and elm trees in Mr. Griswold's yard. After dinner the crowd went to the large field west of the house, near the Chicopee river, where numerous sporting events were held, including a ball game between the Odd Fellows and the Knights, being won by the latter, 9 to 8. In the tug-of-war the Knights were not so successful, being defeated by the Odd Fellows in a hard pull by a narrow margin.

Bequest for Wilbraham Academy.

Various Methodist Episcopal institutions, including Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham, will at some time in the fnture receive bequests from the estate of the late Bishop W E. Mallalieu of Auburndale. The only ontright bequest in the will, which was filed for probate Tuesday, was one for $200 to the Methodist church at Millbury, but the will provides that the bulk of the estate shall go to the bishop's wife and son, and after their death be divided into four equal parts, one of which is to be given to Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham. The value of the estate is not made public.

WARE.

Death of John B. Grise.

John B. Grise, 58, died Monday morning of apoplexy at his home on the old Gilbertville road. Mr. Grise was a native of Canada, and on first coming to this country lived in Indian Orchard. He was married in Springfield in 1876 to Josephine Barche. Upon coming to Ware he took a position with Coe & Naylor in the grocery business and for the past nine years had been employed by C. Hitchcock & Co He leaves 10 children, Raoul of Springfield, Oswald of Boston, Fermin of Providence, R. I., Romeo of Pittsburg, Pa, Lionel, Armand, Irene, Carl, Lucien and Adrien of Ware. The funeral was held Wednesday morning in Mt Carmel church.

Unitarian Pastor Accepts Call.

Rev. Edwin H. Brennan of Danvers has accepted the call recently extended him to become pastor of the Unitarian church. He will take charge of the pastorate September 10th.

The funeral of Thomas Nelligan, who died in New Haven, Ct, was held Friday morning in All Saints' church, Rev. J. J. Roberts officiating. Burial was in St. William's cemetery. The bearers were James Harrison, John Gleason and Thomas Fitzgerald, representing the Knights of Columbus, and David and William Rohan and William Deady, representing the Elks.

Miss Margaret Shea, formerly of Ware, was married Monday morning to Clinton M. Cruise of Newark, N. J., by Rev. Edward Quirk at St. Joseph's rectory in Newark. They were attended by Miss Minnie Shea and John Shea of Ware, brother and sister of the bride. Miss Shea is a graduate of the Ware high school, and has been a trained nurse in Newark for several years.

Margaret O'Rourke, sister of Thomas O'Rourke of Ware, died Friday in the Mercy hospital in Springfield. The body was taken to Ware and services were held Sunday afternoon in All Saints' church, Rev. J J. Roberts officiating. Burial was in St. William's cemetery. The bearers were Michael Houlihan, James Neville, Patrick Barry, Patrick Moriarty, James Harrison and Patrick Seery.

The Ware post office has been designated by the postmaster-general as a postal savings bank beginning September 1. The usual rules in effect where postal savings banks have been established will apply in Ware, and any person 10 years or over who regularly uses the Ware post office may open an account. The smallest account received will be for $1, and each depositor will be given an envelope in which to keep savings certificates, which are to be issued in amounts of $1, $2, $5, $20, $50 and $100. People wishing to deposit less than a dollar will be sold savings postal cards for 10 cents and savings stamps at the same price. Nine stamps stuck to a card will entitle the holder to exchange the card for a dollar certificate, and the money will go on interest on the first day of the month following the day of deposit. One of the rules connected with the new department is that married women may make deposits in their own name which cannot be interfered with by their husbands. When a depositor has certificates to the amount of $20 or a multiple of 20 he is entitled to exchange them for government bonds, which pay 2½ per cent yearly interest. No depositor in the savings department may have on deposit any greater sum than $500, exclusive of interest.

INCREASED VALUATION.

Assessors Find More Property Than A Year Ago.

THE TAX RATE TAKES JUMP OF $3.

Due To Largely Increased Appropriations Last March. List of the Heavy Taxpayers.

The assessors have the tax book nearly ready for the collector, and from the valuation list some interesting figures are obtained. The valuation of the town has increased $350 125, and the tax rates jumps from $16 last year to $19 this The number of horses in town is 469, or 109 less than a year ago, while the number of cows has increased nine, the number now being 618. There are 131 neat cattle other than cows, 17 less than a year ago, while the number of hogs has dropped from 72 to 65. There is one less dwelling house than a year ago, the number now being 1098 The acres of land remain the same—18,536—and the number of fowls is just one less, 1302.

Those who pay a tax of $100 or over are:

George M. Atkins	$163
J. M. Allen	267
D. Accorsi	201
E A. Buck & Co.	533
C. H. Burns	395
G. E. Buck	277
Mary S. Brown	335
M. E Murphy estate	118
Joseph Belanger	158
R L Bond	963
H C. Cheney	127
H. D Converse	1597
W. W. Converse	135
L A. Conant	361
Central Massachusetts Elec. Co.	2145
Katherine Clifford	115
H. E W. Clark	181
Conseil cercle, Canadian St. Jean Baptiste	131
J W. Cheney	170
E G. Childs	177
Katherine Dunn	190
Stillman Ellis heirs	101
Arthur D Ellis trustee	342
Lucy A Flynt	123
Flynt building and construction company	239
R. B Francis	159
John Feeney heirs	378
Mary A. Holden	675
Carrie J Holbrook	171
Lizzie A. Hastings	214
A. W. Holbrook	168
Almenia P. Hastings	164
Mrs. D. J Harnett and children	150
Charles P. Haynes	294
Charles D Holden	127
C. W Johnson	168
Joseph Kerrigan	200
Andy and Mary Kooblick	108
Lynde & Gould	127
S. W. Lawrence	307
H G. Loomis	212
J. P Lynde	121
Katherine Lawler	126
Marcy lumber company	250
O W Marcy	148
George D. Mooers	153
H. A. Northrop	131
R. C. Newell	115
Palmer Odd Fellows' hall asso'n	142
Mary L Palmer	122
Palmer Savings Bank	879
Abner Podrat	226
Palmer Water Company	902
Blanche M. Rathbone	215
C. A & L. A Royce	108
C. S. Ruggles	286
W. E Stone & Son	130
Springfield & Eastern St R'y Co	2533
Charles F Smith	281
St. Paul's church & S. W. Lawrence	120
Mira K Stone	238
Second Baptist Society	144
N A Lenton	110
H. A. Shaw	120
Delight A. Tuthill	125
Charles A. Tabor, trustee	320
Whitcomb & Faulkner	140
Worcester County Gas Company	1520
John Wilson	170
Palmer Mill (Otis Company)	13,301
Thorndike Company	8629
Boston Duck Company	8764
NON-RESIDENTS
Boston and Albany Railroad	$2080
W. W Cross, heirs	509
Nancy M. Caryl	237
Central Vermont Railway	459
Mary E Wright	131
Clara P. Holbrook heirs	113
Ludlow Manufacturing Associates	131
F. C Powers	133
T. D. Potter	483
Roman Catholic bishop of Spring'fld	409
New England Tel. & Tel. Company	380
H C. Strong heirs	691
Fred S. Snow	178
Emma Wing	143
M J. Whitall	603
Western Union Telegraph Co.	208
Joseph H. Wesson	236
Wright Wire Company	2245
Resident bank tax	889
Non-resident bank tax	1010

The following pay a fire district tax of $25 or more:

J. M. Allen	$25
E A. Buck & Co.	59
C. H. Burns	43
G. E Buck	30
Mary A. Brown	37
R. L. Bond	33
H D Converse	176
L. A. Conant	30
Central Massachusetts Electric Co.	237
A. D. Ellis, trustee	37
Flynt Building and Construction Co.	26
J. Feeney heirs	41
Mary A. Holden	74
Marcy Lumber Company	27
Palmer Savings Bank	97
Palmer Water Company	99
Mira K. Stone	26
Springfield and Eastern Street Railroad Company	187
Worcester County Gas Company	163
NON-RESIDENTS.
Boston and Albany railroad	$229
W. W. Cross heirs	66
Nancy M Caryl	26
Central Vermont railway	50
New England Telephone and Telegraph Company	27
H C. Strong heirs	76
M J. Whitall	66
Wright Wire Company	244

Ware Mills Shut Down.

The mills of the Otis company in Ware will be closed Saturday, August 26th, and will not reopen until Tuesday morning, September 5 The shutdown will affect more than 2000 in Ware. Many will take advantage of the enforced vacation to take a trip to Canada.

BRIMFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hearn of New York are visiting her sister, Mrs. Lizzie L Converse.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C Wesser and family of Holyoke are spending the month on Prospect farm.

Mrs Hitchcock, widow of Dr. Edward Hitchcock of Amherst, and Miss Hitchcock are spending two weeks at the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Cole of Springfield, who have been spending the summer on Prospect Hill, are spending two weeks at Provincetown.

Mrs. Edward Bliss and daughters, Mrs. Jeffrey and Miss Bertha Bliss, have returned to their home in Brookline, after spending a week in town.

Rev. William Jennings and family are spending a vacation in Grafton and vicinity. There will be no preaching in the church on the next two Sundays.

Edward Butterfield has been chosen chairman of the publicity committee for the old home celebration; Rev. William Jennings chairman of the decorative committee and Orrin Hicks chairman of the supper committee.

The second of a series of dancing parties held by the young people of Brimfield was held at the hotel Friday evening. Among those present from out of town were Miss Isa Buffington of Natick, Miss Alice Pelton of Springfield and Miss Mabel Fuller of Monson.

Candidate For Senator?

Will be Either Hobson of Palmer or Wheeler of Hubbardston.

The Spencer Leader of last Friday had the following anent the approaching senatorial campaign in the Worcester-Hampden district:

With the close of the present Legislature and the probable retirement of Senator Walter B. Mellen from the field, the story is afloat that his probable successor is Ernest Hobson of Palmer, though Mr. Wheeler of Hubbardston is an avowed candidate, it is understood. Efforts will be made, however, if they have not already been put forth, to get Mr Wheeler to leave the field free to Mr. Hobson on the ground of duty. The point is made that Mr Hobson is the strong man and that it needs a most unusually equipped man to keep the district ont of the hands of the Democrats. Senator Mellen won by less than a hundred voted last fall from M. T Kane of Ludlow. Ex-Representative Alexis Boyer of Southbridge is to be the Democratic standard bearer this year and with industrial towns of the sort of Southbridge, Spencer, Palmer and the Brookfields the Republican nominee will have to bump himself, especially as the Democrats are well organized and in view of the uncertainties of the direct nomination plan.

Mr. Hobson retired from a three years' term in the Legislature last year after doing most important service npon the judiciary committee. He was ranked as one of the big men in his last year in the House. At present he is grand regent of the Royal Arcannm and that position is occupying much of his time He has not yet intimated that he will contest the nomination in the canvass as a Republican.

Wilbraham High School Pupils.

The announcement that Wesleyan Academy in Wilbraham will not be opened next year has made necessary a change in the plans of numerous grammar school graduates who had arranged to attend that institution this fall. Arrangements have been made, however, which enable Wilbraham students to attend Ludlow, Palmer or Springfield high schools. Pupils recommended for entrance by the superintendent of schools, Miss Mary L Poland, are not required to pass the regular entrance examinations. C. W. Chapin, secretary of the school committee, has given notice that those intending to begin or cont nue their courses in any of the high schools should make application for high sc ool tuition to Miss E O Beebe, chairman of the committee, in Wilbraham.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Ina Scott of Dalton has been the guest of Miss Esther Bell.

Miss Ida Vinton of Amherst spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vinton, in East Wilbraham.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fuller and daughter Dorothy of Hopkinton spent Sunday with Mr. Fuller's mother, Mrs. Anne Fuller.

Mrs. Laura H. Bruner is spending the summer at her cottage at Old Orchard, Me., and is entertaining Mrs. C. C. Beebe and daughter Kathryn of Wilbraham.

The anniversary committee chosen at the last meeting to prepare a program for the 150th celebration of the incorporation of the town in 1913 held a meeting Friday evening. Miss E O. Beebe was chosen secretary, and Chauncey E. Peck was chosen to give the historical address. The following committee was appointed to prepare a loan exhibition: Henry I. Edson, Henry M. Bliss, Charles W. Vinton, Charles E. Merrick and Mrs D. W. Mowry.

HAMPDEN.

Tax Rate Fixed.

The assessors have determined the tax rate to be $15, which is $1 more than last year. Walter S. Beebe has qualified for collector.

Mrs. Andrew Beebe is visiting her children in Springfield.

Mrs Nellie Parker of Hartford is a guest of Mrs Coleman Walker.

Mrs. Day of Sandusky, O., has been visiting Miss Esther C. Burleigh.

Miss Etta Beebe and Miss Elsie French left Wednesday for a week's outing at the shore.

Rev. J. F. Ullery and family of White River Junction, Vt., are visiting Mrs. T. Stockbridge Smith.

Miss Dorothy Kenworthy has gone to Trenton, N J, for a visit with her uncle, Albert E. Kenworthy.

Miss Ida M. Warren of Springfield has been spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Warren.

Miss Gladys Pease entertained a party of friends Monday evening in honor of Miss Florence Loomis, who has returned to Amherst with her mother, Mrs. James Loomis.

Fred Kenworthy was taken suddenly ill in Springfield last Saturday and was unable to attend to his duties as mail carrier. Marcus Beebe has been substituting during his absence.

WARREN.

Superintendent of Schools W. E Nims and family are spending a few weeks in Brattleboro, Vt.

Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Richards and two daughters are spending two weeks in Winsted, Ct., and there will be no Sunday morning services in the Congregational church the next two Sundays.

Frank E. Gleason and two other men were burning brush on the south side of Marks mountain Monday morning, when the fire got away from them, and 35 men fought it till late in the afternoon before it was under control. The blaze was confined to Mr. Gleason's land, and burned over about 20 acres and consumed 30 cords of chestnut wood, besides damaging the sprout land.

There was a narrow escape from a bad accident Sunday afternoon, when a motorcycle hound for Worcester was run down by an automobile on East Main street near the railroad bridge The motocyclist saw the car in time to jump and save himself, and the chauffeur put on his emergency brake, but not until he had run over the motocycle, which was slightly damaged. Repairs were made and both went on their way in about two hours.

John B. Pugsley, who was recently elected principal of the Warren high school, notified the school committee that he would be unable to accept the position. Mr. Pugsley is a witness on a criminal case to be tried in court in September, and is under bonds not to leave the state. At a meeting of the school committee Monday afternoon Arlington Ingalls Clow of Orange was elected principal to take his place. Mr. Clow is a graduate of Dartmouth college and studied in Germany. For the past three years he has been principal of the Decatur, Kan., high school.

The board of assessors have announced the tax rate to be $15 10, which is $4.20 less than last year, and is the lowest rate in 20 years. The personal property is assessed at $580,044; real estate $1,420,685, making a total of $2,000,729. The number of polls is 1203; total amount raised by taxation $32,617. Other receipts are announced as follows: Liquor licenses, $5351 50; unappropriated funds, $4707 50; corporation, bank and street railway taxes, $2828 80. The expenses for the year included: State tax, $3450; county tax, $3096; funded debt, $815; town grant, $37,315.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 11, 1911.

PALMER NEWS.

Direct Nominations Act.

What Candidates Must Be to Get Their Names on Ballot in Primaries.

The adoption of the new direct nominations law is responsible for a peculiar condition locally. Those who are not familiar with its provisions will be surprised to learn that names will be placed on the official ballot for the primaries only on petitions, the number of names required varying. These lists must be inspected by the registrars of voters, who scan the names carefully and see that every name is that of a qualified voter. Then, and only then can the names he placed on the official ballot.

These petitions must, by the new law, be in the hands of the registrars not later than August 26, which is two weeks from to-morrow, and in the possession of the secretary of state not later than the 29th, but as yet not a petition has been in circulation for any of the offices which this section is particularly interested in—senator, representative, or town committee, for the names of the latter are to be petitioned for just the same as any of the others. There is no intimation as yet that there will be any scramble for the nominations, and it is of course possible that they may go by default, though that is hardly probable. Should they do so, it is possible for a candidate to run on nomination papers the same as in the past.

The new law makes it possible also to have an unlimited number of names for any office on the official ballot. For instance, if a man desires to run for representative in this district all he has to do is to get 25 of his friends to sign his nomination paper and his name appears on the primary ballot, and in the primary he takes his chance with all the others who may have a desire to help make the laws next year. The ballots are prepared by the state and the selectmen have charge of the primaries, designating polling places, etc., the same as in an election, which is what the primary is—a miniatnre election.

Three Inquests.

Scheduled For District Court Last Saturday. Findings Later.

Three hearings on recent deaths on electric and steam car tracks were scheduled to be heard in the district conrt last Saturday.

One was the case of one Nichols, who stepped in front of an electric car in North Wilbraham Jnne 30. It was considered a case of snicide at the time, and the inqnest developed nothing to change that view.

In the inqniry into the death of Wilfred C. Eaton on street railway track near the wire mill on the morning of July 4 there was some inquiry into the nsnal speed of cars at this point.

The inquiry into the death of Daniel Sweeney, killed July 3 on the Boston and Albany railroad, was continned one week on account of the illness of a railroad representative.

The findings in the cases heard will be made later in the nsnal manner.

Spitting on Sidewalks.

Suggestion That It Has Become a Nuisance in Instances.

Palmer officers have never conducted a crusade against spitting on the sidewalks, though it may become necessary if complaints continue to be made as often and with as much evident canse as they have of late. The state law regarding the matter is given little attention locally, and at several places on Main street where men are in the habit of congregating the walk presents anything bnt an appearance of cleanliness. The climax was reached last Sunday however, when one yonng woman was obliged to leave the walk and take to the street in order to avoid the deposits on the walk. While able to hold her skirts from the filthy mess she absolutely refnsed to "wade throngh it," as she expressed herself. Owners of business places might help by refnsing to allow gatherings in front of their stores

Stole Railroad Ride.

Assessed $6 For Evading a 34 Cent Fare; No Money; Went Up.

George Smith and Walter M. Brown—those were the names they gave—being in Springfield Wednesday evening and wishing to go "Way Down East," boarded No 18 passenger train abont 6 o'clock, and located themselves comfortably on the forward platform of the haggage car. They were rndely yanked from their perch at Palmer, placed in the cooler for over night, and in the district coart yesterday morning were charged with evading fares on the railroad. They were fonnd gnilty and assessed $6 each, lacking which they were given another free ride back to Springfield, where they will have quarters on York street for a time. Both were "gemmen oh color"

Road Contract Awarded.

The selectmen have awarded the contract for the constrnction of the macadam road on North Main street to the William N Flynt Granite Company of Monson. The strip is to extend from the end of the piece bnilt last snmmer—nearly opposite the residence of A W. Warriner—to Shearers Corner, and will be according to the same specifications as those for last year's constrnction

Liquors Are Forfeited.

There were hearings in the district conrt Monday morning on the liqnors seized in the recent raids on the premises of John Topor of Bondsville and at the hotel in Wales. The liqnors were ordered forfeited to the commonwealth in both cases. Michael Duda of Bondsville, for interfering with an officer, was sent to the honse of correction for 15 days.

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold a meeting next Friday evening.

The honse of Mrs. Mina Morgan on North Main street is receiving a coat of paint externally.

The W. C. T. U. held a picnic Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Lamphear on the Warren road.

Louis Green has bought the John Hall property in Tenneyville and will move his family there the first of next week.

Special Justice H A. McFarland of Wales presided in the district conrt Monday in the absence of Judge Kenefick.

Miss Margaret Kennedy, who has been a teacher in the Three Rivers school, has resigned to accept a position in West Springfield.

Rev. A. C. Johnson of Westfield will preach in the Advent chapel Snnday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Snnday school will be at 2, as usual. All are invited.

Abner Podrat is making additions to the Dewey house on Sonth Main street, pnrchased by him some time ago, and is converting it into modern tenements.

Arthnr E Finch has received his commission as clerk of the district conrt of Eastern Hampden, and has qnalified for the position for the next five years.

Mrs. David F. Dillon of Central street has been called to Springfield by the death of her father, William Simpson, who died last evening after a few days' illness.

The Knox automobiles, en route for the hill-climbing contest at Worcester to-morrow, passed throngh Palmer yesterday noon, one of them being driven by Fred Belcher, the famons racer.

The annnal field day of Palmer Grange will be held Thursday, the 24th, on the farm of Alva M. Walker in Monson. A basket lnnch will be served at noon and there will he sports during the afternoon.

Rev. Frank S. Brewer occupied the pnlpit of the Congregational church last Snnday after a vacation of three weeks. He will preach next Snnday, after which the chnrch will be closed for two Sundays

George W. Camp of Park street has taken a permanent position as conductor on the Newton Lower Falls branch of the Boston and Albany railroad; this is the electric section rnnning from Newton Lower Falls to Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Daley of Pittsfield will have the sympathy of a large circle of Palmer friends in the death yesterday of their four-months-old daughter Isabel. The body was brought to Palmer this afternoon for interment.

On acconnt of the decision not to open Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham for the coming school year, arrangements have been made with the Palmer school committee whereby snch stndents as may wish to may enter Palmer high school in September.

The services at the Congregational chnrch Snnday will he as usnal. The pastor, Rev. F S. Brewer, will speak at the morning service. Snnday school at 12. and Christian Endeavor service at 6; snbject, "Small Beginnings of Intemperance." All are cordially invited.

Joseph Harnois, abont 55, died Wednes day evening at his home near the "Pool" on the Warren road of blood poisoning, the resnlt of complications following the extraction of a tooth recently. He has lived in that section for abont 30 years, being employed as section hand on the Boston and Albany road.

Fred Reimers, a condnctor on the street railway, was taken snddenly ill yesterday morning as he was abont to take a car ont of Palmer. It was feared that he might be snffering with appendicitis, hnt after attendance hy a physician it was fonnd that snch was not the case. His condition is much improved to-day.

The markers recently bought by the town to designate the graves of the soldiers of the Colonial and Revolutionary wars have arrived and been placed in position. The Colonial marker is in the shape of a Lonisbnrg cross with the dates 1607—1775. The Revolntionary marker bears the figure of a minute man and the date 1775. Appropriate exercises in the way of dedication of these memorials will he held in the near futnre

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Stanley Bennett is working in the store of F. A. Fuller while the other clerks are taking their vacations.

Mrs. Hiram Raymond and Mrs. Lizzie Calkins gave a birthday party for Floyd Calkins last Friday afternoon, in honor of his fifth birthday.

EAST BRIMFIELD.

Albert Wesson and Milton Plimpton are camping at Little Alnm pond.

Rev and Mrs F. S. Child and her sister, Miss Olga Stanger, retnrned Saturday from the White Mountains and the regniar services were held in the church Snnday morning.

Fred J Locke was the gnest of his parents over Snnday. He retnrned to New Haven, Ct., Monday accompanied by his sister Maud.

WALES.

Walter Ronrke and Earl Loudon spent the week end in Norwich, Ct.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles T Holt are spending the month of Angnst at Oak Bluffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthnr Bedford of Holyoke have been spending a few days in town.

Mrs Fred Worth and family of Cambridge are at the Worth honse on Church street.

Mrs. George Rhodes and family of Springfield have taken rooms at Mrs. George Clark's for the month of Angnst.

Mrs Joseph Foster Jr. and family of Springfield have taken furnished rooms in the Eager block for the month of Angnst.

There was a sale of ice cream and cake with a graphophone entertainment at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening.

There will be no services at the Baptist church for the next two Snndays. Regniar services will he resnmed on the last Sunday in Angnst.

Baseball.

PALMER TOWN LEAGUE.

Three Rivers 9, Palmer 2.

Palmer lost to Three Rivers 9 to 2 in the Palmer league game on the driving park Saturday afternoon This victory puts Three Rivers two games in the lead for the pennant. The featnres were Justin's pitching and the catching of both Kenney and Whalen. The score:

T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e	Palmer,	ab	h	po	a	e
Graham, l,	4	1	4	0	1	Kennedy, c,	3	1	13	2	0
Whalen, c,	4	2	12	1	0	Provost, 2,	3	0	1	5	2
T. Cole, s,	5	1	0	2	2	Drexler, 1,	4	0	7	0	1
Rogers, l,	5	0	3	1	0	St. John, r,	4	0	2	0	0
Justin, p,	5	1	1	1	0	Paul, p,	2	1	0	2	0
Lafave, m,	5	1	2	0	0	Downt'n, s,	2	0	0	1	1
I. Cole, 3,	4	1	4	0	1	E. Bro'e, m,	4	0	2	0	0
Fonrnier, 2,	5	1	1	1	0	Lawson, l,	4	0	1	0	2
Barber, r,	1,	5	2	0	0	0	P. Bro'te,	3,	2	0	3	0	2
Total,		42	10	27	5	4	Total,		28	2	27	10	8

Three Rivers,	0	0	0	3	3	0	3	0	0—9
Palmer,	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0—2

Runs, Graham 2, Whalen 2, T. Cole 1, I. Cole, Fonrnier, Barber 2, Kenney, Paul. Total bases, Palmer 4, Three Rivers 16 Sacrifice hit, Downtown. Stolen bases, T. Cole. Lafave, Fonrnier, Kenney, Provost, Downton. Two-base hits, Graham, Whalen, Barber. Three-base hit, Paul. Home rnn, Whalen. First base on balls, off Paul 3, off Justin 4. Left on bases, Three Rivers 8, Palmer 6. Struck ont, by Justin 11, by Paul 12. Batters hit, Provost, Downton. Double play, Rogers, unassisted. Balk, Paul. Time, 2h, 50m. Umpire, Geoffrey.

Baseball Notes.

Ware defeated Gilbertville, 7 to 0, in the latter place Saturday afternoon.

Indian Orchard met its third defeat of the year Saturday at Southbridge, when the strong nine of that place won from them 10 to 8

At a meeting held in President E E Hobson's office, at which representatives of each team in the league met, the protest of the game of July 8 by Bondsville, which it played with Three Rivers, was decided in Bondsville's favor. The game will be played over as soon as possible. Three Rivers won the game 5 to 4 With Donovan on third a ball got by Whalen, a hoy threw it back to him, and Donovan was called ont at the plate Bondsville protested this.

Moscow has 20,000 cabs and St. Petersburg probably the same nnmber.—Print.

Cnts and bruises may he healed in abont one-third the time required by the nsnal treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

Any woman with pimples, skin ernptions, sores or hoils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cures them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cures cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Klasley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. C. H. Burns and children are at Pleasnre Beach, Ct.

Rev. C. W. Williams has returned from a visit in Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Harwood are visiting friends in New Haven, Ct.

M. J. Hopkins is spending two weeks' vacation at Pleasure Beach, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs Thomas Edmunds are spending a few days at Savin Rock, Ct.

Miss Irene Bates has returned from a month's vacation at Asbnry Park.

Miss Flora Stadley of Springfield visited friends in town the first of the week.

Miss Elisabeth Bodfish has returned from a month's vacation at Lake Embden, Me.

Miss Marian D. Clarke has taken a position as teacher in the West Springfield schools.

Mrs. Gardner Randiett and danghter have gone to Edgertown for a visit with relatives.

Miss Jennie Roche has returned from a two-weeks' vacation in the eastern part of the state.

M. J. Doyle of the Hotel Bnrns is spending the week with his family at Pleasure Beach, Ct.

Scott Varney of Springfield was a gnest over Snnday of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Todd of Pine street.

Misses Ruth and Lena Buffington of Converse street are visiting friends in Somers, Ct.

Miss Carrie Hawkes of Pine street is spending a few days with relatives in Hartford, Ct.

Grover C. Goodes of Pine street is taking a vacation of a week, which he is spending in Maine.

Michael Lally of Boston is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs J. J. Todd on Pine street.

F S. Potter and T. A. Roche spent Snnday with G. N. Lawton at Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester.

Walter E Tuthill and wife of Cambridge are gnests of his mother, Mrs. Delight Tuthill of Pleasant street.

Miss Bernice Hart of Holbrook street has returned from a visit of several weeks with friends in Escanaba, Mich.

Mrs. W. E. Chapman and son Robert of Oakdale are visiting her sister, Mrs A. W. Converse of Walnnt street.

Misses Florence and Grace Ross have gone to Worcester to spend the remainder of their vacation with relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins of Newtonville, former residents, have been spending a part of the week with friends here.

Mrs. L. E Chandler and daughter Frances of North Main street are visiting friends in the eastern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. B E. Sperry and two children of Guilford, Ct., are gnests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ezra Kempton on Pearl street.

Mrs. John T. Fitzpatrick and children of Stoughton are gnests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs M. J. Dillon of Central street.

Dr. J F. Roche has retnrned to his home on Park street after being in the Springfield hospital, where he nnderwent an operation.

Mrs Charles Willman and danghter Fern of Leominster are gnests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Huntington of Pine street.

Mrs D. F Navien and two daughters, Gertrnde and Madeline of Cambridge, are gnests at the home of Thomas Roche on Pond street.

Mrs. Robert G Kenefick and son, who have been gnests of Jndge and Mrs. T. W. Kenefick of Knox street, have returned to their home in Boston.

G M Atkins and family and chauffeur, H. E. Steele, of Thorndike street, started Satnrday in their touring car for a trip through the state of New York.

Mrs. Ida Lovell of Worcester, Mrs. Clayton Smith and son and Mrs Benjamin Bowdoin of Gloucester are visiting Miss Carrie Burdick on Pleasant street.

Miss Edith Lindquist of the Mason district goes next week to Somerville for a stay of two weeks. Miss Amy Lindquist will go to Fitchbnrg for a similar stay.

F. J. Hamilton of Park street has moved his family from a farm in Ware, where they have been spending several weeks, to "The Needles" at Forest Lake for the rest of the summer.

Misses Beatrice and Susie Squires, who have been gnests of Miss Myrtle Whitcomb for two weeks, have retnrned to their home in Belchertown, accompanied by Miss Myrtle, who spent a few days in that place.

Friends of Mrs. Russell Rixford—formerly Miss Pearl Lawton—will regret to learn that she was forced to nndergo an operation for appendicitis last Friday at her home in Brattleboro, Vt. The operation was snccessfnl, however, and she is reported as doing nicely.

Mrs. H. R. Stonghton of Barre, Vt., Mrs. Smith of Bangor, Me., Mr. C. A Gilchrist and wife of Boston have been gnests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E Fish at Forest Lake this week. It has been a family party, Mr Gilchrist, Mrs Stonghton and Mrs. Smith being brother and sisters of Mrs. Fish.

Her Triumph.

"Marin," Mr. Dorkins said, with a note of exultation in his voice, "I turned a trade today that netted me a clean $2,000."

"H'mph," ejaculated his spouse in her loftiest yon make me tired manner, "I went out today to hunt up a first class cook, and I got her, John—I got her!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Greater Blessing.

Jawkins—Ah, my boy, it's a fine thing to have a friend whom you can trust. Hawkins—It's a jolly sight better to have one who will trust you, old man.

Strenuous.

"He used to be a straight enough young chap. What made him get crooked?" "Trying to make both ends meet, I believe."—Exchange.

Greatness.

Greatness lies not in being strong, but in the right nse of strength, and strength is not used rightly when it serves only to carry a man above his fellows for his solitary glory.

Power when employed to relieve the oppressed and to punish the oppressor becomes a great blessing.—Swift.

The Subject He Liked Best.

"You talk well on the subject in which you are most interested," said the impertinent girl.

"And what is that?" said the man, smelling a compliment.

"Yourself," said the impertinent girl demurely.

The Boston Girl.

"Will you marry me?" he asked bluntly.

"No," repiled the Boston maiden. But she added coyly: "I am not endowed with sacerdotal power. Put your question properly. Ask me if I will become your wife."—Philadelphia Press.

The Happy Man.

"I hear she is to be married. Who is the happy man?"

"Her father."—Lippincott's.

An ordinary case of diarrhoea can, as a rnle, be cured by a single dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This remedy has no saperior for bowel complaints. For sale by all dealers.

Ansel Peever's Fortune

It Didn't Materialize Quite as He Expected

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Everybody in Little River declared that Lucy Mellen would be tired of waiting for Ansel Peever.

"Wait until I come back from California, dearest," Ansel had whispered. "Then I will have such a home and such acres of greenhouses that I will not be ashamed to ask you to give up your splendid home on the hill."

Of course Lucy's heart prompted her to tell him to remain with her. What cared she for the promised wealth of the golden west when the solid reality of Ansel's thrifty little flower business was ready and waiting for them both? But Ansel looked so dowhearted and disappointed at her answer that Lucy availed herself of the feminine privilege and changed her mind.

"You'd better go, Ansel," she urged him. "I will wait for you if you should be gone a hundred years," she added recklessly.

So it was arranged as Ansel's pride prompted him, and Lucy stayed in her father's comfortable home on the hilltop and watched the black smoke from Ansel's train dissolve in the May sunshine even as her hopes and happiness dissolved in a burst of grief.

A hundred days went by, and Ansel's letters were full of homesickness and enthusiasm. A hundred weeks passed, and the letters contained less hopefulness and the same strain of longing for home. Lucy wrote and urged him to come home. "Let the old fortune go," she wrote hastily. "There is plenty to do in Little River, and Stephen Tuttle will be glad to sell the greenhouses back to you."

But Ansel was obstinate as well as proud, and he did not come home in answer to Lucy's appeal. A hundred months went by—eight long years and four months—and Lucy's Aunt Rebecca Prentice repeated the words she had dinned into her niece's pretty ears:

"He's never coming back again, Lucy. You might as well have married Leonard Deane or the minister and had a family growing up around you instead of wasting your life waiting for a man who has forgotten you."

"I don't believe Ansel has forgotten me, Aunt Rebecca," Lucy said patiently. "It has taken longer for him to make a fortune than he expected—that's all."

One April morning Lucy Mellen found herself quite alone in the world. Her parents had died shortly after Ansel went away, and now Aunt Rebecca had succumbed to pneumonia, and the big empty house on the hill seemed bigger and emptier than ever. At the end of a year Lucy had managed to almost beggar herself by several foolish investments, and there came a day when the red flag swung to the breeze above the Mellen place.

"What are you going to do now, Lucy Mellen?" demanded her next door neighbor, Mrs. Hall. "Here you've got all your furniture crated up as if you was going away, and you ain't said a word to nobody!"

"I'm going to California," said Lucy calmly, though her pale cheeks flushed. "Ansel has sent for me to come out there and be married. You see, he's so busy he can't get away just now."

"Well, of all things!" cried Mrs. Hall excitedly. "You don't mean that you, a slugie woman, are going away out there all alone to get married?"

"I'm thirty-five," said Lucy obstinately, "and Ansel's folks are out there, you know."

Mrs. Hall said no more, but twisted the shawl tighter around her thin face and fairly flew down the street to be the first one to transmit the startling news to Little River.

Lucy's friends were at the station to bid her goodby when she started on her long journey. Her household goods had gone on a week before, and when the last moment came there were many tears and good wishes and lots of rice and old shoes flying after her. Lucy looked strangely pale and silent for a bride to be, but she had been that way for so many years now that her friends quite forgot what a merry, light hearted girl she had been when Ansel first wooed her.

Then the train thundered away toward New York, and Lucy leaned her pale face against the window and closed her frightened eyes. She had never taken such a long journey, and she was quite nnnsed to traveling, but that was not the worst of it. She had told a number of downright lies—Ansel Peever had not sent for her; he did not know she was coming out there, and she had not heard from him for two months.

It was this knowledge that made Lucy Mellen so miserable as her train flew westward. Every mile that brought her nearer to Ansel also made her heart beat faster until at last when she reached San Francisco and changed cars for the little town in Santa Barbara county she was almost sick with remorse and shame at her own daring.

At last it was time for her to get off. She saw her trunks dumped on the station platform at Redcliff, and then the train rolled away among the vineyards and orange groves, while she was left in the soft, balmy atmosphere of the land of flowers

"Ansel Peever's place?" repeated the station agent. "It's three miles down the valley. I'll have Hawkes carry you there. It'll cost you four bits, ma'am."

"Four what?" repeated puzzled Lucy.

"Four bits—50 cents. I suppose you're from the east," smiled the man good naturedly, and Lucy said that she was, and she thanked him prettily for attending to her trunks.

Seated in the buckboard with her trunks lashed on behind, the two lean roan horses clattered over the road much faster than Lucy cared to have them.

The roans slowed down, and Hawkes pointed a whip around a curve of the road. "Peever's place is just around that bend," he said.

"Stop here, please!" panted Lucy, with sudden alarm. "Please wait here while I go on and speak to them."

Lucy fluttered away around the bend of the road, looking very pale and fragile in her gray traveling dress with a gray chiffon veil tied about her hat and framing her delicate face with its soft folds. Her heavy golden hair lay in rippling waves under the veil, and the occasional silver threads that time had woven were quite hidden from view. If Lucy's cheeks had been pink she would have looked very much like the Lucy of old.

The pink came fast enough when she found herself hesitating at a pretty rustic gate set in an evergreen hedge. Beyond was a small cottage set in the midst of flowers. Away to the west there stretched a thriving vineyard, and beyond to the south there was another cottage, newer and freshly painted, and all around this cottage as far as the eye could see were orange groves. Lucy could smell the odor of the waxen blossoms, and she could see the gold of the ripened fruit as she made her way up the path to Ansel's house.

Her first doubt of Ansel Peever came when she saw a woman on the porch eying her curiously. Around the woman's skirts there clung a little child. Lucy's heart almost stopped beating. Aunt Rebecca was right after all—Ansel was married, and this was his wife and child. No wonder he had never come for her! What would they think? What would Little River think?

All these things passed through her mind before she reached the porch. There she stopped and looked at the woman with appealing eyes.

"I am looking for Ansel Peever's house," she said.

"This is it, but my husband is away just at present. I expect him back in about an hour. Won't you come in and rest awhile?" The woman smiled pleasantly, but she was evidently curious about Lucy's unexpected appearance.

"I'll rest a little while," hesitated Lucy, "but I must go back presently. There's a carriage waiting for me around the bend."

Lucy sat down in a rocking chair and looked so white and wan that Mrs. Peever fetched a glass of ice cold milk and made her drink it. After awhile Lucy was able to sit up and smile back at the little laughing girl who clung to her knee.

"I cannot wait to see Ansel—Mr. Peever. Perhaps I will come again some time," said Lucy at last as she prepared to leave.

"You are from the east, I am sure," said the woman bluntly. "If you are one of Ansel's folks from Little River he'll be mighty disappointed if you don't stay or leave your name anyway."

"You may tell him that Lucy Mellen called to see him," said Lucy, as she bent down to kiss the little girl. Then, with a murmured word of thanks to Mrs. Peever, she hurried down the walk.

Then Mrs. Peever found voice "Lucy Mellen, Lucy Mellen! Come back here!" she called imperatively.

Lucy turned. "What do you want?" she asked.

"Wait a minute," called the other, and she came running down the path and laid a hand on Lucy's shrinking shoulder. "I thought you wanted to see my husband," she panted, "but it's young Ansel you're looking for, I guess. Won't he be surprised to see you, though!" She laughed merrily.

"Young Ansel!" repeated Lucy dazedly.

"My husband's nephew. They're both named Ansel Peever. I'm Mr. Peever's second wife and sort of stepaunt to your Ansel. That's his house next door all ready for you—just finished and Ansel inside there rigging himself up to go east after you this very minute. I'll run over and fetch him. You wait here, Lucy."

Mrs. Peever ran fleetly across the lawn, while Lucy sank weakly down on a garden seat. Happy tears filled her tired eyes, and the little girl, who was not Ansel's after all, came and heaped roses in her lap.

Then Ansel himself stood before her, thinner, browner, older, but the same Ansel save that the youthful pride and arrogance had been hammered out of him by the foundry of experience.

"Lucy—Lucy!" said Ansel brokenly. "I was getting ready to come after you. I haven't made a fortune and I never will have one, but I've got a cottage and an orange grove, and now I've got you. I didn't realize in leaving you, dear, that I was leaving my fortune behind me. I was ashamed to go back to Little River until I had done something big. Then I heard from somebody that you'd lost everything through some rascality, and so I made up my mind to go after you. Can you forgive me, Lucy, dear?"

Of course Lucy forgave him, and they were married the very next day in the new cottage, and they went to Little River on their honeymoon.

Ready For the Worst.

Tract Distributer—Doesn't it seem dreadful that ere long you must lie down in that silent tomb?

"Oh, no! That doesn't worry me."

"You are prepared, then?"

"Prepared for anything. I write jokes for a funny paper."

Cited His Own Case.

Singleton—Even a married man has a right to his own opinion Henpeckke — My dear fellow, it isn't a question of right. It's a question of courage.—Philadelphia Record.

Not Yet Ripe.

The Fair Purchaser—Your eggs are all very small today, Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones—Yes'm, they are. But I'm sure I don't know the reason.

The Fair Purchaser—Oh, I expect you took them out of the nests too soon.—Sketch.

Her Status.

"Oh, that my son should wish to mary an actress!" shrieked the proud patrician mother.

"Now, ma, don't take on so," beseeched the undutiful heir. "She isn't really an actress; she only thinks she is."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Appropriate Decoration.

"You remember the famous ice palace built for one of the Russian empresses?"

"Yes. What of it?"

"I wonder if the principal decoration of its rooms was not a frieze."—Baltimore American.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

FOR SALE—A second-hand tinb cook stove. M. S. FRENCH, 39 Park St., Palmer.

TO RENT—Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

LOST—Black and tan hound, weight about 70 pounds. Answers to the name "Jane." Will pay damages. Address R. E. MAHONEY, Palmer, Mass. 19-1

FOR SALE—Surrey with two seats and canopy top, Concord and light buggies, carriage pole and single harness. D. F. HOLDEN, State Ave., Palmer. 19-tf

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

FOR SALE IN THREE RIVERS—A four-tenement house, nearly new, on Palmer road. Modern conveniences, cemented cellar, fine water, all in good condition. Also a house of four rooms and cellar, in good condition and a fine building lot in desirable location. ANDREW KROOLIK, Three Rivers, Mass.

Notice.

My wife, Jennie M. Rice, having left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, I shall pay no bills of her contracting after this date. FRED J. RICE. 17-3

Holland, Mass., July 24, 1911.

NOTICE—Pass Book No. 25,003 issued by the Palmer Savings Bank has been lost and an application by the owner for the issuance of a duplicate Pass Book has been filed with the Bank. Any person finding Pass Book No. 25,003 is requested to return it to the PALMER SAVINGS BANK, Palmer, Mass.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street,
BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

E. P. Henderson and Company,
Auctioneers and Appraisers.
19 Park Street, Palmer, Mass.
Will attend to selling real estate and personal property in any city or town on reasonable terms. Prompt settlements made. Licensed since 1873. Auction means cash. Book your property with us at once.

WANTED.
Local and traveling salesmen representing our reliable goods. Any man of good appearance who is not afraid of work can make this a satisfactory and permanent business. Write at once for terms. Outfit free. Territory unlimited. Big money can be made. Apply quick.
ALLEN NURSERY CO., Rochester, N. Y.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

"Are You Prepared?"
Prepare for your own and family's earthly happiness now and for old age, delay means a loss of health and wealth, quick action is essential if you desire these two of life's blessings. A beautiful Sea Side Plot for $195, near New London, on monthly payments, on a delightful spot, where coming cottages will greatly increase values, will do the above. There are three miles of water frontage and the cheapest ever offered. As seeing is believing, send for information and run down for a few hours. Jas. Jay Smith Co., 50 State St., New London, Ct.

The Advantages of Paying Your Bills by Check
You have a legal receipt.
You have a record and can know just how you have spent your money.
Your money is safe.
Your money is kept in circulation and it enables other people to do more business than they otherwise could
We solicit your account, whether large or small, and guarantee all transactions to be absolutely confidential.
Palmer National Bank
L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Ruberoid Roofing
Just the thing for that new barn.
Cheapest
Most Durable
Easiest Applied
Thoroughly waterproof and suitable for all kinds of buildings.
Come in and let us tell you about it.
Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

The Fall Samples
for
Made-to-Measure Suits
Are now ready for your inspection.
Our 1500 Beautiful Samples to Select From.
Just take a look and be convinced I am telling you the truth.
C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Closing out all Odds and Ends of Summer Stock at Very Low Prices to make room for fall and winter goods
P. O. Block, M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
UP ONE FLIGHT.

$1.35 Round Trip To BOSTON
Thursday, August 24
From Palmer - 7.15 a.m.
W. Brimfield - 7.23 a.m.
W. Warren - 7.30 a.m.
Warren - - - 7.35 a.m.
W. Brookfield - 7.42 a.m.
Brookfield - - 7.48 a.m.
E. Brookfield - 7.54 a.m.
Returning from Boston at 8.10 p.m.
Friday, August 25
From Springfield at 6.40 a.m. Returning from Boston at 8.10 p.m.
Number of tickets limited.
Full fare charged on trains.
Secure your tickets early from Boston & Albany Agents or call at City Ticket Office, 404 Main Street, Springfield, or 'Phone 1599.
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Richardson & Boynton
Furnaces and Heaters
Are the most economical and perfect heaters. Try one.
E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

LIST OF HEAVY TAXPAYERS.

Figures Taken From Assessors' Books of This and Last Year.

After a long wait the assessors have announced the tax rate, which is $16 80 on $1000 being 20 cents cheaper than last year, when the rate was $17 There is a large increase in the valuation of personal property over last year. This increase is caused by the coming to town of the Worcester County Gas Company, and by the improvements on the Quaboag Leather Company's plant at North Monson. The valuations as taken from the assessors' books for last year and this are as follows:

	1910	1911
Number of Poll Taxes,	1,15	1,116
Personal Estate,	$469,175	$517,344
Real Estate,	$1,419,640	$1,410,400
Total Estate,	1,888,815	1,927444
Taxes to be collected,	34,347.66	34,558.86
Rate per $1000,	17.	16.80
Number of Horses,	441	337
Number of Cows,	798	835
Number of Sheep,	18	19
All other cattle,	378	371
Number of Swine,	101	126
Number of Fowls,	2,055	3,500

The list of those paying a tax of $50 or over in the town of Monson is as follows:

Carlo Allengena	$ 50
A. H. Bennett	74
John Bergeson	53
R. F. Bradway	133
Harriet E Bradley	84
Mrs. W. H. Bugbee	50
James Burdick	54
Rev. Alfred Barone	54
W. H Cavanaugh	80
J. G Carew	73
Century Hotel Company	94
Mrs. Ralph Clifford	110
Edward D Cushman	206
Ruins P. Cushman	220
Fred S Cushman	163
Thaddens Cushman	68
Hattie Cushman	208
R H. Cushman	143
Alice C. Cushman	94
Cushman Home mill	1003
Congregational Society	52
A. D Ellis	627
A. D Ellis & Son	901
A. D Ellis & Co.	880
Dr. F. W. Ellis	385
Rufus Fay	83
G. C Flynt	265
Mrs G C Flynt	70
Mrs L. C Flynt	57
Lyman C. Flynt	213
Flynt Granite Company	912
Dr. G. E Fuller	176
Mrs. Mary Foley	104
E. J. Foskit	216
C. M. Gage	104
M. & S. Gavin	76
Heimann & Lichten	654
Esther R Holmes	1447
Frank L Holmes	212
Frank Homer	55
E. P. Hines	138
John Hartley	66
Dr. C W. Jackson	61
G. L Keeney	72
C. C. Keep	103
Langewald estate	63
Heirs of W. Lewis	60
Mrs John Leahy	92
Monson Savings bank	294
Frank F. Magnire	64
J. C. Maguire	62
John McGuire	54
O. C. McCray	113
Mrs. O C. McCray	162
W. C. Monlton	56
F A Moore	52
Monson National bank	1180
Charles Merrick	100
Mrs M L Meacham	91
H. M. Noble	72
Mark Noble	156
H. C. Norcross	57
A D. Norcross	340
Estate of Sarah Newton	111
Harriet S. Nelson	151
Rev. Thomas O'Kefe	122
Michael O'Brien	53
Hattie and Salena Orentt	77
Mrs. C L. Peck	53
James Pendergast	92
Frieda and Carl Rand	61
H. G. Rogers	92
Rogers & Co.	57
Mrs. W. J. Ricketts	58
C L Ricketts	55
Dr. P. W Sonle	160
Mrs. Arba Squier	100
C. A Sweet	70
E E. Thompson	75
W. M. Tucker	163
Universalist Society	105
W. H. Underwood	88
A. M. Beebe	64
L C. Stebbins	185
J. C. Bradway	146
C P. Lyon	64
Estate of Joseph Carpenter	85
Omar Pease	82
D. F. Holden	99
H A. Rindge	108
C. H. Rindge	50
Sherman Stebbins	78
Omer E. Bradway	61
Rufus and Ella Stebbins	56
Mrs. Nellie Davis	84
Cornelius Foley	65
G. H. Ingraham	76
Mrs. Michael Maloney	75
Quaboag Leather Company	370
Henry Davis	54
Frank Johnson	68
H. D. Monlton	237
Elmer G. Pease	50
J. E. Reynolds	226
Ricketts & Shaw	733
Michael Swartz	66
Somerset Woolen Company	276
Cady Blanchard	86
C. M. Calkins	67
Herbert M. Smith	66
Springfield and Eastern railway	585
Worcester County Gas Company	252
New England Telephone and Telegraph Company	67

To Adopt New Bookkeeping System.

The school committee are to adopt a new method of bookkeeping to conform with the requirements of the state laws. The committee have been informed that the state board will expect a yearly report of the expenditures for the school year ending July 1 instead of March 1, as formerly. This change will make the school appropriations at the annual meeting come under somewhat different headings.

New Instructor at Academy.

Oliver J D Henderson of Bristol, R I., a graduate of Brown University, has been engaged to fill a vacancy in the teaching force at the Monson Academy. An additional instructor, Maurice R Perry of Brookline, Harvard 1911, has been engaged The interior of the academy has been redecorated and arrangements are being made to accommodate at least 50 boarding pupils

Morse Family Reunion.

The 31st annual reunion of the descendants of Samuel Morse will be held Wednesday, August 16, at the home of O. A Parent in Bondsville All who are in any way connected either by kinship or marriage are cordially invited to attend If the day is stormy the gathering will be held the next day. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Birthday Celebration.

A large number of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs H. D. Vaille called upon them at their home on East Hill Wednesday evening to celebrate the couple's birthday, it being Mr. Vaille's 63d and Mrs Vaille's 60 h birthday. Music was enjoyed and refreshments served, a very pleasant evening being enjoyed by all.

Woman Gets Sprained Ankle.

Miss Sadie C. Lyons severely sprained her right ankle Sunday afternoon in front of her home on Main street. A new gravel walk has been laid there and as she stepped upon it her foot turned in the gravel. Dr. C. W. Jackson attended her.

Mill Busy—Pay Raised.

Business at S. F. Cushman & Sons' mill has improved so that the mill is now running to its full capacity. An increase of a mill and a-half to two mills a pick has been given in the weaving department, making an increase of abont fifty cents a day.

New Tax Collector Appointed.

Henry F. Miller has been appointed tax collector by the selectmen, in place of Charles F. Smith who resigned on account of illness. Payments may be made to Mr. Miller at any time.

Miss Mabel Snow is visiting friends in Spencer.

John Duggan of Amherst is visiting Monson friends

John Broadfoot of Amherst is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Lysander Nevins is spending a week at Block Island

Rev. A. L. Squier of Cambridge is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs Edgar Squier have returned from a visit to Beverly.

J. E Korigan of Springfield spent Sunday with friends in town.

G. L. Fuller of Lincoln street is spending a few days in Boston

E. C. Bradway and family are spending a vacation at Waterford, Ct.

Carl Danforth of Hampden, Ct., is able to be out after a short illness.

Misses Helen and Dorothy Bradway are visiting relatives in Chicopee.

A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held Wednesday evening.

Mrs. F. S Chapman of Green street is visiting relatives in Pittsfield.

Miss Mabel Murphy of South Main street is visiting friends in Pittsfield.

Miss Mary Robbins of South Main street is visiting friends in Hopkinton.

A. E. Shaw and W. L. Ricketts have returned from a trip to New York.

Mrs Hillory Murray and daughters have returned from a trip to Ocean Beach.

F. M. Wood has moved from State street to his new house on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clifford of North Main street have gone to Pigeon Cove.

Charles Parmelle and daughter of Boston are visiting at the home of J. R Calkins.

Miss Mary Ellis has gone to Momonville, N. H., to camp for the rest of the summer.

Joseph Sunter and son Richard of South Monson have returned from a visit in Vermont.

Miss Beatrice Belden of Main street has returned from a visit with relatives in Wales.

A E Shaw and family have returned from an automobile trip through Rhode Island.

Miss Florence Carpenter has returned to Springfield after visiting Mrs. Charles Carpenter.

Misses Auna and Elizabeth Foley of North Main street are visiting friends in Watertown.

Misses Myrtle and Eva Brown have returned to Springfield after spending a few days in town.

Raymond Rathburn of Newark, N. J, is spending a few days with his mother on Pease avenue.

Mr. and Mrs Edgar Squier have returned from a visit to Beverly.

Mr. and Mrs. H E. Kendall and children of Harrison avenue are visiting relatives in Lenox.

Miss Ruth Johnson of Boston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnson on Main street

Miss Grace Oaks has returned to Worcester after a visit with Mrs A. L. Royce on Green street.

Misses Grace and Hazel Moore and Romoth Rees are spending two weeks at Winthrop Beach.

Mrs. Sarah Oldham and daughter Alice of Park avenue left Monday for a trip to Old Orchard, Me

Mrs. John Riley has returned home from a stay of several weeks at the Mercy hospital, Springfield.

G H. Hopkins of New York city is visiting his daughter, Mrs. William Meacham in South Monson.

Mrs. Mary Finnegan of Pittsfield has been the guest of Mrs. Mary Murphy on South Main street

Mrs. A. E. Watson, who has been visiting relatives in town, has returned to her home in Springfield.

Clarence Nanghton and family of Springfield are visiting Mr. Naughton's mother on McKinley avenue.

Rev Arthur Clemons of Rochester, N. Y, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church Sunday.

Miss Rena Dupree has returned to her home on Cushman street after spending a month in New Hampshire.

A. H. Bennett, R F. D carrier on route No. 1, is taking his vacation. A. D. Bennett is acting as substitute.

Dr J. F. Murphy of Cambridge is spending a week with his parents, Mr and Mrs. J. F. Murphy of Park avenue.

Julius Heimann left Monday for Canada, after spending some time at the Heimann & Litchen factory ou Main street.

G. N. Wilder and family have returned to Rindge, N. H, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cushman.

Mrs. James Conlan and children of Waterbury, Ct, are visiting at the home of Thomas Faulkner on High street.

Wilson Brainerd has returned to his duties in the post office after a two weeks vacation at Nova Scotia and Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Fenton of Main street are taking an automobile trip through New Hampshire and Maine.

Mrs. Sarah Ladd, F. T Ladd and son Clifford of Moosup, Ct., are visiting Mrs. Martha L Meacham on Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Linnehan and daughter Dorothy of Providence are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch on Park avenue.

Mrs George McCarthy and two children of Wilton, N. H., are visiting Mrs. McCarthy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dupree.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lancey of this town and Mr. and Mrs L. J Brainard of Palmer are spending a two weeks' vacation at Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Miles and son Noble and Samuel Barseford of West Suffield, Ct. spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William McAnliffe at the Quarry.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Florence O'Brien of this town and Edward J Grady of Pittsfield. The ceremony will take place August 21

Dr. J. M. Murphy of Brockton, Dr J F. Murphy of Boston and Rev. J. S. McCarthy of Savannah, Ga., are visiting at the home of John Murphy on Park avenue.

The street railway company has put up a block signal near the Universalist church to protect the tracks between North Monson and the turnout at the electric express station.

Deputy P. J King of Ware attended the meeting of Mt Ella lodge, A. O U. W., this week. It was voted to hold a clambake Aug. 19 at the Swedish club at North Monson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Neil and children of Boston, who have been visiting Mrs. O'Neil's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna on Bridge street, have returned to their home.

A bridge whist party was held Wednesday afternoon at the Quaboag Country Club house. The party was in charge of Mrs E. E. Thompson, Mrs. F. S. Chapman, Mrs. L Hutchinson and Miss Nellie Squires.

Notice has been received by Postmaster George H Seymour that the local office is to be made a branch of the postal savings bank. It is to take effect September 8 Further details of the establishment will be forwarded later.

A sewer is being laid on Main street between the Norcross block and the Methodist church. It is to take care of the surface water which has caused annoyance in that section for some time. A 15 inch tile is being laid and catchbasins are being put in, one in front of the Heimann & Liebten block and another in front of the bank block.

AN ARMY LOVE AFFAIR

By JOHN ADAMSON

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The United States army and navy, which used to be very aristocratic institutions, are, like everything else, becoming democratic. The old army before the civil war was like one family—that is, the officers and their wives and children constituted one select social circle. Recently there have been several episodes to indicate that the old spirit is dying, but dying hard. The following story illustrates this:

I was graduated at West Point at twenty, and I don't know a more dangerous age than that for a young officer. His pay enables him to marry. He has seen nothing of the world and nothing of the opposite sex except for a couple of months each summer for two years during the encampment season while he was a cadet. Released from a confining life, he is ready to fall in love with the first girl he meets

I was graduated in the engineers, and the first job I was given by the government was making an estimate on certain intended repairs on a fort on the Atlantic coast in a southern state. The fort had not been kept up, having been left in charge of an ordnance sergeant, but in view of a feeling on the part of the people of the United States that our coast defenses needed strengthening the government decided to look into the matter.

Fort L. was situated on a point of land extending into the ocean and as lonely as a lighthouse. For a few months in the spring the neighborhood was a resort for northern persons, chiefly invalids, there being several hotels on the beach. I was sent to the fort in October. When I first saw the old pile with its empty casements and empty quarters I shuddered at being obliged to pass some time there.

The sergeant made me as comfortable as he could in a casement, his wife taking pains that it should be clean, and my bed was provided with snow white linen.

And now comes the point of my story: The couple had a daughter seventeen years old. What could I do? What did I do but make love to her I knew perfectly well that there is a barrier in the army between the families of commissioned and noncommissioned officers. I knew furthermore that Mary Converse was getting no education and had never mingled with the class of people to whom I was used If I married her it would place her out of her element and she would be a lifelong drag on me.

But here was I in the springtime of life, shut up with a girl in a fortress and no other associate. I doubt if any precaution would have availed. She was situated just as I was, shut up with a young soldier, and could no more resist a natural drift toward me than I toward her

Before leaving I asked Mary Converse to be my wife. I knew I was wronging her and myself in doing so, but I had conceived high notions of honor at West Point and considered myself pledged to her. At her age, and being one of those feminine girls who when they love love hard, I believed that if I deserted her it would wreck her life. So I went away engaged, well knowing that if I did not desert her both our lives would be wrecked.

My first visit to my fiancee was in the following spring. The hotels on the beach were now open, and I took up my quarters in one of them. Some seven months only had elapsed, and Mary was not much changed. I felt the same toward her as before. The reasons I attributed this to are that it was a case of young and innocent love, and Mary was a superior girl. She was bright, she had what we call character, and she was pretty.

At the hotel I met a Mrs. Boyington, the wife of an army officer, who conceived a marked friendship for me. She was twenty years my senior, and I craved some one on whom to bestow my confidence. So I told her of my affair.

"It must be broken off," said the lady, "both on your account and the girl's."

"She will not be able to endure it without serious consequences," I replied.

Our talk ended in the lady's going to see my betrothed. On her return she handed me a note from Mary badly written, misspelled and blotted with tears, in which she said that Mrs. Boyington had convinced her that she would harm me and herself by marrying me and she released me.

I was so far attached to her that I spent some time making up my mind to accept the release.

After that I met many young ladies, but none of them pleased me. I was preoccupied with my first love. In deed, I did not propose to replace her Since the difference in our stations prevented our marriage I would marry no one. At intervals I met Mrs Boyington, to whom I told my feelings.

"Don't talk that way at your age," she replied "You'll surely find some one you can love."

Six years later Mrs. Boyington and I met at the same station. She asked me to dine with her, and whom should I meet at her quarters but Mary Converse, but not, so far as education and manners were concerned, the simple Mary Converse of years before Mrs Boyington had educated her and given her many social advantages

She had been as true to me as I had been to her, and before we parted our engagement was renewed.

Improved by Time.

"I propose to express my opinion."

"Wouldn't it be better to ship by freight?"

Envious.

"We've just had a letter from my daughter, the countess," said the proud mother.

"Is that so? How much money does she want this time?" sneered the neighbor, whose daughter married a mere banker.—Detroit Free Press.

Barter In Iceland.

Iceland still clings to the old barter system. Little trade is done in the island with cash.

A MEDIEVAL LOVE AFFAIR

By MARGARET L. BLISS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

One morning some three centuries ago, when Florence, Italy, ruled by Duke Cosimo de Medici, was divided among a number of powerful families, the Duchess Eleanora, attended by couriers, was driven from the Pitti palace across the bridge called the Ponte Vecchio, spanning the river Arno, into the main part of the city. Beside the duchess sat a young girl noted especially for her fair complexion and golden hair. From an upper window overlooking the bridge a young man looked down on the cavalcade. About stood a crowd of persons dividing their glances between the young man and the young girl beside the duchess His eyes were riveted on her, while she glanced up at him. They were known to be lovers, all Florence sympathized with them, and the crowd had collected to observe this lovers' look that passed between them.

The girl was Maddalena, the daughter of Bernardo Vettori, surnamed "the light haired," and it was from him that his daughter inherited her locks of gold as well as an immense fortune. The mother of Maddalena when widowed married Pietro Salviati and, in order to keep her fortune in the family, the stepfather betrothed her when still a child to his son by a former marriage. But this young man was killed in battle.

When Maddalena came to a marriageable age a love affair came about between her and Lodovico Capponi, who owned a villa in the country adjoining one of her own. It was a grand passion on both sides, and the flame was fanned by opposition. Maddalena's stepfather, still bent on keeping his fortune in his own family, persuaded Duke Cosimo to forbid the marriage. Despite her own, her mother's and her lover's protests and entreaties the girl was placed in a convent.

Lodovico was a fiery young man, and it was hoped by the stepfather that he would commit some act of violence which would afford an excuse to banish him, lock him up or otherwise dispose of him. But the lover displayed more self control than had been expected and refused to give his enemy the coveted opportunity.

Maddalena's mother told the story of her daughter's love and misfortunes to the duchess and succeeded in interesting her. The affair was known to all Florentines, who were a poetic and artistic people easily moved by a story of love. Moreover, they feared that if the duke was able to prevent this marriage he would prevent others. Therefore, though all the power to keep the lovers apart was on one side, all the sympathy was on the other.

The duchess finally succeeded in persuading her husband to visit her for a few days at the palace. Instead of days she remained months. But the struggle to compel her to resign her lover was not given up. Indeed, her invitation came in order to unite her with another suitor. By the duke's order Lodovico was never mentioned except in contempt, while Sigismondo di Rossi, a favorite of the duke, was always spoken of with the highest praise.

Lodovico, not being permitted to visit the girl he loved, rented a house overlooking the Ponte Vecchio, from which he could look down upon her and receive her return glance whenever she crossed the bridge with the duchess.

It was one of these occasions that has been described at the opening of this story, a scene that would not likely have happened anywhere except in the city of the medieval Italian poets and painters whose names and works are part even of the present age. The bridge that Maddalena crossed stands today, traversed daily by thousands of Florentines and tourists.

Perhaps no incident in the history of Florence can so well express the difference between that age, that people and this. Fancy a crowd at the entrance of a park in an American city, Washington for instance, waiting to see an heiress driven out with the president's wife, her lover standing at the window of a house he has hired for the express purpose of seeing his ladylove go by. That age has passed, but romance still exists and is as deep set in human nature as ever. While the people of that day were interested in individual cases, we now find its expression in "best sellers." Have we not in this respect degenerated?

Whether it was that the duke, who was only interested in Salviati's plans through friendship for him, found that he was playing a losing game for himself, becoming unpopular, or whether he met an undercurrent of opposition from those prominent families who feared his power to interfere in their own affairs, is not recorded, but in any event his opposition suddenly collapsed. One morning at daylight an old woman appeared at Lodovico's bedside and awakened him with some astonishing and delightful news. She bore a message from the duchess. Lodovico was summoned to the palace to take Maddalena away with him and prepare for an immediate marriage.

The lover bounded out of bed and began the preparations at once, going as soon as he was dressed to the palace. All Florence was interested in the wedding, which took place at the house from which the lover had so often looked down on his mistress, but since it was not large enough the piazza on which it stood was inclosed for a ballroom.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

Many Palmer Women Are Learning the Cure.

Women often suffer not knowing the cause.

Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness.

Irregular urinary passages, weakness, languor—

Each a seeming torture of itself.

Together tell of weakened kidneys.

Strike at the root—get to the cause.

Quickly give the help the kidneys need.

No remedy endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Recommended by thousands—

Endorsed at home.

Here's convincing proof from a Palmer citizen.

Mrs. Anna Smith, Park street, Palmer, Mass., says: "For quite a while I had attacks of backache and there were pains in my loins when I stooped or lifted, showing that my kidneys were at fault. This trouble was particularly bad in the morning and I was hardly able to get up. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I began their use and it did not take them long to bring me entire relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Fertile Lands.

It is estimated that there are 28,209,000 square miles of fertile land in the world.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

The Second Week of the Greatest August Furniture Sale We Have Ever Held

Featuring These Special Values

A few items of special importance to illustrate the remarkable savings afforded throughout this Great August Furniture Sale, when prices are the lowest in the whole year. Furniture of all kinds—for every room in the house—and whether you need only a few pieces or furniture for a whole house, this is an opportunity you cannot afford to miss.

Large Turkish Rockers, $8.98

Turkish Rockers of imitation leather, large and roomy, well made and of splendid design, for library or living room. Chairs sold as a special value elsewhere at $11.50, in our August Sale at..... $8.98

High-Grade Leather Rockers

In two styles of the Turkish Rocker type, splendid examples of quality, both in materials and workmanship. Regular $35 and $38 values, special in the August Sale at

$19.75 and $21.75

Garland White Cotton Felt Mattresses,

With fancy ticks in dainty pink or green stripe. Another lot received for this sale—Usual $12.00 value. August Sale Price..... $8.98

Solid Mahogany Parlor Suits

Solid Mahogany Parlor Suits in a handsome spiral design, an exceptional value, formerly sold at $42.50, offered in the August Sale at $31.98

3-Piece Parlor Suits with solid mahogany frame, covered in handsome green figured haircloth, a beautiful Chippendale design, usually sold at $85.00, August Sale Price..... $62.50

Mission Oak Morris Chairs 6.98

Well made and finished, with two good cushions. The price has been $8.98 without the cushions. We offer the chair complete in the August Sale at..... $6.98

Fine Quality 45-lb. Hair Mattresses,

Made in our own workshops, and sold regularly at $20, we offer in the August Sale at..... $14.98

4th Floor

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,

SPRINGFIELD.

Saturday Our Bargain Day

We have collected some special items from our best and most seasonable lines of merchandise and have marked them away down to effect a speedy sale. You will find some very interesting savings opportunities among these Saturday Specials.

Don't fail to look for the price tickets, each one tells its own story.

Remarkable Reduction in Suits

$15 $21 Tailored Suits, $5.75

Another lot of 25 Tailored Suits in blue, brown, tan, green and mixtures These are odd suits but perfect in every way, styles and workmanship the best The coats are lined with Skinner's Satin, skirts with panel front and back or plain gored. Values $15—$21. SATURDAY SPECIAL $5.75

House Dresses, 79c

Nicely made House Dresses of figured Lawn in lavender, light blue, dark blue and black. Kimono styles. All sizes. SATURDAY SPECIAL 79c

59c, 75c Waists, 39c

White Batiste and pretty colored Lawn Waists, good styles, trimmed with lace and embroidery. SATURDAY SPECIAL 39c

Undermuslins

79c Ladies' Drawers, 50c

Exceptional values in Nainsook and cotton drawers trimmed with deep embroidery and lace flounce. Worth 79c. SATURDAY SPECIAL 50c

98c Ladies' Gowns, 79c

Beautifully designed gowns of fine material, Batiste and Long Cloth, with high and low neck, trimmed with lace, embroidery and ribbon. Regular value 98c. SATUR'Y SPECIAL 79c

10c and 15c German Val Laces, 7c

German Val Laces and Insertions in widths varying from 1-2 to 2 inches. SATURDAY SPECIAL 4 yards for 25c 7c yd.

25c, 38c Val Laces, 19c for 12 yards

French and German Val Laces and Insertions, especially pretty for trimming underwear and fancy aprons, in widths from 1 in. to 1 1-2 in Former price 25c to 38c per pc of 12 yds. SATURDAY SPECIAL 12 yds. for 19c

47c Venise Edges, 25c yd

Venise Edges in a choice collection of patterns in white and cream, 1-2 to 1 1-2 in. in width, suitable for trimming waists and wash dresses. Value 47c yd. SATURDAY SPECIAL, yd 25c

75c Allover Laces, 49c yd.

Embroidered net allovers, 18 inches wide, beautiful designs in white, cream and colors. Very popular for making lace waists and guimpes. Exceptional value at 75c. SAT. SPECIAL, yd. 49c

5c Children's Handkerchiefs 3 for 10c

1000 Children's Handkerchiefs with neat and pretty colored hemstitched borders. SAT'DAY SPECIAL 3 for 10c

50c, 59c Stamped Voile Waists, 39c

Sufficient material for entire waist. Stamped in our exclusive designs. SATURDAY SPECIAL 39c

25c Pins, Brooches, etc., 9c

Thousands of pretty things to choose from. Brooches, cuff and sash pins, buckles, etc., in plain and Roman gold finish, some in cloisonaise. SATURDAY SPECIAL, each 9c

20c Ribbons, 12c

Silk Taffeta Ribbon in all colors, plain and Moire, also Dresden and striped effects. SATURDAY SPECIAL 12c

Visit Our Underprice Basement

You will find many rare values in wash goods, crashes, sheets, pillow cases, towels, etc.

The Haynes Store

It's a Money Saving Time to buy Haynes Clothes and there are some rare Good Clothes to choose from.

Very high grade Suits in the choicest of gray shades, handsome patterns that are very desirable—beautifully tailored garments.

Suits that were $18, $20 and $22 now $15

Dark Blue Serge Suits with neat pencil stripes, pure worsted, finely woven and strictly fast color.

Suits that were $15, $16.50 and $18 now $13.50

Coat and Trouser Suits at $9.85

Swell vacation suits that will add much to the pleasure of your vacation if you have not already had it; good for another season, too, and a good investment for you to carry over.

They were $12 and $13.50.

Coat and Trouser Suits at $12.85

Beautiful homespuns and Scotch effects, stylish suits for the shore, the mountains and for traveling this Fall.

They were $15, $16.50 and $18

Our Finest Blue Serge Suits at $20

Fine of fabric and finely tailored, and marked until now at $25. It's an opportunity for you to buy a beautiful suit $5 under price, and a suit that you will take pleasure in owning and wearing.

Blue Serge Suits at $15

Just right for wear the year round and made from serges that are much better grade than are usually to be found in suits at this price. Absolutely fast color and made up in a thorough way that insures constant satisfaction.

Suits to fit all men, the men who take regular sizes, the tall men and the stout men.

Haynes & Co.

Always Reliable

Springfield, Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster

1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead

5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead

1-2 lb. cans Hellebore

1 lb. cans Hellebore

Cattle Oil and Sprayers

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

ST. MARY'S LAWN PARTY.

Large Attendance Last Night; Larger Expected To-Night.

The fourth annual festival and lawn party of St. Mary's parish opened last evening with a large attendance. The various booths did a good business. To-night is the big night and it is expected that a larger number will be in attendance. Many from Holyoke, Chicopee and ontside towns are expected to be present. The baby show this evening will no donbt attract a large number. A handsome cup, gold lined, will be awarded the prettiest baby and a silver napkin ring will be given to the heaviest baby. The contests for the most popnlar yonng lady and the most popular baseball manager will also end this evening, when the results will be announced. There will be various races and a pie-eating contest between two local boys who have been in this sort of a contest for the past two years and have been tied each year. The prize is awarded to the one eating his pie in the quickest time possible. All articles will be awarded as soon as the canvassers have finished their work and the list will be printed in next week's paper.

Demand for Black Bass Bait.

There is at present a big demand for "Helgamites" or "Dobsons" by fishermen who fish for black bass, and as a result boys can make a little extra change by hunting them. The price paid is two cents each. Fishermen in Vermont and New Hampshire as well as local fishermen are in want of them from now until abont Oct. 1st. The Ware river close to the No. 1. and No. 2 dams is where the bait can be found.

Miss Agnes O'Keefe left this week for a stay at Oak Bluffs.

Miss Nellie Crowley is visiting relatives in Fitchbnrg for two weeks

Miss Mamie Holden has returned from a visit with Sonthbridge friends.

Miss Melvina Riel visited Saturday and Snnday with friends in Spencer.

Patrick Nagle is building an addition to the rear of his home on High street.

Master John Snllivan returned Tuesday from his visit with relatives in Worcester.

Mrs. Ives of Attleboro is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Trumble.

Mrs. Fanny Keith is entertaining guests from out of town at her home on Main street.

A large number from Thorndike attended the Firemen's Muster at Ludlow on Saturday.

Master Raymond Barr of New Braintree is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis and family

George Williams Jr. of Springfield is a guest of his nncle, William W. Williams and family.

Master Francis Roach of Palmer has been the guest of his annts, the Misses Fleming this week.

Miss Mary Lyons has returned to her home in New Haven after a vacation passed here with relatives.

Charles Krnzina has opened a grocery store in the building owned by R. L. Bond near Exchange block.

Miss Jennie Colburn of Boston and Miss Alice Dond of Memphis, Tenn., visited friends in town on Tuesday.

Miss Mary Griffin of Thompsonville, Ct., is the guest of her nncle, Rev. P. J. Griffin, pastor of St Mary's church.

Mr. O'Connor of South Hadley Falls has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Katherine T. Loftus and family this week.

Mrs Henry Roberts and children of Manchester, N. H., are guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Camile Perrault.

The Thorndike Co., it is understood, contemplates in the near futnre building an addition to the storehonse at No. 2 mill.

Patrick Mahoney of Providence, R. I., has been visiting at the home of Michael Rocke and family during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McKelligott visited for a few days this week with relatives in Pittsfield, making the trip in their antomobile.

Miss Eveline Bengle of Indian Orchard visited at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. George Bengle, this week for a few days

Mrs. Robert Henry and daughter have gone to the seashore for a month's vacation. Mr. Henry intends joining them later

Miss Katherine Lawlor of this place, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Brosnan of Holyoke, is passing a vacation in Bangor, Maine.

Dennis F. Leary of this place and his brother Daniel of Waterbury, Ct., left Monday for a two-weeks' outing at Revere Beach.

Mrs. Annie Mulvey, who has been a guest of Mrs B J Sullivan for several days, returned to Worcester, her home, on Tuesday.

Henry Roberts of Manchester, N H., is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Cordelia Roberts, where Mr. Roberts' wife and children are also staying.

The ball game yesterday afternoon between altar boys from St. Mary's of this place and a team from the Sacred Heart, Holyoke, was won by Holyoke, 6 to 2.

An anniversary mass of requiem was celebrated this morning at St. Mary's church by the pastor, Rev P J. Griffin, for the late Mrs Michael Sullivan.

The Thorndike nine play the Bondsville team here to-morrow afternoon at the nsual hour. Manley and Hnrley will do the battery work for the home team.

Anthony Cruzon, a lad of nine, stepped on a broken bottle Tuesday while playing near the 'np-street dnmp" and cnt a deep gash in the sole of his left foot.

Miss May Miller has resnmed her work in the Steiger store in Springfield, after passing a week's vacation in town with her aunt, Miss Katherine Loftns.

Mrs. May and Katherine Bynan of Holyoke, who have been gnests of Michael Snllivan and family of High street for several days, retnrned to their home Snnday.

Patrick Riley, who has for some weeks conducted a soda, confectionery, tobacco and cigar stand in the waiting room of the electric railway at Forest Lake Jnnction, has given up the business.

Rev. E. B. Blanchard of Brookfield, a former pastor, occnpied the pnipit of the Congregational chnrch on Snnday in place of Rev. C. C. Gorst, who, with Mrs. Gorst, is passing a vacation in Wayne, Indiana.

Jason H. Keith has pnrchased the stock and good will of Mrs. A. P Adams and will take possession of the store September 1st. Mr. Keith will carry abont the same line of goods and will pnt in a stock of tobacco and cigars.

Daniel Healy, who has been passing a two-weeks' vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Healey, returned to New York on Sunday accompanied by his brother, Master John Healey. The latter will pass a week's vacation in New York and return to New Haven for a short stay with his aunt, Mrs. James H. Lyons.

THREE RIVERS.

Girl Falls From Swing, Breaks An Arm.

Hattie, the little danghter of Mr. and Mrs Landry, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Prairie, had the misfortnne to break her right arm near the wrist Sunday by falling from a swing in the pine grove. She was attended by Dr. C. H. Giroux.

The Palmer Mill will close Angnst 26 for one week.

Dr. C. H. Giroux has pnrchased a new automobile.

The roof of the large mill is undergoing repairs this week.

A. Hatch of Athol has taken a position in the yard of the Palmer Mill.

Many from this place attended the lawn party in Thorndike last evening.

Bradford Stone of the Wenimisset spent Sunday at his home in Springfield.

Floyd Graham of Florence spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, J. E. Allen.

Delbert Lewis of Holyoke spent the first of the week with friends in this place.

Misses Susie and Katharine Twiss are spending the week at Winthrop Beach.

A. W. Warriner visited relatives in Springfield the latter part of last week.

Mrs. A. F. Calkins and Mrs. A. E. Allen of Maple street spent Wednesday in Springfield.

A. W. Warriner's four-tenement house on Springfield street is being painted this week.

Mrs. A. J. Cleland visited Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Anderson.

Mrs. A. S. Geer of Maple street is entertaining her sister from Providence, R. I., this week.

Mrs. Charles Kenworthy has returned to the home of her mother, Mrs. Goodwell, in Hampden.

Moses Smith has moved his family into a tenement in A. S. Geer's new honse on High street.

Mr Rogers' daughter, who has been ill several weeks, is improving slowly and is able to sit np

Miss Viola Hardin of Northfield is spending the snmmer at the home of Mr. and Mrs J T. Geer.

The Worcester County Gas Company has nearly completed the work of laying mains in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calkins and Myron Chamberlain visited friends in North Wilbraham Snnday.

The Three Rivers baseball team will play the Palmer team on the home grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Walter Longey has taken a position in the spinning department of the Otis Co.'s mill in Thorndike.

Miss Margaret Bryans and Frank Rees of Monson spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Fenton.

Miss Bertha Pulsifer, teacher of the first grade, is spending the snmmer camping ont at Port Phillips, N S.

A S. Barton will move his family from East Main street to Miss M. E Twiss' honse on Springfield street.

Miss Martha Bnzzell left Monday morning for Portsmonth, N. H , where she expects to spend several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins of Newtonville were gnests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warriner Tnesday.

C P. Haynes of East Main street is repairing his honse on the Palmer road, recently vacated by Robert Blair.

A Junior Christian Endeavor meeting will be held in the vestry of the Union church Snnday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Herbert Pepler of Wanregan, Ct., is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geer on the Belchertown road

Downie & Wheeler's circus visited town Friday and was well patronized. There was a grand street parade at noon, and two performances were given.

The New England Telephone Company have had a representative in this place this week in an endeavor to secure new subscribers.

Mr. and Mrs Landry and four daughters of Northampton are spending a two weeks' vacation at the home of his sister, Mrs William Prairie on Springfield street.

Mrs. T. Murphy of Southbridge spent Saturday in town. Mr Murphy will move his family to this place soon, as he has taken a position in the Palmer Mill and expects to begin his duties next Monday.

Plans are being made for a Sunday school picnic, to be held by the Union church Sunday school in the near future The time and place are not yet decided upon

BONDSVILLE.

Morse Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Morse family will be held at the home of O. A. Parent next Wednesday, with a basket lunch at noon. All who are in any way connected with the family—either by kinship or marriage—are invited to attend. Should the day prove stormy, the gathering will be held the following day.

The Misses Smyth of Manchester, Ct., are visiting Mrs. Ellen Flaherty.

Mrs. Fosket of Enfield was a guest Tuesday of Mrs Charles Banister.

John Heys of Chicopee Falls spent Snnday with his family in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Albro were guests of Springfield relatives over Sunday.

Miss Mary Robbins of Monson was a gnest Snnday of Miss Viola Marsan.

Miss Vertine Marsan entertained Miss Marion Davis of Thorndike Thursday.

A new telephone pay station has been installed in the drng store of John F. Shea.

Mrs O A. Parent attended the W. C. T U picnic in Blanchardville Wednesday

Rev. W. H. Upham attended the Old Home services in Wales Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Laccas is spending the month with her mother, Mrs. C. Pilion in Leeds.

Mrs. John Boyle of New York is a gnest this week of her sister, Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

Merrick A. Morse of Belchertown was a guest Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. O A. Parent

Daniel O'Connor of Sonth Hadley Falls was a guest Tuesday of relatives in this village.

Mrs Ollo Fairbanks and son Russell are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell.

Mrs. William Simpson and two children, Harold and Rnth, are gnests of relatives in Lowell.

Mrs. Archie Sterling and son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Sterling in West Warren.

Mr and Mrs. Thomas Waterhouse Jr. and daughter Violet spent Snnday in New London.

Miss Ciancey of Milford is spending the week with her friend, Miss Laura Fauteux.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Conway went Wednesday to Winthrop Beach for a two-weeks' vacation.

Miss Helen Gowen of Medway is the gnest of her grandmother, Mrs Mary Fauteux.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash and two children returned Snnday from a visit with friends in Florence.

Miss Catherine Collins is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Erhert Ayer of Springfield

Miss Mildred Hartwell returned Monday from a month's stay with her parents in Barnstable.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings returned Snnday night from a visit with relatives in Williamsburg.

Mrs. Charles N. Shaw and son, Charles J., of Brooklyn are gnests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Woolard.

Winfield Marsan of Springfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adalard Marsan.

Maurice Murphy of Springfield is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy.

Rev. W. H. Upham will occnpy the pulpit Sunday morning of Wesley Methodist church in Springfield.

Miss Ella Fauteux went yesterday to spend her vacation with a party of friends at the Boston beaches.

Miss Marion Albro went Saturday to Brewster on Cape Cod to spend the month of August with friends.

Mrs. W. H. Upham is spending a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shaver, in Altoona, Pa.

Mrs James Smith and two children of Ware spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Donovan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cole and family were gnests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams in Palmer.

Misses Addie and Carrie Walker of Nashua, N. H., are visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Green.

Mrs. Frank Summers of Springfield is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs James Mansfield.

Dr. W. B. T. Smith has had a telephone installed in his residence on South High street, the number being 104—5.

Michael McCarly and son Frank of Washington, D. C., are guests this week of his sister, Mrs. Michael Collins.

Mrs. John Manning and four children of Springfield are spending the month with her mother, Mrs Julia Quirk.

Miss Nellie Sullivan of Chicopee has returned home after a visit of a week with her friend, Miss Annie Fitzgerald.

C. D. Holden and son Charlie went Monday to Bridgeport to visit his sister, Mrs Woods, returning Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs Emerson J. Loy and daughter Eileen are spending a two-weeks' vacation at Chebeaque Island, Maine.

By a vote of the officers of the Sunday school the sessions in this department will be discontinued during the month of August.

Mrs John Convery and son, John Jr., have returned to their home in Valleyfield, Can., after a month's visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse and daughter Gladys returned Saturday from several weeks spent in New York state and Pennsylvania.

Arthur Hague, who has been spending two months at his old home in England, sailed Wednesday to return to his home in Bondsville.

Mrs. Catherine McCarthy returned Wednesday from Ware, where she has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. John Quirk.

The property of Mrs. F. A. Towne of Ludlow is advertised for sale. This place has been occupied for a number of years by Mr. and Mrs. John Green.

Rev. W. O. Parmenter of Springfield will preach in the Methodist church Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Upham, will preach in the evening.

Charles Fuller recently underwent a serious but successful operation at the Wesson hospital in Springfield. He returned Sunday night and is now doing nicely.

Mrs. George Gunn and children expect to go Monday to Strafford Bow Lake, Vt. for several weeks' vacation. They will also spend some time in Lowell.

Rev. W. H. Upham will leave on Monday for Oak Bluffs to spend his vacation of two weeks. Service at the church will be dispensed with during the last two Sundays in August.

Joseph Lagawza, who has been employed as a clerk by C D. Holden in his grocery store, has resigned his position and will finish work Saturday night. He expects to join his parents in New Britain.

Miss Mae Fitzgerald has been assigned to the second grade school in Three Rivers, and Miss Mary Quirk to be assistant teacher in the Wire Mill district. Both young ladies were graduated from the Westfield Normal School in June, and were also graduates of the Palmer high school.

Didn't Know Him.

"Oh, Harold, I have such confidence in you that I would believe you if you lied to me."

"Darling, don't tempt me that way."

MacPherson's Testimony.

The MacPherson—Man, Judkins is right—there's a deal of sufferin' attendant on yon whusky drinkin', for, MacTaggart, ye'll mind me, whiles a mon's drinkin' his ain whusky there's the terrible expense tae think of, an' whiles he's drinkin' a friend's whusky he drinks sae much that he suffers terrible the morrn.—London M. A. P.

Too Willing.

Tramp—Mister, would you give me a nickel for a meal? Pedestrian—For a gluss of beer, more likely. Tramp—Wotever you says, boss; you're payin' for it.—Exchange.

Mislaid.

"I misiaid $50 last night."

"Hard lines! Can't you think where you put it?"

"Yes. I put it on the wrong card."—Toledo Blade.

An Essay on Woman.

A woman is sometimes fugitive, irrational, indeterminable, illogical and contradictory. A good deal of forbearance ought to be shown her and a good deal of prudence exercised with regard to her, for she may bring about innumerable evils without knowing it. Capable of all kinds of devotion and of all kinds of treason, "monster incomprehensible," raised to the second power, she is at once the delight and the terror of man.—Amiel.

Patience.

Patience is the most important factor in making a success of life. No great work was ever accomplished without a wholesome amount of this attribute practiced by the achiever.

Eager to Go.

"My good man, how did you happen to be thrown out of work?"

"I got out," replied Weary Wombat, with dignity. "I didn't hafter be thrown out."—Washington Herald.

Hope Deferred.

Singleton—I understand your mother-in-law is very rich. Does she enjoy good health? Henpeckke—Enjoy it? She positively gloats over it.—Exchange.

Conscience is harder than our enemies, knows more, accuses with more nicety.—George Eliot.

The Mascot of Sweet Briar Gulch

By HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

[Continued from last week.]

CHAPTER IV.

THEY crested the last sharp rise and looked down upon the little cabin huddling in the spruces, an island of humanity in the beautiful sea of the wilderness

It seemed to Jim as if the small house brightened in appearance at the return of his soul. His heart in turn rose with a home feeling. His belief in the treasure which lay where the new channel cut across the old wash, that treasure which would make the world so different, came back to him like a renewed love. His hands ached for a grip on pick and shovel. His strong muscles twitched with eagerness to be at work again.

Snddenly a ponderous and gross sound out of all proportion to the size of its source smashed the mountain silence into slivers. It was the burro's greeting to his companions, and the echoes fluttered it from cliff to cliff until it faded into the merest thut.

"Kerissmus! How many of dem is dere?" asked Ches, astonished at the demonstration. At that instant the herd welcomed the returned one.

The canyon was full of brays, colliding, rising, falling and swelling in a tumult of noise against which the dreadful shouting of the gods at the fall of Troy would have seemed as the wail of a kitten.

"Say, I don't like dat," said Ches "What's loose?"

Jim had watched the growing astonishment of the boy's face with suppressed emotion, but now he hugged himself and uproariously laughed his laugh out.

"That, Ches," he replied, "is a matter of fifteen or twenty donkeys and an echo. Did you think it was the end of the world?"

"I t'ought it was gittin' on well past der middle, all right," retorted Ches. "What 'nd yer expeck of a man dat never heerd der like before?"

"I knew what to expect. I never heard them either till I came out here. I was digging a hole up the side of that hill yonder and had begun to feel that there was something behind me and that it was almost time to go home when old Jack, who has the voice of his family, poured out his soul about twenty rods away. I was halfway home, Ches, before I got sand enough to go back and investigate. But now listen and you'll hear something prettier than that."

He put his fingers to his lips and whistled a bugle call.

I can't get 'em up,
I can't get 'em up,
I can't get 'em up in the morning!

sounded Jim. And back came the pretty reveille in a fabric of music indescribably interwoven, sharp and staccato from the neighboring walls, the lightest of whispers from the distance, turning and twisting upon itself and starting afresh when all seemed still.

"Say, dat is prutty," said Ches enthusiastically. "Hit her again."

"Young man, you can come up here whenever you feel like it in the future. But as for now, I'm for home and grub."

"Dat ain't so bad neither. Der animile's jumped me up an' down till I cud hold more'n a man. Dis spook's hang out business won't quit, will it?"

"No, sir; that's a fixture. Hang on tight now, and I'll race you to the cabin. One, two three!" And away sprinted Jim down the hill trail, the burro lumbering after.

"No fair! No fair!" yelled Ches. "Yer've got me skate doped. T'row us a tow!"

Jim wheeled at the doorway and took in the excited, happy little figure bumping on the burro's back. For once in his life he had the satisfaction of an indisputable proof that he had done well. With a sudden access of affection he caught the boy in his arms and stood him on the ground "Well, here's our home, Ches," he said

Home! The street Arab filled his puny chest, took a long, devouring look about him and sought a definition of the word to make sound the lift of pride and hope that rose within him.

"Yer mean nobuddy kin chase us out of dis?"

"Nobody."

"It's our'n," the boy went on, with curious vehemence. "Like dis here," snatching an old knife from his pocket and shaking it in his tight fist, "ter t'row away, ter sell er ter keep, and nobuddy got nuttin' ter say about it?"

"Just that, laddybuck—that and nothing else."

"No more slinkin' an' snoopin' aroun' dodgin' der coppers, no more stiffin' fer der push, no more dirt of no kind. Say, I can't git dat jus' in a minute."

He stood grappling with the new idea. In the search an old one came to the top. His face changed rapidly. The furtive, hunted look returned. In a tone the odd quiet of which contrasted with the former heat he spoke again. "Yer for me now, ain't yer, Jim? If—if der Gunn should happen ter come here yer wouldn't t'row me down at dis stage of der game?"

The big man answered him with an equal soberness. He thrust a hand before the boy's eyes—a splendid hand, massive and corded at the base, running out to long, shapely, intelligent fingers, and every line in it spoke of power.

"Do yon see that hand, Ches?"

"Yessir."

"If the 'Gnn' shows his face where that hand can get a grip on him it will do the business for him in one squeeze, and if the hand can't reach there's a rifle inside that can. Now, get that out of your mind once for all."

"Well," said the boy—"well—aw, I'll be d—d, dat's all I kin say, Jim," and rushed into the house.

The miner leaned back and laughed and blew his nose, laughed again and blew his nose again; then he wiped the dust out of his eyes, swore a few words himself and followed the boy within.

The next day Jim started on his work in earnest. Before he had sunk a hole here or there in the broad smooth surface of the bar of gravel that he felt certain hid his bonanza.

Now he determined to begin at the creek bank and drift straight across the bar. That meant 600 feet of tunnel at the best unless fortune was much kinder than she had hinted at before, quite an undertaking for one man, considering the lumbering and all.

"IT WILL DO THE BUSINESS FOR HIM IN ONE SQUEEZE."

It must have been a miner who wrote that hope springs eternal in the human breast. Surely in no place other than the mines is the fact so manifest. There was once a man seventy-three years old who was sinking through a cap of cement 200 feet thick. The stuff was just this side of powder work, barely to be loosened with a pick. The old man had to climb down sixty feet of ladder, fill his bucket, climb up again and dump it, and so on and so on and so on. Besides, he had to walk thirty miles and back again with his load whenever he ran out of provisions. It had taken him a year to put his shaft down the sixty feet. There were 140 more to go, each foot getting harder, the Lord only knew what would be at the bottom when he got there, yet to sit in that old man's cabin for an hour was to obtain a complete exposition of the theory and practice of optimism. It is an unbelievable story and would be senseless were it not entirely true.

Beside that effort, Jim's task took on the tint of an avocation, but the man who runs 600 feet of tunnel single handed earns whatever may be at the end of it.

The tunnel was the one thing that Ches abhorred in his new surroundings. Whether it was that it reminded him of the dingy holes of his city life or whether it was a natural antipathy, Ches was one of those who can never enter a confined space without the sensation of smothering. At any rate, neither argument nor coaxing could get him to put a foot within its dark mouth.

An old miner would have shared his feelings in this instance, for Jim, so thorough in some things, was a careless workman. Your old miner would have shaken his head at the weak caps and recklessly driven lagging, frames out of plumb and made of any stick that came to hand, more especially as they were to support loose dirt of the most treacherous sort.

Ches worked outside, dumping the car that Jim had made of four tree sections for wheels and sluice box boards for sides. Jim, the ingenious, had rigged up a pulley system whereby Ches could run the car out and in without interrupting the work on the face.

It was hard labor for Ches at first, but he gritted his teeth and stuck it out manfully.

"Bime-by," he would say to himself, "I'll have er muscle on me like Jim, an' den I'll yunk dis cussed ol' car right out in der middle of der crik." And he examined the small bunch on his arm critically a dozen times every day.

Meanwhile his hero and idol was outdoing the human in his exertions. The effort he put forth would have killed an ordinary man. He fought the stubborn earth as though it were an enemy. Stripped to the waist, bent over in the low tunnel, hour after hour Jim plied the pick and shovel with the regularity and power of a machine. There was at once something fascinating and heroic in the rippling glide of the muscles over his broad back and in the supple swing that sent the pick to join the packed dirt.

"BIME-BY, I'LL HAVE ER MUSCLE ON ME LIKE JIM."

It all looked so easy. It was as if the dirt were very soft and not the striker very strong. Nevertheless four teen hours a day of this, varied occasionally by cutting timbers and carrying them by hand to the tunnel, some of them a weight enough for a horse, others not adequate, "just as they came" being careless Jim's motto, told even on his engines.

They had a certain mark on the canyon side—a wildcat's hole it was—and when the sun threw the shadow of the western wall upon the mark the day's work was finished.

Ches used to watch this with attention. "Yer move along all right till yer gits halfway up, den yer jus' crawls, yer ol' beggar," was his standing remark on the progress of the shadow. Still, he always gave good measurement.

Toward the last of the month Jim grew an interest in their clock.

"Where's the blame thing now, Ches?" would come hollowly out of the tunnel.

"Three more cars away, Jim. jus' tippin' the white rock."

Then the cheery shout of "All over!" and the worker stepping out into the fresh air, soft and cool in the twilight, hooking the sweat from his forehead and wishing that supper would cook itself. Sometimes the wildcat looked down upon them from his eyrie.

"Ches," said weary Jim, "if that lad thinks at all he must think we're awful fools."

"He wouldn't be so tur'ble off his guess neider," replied the equally weary Ches.

After supper, however, the world seemed different. There was Jones' hill—a man of large ideas was Jones to call that mass of rock a hill—shining redhot in the last light against a topaz or turquoise sky and the gulch that ran up to it in a mystery of dark green gloom offering up an evening prayer of indescribable odors, those appeals to a life in former spheres which no other sense remembers—the censeless roar of the wind in the pines, so steady that it formed a background for other sounds almost as good as silence itself; the evening pipe and the talk of what had been done and what was to be done—all these made amends.

And then the sleeping—such sleeping! And waking up in the morning in the exact attitude one went to sleep the night before! Sleep that washed out all the former day's fatigue and started them as eager as hounds for that of the new day—that is, within limits, for when a man overworks as continually as Jim had done no paradise sleep nor balsam air can turn him right perpetually.

And for that reason the claim declared a holiday, consisting of a hunting trip. It was a curious hunting trip. Not one "Bang!" went the clean and polished rifle. They stalked four deer, crawling on their bellies, quivering with the chase, rounding behind rocks. Then when the game was within range up went the rifle. Jim squinted along the sights, then dropped it.

"What's der matter?" whispered Ches. He had been waiting for a long time to hear the gun go off.

"They seem to be having a pretty good time by themselves here, Ches."

"Yes, dat's so, but I've heard deer meat was good." Ches was disappointed at this manner of hunting.

"So it is," replied Jim. "Probably nobody has that notion stronger than the deer." He followed the four pretty animals below them with lense eyes. He loved to hunt, but he hated to kill.

"See here, boy," he said, sitting down and pulling off his boots, "I think I can show you some fun. Do you notice they're feeding up to that nose of rock? Well, I used to be rather quick on my feet once, and I think if I can slip down behind there without their winding me if one gets close enough I can catch him with my hands, which is a trick I'd like mighty to accomplish. Now, you sit here and watch and for your life don't make a move or sound. By Jiminy, if I could do that!" He trotted light footed down the slope out of sight.

The boy soon saw him reappear behind the sharp rock wall that jutted out into the valley, rubbing crushed pine needles upon himself with the idea of overpowering the human odor, although, whether effective in its purpose or not, it was not necessary, a strong up wind from deer to man making it impossible that they could scent him.

They waited and they waited, a big man crouched like a tiger below and a highly excited small boy above, while the deer did every exasperating thing that animals could do.

One hour went by—two—when suddenly the buck rose and walked straight up the canyon in a course that would take him within twenty feet of the rock. Jim heard him snort and prepared for action, laying hold of a corner of stone to get a spring from all fours.

The deer shadow floated black on the grass before him, and Jim leaped—to the biggest surprise of his life, for instead of making the least effort to escape the buck charged and that with such sudden fury it was all the man could do to lay hold of him anywhere as they came to dirt together.

The next ten seconds was delirium, each combatant doing something as quick as he could without any definite aim. Jim received a painful rake across the chest from the antlers and a jab in the leg from the sharp hoofs, while the deer was the worse for several bangs over the head and an ear nearly pulled off as they rolled over together

THE NEXT TEN SECONDS WAS DELIRIUM.

Meanwhile Ches had legged it down the hillside at his best speed, enthusiastically cheering what he supposed was a prearranged performance. Jim had promised him fun, and that whirling heap below supplied plenty of it.

"Hooray!" yelled Ches "Hooray! Hold him dere, Jim, till I get down!"

Jim heard the shrill voice as he succeeded after a desperate effort in getting an arm around the deer's neck so that he could do something in the choking line, and he smiled grimly in the heat of battle. "All right, Ches," he gasped. "Don't—hurry!"

"Keep ont of this!" he yelled a moment later as Ches burst out from the bushes. "You'll get killed!"

But Ches was not to be denied. He danced around the pushing, tugging, straining storm center and the moment opportunity offered slipped in and seized the buck by a hind leg.

If he had touched an electric battery the effect could not have been more instant. The deer fanned that muscular hind leg with its boy attachment at the rate of 700 strokes to the minute. Poor Ches' head was nearly snapped off his shoulders, and the breath was literally jerked out of his body, but he hung on with all the strength that pulling the car had given him.

It was not much help, but it was a diversion. Jim gulped a lungful of air, gathered his powers and came down with all his might. Slowly the stubborn neck bent, so slowly that Jim feared he would give out before gaining the mastery. As it yielded his leverage increased, and at last, exerting every ounce of strength that was in him, he downed the foe and held him there, his leg over the front legs, whose armament he had felt before and was not desirous of feeling again.

But the deer gave up the struggle and lay quiet, looking up with great pleading eyes.

"Yes, you devil!" cried Jim. "You look meek enough now, but if you weren't a handful of hard luck ten seconds ago I never ran across one. You hurt, Ches?"

"I got a lovely t'ump on me smeller, but I'm in it yet. Do I let go or don't I?"

"Not on your life! Wait a moment." He worked his weight over on the deer's body. "Now!" he said. "Quick! Jump loose!" Again the deer glanced up reproachfully, as though to say, "How suspicious you are!"

The instant Ches jumped clear so did Jim. They watched their late antagonist, who sprang to his feet and went off with frisky leaps, apparently as fresh as ever.

Then they looked at each other. Ches was rubbing his stomach with his left hand, while he wiped the blood from his nose with the right. Jim's coat and trousers were torn, he had a deep scratch across his chest, a gouge in his leg, and he trembled from the exertion.

"Well—Ches!" he panted. "We've had—a—nice—rest—haven't we?"

"Wouldn't it 'a' been tur'ble if yer hadn't caught him?" replied Ches. And then they simply whooped.

They were just of an age. Any one would have said so on seeing them approach the cabin, arms flying, tongues wagging, bruised, tired and happy.

"Jim," said a very sleepy little boy after supper, gorged like an anaconda, "yer don't see t'ings like dat in N'york, not much yer don't. If dat racket had come off in der Bowery dere'd be headlines—'dilnes—on der extries—more'n a mile"—

Jim picked him up and tucked him into his bunk. "More'n a mile long, G'nigh'," sighed Ches.

Jim lit his pipe and went out for an evening smoke. It was some little time the next morning before he could realize what he was doing out there under the tree.

He had been in some ways a graver man of late. What he had undertaken as an experiment, a generous impulse, had been turned into a lasting responsibility.

[Continued next week.]

A MODEST MAID

By D. W. SPRINGER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

My friend Mrs. Southwick wrote me to come down to her country place. She said she had an especial reason for asking me, but didn't tell me what it was. So one midsummer morning I took a train to make the visit. On reaching the station—I was not expected till an hour later—not finding a conveyance to meet me, I concluded to leave my baggage at the station and walk. Never having been to Mrs. Southwick's place before, I was obliged to inquire the way and was put on to a short route, at the end of which I could enter the grounds at the rear. On arrival I climbed a fence and walked some three or four hundred yards to a clump of trees, which was so inviting that I concluded to penetrate it.

Right in the middle there was swung a hammock, and in the hammock lay a young girl asleep.

Now, a young girl asleep in a hammock is a pretty sight at any time, but if pretty and in a shaded nook she is tempting. This one was very pretty. There was about her that relaxation artists love to get in their pictures and statuary. There was a slow heaving of her breast. Her mouth was partly open, showing a narrow line of ivory between a pair of pink coral lips.

Well, though the natural consequence of a young man seeing a girl thus defenseless before him is that he cannot resist the temptation to kiss her and get his ears boxed—not for his pains, but his pleasure—I will endeavor to describe what happened. I advanced a step at a time, and with every step forward I took ten backward in my resolution not to dishonestly steal what did not belong to me. I reached a point but a yard from the sleeper without waking her. She was slumbering so calmly that for some time I dared not proceed farther for fear of awakening her. Had she slept more soundly I might have been bolder. But while halting I was gradually lilting with bravery or recklessness. As soon as I had gathered enough courage for the purpose I advanced another step or two, halted, then bent down to see how near I could bring my face to hers without waking her, then touched my lips lightly to hers.

Beyond a slight spasmodic movement she remained the same. Within a single moment I experienced dread and reassurance. The girl slept on, and I, having achieved my purpose, became suddenly conscious of the frightful risk I had run and was seized with a desire to escape the consequences of my offense. I withdrew as stealthily as possible and proceeded to the house.

I was received by Mrs. Southwick with a hearty welcome, and we sat down together on wicker chairs on the piazza. "And now that you are here," she said, "and while we are alone I will give you my reason for inviting you down. I have a wife picked out for you."

"A wife!"

"Yes, a very lovely girl, modest, unassuming, pretty—indeed, everything that is maidenly."

"And all this is for me?"

"Yes, but you must proceed with her very slowly. She is sensitive, pure. The least advance before an offer of marriage would undeniably shock her."

"For heaven's sake!" I exclaimed inwardly. "Suppose she should be the girl asleep in the hammock."

"It is this maidenly modesty," continued the go-between, "that is Edith's chief charm. I am sure that alone is enough to make you love her."

"I dare say," I replied, with proper politeness

When I was presented to Miss Edith Greer I felt the guilt of Judas Iscariot weeding up in me. I grew red and pale by turns. I stammered out a few words that didn't mean anything. I sat down before she or Mrs. Southwick had seated herself and jumped up as if I had encountered a tack on the cushion. Meanwhile Miss Greer stood with her eyes bent on the floor as if I were the first young man she had ever met. Mrs. Southwick came to the rescue by inviting us into the dining room for luncheon.

The fact that the young lady displayed no such embarrassment as she might have done had she been sensible of the kiss I had stolen, that she neither appeared shocked nor indignant, brought a return of confidence. I found her rather too unsophisticated; but, as Mrs. Southwick had said, her modesty was her chief charm. As I noticed this I shuddered at the enormity of my offense in pressing those pure lips with mine and gave frequent thanks that the piracy had not been detected.

Mrs. Southwick made the match she intended. The only difficulty in the way was that the young lady was so sweetly innocent that it seemed a sacrilege to me to propose to her. I finally got out a proposition, and, though at first she said she was too young and too inexperienced to trust herself to any man, since she regarded me the soul of honor she would commit herself to my keeping.

The denouement of a love story usually comes with a wedding. In this case it comes at a tin wedding.

"What a modest little thing you were, my dear," I said, "when we were married this day ten years ago!"

"Rats!" she exclaimed. "I was laying in wait for you in that hammock and was wide awake when you kissed me."

Not Very Accomplished.

Gerald—My dog knows as much as I.

Geraldine—Why don't you get an intelligent dog?—Chicago Record-Herald.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill. "I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish." — Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYROUX, 1411 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

YOU TRY

Bloodine

BLOODINE
THE GREATEST REMEDY IN THE WORLD
FOR THE CURE OF ALL DISEAS

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 18, 1911. NUMBER 20

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. SIX months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room
(On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank.
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith, H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton. H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter. R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Wald. Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro. E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WALD.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c and $1.00 at Druggists

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.
TRAINS GOING SOUTH.
LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R. and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.
GOING NORTH.
LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.
J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a od evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, If taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the pro-
Wa... F. E. C...
O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

Electric Motors, Gas, Gasolene or Kerosene Engines, Ventilating or Ceiling Fans, Forge Blowers, Pulleys, Hangers and Shafting,
new or second-hand furnished and installed
Wm. C. Moulton, Electrical and Mechanical Contractor.
Phone 122-21 Monson, Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers
W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.
ANOTHER
Saturday Bargain Day
In the Kinsman Store
Once again we offer hosts of Saturday Bargain Day Specials. Gathered from every Department you will find these Specials Attractive. All bear a Saturday Special Ticket that tells a story of important savings on MIDSUMMER MERCHANDISE. Shoppers will do well to take advantage of these timely offerings, for they permit of positive savings.

$7.98 $10 98 Natural Linen Suits, $5.75
Just a few of each style and size of these Natural Linen Suits in this offering. These suits are made in plain tailored styles, panel fronts and plaited sides. The coats come with plain tailored collars and cuffs. Values $7.98 to $10.98.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, $5.75

$3 98 $4.98 Cool Wash Dresses, $2.48
Cool and Attractive Wash Dresses of Chambray, Gingham and Linon in a great variety of colors and beautiful designs, in kimono style and Dutch neck, or with long sleeves. The skirts are in the plaited styles as well as with panel front and back. Values $3.98 to $4.98.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, $2.48

98c, $1.25 Parasols, 69c
Handsome Parasols of Poplin and Linon in a great assortment of colors and styles, some plain, others with fancy borders. All have strong frames and natural wood handles. Values 98c to $1.25.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 69c

50c, 59c Stamped Voile Waists, 39c
Sufficient material for entire waist, stamped in our own exclusive designs. Values 50c and 59c.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 39c

Muslin Underwear
79c Skirts, 59c
Skirts made of best Longeloth, nicely trimmed with embroideries and laces.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 59c

79c Gowns and Combinations, 59c
Gowns and Combinations made of Fine Longeloth and trimmed with lace and embroidery.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 59c

98c, $1.25 Waists, 79c
They're slightly mussed from counter handling, but perfect in every other way. You will find charming embroidered kinds, semi-tailored styles, etc., with long or three-quarter sleeves, also kimono sleeves and high or Dutch necks. Values 98c to $1.25.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 79c

30c, 50c Ribbons, 25c
Handsome Messaline, Satin and Taffeta Ribbons in all colors, also Fancy Ribbou in Dresden, Checked, Striped and Persian effects, for hair bows and fancy work. 5½–7 inches in width.
SATURDAY SPECIAL, 25c

The Underprice Basement Offers for Saturday Shoppers
60 Styles of Summer Lawns, Stripes, Checks and Floral designs. Regular price 12½c.
BASEMENT PRICE, YARD, 7 1-2c
Aprons—Gingham, a good standard cloth, blues and browns, fast colors. AT, A YARD, 6c
Mill Ends and Short Ends from our own stock of Percales and Ginghams, never sold for less than 12½c a yard.
BASEMENT PRICE, YARD, 9c

$1.35 Round Trip
To BOSTON
Thursday, August 24
From Palmer - 7.15 a.m.
W. Brimfield - 7.23 a.m.
W. Warren - 7.30 a.m.
Warren - - - 7.35 a.m.
W. Brookfield - 7.42 a.m.
Brookfield - - 7.48 a.m.
E. Brookfield - 7.54 a.m.
Returning from Boston at 8.10 p.m.
Friday, August 25
From Springfield at 6.40 a.m. Returning from Boston at 8.10 p.m.
Number of tickets limited.
Full fare charged on trains.
Secure your tickets early from Boston & Albany Agents or call at City Ticket Office, 404 Main Street, Springfield, or 'Phone 1599.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
...dily always ... on News.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Painting Books and Sewing Cards For the Children.
Children love to paint and sew. We sell many such things for them from our big display in the basement.
Painting books, 5c to 50c
Sewing cards, 10c, 25c and 50c
Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

For Sale.
My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.
Louis E. Chandler.

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE
Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yonrs truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

E. P. Henderson and Company,
Auctioneers and Appraisers.
19 Park Street, Palmer, Mass.
Will attend to selling real estate and personal property in any city or town on reasonable terms. Prompt settlements made. Licensed since 1873. Auction means cash. Book your property with us at once.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

"Can You Believe This?"
As seeing is believing, naturally believing after seeing is equal to both believing and seeing or vice versa. Now the question arises which of the two do you desire. To read about one of the prettiest shore fronts on earth near New London or see it. If you will drop us a note we will send you a booklet that will make you believe and cause you to call and see Jas. Jay Smith Company, 50 State St., New London, Ct.

Edison Phonographs and Records
2 and 4 minute.
50c Cloth Bound Novels
Always in stock.
Eastman Kodaks and Supplies
Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
HAMPDEN ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Lydia W. Record, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by Lewis B. Record of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the sixth day of September, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles L. Long, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

E. M. LAPHAM, Assistant Register.
20-3

OVERSEERS MAKE RECORD.

First Case in State Under New Desertion Law.

FORCE HUSBAND TO ASSIST FAMILY.

By Sending Him to Jail and Collecting 50 Cents a Day of His Earnings While In.

The overseers of the poor of Palmer have gained the distinction of bringing the first complaint in the state under the new wife desertion act, and securing the first conviction, with the first payment under the law of money earned by the prisoner for the support of his family. Probation Officer Roy E. Cummings received the first of the week a check for two dollars, at the rate of 50 cents per day for four days' labor performed in the house of correction by Frank Tracy, sent up on Tuesday of last week for wife desertion, this being a provision of the new act.

Tracy left his family on Park street—a wife and several small children—something like two months ago. The overseers of the poor had to aid them and at once set about a search for the husband and father. A complaint was made and a warrant issued and given to Police Officer T. J. Crimmins, who kept a watch out for his man. Tracy finally concluded that he'd like to see his family again and drifted into town, only to be gathered in by the officer before he had been in the house a quarter of an hour. Judge T. W. Kenefick gave him three months.

There was at first some question whether the overseers of the poor would get the payment or not The action of the Palmer overseers came so soon after the new law went into operation that it was the first case to come before the county officials and they were somewhat at a loss to know just what to do. Consultation with the Commonwealth's law department at Boston resulted in a finding that the money should be paid, with the result above noted A remittance of $3 each week is due until the end of the term.

A beauty of the new law is that persons wanted for desertion may be taken wherever they may be found, in this or other states, and the overseers have other family neglectors whom they propose to bring to book as soon as possible.

Morse Family Reunion.

Large Attendance Wednesday. Officers Elected For Ensuing Year.

Under ideal weather conditions the 31st annual reunion of the Morse family was held Wednesday on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. O A. Parent in Bondsville. Everything combined to bring out a large gathering, and the affair was attended by 80 relatives and friends. The company assembled gradually during the forenoon and exchanged greetings and reminiscences until about 1 o'clock, when dinner was served on the lawn. So large a number was present that all could not be accommodated at once, and it was necessary to set the table twice. After dinner the company were arranged in three groups pictures were taken.

The business meeting was then called to order by the president, ex-Senator M. A. Morse of Belchertown, who gave the address of welcome and presided. The first business taken up was the election of officers which resulted as follows: Honorary President, Jesse M. Buffington, Ware; president, Merrick A. Morse, Belchertown; first vice president, O A Parent, Bondsville; second vice president, Perley Davis, Granby; secretary, Howard Buffington, Springfield; assistant secretary, Allen Buffington, Monson; treasurer, Mrs. F. A Towne, Ludlow; entertainment committee, Miss Ora Parent of Bondsville, Mrs W. H. Morse of Bondsville, Allen Buffington of Monson.

Plans were then made to hold the next reunion with Mr. and Mrs O A Parent, whose hospitality was thoroughly appreciated, the third Wednesday in August, 1912 A short time was taken up by speeches from Jesse Buffington, O A. Parent, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Bassett, Mrs. Titus and others. A very interesting paper was read by Mrs. F. A Towne of Ludlow.

The following were present: J M. Buffington, Mrs. W. G Loveland, Mrs. L B Buffington, A. M. Barnes, M. A. Buffington, Mrs. Angie Gorham Buffington, Mrs. O B Buffington, Mrs Albert Barnes Jr., Florence Barnes, Mrs. George F. Brown, Ethel Brown, Stanley Brown, Robert D. Barnes, Mrs. Everett Brown, Raymond Brown, Ethel Olds, Ruth Brown, Lena Brown, Mrs. M. D. Olds, Mrs. M. F Brown, A. E. Barnes, Mr. and H E. Jencks, Mrs Arthur Smith and daughter Clara, Mrs. Mary Buffington, Mrs. C. R Buffington, A. J. Buffington, Addie L. Buffington, Mrs. Susie L. Jones, all of Ware; M A. Morse, M. E. Williams, Mrs. M. A. Morse, Mrs. E. E. Gay, Mrs C. W. Morse, Edward Gay Jr., Eleanore Gay, Gladys Gay, Merle Gay, E E. Gay, Florence Morse, Raymond Gay, Stacey Gay, F J Morse, Orinda T. Morse, all of Belchertown; Miss Augusta Dunakin, Mrs. F. A. Towne, Mrs. Marcus Smith, Ludlow; O. A. Parent, Mrs. O. A. Parent, Miss Ora Parent, W. H. Morse, Mrs. W. H Morse, Gladys Morse, Mrs. Amelia Culver, Walter McVickar, Bondsville; Warren Ball, Mrs. William C. Ball, Athol; Perley Davis, Mrs. Perley Davis, Madeline Davis and Newman Davis of Granby; Miss Gertrude Titus, Eugene Titus, Howard Titus, Northampton; Mrs. Lura May Hayden, Orin Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buffington, Springfield; Mrs. William C Ball, Athol; Miss Irene C. Bassett, Barre; Mrs. Della Mann, Mildred Mann, Randolph; R H. Buffington, Brookfield; Mrs A P Lane and Ruth Lane, South Hadley Falls; Mrs. Henry Dumas, Indian Orchard; Mrs Alfred Towne, Spencer; Mrs Orin Parent, Gordon Parent, Norman Parent, Ludlow.

Bad Forest Fire.

West Warren Mills Closed to Allow Men To Fight It.

One of the worst forest fires of the season raged in West Warren Wednesday The fire started on the Frank Tagan farm about 1 a m, and although part of the fire department worked all night, it was necessary to ring in an alarm at 9 calling the entire department. At noon the situation became so serious that Agent Walter B. Hall of the Warren cotton mills ordered the No. 2 and No. 4 mills closed and the men employed there were sent to aid the department. In the afternoon the flames spread to land of Charles O'Neil and help was asked of the Ware and Palmer departments. The task of putting out the flames seemed nearly hopeless when the rain came, putting a stop to further progress of the fire. Among the tracts destroyed was a lot of about 200 acres of valuable sprout land.

New High School Needs Repairing.

Roof Has Settled and Must Be Attended to At Once. Cost $2000 to $4000. Town Meeting Will Have to Be Called.

The information that repairs to the new high school building—the cost of which will probably be at least $2000 and may easily reach double that sum—are necessary and cannot be delayed will not be welcome news to the citizens of Palmer But that such is the fact, and that the work must be done at once, there is no question For some time—it was noticed by visitors to the building nearly a year and a half ago—the ceiling of the assembly room in the new part of the building has been sagging until it has now reached a drop of six inches in the center. This drop carries with it the roof, and the roof collects water which, instead of running off through the intended channel, filters down through the inside of the building.

The filtering water was first discovered Wednesday morning, after the hard rain of the evening before. Janitor Charles Johnson, on going to his work of preparing the building for the fall term, discovered water coming through the ceiling over one of the stairways from the second to the first floor, also running down into the basement He communicated with members of the school committee, who made an investigation. They found a large pool of water about five inches deep in the center of the roof of the new part of the building The roof is practically flat, sloping on all sides toward an opening at one side down which water falling on it was designed to be carried off. The sagging of the roof had carried the center below the opening of the drain and the water had begun to find its own way off. The water on the roof was balled away and an investigation made of the conditions below There it was discovered that the roof had attained a sag of six inches in the ceiling of the assembly room, as noted above It had been known for some time that there was a drop there, but it had increased materially within a few weeks.

The assembly room is 50 by 38 feet, and the ceiling is divided into three panels by two cross timbers which support the roof; these timbers are 10 by 14 inches, so placed that the center panel is approximately 25 by 38 feet. Across the 25 foot way are floor timbers 2 by 6 inches The space between the roof and the ceiling timbers is only 18 inches, insufficient to permit of proper trussing, and as the timbers are too long to retain their position without trussing, with the weight of the roof on them, they have settled in the center, which is causing the trouble.

There is only one remedy suggested which it is thought will permanently correct the trouble, and that is the installation of steel beams for the 10 by 14 inch wooden ones now in place. The expense of these beams is not large, but the cost of installation—which will necessitate tearing out a portion of the ceiling of the assembly room, shoring up the rest while the work is in process, and the replacing of everything in first-class condition—will run the cost up to nobody knows where, as the nature of the work compels it to be done by days' labor and not by contract. It will also take some time, and it is a certainty that the work of the school, which commences September 5, will be interrupted by the noise and confusion of the work.

The school committee is somewhat at a loss to know where the funds for the work are to come from. The only money they have which could be applied is their contingent fund, and they have other uses for all of this. The work must be done and must be commenced without delay. If it is postponed until a special town meeting can be called and the money voted, the delay would be a serious matter. It is probable that the school committee will go ahead and provide for the work at its meeting next Tuesday evening, then call a special town meeting and ask for the money which the town must provide to protect its property, and which the voters will without question give.

That part of the building where the trouble occurs was built in the summer of 1908, and used for the first time in October of that year.

THE CHURCH AND NEWSPAPERS.

They Are Held to Be Mutual Helps in Elevating the Moral Standard of the Community.

Rev. C. Julian Tuthill of Mattapoisett, formerly of Palmer and well known here, delivered a sermon on "The Church and the Newspaper" recently, which contained so many suggestions well worthy of serious thought by both that we reproduce it here for the benefit of "whom it may concern" A careful reading may suggest a new—or to many a heretofore unthought of—relation between the two. Mr. Tuthill's text was, "It groweth up," which he considered a safe one to place over all vocations and trades. After declaring that there was no body of men whose example and whose moral conceptions are continuously prominent before the people, Mr. Tuthill went on to say:

"The church thinks of every newspaper as being the pulpit of its editor, and thinks of his body of reporters as somewhat akin to opportunity to a corps of Sunday school teachers. We are not far from the truth if we declare the church and the newspaper to be brothers at work in the sphere of human ethics and morals.

"Now brothers do not always agree. Churches are not all alike, and criticise one another. Newspapers are not of one mind. Ministers differ, so do editors. The church may have her opinion as to the way newspaper work ought to be conducted. Newspaper men may return the compliment and make suggestions to the church. No harm is done so long as fraternity is kept in mind and mutual helpfulness rendered Splendid churches and splendid newspapers are both wanted There should be no contest between them to control the field. High standards of service are all that is necessary to keep in mind.

"In a large sense the newspaper should be just as clean as the sermon. The personality of the editor in his daily pulpit is as important to the public as is the personality of the clergyman in his weekly pulpit The quality of ethical teaching by reporters and writers ought to be of as high a grade as that expected of a leader in a Sunday school class. Ritual or no ritual, we have a right to demand the highest standards of every man who occupies any kind of a pulpit and who seeks a continued hearing The size and the location of pulpit have no bearing in the matter,—a pulpit is a pulpit, for 'a that and 'a that.

"As to the claim that before an editor can have any congregation to preach to he is obliged to follow the methods of the sensational minister, and begin by printing anything and everything in the line of news, both pulpits face the same danger. Certainly, some real life is sensational and is legitimate news for ethical discussion. But here we are drawing near to that type of commercial proposition which declares that man may build bad business into the very foundation of worthy business in order to achieve success. If it is right to begin by catering to a questionable class of trade, that policy is apt to be continued We are perfectly willing to grant that people want the news and that men like a newspaper which covers the field

"But if we were setting up the highest standards for the pulpit of the church, this would be a fair question: Ought a minister to bring into his pulpit more facts about evil going on than he can comment about? Ought a church service to be padded full of descriptions of badness with nothing said about it, no moralizing, no preaching, no arriving at some definite ethical and religious conclusions? Suppose that in order to get a certain class of people to come out on Sunday mornings, an assistant pastor is hired, one of whose duties shall be to read without criticism before or afterward the vivid story of a brutal prize-fight, or similar happenings, week after week. A congregation is drawn together by this love of badness and scandal, fed regularly, as often as it comes. What will be the result? Nay, but when a fact concerning evil is introduced in the church that fact must be dealt with and preached about.

"To lift up the standard of that other pulpit whose hero is the editor's 'sanctum,' and to make his paper of highest grade, he must deal morally with all of the news printed. That whole gathering-force employed by newspaperdom ought to be trained up to a point where every article of news furnished shall be given a moral flavor, or to say the least, proper moral classification.

"As to the plea that there would be lack of time, there is always time to write a moral headline if nothing more. And correspondents from afar have time enough to hint the correct moral bearing of their personal contributions As to the plea that people may be left to do their own moralizing, after giving them the bare facts, bare facts are not the facts. Shorn of its ethical significance the real fact may be a matter of guess work and readers be led astray. As to the plea that the public does not want any moralizing about the news, young people who read the newspapers are entitled to considerable guidance and all ages need it

"The space in the newspaper may not permit giving large prominence to the ethical meaning of each item, sometimes slight. But when a man falls down stairs because he is drunk and breaks his neck, not to print the reason with the fact tends to make people who never drink wrongly afraid of the staircase, as being a place where all are in continual danger. No editor would consent for a moment to having set before his own children in the day-school classroom all of the evil deeds done in this world the day before, made as picturesque as possible and without moral comment or ethical instruction But a newspaper doing the same thing reaches not only a host of children but a large number of adults not far removed from childhood. An editor's constituency contains a limited number of his peers, and he may well attempt greater and greater things for the multitude

"The press is a glorious institution The men behind the facts are on thrones of power The pen of a newspaper writer commands the Dreadnaughts of typographical unions We are proud of our dailies, weeklies, monthlies and quarterlies, they cover territory that the church does not reach, and they are doing work that the church can never do They are that the church can never do. They are fraternal disseminators for the church, continually serving her in a missionary spirit without pay. And little wonder if the church hopes for a continual lifting of the staudard in newspaperdom Some editors have drawn to themselves a part of that congregation which the church would fain influence. The church may be pardoned if she suggests that editors have thus assumed a responsibility before God, and pardoned for her prayer that these newspapers men make ready to answer for the future of readers who fail of worship

Hobson Not a Candidate.

Will Not Run For Senator in Worcester-Hampden District.

William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston, candidate for the Republican nomination for senator in the Worcester-Hampden district, was in town yesterday looking over the field and attempting to judge the chances for his success. He found them all that he could wish. It has been understood that the nomination would go either to Mr. Wheeler or to ex Representative Ernest E. Hobson of this town. Until recently no word of his intention has come from Mr. Hobson, but he has now given out that he does not intend to be a candidate for the nomination. He has other interests which demand a large measure of his time, and does not feel that he can spare an amount sufficient to give Legislative duties the attention necessary. Accordingly there appears to be a clear field for Mr. Wheeler. He has been for many years a resident of Hubbardston, where he conducts a general store and where his reputation for sound judgment and clear thinking has placed him in the forefront of public affairs. His nomination and election would certainly give the district a creditable representative.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss L. W. Miller and sister of Springfield are at the home of Mrs. L. G. Pease for a stay.

Miss Isabella Robb and niece of Wheeling, West Va., are guests of her brother, John A. Robb.

PALMER AUTO IN SMASH.

Leaves Road and Strikes Tree Near Boston Friday.

DEFECTIVE STEERING GEAR CAUSE.

Dr. S. R. Carsley and Fred Lemieux Have Exciting Time. Latter Hurt, But Recovers.

Dr. S. R. Carsley of North Main street and Fred Lemieux figured in an auto accident at South Sudbury, on the road to Boston, last Friday forenoon, the car in which they were riding leaving the highway and striking a tree. Dr. Carsley escaped with a bruised shoulder and a few minor bruises. Lemieux was not so fortunate. He was rendered unconscious, from which he did not recover until the next day, but has since been improving steadily in the hospital in Boston to which he was taken soon after the accident.

The two men started from Palmer about 8.30 in the morning for a business trip to Boston, expecting to reach Palmer again between 8 and 9 in the evening. East of Worcester Dr. Carsley was driving, the car being a Cole 30. At the end of a long straight stretch, while travelling about 20 miles an hour, he approached a slight curve to the left; as he turned the steering wheel slightly to make the curve the wheel began to wobble from side to side in his hands and the car left the road to the right. Dr Carsley at once shut off the power and applied the brake, but the car struck a tree at a distance of about 50 feet from the highway, at the side of which there was neither fence nor embankment. The contact was on the left side, the mudguard being bent, the wheels on that side torn off and the front axle broken. The momentum of the car twisted it to the left until it faced the road again, and there it rested, not more than 40 feet from the highway.

Neither man was thrown from his seat, but Lemieux in some way received a blow which rendered him unconscious. A passing car was hailed and he was taken at once to a hospital in Boston, where he was given all possible care. He remained unconscious until Sunday morning, then recovered rapidly and returned to Palmer yesterday.

A hint of the accident was brought to Palmer in the afternoon by an auto party going west. They reported one man severely hurt and the other very badly hurt, and the auto a total wreck Telephone messages to all points along the line failed to yield any information as to the accident, and it was not until Dr Carsley returned from Boston by train at 7.58 that the details were learned. An examination of the car since the accident discloses a distinct flaw in the steering gear, which was responsible for the trouble.

Long Ride in Car of Hay.

Locked in At Albany in Morning; Taken Out At Palmer in Afternoon.

When the Boston and Albany fast freight No. 2, due in Palmer from the west at 4.08, pulled in about 20 minutes late yesterday afternoon it stopped opposite the passenger station and a brakeman slid back the door of a car—Big Four Line, No. 44,422—and Officer Crimmins called "Come down!" to a man perched on top of a bale of hay close to the roof of the car. The man obeyed without a murmer and was led away to the cooler—any place almost would be cooler than a narrow space close under the roof of a hay car on a bright warm sunny day. The door of the car was closed and the train pulled out on its way east.

At the cooler the man gave the name of Charles Vanzile, residence New York city, and occupation that of an elevator operative. In his pocket was a postal addressed to "Mother" and signed "Harry," posted at St. Johnsville, N Y., on Monday. It said that the writer was getting along nicely, was well treated and was having a good time. Vanzile said the card was from his 14 years-old boy, who had run away from home recently; that his wife was nearly frantic over the lad's disappearance, and that on receipt of the postal—the first word they had received from him—he had started after him. The boy had left Johnsville before the father got there, and so he started back for New York. At Albany his money ran out and he asked a brakeman in the railroad yard at West Albany for a train to New York, and was directed to the car he was taken from; the door was partly open and he climbed in, there being just space enough at the roof for him to squeeze in. Someone locked the door and he had to remain there from 7 in the morning until taken out at Palmer. He admitted having had "a few drinks" at Albany, but failed to explain how the seal of the car, which was in bond from Malone, N. Y, came to be in his pocket.

In the district court this morning he was found guilty of vagrancy and fined $6, which he lacked and so was sent up. If the federal government chooses to push the matter, Vanzile faces a possible fine of $1000 or six years' imprisonment or both for breaking the seal of a U. S. customs sealed car.

Golden Wedding At Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Haschal Underwood Receive Friends Last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haschal Underwood of Warren celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home Saturday. Friends and relatives were received during the afternoon and evening, refreshments being served. The couple were assisted in receiving by his sister, Mrs. Carrie M. Plans of Richfield Springs, N. Y, and two brothers, C. Underwood of Philadelphia and W. P Underwood of Springfield.

Mr Underwood is a native of Exeter, N. Y., where his parents, Harrison and Amanda Beedle Underwood, resided many years. Mrs. Underwood, whose maiden name was Lydia E. Robinson, is also a native of the same place. They were married Aug. 13, 1861, in Jordanville, N. Y., by Elder Lorenzo Bolton of that town. During the succeeding eight years they resided in Exeter, moving from there to Hinsdale, N. Y, in 1869. Here Mr. Underwood was engaged in the lumber business for 10 years. In 1879 they moved to West Brookfield, where Mr. Underwood engaged in farming, moving his place of residence to Warren in 1884. On Aug. 1, 1909, Mr. Underwood became interested with his son in the Warren steam laundry.

Mr. and Mrs Underwood have two sons, Herbert Underwood of Warren and Melvin Underwood of Springfield.

The inquest on the death of Daniel Sweeney, killed by the cars on the Boston and Albany railroad July 3, was held in the district court Saturday. Judge Kenefick will make his finding later.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 18, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

When your attending physician gives you a prescription, take it at once to Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., corner Central, for accurate and prompt compounding. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Pomona Grange Meeting.

Held At Forest Lake Wednesday. Large Attendance. Interesting Addresses.

A joint meeting of Quaboag Pomona and the state Grange was held Wednesday at Forest Lake. Delegations were present from the Brookfields, New Braintree, Warren, Springfield, Rutland, Vt, and the Worcester West and Swift River Valley Pomonas. A basket lnuch was served at noon

In the afternoon at 1 30 the meeting was called to order in the pavilion by Edwin L Havens, master of Quaboag Pomona After speaking a few words of welcome, he turned the meeting over to the lecturer, Mrs B. N. Barnes of Brimfield, who introduced as the first speaker, L. H. Healey, master of the Connecticut state grange.

The principal speaker was Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education, who said in part: There have been in Massachusetts two systems of education, that of the common schools for general intelligence but not the earnings of a livelihood, and that of the vocational schools designed for special kinds of life work. Five or six years ago there was agitation for industrial schools to prepare boys and girls of 14 years and upward for an occupation in life and for the science back of it. There is only one industrial school for agriculture in the state, so there is no precedent in the state for this line of work. The state board of education is ready to start schools for scientific agriculture where the communities are prepared for them. It proposes to start them according to two plans. First, a separate agricultural school may be started in a large district densely populated by agriculturalists, formed preferably by the union of several towns The community is to furnish the buildings, which should be built like those of a farm Only a small plot of ground will be necessary, as the boys should carry on most of the work on their home farms. The school will be of the day rather than the boarding-school type, with well qualified teachers who supervise the home work This type of school has been tried in the western states and in Canada, and is arousing much interest in this state The second plan of the board is to create an agricultural department in small high schools in farming districts, where there is the desire of boys 14 or 15 years to become farmers. The actual farm work will be done on the home farms under the supervision of a competent instructor, who will give his morning to a discussion of methods of work with the boys in the school-room The Legislature has granted $10,000 to carry out this work. The board of education will pay one-half the expenses of the first type of school and two-thirds of the salary of the instructor in the second, Scientific agriculture is valuable to the future of Massachusetts and should arouse faith in the local supporters of such schools. The plan is an experiment and will succeed only as the people back up the action of the board. The grangers must cooperate with the instructors in these schools. The outcome will be a glorious future for agriculture in Massachusetts.

There were interesting remarks by J. G. Sherwood, lecturer of the Connecticut State Grange and E. F. Richardson of the Massachusetts State Grange. After a few announcements by the lecturer, the meeting was closed with a story told by the Massachusetts State Ceres, Mrs. Mary O Slavin

Will Build New Theater.

Street Railway Will Erect Fine Structure Next Year At Forest Lake.

Patrons of Forest Lake will be glad to know that the theatre, which was destroyed by fire on Friday of last week, will be rebuilt next year. There was a suggestion that the street railway company, which owns the pleasure grounds at the lake, might not take kindly to a proposition to spend more money there. The company has been dropping its amusement parks for several years, and it was thought possible that, with the theatre burned, Forest Lake might go with the others But Manager William Rohan has received definite assurances from the street railway company that it will rebuild in time for next season's business.

Just what the structure will be has not been decided. It is not unlikely that the plan proposed for 1908 may be taken up again. In the fall of 1907 a scheme for a new theatre over the lake, to be built the next spring, was worked out. As outlined at that time, the knoll at the east of the pavilion was to be scraped away and a theatre partially over the lake was to be built opposite, the platform approaches occupying a part of the knoll site. The kitchen was to be removed from the pavilion, giving the entire floor space for dancing. To accommodate the kitchen and serving room a platform on timber supports was to be erected, occupying the entire space between the present pavilion and the theatre approach. This would afford a broad floor space for tables and the serving of guests, who would be able to see the water from where they sat The walk to Lily Point and the Island was to have been reached by a passageway under the theatre. For financial reasons the plan was not carried out the next spring, but there can be no question of its advantages over the former theatre.

Hard Shower Tuesday Night.

Which Did Quantities of Good. About an inch of Rain Fell.

Owners of growing crops are rejoicing over the rain of Tuesday evening, during which approximately an inch of water fell. True, it came in such quantities at times that not all of it found its way into the ground, but it did a whole lot of good just the same. It began to rain about 4 in the afternoon; just a few sprinkles which had increased to umbrella-carrying proportions at 6, but at that was not enough to give much hope of a material quantity. It finally stopped completely about 7 30, to begin again at 8 when it apparently determined to make up for lost time, for between 8 45 and 9 15 the water fell in streams. There was no lightning, but a steady downpour of rain, which decreased in quantity until about 10, when it ceased altogether. There was another smart shower about 3 o'clock yesterday morning

Noisy Sunday Clambake.

And One Young Girl Narrowly Escaped Being Burned to Death.

Reports from a Sunday clambake held over the line in the vicinity of West Ware indicate that it was anything but an orderly and sedate affair. There was plenty of "booze" according to all accounts, with all that might be expected in the way of accompaniment. During the festivities one young girl had her clothing set on fire, but the flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done.

They Are From Missouri.

Three Rivers Citizen Wants to Know Why Delay on Sewers and Roads.

At the annual town meeting in March it was voted to construct certain sewers and permanent highway in the village of Three Rivers The work has not been commenced yet, and those interested in the project want to know why. Some even go so far as to suggest that the selectmen are holding off with the intent of delaying the work until too late to finish it before winter sets in, so saving the expense this year The vote was to build the road only after the sewers had been installed. The critics say that apparently no move has been made toward building the sewers and that this looks like no road this year.

In reply to this the selectmen say that they have moved as fast as possible in the matter. The approval of the state board of health of the sewer plans was necessary before anything in that line could be done, and there was considerable delay in getting them acted on. This done, it takes time to get out the plans and specifications They are now ready however, or will be in time for the meeting next week, after which it is expected that the work will go forward with more expedition.

The selectmen find, however, that they will not be able to build all the sewers wanted with the money at their disposal. Just how much can be done is not known, but the Main street sewer will be put in so as to allow the road to be built; then if there is money left the others will be constructed so far as the money goes.

Representative Candidates.

McQuaid Wants Democratic Nomination. No Republican Out Yet.

With the near approach of the last day on which nomination papers for the primary elections may be filled—the time limit is next Wednesday—comes increasing interest in the possible candidates for representative in the First Hampden district. Dr. John S. McQuaid of Monson, who was the Democratic candidate last year and made a remarkably good showing for a first try in a strong Republican district, will be the Democratic candidate, and papers for him are now being circulated. As to the Republican ticket, there is no suggestion of any other name than Henry W. Holbrook, who represented the district last year. It has been the custom to give a representative two terms if he so desired, but Mr. Holbrook has as yet made no statement as to his wishes in the matter It is understood that he is perfectly willing to step aside if there is any other man who desires to run and the party leaders think he can be elected. No such name has been suggested, and until Mr Holbrook's decision is made known it is unlikely that any will be mentioned

Two Calls to Fires.

One In the Village and One Forest Fire Which Couldn't Be Found.

The firemen were called out about noon Monday for a grass fire between the C V railroad tracks and North Main street opposite the residence of George Ezekiel It had been started by a locomotive spark and was running through the dry grass at a great speed

The boys were called out again in the evening for a forest fire which was said to have started in West Warren and moved over the line into Palmer. The auto truck took a load of men over to West Warren and from there across to Ware, but no sign of fire could be found, nor could the men get in touch with anyone who knew about a fire. There was one however in the long sharp angle of Palmer which runs up beyond the town of Ware to the east. West Warren men were engaged in fighting it the greater part of the day

District Court.

The Saturday morning session of the district court was taken up with charges against five young men who had been camping in Wales, the complainant in each case being Walter H Heck of that town.

Arlie Trumble of Palmer was charged with the larceny of some old boards, which he proposed to use as firewood As it was shown that he had permission from the owner to take the wood he was found not guilty.

Royal Butler of Springfield was accused of the larceny of a small quantity of ice. He had sent for the ice, with a statement that arrangement had been made for paying for it; he took the ice in the presence of the owner and offered to pay for it at that time He was found not guilty.

A charge against Sidney Trumble of Palmer, for the larceny of chickens, was not pressed.

Two Springfield members of the party—Ralph Green and Robert Potter—were found guilty of carrying concealed weapons without legal right, and their cases were continued until to-morrow.

Suffering From Sprained Arm.

J. C. Sullivan, general manager of the Flynt Building and Construction Company, is carrying his right arm in a sling, the result of an accident at New London last Sunday. Mr. Sullivan, with his family, was alighting from a street car on their way to church; a large woman occupied the end of the seat and in passing her he misjudged the distance to the car step and slipping off he fell to the ground. He struck with both arms doubled under the body, and his head came in violent contact with the ground, but the stiff straw hat which he wore protected his face and head Aside from a shaking up the only injury was a sprained elbow, which will inconvenience him for some time

Excursion to Newport.

The Central Vermont Railway will run an excursion to Newport, R I, next Thursday. Special trains will leave Palmer at 6 55 a. m. and 7 27 a. m The trip from New London will be made on the steamer City of Lowell, arriving at Newport at 1 o'clock. A three-hour stay is allowed there, the steamer leaving at 4 on the return trip.

Hoboes Yanked From Train.

Officer Crimmins and Deputy Sheriff Bills, with two railroad officers, visited a west-bound freight train on the Boston and Albany railroad about 8 30 last evening and removed seven men who were enjoying free transportation in an empty coal car. In the district court this morning all were fined $6 each for vagrancy; two paid and the rest were sent up for lack of funds.

Harry Hart of Holbrook street has gone to Attleboro, where he has taken a position.

The Woman's Relief Corps holds a meeting this evening in Memorial Hall.

Stanley Dimock of Pine street has taken a position as chauffeur with Springfield parties.

A H. Parker is the latest addition to the ranks of the automobilists, and is driving a Ford car.

The selectmen will hold their meeting on Wednesday evening of next week instead of Thursday.

The school committee will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening to fill vacancies in the corps of teachers.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs William Lynch died Monday and was buried Tuesday in St. Thomas' cemetery.

Miss Ethel Rich, who was recently appointed as teacher of the Forest Lake school, has declined the appointment.

The body of John Kinnevan, a former resident, was brought here from Holyoke for burial in St Thomas cemetery Tuesday.

The pulpit in the Advent chapel will be filled Sunday afternoon by H. L Hunt of Springfield. Subject of the sermon, "The ark a type of Christ"

The selectmen decided, at their meeting last evening, to ask for bids for the construction of the macadam road in Thorndike, to extend from the end of the present road on Cemetery Hill toward the river Bids will be opened next Wednesday evening.

The choir of St. Thomas' church gathered at the home of Mrs. John Burke on Oak street Wednesday evening, and presented the organist, Miss Nellie Finnerty, with a handsome lamp, in honor of her approaching marriage. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social time enjoyed.

The union services will be continued in the Baptist church next Sunday. At 10 45 sermon by the pastor on "The Transformation of Christian Character" Bible school at 12, evening worship and sermon at 7 o'clock; subject, "Feeding on the word" Everybody cordially invited to attend.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. A. L. Damon is enjoying a vacation at Nantasket.

Miss Marguerite Griswold is enjoying a two-weeks' vacation at her former home in Willimansett

Mrs. Reeves of New York was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Fuller at their home Sunday.

Miss Eva Lenor, telephone operator at the central office, is spending a two-weeks' vacation at East Pepperell.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rindge are entertaining friends from Somerville at their home on Wilbraham Mountain.

Rev. Vernon H. Deming and son Charles of East Douglas, former residents, were guests of friends in town over Sunday.

Mrs Raymond Pierpont and son, Raymond Jr, of West Brookfield, have been guests of her mother, Mrs. James Egan.

Mr. and Mrs William Dickinson and two daughters left Saturday on an automobile trip through Connecticut and Berkshire county.

WARREN.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tarbell are visiting in Portland, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Reed have gone to Maine for a two-weeks' vacation.

T McDowell and Miss Annie Corcoran have gone to Penn, Ind, for a few weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tupper and daughter are spending a two-weeks' vacation in Hinckley, Me.

Arthur and Jerome Blair of Norfolk, Va, have been guests of Miss Laura Blair of Maple street.

L G Kibbe has returned from a visit in New York, and was accompanied by his sister, Miss Ruth Kibbe.

Mrs. Frank P. Stearns and daughter, Miss Josephine, of Arlington, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. R F. Clarke of Curtis avenue.

Several incandescent lights have been put up in the park this week. This was thought advisable by the selectmen in their endeavors to check rowdyism and other mischief going on evenings

HAMPDEN.

The church picnic was held to-day at Mountain Park.

Cornelius J. Flynn is enjoying a vacation at Sag Harbor, Me.

Gilbert Smith severs his engagement with Mr. Hayes the first of September.

Mrs Annie Fitzpatrick and nephew of Worcester are visiting Miss Esther Burleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Warren of Wilbraham spent Sunday with his father, M H. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burleigh have gone to Maine, where they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Calkins.

Henry M Warren of Aberdeen, S D, is spending a vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs H. H Warren

Among the recent guests at the home of Matthias Casey have been Rev. John S McCarthy of Savannah, Dr John S Murphy of Brockton, Stephen J. Casey, D D S, of Somerville, Rev. James Casey of Turners Falls and Mr. and Mrs David Casey of Springfield

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Thomas of Lynn has been a recent guest at the hotel.

F. W Main of Springfield has joined his family at the hotel for a vacation.

The Misses Black of Brooklyn, N Y., are at the home of Mrs Hubbard.

Miss Lily Warren is spending the week at the home of Mrs. Samuel W. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs Moses Baker of Springfield are spending their vacation in Brimfield.

Miss Emily Day of Newton is spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Day of Coy's Hill.

John S Webber of Boston, formerly clerk at the Brimfield Hotel, has been spending a part of the week there

Mrs. Jennie Bacon and niece, Miss Gladys Munroe, and Miss Agnes Bates of Fiskdale are spending two weeks at the Bacon homestead

Mrs. Samuel W Fish has returned from Royalston, where she accompanied her nieces, Misses Amy and Pauline Crum, who have been spending several weeks in Brimfield.

Mrs. Ella Baker Smith of Springville N. Y., and Mrs. Edgar Pike, with her daughter, Miss Ethel Pike of Salem, have joined Mr. and Mrs. Moses H. Baker at the Baker summer home in the Northeast district.

WARE.

O'Brien—Sullivan.

A romance which began in England culminated in Ware Wednesday, when Miss Mary A O'Brien of Storrs street and William Sullivan were united in marriage by Rev. John Roberts. The couple were schoolmates and sweethearts in England. The bride came to this country several years ago, and Mr Sullivan came here a month ago. Miss Mary O'Brien, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Michael Stratton was best man. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will live in Holyoke.

Death of Mrs. Eugene Sullivan.

Mrs. Eugene Sullivan died Friday night at her home on Water street She was a native of Ireland. After coming to this country she lived in Gilbertville, where she was married to the late Joseph McCormick. Twelve years ago she married Eugene Sullivan, and had lived in Ware since that time She is survived by her husband, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 in All Saints' church, Rev J. J. Roberts officiating. The bearers were James Madigan, James McCrystal, P J Corbett, Daniel Mulvaney, John Shea and John McCarthy.

Missing Boy Found.

Frank Connolly, a state charge 16 years old, disappeared from the home of Mrs. Mary J. Ladd in Belchertown Sunday afternoon, and was traced to Ware by Deputy Sheriff Myron S. Barton of Belchertown He notified Chief of Police Buckley, who shortly after 6 o'clock saw a boy answering the description given driving through Main street. On being questioned, the lad admitted that he was the boy sought in Belchertown and was returned to that place by the authorities.

Personal Mention.

F M Ralton has returned from a trip to Nova Scotia.

Rev. T S. Donoghue of Worcester was in town Wednesday.

Miss Belle Breckenridge of Fitchburg is visiting friends in town.

Earl Linnell of Park street spent Sunday with friends in Chester.

Rev. and Mrs F S. Brewer are enjoying a vacation at Sagamore Beach.

Harold Taylor of Thorndike street is spending a vacation in Maine.

Mrs. F. H Caryl was called to Ware this week by the illness of a relative.

Rev. Charles Ricketts of Norwich, Ct., visited friends in town Saturday.

Mrs. F. N. Carpenter is spending a few days with relatives in Worcester.

Leslie Cameron has returned from a several weeks' visit in New York.

W. D Cameron and daughter Annie have returned from a visit in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cotton of Knox street are spending a vacation in Franklin

Mr and Mrs. H. P. Letters have been spending a few days in Hartford, Ct.

Grover C Goodes has returned from a week's vacation at Casco bay, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Record have returned from a vacation in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gleason of Park street are spending a vacation at Watch Hill.

H. H. Hall is spending a vacation in Maine, where his family are spending some time.

Mrs Clymenia C. Fuller is spending two weeks with Mrs. Linus Hatch of Silver street.

Mrs. William E. Breckenridge and son of Mt. Vernon, N. Y, are guests of Mrs F. F. Marcy.

Miss Sophia Rice of Pleasant street is spending a few days with friends in Chester

Misses Mary and Clara Armstrong are guests of Mrs William Cordner of Pleasant street.

Miss Bessie Swann of Highland street has gone to Longmeadow, R I, to join a camping party

Mrs M S Hastings of Troy, N Y., is a guest at the home of Mrs. George Robinson on Pleasant street.

Newton C. Wing of New York has been the guest of his mother, Mrs Abbie M. Wing of Central street.

Mrs. J. U Ferris of Naugatuck, Ct., has been visiting her mother, Mrs Susan Coleman of Park street

Misses Margaret and Mary Duffy have returned from a two-weeks' vacation in the eastern part of the state.

Mrs. W. D. Cameron and daughter Irene leave to-morrow for a visit to Newburyport and Portsmouth, N. H.

Michael Lally has returned to his home in Boston after a week's visit at the home of J. J Todd on Pine street.

Miss Della Hastings and Mrs Theodore Norman have returned from a two-weeks camping trip at Lake George.

Mrs. C. W. Williams has gone to the Wesson Memorial hospital in Springfield, where she is receiving treatment.

W. F. Waite, who is employed in engineering work in Ridgefield, Ct., spent Sunday at his home on Squier street.

Mrs J. W. Fairing of New York, a former resident of Palmer, has been the guest of Mrs. E S Leach of Church street

Mrs. H S. Hobson of Pearl street left to-day for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. C F. Evans of Tarrytown, N Y

Mrs. Helen Barry and daughter of Elkhart, Ind, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W Converse of Park street.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadfoot and daughter of Amherst were guests over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs Omer Marcy of Pine street.

Mrs. Etta Plimpton of Tilton, N H, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Lydia O Ferry, and her sister, Mrs Charles W Robinson

Edward Prindle is taking a vacation from his duties on the milk train and with Mrs Prindle is enjoying a trip down the Hudson.

Robert W. Bodfish of Central street is enjoying a vacation at the home of his grandmother, Mrs H. E Ware of North Anson, Maine

Mr and Mrs J Herbert Davis are enjoying a two weeks' automobile trip through the eastern part of the state and to the White Mountains.

The marriage engagement is announced of Miss Nellie G. Finnerty of South Main street and D. E O'Connor, proprietor of the Nassowanno House

Mr. and Mrs. George Ezekiel and son Paul and Superintendent of Schools Clifton H. Hobson left yesterday for a five-days' trip to Richmond, Va.

Miss Jennie Todd is enjoying a 10-days' vacation from her duties in the office of the Wright Wire Co., and is the guest of friends in Brattleboro, Vt

Mrs. H. W. Taylor has returned to her home in Worcester after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson on Central street.

Mrs. M. S. French of Park street and Mrs. James Summers of Converse street and their families have returned from a vacation at Nantasket Beach.

Miss Elissa Caryl has returned to her duties in the Wesson Memorial hospital in Springfield after a three-weeks' visit at the home of her parents on Pine street.

Miss May Pendergast of the Palmer National Bank leaves to-morrow for a week's vacation, which she will spend in New London, Bushey Point and Newport, R I.

Mrs. Charles A. Burgess has returned from a two-weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs F. G. Lindstrom of Hamilton, Ontario, who has been seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia.

Miss Katherine Daley is enjoying a two-weeks' vacation from her duties in the office of the Central Massachusetts Electric Co, and Miss Grace Sullivan of Monson is substituting during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kavanaugh of Springfield were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilder on Pine street Sunday. Miss Frances Kavanaugh, who has been a guest there for three weeks, returned home with them

BELCHERTOWN.

Miss Emma Palmer has been spending the week in Boston.

Dr T. L. Lake is visiting his mother at White Creek, N. Y.

Mrs Chapin, aged 82 years, was seriously hurt by a fall last Friday and it is feared that either the hip or leg is fractured. Mrs. Chapin has been quite active, walking frequently from her home, some distance from the Center, to church on Sundays.

Making It Easy.

Chimmie—I told the boss I'd quit this elevator boy job unless he made it easier. Jimmie—What do you want him to do? Chimmie—Just put on an arrangement so that the elevator will stay still and the floors will run up and down in front of it.—Puck.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

A WIDOW'S OLD HORSE

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press

One day the Widow Saunderson was in town, and she found a horse auction going on. The last of the bunch to be put up was an old gray mare. She was sknn and bone and then some more. The auctioneer did not slander her character when he called her an old skate.

There was a general laugh of contempt over the old mare, and then some one bid $2. Out of pure sympathy the widow bid a dollar more, and the nag was hers. She was guyed by the crowd, but the prize was hitched behind the wagon and reached the farm in due time without having once fallen by the wayside. There were two hired men to grin and chuckle and talk about crow banquets, but the woman silenced them with:

"Get along, you idiots! Turn that horse out to grass and take good care of her If she dies her hide will be worth all I paid for her whole body."

This was early in the spring When the old mare began to fill up she began to improve. In a month her ribs could no longer be counted from the highway, and she began to gambol a bit. It was when another horse was turned into the lot with her of a Sunday that the surprise came. One of the men came up to the house and said to Mrs. Saunderson:

"Say, you come down to the fence and see that old mare!"

"Dead, is she?"

"Dead! Why, she's the liveliest old nag you ever set eyes on! Come down!"

The two horses were having a play. It was a ten acre meadow, and they were circling it. The farm horse was on the gallop and the old mare on the trot, and yet he could not leave her behind.

"She got that gait before a sulky for sure," said the man.

"Looks like it to me," replied the widow. "After this you feed her a few oats every day and use the curry comb, and don't either one of you boys say a word outside."

The Akron county fair, always held late in September, ranked next to the state fair. Some said the horse racing was even better, because the track was better. When the opening of the entries was announced the Widow Saunderson said to one of her men:

"Joe, here's the money to enter Lady Gray. You can claim to be the owner. You go over to Johnsonville and borrow or buy a sulky and get it here on the sly. The old mare is going into the free for all, and you are going to drive her."

And a few days later she said to the other man:

"Tim, here is a hundred dollars. You go to town and loaf around for two or three days. Bet the money on our horse. Get the best odds you can."

When day and date came they hooted the widow's hired man and his equine. They had bet 5 to 1 before, now they bet 15 to 1. The widow had $400 in the bank. She drew every dollar of it out, and Tim placed it on the mare.

That was a race that is talked of yet. A green driver, an old sulky and a farm horse. As soon as the mare got on to the track her actions betrayed the fact that it was a familiar scene to her, and her driver had the sense to let her take her own way in the stead of hauling her about. When the bunch got away at last he simply held his horse steady and prayed with all his might. She had "gone some" on the highway, but she seemed to be lifting now. She picked up horse after horse until she had the lead, and she came in winner by such a distance that the other horses were hooted off the track. Not a skip, not a break just a fast and steady pace, and a driver who was so scared that he had to be helped down from his seat.

The roll of money gathered in by the Widow Saunderson on her wagers and by the sale of the mare after the race was exactly the size of a fifteen cent tomato can. With the bundle in a pillowslip she called on the minister of her church a few days later and said:

"Parson, I know you have figured things up How much to paint the meeting house?"

"A hundred and fifty dollars," he replied.

"And how much for pew cushions?"

"A hundred"

"And for the red carpets in the aisles?"

"Fifty will do it."

"And can't we get an organ for $500?"

"We certainly can."

"And a bell?"

"Two hundred."

"And how much salary is due you?"

"Well ahem well, I don't like to say so, but the sum is about $200."

"Figure it up and count it out, parson," said the widow as she handed over the "tomato can"

"But, widow, I don't understand."

"Won it at the county fair the other day"

"Then I can't take it. It is tainted money"

"Parson, don't be an idiot! The men who paint the meeting house will swear The men who cast the bell will swear There'll be swearing over the cushions and carpets and organ. There'll be tainted money just as much as this money You want to swear over your back salary, and, by gum, I'll do some swearing if you don't take the money! There, now!"

And the parson took it.

A Feather In His Cap.

The origin of "a feather in his cap" is thus explained: In Hungary in 1599 it was decreed that only he who had killed a Turk should wear a feather, and he was permitted to add a fresh feather to his cap for each Turk whom he had slain.

Baseball.

PALMER TOWN LEAGUE.

Bondsville 2, Thorndike 0.

The Thorndike team was shut out on the church grounds in Thorndike Saturday by the Bondsville aggregation. The game was nip and tuck until the home team by foolish playing gave the visitors their only runs The game was rather slow at times and failed to enliven the audience until towards the end. Bennett, the new pitcher for Bondsville, was a hard proposition for the home team as he fanned something like 17 men. Manley pitched a fine game also Thorndike's weak spot was at short and third and their inability to find the ball Cahill, left field for the home team, played fine ball, accepting four chances The score:

Bondsville.	ab	h	po	a	e	Thorndike	ab	h	po	a	e
Fahey, 3.	4	1	1	2	0	Guthor, r, 2.	3	0	0	1	2
Fitz'k, r.	3	0	0	0	0	Keefe, m.	3	0	0	0	0
Belisle, l.	4	1	0	0	0	Holden, l.	3	0	3	2	0
Donovan, l.	4	0	0	1	0	Hurley, c.	3	1	7	2	0
Keyes, m.	4	0	0	0	0	Cahill, l.	3	0	4	0	0
Sullivan, c.	4	0	18	2	0	Doyle, 2, r.	3	1	2	4	0
Murray, s.	4	1	2	1	0	Daley, 3.	3	0	2	2	2
Fitzgerld, 2.	4	0	0	1	0	Chabot, s.	3	1	1	0	4
Bennett, p.	3	1	0	2	0	Manley, p.	3	0	2	2	0
Total,	34	4	27	9	0	Total,	27	3	27	13	9

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Bondsville,	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0—2

Runs, Donovan, Fitzgerald; sacrifice hit, Fitzgerald; stolen base, Manley; two-base hit, Murray; first base on balls, off Manley 2; left on bases, Bondsville 4, struck out, by Bennett 17, by Manley 4; double plays, Murray, Fitzgerald and Donovan, Manley and Holden, Doyle, Holden and Chabot; passed ball, Hurley Time, 1.45.

Three Rivers 6, Palmer 4.

T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e	Palmer,	ab	h	po	a	e
Graham, l.	3	2	9	0	0	Kennedy, c.	4	1	3	2	0
Whalen, c.	2	2	12	4	0	Provost, 2.	3	0	3	0	0
T. Cole, s.	5	0	0	0	2	Drexler, l.	4	0	5	0	0
Rogers, l.	3	0	0	0	0	St. John, r.	4	1	1	0	0
Justin, p.	4	0	3	3	0	Paul, p.	3	1	1	1	0
Lafave, cf.	4	2	1	0	0	Donnelly, s.	3	0	1	3	0
L. Cole, 3.	4	3	2	2	0	E. Brou'e, cf.	3	2	3	0	0
Fournier, 2.	4	2	3	2	0	Lawsch, 3b.	3	0	1	1	0
Barber, r, l.	4	1	0	0	0	E. Brou'e, l.	3	1	1	0	0
Total,	33	12	27	11	2	Total,	35	6	27	7	1

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Three Rivers,	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	3	0—6
Palmer,	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	0—4

Runs, Lafave 2, L. Cole 2, Fournier 2, Paul, St. John, E. Brouillette 2; sacrifice hits, Whalen 3, Kenney, Drexler; stolen bases, Graham 2, Rogers, L. Cole; two-base hits, Graham, Whalen, Fournier; home run, Fournier; first base on balls, off Paul 3, off Justin 1; left on bases, Three Rivers 7, Palmer 1; struck out, by Paul 9, by Justin 2; passed ball, Kenney. Time, 1h. 50m. Umpire, Martens.

DIED

In Bondsville, 10th, Ernest LaCrosse, 8.
In Monson, 11th, Charles F. Smith, 61.
In Monson, 18th, John J. Lynch.
In Ware, 11th, Mrs. Eugene Sullivan.
In Holyoke, 13th, John Kinnevan, formerly of Palmer.

MARRIED.

In Thorndike, 16th, by Rev. C. C. Gorst, Arthur Davies of Springfield and Lucy Talmadge of Thorndike.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

FOR SALE—A second-hand 4tob cook stove.
M. S. FRENCH, 30 Park St., Palmer.

FOR SALE—A second-hand wood furnace. Inquire of E. J. FULLER, P. O. Box 269, Thorndike. 2-1ks

WANTED—Girl for general housework. One who can go home nights pr ferred
MRS. O. W. MARCY, 15 Pine St., Palmer.

TO RENT—Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices.
3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card.
44-tf E GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs.
46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

FOR SALE—Surrey with two seats and canopy top, concord and light buggies, carriage pole and single harness. D F. HOLDEN, State Ave., Palmer. 19-tf

CARPET CLEANER A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

FOR SALE IN THREE RIVERS—A four-tenement house, nearly new, on Palmer road. Modern conveniences, cemented cellar, fine water, all in good condition. Also a house of four rooms and cellar, in good condition and a fine building lot in desirable location.
ANDREW KROOLIK, Three Rivers, Mass.

NOTICE—Pass Book No. 25,003 issued by the Palmer Savings Bank has been lost and an application by the owner for the issuance of a duplicate Pass Book has been filed with the Bank Any person finding Pass Book No. 25,003 is requested to return it to the PALMER SAVINGS BANK, Palmer, Mass.

A LARGE mercantile house requires the services of a special lady representative for this city and district to appoint agents and heads to the business in general. Suitable for a student or lady of average education. Salary $50 a month, expenses and commission. Apply by letter to E. W. HEBERT, 150 Bridge St., Springfield. 20-3

MONSON STATE HOSPITAL,
MONSON, MASS.
The Trustees of the Monson State Hospital will receive bids for the erection of an addition to the Laundry Building at Monson, Mass. Separate bids are asked for heating, plumbing, electric work, and general contract.
A certified check is required with each bid and a surety bond with each contract.
Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Kendall, Taylor & Co., 93 Federal street, Boston, Mass., and bids must be delivered at their office by twelve o'clock, noon, on the fifth day of September, 1911.
The Trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids
20-2 WILLIAM N. BULLARD, Chairman.

Boy Wanted

One about 16 years old, to feed press and make himself generally useful. Steady job. Apply at Journal Office.

The Advantages of Paying Your Bills by Check

You have a legal receipt

You have a record and can know just how you have spent your money.

Your money is safe.

Your money is kept in circulation and it enables other people to do more business than they otherwise could

We solicit your account, whether large or small, and guarantee all transactions to be absolutely confidential.

Palmer National Bank
L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Ruberoid Roofing

Just the thing for that new barn.

Cheapest
Most Durable
Easiest Applied

Thoroughly waterproof and suitable for all kinds of buildings.

Come in and let us tell you about it.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

The Fall Samples
for
Made-to-Measure Suits

Are now ready for your inspection.

Our 1500 Beautiful Samples to Select From.

Just take a look and be convinced I am telling you the truth.

C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5 Appointments made.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Low Mark Furniture Sale
Bath Room Fixtures 1-4 Off
The well-known "Brasscrafters" make. Every piece nickeled on copper and warranted not to tarnish.
Towel Rods were 55c, 60c, $1, $1.85. Now 40c, 45c, 75c, $1 40.
Soap Dishes were 50c, 75c, $1.10. Now 38c, 57c and 82c.
Sponge Trays were $1.75, $2.25, $2.65. Now $1 35, $1 70 and $1.98.
Brush Holders were 29c, 65c, 90c. Now 22c, 48c and 68c.
Extra Special Saturday Only — Parker Laundry Bag Sets. $1.69
Bath Room Medicine Cabinets
Have plate glass mirror doors and built of oak, finished golden or white enamel. Those $3 5, 5 50, 7, 13 50 Cabinets, Now $2.25, 3 75, 3.87, 5 25 and $10.
Flint & Brickett Co.
Opp. Court Square 439 Main St
Complete House Furnishers

Richardson & Boynton
Furnaces and Heaters
Are the most economical and perfect heaters. Try one.
E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

Beetles Cause of Trouble.

The report on the maple tree question has been received from Arthur T. Bourne, assistant entomologist at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, who examined specimens of wood and bark taken from different maple trees about town, which were apparently dead. He reported that the destruction was being caused by bark beetles, and that they worked entirely inside the tree; that there was no treatment, and that the only protection against them was cutting down the infected parts or trees and burning them so as to prevent the spreading to other trees. He stated that as a rule the beetles attack only trees that are not in the best of condition. This strengthens the theory advanced by many people who have taken interest and after examinations have discovered that not a tree is infected where the gas mains of the Worcester County Gas Company are not located. Tree Warden Charles Johnson took down two large maple trees on Lincoln street the past week and everything possible to prevent the spread of the beetle will be done.

Death of Charles F. Smith.

Charles F. Smith, 61, died last Friday afternoon at 3 30 o'clock at the home of Arthur Royce on Green street after an illness of three weeks with acute Bright's disease and heart trouble Mr. Smith is a native of Monson and had always resided here. He was born September 15, 1850 He was educated in the public schools of this town, and for a while was employed in the Merrick & Fay straw shop, but at his father's death succeeded him in his business as a harness maker, which he has always carried on successfully. Mr. Smith was a quiet, unassuming citizen with a retiring disposition, but was very widely known, and last spring was elected tax collector. He resigned this office three weeks ago on accont of illness. He was a member of the Monson lodge of Odd Fellows. He was never married and leaves no near relatives. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock, Rev. Abram Conklin officiating The Odd Fellows attended in a body. The burial was in No 1 cemetery.

Political Matters.

The first nomination papers for any candidate to be circulated under the new primary law have been out for Dr. J. S. McQuaid of this town as Democratic candidate for representative to the General Conrt from the 1st Hampden district. Dr. McQuaid was the candidate on the Democratic ticket last year and was defeated by only 200 votes.

William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston was in town yesterday afternoon, interviewing prominent Republicans, and informing them of his desire to be the Republican candidate for senator from the Worcester-Hampden district. It was understood that his candidacy was not indorsed by the local Republican town committee It is also understood that there are no known aspirants for either representative or senator on the Republican ticket. The only nomination papers thns far presented to the board of registrars for certification have been for members of the town committee and for delegates to the state convention.

Relocation of Street Objected To.

The work of relocating Mill street has been discontinued because of the objections of some of the abutters. The work had been started nnder the supervision of an engineer appointed by the county commissioners in order to get the proper boundaries, and a gravel sidewalk was to be constructed the entire length of the street for which money was appropriated at the annual meeting last spring. The final decree of the county commissioners has not yet been received, so it was considered advisable by the selectmen to await this in order that the sidewalk may be located on the permanent line. The county commissioners will probably not be heard from

New Concrete Walks.

The work on the co struction of concrete walks about town, for which the small sum of $300 was appropriated at the annnal town meeting this spring, will begin at once. J. W. Rochford of Springfield will do the work. He is at present putting in the walks around the new schoolhouse on Mechanic street. A strip of concrete 100 yards long will be laid on the west side of Pease avenue. The remainder of the appropriation will be expended in repairs.

Death of John J. Lynch.

John J. Lynch died at his home on Mechanic street this noon after a day's illness. He was working in the hay field yesterday and at noon was seen to fall to the ground. He was taken to his home and Dr. J S. McQuaid was summoned. It was found that he was suffering with congestion of the kidneys He steadily grew worse until his death this noon.

F. L. Bliss has returned from a trip to New London.

Mrs Emery Watson of Springfield is visiting local relatives.

Lonis Rogers is confined to his home on Reynolds avenue by illness

Mrs A. D Norcross of Main street has returned from a visit in Boston

Miss Lena Bryan of Bridge street is visiting relatives in New Britain, Ct.

Mrs. Lysander Nevins has returned from a vacation spent at Block Island.

Mrs S. F. Cushman of Main street has returned from a visit in Pittsfield

Mrs. N. A. Baghee of Pleasant street is visiting relatives in North Adams.

F. J. L. McQuaid of Springfield spent Sunday with his parents on Elm street.

H. A. Richards of Fountain street has returned from a business trip to Boston.

William Corish of Green street is spending a two-weeks' vacation at Block Island.

C. A. Bradway, cashier of the Monson Savings Bank, is taking his annual vacation.

Miss Maud Rees of Main street has returned from a visit with friends in Medford.

A. C Merritt, who has been visiting in town, has returned to his home in Springfield.

Rev. and Mrs Abram Conklin are spending a two-weeks' vacation at Southold, L. I.

H. N. Flynt, who is at Pleasant View Ct., for a vacation, is quite ill at that place.

Miss June Morris of Brockton is visiting at the home of G. L. Keeney on Pease avenue.

F. E. Severy, manager of W. F Flynt & Sons' store, is taking a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs G. L Fuller and Mrs M W Roberts have returned from a visit in New York city.

Nathaniel Jacobs of Pearl street has returned from a visit with relatives in New York city.

Miss Maud Rees of Main street has returned from a visit with relatives in Springfield.

Mrs. E. J. Lyons of Washington street has returned from a visit with relatives in Wwartown.

F. E. Coly of King avenue has returned from a vacation spent with friends in Pigeon Cove.

Miss Marion Tnokel of Granite street is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald in Albany, N. Y.

Norman Hughes of Springfield is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Edward Dalton on High street.

Miss Susie F. Burk of Montreal, P. Q., is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. R. Sheriffs on Cushman street.

Miss Hattie Giffin of Springfield is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N Giffin on Lincoln street.

Mrs. Bert F. Bliss of Pease avenue has returned from a visit with relatives in West Springfield.

Miss Mabel Davis, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned to her home in Hampden.

Harlan Frost of Minneapolis, Minn., is visiting at the home of Charles Aldrich on North Main street.

Mrs. Milo Hamilton of Ellington, Ct., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith on Lincoln street.

Mrs A. H. Wallace has returned from a vacation spent in Maine and from a visit with relatives in Boston.

Joseph Neill has resigned his position with the Somerset Woolen Co., and has returned to Rockville, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fenton of Main street have returned from an automobile trip along the Maine coast.

Hawley Keeney of Southbridge spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G L Keeney on Pease avenue.

Rev. Charles Ricketts of Norwich, Ct. will occupy the pulpit in the Congregational church Sunday morning.

E. D. Rees and children, who have been visiting relatives in town, have returned to their home in Springfield.

Miss E. R. Holmes and Miss Wingate have returned from an automobile trip along the New England coast.

The Summer Sewers will meet Monday afternoon at 3 30 o'clock with Miss Frances Brainerd on North Main street.

Mrs. H. C Norcross and children of Cushmau street have returned from a two-weeks' stay at Ocean Point, Me.

Mr and Mrs. Charles Whitney of Main street have returned from a several weeks' visit with relatives in Wareham.

Mrs. E. T. Heffernan of South Framingham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs John McKenna on Bridge street.

A. B. C. Deming Jr., a former cashier of the Monson national bank, called on local friends for a few days this week.

E. C Bradway and family of Hampden court have returned from a 10 days' vacation at New London and vicinity.

Miss Florence Gunther of Pease avenue and Miss Mary Dalton of North Monson are visiting friends in Westerly, R. I.

Barney Monte, a former resident, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned to his home in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Buffington, who have been visiting Monson relatives, have returned to their home in Springfield.

Rev. and Mrs Arthur Clements of Rochester, N. Y., are visiting at the home of W. H. Pease on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Honse of South Manchester, Ct., are visiting at the home of N. P. Hanley on South Main street.

Mrs Joseph Fahey and daughter of Oak street and Miss Mary Doltour of Pearl street are visiting relatives in Conway.

T. L. Cnshman and Misses Hattie, Kate and Margaret Cushman are spending a 10 days' vacation at Moosehead Lake, Maine

Miss Mary Murphy, chief operator in the local telephone exchange, is spending a two-weeks' vacation in Boston and Brockton.

Miss Agnes Dillon of Highland avenue has returned from a vacation spent in Hartford and New Haven, Ct, and New York.

Mrs. Benjamin Fessenden of Providence, R. I., has been the guest of Mrs. R. H Cushman on High street dnring the past week.

Children's day will be observed at the Silver Street chapel next Sunday, Rev. C B. McDuffie of Three Rivers occupying the pulpit.

Miss Florence Bugbee, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Bugbee on Pleasant street, has returned to North Adams.

Frederick F. Bugbee, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs N. A Bugbee on Pleasant street, has returned to his home in Watertown, N Y.

Miss Julia F Keenan of Springfield has been appointed teacher in the Silver Street district. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Miss Lillian Place

T. L. Cushman and Misses Hattie F., Kate and Margaret Cnshman have returned from a vacation spent at Bar Harbor and Moosehead Lake, Me.

Miss Ruth Hale, who for the past two months has been visiting at the home of R F. Bradway on Green street, has returned to her home in Meriden, Ct.

Mrs. Peter Bourgeois and daughter, who have been visiting at the home of Edward Madelle on Hampden avenne, have returned to their home in Swanton, Vt.

The United Workmen will hold a clambake at the Swedish club house at North Monson Saturday afternoon. J. P. McCarthy and Frank Shields will cater.

A. B. Norcross, clerk in Gage's store, has returned from a two-weeks' vacation spent at Ocean Point, Me. D B Needham of the same store is taking his annual vacation.

Mrs. A L Squier and sons, Donald, Roger and Leonard, who have been visiting Mrs. Mary A Squier on Green street, have returned to their home in Cambridge.

Charles J. Peterson of Harrison avenne has returned from the Springfield hospital, where he underwent an operation. It will be some time before he will be able to follow his usual employment.

There will be a bridge whist party at the Quaboag country club house next Wednesday evening. The committee in charge are Mr. and Mrs. F M. Fenton, Mr. and Mrs G. C. Flynt, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Jackson and Miss Cook

About 50 friends of Miss Lydia Converse surprised her at the home of Mr and Mrs Curtis Rounds on Pease avenue last evening. The surprise was in the form of a linen shower. A varied program was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Some malicious person disconnected a valve from one of the hydrants in the Catholic cemetery on Pearl street last Sunday. It required a wrench to disconnect the valve, which was taken away. The water was not shut off until the next day and considerable damage was done. If the miscreant who committed this act can be found he will be prosecnted.

Miss Ruth H. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnson of South Main street, who has been spending her vacation here, having recently resigned her position as city missionary at the Shawmnt Congregational church in Boston, leaves in two weeks for Vernal, Utah, where she has received an appointment as instructor of German in Wilcox Academy.

The work on the construction of a gravel sidewalk on Stewart avenne has been started. The road on the top of the hill in front of the residence of J. S Stewart is being lowered about two feet, and the gravel taken ont is being used to fill in the sidewalk. The town engine has been removed from the rear of Memorial Hall, where it has been stored since last winter, to the gravel bank on Pearl street to be nsed in the sidewalk work.

The work on the construction of the sewer to carry off the surface water on the east side of Main street from a point in front of the residence of Dr. E W. Capen to the new Norcross block, which was being done under the supervision of Street Superintendent S M Stebbins, has had to be suspended for lack of funds, the money appropriated, $150, being entirely used before the proposed addition was half completed The sewer ends at a point in front of the bank block There has been much criticism of late because the selectmen have been overrunning some of the appropriations and because of this the selectmen have decided not to exceed the appropriation. Business men and residents in this vicinity regret that the sewer cannot be completed as the part now finished will do no good where it is needed most. It will be necessary to wait until another town meeting to appropriate more money to complete the work.

WHAT THE GUEST SHOULD BE

Cheerful, Adaptable Man or Woman Will Leave Happy Memory Behind on Leaving.

With the advent of summer comes the beginning of the period when the distinction and the pleasure of being a guest comes to a great many men and women. With the ready assimilation of the American people we have taken that exotic phrase, the week-end, to our common usage. And whether we are invited to go sailing in a hundred-dollar cathoat, roughing it literally in a shanty called a bungalow, of enjoying the luxuries of a rich friend's country estate, we are all week-ending with the same catholicity of spirit that we show in the national habit of carrying suit cases. Hospitality has two faces—those of the host and the guest. And the most difficult one to present with an attractive mien is that of the latter estate Cheerfulness is the most desirable characteristic of the ideal guest and second to this comes a readiness of spirit to enter any plan for the day or the night's pleasure. The adaptable man or woman is the one dearest to a host's heart; and you may pluck the reward of your entertainer's gratitude by your readiness to wash dishes as by your tolerance of a dub player at tennis or bridge in more luxurious surroundings. We all of us pay our way through the world through other mediums than that of the currency of the realm. None does this more certainly than the guest who leaves a happy memory behind him.—Philadelphia Press.

NOVELTY IN LETTER WRITING

How the Ignorant Factory Girl Managed to Accept an Offer of Marriage.

One Englishwoman relates rather a pretty story about a factory girl's way of answering a marriage proposal made to her. Of course it happened long, long ago.

The young woman could not write or read writing, and one day, says the lady, she brought a letter to me to read it to her. It contained an offer in marriage.

I happened to know that the writer was a deserving young artisan, so I said to her, "Now, you must consider this matter very seriously, and if you like to come to me when you have made up your mind, I will write a reply for you."

A day or two afterward I met the girl again, and asked her if she wanted me to answer the letter for her.

"O, that is all right," said the girl, looking radiant and pleased. "I've settled it; I answered it myself."

"Why, how did you do it?" I asked.

And then she told me that she could make a capital "I," and that she stuck on the paper a piece of wool after it for "wull"—"I wool."

Surely one of the quaintest acceptances of an offer in marriage ever penned.

Most of Them Do.

"Talk about consistency! There's Jorkins who maintains a man should use the same principles of conduct in public and private life. I asked him if he approved of the 'rule of reason' principle, and he said yes."

"Well?"

"Then I asked him if he lived under the rule of reason in his home, and he had to say no—under boss rule."

Plenty of Material.

"There are many delightful dishes to be made from left-over food."

"That's nice," responded the young bride "There's a great deal of food left over since I began doing the cooking."

A Subtle Beauty.

"Young Halloran seems to have a great admiration for your daughter, Mrs. McCarthy."

"Sure; 'twas the same wid me when I was a gerri, miss. Ah, many's the brave young heart was broke by my face."—Punch.

LIFE PERIODS AND CLOTHES

How a Man's Tastes in Raiment Differ From Youth to Careless Old Age.

It is interesting to follow a man in the matter of his raiment. There are established periods in his life wherein his tastes differ, and his ways differ, and from start to finish the matter is one of considerable interest.

When he is under age and at college, his taste runs riot in the matter of clothing. Weird checks, fearful plaids, remarkable cuts of balloon-like pants and box-like coats appeal to him. The matter of a quarter inch in length of a coat concerns him greatly, and he begins to have his pants pressed with four creases in them, pointing to the north, south, east and west.

When he goes to work he carries some of this wonderful raiment with him. It is a link that connects him with glad college days. But the link wears out, and be is busy, and presently you see him in wholly different attire He is neat enough, but his weird taste has changed.

He now goes in for business suits and is painfully exact in his dress for the evening.

But as he gets along in business he ceases to have his clothing pressed. He marries and his wife keeps after bim to put on a clean collar. He has long ceased to wear shoes for looks and has his shoes made to order because he likes 'em to be 4 17-18 inches wide at the toe in order to obtain comfort. He has them shined whenever any event comes along and finally leap upon him. They call him slouch a fam- when he gets a new suit it individually matter in which the se, and his views of the family combinways that own are lost. For it's as will be.—way, and probably always Galveston News.

Unconventionalities.

"If I were you, Mrs. Jollicks, I wouldn't smile so often. You show too much of your gums."

"Mrs. Gunderby, you ought to wash your children's faces occasionally; Billy's nose needs attention right now."

"I'm asking you for your daughter, Mr. Singletree, because that's the customary thing to do; we're going to marry anyway."

"Your talking doesn't disturb me a bit, Mr. Feathertop; I'm paying no attention to it."

"Yes, Georgo, I admire your new automobile very much. I wish some other man was taking me out in it."

Taking No More Chances.

"I don't like to boast," boasted George Gardner, "but we had only one really rotten show at the opera house this season. And to show you that I hate to talk about successes, I'll tell about the failure."

"It was certainly awful. I never knew, though, how bad it was till one of our chronic deadheads sat out one act of it and then came out and demanded that his name be scratched off the free list."

WHY HE LAID IN A SUPPLY.

Cy Haytop—Waal, I reckon I'd better get a dozen pair of them suspenders, ez they'll want some fer them new fangled dresses at home.

A Musician's View.

"Remember, said the business man, "that time is money."

"Yes," replied the discouraged composer, "but nowadays, in order to represent any money worth mentioning, it has to be ragtime."

So Busy.

"We have one of the hardest working typewriters in the world."

"Why do you think so?"

"Sometimes she pounds her machine for half an hour at a stretch without stopping to adjust her back hair."

Try It.

The way is long,
The weather's hot,
But a little song
Will cheer a lot.

Cold Comfort.

"The Interstate Commerce Commission did not come to the decision which the railroads held to be the most proper and appropriate."

"What was that?"

"A freeze-out for the iceman."

Contrary, but Judicious.

"What is Smarton's standing on this question?"

"Where he can get in the running."

Nick Didn't Deserve It.

In a little triangle space on Connecticut avenue, in Washington, there is a handsome statue of the poet Longfellow. A young society girl of the city was riding past it in an automobile with a friend soon after it had been unveiled.

"Why, what statue is that?" she asked.

"Longfellow's," replied the older woman.

"Oh, I don't see what they wanted to put a statue of him there for," objected the girl. "All he ever did was to marry Roosevelt's daughter."

A Polite Acknowledgment.

After a "command" performance in Queen Victoria's time it was the custom for her majesty's secretary to send a letter of thanks to the responsible manager. Sir Henry Ponso by, upon whom this duty devolved, was the soul of politeness and, not wishing to make any invidious distinction, drew up one form of letter. On the whole this plan worked well, but on one occasion the proprictor of a troupe of performing geese, which had entertained the royal children at a Windsor garden party, received the following communication from Sir Henry: "Sir—I am instructed hy the queen to thank you for your visit of yesterday, and to express the hope that the ladies and gentlemen of your company arrived safely in London and in good health!"

Curious Neighbors Foiled.

A wealthy New York society woman has recently become very much interested in city missionary work. In her district is a poo. but respectable family named Moriarty, living on the top floor rear of a tenement house in a congested east side street.

Every time she has visited the Moriartys she has been much annoyed by the staring and whispering of the other occupants of the building. The other day she spoke to Mrs. Moriarty about it.

"Your neighbors seem very curious to know who and what I am," she remarked.

"They do so," acquiesced Mrs. Moriarty.

"Do they ask you about it?"

"Indade they do, ma'am."

"And do you tell them?"

"Faith, thin an' O! do not. O! jist soy you're me dressmaker, an' let it go at thot."—Metropolitan Magazine.

JUST A LITTLE SMILE

When Accidents Surely Happen.

Applicant—I understand you offer insurance for all sorts of queer purposes?

The Manager—Why, yes, we endeavor to cover most of the reasonable chances.

The Applicant—Well, then, I'd like to have you insure me against getting my name in the papers when I'm out joy riding with a bunch of chorus girls and an accident happens!

CALLED HER DOWN.

Mr. Naggitt—You are very inconsistent. You insist upon having the most expensive dishes, and yet——

Mrs. Naggitt—And yet, what?

Mr Naggitt—You use so much talk. Don't you know that talk is cheap?

At Her Worst.

"Did you ever see the young woman you are going to marry in the morning when she wasn't dressed for company?" asked the inquisitive married man

"No; but I've seen her at their summer cottage, and I'm sure she never could look worse than that," was the reply.

The Unexpected.

"Some one! Here's a story of a New York messenger boy who found a certified check for $5,000 and got a dollar reward for returning it! What do you think of that for contemptible smallness?"

"I think the dollar was worth a good deal more to the boy than the check."

A Prophecy.

"Dick was out in his machine with Madge and got very sentimental. Madge told me she was never so mad in all her life."

"Why?"

"Because he told her he felt he was nearing the turning point in his life, and just as she was expecting a proposal, the machine turned turtle"

The Easier Way.

First Burglar—Stung!

Second Burglar—This job was cleared up on the inside.

First Burglar—We'll have to start a bank ourselves, old pal. The thing is done differently now.

A Concomitant.

"Is a sham battle always followed by a festive celebration?"

"I don't know. Why do you ask?"

"Because where there is a sham battle, there ought in the fitness of things to be some sham pain."

Hurt by War Relics.

While in Chattanooga a few weeks ago a local man noticed an old colored man who carried his right arm in a sling

"What is the matter, uncle?" he asked. "Is your arm broken?"

"No, sah," answered the old man. "It's jest gun sore."

"Been hunting?"

"No, sah. Ah been shootin' trees."

"Oh, I see; target practice."

"No sah."

"Then you'll have to elucidate."

"Well, sah, it's like dis," the old man explained. "We goes out into de woods an' shoots bullets into de trees After a while de trees grows around de bullets a little, then we cuts dem down to sell to people fum de norf as relics ob de battle ob Lookout mountain."

Already Accomplished.

A patient had called upon Dr. Rice and asked for a diagnosis of his ailment. Dr. Rice began his part by demanding $10 of the patient. Then he proceeded with the examination. After submitting the patient to the usual tests, he said: "I don't like to alarm you unnecessarily, but I find that you are in a bad way. While I do not abandon hope of being able to help you, I deem it proper to advise you to settle your financial affairs." To which the patient replied: "Doc, you did that when you took the $10."

To Stop Bleeding at the Nose.

Introduce by means of a probe a small piece of lint or soft cotton, previously dipped into some mild styptic, as a solution of alum, white vitriol, creosote, or even cold water. This will generally prove successful, but if it should fail, cold water may be snuffed up the nostrils. If these remedies fail, and if the bleeding be very profuse, medical advice should be obtained.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

The Great August Sale of Floor Coverings Commences This Week

With Values That Will Not Be Matched For Months to Come

In preparation for this great sale we have secured many lots of high-grade floor coverings—the productions of the foremost mills in America—at unusually favorable prices, all of which we offer in the August Sale at equally big discounts from regular prices.

9 x 12 Velvet Rugs, $16.95

Velvet Rugs in 9 x 12 feet room size, in a variety of choice colorings, mostly in Oriental designs. Also a lot of Saxony Axminster Rugs, size 9 x 12 feet Very exceptiona values—in the August Sale at $16.95

6x9 Royal Wilton Rugs, $18.95

High-grade Royal Wilton Rugs, 6 x 9 feet size, in excellent colorings and patterns Values that usually sell from $24.50 to $32.50, offered in the August Sale, special at $18.95

Other Unusual Offerings in Room Size Rugs

Three Representative Values from the August Sale

Wilton Rugs in 9x12 feet size—a wide assortment of new and beautiful Oriental patterns and dainty drawing room effects. All new and perfect rugs usually sold at $38.50, August Sale Price, $29.75

9x12 Feet Tapestry Rugs, including every pattern in our stock, values which sell regularly at $17.50, we offer in the August Sale, at $11.98

Axminster Rugs in 6x9 feet size—a special lot of Smith and Sanford Axminster Rugs in good designs and colorings. Regular $14 values, August Sale Price, $9.95

34 Floor

French Bath Mats

$1.98 and $2.48

A Lot of Fine Imported French Bath Mats in a variety of attractive designs and colorings, splendid qualities and very durable.

Size 27 x 55 inches, values sold regularly at $3.50, August Sale Price, $2.48

Size 24 x 40 inches, values sold regularly at $2.75, August Sale Price, $1.98

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.

Not Boycotted.

Labellor—Have you seen the walking delegate's bride?

Carder—Yes

Labellor—Is she pretty?

Carder—No! Even he'd have to admit she's in the unfair list.—Puck.

Honey in Woman's Hat.

An abandoned peach basket hat was left at a farmhouse at Kingston, N. Y., by a summer boarder a year ago, which the farmer's children mounted on a fence post and quite forgot. When they came upon it in the course of their romps the other day they tried to take it down. A swarm of wild bees was found in it, and the farmer has 12 pounds of honey to sell. Almost any humorist can find material in this.

A Moving Land.

One of the broad slopes of Mont Gringuez, France, is reported to have become detached from its foundations, and to have moved over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, carrying with it the soil, meadows and woods, and covering up in its passage roads and bridges that stood in the way. A chestnut grove has traveled 500 feet without suffering any apparent damage, but many small lakes have been formed by the damming of the waters. —Scientific American.

Effect of Mind on Matter.

Heavy thoughts bring on physical maladies; when the soul is oppressed so is the body. When cares, heavy cogitations, sorrows and passions supernhound they weaken the body, which, without the soul, is dead, or like a horse without a driver. But when the heart is at rest and quiet, then it takes care of the body and gives it what pertains thereunto Therefore we ought to abandon and resist anxious thoughts by all possible means.—Luther's Table Talk.

Inquisitive Tommy.

An infirm old gentleman was visiting Tommy's family, and Tommy unfortunately had heard mention of one of the guest's peculiarities. Planting himself directly in front of his unhappy elder he sweetly inquired: "Which is your glass eye, Mr Blankton? The one that moves, or the one that stands still?"

Wonderful Memory.

"There seems something more speakingly incomprehensible in the powers, the failures, the inequalities of memory, than in any other of our intelligences. The memory is sometimes so retentive, so serviceable, so obedient; at others, so bewildered and so weak; and at others again, so tyrannic, so beyond control."—Jane Austen.

Leaving a Piano Open.

It is best to close the piano as soon as you have finished playing, both on account of the dust and the variations of the atmosphere. The keyboard should be kept scrupulously clean. Alcohol or diluted ammonia may be used for this purpose with advantage.

Test of Eligibility.

Man's right to vote does not rest on respectability or intelligence, but on the very fact that he has been wearing a pair of pants for twenty-one years, and, in all probability, eating or burning up a ton of cheap tobacco.

Welsh Rabbit Recipe.

"You are a great success with a chafing dish," said the admiring guest "Tell us how you manage it?" "It's very simple," replied Mr. Cosslots. "You take everything your wife has set out on the table for you and put it into the chafing dish. Then you light the alcohol lamp underneath and with a large spoon stir the mixture vigorously until your wife tells you to stop."

Stair Carpet.

Did you ever watch with despair the carpet on your stairs wearing out on the step edges? Then you will want to know that next time you must buy a yard more than you really need and turn it under at each end when you are laying it. Then, as it grows worn, it can be slipped either up or down, and thus the wear will be equalized.

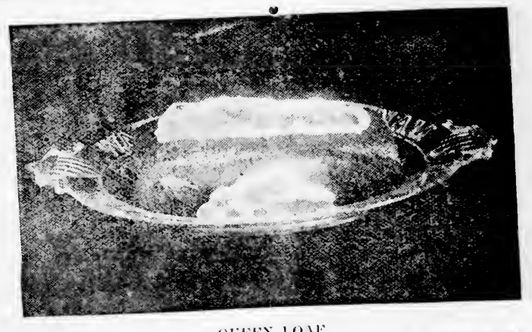
Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

Closing out all Odds and Ends of Summer Stock at Very Low Prices to make room for fall and winter goods

P. O. Block, M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.

UP ONE FLIGHT.

Your Attention



Is called to our large assortment of

Ginghams and Percales

Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

QUEEN LOAF

This is a dessert quickly prepared if there happens to be a loaf of sponge or cream cake and a cup of cream in the house. The loaf should have been baked in a brick or round pan. With a sharp knife cut through the crust an inch from the edge and remove the crust and layer it and fill the cake. thick shell of cake. Beat the cream, sweeten and flavor it and fill the cake.

Thick cream sometimes turns to butter if not diluted with one-quarter milk; it is also much more delicate with this addition. Beating cream with an egg beater gives a different texture from whipping it with a whip churn, which is the best way to prepare it for charlotte russe or various fancy creams.

A light cake, suitable for a cream filling as described, is made from the following rule: Beat two eggs, yolks and whites together, and turn into a cup; fill the cup with sweet cream. Add one cup of fine granulated sugar and one and one-half cups of flour in which three level teaspoons of baking powder have been sifted, also a teaspoon of lemon flavoring.

Beating a cake means strokes across the bowl, while stirring means a stroke round the dish. Ingredients of a cake should be stirred at first to blend them, and then the mixture should be beaten to make it light and the stirring motion should not be resumed.

ALICE E. WHITAKER.

A Trace of Egotism.

"My constituents never fail to accord me continuous applause," remarked Senator Sorghum, hopefully

"Yes," replied Farmer Corntassel "A lot o' folks out our way would rather hear themselves cheer than listen to another man talk."

Quite a Different Thing.

Said the lovely girl: "Physical culture, pa, is perfectly fine. To develop the arms, I grasp this rod by one end and move it slowly from right to left."

"Well, well!" exclaimed her father. "What won't science discover? If the rod had some broomcorn on the other end of it you'd be sweeping."—Christian Register

By a Unanimous Vote.

The rejected suitor arose and looked for his hat.

"If you will not marry me," he said, "let us, at least, be friends."

The fair girl shook her head.

"No," she coldly replied, "I am opposed to both annexation and reciprocity."

Whereupon he went away much humbled.—Life.

No Time Wasted.

"By the time an industrious fly gets through setting up the secgars in honor of his first born," notes the Topeka Capital, "more than 900 little flies are calling him "grandpa."

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY.

Add This Fact To Your Store of Knowledge.

Kidney disease advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slighest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back-headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the urine is offensive, irregular and attended with pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Thousands recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement below.

Oliver Gervais, 59 W. Main street, Ware, Mass., says: "I am only too pleased to verify the testimonial I gave in 1908, telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I had pains through my back and loins and the secretions from my kidneys not only passed too frequently, but contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills soon made me well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE

LAWN PARTY A SUCCESS.

St. Mary's Parish Will Clear About $750 From the Two Evenings.

The fourth annual lawn party and festival of St. Mary's parish closed Friday after a most successful run of two nights. The attendance Friday evening was very large and included many from out of town, including a large number of Fr. Griffin's former parishioners, who came in special electrics from Holyoke. The grounds were prettily decorated for the event with Chinese lanterns and incandescent lights and together with prettily trimmed booths made a very pleasing appearance. There was a large arch over the entrance to the grounds, trimmed with red, white and blue bunting and various colored lights. The booths where fancy articles, candy and punch were on sale, did a good business as did also the soda, ice cream and cake tables. The games along the midway attracted many and were liberally patronized. The pie-eating contest between Masters Austin, Lapane and Topor afforded much amusement for the crowd. The tug-of-war contest between a Holyoke team and a consolidated team representing three villages of Palmer, resulted in a tie. Miss May Moynahan of Three Rivers won the contest for the most popular yonng lady. The first prize in the baby show, a silver cup, was awarded to Miss Dora Hebert of Three Rivers; second prize to Miss Wallace of Thorndike, the weightiest baby, silver napkin ring. In the contest for the gold watch to be awarded to the most popular baseball manager in the Palmer Town League Michael Sullivan of Three Rivers was first. The contest between boys and girls for one-half barrel of candy was won by Masters Brosnan and Dailey. All the children were given their portion of the one-half barrel however. Wilder's orchestra of Palmer discorsed music during both evenings. The following awards were also made: Gold charm and cigar cutter, Patrick H. Stokes, Thorndike; box cigars, Mrs. G. H. Clark of Elm street, Holyoke; canary birds, John F. Lynch, Thorndike; meerschaum pipe, Mrs N. Driscoll, Sargent street, Holyoke; briar pipe, John T Shea, Springfield; one-half ton coal, Mrs. Patrick Kane, Maple street, Holyoke; automobile, Frank Duffy Jr., Palmer; centerpiece, A. Caproni, Holyoke; gas range, Mrs P. H. McKelligott, Thorndike; pin cushion, Rev. P. J Griffin; ladies' hat, Edward Ducy; watch for selling largest number of tickets, John F Lnmau Jr; John Dailey and James Brosnan, candy contest. The affair was a grand success financially and otherwise, about $730 being cleared.

Talmadge—Davies.

A quiet home wedding took place Wednesday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Talmadge of Main street, when their daughter, Lucy, was united in marriage to Arthur Davies of Springfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles C. Gorst, pastor of the First Congregational church. The double ring service was used. The house was prettily trimmed with goldenrod by friends of the bride. Light refreshments were served. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Davies will be at home to their friends at 480 Union street, Springfield.

Celebrated 93d Birthday.

Mrs. Martha J. Moores celebrated on Monday her 93d birthday anniversary. Many friends and neighbors, besides relatives from out of town, were in attendance and helped make the occasion a very pleasant one. Mrs Moores, despite her advanced age, is enjoying good health.

Frank Foster has gone to work for Ducy & Keir.

Miss Nellie Coffay leaves this week for a stay at Revere Beach.

Mrs. Jason Miller is in New York city visiting her daughter, Miss Ethel Miller

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Gorst returned Saturday from their vacation in Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Keir are entertaining friends at their home on Commercial street.

Mrs. A. P. Adams is enjoying a vacation at the home of her sister in Ashland, N. H

Miss Alice Bengle and two Gilbertville friends were guests of her parents the past week.

Miss Mamie Baskey of Lynn is the guest of her sister, Mrs Stevens, for a few weeks.

Miss Madeline Lyons of New Haven is guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. C. Healey and family.

John Moran and nephew of Springfield were guests of William Moran and sisters Sunday.

Master Harold Bemis of Greenfield is visiting his aunt near Forest Lake for a few days

Miss Josie Dryden of Pine avenne has been entertaining friends from Monson the past week.

Miss Julia Stokes of Hartford, Ct., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Dulliban and family.

Miss Brosnan of Ware has been the guest of Miss Nellie Sullivan of High street this week.

Miss Nellie Fleming of the Steiger store, Springfield, is at her home for a two-weeks' vacation.

Miss Bessie Bradley of Waterbury, N Y, is visiting at the home of James Creaw on Church street.

Martin Stokes moved his household goods Tuesday to Palmer, where he will live in the future.

John Shea of Northampton, formerly a resident of Thorndike, visited old acquaintances here Sunday.

Miss Flossie Morse of Springfield has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Katherine Foster, the past week

John Elliston and daughter Mabel of Woonsocket, R I, visited friends here Tuesday for a short while.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B C. Deming Jr. of Hopkinton were guests of his sister, Mrs. Charles F. Mooers, this week.

Thomas Coogan of Indian Orchard passed Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs J. J Kelley of High street.

Mr and Mrs. Charles A. Tabor and children are enjoying a vacation ont of town and will be absent some time.

Misses Clara and Frances Sullivan of Ware were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Loftus and family the past week.

James Holden of the Warren telephone office is spending a vacation in town at the home of his mother, Mrs Annie Holden.

St. Mary's ball team will play the Outlaw Athletic Association team of Ware on the church grounds to-morrow afternoon.

St Joseph's parochial school building on Commercial street is being newly painted. T. Panlin of Three Rivers is doing the work.

Miss Clara and Clarence Webber of Easthampton have been guests of Mr. and Mrs E F McKelligatt and family the past week.

Tuesday being the Feast of the Assumption masses were celebrated at St Mary's church by the pastor, Rev P. J. Griffin, at 5 30 and 7 30.

The foundation is nearly completed for the store and residence of Joseph Patravicz on the corner of School and Main streets.

Miss Catherine Haggerty of Springfield has been spending several days in town as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sugrne of Harvey avenne.

Rev. Thomas S. Donoghue, pastor of St. John's church, Worcester, formerly of St. Mary's, was the gnest of Rev. P. J. Griffin Wednesday.

Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan and daughter, Mrs. Shea and niece of Hartford, Ct., were gnests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brosnan and family this week.

Mrs. Michael Donoghue and the Misses Donoghue of Holyoke have been passing a few days this week in town as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Miss Marguerite Moriarty of Holyoke has been visiting for a few days the past week at the home of Mrs. K. T. Lottas and family on Commercial street.

Misses Katherine, Mary and Nellie Fleming and their nephew, Master Francis Ruche of Palmer left yesterday for a two-weeks' vacation at Revere Beach.

Miss Annie Riley of Ware and the Misses Theresa and Annie Qninlan of Worcester were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs John Dunn of Main street.

John Gebo left this week for a two-weeks' vacation, part of which will be passed in Colerain, his home town, where an old home celebration is being held.

Miss Gertrude Hodge and Miss Louise Record have returned to their home in Monson after passing a few days as gnests of Mrs. Katherine Dryden of Pine avenne.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ciskorzy died on Thnrsday. The funeral was on Satnrday morning, with burial in St. Ann's cemetery, Three Rivers.

Mrs. James Clark and daughters, Mabel and Alice, James Jr., Mrs. James Campbell and son, Kenerd, and John C. Campbell will leave to-morrow for a stay at Pleasure Beach.

Several from this place attended the funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs Michael Dailey, which was brought here for burial in St Thomas' cemetery from Pittsfield on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts and sons of Manchester, N. H., who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Roberts' mother, left Monday for a stay at the Boston beaches, after which they will return home.

L. H. Brigham, who has managed the coal and grain business of the Thorndike Grain Co. for nearly two years, is soon to leave for Worcester where he is to go into business on Lincoln street on his own account.

Miss Katherine Casey, one of Thorndike's well known young ladies, is to open a millinery establishment in the Shiel building on Commercial street. Miss Casey is at present in New York making purchases for the fall trade.

THREE RIVERS.

Floyd Graham has taken a position in the Palmer Mill.

Mrs. M. K. Chamberlain and family spent Friday at Mt. Tom.

Mrs. Charles Ruggles is spending a few weeks at South Weymouth.

Mrs. Henry Graves of Bondsville called on friends in this place Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Odell of Charles street has moved her family to Bondsville.

Miss Nellie Conroy of Springfield spent Sunday at her home on Athol street.

Irving Allen of Worcester spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, J E. Allen.

Mrs. N A Fenton left last week for a few weeks' stay at Ocean Park, Maine.

Mrs. A J Cleland has returned from a visit with relatives in Barrington, R I

Herbert Pepler of Wauregan, Ct., is visiting friends in this place this week.

R. L. Thayer spent Wednesday out of town attending the funeral of a relative.

Herbert Pepler is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cole.

Miss Mary Hawn of Norwich, Ct., was the guest of friends in this place this week

Mrs. James Anderson and daughter Marion left Thursday for Winthrop Beach

Mrs. F. A Upham spent Tuesday and Wednesday visiting relatives in Belchertown.

Misses Snsie and Katherine Twiss have returned from a vacation spent at Winthrop Beach.

Charles Lamy and two daughters left Saturday evening for an extended trip to Canada.

D E. Tenney, a former resident of this place, is seriously ill at his home in Wilbraham.

S. H. Dupine and family of East Main street spent Snnday with friends in Indian Orchard.

George Barber of Worcester, a former resident, visited relatives in this place Monday.

Irving Allen of Worcester spent Sunday at the home of his father, J. E. Allen of Maple street.

Miss Ella Tangley of Worcester spent Satnrday at the home of Mr. and Mrs Cornelius Sugrne.

Work on the addition to Samuel Winer's dry goods store on East Main street is progressing rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley B. Provost have returned after a stay of several weeks with relatives in Vermont.

The Misses Paine of Blackstone, R. I., are visiting this week at the home of their aunt, Mrs T. D Frame

Mrs Lewis Calkins of Baptist Hill went to the Springfield hospital last week, where she is receiving treatment.

Miss Hattie Landry, who received a broken arm recently, is improving and has returned to her home in Northampton.

Mrs. Irving Mills and daughter of Belchertown have returned to their home after a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs James Anderson.

William Ruse, who has been qnite ill for some time, was taken to the Wesson hospital in Springfield last week, where he is receiving treatment.

The Union church Snnday school has decided to hold a picnic at Forest Lake Wednesday, Aug. 30 Special cars will leave here at 10 o'clock.

T. Murphy of Southbridge began his dnties as fireman in the boiler-room of the Palmer Mill Monday. He will move his family to this place in the near fntnre.

Mr and Mrs. Landry and four children of Northampton have returned to their home after a three-weeks' visit at the home of William Prairie on Springfield street.

The moving pictnre program at the Pastime for this evening will be: "A robnst patient," "Cast up the deep," "The atonement," "The bowling fiend," "Blue horse mine;" Saturday evening, "A cowboy's innocence," "So near but not quite," "Max is almost married," "An Englishman's honor," "The widow's choice" Singer will be Samnel Cole.

BONDSVILLE.

Death of Ernest LaCrosse.

Ernest LaCrosse, eight years of age, died Thnrsday evening, August 10 of acnte indigestion. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs Emeline LaCrosse, and was born and had always lived in this village. He was sick bnt a few days, bnt endured much snffering. He leaves, besides his parents, two brothers, Oliver and Frank The funeral was held Satnrday, bnrial being in the cemetery at Three Rivers.

T. D Potter is at Siasconsit, Nantucket, for a vacation.

Lois Childs and her brother of Worcester are gnests of Mrs. Fred Collis this week.

Charles Fanteux is spending his week's vacation in Boston.

Miss Nellie O'Connor is spending her vacation at Lynn Beach.

John Quirk of Ware spent Saturday with relatives in this village.

Miss Nora McBride of Ware was a guest at Arthur Gloster's Friday.

John T. Heys of Chicopee Falls spent Sunday with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Gordon are spending their vacation at Gloucester.

Misses Bernadette and Anna Shea are visiting relatives in Chicopee.

William Albro is spending the week with relatives in Hartford, Ct.

George Ragett of Athol spent Saturday with his sister, Mrs. Harry Randall.

Miss Helen Fosket of Enfield was a guest Friday of Miss Alice Banister.

Misses Julia and Bridget Shea of Chicopee are visiting relatives in this village.

W. H. Upham went Monday to Oak Bluffs to spend his vacation of two weeks.

Miss Vertine Marsan went Saturday to West Newton, where she is a gnest of relatives.

Charles Billings of Greenfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings.

Arthur Hague has returned from a two-months' vacation spent at his old home in England

Miss Margaret Sullivan of Holyoke is a gnest of Misses Mary and Margaret Moriarty.

Mrs. Ida Messier of Holyoke spent Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Adolphus Giromard.

Scott Merrifield of Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Rowland McFarlane.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jancks of South Amherst spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs. Charles Collis.

Miss Irene Marsan, who was a guest of her sister in Springfield last week, has returned home.

Patrick Bowler of Northampton was a guest of his family Friday at Mrs. Margaret Donovan's.

Mrs. Irene Bassett of Barre was a guest Tuesday and Wednesday of her consin, Mrs. O A. Parent.

Mrs. Samnel Parent of Framinghani came Thursday to her consin's, Mrs. O. A. Parent, for a visit.

Mrs John Quirk, son Daniel and daughter Miss Nellie of Ware were gnests of relatives here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Springfield were gnests over Snnday of Mr. a d Mrs. Harry Randall

Mrs Andrew Cordner of Longmeadow is a gnest this week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bond

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summers of Springfield are gnests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mansfield.

Mrs. Archibald Sterling and son, who have been gnests of relatives in West Warren, have retnrned.

Dr. A. E Ingraham of Waltham is visiting his cousin, Mrs. Julia McKendrick and Miss Nettie McKendrick.

Mrs. John Begley and her son of Holyoke were gnests of their sister, Mrs. Michael Collins, Friday.

Mr and Mrs. John F Monaghan of Springfield were gnests of Miss Nellie E. Monaghan over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D Holden and sons were gnests of Mr and Mrs. George Bray Sunday in Stafford, Ct.

Thomas Waterhouse and Adalard Marsan took an automobile trip to West Newton Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glaccnm of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent a few days this week with her mother, Mrs. Michael Fenton.

The stores will close next week Thursday to allow the clerks the privilege of attending the excursion to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs Allen Hall and daughter Viola of New York city are gnests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Tuesday was observed as a holy day at St Bartholom-w's church. The masses held at 5 and 7 30 were largely attended.

Mrs George Gunn and three children went Monday to Stratford-Bow Lake, Vt., to spend their vacation of several weeks.

Miss Kitty Clancy and Miss Helen Gowen, who have been gnests of Mrs. Mary Fanteux, returned home Thursday.

Joseph Lagenza finished work Saturday for C D. Holden in his grocery store, and has gone to his new home in New Britain, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs James Garvey and niece of Springfield came Sunday to the home of Mrs. Garvey's mother, Mrs Patrick Landers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan returned Monday from their vacation spent in Greenwich with Mrs. Arthur Ward at her bungalow.

Jo n McVickar, who has been spending the past two weeks with his brother, W. H. McVickar, has returned to his home in Valleyfield.

Miss Mary Griffin of Thompsonville is visiting her cousins, the Misses Esther and Lenore Shea. She is the niece of Father Griffin of Thorndike.

Michael McCarty and son Frank, who have been gnests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Collins, returned Saturday to their home in Washington, D C.

Mr and Mrs. Emerson Loy and daughter Eileen, who have been spending two weeks at Chebeague Island, Maine, returned home Monday.

Mrs Frank Files and two children, who have been spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Hanscom, has returned to her home in New York city.

Owing to the absence of the pastor, services in the Methodist church will be omitted for the next two Sundays. Sunday school will also be omitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banister and children, Miss Alice and Leslie, attended the 50th anniversary of their parents, Mr and Mrs. Albert Banister in West Brookfield Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs John Robinson and daughters, Misses Florence and Jessie of Barre, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A M. Billings, who also entertained their niece, Miss Edith McGregor of Germantown, Pa., and son, Charlie Billings of Greenfield.

The lawn party of St. Bartholomew's parish opened Wednesday evening and was largely attended. The lawn of Rev. Thomas Kennedy was decorated with many electric lights, bunting and Japanese lanterns The several booths were decorated Sam's Slick's country store at which everything imaginable was on sale was well patronized The fish pond, home made candy booth and ice cream booth, also did a good business Several articles of value have been given by friends of the society and the prizes of the winners will be announced later. The music by the mandolin club of Springfield was much enjoyed as was also the singing of Mr O'Donnell of Springfield

True Philosopher.

"Well, sir, lightnin' sot his house afire, a airthquake swallowed half his land, an' then the river riz an' overflowed the whole business!"

"Well, what's he a-doin' of now?"

"Thankin' the Lord that he kin swim!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

The Mascot of Sweet Briar Gulch

By HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

[Continued from last week.]

CHAPTER V.

ON the second day after Ches' arrival Bnd had come through with the mail and before leaving drew Jim aside out of the boy's hearing.

"The little feller's yours ug'in all comers now, Jim," he said.

"What's that?" asked Jim, surprised by the meaning in the tone.

"He's yours," repeated Bnd. "That sweet scented blossom that called him-self the boy's dad filled his skin with red eye farther up the line and settled the fuss he had with his dame."

"Hurt her?"

"Man," said Bnd slowly, "he nsed a knife a foot long; gave it to her a dozen times as hard as he could drive What's your opinlou?"

"Great Caesar! Did he get away? Bnt no; of course he couldn't, being on the train."

"He didn't get away. The con. wired the news to Kimballs. What was he to do when a small army of nunchers boarded the train and took the prisonv? He couldn't do nothing, and he never loved that black muzzled whelp from the time he sassed him in the depot. The nunchers took our friend out and tried him."

"Tried him?"

"With a rope. In three minutes by the watch he was found wanting. Your boy now, Jim, ns I was telling you. Going to say anything to hlu abont it?"

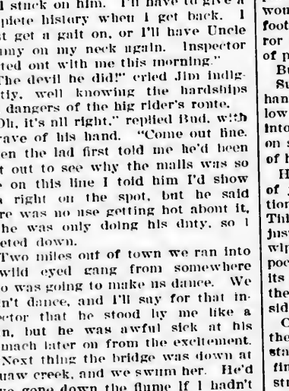
"Why," said Jim, bewildered—"why, I don't know, Bnd. Guess not just yet on general principles."

"Great little papoose, ain't he?" said Bud, turning in his saddle before his starting rush. "Makings of a man there, all right. The boys in town are dead stuck on him. I'll have to give a complete history when I get back. I must get a gait on, or I'll have Uncle Sammy on my neck again. Inspector started out with me this morning."

"The devil he did!" cried Jim indignantly, well knowing the hardships and dangers of the big rider's route.

"Oh, it's all right," replied Bnd, with a wave of his hand. "Come out fine. When the lad first told me he'd been sent out to see why the mails was so late on this line I told him I'd show him right on the spot, bnt he said there was no use getting hot about it, as he was only doing his dnty, so I qnieted down.

"Two miles out of town we ran into a wild eyed gang from somewhere who was going to make us dance. We didn't dance, and I'll say for that inspector that he stood by me like a man, but he was awful sick at his stomach later on from the excitement.



"Next thing the bridge was down at Squaw creek, and we swam her. He'd have gone down the flume if I hadn't got hold of his bridle. 'Nice mail route, this,' says he as he got ashore. 'Oh, yon'd like it,' says I. 'If you got nsed to it.' I'd begun to wonder what was next myself. Ain't many people swimming Squaw creek, ns you perhaps know.

"Well, next was abont ten mile along, just before you come to the old Elu Cup camp. We was passing the bluff there, and all of a sudden—rip, thump, biff!—down comes what looked like the whole side a-top of us. It weren't, though. It was only a cinnamon had lost his balance, leaning over loo far to see what we was. That bear landed right agin brother inspector's horse, and brother inspector's horse tried to climb a tree. Inspector himself fell a-top of the bear. I dassent shoot, for the devil himself couldn't have told which was inspector and which bear. Finally bear shakes himself loose and telescopes himself up the canyon the worst scared ani mile in the country. 'If yon'll ketch my horse I'll amble back again,' says the inspector. 'I've investigated this route pretty thorongh and find it's just as you say. Lampposts 'll do me all right for awhile.' Come out fine, didn't it?

"Whish there! Untie yourself, you faller bone heap!" And the mail was a quarter of a mile up the trail.

Jim pondered the information concerning Ches carefully, only to adhere to his original determination. He could not see any way in which the boy would be benefited by hearing the news. Still, the miner hated anything that savored of concealment or deception

"I wish Anne was here to help me," he thought. "She'd know what to do." He sat long, looking down, his hands clasped about his knees, drinking with old Tantalus. But the reverie ended.

"GREAT LITTLE PAPOOSE, AIN'T HE?" SAID BUD.

as it always did, in action. There was nothing for it but the claim. Success there meant success everywhere.

It was the knowledge that Anne, the boy and all he wished to do for both depended on the pay streak which had urged him to such a fury of effort.

His carelessness of his own life that led him to slap his timbering up any way was born of that same fury. And the consequences came, like most consequences, without a moment's warning.

It was a still and beautiful noon Ches had pulled out the last car before dinner and started for the cabin.

A curious groaning and snapping from the tunnel halted him. It was the giving of the tortured timbers. On the heels of that came a dull, crushing roar. A blast of dust shot from the tunnel mouth, like smoke from a cannon, preceded by a shock that nearly threw the boy off his feet.

Then all was still again. The sun shone as brilliantly as before, blazing down upon the ghastly face of a little boy, who after one heartbroken cry of "Jim! Oh, Jim's killed!" sank down upon the ground, chewing the finger thrust in his mouth that the pain might make the black wave keep its distance.

For Ches knew that he was alone; that there was no human being within miles to help the man caught in the hand of that mischance but himself, so frantically willing, but so impotent.

"I must git me wits tergedder. I unist." And down came the teeth with all the strength of the boy's jaw. "Oh, what will I do? What will I do?" The little head waved from side to side in its agony, and a sudden sob struck him in the throat.

After that one small weakness rose Ches Felton, hero. To the mouth of the tunnel he went. Above the tumbled pile of dirt and timber ran a sort of passage between it and the roof—a way along which a boy might crawl and find out if all the frames were down, to which the silence of the tunnel gave a bitter assent, or if by some most lucky chance one or two had held and Jim be safe within.

Ches climbed to the top and thrust his head into the gloom. "Jim," he called, "Jim!" No answer.

Before him lay the ruin of his partner's work. It was over this that his path lay, as deadly dangerous a path as could be found. The slightest disturbing of the roof above might bring down a thousand tons of dirt upon the one who ventured slowly and hideously to crush his life out there in the dark, beyond sight and sound of the cheerful world without. With this knowledge before him and his inborn fear of the dark hole, as daunting as the hand of death itself, he took his soul in his gripe and wormed his way within.

Once the sharp end of a broken piece of lagging caught in his clothes, and he could go neither forward nor back. There for a second he broke down. Bracing up again, he managed somehow to get the old knife out of his pocket and cut himself free.

He could see little.

A gray spectral light filtered in here and there that defined nothing, even when his eyes grew accustomed to the darkness.

It was an endless journey. In places where the dirt closed in he would be a full minute progressing a foot and a minute of such mortal terror as seldom falls to the lot of man of peace or soldier

But it ended.

Suddenly the boy's outstretched hand encountered only emptiness below. That frame had held. He dove into the space head first and landed on something soft and warm, the body of his partner

He had found him. In a paroxysm of joy he flung himself upon the motionless figure and cried his heart out. This, too, he soon conquered. Jim had just so much show. Any delay might wipe it out. He searched the man's pockets until he found a match By its light he saw the candle stuck into the post and lit it. Then he knelt beside his partner again.

Ches realized what had happened the instant before the calamity Jim, startled by the noise of the yielding timbers, had made a rush only to be struck down by the rock, that now lay within an inch of him, yet struck into safety for all that. Had he gone a yard farther the life would have been smashed out of him instantly.

But now what? The flowing blood sent a sickening chill through the boy. Had he done this much only to be able to see his partner die? He drove his teeth into his hand again at the thought. What was that? Was it a trick of the tunnel, his heart sounding in his own ears or a rhythmic beat from outside? Hollow and dull fell that "clatter-clum-clatter-clum."

"Bnd!" screamed Ches "Thank God, dat's Bud!"

After half a dozen efforts he climbed the dirt pile and went back through the treacherous holes. The rider came so fast! "Oh," groaned the boy, "I'll never make it! Bud'll think we're off somewheres an' pull on. Bud, Bud!" he called at the top of his lungs, but the tunnel swallowed the little voice.

Desperation made him entirely reckless. It was any way to get out before the mail man was beyond call. Glairy with sweat, he pulled, tugged, squirmed and wriggled along until a dirty, small bundle rolled down almost under the mail rider's feet.

"Whom!" shonted Bud, with an astonished oath. "What's the—why, boy, what's the matter? Dash it, how you scart me!"

"Der tunnel's fell in, Bud. Jim's in dere where der frame's held. He's livin' yet, but he's got a tur'ble cut in his head."

"How far back?" he asked.

"Three frames was held. Dere was seven, ten foot apart. How much is dat?"

"Forty feet—ten foot apart! No wonder! Oh, Jim! How could you have been so careless?"

The boy's shoulders shook once. "He worked like er horse. Now it's all gone, an' he's in dere." The face contorted out of all humanity, but he held the tears back.

Bud leaped from his horse. "Never you mind, Chessy, lad," he cried, hugging up the little figure. "We'll get him out of that. Could we haul him out the way you went?"

"No; dere ain't room, and if you touch dat roof hard"— he shuddered.

Bud sucked in his breath. "If you weren't the sandy little man to try it!" he said. He stood a moment in silence going over it all.

"Ches," he said, "there ain't any time to lose. If Jim's cut like that he may bleed to death in there when we could save him all right if we had him outside

"There's a party of miners down the road eight mile. They was having their grub as I went by. Chances are they'll be there yet. They've got four men and a team I could ride back, but I ought to be here working. Do you think you could stick on old Buck and ride there?"

Ches caught his hand. "I kin make it, Bud," he pleaded. "I cuddent do nothin if I stayed here, an' you could do a heap. Put me up and let me try."

"All right," said Bud. "The good Lord kept you from getting hurt in the tunnel. Perhaps he'll see you through again. Shut your eyes and hold on tight when you strike the high places and don't touch a rein. Leave it all to old Buck."

He stepped forward and caught the horse by the bit.

"Buck," he said, as though talking to a human being, "you and me have been through a heap together. Don't fall down on me now. Take the kid safe, old boy." He caught Ches up and threw him across the saddle. "You'll only have to tell 'em what's happened. The Lord send nothing happens to you Goodby, you brave little devil. We'll win out yet. Go it, Buck!"

CHAPTER VI.

AND while one of Jim's friends plied pick and shovel like a mad man the other was swaying on top of a galloping horse, gripping the pommel of the saddle with all the strength he had and shutting his eyes when he came to the high places

Captain Hanrahan's party were miners of substance. They were working their way out to a new country to suit their inclinations. It had just been suggested that it was perhaps time to hit the trail again when the captain saw a figure on a horse flying athwart the mountain side.

"Hnh, said the captain, "that man's drunk or crazy."

"Holy sufferin'," gasped the man next him as the yellow horse slipped on a turn and sent a shower of gravel a thousand feet below, "that was a near touch!" as the horse caught himself and swept on.

"Looks to me like a case of trouble, cap," said a third speaker. "That ain't no man anyhow. It's only a boy."

"Horse running away with him probably. His folks ought to be clubbed for letting him out on such an animal. Well, spread out, boys, and we'll catch him."

But Buck stopped in two jumps at Ches command of "Whoa!"

"Fr'en's," cried the boy, "me partner's caught in a tunnel dat caved in on him Kin yer help us out? Three mile nhove Jones hill."

He had not finished the sentence before two men sprang for the horses The rest grabbed picks and shovels and hurled them into the wagon.

"We'll be there, a-whoopting," said Captain Hanrahan.

"Tanks," replied Ches weakly, and then the world went out. The captain caught him as he fell

"Poor little cuss! He rid hard to help his pardner," said the captain. "Humph yourselves, boys! All ready! Got the whisky, Pete? Picks enough? Stick the axes where they won't jump loose and cut a leg off some of us. Tie the horse behind Good animal, that. All right, let 'em go"

They went over stones and gulleys, the tools clanging and banging lit to leap from the wagon, the men clinging to the sideboards for dear life; down hillsides like the slant of a roof, the horses keeping out of the way of the wagon; up the other side with the reeking animals straining every fiber; over bridges that bent fearfully beneath the shock of their onset; swaying around curves with the wheels slewing and sparks flying and over the level as though the devil himself were behind them.

It was the record trip for eight miles in a wagon in that country. The driver stood up, a foot braced on either side, the reins thrown loose, the whip plied hard and every urging that voice could give shrieked out by his powerful lungs.

It was like the rush of a fire engine plus twice the speed and twenty times the danger. Above the pounding of hoofs, the din of rattling metal, the crash, smash and roar of the wheels and the yells of the driver could be heard the man Pete, ex-cowpuncher, cheerfully singing:

"Roll your tails, and roll 'em high.
We'll all be angels by and by."

Braced in the back corner sat Captain Hanrahan, his leg keeping some of the tools from going overboard, holding Ches in his arms.

"Curse it all, Billy," he screamed to the driver, "miss some of them bumps, will you? I've got on a new pair of pants."

"I'll take 'em clean off you the next time, cap!" retorted the driver.

They joked, which may seem heartless, but they risked their necks a hundred times, and that isn't very heartless.

"That's the place, I reckon, cap," said the driver, pointing. "Somebody working there now."

"Give 'em a hoot," replied the captain.

Bud stepped out and held up his hand in answer to the yell. The wave of thanksgiving at the sight of this most efficient help took all the stiffness out of the knees of the mail rider. The tears rolled down his face unnoticed.

"You're welcome, boys," he cried as the driver sawed the frenzied team to a standstill and the men sprang out.

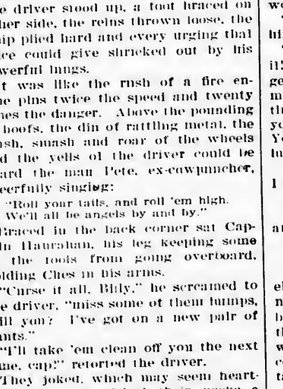
"Reckon we are," said the captain. "Now, what's up?"

"Is the boy hurt? He ain't hurt himself, has he?"

"Naw. Pore little cuss is used up, that's all. He'll be around all right in a minute. Now, tell me what's loose."

Bud answered briefly, but completely.

"Pete and Billy, get to cutting wood. The rest of you come here," commanded the captain.



"You ain't going to stop to timber, are you?" asked Bnd in an agony of haste.

"I sure nin," replied the captain. "All this trouble's come of carelessness Now, you just keep your clothes on and let me run this thing.

"We'll have your friend out in no time, and there won't be no more men stuck in there with a hill n-top of 'em in the doing of it. What you've done there is a help all right, but it might easy have meant that we'd had two men instead of one to hunt for."

"You're dead right," said Bud "Tell me what I'm to do."

The captain took hold as only a man can who has the genius for it. He knew by long practice what size of a relief tunnel meant real speed of progress—the least dirt to be removed to make it possible that meg child work to advantage And his tunnel, safely rough celled, went in at the rate of a foot a minute.

CAPTAIN HANRAHAN

When at last they pulled the insensible man out into the light of day and found that while his wound, though severe and if neglected mortal, was not likely to be dangerous with good attention, the captain said that he must be getting about his business. "You'll only have to tell 'em what's he comes to," remonstrated Bnd "He'd like to have a chance to say "Thank you. "

"Bugs" replied the captain. "You tell him he owes us a drink and as a particular favor to me please not to put his trames over four foot apart in that ground"

"Well, boys, I can thank you, and I'm going to," said Bnd. "That man is my friend, and if you hadn't come as you did"—

"Say, let go," interrupted the captain. "You'd have done the same thing if you'd been us, wouldn't you?"

"Yes," admitted Bnd reluctantly.

"And you wouldn't want to be thanked for it a white chip more'n we do," concluded the captain "If there's any thanks coming it is to that little two foot chunk of man yonder. Smaking over that fall was a thing to put a crimp in anybody. You was bound to help your pardner, wasn't you, son?"

The boy looked up into the captain's eagle face. "I'd er got to Jim," he answered simply, "if I had ter chew me way in like a rat."

The captain stepped back and looked at him.

"By thunder," he said slowly, "I believe you would!" A change came over the thin, arrogant face. He stooped suddenly, raised the boy and kissed him. "Now, get out o this!" he roared at the driver as he leaped into the wagon.

"Pretty good folks when you're in trouble, ain't they, Ches?" said Bud.

"What 'nd we have done if dey hadn't come? Ain't it 'most time Jim was moving, Bud?"

"I'll give him another spoonful of whisky, but you can't expect him to start right up and hop around. He got an awful crack, boy."

For all that as the dose of strong liquor went down Jim's throat he opened his eyes.

"Hello, Bud! Hello, Ches!" he said wonderingly. "Have I been asleep? Why, what the devil's the matter with my head?" He raised his hand to the spruce gum bandage "Phew, but I feel weak!" he sighed as his hand dropped. "Something's happened What is it?"

There, with a friend on each side holding a hand, they told him the story. It was a sacred reunion.

The gratitude of the man saved and the protestations of the others that they would have done all they did a thousand times again would only seem childish in repetition. They cried, too, which is excusable in a child, but not in two big men Men don't cry. It is the monopoly of women Nevertheless Bud and Jim and Ches cried and swore and shook hands and cried again until it was a pitiful thing to see.

"Well," said Bnd at last, "this makes you feel better, but it won't get the work done. I've got to go out and fix old Buck and get in some firewood."

"Oh, I'll do that!" cried Jim, raising himself on his elbow.

"You!" jeered Bud "You look like it! Now, you lie right down there and get well. That's your play. It would make as feel as if we'd wasted our time if we had to turn to and bury you after all the trouble we've had. You're good for two weeks in that bunk, old horse."

"Two weeks! I can't Bud; I can't! I must get up before that!"

"You lie down there Hear me?"

"Bnt I'll have to see to things around You can't stay"

"I stay right here till you're well."

"But the mail?"

"The devil take the mail or anybody else that wants the job. Uncle Sammy won't hop on to my collar button because of the fine sendoff my friend the Inspector 'll give And somebody will get orry eyed up in town and come down to find what's loose. He'll take the bags then. It's all settled."

"But there are other things"—

"Let 'em rest. Now I'm off to do the chores. Oh, say, speaking of mail, here's a letter for you. I forgot all about in the excitement. Here you go. Come along, Ches, and help me carry wood."

The miner looked at the letter in his hand, and a tinge of blood crept into his white cheeks, then ebbed, leaving them whiter than before

Suppose there were other men who wanted her, men with money, learning, wit and influence! Was this bitterest of blows to fall upon him when he was already down? He looked at his hands, green from loss of blood. "I tried," he muttered; "I tried"

Still the very touch of the paper seemed to have something warm and heartening in it. It was from her, anyhow. With sudden strength he tore it open and read:

Dearest, Dearest Jim—I yield the whole case. You are right.

It is to my shame that clear sightedness came from no source within me, but from a brave example set.

My little cousin married the man she loved last week, and of course Miss Anne was a high functionary

Oh, what a stirring there was in me, Jim, watching them and thinking of you! They will be as poor as church mice, but they do not care, and theirs is the wise economy

Life is too short to waste, Jim. I see it now I put it all in your hands, dearest. If you cannot come to me I shall come to you

I believe I'm only lukewarm by habit, not by nature.

I wish I could tell you how sorry I am for the time I have squandered

I'll show you. That will be better.

Any time or any place and no conditions now, Jim. That's all, my dear, brave lover Good night!

Your own, ANNE.

He was sitting bolt upright. Once more he devoured the letter. Then he sank back and closed his eyes.

"Thank you, my darling. I can rest now," he said.

The golden sunset light played in riotous joyousness on the cabin walls; the little creek laughed out loud; so did Ches and Bud approaching the cabin. It was a beautiful and happy world

THE END.

Forgot to Remember.

Mamma—Why, Tommy, you did not bring back anything from the drug store.

"I know, mawmsy. The man said he didn't have what you sent for, and I told him as plain as ever I could that you said queen-anne pills and a vial of pneumonia."

That Would Do.

"If you want to find out who is boss here start something."

"All right. I see your clock isn't going."—New York Press.

THE "NIGGER TEACHER"

By WALTER B. HENDRICKS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Were you here when the war broke out?" I asked a citizen of Alabama during a visit to that state in 1868.

"Waal, yes, I reckon: war hyar about that time."

"Do you remember Cyrus Vandeveer

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 25, 1911. NUMBER 21.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room
(On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid.
Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50 and $1.00 at Druggists

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.
LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8 44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9 55 a. m., 1 25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.
LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9 40 a. m and 2 45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations The 4 45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5 20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments that it is a household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair,
Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Your Attention
Is called to our large assortment of
Ginghams and Percales
Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.

Hellyar's Bargain Store
Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Low-mark Furniture Sale
$22.00 Velvet Rugs, 9 x 12 feet
THIS WEEK ONLY, $18.70 each
Every Rug perfect, and woven in one piece, conventional and medallion designs. Price holds good while lot lasts. If sold out duplicate orders taken at regular price only. Early buyers get first choice.

One-Piece Tapestry Rugs
8 3 x 10 6 size in a variety of patterns. Never less than $13.50 . . . . $11.50

Reversible Shirvan Rugs
9 x 10-12 ft. size, two rugs in one, as they can be used on both sides $9.75
Tapestry Rugs 27 x 54, each . . $1.35

Flint & Brickett Co.,
Opp. Court Square, 439 Main St., Springfield, Mass.
Agents for the Crawford, Stewart and Sterling Ranges.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.

SATURDAY BARGAINS
Have Become a Popular Feature of the Kinsman Store.
This week our special bargains for Saturday are more numerous than ever Each department offers unusual opportunities for savings and there are many extra attractions for the day.
LOOK FOR THE SPECIAL TICKETS

Hand Painted Japanese China
There are still many beauties left in our collection of pretty Japanese China Ware. Among them there are beautifully decorated Fruit and Berry Bowls, Cake Plates, Syrup Pitchers, sets consisting of Sugar Bowls and Creamers, Vases, Sauce Dishes and many other beautiful and useful dishes.
Special 29c each

$1.25 Pretty House Dresses 75c
Handsome Lawn House Dresses, made in the latest style, some buttoned in back, others in front, in all good colors. Values $1.25.
Saturday Special 75c each

39c Handsome Hamburg Embroideries 10c yd.
Hamburg Edgings, Bandings, Insertions and Beadings in a great variety of patterns in all widths up to 12 inches, some of them short lengths. Regular values up to 39c.
Special . . . . 10c yard

$1 25 Leather Wrist Bags 98c
Genuine Leather Bags, with gilt or gunmetal frame, leather lined and fitted with neat purse.
Value $1 25 . . 98c each

59c, 75c Waists 39c each
White Batiste and pretty colored Lawn Waists, nicely trimmed with lace and embroideries, in many styles. Values 59c and 75c.
Saturday Special 39c each

$1.25 Parasols 69c
Parasols in all styles and colors, some plain, some with fancy borders, some embroidered, strong frames and boxwood handles.
Special 69c

39c, 50c Ribbon 25c yd.
Moiré Ribbon in Plain Dresden and Persian effects, 5 to 7 inches in width, suitable for sashes, fancy work and millinery purposes. Value 39c and 50c yard.
Saturday Special 25c yard

UNDERPRICE BASEMENT
Offers rare savings on Sheets, Pillowcases, Towels, Crashes, Ginghams, Percales, etc. Every item underpriced.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

"You can get anything at Johnson's"
A pleased customer made this remark upon finding an odd-shaped little frame that she had greatly wanted. We certainly try to keep about everything in pictures, books, cameras, games, stationery, office supplies, etc. Three broad, pleasant floors. Come often.
Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

For Sale.
My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.
Louis E. Chandler.

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE
Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

E. P. Henderson and Company,
Auctioneers and Appraisers.
19 Park Street, Palmer, Mass.
Will attend to selling real estate and personal property in any city or town on reasonable terms. Prompt settlements made. Licensed since 1873. Auction means cash. Book your property with us at once.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Edison Phonographs and Records
2 and 4 minute.
50c Cloth Bound Novels
Always in stock.
Eastman Kodaks and Supplies

Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

"Are You the Man"

This refers to the one who sometimes makes life miserable at home during July and August. He wonders why life drags so, and why he does not get rich rapidly, little thinking he does not give himself a square deal. If he would rest at the seashore two or three weeks every summer, happiness, health and wealth would follow his footsteps. If you do not believe this, watch the fellows who go there. For the best place to go, or if your income seems too small, write Jas. Jay Smith Co., 50 State St., New London, Ct.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Lydia W. Record, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by Lewis S. Record of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the sixth day of September, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles L. Long, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

20-3 E. M. LAPHAM, Assistant Register.

TEACHING FORCE COMPLETE.

School Committee Fills Vacancies Tuesday Night.

TWO TUTORS IN COMMERCIAL COURSE.

Experienced Instructors in Other Positions Wilbraham Pupils May Come Here.

The school committee held a meeting Tuesday evening and filled the vacancies in the corps of teachers. Believing that the commercial department of the high school is a most important one, and that it is of little value unless it can "deliver the goods," the committee has searched far and wide for teachers of reputation for this department, which will have about 40 pupils this year and which it is believed is destined to have an increasing number every year. The principal will be Rufus W. Clement of Derry, N. H., who comes to Palmer from East Providence, R. I., where he has had a large class; he is a graduate of Pinkerton Academy, after which he attended Steinman University in Illinois for two years; he then attended a business school two years and then taught two years in a business school in Nashua, N. H., going from there to East Providence. His assistant will be Miss Grace A. McGrath of Dorchester, a graduate of the Dorchester high school, then taking a special course in commercial teaching; she has been since 1905 in charge of the commercial course in the Georgetown high school, and since 1908 has also been in the bookkeeping department in Down's shorthand school in Haverhill.

New teaches were appointed as follows: Miss Clara A. Holmes of Chester to the fifth and sixth grades in Three Rivers; Miss Holmes is a graduate of Framingham Normal School and has taught one year in Monson. Miss Susan M. Ballon of Keene, N. H., to the fifth grade in Palmer; she has had an experience of seven years in Keene, after graduating from Fitchburg normal. Miss Margaret Bradley of Holyoke, Westfield Normal, 1911, to the Palmer grammar, unassigned. Miss Hazel C Owen of Westfield, with an experience of one year in Hatfield to the Forest Lake district. Miss Annie O'Connor was transferred from the eighth grade in Palmer to the principalship of the Three Rivers building. Miss Anna D McAuliffe of Worcester was reappointed supervisor of manual training and drawing, the committee feeling, in view of the capability shown by Miss McAuliffe during the small portion of the year she was in Palmer, they have in her an exceptionally good teacher. Miss Joanna V. Cantwell of Monson was reappointed supervisor of music; the coming year will be Miss Cantwell's fourteenth consecutive year of service.

Robert J. Wilder was appointed to take the school census. The town of Wilbraham having applied to the Palmer school committee for terms on which it could send its pupils to the Palmer high school, the matter was left with Superintendent Hobson, who will consider whether there is room for them here, how many wish to attend, etc. New floors have been laid in the Wire Mill building, and new desks installed there and at Forest Lake. General repairs have also been made in the majority of the school buildings.

Mr. Holbrook Will Run.

Republican Candidate For Representative in First Hampden District.

The candidate for the Republican nomination in the First Hampden representative district—comprising the towns of Palmer, Monson, Brimfield, Wales and Holland—will be Henry W Holbrook of Palmer, who has served the district the past year. Mr Holbrook has been undecided whether or not to seek further honors along this line, and it was not until the first of the week that he expressed a willingness to again be a candidate. He has felt that if any other man wished to run, or if the district committee had in mind any other man whom they thought would be a stronger candidate, he was perfectly willing to step one side. On the other hand a canvass of the district disclosed a unanimous feeling that Mr. Holbrook was the logical candidate this year. It has been the custom in this district to give a representative a second term if he so desired, and it was considered by all that Mr. Holbrook was entitled to another election, there being no suggestion of any other name In view of these conditions Mr. Holbrook early this week announced his candidacy and nomination papers for him are being circulated.

HOLLAND.

Rev. Mr. Lovering has been spending a part of the week in Carlisle.

WILBRAHAM.

Will Rebuild Church.

At a parish meeting of the First Congregational church last week Thursday evening, it was voted to rebuild the church edifice which was struck by lightning and burned July 5th. It was voted at a church meeting held recently to accept the invitation of the Methodist church to use their church for services

Harland Green has returned from a week spent in Vermont

Myron L Bruner has returned from a short stay at Old Orchard, Me.

Wesley J Stevens has been visiting his aunt, Mrs A E Mace in Attleboro.

O E Johnson and J A Johnson and Mr. and Mrs James Crowe and daughter of Springfield are at Hinsdale Farm.

Miss Marjorie Bolles has been visiting Miss Margaret Holden in Swampscott.

Mr and Mrs. Benjamin Gill of State College, Pa., who have been spending the summer in Belchertown, have gone to Boston for a visit with friends.

AUTO BUMPS CARRIAGE.

Woman Badly Hurt at Wilbraham Tuesday Afternoon.

HAS FRACTURE AT BASE OF SKULL.

Outcome is Doubtful. Carriage Struck From Behind. Different Stories Of Affair.

Mrs. W. H. Furlong, 71, of Wilbraham was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon as the result of being thrown from a carriage that had been struck by an automobile owned by Edward A. Deeds of Dayton, O., second vice president of the National Cash Register company. The accident occurred on the road from Wilbraham to Sixteen Acres.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Furlong were thrown heavily to the ground, but former escaped uninjured, while Mrs. Furlong sustained a fracture at the base of the skull, the fracture of several ribs on the left side and bruises all over her body. She was taken in the automobile to the office of Dr. H. G. Webber in Wilbraham, and then to the Springfield hospital.

Mr. Deeds stopped at the police station in Springfield, where he gave his version of the affair and then returned to the scene of the accident to get his family, whom he left while he took the injured woman to the hospital. Mr. Furlong stated that he was driving from his home to the farm which he owns in Sixteen Acres. He heard the toot of an automobile horn behind him just before he reached the brick schoolhouse on the Wilbraham road and pulled off to the right of the road. The automobile, however, struck the left rear wheel and stripped it from the carriage, tipping the occupants out. Mrs. Furlong, who was sitting on the left side, received the full force of the collision and fall.

In the automobile, besides Mr. Deeds, were his wife, little daughter and nurse and chauffeur. One of the party stated that the driver of the horse pulled to the left first to allow the automobile apparently to go by on the right hand side. The driver headed his car in that direction, but Mr. Furlong then pulled his horse across the road to let the car go by on the left hand side, and there was not room for the automobile to change its course and get by clear on that side.

Mr. Furlong is a retired furrier and the couple have been residents of Wilbraham for some time, going there from Chicago.

TWO MORE LIQUOR RAIDS.

Water Street Places Paid a Surprise Visit Sunday.

PLENTY OF THE STUFF IN EVIDENCE.

Intended Christening Story Falls to Convince, and $75 Fines Imposed and Paid.

Police Officer Crimmins, Deputy Sheriffs Bills and Northrop, with Special Officer Babcock, paid a surprise Sunday call on Lawrence Denno and Pellecrino Babato, both residents of Water street, in a search for contraband liquid goods That the visit was all that it was intended to be—a surprise—was proved by the results, for various kinds of liquid refreshments were found, including beer, whisky and wine.

The cases came up in the district court Wednesday morning. Denno's case was tried first, and he claimed that the stuff found in his cellar had been provided for a christening and was "private stock," in no way intended for sale. On the other hand, there were plenty of witnesses who testified that they bought stuff there frequently, as often as they desired it—beer was only five cents a bottle there—and their evidence convinced Judge Kenefick that the christening story was a "fairy tale." He accordingly found Denno guilty and imposed a fine of $75 for illegal keeping, continuing the case for keeping a common nuisance until January 1 Babato had pleaded not guilty, with Denno, but when his case was called he concluded that it wasn't worth while to put up a fight, withdrew his former plea and pleaded guilty. Similar sentences were imposed, and both fines were paid.

Old Home Day in Holland.

Old home day was observed in Holland yesterday, when about 150 people, including a number of former residents, assembled in the town grove, which was presented to the town by Alfred Lyon in 1792. People were present from Boston, Worcester, Southbridge, Stafford and Union, Ct., Springfield, Amherst, Sturbridge, Wales, Brimfield, Palmer and Mount Vernon, N. Y. Letters of regret were received from Mrs. H. Wales Lyons of Meriden, Ct., the daughter of a former pastor of the Baptist church, and from the children of William F. Wallace, a former resident. The program of the day included sports for boys and girls and an address by Rev. Martin Lovering. A basket picnic was enjoyed.

CONTUMACIOUS AUTOISTS.

Isnist on Inconveniencing State Highway Builders.

AND ACQUIRE TROUBLE THEMSELVES.

Workmen Defied and Sworn At. Complaints to State Commission, Offenders Penalized.

Superintendent Bodfish, in charge of the repairs of the state highway in Wilbraham, where a new surface is being put on, is having all kinds of trouble with autoists who insist on driving over the road in spite of warnings that it is closed Bars have been put up at either end, stating plainly that the road is closed and pointing autoists the direction to take in order to get around the break. Notwithstanding these there are drivers who either cannot read or who will not believe that the signs mean anything, who drive through or around the obstructions, and if they can get past in no other way they get out and remove the barriers.

Once inside they appear to think they are all right, and proceed at will. If they are signalled to stop some of them pay no attention but keep along their way; others stop but positively refuse to turn back when ordered The officials in charge have been obliged to stand all sorts of abuse and listen to the vilest language in their efforts to make some of the autoists understand what was required. In addition, the insistence of drivers has several times caused the second going over of a piece of road which had been all smoothed and prepared for the finishing touches.

Matters finally became so obnoxious that the numbers of several cars whose owners or drivers had become particularly disagreeable were taken and reported to the State Highway Commission, and a hearing was held in Boston Wednesday on the complaints Only two were heard. In one case the driver of the car made it plain that he had misunderstood the situation and had no intent to go where he was not wanted, and was let go with a sharp reprimand. The other did not appear in such favorable light and the board decided that he should be penalized, though to what extent will be made known later. Other cases will be heard next Wednesday.

Youngsters Have Fine Time.

Over 1000 of Them At Forest Lake Wednesday, Guests of H. Daniel.

Seven electric cars, crowded to the limit, brought 1150 children from Springfield to Forest Lake Wednesday, the occasion of the 10th annual picnic given by Harry Daniel, the clothier There were also 50 attendants who had a busy time of it looking after the youngsters. The party reached the Lake at 10, and here all sorts of good things were provided for their amusement, first and foremost of which was the dinner. Coupons attached to the tickets allowed the privilege of a free ride on the launch and on the merry-go-round, also admission to the theater, milk and ice cream. During the afternoon all sorts of games were enjoyed, including a baseball game between picked nines, the winning team being presented with a $1 25 baseball by Mr. Daniel The other sports were running races, potato races, jumping and other track events, with special games for the children. There was a big scramble when Mr. Daniel threw away 500 new pennies. The start for home was made about 5.

Ware Anniversary Program.

The program for the 150th anniversary celebration to be held in Ware is as follows:

Saturday, September 2—1 30 p. m., opening of loan exhibition in town hall; 8, dedication of John Read boulder at Ware Center; 7, illumination of principal streets.

Sunday, September 3—Morning, commemorative church services; 4 p. m., mass-meeting of the townspeople in Grenville park.

Monday, September 4—5.30 a. m., anniversary salute of 21 guns; 7, proclamation by cavalcade of heralds; 7 30, arrival of the old stage coach; 9, automobile review; 10, civic, fraternal and industrial parade; 12 30 p. m., luncheon, speaking by distinguished guests; 2, aquatic sports and water carnival; 7 30, historic river pageant; 8 30, magnificent display of fireworks and illuminations.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosler have moved to Elmwood.

Mrs. William Langdon has returned to her home in Springfield after spending several days with Mrs Anne Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lyman of Syracuse, N. Y., are spending three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M Calkins.

Mr. and Mrs. A Louis Warriner have been entertaining at their home in East Wilbraham her cousin, Mrs. Lizzie Heran of Albany, N. Y., and granddaughter, Miss Elinor Milliat of Springfield.

BRIMFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lawrence have been spending the week in Provincetown.

Miss Emily Cox of Mattapan is the guest of her niece, Miss Rebecca Lincoln.

The tax bills have been distributed by Tax Collector C. S Tarbell. The rate is $11 per $1000.

Misses Carrie L. Walker and Addie C Walker of Nashua, N. H., were in town last week, visiting places of ancestral interest.

Henry S. Pratt of Meriden, Ct., a former principal of the Academy, and son, James E. Pratt of Deep River, Ct., were in town last week.

Miss Egan has returned to the home of Mrs. E. T. Sherman, after a vacation spent in travel, including a visit to her grandfather in Woodstock, West Ontario.

Rev. and Mrs. John Kilbon and daughter Raobel and Mrs. W. A. Fowler and Mrs. Bradlee Williams of Springfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Maine of Springfield at the hotel one day last week.

Among those attending the national Grand Army encampment in Rochester this week are Mr. and Mrs Melvin Booth, Mr. and Mrs Lowell Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. O E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs Miner Corbin, Mr. and Mrs Edward Hitchcock and Miss Julia Hitchcock.

The third of a series of dancing parties at the hotel was held Friday evening. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Main, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Peirce, Miss Julia Newton, John Newton, Miss Dorothy Cole, Miss Nora Walsh, Burchard Royce, Miss Ruth Syrett, Breck Lewis of Springfield, Mrs. Weiser, Miss Weiser and Richard Weiser of Holyoke, Miss Agnes Bates and Miss Gladys Munroe of Fiskdale, Miss Catherine Gould of Walpole.

Boston Letter.

Tribute to Gamaliel Bradford — Political Situation in Both Parties.

BOSTON, Aug. 23, 1911.

Before taking up the interesting points which are in the air to-day, let me pay a deserved tribute to my long-time friend, the late Gamaliel Bradford. It is only because he is eminently worthy of far more praise and recognition than he has yet received that I give this tribute here. If ever there was a man who loved his country passionately, that man was Gamaliel Bradford. If ever a man had a deep and abiding faith in the common people, he was that man. If ever a private citizen kept the closest watch of public events from a pure public spirit, with not a thought or desire of personal preferment, he was the man. For breadth of view of public affairs he was not surpassed by any man I have ever seen in public life. For penetrating discrimination into the nature of political forces he was an exception, as is shown in his large two-volume work upon Democracy. He had a business man's training, having been in a bankers' and brokers' house so that he became thoroughly familiar with the financial forces which shape business and politics, and he always watched the stock market with a student's eye upon the forces which were back of and shaped the prices of the day. He was a most ardent advocate of that system in the British government by which cabinet officers are given seats, but not votes, on the floor of parliament, and he urged repeatedly and strongly the adoption of that system in the governmental systems of the United States. On his initiative, the United States Senate took it up in 1881 and a unanimous committee report was made in its favor, but nothing came of it and it has never been taken up since. But there is growing recognition of the wisdom of Bradford's views and the advantages of direct tonch between legislators who wish to learn facts of the executive and the executive who wishes to give facts to the legislative department are plain so as to need no argument for those who are familiar with the duties of those departments.

But Mr. Bradford's most practical service was in connection with the campaign in 1896 against biennial state elections for state officers and members of the Legislature. He was one of three men, either one of whom lacking, the result would have been different. He did not come into the contest at the first, but when he had become interested, he saw the vital importance of the result and took hold with tremendous energy and efficiency. He was the man who financed that campaign, who devised and had posted all over the state the original and effective posters which changed the opinions of some and set many to thinking. He paid from his private pocket some $2000 for that purpose, and he was not a candidate and his efforts were not for the success of any political party. Whether or not the reader agrees with him, doubtless all will agree that such work for an abstract cause, with no candidate to represent it, is most unusual. He hired the headquarters for the work and paid the stenographer from his own pocket. He hired men to distribute at political meetings anti-biennial literature He had the satisfaction of seeing 50,000 and over majority against the second amendment and over 45,000 against the first The popular voice was so overwhelming that the issue has remained decided by common consent ever since. Presumably the trend toward the people has made the anti-biennial sentiment even stronger to-day than it was in 1896 Mr. Bradford will deserve warm remembrance as long as this result is appreciated by the friends of the people.

This week finds the Republican state headquarters much cheered up over the political situation Word has been sent to them from Rockland that 100 Republicans in that one town who voted for Gov. Foss will not vote for him this year. There has come information from Quincy granite cutters, where the labor union is strong, that they voted for Foss last year because he said that if he were elected prices would go down, but that prices have not gone down and therefore they will not vote for him this year. From all parts of the state, as the Republican leaders see the situation, the facts are right in line with the above. Already they predict sure victory. It is a great mistake on the part of the Democrats, they say, to figure on getting all the Republican votes for the governor which were given to him last year. They predict that he will lose many of them and that whoever is nominated by the Republicans will be elected Chairman Hatfield says that it cannot be emphasized too much that he is not taking any part whatever in the selection of the Republican candidates, but is keeping hands off strictly and will take off his coat to elect whomsoever is nominated at the primaries. He is busy all the time Executive Secretary Groves is on duty and they are going to make this a vigorous campaign from the moment that the people give them their candidates to elect This will not be any easy-going, off-year campaign. The Republicans will buckle right down to their work as soon as the primaries are over and the state will be full of politics from September 26 to November 7 If there is a Republican majority in the state, every effort will be made to bring it all out to the polls.

At the Democratic headquarters the Republican statements are not denied, but there is work being done such as the office has been a stranger to until very recently. Late at night and early in the day the routine is being kept up. Better organization than formerly is now the rule and the office has the state systemized so that touch can be had with the different cities and towns in all parts of the state which was formerly impossible. Undoubtedly the state committee is looking after details in order to make sure that all the tickets are filled out. On the Republican side this is being done by the legislative campaign committee, as far as the Legislature is concerned. This committee has organized with Representative Bliss of Malden chairman, and Representative Holmes of Kingston secretary. Both are candidates for re-election. They have already found many districts where no candidate had been selected and they have seen that the omission has been made good in every representative district, with the exception of that in North Adams, now represented by Mr O'Hearn. The Democratic campaign committee has not yet organized for study of the legislative districts. It is expected that Former Representative Thomas P Riley of Malden, who started the system, will be associated with the workers as soon as they get started.

It is expected that Harvey N. Shepard and George W. Anderson will both be candidates at the primaries for the Democratic nomination for attorney general. Frank J. Donahue is said to have enough signatures for his candidacy for secretary of state, and Edward O Skelton is also a promising candidate who will run for the same place On the Republican side, Secretary Langtry has the active opposition of Representative R. A. Wood of Cambridge, running as a young man's and anti-machine candidate.

This afternoon there was a meeting of the Democratic state committee at the Quincy House and over 30 out of a total of 54 were present They received the resignation of Frederic J. Macleod, who has been made chairman of the railroad commission, and of John B. Ratigan, who has been appointed to the bench of the superior court It will be the duty of the committee to fill these vacancies, not that of the districts which they represent. The remaining business of most importance was the discussion of the necessity of making sure that there are no vacancies on the Democratic ticket because of failure to secure candidates. In Essex county, particularly, there has been a considerable stepping over party lines by Democrats who have voted for Republicans because they have been good fellows. This bad policy, for the party, is to be checked, if possible.

There is one point upon which there may be something said in public, about which there is soreness on the part of the Democratic managers. They insist that they do not get fair play in the Boston Democratic press because the political news writers are under improper influences and will not give the news fairly. They profess to have the facts to support the assertion and it is quite possible that something may be said on the stump as a measure of self-protection and getting fair play. They realize that it is a very difficult matter to handle and will look before they leap, but there is no doubt of their soreness over the failure, as they insist, to get justice done them where they ought to have at least an even chance with the other side. LANDON.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 26, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

With every purchase next week we will give an engraved medicine glass, as long as they last. Every family should have one in the medicine closet. Kinsley's Pharmacy, Main St., Cor. Central. If you don't get it ask for it.

PALMER NEWS.

Finnerty—O'Connor.

Palmer Young People Married Wednesday in St. Thomas' Church.

The marriage of Miss Nellie G. Finnerty of South Main street and Dennis E. O'Connor, proprietor of the Nassowanno House, took place Wednesday morning in St. Thomas' church, the pastor, Rev. William H. Hart, officiating, assisted by Rev. M. J. O'Connell. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Ryan of Springfield, a cousin of the bride, and the best man was Dr. D. W. O'Connor, a brother of the groom. The bride was gowned in white messaline and wore a white picture hat; the bridesmaid wore blue messaline and a black picture hat. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother on South Main street, only members of the two families being present. There were numerous wedding presents, many of them of considerable value; they included hand-painted china, solid silver, cut glass, linen, and a generous sum in gold and bills. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor left shortly after 7 o'clock for a wedding trip which will include New York, Atlantic City and other points south, and will be gone about two weeks.

On their return they will reside at the Nassowanno House. The bride is a life-long resident of Palmer, and has been employed for a considerable time as stenographer and bookkeeper for E. A. Buck & Co.; she has also occupied the position as organist in St. Thomas church for a number of years. The groom is also a native of Palmer, and is proprietor of the Nassowauno Hotel, in addition to which he owns an interest in the Sego lunch room and the Elite Motion Picture Palace.

Death of Unique Figure.

Visitors to the Palmer Fair next October will miss the familiar figure of Samuel Rockwell of Stafford Springs, Ct. Mr. Rockwell was found dead a little before 5 o'clock Sunday morning in his barn, where he had gone to do the chores. He was about the farm as usual on Saturday, and was in apparently the best of health when he retired at night and on Sunday morning. He was 79 years of age. Mr. Rockwell had been a familiar figure of late years at the Palmer Fair, making a specialty of oxen, often bringing nearly 20 yoke and entering them in the drawing matches, where his animals were always heavy winners.

S. of V. Basket Picnic.

The Sons of Veterans in district 14, comprising Palmer, Monson, Agawam, Westfield, Amherst, Springfield, Northampton, Easthampton and Holyoke, are to have a basket picnic in Dupnis' Grove, near Hampton Pond, on Labor Day. Members of the G. A. R, Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R and Sons of Veterans are invited to attend Badges must be worn to secure free admission.

To-morrow the Last Day.

To-morrow will be the last day on which nomination papers for the primary election can be presented to the registrars of voters, who must go over them carefully and determine whether the signers are voters in the town or not.

Nelson Brothers is to open a livery stable at the Weeks House.

Miss Mary Learned went to the Spring field hospital Tuesday for treatment.

About 420 tickets were sold at the Palmer station yesterday for the Boston excursion.

Next Thursday will be the last day for this season when the stores close in the afternoon.

A O Anoney will supply the pulpit of the Advent chapel on Park street next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Two building lots on Orchard street in the wire mill district are to be sold at auction at 12 30 to-morrow noon.

The carpet mill closed yesterday to allow all employes who wished the privilege of attending the excursion to Boston.

Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, will hold a special meeting next Monday evening for the purpose of initiating several candidates.

The Baptist Society will hold a special business meeting next Tuesday evening to elect a clerk and treasurer and an organist, to succeed the late C. B. Fiske, who had held the positions for many years.

Misses Ahearn & Hannifin have closed their millinery rooms on Main street for the remainder of August. They are now in New York city studying the fall lines of millinery, and will open their store again Sept. 5.

Superintendent of Streets McKelligott is concreting a space around the sewer catch-basin on Main street in front of the post office block, in order to do away with a muddy spot there of which there has been much complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Woolf of Kansas City passed through Palmer last Friday morning en route for Boston. They are walking from their home to Boston and return, camping at night along the way Their outfit was contained in a cart drawn by a horse.

In the district court Monday morning Leon Sorrell was found guilty of statutory offense and sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Lillian Gladys King, charged with a like offense, was fined $20, and in default was committed to the house of correction.

Union services at the Baptist church next Sunday. Morning worship at 10 45; sermon subject "An ancient creed enriched." Bible school at 12 evening worship at 7; sermon subject "Heavenly visions for earthly service" All are invited to these services.

Mrs. Thomas McCarthy, a long-time resident of the wire mill district, died at her home Wednesday after a long illness. She leaves a husband and several children The funeral will be held to-morrow morning in St. Thomas' church and burial will be in the Thorndike cemetery.

The markers placed on the graves of soldiers in the colonial and Revolutionary wars by the Palmer Historical society will be dedicated at Palmer Center September 8 The exercises will take place on the common at 2 in the afternoon, and the public are invited. Most of the markers have been placed in the cemetery at Palmer Center.

The members of Royal Arcanum councils in Western Massachusetts will hold a banquet at Forbes & Wallace restaurant in Springfield Tuesday evening. The grand regent of Pennsylvania will give the address of the evening. All members of Quaboag council who have procured candidates who have been accepted are entitled to free tickets to the banquet as are the candidates. All others may procure tickets of C. H. Babcock any time before the banquet.

That High School Roof.

Committee Proceeding Cautiously, With intent to Make Repairs Permanent.

The school committee is proceeding cautiously in the matter of the roof of the new part of the high school building, the condition of which was told in the Journal last week. It has been definitely determined that the trouble is in the weakness of the heavy beams and the lack of space between them and the roof in which to truss them properly, and in the weakness of the long timbers between which carry the ceiling. The latter has dropped two inches more since last Friday, and now shows a sag of fully eight inches. No move has been made as yet toward repairs, there being some questions which the committee wished the town counsel to decide before they made any contracts. The committee will have a conference to-morrow forenoon in Palmer with Architect Reed of Springfield, who drew the plans for the structure. Other opinions will be sought as to the best method to pursue in order to make the roof and ceiling secure for the life of the building. One thing is certain, the work of repairs cannot be completed in time for the opening of school September 5. This will prevent the use of the assembly room for a time, and probably also the use of the two recitation rooms beneath it, for it is not believed the committee will wish to endanger the lives of pupils by placing them in rooms over which heavy construction work is under way.

Girl Jumped From Car.

Gets Bad Fall Last Evening, But Was Not Seriously Hurt.

Miss Gertrude Bennett of North Wilbraham, about 20 years of age, was severely shaken up and somewhat scratched about the face by jumping from an electric car on Thorndike street last evening. With her brother she had been on the excursion to Boston, leaving the train at Palmer to take the car for home She boarded a Bondsville car and remained in her seat, despite the fact that both motorman and conductor, as well as the car starter, standing close to the car, announced its destination. As the car rounded into Thorndike street several men, seeing their mistake, jumped off; Miss Bennett said something about being on the wrong car, pulled the bell cord and jumped without waiting for the car to stop. She was taken into Dr. Schneider's office and later went to her home. The car was one of the big 14-bench cars used on the Worcester line, and carried "Springfield-Worcester" painted in a curve across the dasher, but carried a smaller Bondsville sign hung on one corner of the dasher.

Rattlesnake in Palmer.

Specimen of Species Thought Extinct Found By O. P. Allen.

It has long been supposed that the rattlesnake, which some 70 years ago was largely in evidence in Palmer, particularly in Mt. Bunyan, had long become extinct; in fact, the last specimen known to have been seen was killed on Mt. Bunyan nearly a decade ago, but it appears that there is—or was one day this week—at least one which had its home within our borders. O. P. Allen, while at work placing Revolutionary markers on graves in the old Palmer Center cemetery on Wednesday, discovered one, but unfortunately had nothing nor could find anything with which to kill it. He stopped to place a marker in position and heard a slight rustle at the side of a headstone; almost immediately he heard the peculiar rattle which a snake of that species makes, and the reptile came from its place of concealment and darted away. It seemed to be about four feet or four and a half feet in length, and about the size of an ordinary man's arm.

Auto-Flying Machine Race.

One Scheduled to Pass Through Palmer in the Near Future.

There is a good prospect that Palmer people may have an opportunity to see a unique race within a short time, as arrangements are being made for a contest between a flying machine and an automobile, the start to be in New York and the finish in Boston. The aviator will be Earl L. Ovington, a noted flyer, and he was over the route in an auto on Wednesday, looking for good landing places at points where he might have to stop for fuel or other necessities.

Mauled by Unknown Men.

There was a mixup on the Carpet Mill road late Saturday night, in which Benjamin Hudson was badly battered by two unknown men who evidently mistook him for another person. His bruises were treated by Dr. Schneider.

The contract for the new macadam road in Bondsville was not awarded Wednesday evening as was expected, action being postponed until Monday evening.

George Colgrove, who has been in the United States army for the past seven years, has been discharged on account of disability and has returned to Palmer, his former home.

General Manager Dickson and other officials of the street railway visited Palmer yesterday in a tour of inspection which took them over every branch of the company's system.

During the thunder shower of last Friday afternoon the house of Rufus Flynt, on the corner of Couverse and Walnut streets, was struck by lightning, but no serious damage was done.

Nomination papers for William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston, for senator from the Worcester-Hampden district, have been in circulation among the Republican voters the past week, as have been papers for the Republican town committee, Samuel Stewart, John O. Hamilton, Arthur W. Warriner, Everett W. Carpenter and Ernest E Hobson.

BELCHERTOWN.

The tax rate for this year is $18 50 on $1000

Miss Marion Dimond of Bridgeport, Ct., is spending her vacation in town.

Mrs. A. H. Bartlett entertained her Sunday school class in her home on South Main street Wednesday afternoon She is entertaining her little grandniece, a daughter of the late Alonzo Bardwell.

Mr. and Mrs. H F. Curtis of South Main street have received news of the birth of a grandson, a son to Myron H. and Rachel (Curtis) West of Chicago, Ill., and also a grandson to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. West of Palmer road.

The Baptist Young People's Union has elected these officers: President, Miss Grace Archambault; vice president, Mrs. Maude Capen; secretary, Mrs. Eugene Randall; treasurer, Waring Randall; devotional committee chairman, Mrs. Eugene Randall; lookout committee chairman, Mrs. Eva Hurlburt; social committee chairman, Mrs. R. C. Cooper; press committee chairman, W. L. Lanzee.

A meeting of Episcopalians was held in Park View Hall Sunday evening, with about 40 people in attendance. Miss Furves presided at the organ and Mr Farrar read the service. After the service there was an informal talk and it was decided to have a Sunday school in charge of Miss May Hall, and a service both next Sunday, the Sunday school at 3 30 p. m., and the church service at 4 30 in the town hall.

Personal Mention.

E. E. Brooks has been spending the week in Maine.

Charles Thomas has returned from a vacation in Nova Scotia.

Miss Harriet Paine has returned from a trip to Monse Island, Me.

Miss Ruth Davis of Springfield is the guest of her brother, David Davis.

D H Brown of Dalton, a former resident, visited Palmer friends Wednesday.

James M. Sanford of Concord, N. H., visited friends in town the first of the week.

F. S. Potter of Highland street spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister in Natick.

Miss Nora Harrington, operator in the telephone exchange, is enjoying a 10 days' vacation.

Mrs. Josephine Day of Somerville has been visiting Mrs. Frances W. Dimock of Park street.

Miss Sarah Harrison is the guest at the home of her brother, Fred Harrison, on Knox street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bronson of Park street have returned from a visit to Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whitcomb and daughter have returned from a vacation in New Hampshire.

Miss Agatha and Raymond Couway of Fox street are visiting friends in the Berkshires.

Henry Lovett of Chicopee Falls, a former resident, called on Palmer friends Wednesday.

Mrs. William Rhodes of West Warren has been visiting Mrs. Cambridge Moulton on Park street this week.

Mrs. Francis L. Jones and family of Park street have gone to Greenwich for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. O. W. Studley and daughter Flora of Springfield were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Helen French of Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Northrup, Mrs. Clarence Wing and daughter Josephine are camping at Nine Mile Pond.

Miss D. E Todd of Brattleboro, Vt., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Todd of Pine street, Wednesday.

Samuel Batchelder of Concord, N. H., formerly a resident of this place, has been visiting Palmer friends this week.

Mrs. Frank Duffy and daughter Rose of South Main street have returned from a week's visit in Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. W. H Small and son Cleon of Providence, R. I., have been guests of Mrs. Lucy Flynt of Central street this week.

Miss Nellie G. Monahan, chief operator of the telephone office, has returned from a 10-days' vacation spent in the Berkshires.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Beals, who have been visiting relatives in Huntington, have returned to their home on South Main street.

Mrs. L. E. Chandler and daughter Frances, who have been spending two weeks in the eastern part of the state, have returned to their home on North Main street.

Miss Frances A. Davis of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary at Kent's Hill, Me., has been the guest of Mrs. D. L Bodfish of Central street.

Rev. C. H. Ricketts of Norwich, Ct., a former pastor of the Congregational church in Thorndike, visited friends in town this week.

Mrs. D. F. Dillon and two children of Central street and Mrs. J. F. Roche and daughter of Park street are spending a vacation at Wintbrop Beach.

Mr and Mrs. John McGovern of Cincinnati, O., are visiting relatives in town, being called here by the death of her mother, Mrs. Thomas McCarthy.

D. J. Mahoney, S. W. Wright, H. E. W. Clark, James Olney and Miles Gerald, members of L. L. Merrick, Grand Army post, are attending the national encampment at Rochester this week.

Brimfield (Sept. 3-4) Day.

Scatter the news to her children,
Send forth the glad tidings to-day,
Reach e'en to lands in the distance—
But reach them, somehow, someway!
For Brimfield extends a warm welcome
To her sons and her daughters to join
In a carnival grand, next September,
Backed up with her strong-box of coin.

But don't think this coin the big feature;
'Tis handy for prizes you know,
And to buy for the day the best music,—
Though Fiskdale is fast, we're not slow!
We'll show to the world our attractions,
Make happy our visitors that day;
They will come from afar to our village
And walk 'long our Bay Path Way.

We named it the "Place of Contentment,"
Cosy town 'mid the Hampden hills;
For a stranger who came here to visit
Got a welcome, the cure of all ills.
He tarried just here with the landlord,
Met the townfolk and played "forty-five,"
And left with the people's best wishes—
He is sure to return, if alive.

So Brimfield will hang out the latch-string
And give to you all a grand show;
'Tis a task well beset with great problems,
Yet Brimfield won't bluster or blow.
She'll push to success this great feature,
And then when the pleasures are o'er
You'll say you were glad to have been there
To peer through a town's "open door."

JOHN S. WEBBER.

Boston, Aug. 5, 1911.

Baseball.

PALMER TOWN LEAGUE.

Bondsville 1, Three Rivers 0.

Bondsville won from Three Rivers, 1 to 0, Saturday in an exciting game in the Palmer league played in Bondsville. The feature of the game was Bennett's pitching, it being a no-hit game. He struck out 18 men. A protest was entered by Three Rivers in the fifth inning on a decision on a foul ball. The score:

Bondsville.	ab	b	po	a	e	T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e
Fahay, 3,	3	2	0	2	0	Graham, l,	4	0	8	0	1
Fitz'k, r,	4	0	1	0	1	Fournier, 2,	4	0	1	2	1
Belisle, l,	4	0	0	0	0	Whalen, c,	3	0	10	1	0
Donovan, 1,	4	0	8	1	0	L. Cole, s,	4	0	2	0	0
Keyes, m,	4	0	0	0	0	Rogers, l,	3	0	0	0	0
Sullivn, c,	4	2	16	4	0	Justin, p,	1	0	1	4	0
Murray, s,	4	0	1	1	0	Lafave, m,	3	0	0	0	1
Fitzgerld, 2,	3	1	1	2	0	I. Cole, 3,	2	0	2	0	1
Bennett, p,	2	1	0	0	0	Barber, r,	3	0	0	0	0
Total,	32	6	27	10	1	Total,	27	0	24	7	4

Bondsville, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1

Runs, Donovan. Stolen bases, Fitzgerald, Whalen. Bases on balls, off Bennett 3, off Justin 3. Left on bases, Bondsville 6, Three Rivers 2 Struck out, by Bennett 18, by Justin 10. Time, 1h 50m. Umpire, Henry Martin. Attendance, 1500.

Palmer 6, Thorndike 5.

Thorndike was defeated by Palmer in a 12-inning game on the driving park Saturday afternoon. Paul pitched a good game. The score:

Palmer,	ab	b	po	a	e	Thorndike.	ab	b	po	a	e
Keeney, c,	5	1	14	1	1	Holden, t,	5	0	17	1	2
Provost, 2,	5	0	1	2	1	Keefe, m,	5	2	1	0	0
Drexler, 1,	5	1	11	1	1	Cahill, t,	5	0	1	0	1
St. John, r,	5	3	3	1	1	Hurley, c,	5	2	8	2	0
Paul, p,	5	1	2	2	0	Doyle, 2,	6	1	2	6	1
Dount'n, s,	4	1	0	1	0	Daley, 3,	5	0	2	4	1
E. Bro'e, m,	5	0	1	0	1	Manley, p,	5	0	2	2	0
Laws'n, 3b,	5	0	1	2	2	Chabot, s,	5	0	3	3	0
P. Bro'te, l,	4	0	3	0	0	McKe'zie, r,	3	0	0	0	0
						Riley, r,	2	0	0	0	0
Total,	43	6	36	10	7	Total.	46	5	36	22	6

Palmer,	1	0	3	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1—6‖
Thorn'ke,	0	0	0	0	0	5	0	0	0	0	0	0—5

Runs, Keeney, Provost 2, Drexler, Daunton, P. Brouillette, Holden, Keefe, Cahill, Hurley, Doyle. Total bases, Palmer 6, Thorndike 6. Sacrifice hits, Keeney, Provost, P. Brouillette 2 Sacrifice fly, P. Brouillette. Stolen bases, P. Brouillette, St. John, Keeney, Manley. Hits off Paul 5, off Manley 6. Two-base hit, Doyle. Bases on balls, P. Brouillette. Left on bases Palmer 5, Thorndike 8. Struck out, by Paul 13, by Manley 6. Batter hit, Holden. Double plays, Chabot to Doyle to Holden; Doyle (unassisted). Time, 2h 10m. Umpire, Geoffrey. ‖Two out when winning run scored. †Riley batted for McKenzie in ninth.

WARE.

Receives Serious Injuries.

Theophil Mazurek, an employe in the picker room of the No. 1 mill of the Otis company's mills, severely lacerated his right forearm Tuesday morning while working about a picking machine. Mazurek, disregarding the rules of the mill, was attempting to remove waste from the machine while it was in motion. In so doing his right forearm was drawn into the machine by the sharp points on the cone and it was several minutes after the machine was stopped before the arm could be removed from the sharp points Dr. W. W. Miner was called and found that the points had torn a piece of the arm away and shattered the bone. He dressed the wound and the man was taken to the Ware hospital. Mazurek is 45 years old and has no relatives in this country, but has a wife and four children in Austria, whom he intended to bring to this country soon.

Death of Mrs. Louis Amnotte.

Mrs. Louis Amnotte, 48, died at her home in the west part of Hardwick Wednesday. The funeral was held this morning in Mt. Carmel church. Mrs Amnotte formerly lived in Ware, where she is well known. She leaves four sisters, Mrs. Arthur J Keefe of Everett, Mrs. Louis Ahare of Three Rivers, Mrs. Rose Desrosiers of Redford, N. Y, and Mrs. Arthur Giard of Ware; also two brothers, Louis and Jeremiah Colombe of Ware.

Misses Mabel Harlow and Lillian Brown have returned from East Liverpool, O., where they have been guests of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Sanford, former residents of Ware.

Theophilus T. McBride of West street and Miss Martha A. Dixon of Gilbertville were married Monday morning in the rectory of All Saints' parish, Rev. J. J Roberts officiating.

Miss Florence Marion Payne of Holyoke, supervisor of music in the public schools of Ware and soprano soloist at the Brockton First Baptist church for two years, was married last week to Harry W. Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Lucas of Brockton.

The marriage of Alfred F. Renaud and Miss Clementina Mercier took place Monday morning in Mt. Carmel church, Rev. William Lucey officiating. Misses Emma and Eva Mercier acted as sponsors. After a luncheon at the home of the bride's parents on East street the couple left for a honeymoon to be spent in Boston.

WARREN.

George Bliss has been in Rochester, N Y., this week attending the convention as a delegate from Clara Barton post, G. A R

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Curtis and son Howard have gone to Childwold, N. Y., to spend two weeks at the camp of the Grasse river club.

The selectmen have appointed Jerry M. Sheehan as deputy inspector of elections in precinct B, in place of William J. Bell, who declined to serve.

Mrs Alice Leavens and daughter, Doris, of Providence, R. I, are guests of her aunt, Mrs. Julia F Newton, at Hotel Ramsdell for two weeks.

Philip Stone, who has been teacher of grades seven and eight and principal of the West Warren building for the past three years, has resigned to take a position in Paris, Me.

Work at the Sayles & Jenks company's woolen mill upon certain grades of heavy woolens is rushing, as the orders must be filled within the next few weeks. In some instances the wages of the weavers have been advanced 25 per cent.

The women of the Congregational church will tender a farewell reception this evening in the chapel to Rev. Thomas C. Richards and family who leave for Westboro next week, where Mr. Richards will take charge of a pastorate the first of next month.

There was a large attendance in the Congregational church Sunday morning to witness the exercises incident to the coronation of the Queens of Avalon of Court Camelon. The following were crowned queens and decorated with the robe of their rank: Misses Louise Mason, Ruby Schott, Julia Patrick, Ruth Rice, Leda Klebort, Reba Kimmel, Hazel Davis, Marion Day, Ruth Cutler, Dorothy Miller, Olive Thompson and Louise Spencer. After the exercises Miss Ruby Schott sang a soprano solo. The members of Castle Excalibar of the Knights of King Arthur attended in a body and occupied seats in front, while the members of Court Camelon sat on the platform and in the singers' seats

HAMPDEN.

Heavy Taxpayers.

The following residents pay a tax of $50 or over: John Bartlett, $75; Esther C and C. H. Burleigh, $215; Albert F. Ballard, $55; Silas Chapin's heirs, $70; Nelson M. Carew, $164; H. C. Chapin, $53; A. G Corey, $52; W. M. Davis, $56; Epaphre A. Day, $130; Julius L. Gottsche, $113; A. W. Hays, $128; Simon Huut's heirs, $52; John N. Isham, $85; Raymond Kibbe, $55; E P. Lyons, $53; A. W. Lee, $85; David R. McCray, $71; John B. Morris' heirs, $70; William J. Mackay, $123; W. M. Pease, $56; E. E. Redden, $89; William J. Sessions, $55; Thresher Bros., $196: E. H. Temple, $146; M. H. Warren, $69; Edmund Wall's heirs, $62; Charles N. Whittaker, $61. Non-residents: Phoenix Spinning Company of Providence, R. I, $59; Madeline B. Wesson of Springfield, $113.

Mark Twain Heeded the Voice.

Mark Twain was quite at his best as an after dinner speaker at the banquet given in his honor some years ago by the members of the Authors' club. Incidentally he told his amused listeners the story of his first lapse from the paths of honesty. He was very young at the time, he explained, and the day was an exceedingly hot once. As he walked down the street of the village in which he was living he saw a cart loaded with melons of most attractive appearance.

"It is with regret I mention," Mark Twain went on, with a humorous twinkle in his eyes, "that I was tempted and I fell. I grabbed the most likely looking melon of the lot and hurriedly made my way to the back of the woodshed. I gouged a huge slice out of it and bit it. No sooner had I done so when something within me convinced me that I had done wrong. A voice seemed to say, 'Mark, get up and take that melon right back to where you got it from.' It was about the greenest melon I had ever tasted. I went back to the cart and carefully replaced it and—took a ripe one in its place."—Boston Traveler.

An Office Cushion.

If those of you who have a husband or brother or sister working in an office will go to the trouble of making a flat cushion for the chair of the worker you will find that it saves the trousers or skirt from getting "shiny" and also helps to retain the garment in form.—Good Housekeeping.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

An Escape

By SUSAN YOUNG PORTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Our family has occupied the same house in London for several centuries, and the upper stories are crowded with heirlooms and old papers. This continued residence is remarkable, for there has never been a political disturbance in the kingdom in which at least one of my race did not take part. In nosing over an old letter written by one of my quarrelsome ancestors to his mother I found the following story:

Heaven keep you, my dear mother, and may the joy of getting this letter and the news contained in it not be too much for you, seeing that your son is out of reach of harm in this pleasant land of France, a land that I shall always love, since its grapes or, rather, the wine made from their juice is at the bottom of my escape. Had it not been for an idea put in my head by the wine I had in the cellar of the Tower I would now be without a head, like the duke (of Monmouth) in whose stupid effort to take the throne from his uncle, King James, I was much mixed.

You know that, being a man of rank, yet not a leader in the rebellion, I was accorded the privileges usually granted to such persons, being lodged with the lieutenant of the Tower himself and as fine a fellow as ever served his sovereign. From the first I felt sure I would keep my head on my shoulders, and if I didn't I was bound to enjoy what little time was left me. The lieutenant and I were kindred spirits, and many were the cups of October ale we drank together, he always giving the toast, "May your head never roll into a basket, but may you meet the death of a nobleman, falling before a pike or a sword."

I had the wine you sent me down in the cellar under the Tower in which are the lieutenant's quarters, and one day while drinking with my jailer, we getting tired of ale, I told him that I had some fine French wine in the cellar and if he would let me send my man for it I would open a bottle. He gave the permission and the cellar key, and, calling Jacob, I gave him the key and told him to go for a bottle. I also tipped him a knowing look.

It was only a look, and I never dreamed that a look and a key would tell him what I wished to say to him, but couldn't speak for the presence of the lieutenant. But when a man is waiting to have his head lopped off he will cling to any straw of hope, and so did I. Jacob was gone a long while, but in time came to the door and instead of handing in a bottle stood without, his clothes hanging on his arm. I knew what this meant, and quick as a flash I moved the key of the door from the inside to the outside and locked it, shutting in the lieutenant.

I began at once putting on Jacob's clothes, and he began putting on mine. While he was doing so he told me why he had been so long. He had told the man on guard that he had the key to the cellar where the wine was kept and if he would come with him he might have all he wished to drink. When Jacob got the guard in the cellar he opened a bottle of the wine and told him to drink quick because I was waiting for him to come with wine and he couldn't be too long. The man drank two bottles as fast as he could pour their contents down, then fell on the floor. Jacob locked him in.

I was but a few minutes getting on Jacob's breeches and doublet and, putting on his hat, pulled it down over my face. Then, pretending to be drunk with liquor, I staggered out into the courtyard, and, passing over the spot where two of King Harry's wives were beheaded, I walked past the sentry at the postern, those I met laughing at me for a sot. I was obliged to pass over Tower hill, where stood a scaffold that had for weeks been used for beheading such rebels as I and, tottering down into the frequented streets, lost myself in the crowd.

Luck helped me, for no one saw me to know me, though I saw some I knew. I thought of going home to hide, but knew I would be sought there and pushed on, moving by the outskirts till I reached the east side of the town, when I pushed off through the country toward the coast.

But I did not go directly east, for I wished to see my sweetheart at Liukborn manor and give her a kiss before putting the sea between her and me, besides relieving her mind as to the chance of still keeping my head and body together. It was evening when I came to the manor, and Margaret was walking among the flowers. She was languid and drooping, for she had been told that I would be brought to the block in a few days. When she saw me coming in Jacob's clothes she knew his doublet and gave a cry, thinking he was bringing her news of me. Staggering toward me, she fell fainting in my arms. I kissed her back to life, and when she opened her eyes she was looking into mine.

But there was little time, for I knew they would seek me where she was, and I begged her to get me some food in a napkin while I went to the stable and got out a horse. When one was saddled I rode out, met her with the victuals, bent down and kissed her, then, giving the horse the spurs, galloped away.

And here I am in France, dear mother, ready to put my head in jeopardy again.

Sarcastic.

Barber (testing razor)—Do I hurt you, sir?

Baird—No; not so badly as the last man who had me in his chair.

Barber (highly gratified)—Who was that?

Baird—The dentist.

A Sensitive Horse.

Harsh treatment, though it stop short of inflicting physical pain, keeps a nervous horse in a state of misery. A single blow may be enough to spoil a racer. Daniel Lambert, founder of the Lambert branch of the Morgan family, was thought as a three-year-old to be the fastest trotting stallion of his day. He was a very handsome, stylish, intelligent horse and also extremely sensitive. His driver, Dan Mace, though one of the best reinsmen in America, once made the mistake, through ill temper or bad judgment, of giving Daniel Lambert a severe cut with the whip, and that single blow put an end to his usefulness as a trotter. He became wild and ungovernable in harness and remained so for the rest of his life.

How Kangaroos Fight.

Kangaroos are distributed over all parts of Queensland. The "old man," or fully grown male, is mostly found on downs and in open forest country. An "old man" sometimes grows to the height of six feet and when hunted into a rocky gorge or corner will turn and face its pursuer. It is a formidable adversary at close quarters. Its mode of fighting is to clasp its enemy in its arms, hug him to its breast and then with its powerful hind claws rip him open.

Turn About.

"Papa says if I give up my singing lessons he will present me with a pair of diamond earrings."

"You have never worn earrings, have you?"

"No; I should have to have my ears pierced."

"Ah, yes! I see his idea. He wants to pay you back in your own coin!"

A Dubious Compliment.

Dobby was showing off his baby.

"Think he looks like me, Slithers?" he asked.

"Well—no," said Slithers, looking at the youngster critically. "He's a queer looking little cuss all right, but I shouldn't go as far as to say that he looks like you."—Judge.

Woman's Woes.

As soon as a married woman gets $60 saved up she becomes oppressed by the thought that she is merely accumulating a fortune for the second wife to spend.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An ordinary case of diarrhoea can, as a rule, be cured by a single dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy This remedy has no superior for bowel complaints For sale by all dealers.

CARD—We wish to thank our friends for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of Mr. Charles E. Smith.

MR. AND MRS. A. L. ROYCE AND FRIENDS.

Monson, Aug. 25th, 1911.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 22d, by Rev. W. H. Hart, Dennis E. O'Connor and Nellie G. Finnerty.
In Monson, 20th, by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, Edwin J. O'Grady of Pittsfield and Florence A. O'Brien of Monson.

DIED.

In Palmer, 23d, Mrs. Thomas McCarthy.
In Ware, 23d, Mrs. Louis Amnotte, 48.
In South Belchertown, 18th, James Shea, 67.
In Stafford Springs, 20th, Samuel Rockwell, 79.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

FOR SALE—A second-hand Hub cook stove.
M. S FRENCH, 30 Park St., Palmer.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms, heated and electric lights; singly or en suite.
21-tf 45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

TO RENT—Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to
ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

WANTED—Girl for general housework. One who can go home nights preferred.
MRS. O. W. MARCY, 15 Pine St., Palmer.

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices.
3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card.
44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs.
46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

FOR SALE—Surrey with two seats and canopy top, Concord and light buggies, carriage pole and single harness. D. F. HOLDEN, State Ave., Palmer. 19-tf

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

A LARGE mercantile house requires the services of a special lady representative for this city and district to appoint agents and heads to the business in general. Suitable for a student or lady of average education. Salary $50 a month, expenses and commission. Apply by letter to E. W. HEBERT, 150 Bridge St., Springfield. 20-3

MONSON STATE HOSPITAL,
MONSON, MASS.
The Trustees of the Monson State Hospital will receive bids for the erection of an addition to the Laundry Building at Monson, Mass. Separate bids are asked for heating, plumbing, electric work, and general contract.
A certified check is required with each bid and a surety bond with each contract.
Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Kendall, Taylor & Co., 93 Federal street, Boston, Mass., and bids must be delivered at their office by twelve o'clock, noon, on the fifth day of September, 1911.
The Trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids.
20-2 WILLIAM N. BULLARD, Chairman.

The Advantages of Paying Your Bills by Check

You have a legal receipt.

You have a record and can know just how you have spent your money.

Your money is safe.

Your money is kept in circulation and it enables other people to do more business than they otherwise could.

We solicit your account, whether large or small, and guarantee all transactions to be absolutely confidential.

Palmer National Bank
L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Ruberoid Roofing

Just the thing for that new barn.

Cheapest
Most Durable
Easiest Applied

Thoroughly waterproof and suitable for all kinds of buildings.

Come in and let us tell you about it.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,

Main Street,

Palmer, - - - Mass.

The Fall Samples

for

Made-to-Measure Suits

Are now ready for your inspection.

Our 1500 Beautiful Samples to Select From.

Just take a look and be convinced I am telling you the truth.

C. K. Gamwell,

Clothier and Furnisher,

Palmer, Mass.

Mrs. Rose

Late of New York City.

Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.

Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.

Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.

17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Electric Motors, Gas, Gasolene or Kerosene Engines, Ventilating or Ceiling Fans, Forge Blowers, Pulleys, Hangers and Shafting,

new or second-hand furnished and installed

Wm. C. Moulton, Electrical and Mechanical Contractor.
Phone 122-21 Monson, Mass.

Last Chance

From now to Sept. 1 to buy odds and ends of goods we are selling below cost.

P. O. Block, M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
UP ONE FLIGHT.

Boy Wanted

One about 16 years old, to feed press and make himself generally useful. Steady job. Apply at Journal Office.

Bloodine Blood and Kidney Tablets cure Kidney and Bladder Diseases by curing the cause.
The Bloodine Corporation, Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:
Kindly send me six boxes of Bloodine Blood and Kidney Tablets They have helped me more than any remedy I have ever taken. I am old, ruptured and I suffer much from Kidney and Bladder Trouble. I have only a few doses left of the sample box you sent me, so kindly send Tablets promptly.
Yours truly, Thomas Taylor, Adams, Ill.
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

Richardson & Boynton
Furnaces and Heaters

most economical and perfect heaters. Try one.

Are the

E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

O'Brien—O'Grady.

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Patrick's church Monday morning at 10, when Miss Florence Alicia O'Brien, daughter of Mrs. Mary Mahar of Hampden avenue, and Edwin J O'Grady of Pittsfield were united in marriage by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, pastor of the church. Mrs. Thomas Hefferman of Worcester presided at the organ. The bride wore a gown of white messaline with a tulle veil caught up with white bride roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude M. Leahy of this town and the best man was Earl Boyd of Troy, N Y. The bridesmaid's gown was light blue messaline, and she wore a white picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The interior of the church was decorated with green and white Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother on Park avenue, followed by a wedding breakfast. About 75 guests were present, many coming from out of town. The bride's traveling gown was of dark blue chiffon panama, with a picture hat to match. There were numerous beautiful and valuable gifts. Miss O'Brien is very popular with the younger set in Monson. She was educated in the local Academy and in a business college in Kalamazoo, Michigan. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs O'Grady will reside in Pittsfield, where Mr. O'Grady is employed in the general electric works.

Lawn Party Next Week.

The "Summer Sewers" will hold their annual lawn party on Miss Holmes' grounds on Thursday afternoon of next week at 3 o'clock. The young ladies have made dainty aprons and dressed dolls for the Home of the Friendless in New York, which will be on exhibition. Ice cream, home-made candy, lemonade and popcorn will be on sale. There will be some new attractions this year. Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch will be present, and, assisted by Lovey Mary, will offer cabbages for sale; each one will contain a prize, and there will be other surprises. Everyone is cordially invited to attend, and all will receive a warm welcome. There is no admission fee to the grounds If Thursday should be unpleasant, the party will be postponed until the first fair day.

Funeral of John J. Lynch.

The funeral of John J. Lynch of Mechanic street, who died suddenly last Friday morning at 11 45 o'clock after an illness of only a day, was held in St. Patrick's church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in No. 1 cemetery. Mr. Lynch was a very popular resident of Monson, where he had lived since his birth 41 years ago, and his sudden death was a shock to the entire community. He had been engaged in the architectural and real estate business here for several years. His only near relative is one sister, Margaret, with whom he lived.

Foot Painfully Injured.

Lawrence Cantwell, the 14-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cantwell of West street, had his left foot severely injured while running a freight elevator in the woolen mill of S F. Cushman & Sons last Friday morning. His foot was caught between the car and the shaft. Dr C. W. Jackson was called and found the foot was so badly injured that the boy was taken to the Springfield hospital in R P. Cushman's automobile. It was found that four of his toes were broken as were three of the bones of the instep and his ankle badly sprained.

Sprained Ankle Results From Fall.

Lester C Stebbins of Silver Street was painfully injured while loading cows into a car at Palmer Tuesday. Mr. Stebbins was standing on the run which extended from the car to the ground and some of the animals became frightened, knocking Mr. Stebbins off. His ankle was badly sprained, and it is feared that some of the smaller bones of his instep are broken. He will be confined to his home for some time on account of the injury.

Surprise Visit.

General F. F Brown, who resides at the home of R. DeForest Tucker on East Hill, was very pleasantly surprised by about 50 friends and neighbors Wednesday evening, the occasion being his 86h birthday. Refreshments were served and speaking was enjoyed. Many suitable reminders of the occasion were presented to General Brown, who responded feelingly. The gathering was greatly enjoyed.

Bancroft—Moulton.

Ralph Moulton and Miss Ada Bancroft, both of this town, were quietly married in Norwich, Ct., last week. For the present they will reside with Mr. Moulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Moulton on the Hampden road. Mr. Moulton is engaged in the lumber business with his father.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cady and daughter have returned from a visit in Pigeon Cove

Nicholas Duggan of Main street is spending the week at Block Island.

John McCormack of Chestnut street is visiting relatives in Pittsfield.

Mrs. A. D. Norcross has returned from a visit with relatives in Rochdale.

Miss Nellie Beckwith of Lincoln street is visiting friends in Corona, L. I.

Mrs Elisha Wales of North Main street has returned from a visit in Boston.

John Kimber of Washington street is spending a vacation at Ocean Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Barnes of Main street are visiting relatives in Providence

Miss Johanna Leary of Green street is spending a 10-days' vacation at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Constance Moulton of North Monson is visiting relatives in Nashua, N. H.

Miss Alberta Bridges of Roxbury is visiting Miss Sadie Lyons on South Main street.

Miss Anna Morris of Brockton is visiting at the home of J P McCarthy on Harrison avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Lull and Mrs. D. B. Needham have returned from a visit in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A Vaille of Bristol, Ct., are visiting at the home of H. D Vaille on East Hill.

Mary Fuller of Main street and Miss Sylvia Fuller of Lincoln street are visiting in Boston.

Charles E Moulton of Brookfield is visiting at the home of A. E Shaw on Park street.

Misses Mary G and Ella K Hughes of South Main street are visiting relatives in Watertown.

Mrs. Griffin of Philadelphia, Pa , is visiting her mother, Mrs Sarah Aldrich on Main street.

Miss Nellie Squires and Robert Squires of Green street are spending a few days at Pigeon Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ginty of Cambridge are visiting at the home of P. Scannell on Bridge street.

The Palmer Grange held a basket picnic at the farm of E. M. Walker on East Hill Thursday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. Gleason of Warren are visiting at the home of G. H. Norcross on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Metcalf of New Haven, Ct , are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Bliss.

Misses Irene and Alecque Murphy of Hartford, Ct , are visiting Miss Katherine Murphy on Bliss street.

Miss Marie Donovan of Newport, N H., a former resident, is visiting Miss Grace Sullivan on State street.

S M. Stebbins has bought out the milk business of A. H Burdick. He will take possession September 1st.

A concrete sidewalk six feet wide will be put in in front of the new Mechanic street school building.

George L. Cushman, who has been visiting his mother on Fountain street, has returned to Philadelphia.

Thomas Melbourne has moved his family into the house vacated by Daniel Harrington on South Main street.

The banns of marriage of Miss Mary Barry and Michael Crowley, both of this town, have been published.

Miss Virginia M. Charles of Richmond, Va , is a guest at the home of G. F. Holdridge on South Main street.

Miss E. R. Holmes, Miss Hattie Cushman and Miss Wingate are spending a few days at Jamestown, R I.

Sheriff and Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald, who have been visiting in town, have returned to their home in Northampton.

Miss Myrtle Johnson of Northfield is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johnson on South Main street.

William Hanson, who has been visiting his mother on Hampden avenue, has returned to his home in Maynard.

Edward Rogers, who has been visiting at the home of John Curley on Harrison avenue, has returned to Brighton.

Miss Gladys M. Lull of Lincoln street has returned from a vacation spent with friends in New York and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brien of Troy, N. Y., are visiting Mr. O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Mary Mahar on Hampden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrick, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Banford and Mrs. Lysander Nevins have returned from a trip to Revere.

Principal and Mrs. H. F. Dewing of High street, who have been spending the summer at Nantucket, have returned to their home here.

Thomas Hilla. and Miss Elizabeth Hillard, who have been visiting relatives in New Haven, Ct., have returned to their home on Stewart avenue.

Miss Alice Speight, who has been visiting at the home of W. J. McDonald on North Main street, has returned to her home in East Longmeadow.

Miss Ruth Keeney, who has been spending the summer in Germany, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L Keeney on Pease avenue.

Harry Needham, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Needham on Fonntain street, has returned from Pleasure View, New London, Ct.

Miss Mabel Fuller of Lincoln street has accepted a position as teacher in the Holland public schools. She will begin her duties at the opening of the school year.

Mrs. E R Rathburn and Miss Mattie Bowen, who have been visiting at the home of D H. Barnes on Main street, have returned to their home in Rockland, R. I.

Miss Alice Waterhouse and Miss Florence Parmerlee, who have been visiting Mrs. J. L. Calkins, have returned to their respective homes in Concord, N. H., and Springfield.

Hector Aldrich of South Monson was taken to the Springfield hospital late Wednesday afternoon, and was operated upon for appendicitis Wednesday night. He is doing well

The bridge whist party which was to have been held at the Quaboag Country club house last Wednesday evening was postponed for one week. The same committee will be in charge.

Supt. of Schools F. A Wheeler has received word that Miss Dorothy Hill will be unable to take up her duties as teacher of the East Hill school, as she has been taken suddenly ill with appendicitis. Miss Helen Leonard has been appointed teacher in the Childs' district.

Gilbert Always Remembered.

This Gilbert story reaches me from an old Harrovian, says a writer in the Manchester Guardian. In 1872 the people of the town got up theatricals to raise funds for a hospital. Dr. Butler, the head master, said he would not allow the school to go unless the pieces were first submitted to him. One was Gilbert's "Palace of Truth." In it is a passage in which the hero says to the heroine, "Meet me at 9 o'clock tonight outside the garden gate." Dr. Butler retoed this and substituted, "Meet me at 3 o'clock this afternoon." This seemed to him more decorous. Some years after Gilbert was invited to the Harrow speeches. In reply to the toast of his health he said, "I am very much interested in visiting Harrow, for as far as I know it is the only place in the world where a line of mine has ever been condemned as improper." Great consternation prevailed—all the greater because no one except the speaker and one other person, who was just leaving Harrow in 1872, knew what he meant. It was not Gilbert's way to forget these things.

Somewhat Absentminded.

Some amusing glimpses of the discoverer of chloroform are given in the "Recollections of Lady Priestly," wife of Simpson's assistant at the time of the discovery. "The professor," she writes, "used to make his experiments with chloroform on us girls, and with some of the liquid just poured on a handkerchief would have half a dozen of us lying about in various stages of sleep. Our mother feared nothing and was only too delighted to sacrifice, if unavoidable, a daughter or two to science! * * * He was extremely absentminded. I remember once lunching at his house when he had just arrived from some antiquarian expedition. The butler, who had been unpacking his things, came in and said confidentially, 'Doctor, you have left all your flannel vests behind!' 'Ah! Oh!' replied Simpson, feeling himself all over. 'I've got them all on.'"—Pall Mall Gazette.

Her Hold.

"So he married a manicurist?"

"Yes."

"Is he happy?"

"I'm afraid not. He complains that she has quit holding his hand and wants to confine herself exclusively to holding the pocketbook."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Measure of His Intelligence.

Fido's Mistress (sobbing)—I've lost my dog—my sweet little innocent pet! Friend—I'm so sorry. Have you put an advertisement in the newspaper? Fido's Mistress—Oh, what would be the use? The poor darling doesn't know how to read!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

THE PRACTICAL WINNER

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

When the American troops were fighting their way across Cuba, Captain Timberlake, commanding a party of skirmishers, noticed a coffin lying not far from the road.

That evening in camp Captain Timberlake was chatting upon the events of the day with the adjutant and the major of his regiment, talking about who had been killed, who wounded, how the Spaniards fought and how they had the advantage of the Americans in the matter of arms and smokeless powder, when Timberlake spoke of the strange sight of a coffin lying beside the road.

If men have not the curiosity of women, and the statement has been denied by the latter, they have a trait equally peculiar. Men, especially those who lead eventful lives, are prone to bet about everything which is a matter of opinion or hazard. The question came up between these officers whether there was a corpse in the coffin or whether there was not. One of the party had noticed a cemetery on the way not far from the line of march and suggested that a funeral had been interrupted by the fight, the mourners had fled and the coffin spilled out of the hearse. There was doubtless an unburied corpse in it.

Now, the outcome of this suggestion did not result, as might have been expected, in the burial of a corpse, but a bet. The major made the suggestion, and Captain Timberlake offered to bet him $10 even that the coffin was empty.

The stakes having been put up, Captain Timberlake called Pat Mulcahey, a recruit picked up just before leaving the States, and told him to go back half a mile and look out not far from a bridge over a creek for a coffin. He was to discover whether it contained a corpse or whether it was empty.

A full moon stood about an hour high and made all nearly as light as day. A desultory firing was still going on, but had nearly died out. Pat crossed the bridge and about a hundred yards beyond saw the moonlight reflected from a number of points on the brass ornaments on the coffin. Pat went on till he got near enough to see what the object was, then stopped. A coffin probably with a dead body in it at night in a lonely spot did not appeal to him. He was wondering how he could determine what he had been ordered to discover without getting any closer to the casket when the lid seemed to lift of itself, and the moon lighted up a white face.

"Howly mother!" cried Pat, crossing himself, and, turning, beat a hasty retreat. Reaching the other side of the creek, he paused for another look behind him. What he saw froze the marrow in his bones. The corpse was coming with its coffin on its shoulder.

Pat tried to run, but for a time his legs refused to carry him. It was only when the specter reached the hither side of the bridge and seemed to be coming right down on him that his terror had a different effect, and with a howl he set off like the wind for camp.

Captain Timberlake, the major and the others were sitting in a circle waiting for the decision of the bet when Pat approached. As he drew near them the soldier reasserted itself, and he slowed his steps till he came down to a walk. Approaching the group, he saluted.

"Well, Pat," said his commander, "who has won?"

"If ye plaze, sir, what's the bet?"

"The major bets the coffin has a corpse in it. I bet that it is empty."

"The corpse was in it when I wint there, and now it's out of it."

"What do you mean?"

"The corpse got out when I was lookin' at the coffin, and now he's comin' with it on his shoulder."

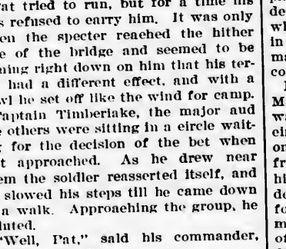
There was a burst of laughter.

"Oi got me pay in me pocket," pulling out a roll of bills. "Oi'll bet it all that he is."

Several men standing about, ready to take advantage of the greenhorn, covered his money 10 to 1. The bets had barely been made when a man with a coffin on his shoulder approached and asked half in Spanish and half in English where he could get a pass.

There was another burst of laughter.

The captain looked around for Pat. He was nowhere to be seen.



"I've won and Pat has won," said Timberlake. "Now we'll hear th's man's story. But first let me tell you something I happen to know. The poor class of Cubans hire coffins for their dead. The body is placed in the coffin before the funeral and taken to the cemetery in it. There it is removed and buried without any covering. Since the lid is not screwed down they use hinges. This man was not going to a funeral; he was carrying the casket away from a cemetery after the corpse had been taken out of it."

"You are right," said the Cuban. "I was carrying the coffin from the cemetery when the battle began. To escape the bullets I lifted the lid and got inside. I stayed there till the firing had nearly died away, when I proceeded on my journey. But now there are soldiers everywhere, and I would like a pass to get home."

He was sent (leaving his load till his return) to headquarters, where he secured his pass.

Pat was the chief winner, all bets being decided in his favor.

Fruit of Trouble.

"A scientist says that Adam's apple is the cause of insanity."

"It hasn't caused half as much trouble as the apple that Eve had."

Brainy Ants.

Ants have larger brains in proportion to the size of their bodies than any other living creatures.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

LOVE FOR PASTIME

By RUTH GRAHAM

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Whether in the main we are retrograding or improving, there is one matter in which men have been steadily growing better. That is in their treatment of women. Half a century ago among young men of the world there was not the high sense of honor in the treatment of women there is now.

In the days of palatial steamboats, as they were called, on the Mississippi Roland Storms, traveling between St. Louis and New Orleans, met on the boat Adele Southwood, a young girl seventeen years old. Storms, who was ten years Miss Southwood's senior, had considered making a "conquest" now and then one of those accomplishments that was to be expected of a young swell of the period. To him love was a game in which all was fair. If beaten at it he would have considered that nothing remained for him but to take the consequences. If he beat the girl it was her part to grin and bear it.

Miss Southwood was not only ignorant of such warfare, but was a girl of deep feeling. She and Storms would sit on the guards during the day looking out upon the ever changing panorama, now passing under some high bluff, now sailing above the surrounding lowlands on a river built up by the levées. In the evening they would go up on to the hurricane deck, watching the lights on the shore go by and, when the boat stopped to "wood up," looking down on the line of deck hands in the glare of pitch pine knots transferring a wood pile to the boat for fuel.

All this was new to Miss Southwood, and what was not only new but much more fascinating to an impressible girl was having a young man in constant attendance, saying pleasant things to her one moment, talking seriously the next and finally laughing at her for being so matter of fact. In this way he kept her in a puzzled state as to whether a mature man was really falling in love with her, a chit of a girl, or whether he considered her merely a child. Storms before reaching the Crescent City talked love to her—such love as pertains to the emotions without any pro sale refereuces to marriage. But she was too unsophisticated to consider this. To her it was spontaneous love, something she had never experienced before and the more serious features of which were still a blank to her.

At New Orleans the two parted, Miss Southwood to remain there for the winter, which was coming on, Mr. Storms going by the gulf of Mexico to Texas. The young girl considered that the event of her life had occurred, the young man that a pleasant episode had occurred to relieve the tedium of steamboat travel. This is what he considered it at the time. He did not know that a seed had been planted in his heart which was not destined to germinate for a long while. He knew that this case was in some respects different from his many other affairs, but he did not consider it any more serious.

It was four years before he met Miss Southwood again. He was walking on the principal street of Cincinnati, swinging a cane, a "beaver" on his head, a velvet collar on his frock coat, a profusion of cravat on his bosom, his tight trousers strapped down over his instep, in short, dressed for a swell of the period, when he met, incased in a diminutive bonnet of pink silk, one of the sweetest faces he had ever beheld. It belonged to a lady about twenty-one years old, and she was looking at him intently. In an instant he recognized the girl he had flirted with on the Mississippi and jilted at New Orleans.

Naturally he was embarrassed. There was no expression in Miss Southwood's face sufficiently defined for him to tell how she felt toward him. He stopped to speak to her, standing uncovered, and asked if he might walk with her. Receiving permission, he joined her, stammering things to her which she, on her part, received with composure. She had been through the agony of getting over a first love and a first jilt, and he could see no traces of suffering, of reproach or of forgiveness. All seemed to be neutralized or, rather, fused into an absolute nothingness.

Storms walked with her some ten minutes, at first trying to regain his equipoise, then to discover some indication of the young lady's feelings toward him. In the latter he failed. But since there was no indication of unfriendliness he made bold to hint that he would like to renew the acquaintance. Before parting Miss Southwood invited him to come to see her the next afternoon at 2 o'clock. He accepted, and they parted.

At the appointed hour Storms, having summoned up all his will power, courage, adroitness to win again and win to keep what he had won and thrown away, went to call on Miss Southwood. He found a number of guests present, and a few minutes after his entrance the lady stood up to be married.

This was Roland Storms' last affair of the heart. He never took any interest in another, for he never recovered from this one. He died a bachelor and an old man.

Since that day, while youth is the same and affairs of the heart are the same, what would have then been considered a feather in a fashionable young man's cap is now held to be dishonorable.

A Bride and Her Dowry.

The first colonial mint was established in 1612, but it worked only in brass. Forty years later Massachusetts entered upon the business of coining money.

The Pine Tree shilling is not only a part of the history, but of the romance of the colonies as well. The officers of the mint, or perhaps it would be better to say the mill, from which it was issued were John Hull and Robert Saunderson. They coined for the colony, but exacted a toll for their work, just as the man who ground grain for his neighbors was wont to do. Their profits were said to be enormous, and more than once it was suggested that a new arraugement should be made. They were satisfied, however, to keep at it in the old way.

After John Hill's daughter had been married to Samuel Sewell the old mint master invited all the wedding guests into one of the rooms of his house, where he instructed his daughter to get on to an improvised platform at the end of a pair of steelyards. In a tub at the other side the old man poured Pine Tree shillings until the scales balanced. "There, Sam," he said, "take her and her dowry. It's not every bride that's worth her weight in silver."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A DIPLOMATIC MISSION

By MARJORIE CLOUGH

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Count," said the minister of foreign affairs to a young diplomat who had entered his service, "I wish you to get ready to leave Berlin tonight. Changes have occurred in China affecting the German, French and English interests there. If we recall England before the French cabinet can send an emissary England will act with us, for we can so represent the matter that it will appear to be to her interest to do so. If France is ahead of us England's action will be reversed. Here is a suit case containing all the papers you will need. Go at once to London and, without waiting to make a toilet, thence to the foreign office in Downing street. Endeavor to make the minister commit himself before you leave him."

Count Otto von Holwig left Berlin on the evening train for Ostend, intending to cross the English channel at that point. On the same train was a lady who, on coming to one of the main stops, alighted from her car and, passing along toward the rear, looking in at the open doors, finally entered the compartment occupied by the ambassador. She took a seat and threw her head back on to the cushion with every appearance of suffering.

Besides Von Holwig there were two men and a woman in the compartment, all of whom cast glances toward and appeared to take an interest in the suffering woman. She held her handkerchief to her face so that they could not see what she looked like and now and again emitted a low groan. The other woman in the compartment asked if she could do anything for her, but the invalid without speaking repulsed her by a wave of the hand.

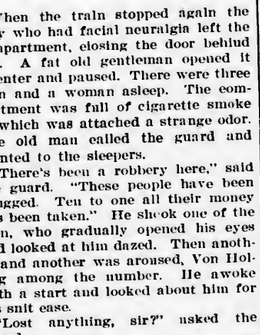
Presently the sufferer started up and exclaimed, "It's all gone!" The men noticed that she was beautiful, and the smile she wore was a winning change from the evidences of agony she had given vent to. "And now," she added, "I must explain to you good people. I am a sufferer from facial neuralgia. When one of the attacks leaves me I need a bracer." She took a gold mounted flask from a bag and several tiny glasses. Filling one of the glasses, she handed it to one of the men, who took it. Then, filling another glass, she handed it to the next man, who tried to beg off. But a certain winning, dominating force that was about her prevailed. The next man she offered a drink was Von Holwig. He declined, and the lady could not persuade him. She then gave a glass to her woman fellow passenger, who after a fruitless effort to put it aside accepted it.

After all who held glasses had emptied them the lady brought out a box of cigarettes, which she likewise passed around. This also the count refused. But the lady gave him a look as if to accuse him of insulting her by this second refusal, and he gave in.

When the train stopped again the lady who had facial neuralgia left the compartment, closing the door behind her. A fat old gentleman opened it to enter and paused. There were three men and a woman asleep. The compartment was full of cigarette smoke to which was attached a strange odor. The old man called the guard and pointed to the sleepers.

"There's been a robbery here," said the guard. "These people have been drugged. Ten to one all their money has been taken." He shook one of the men, who gradually opened his eyes and looked at him dazed. Then another and another was aroused, Von Holwig among the number. He awoke with a start and looked about him for his suit case.

"Lost anything, sir?" asked the guard.



Von Holwig, white as a sheet, did not reply for some time, then answered, "No." He knew that he had been tricked by a woman and did not propose to give away state secrets. He left the car, sat down on a bench and tried to recover from both the effect of the drug he had smoked and the ruin of his career as a diplomat.

On the boat at Ostend on which passengers were gathering to cross the channel to Dover a gentleman stood looking anxiously up the way that led to the steamer. Now and again he would take out his watch impatiently and note the time. But five minutes remained before the boat would start, and the gentleman had given a sigh, indicating that some one he was looking for would not come, when a cab, the driver lashing his horse, came galloping down the street. The gentleman hurried to the dock and handed out a lady, who held in her hand a suit case.

"Good," he said. "You have won, and you shall have your reward. Go to Paris and report that your mission was successful, and there is good reason to believe that upon the foundation you have laid I shall be able to bring England to our views."

The next morning before dawn M. Cavier, representing the French government, drew up before the London residence of the secretary for foreign affairs, called him out of bed and announced that certain affairs in China required his immediate attention. The secretary discussed the matter in a dressing gown, and the French ambassador when he left carried with him the assurance that such orders as he desired would be issued.

This Is Barbarous.

Customer—Hurrah! Everybody will be playing football now.

Barber (not so enthusiastic)—Yes; no hair cuts and everybody using safety razors.

Presence of Mind.

He—Our love is opposed and we are destined to be unhappy all our lives. Let's commit suicide and die together. She—All right, darling. I couldn't live without you. He—How shall we do it? She—Don't you think ice cream ptomaines would be about the quickest way?—Burlington News.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

The August Furniture Sale

Fourth Week of Unrivaled Value-Giving

Three weeks of extraordinary selling have only served to show the strength of this great movement of good furniture. Its resources are by no means exhausted. Assortments are still notably complete. Many new bargains have been added from day to day and this week brings more.

Below We Feature Some of the Remarkable Values Such as Have Made This Springfield's Greatest Home Furnishing Event

By reason of a manufacturer being overstocked with fancy ticking we have secured the greatest bargain in White Cotton Felt Mattresses ever put on the market, and now offer these

Regular $9 White Cotton Felt Mattresses, $5.98

Made in one or two parts.

$2.25 Golden Oak Box Seat Dining Chairs, at $1.59

One of the most remarkable values we have ever known. Chairs of good design, in golden oak, with caned box seat. A splendid value at $2 25. August Sale Special $1.59.

$3.00 Leather Slip-Seat Dining Chairs, $1.98

Think of it—Dining Chairs with genuine leather slip-seats, a value never sold under $3.00, we offer in the August Sale for $1.98.

New Arrivals in Nobby Parlor Suits

$45.00 Value for $32.75

These are excellent suits and the workmanship is first class. Made with either loose or spring cushions. $45.00 is the usual price for suits of this character. In the August Sale they are $32.75.

4th Floor

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.

Ooping the Baby.

"At the first sign of an attempt to standardize and sterilize the babies," says Ellis Parker Butler in Success Magazine, "I organized the Fond Fathers' Oop-de-baby Association of America. For thousands of years fathers have been permitted to oop-de-baby unrestrained, and this right was one of the first rights attacked by the advocates of the automatic baby. I considered it a double blow at the baby and at the father and resented it as such. If a father may not oop his own baby, what is the world coming to? Ooping a baby is a father's greatest pleasure. It is the act of grasping the baby under the arms, tossing the baby into the air and catching it on its down trip, while the words "Oop-de-baby!" are repeated at each toss. This is repeated until the baby is hysterical or drops on the floor by accident. It is then handed to its mother."

Bones Stronger Than Oak.

The wonderful power of bone structure has been tested scientifically to show how that hollow bone bears strain. A very small bone, only one square millimeter (.0155 square inch) in diameter, will hold thirty-three pounds in suspension without breaking, while a piece of the best oak of the same thickness will hold up only twenty-two pounds. The bone is therefore half again as strong as the solid oak, thus showing that nature is economical in the weight given to bones, making them hollow and at the same time makes them stronger than if they were solid and much heavier. This principle has been recognized in mechanics, engineers using hollow steel tubes instead of solid to meet great strain.—New York World.

Tobacco In Vienna.

"They have a way of asking a stranger when he comes to Vienna," says a letter from that city, "'Who is the largest, the most reliable, the smallest, the best and the worst dealer in cigars and cigarettes in Vienna?' Of course the stranger does not know the answer, and the native tells him triumphantly, 'The government.' The government has the monopoly, and every person employed in a tobacco shop—they call them 'trafik'—is a government employe."

The First Phenix.

Legend tells us that the first phenix was born in the garden of Eden and had its nest in a great red rose, the first rose that ever bloomed. When the angel drove Adam and Eve out of paradise a spark of fire fell from the angel's fiery sword and burned up the phenix and his nest. Out of the ashes sprang a glorious bird, which also lived 500 years before mysteriously burning itself, at every recurrence of which a new phenix is said to arise.

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, croup, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

HELP THE KIDNEYS.

Palmer Readers Are Learning the Way.

It's the little kidney ills—

The lame, weak or aching back—

The unnoticed urinary disorders—

That lead to dropsy and Bright's disease.

When the kidneys are sick.

Help them with Doan's Kidney Pills.

A remedy especially for sick kidneys.

Doan's have been curing kidney troubles for 75 years.

Endorsed by 50,000 people endorsed at home.

Proof in a Palmer citizen's statement.

Mrs. Joseph Fisher, 298 S. Main St., Palmer, says: "I was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and often my back and head ached intensely, showing that my kidneys were disordered. I also had difficulty with the kidney secretion. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at Lynde and Gould's Drug Store soon restored me to good health and at that time I publicly endorsed them. I take pleasure at the present time in confirming my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

The Elm Tree Beetle and the Gas Company

Attention is continually being directed, by the daily papers, to the devastation of trees and foliage in this locality by the GYPSY MOTH, BROWN TAIL MOTH, ELM TREE BEETLE and other pestiferous insects.

THE GAS COMPANY respectfully requests notice in writing at the time blight on trees or shrubbery is observed in order that an inspection may be made, otherwise it will CONTEST ALL CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE, as our expert has proved conclusively that many cases where GAS POISONING was claimed the trees were killed by insects, winter cold, drouth and the growth of malignant fungi.

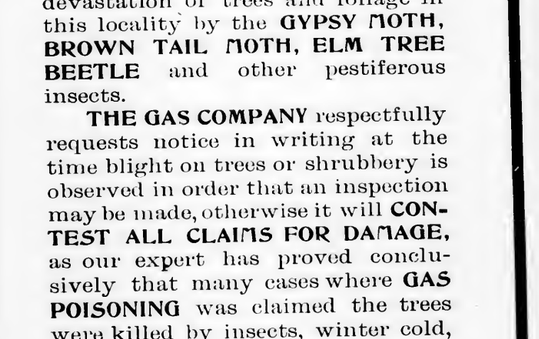
After examination THE GAS COMPANY will present their expert's report, gratuitously, so that proper measures may be taken to protect the trees or foliage affected.

WORCESTER COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

USE GAS

For

Lighting, Heating and Cooking



No Dirt—No Waste—No Smell

Worcester County Gas Company

Office

Allen Block Palmer, Mass.

Household Hints.

OVEN STEAMED BROWN BREAD.

This is a brown bread made without rye meal and the recipe will be useful when there is nothing but corn meal and flour on hand. Mix one cup of corn meal with one cup of flour and one level teaspoon of salt; dissolve one level teaspoon of soda in two teaspoons of water and add to one-half cup of molasses; stir into the meal and flour, then add one and two-thirds cups of milk. Beat until smooth; fill a round greased mold that has a tightly fitting cover and steam four hours.

Corn meal should always be well cooked; if the batter seems thin, remember that corn meal swells and do not add more, because it would make the bread hard and dry. Some cooks oven-steam their brown bread. Fill the mold, cover closely and set it inside a large lard pail; fill two-thirds of the space with boiling water and set in the oven for four hours. Although some recipes recommend drying off steamed bread in the oven, it gives a hard crust and is not desirable. If pound baking powder tins are used for molds, half the time will be long enough for steaming either in a kettle or in the oven.

ALICE E. WHITAKER.

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE

May Try For New Sewer.

Residents along Main street who are interested in the present unusable condition of the sewer through that street are contemplating having an article in the warrant for the special town meeting—if one is called—asking that something be done to remedy the conditions. A portion of the sewer runs up hill and cannot he used, much to the annoyance of abutting property owners.

Mrs. Malcolm McKenzie is entertaining relatives from Pawtucket, R. I.

Mrs. Mary A. Thayer entertained her nephew from Springfield Sunday.

John Gebo returned this week from a visit to his old home town, Colrain.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Blabop left this week for a stay at Niantic Beach, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McKelligott entertained friends from Palmer Tuesday.

Miss Julia Lynch has returned from a visit with relatives in New York city.

Master John Healey has returned from a visit with relatives in New York state.

Miss Nellie O'Keefe has returned from a vacation with her sister in Chester, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCrea left Wednesday for a vacation ont of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis and children are enjoying a vacation at the seashore.

John E. Manley and Miss Alice Bengle visited friends in Indian Orchard Sunday.

Mrs. Snay, a former resident, now of Holyoke, visited friends here on Wednesday.

A new boiler has been installed in the grammar school building, replacing the old one.

Eugene Colton of Holyoke visited here at the home of Mrs. K. T. Loftus the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Keir entertained Palmer friends at their home on Commercial street Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Riley and daughter of Springfield visited Mr. Riley's mother on Sunday.

Miss Lillian Shea of Amherst, who bas been visiting Mrs. Fanny Andrews, has returned home.

Master Webber of Easthampton was a gnest this week of his annt, Mrs. E. F. McKelligott.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Shaw of Palmer were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Keir Sunday.

Misses Katherine and Nellie Fleming have returned from a week's vacation at Revere Beach.

Mr. Dickinson, the new station agent, has moved into the Isaac Gerald property on Summer street.

H. E. W. Clark and Myles Gerald are attending the G. A. R. encampment in Rochester, N. Y.

The Palmers will cross hats with the home team to-morrow afternoon on the church grounds.

Miss Jane Walker, a former resident, now of Worcester, is a gnest of her niece Mrs. Fred Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lapane are entertaining friends from ont of town at their home on Main street.

The mills of the Thorndike company will be shut down from to-morrow noon until after Labor Day.

Mrs. E. H. Gay of Providence, R. I., is visiting at the bome of Mrs. Fanny Andrews on Main street.

Mrs. H. E. W. Clark and daughter, Miss Genevra, are visiting relatives in the eastern part of the state.

Anthony Tybuski is soon to open a clothing store in Bond's building, corner Commercial and Main streets.

Fred O. Carter has resumed his work as clerk in Clark's market after several days' absence on account of illness.

Mrs. Arthur Davies of Springfield was the gnest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Talmadge, this week.

Dennis F. Leary returned Tuesday after a two-weeks' stay at Revere with his brother, Daniel of Waterbnry, Ct.

Miss Louise Madison of Chicago and friend are visiting relatives near Forest Lake for the month of September.

The St. Mary's Temperance Society ball team defeated the Ware Outlaw Athletic team Saturday by a score of 18 to 15.

Miss Katherine Holden has resnmed her work in the office of the Thorndike Co. after a two-weeks' vacation at the beach.

Miss Eveline Bengle has returned home after spending several weeks with relatives in Indian Orchard and Gilbertville.

The Thorndike Co. have installed a large new safe in their mill office to replace the one wrecked a few weeks ago by burglars.

Malcolm McKenzie, who has been enjoying a trip of several weeks abroad, is expected to arrive home within a few days.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Decker and child of South Deerfield have been the guests of Mrs. Katherine Lawlor and family the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Keith returned this week from a visit of several months spent in Maine, New Brnnswick and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Trnmble of Springfield passed Sunday as gnests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Trnmble and Mrs. Dwyer and family.

Ducy & Keir have the contract to do the pinmbing and steam fitting for the new mill at Bondsville, owned by the Boston Duck Co.

Miss Agnes Kinneburg of Atlantic and Miss Agnes Fallow of Lowell are guests of Mrs. Malcolm McKenzie and family of Pine avenue.

Miss Grace Merrill, Miss Emma Keitb and Master Harold and Ernest Beals of Monterey are visiting friends on the Warren road.

Miss Catherine Dalley, employed in the office of the Central Mass. Electric Co. at Palmer, is passing a vacation among the Berkshire Hills.

Thomas Longtine Jr. and family are to move to High street to the house owned by William Sullivan and recently occnpied by C. E. Wendling.

Miss Agnes O'Keefe has returned from a two-weeks' vacation and has resnmed her work as cashier in Thompson's Drug Store, Springfield.

Misses Mary and Lora Lamery of Moosup, Ct., have been visiting here this week as guests of their brother, Jeremiah Lamery of Pine avenue.

The village was in darkness Sunday night for some reason, and it was anything but safe for pedestrians to try and get along on the sidewalks.

Miss Minnie Perranlt, who has been visiting her brother, Camile Perranlt, for about two months, will retnrn to her home in Montreal, Can., this week.

There was a large number from this place at Forest Lake Wednesday evening to witness the display of fireworks, which are said to be the best seen at the resort this season.

Miss Madeline Lyons will retnrn to her home in New Haven, Ct., after passing a vacation of several days in town as gnest of her aunts, Mrs M. C. Healey and Miss Nellie Crowley

Miss Lena Larkin and Miss Ford of Boston, who have been passing the summer here, retnrned home yesterday, being accompanied by Mrs. Daniel Sullivan and danghter of High street.

Mr. Brigham, manager of the Thorndike Grain Co., will sever his connection with that firm this week and will go at once to Worcester, where he is to engage in business on his own account.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wendling moved their household goods Monday to West Brookfield, where they are to live, Mr. Wendling having accepted a position with the New York Central railroad as station agent.

All places of business were closed yesterday to give the merchants and clerks an opportunity to attend the excursion to Newport and Boston. There was quite a delegation from Thorndike who took advantage of the trip to the beaches.

Michael Moynahan, who conducts a horse-shoeing business on Church street, is confined to his home as a result of injuries sustoined to his right knee while in the act of shoeing a horse. His injuries are snch that it will be some time before be is able to resume work.

Jason Keith, who is to conduct the store recently carried on by Mrs. A. P. Adams, is husy making extensive repairs on the interior. New electric lights have been installed, the store is to repainted and other changes made which will add materially to its appearance. Mr. Keith intends to be ready for business about Sept. 1st.

THREE RIVERS.

Dr. S. O. Miller spent Wednesday in Boston.

The Palmer Mill will close to-morrow for one week.

James Odell has resigned his position in the Palmer Mill.

Thomas Vennert has moved his family to the Overlook farm.

Miss Irene Daley is visiting relatives in West Warren this week.

S. H. Dupnis of East Main street visited friends in Lndlow Sunday.

James Anderson spent Saturday and Sunday at Winthrop Beach.

Mrs. Isaac Hnbert is ill with pnenmonia at her home on Baptist Hill.

Albert R. Jenks has returned home after an extended tonr in the West.

Mrs. M. K. Chamerlain and children spent Satnrday at Forest Park.

Mrs. C. B. McDnffee and children are spending the week ont of town.

Charles F. Tannehring of Springfield street spent yesterday in Beverly.

Nathan Kramer spent the last of the week with his family in Worcester.

Several from this village went on the excnrsion to Newport, R. I, Thursday.

Mrs. A. E. Allen left the first of the week for a visit with relatives in Maine.

J. H. Trickett spent Satnrday and Snnday with his family at Winthrop Beach.

A. F. Calkins, who has been ill this week at his home on Maple street, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Senecal of Springfield spent Sunday with relatives in this place.

Mrs. David Ritchie is entertaining her sister and daughter from Philadelphia this week.

Enos Abare of Worcester spent Sunday at the home of his mother on East Main street.

Matthew Horgan of Holyoke sent Snnday at the home of his parents on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parkhnrst of Athol street spent the latter part of the week in Boston.

Mrs. F. H. Calkins of North Wilbraham visited Tnesday at the home of her son, A. F. Calkins.

John Twiss of Springfield street has returned after a three-weeks' vacation at Revere Beach.

Miss Jessie Brnce of Everett is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brnce.

Miss Nellie Conroy of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of her parents on the Belchertown road.

The price of milk has taken a rise, it now being seven cents per quart. The former price was six cents.

Bradford Stone of the Wenimisset House spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Springfield.

The stores were closed all day yesterday to give the clerks an opportunity to attend the Boston excursion.

Mrs. M. K. Chamberlain and three children are visiting at the home of her mother in North Wilbraham.

Miss Eunice Horton of New Haven, Ct., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Horton, this week.

Mrs. Lewis Calkins of Baptist Hill, who was operated upon recently at the Springfield hospital, is improving.

Arrangements are being made for the Union church Sunday school picnic at Forest Lake next Wednesday.

Miss Martha Buzzell, principal of the grammar school, is spending the month at Plymonth and Woodstock, N. H.

Raymond W. Warriner of Springfield visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warriner, the first of the week.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society will hold a meeting in the vestry of the Union church Sunday afternoon at 3.

Mrs. Marjorie Chisholm and little son of Everett are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce.

Mrs. R. Burlingame has returned to her home on Baptist Hill after a four-weeks' stay at the home of her brother in Springfield.

James Anderson will leave to-morrow for Winthrop Beach, where he will join his family, who have been spending the week there.

Mrs. W. H. Bliss and danghter Wilberta of Shrewsbury are visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P C. Story on Maple street.

The Misses Margaret, Lizzie, Rachael and Sarah Gates of Maynard have been the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Sarah J. Fenton, this week.

Miss Eva Bryans of Monson has returned to her home after spending several weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. S. J. Fenton on Springfield street.

Dr. William E. Tannebring, who has been spending the snmmer at his home on Springfield street, left Tuesday for Beverly, where he has opened a dental office.

BONDSVILLE.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

St. Bartholomew's Society Makes Good On First Attempt.

The lawn party of St. Bartholomew's society closed Thnrsday evening of last week after a most snccessfnl two-nights' sale and entertainment. This was the first attempt of the society in this line and the success was greater than anticipated. The singing Thnrsday evening by John J. Donahne of Palmer was very much enjoyed. The several articles which were to he awarded went to the following: Amethyst rosary beads, John J. Snllivan; $5 gold piece, John Griffin; napkins, Jerry Spillaine; barrel of flour, Miss Mildred Snllivan; shirtwaist pattern, Miss Nellie G Shea; gent's nmbrella, Edward Bowler, Northampton; shawl, M. F. Snllivan; oil stove, Miss Maud LaCrosse; centerpiece, Charlie Donovan; bread-mixer, Mrs. Josslyn.

Death of an Aged Resident.

James Shea of Sonth Belchertown died Friday of liver tronble at the age of 67 He had been a resident of Belchertown for 33 years, living for many years on a farm in the eastern part of the town, and coming to Sonth Belchertown abont eight years ago. He leaves five children, William Shea of Springfield, Mrs. George Jackson of Belchertown, Michael Shea of Springfield, Miss Nellie, a teacher in the public schools of Belchertown, who with her brother Peter reside in the home. The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Bartholomew's church, with solemn requiem high mass, Rev. Thomas Kennedy officiating. The bearers were nephews of the deceased: James Snllivan, Daniel Snllivan, James Gloster, Maurice Gloster, Patrick Gloster and Thomas Gloster. Burial was in the cemetery at Thorndike.

Macadam Road Begun.

The work of macademizing the surface of Main street has begnn. This is in compliance with an appropriation of $1000 for new work which was made at the town meeting in the spring.

Mrs. Kate O'Conaor spent Sunday in Ware.

Frank York is very ill at his home in this village.

Mr. Vahey entertained Sunday a friend from Boston.

There will be no services in the M. E. church Sunday.

Guy LaFlenr of Chicopee was a gnest Saturday of friends.

The Methodist church is receiving its second coat of paint.

John Manning of Springfield spent Snnday with relatives here.

Miss Ruth Stewart is visiting her grandparents in Anburn, Me.

William Alhro retnrned Sunday from a week's outing in Hartford.

Mrs. John Dustin spent Sunday with her danghter, Mrs. Clayton Cole.

Miss Elsie Woolard is the guest of Mrs. C. N. Shaw in Brooklyn, N. Y.

David Rose of Chicopee Falls is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rose.

Miss Katherine Morlarty spent Snnday with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sears.

Mr. and Mrs. William Honle were guests of Mrs. Mary Fantenx over Sunday.

George Ragett of Athol spent Thnrsday with his sister, Mrs. Harry Randall.

John Quirk and daughter, Miss Anna of Ware, visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Morse spent Satnrday and Snnday with friends in Belchertown.

Miss Luella Lewarren of New Bedford is a gnest of Mr. and Mrs. V. C Faunce.

Mrs. Oliver Shannon of Springfield was a gnest Tuesday of Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Charles Potter of Springfield was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Albro.

Michael Morlarty bas resigned his position in Michael Sullivan's grocery store.

Miss Sarah Thompson of Palmer was a recent gnest of her uncle, C. H. Banister.

Miss Lnln Austin is a guest of her uncle, Daniel O'Connor, in South Hadley Falls.

Mrs. Gowen and danghter of Medway are visiting her mother, Mrs Mary Fantenx

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Holden and two sons visited relatives in Northampton Sunday.

Miss Alice Thompson of Boston is a gnest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Banister.

John Fitzgerald of Springfield spent Sunday with his father, David Fitzgerald.

Charles Fanteaux bas retnrned from a week's vacation at Boston and Dorchester.

A. Vermette has moved his family to the house recently occupied by the late H. M. Ives.

W. H. Morse and danghter Gladys spent Sunday with Mrs. C. L. Warner in Belchertown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hall of Springfield were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Albro.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Conway retnrned Saturday from their vacation at Winthrop Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bray of Florence were gnests Sunday of Mr and Mrs. C. D. Holden.

Mrs. George Bray of Stafford, Ct., spent Tuesday with her danghter, Mrs. C. D. Holden.

Harold Alhro, who has been spending the summer in Wardsboro, Vt., returned home Tuesday.

Miss Mary Sears of Hartford was a guest Friday of the Misses Marguerite and Ella Hannifin.

Mrs. Mary Odell of Three Rivers has moved her family to one of R. L Bond's tenements.

Mrs. Charles Collis was a gnest yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Talmadge of Springfield.

Miss Marion Alhro went yesterday to Springfield to spend a week with friends and relatives.

Mrs. W. H. Morse was a gnest the first of the week of Mrs. Homer Shaw in Three Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gloster and baby of Holyoke were gnests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gloster.

Michael Collins Jr., who has been spending a week at the home of his parents, has returned to Holyoke.

Miss Helen Fosket, who has been the guest of Miss Alice Banister, has returned to her home in Enfield.

Miss Marion Alhro, who has been spending two weeks at Brewster on Cape Cod, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce and danghter Bernice went Sunday to Williamsburg, where they visited friends.

Mrs Michael Collins, who has been seriously ill with erysipelas, is improving rapidly and able to be around the house.

Miss Katie Sullivan is taking a vacation from her duties as clerk for C. S. Holden, and Miss Edna Taylor is taking her place.

The stores closed yesterday, and many besides the clerks took advantage of the cheap-rate excnrsion to visit Boston and vicinity.

Misses Carrie and Addie Walker of Nashna, N. H., who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Green, went to-day to Charlton.

Mrs. C. N. Shaw and son, Charles Jr., have retnrned to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., after a visit with her friend, Mrs. E E Woolard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy and family, who have been visiting Joe Fiaherty and family, have returned to their home in Woonsocket, R. I.

The station at the Boston and Maine depot is receiving a much-needed painting, both inside and ontside, which has greatly improved its appearance.

Mrs. John McCnrn and son John, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. William Snllivan and son John of Holyoke were guests Tnesday of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Collins.

Charles Billings, who has been for several months in Greenfield, bas finished work there and is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings.

Mrs. John Manning and four children, who have been spending the past month with her mother, Mrs Julia Quirk, returned Snnday to her home in Springfield

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings entertained over Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Chicopee Falls, Miss Nellie Robinson of Barre, Mrs. John Rohinson of Chicopee Falls.

Mrs. George Monlton, who has been spending the summer at LaGrange, Me, returned home yesterday. She was accompanied by her son, George Monlton Jr., of Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Girouard entertained Sunday Ned Lagrande of Granby, Walter Langiven of East Jeffries, N H, Mrs. James Hearn and Miss Ellen Hearn of Worcester and Mr. and Mrs. Osie Girouard and two children, George and Elizabeth of Indian Orchard.

The schools in this village will commence Sept. 5 with the following corps of teachers: Miss Jennie Twiss, grades eight and nine; Miss Lucy Fitzgerald, six and seven; Miss Marie West, four and five; Miss Cora Clark, three and four; Miss Rena Hemingway, two; Miss Helen Henderson, one.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time reqnired by the nsnal treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes snch injuries to heal without matnration. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

How Pat Was Working When Eileen Arrived

A Labor Day Story

By NORA C. M'CARTHY

Copyright by American Press Association. 1911.

"Pat, said Eileen when Pat started for America, "I hope you won't git mixed up in the labor troubles in that country. They say sometimes there's fightin', and Oi'm skeert ov yer gittin kilt."

"Niver moind, sweetheart, Oi'll take good care o' meself ag'in yer comin' over to jine me and we'll be married and live in a nice little shanty and have a pig and a goat and five lolke little folk."

"But they say, Pat, that in America they don't have pigs. Anyway, they don't keep 'em in the house. Oi've heard that the pigs is all kep' together and killed together—sometoimes a mather of thirty or a dozen at one killin'."

"That won't mather to us. We'll have one just to remind us of home. And we'll have the shanty Oi'm tellin' ye about wid the ladder goin' up to the second story"—

"Och, Pat, they don't have ladders in America, they have stairs."

"Well, we'll have a ladder in our shanty just as we'll have the pig. And hy that same token we'll have a coo for milk."

"But Oi'm told people don't keep coos of their own in that country. All the milk is put in a big tub and it's peddled out in wagons."

"But we'll have the coo for the same raison we'll have the pig and the ladder, to remoind us of our beautiful Island and the home one couldn't have in it, because we're too poor. But in America Oi'll git together the money for the shanty and the pig and the ladder and the coo, and we'll live like fightin' cocks."

So Pat folded the poor girl in his arms, the tears streaming down her cheeks at parting with him.

"What's the mather, darlin'?" he said, patting her fondly. "Don't be cryin'. It'll not be long before I sind ye the money to come over to me, and be the toime ye git there Oi'll have the shanty ready, so ye'll think ye're right here in ould Oirland."

"Oh, Pat, Oi'm feared ye won't succeed!"

And so they parted, Pat with no more money in his pocket than to take him in the steerage across the ocean. The pair were too simple and uneducated to have formed any idea of America. Their dream of a home there was such as they might have at home had they the means to estnblish it, where the pig and the cow and themselves might all live together in domestic harmony.

Since Pat could not write his letters from the new country, written by a friend, were of the simplest character. He realized that even if he could write his own letters he would never be able to convey to Eileen's simple mind the real America. So he was too wise to attempt it. At first his letters began in the nsual way with his class:

I take my pen in hand to write you a few lines to say that I'm in good health, thanks be to God, hoping that you are the same at the present time.

Then followed hopes that the crops would be abundant and that different members of the family were well. One poor speller who indited a letter for Pat wrote, "This letter comes hopping that you are well as I am, thanks be to God!"

"What's that?" said Eileen. "It comes hopplin'? Oi thacht it come by a ship."

Pat remained several years in America before he sent for Eileen. When he got a start he wrote, "Darlint, Oi'm buildin' the shanty." When he made some money he wrote, "Oi've bought the pig." Then the cow followed, his shanty was ready and Pat was ready to send the passage money that was to bring his sweetheart to him in America.

Before starting Eileen wrote that she wished he could bring the shanty and the pig and the cow to Ireland, but she supposed that if he could he wouldn't be able to make the money necessary to keep up the establishment. So she made her preparation to join him.

Pat knew the day she sailed and the day the steamer was due in New York. He wrote her that she would arrive on a holiday they kept in America called Labor day. He would be busy on that day, and he would send his friend, Mike Fogarty, to the steamer to meet her and bring her to where he was working. Eileen thought Pat must be very industrious to work on a holiday, and she was glad and proud of him.

When the ship came up to the dock Eileen saw a man on it looking as if he might be Fogarty, and he was.

"Pat tould me," he said, "to take ye where he's workin', and I will." He led Eileen to a street where great crowds were waiting for something to happen. Then came a band of music and men with sashes and scarfs on caracoling horses. Among these men in a black clawhammer coat and silk hat she saw her Pat.

Pat caught sight of her and, dismounting, joined her.

"Is this the way ye're workin'?" she asked, astonished.

"Take her to the shanty," said Pat to Fogarty, "and Oi'll be there directly."

Fogarty led the girl to a five story tenement house, where on the third floor she was ushered into a nicely furnished apartment.

"La sakes!" she exclaimed. "Did Pat earn the money for this ridin' on a horse wid a piece o' stove pipe on his head and a blue ribbon across him?"

Secret Sorrows.

Believe me, every heart has its secret sorrows which the world knows not, and oftentimes we call a man cold when he is only sad.—Longfellow

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Their Representative

A Story for Labor Day Showing a New Way of Ending a Strike

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"I'm sorry, miss, to have to tell you that I'm going to leave you."

A girl of twenty, whose red and white complexion bespoke Irish blood, stood before her mistress, fingering her apron with evident embarrassment.

"Why, Maggie, what have I done?"

"Nothing, miss."

"Then why are you going to leave me?"

"Well, miss—the truth is—why, miss—I'm going to be married."

"Oh, I see. Who are you going to marry, Maggie?"

"Jim Doolan, that works in the Ainsworth factory."

"The Ainsworth factory?"

"Yes, miss."

Margaret Etheridge, the girl's mistress, was interested in the Ainsworth company as a stockholder and through its president and manager, Richard Ainsworth.

"I'm sorry to lose you, Maggie," said Miss Etheridge, "but if you are going to be married, you can depend upon me to give you whatever you will need in the way of clothes, household linen and other things, to enable you to set up housekeeping."

"Thank you, miss."

Maggie was married and went to live with her husband in a small suit of rooms. Jim's wages were not very large, but the couple made them do very well till the first child came, when they were obliged to take a backward step financially by incurring a considerable bill for medical attendance. Then Jim was taken sick, and that increased the indebtedness.

Meanwhile Richard Ainsworth had been pressing an unsuccessful suit with Miss Etheridge. He had greatly increased the output of the Ainsworth company since he took the management, and to the book value of the stock 50 per cent had been added. Indeed, Richard Ainsworth had come to be considered one of the smartest young business men in the state. But there were differences between him and Margaret Etheridge that prevented her from accepting him. Those business qualifications for which the world applauded him did not appeal to her. She did not understand the methods by which that silent partner, capital, was made to absorb the lion's share of the profits of a business. She saw the operatives—men, women and children—going to the works early in the morning and, having worked hard all day, return in the evening to their shabby homes to repeat the process day after day. The were working to pay dividends on her stock, while she, who did nothing, lived in affluence. It seemed to her that there was something wrong. She appealed to Richard Ainsworth for an explanation, but his explanations were not satisfactory. His reasons convinced her, but her heart, her sense of justice, were unmoved by them.

"Why can't you pay your operatives enough to enable them to live more comfortably?" she asked Mr. Ainsworth.

"Because of competition."

"Explain."

"Other concerns would be able to undersell and we would be forced out of business."

"Why not appropriate a portion of the dividends, which are enormous, to the operatives?"

"Because of several reasons, the most pertinent of which is that the stockholders would object."

"I am a stockholder. You may cut my dividends in half, giving one half to the operatives."

"You are one among hundreds; the rest, instead of being willing to give up their profits, are howling for more. My dear Margaret, you don't understand such things."

"Does anybody understand them?"

"Yes, one—Providence."

One day Maggie Doolan sent a pitiful message to Margaret, scrawled in pencil on a bit of paper, saying that she was ill, her husband was away at his work all day, the children had no one to take care of them, and Jim's wages were pledged for debts. Besides this, there was nothing to eat in the house. Margaret immediately sallied forth with a well filled purse and, stopping at the provision shops by the way, carried comfort to the distressed. As she was coming away, Jim came in with a rueful countenance and, throwing himself into a chair, dropped his head in his arms on a table.

"What is it, Jim?" asked his wife in a frightened tone.

"The strike is on," was the mournful reply.

"Oh, heavens!" cried Maggie in dismay.

"What are the hands striking for?" asked Margaret Etheridge.

"Ten per cent advance all around."

"And do you mean that you will have no income whatever till the matter is settled?"

"I do."

"How much do you earn?"

"Twenty-one dollars a week."

"Very well. Every weekly pay day I will send you a check for that amount."

Margaret left, leaving a relieved and thankful household behind her.

The strike proved to be a prolonged one. One evening while it was in progress Richard Ainsworth and Margaret Etheridge were sitting in her home discussing the matter.

"Why do you not give the men what they demand?" she asked.

"For a number of reasons—first, if I do within six months they will make another demand, and so on until we pay them so much that we can't manufacture at a profit. This will drive us out of business and them out of employment."

"Why can't a compromise be effected?"

"The question is a difficult one to answer. If these men were represented by one of their own number a compromise might be effected. But they are represented by one or more persons whose interest i don't consider their interest. The questions between the laborer and the capitalist are those constantly arising between partners in business. Whenever the interests of persons and peoples are intertwined there can only be loss to both in a want of harmony. When the capitalist is unjust to the laborer he in the long run injures his business. When the laborer is excessive in his demands upon the capitalist he injures the business in which he is a partner."

Ainsworth had scarcely spoken the last word when there was evidence of a commotion without. Some one cried: "Hurrah for the strike sympathizer!" Ainsworth and Margaret looked at each other wonderingly.

"Where's the leddy? Come out!"

There was a ring at the door bell. Margaret chose to answer the summons herself. A workman stood at the door, who, pulling respectfully the rim of his tattered hat, said to her:

"There's a lot of us here, miss, that hearin' ye have contributed to the strikers' fund by paying Jim Doolan's family his weekly wages, have come to thank ye. Would ye mind showin' yourself on the porch?"

Margaret went out and saw a crowd of upturned faces, lighted only by a street lamp.

"Three cheers for the leddy strike sympathizer!" cried the man who had brought her out.

The cheers were given with a will, and when quiet was restored Margaret said:

"I can't say exactly that I am a strike sympathizer, but I can say that I am a sympathizer with you and your families. I am a stockholder in the Ainsworth company, and if by throwing off all my dividends except what I need to keep body and soul together I could end this strike I would do so."

"Good for you!" "Let the other stockholders do the same!" "For God's sake, end it!"

"How would you like to make me your representative to confer in your name with the management of the Ainsworth company with a view to a compromise?"

"Bully!" "Go ahead!" "Do't!"

Margaret's introducer held up his hand for silence and said:

"All in favor of Miss Etheridge representing us say aye."

There was a wild shout of ayes. No noes were called for or given.

"Very well," said Margaret. "Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock I will be ready to receive a committee of men who are workers, men who have been supporting their families by their labor in the works of the Ainsworth company. Don't send any one else. If you do I shall decline to act for you."

She withdrew, followed by wild shouts from laborers delighted with the novel plan of endeavoring to secure their demands through a stockholder and a woman. In ten minutes more the neighborhood was deserted.

The next morning Richard Ainsworth was at Margaret's home some time before the appearance of the committee and was shown into a room by himself, ready to decide upon any proposition that might be made. When the committee arrived they were placed in the drawing room. Margaret entered and said:

"Make your demand."

"Our only demand," replied the spokesman, "is for 10 per cent advance."

"If the raise is granted, how long before a demand will be made for another raise?"

The committee conferred and finally agreed to pledge themselves that no new demand should be made within two years.

"How is the management of the company to be assured that you will keep this pledge?"

After another consultation the spokesman said, "Every operative will sign a written pledge to you, and you can give your word to the management."

"Very well. Wait here."

Withdrawing, Margaret went into the room occupied by the manager and made him the proposition.

Now Richard Ainsworth had a shrewd head in more ways than one. He could see an opportunity when it presented itself, and he saw one now.

"Margaret," he said, "the terms are accepted on one condition."

"What is it?"

"That you make an additional pledge."

"What pledge?"

"To become my wife."

Margaret was not ready to give a definite answer. She tried to satisfy him with an evasion. All to no purpose. He stood firm as a rock. Either the stipulation must be introduced into the agreement or the strike must go on. Finally she put out her hand and turned away her face. Ainsworth took the hand and sealed the contract with a kiss.

That night there was a demonstration about Margaret Etheridge's home, and nothing would satisfy the demonstration except carrying their representatives in a chair on their shoulders around the factory and home again.

Soft Capped Projectiles.

Many persons know that certain armor piercing shells have soft metal caps on the point, with the result of greater effectiveness over those not so provided, but the way in which the cap acts is not generally well understood. A needle may be driven into a board with a hammer when it is thrust through a cork, whereas it would break off unsupported. Many have thought that the soft cap supports the hard point of the projectile in the same way. A British authority who has given much study to the mutual action of the projectile and armor states that a shell frequently fails because of the fact that a very small piece of the point is forced back into the mass, thus splitting it. A larger piece is then similarly forced back, and so on. The main advantage of the soft cap, in the opinion of this authority, is to prevent such splitting.—Harper's Weekly.

At the Lowest Point.

Sometimes hit's a mighty good thing to be de lowes' spoke in de wheel uv fortune; you jes' bleedged to come up, no matter which way de wheel turns. —Cally Ryland.

A man who dares waste an hour of time has not learned the value of life.—Darwin.

She Was a Fiend.

Escort—Look! That motorcar has run down a man and crushed him.

Woman in the Case—Oh, heavens! And I have left my camera at home.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or boils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cures them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cures cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

TWO FORTUNES

Both Came Suddenly to the Same Person and One Was Many Millions

By DAVID WALTER CHURCH

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Why should we read fairy stories with marvelous happenings when there are such occurring in real life? The imagination is not capable of creating the possibilities that occasionally occur among persons who are made of flesh and blood and have souls. What imagination a century ago in a long striplling Illinoisian could detect the leader of the greatest political crisis the world has ever known? And in the acquisition of wealth, what more wonderful development in fancy than the story of a real Mexican peon who came into an income of $10,000,000 a year?

In a town of northern Mexico, in an adobe house lived an old man, Pedro Alvarado by name, a peon, who, with his Indian wife, worked and saved till he had accumulated $100. With the money the couple bought a piece of land on the top of a rocky hill near by the town in which they lived.

Why they put their hard earned savings in this barren and not very accessible summit and continued to save and to pay $10 a year taxes on it when they needed the very necessaries of life is not known. It is possible that the wife, having been an Indian, had heard a tradition handed down from her forefathers that there was a treasure buried there.

Be this as it may, there must have been some reason for the old couple putting all their money in a barren rock, and this view is borne out by the fact that old Alvarado, having willed his purchase to his son and three nephews, called upon the former to swear that he would never part with his interest in it. When we remember that this legacy bequeathed to young Pedro was supposed to be worth but $25 we cannot but assume that his father must have had an inkling that its value was much greater.

After the old couple died the summit of the barren rock was not divided among the heirs, but kept as one property. Then came men who believed that there might be silver under the rock. They had plenty of money and were ready to risk it in an investigation. They offered the heirs a large sum for the property, and Pedro's cousins were willing and anxious to sell. But Pedro, true to his oath, refused to part with his share. In vain the others begged him not to stand in their way of taking advantage of the offer. Pedro stood firm. But after awhile a friend loaned him the money to buy out his cousins' interest and make the investigation as to what the property contained.

One day men began to work on the top of the hill with pick and shovel. A month passed and nothing but ordinary earth and rock was displaced. The cousins came to see and jeered at Pedro for a fool. But Pedro h d been loaned sufficient money to pursue his investigations to the end and worked on. Another month passed and yet another with the same result. Then one day in a twinkling all was changed. A vein was struck indicating that the Palmilla mine, as it was called, was the richest silver mine that had ever been opened.

And now this story takes on a wonderful change. Pedro Alvarado, son of a Mexican peon father and an Indian mother, heir to a beggarly estate supposed to be worth but $25, suddenly springs into an income of $30,000 a day. The fairy waves her wand and the adobe hut in which Pedro was born is changed into a sumptuous palace furnished from the manufactories of the old world. Money without limit is given away, thrown away. Whatever the silver king fancies he buys. Those in his employ are loaded with luxuries.

It seems to be the desire of all men to live in a palace, for all men who acquire immense fortunes build such structures to live in. Nevertheless their abodes are typical of their origin. Pedro built his palace, and when he got it finished and furnished it was wonderful to behold, especially in the latter respect. The furniture all came from abroad. The most costly bedsteads, chairs and cabinets were shipped from Paris; rugs came from the orient, and Pedro, instead of walking on the wooden floor or, more likely, the dirt floor—to which he had been accustomed, sank in the soft substances manufactured by Persian workmen.

But the most curious freak of this suddenly enriched man was a mania for pianos. His palace was filled with them. They, too, came from those factories where the most skilled workmen were employed in their building, and their mechanism was encased in the most costly woods, often beautifully inlaid. They were in his parlors, in his living rooms, bedrooms—anywhere, everywhere where there was room for them, and room in Pedro's palace was abundant.

Singularly enough but one selfish motive guides this suddenly enriched man. The rest are all altruistic. He is besieged by persons eager to buy his mine, or if they cannot do that at least a part of it. By selling and permitting educated business men to work it the income could be greatly increased. But no argument, no amount of cajoling, could move the man who had sworn he would not sell.

Then it was represented to him that by certain simple business reforms he might himself make his mine pay more largely. All the ore taken from it was carried down the hill on mules. Why not build a little railroad for the purpose, which could be operated at much less expense? "But what would those do who now make their living by driving the mules?" asked Pedro. The simple business scheme is refused. Wastefulness continues. The owner's employees draw immense salaries, and how much they steal besides does not appear, except in the opulent manner in which they live.

Will the mine always stand this waste, this drain? Will there not come a day when the vein will run out? And then? Well, then the silver king and those who are sucking his wealth will collapse.

Among them all there is one who foresees such a result. Pedro's wife had drudged as a peon until the mine was opened. She remembered that part of her life and had no desire to return to it. Why not from this river of wealth on which they were floating turn aside something to support them in case the fountain should dry up?

And so she did. Instead of putting away a few copper coins at a time as her father-in-law had done with which to buy his rock, she took $1,000 bills and hid them. For years she stored away these bills. No one knew that they were being hidden, no one knew their hiding place. The waste, the extravagance, the money sucking by employees, relations, dependents continued, but every now and again the former peon woman hid away a thousand dollar bill.

True enough, what Senora Alvarado foresa

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1911. NUMBER 22.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed..... $1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed..... 1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed..... .85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.

To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40

Give us your orders for PURE SPRING WATER ICE.

Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.

H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

AUDITORS.

W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.

TRUSTEES.

H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Moores, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Wald.
Geo. B. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.

TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and Intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and Intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

We have just made in the Boston Markets a large purchase of

Cotton Goods.

Ginghams, Prints, Percales, Flannelettes

36 in., 40 in., 42 in., 45 in. 9-4 bleached, half bleached and unbleached sheetings.
42 in. and 45 in. Pillow Case Tubing.
Sheets and Pillow Cases ready made.
Cheese Cloth, Draperies, Sash Curtains, Curtain Muslins, Galetea Cloth, Silkolines, Table Damasks, Bed Spreads.
Would be pleased to have you look here before purchasing.

W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.
MAIN STREET.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster

1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.

Shoppers Are Daily Showing Their Appreciation of the Values in the KINSMAN

Clearance Sale

Busy days at the Kinsman Store are now in order. The Clearance Sale Prices are proving wonderful helps in aiding us to make room for the New Fall and Winter stocks that have already begun to arrive. There are big values all through the store. Of course the early day shoppers are receiving full advantage of every opportunity. Number yourself among the wise buyers and visit Kinsman's to-day.

Now Is the Time to Buy That Suit

Our entire stock of finely tailored Suits reduced to a point where all thought of profit has been totally disregarded.

$15.00 and $18.50 Suits, Clearance Sale, $7.98
$18.50, $19.75 Suits, Clearance Sale, $9.75
$19.75, $27.50 Suits, Clearance Sale, $13.98, 15.75

The Famous Belle Waists at 59c ARE BEAUTIES

We are still offering these charming Waists at this extremely low price.
Clearance Sale, each, 59c

$1, $1.25 Lingerie Waists, 69c each

Hundreds and hundreds of these pretty Waists, made of the prettiest of Embroideries and Laces; long, short or kimono sleeve styles.
Clearance Sale, ea., 69c

$2.98, 3.50 Silk Waists, $1.98 each

Pretty Pongee and Taffeta Silk Waists, made in the prettiest of styles.
Clearance Sale, $1.98

50c Ladies' Lisle Vests in various shapes and sizes. Clearance Sale, ea, 29c

$1.25 Ladies' Fine Lisle Union Suits, low neck, sleeveless, lace trimmed. Clearance Sale, ea, 98c

$1.00 Ladies' Fine Lisle Union Suits in short or long sleeves. Clearance Sale, ea., 50c

15 per cent discount on our entire stock of the Meirode Underwear.

25c and 50c Neckwear, consisting of Lace Collars, Stocks, Jabots, etc. Clearance Sale, 12½c

$1.25 Guimpes, lace and net in white and ecru. Clearance Sale, 95c

59c Dutch Collars, lace and embroidered, round and square shapes. Clearance Sale, 39c

10c Ribbon, all silk, 1-3 in., all good colors, 6c

$1.25 Parasols in Poplin and Linon, plain and embroidered, all colors and combinations. Clearance Sale, 59c

$1.25 Men's and Women's Umbrellas, durable covers, strong frames and beautiful handles. Clearance Sale, 95c

59c Lisle Gloves in white and tan, 16-button. Clearance Sale, 39c

75c Kid Gloves for men, especially good quality for the price. Clearance Sale, 39c

19c Fancy Ribbon, 4 in. in width, in all pretty colors. Clearance Sale, yd., 12c

25c Taffeta Hairbow Ribbon, 5 in., plain and moire. Clearance Sale, 16c

25c Jewelry, consisting of Brooches, Cuff, Sash and Beauty Pins, Buckles, etc. Clearance Sale, 9c

$1.25 Leather Wrist Bags, 95c

Handsome Leather Bags with metal names in gilt or gunmetal, leather lined, fitted with neat purse. Clearance Sale, 95c

39c, 59c Extra Quality Ribbon in a great variety of styles and colors, 5 inches in width, suitable for fancy work and millinery purposes. Clearance Sale, yd., 24c

Our Greatest Value Giving in the

UNDERPRICE BASEMENT

You'll find immense savings on all Towels, Crashes, Flannels, Percales, Cotton Sheetings, Linens, Blankets, Curtains, Toweling, Sheets, Pillow Cases, etc.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Don't Go to School

Without first getting at Johnson's a fountain pen, a good knife, a few pads, pencils, pens and penholders and a rubber stamp to mark your clothes.

Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yonrs trnly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

"Are You the Man"

This refers to the one who sometimes makes life miserable at home during July and August. He wonders why life drags so, and why he does not get rich rapidly, little thinking he does not give himself a square deal. If he would rest at the seashore two or three weeks every summer, happiness, health and wealth would follow his footsteps. If you do not believe this, watch the fellows who go there. For the best place to go, or if your income seems too small, write Jas. Jay Smith Co., 50 State St., New London, Ct.

Bloodine Ointment Cures Eczema Itching and Bleeding Piles, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Rashes, Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Mrs. H. W. Allen, Gaffney, S. C. says: "I have used Bloodine Ointment for Eczema and find it a most effective remedy."

Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

THERE IS NO CASE OF
INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, RHEUMATISM, BLOOD OR SKIN DISEASE
arising from a disordered stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys which
"SEVEN BARKS"
will not materially benefit, or permanently cure; this has been proven for the past 42 years. Ask your parents, or neighbors, about SEVEN BARKS, as thousands have testified to its merits. Don't delay to get a 50 cent bottle at your druggist, and start yourself on the road to complete recovery.
LYMAN BROWN, 68 Murray St., New York, N.Y.

Scholars== Attention

Everything For School Days at

Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
HAMPDEN ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Lydia W. Record, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by Lewis B. Record of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the sixth day of September, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles L. Long, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

20-3 E. M. LAPHAM, Assistant Register.

SCHOOL TEACHING FORCE.

Complete List of Those Who Begin Work Tuesday.

VERY FEW WHO ARE INEXPERIENCED.

Numerous Changes From Last Year; A Dozen New Appointments and Several Transfers.

The schools of the town will open for the fall term next Tuesday with a full complement of teachers, the last appointments and transfers having been made within a few days. There have been many resignations and a number of transfers since school closed; the number of new teachers is an even dozen. The late transfers are: Miss Florence Heenehan from grade seven to eight in the Palmer grammar; Miss Agnes Mahoney from grade six to seven; Miss Margaret Bradley, unassigned, to grade six. The school committee has endeavored to procure teachers of experience, believing that in this way the worth of the schools is most rapidly advanced, and only six of the new appointees are without previous experience. The full corps is:

Superintendent of schools.
Clifton H. Hobson.

High School.
Lee T. Gray, principal.
Genevra F. Clark, Latin.
Pauline C. Mellus, mathematics.
Jennie M. Linton, English.
Eleanor F. Toolin, French and German.
Mary E. Dolbear, science.
Rufus W. Clement, commercial department.
Grace A. McGrath, assistant commercial.

Palmer Grammar.
Elizabeth I. Heenahan, principal and grade 9
Florence M. Heenahan, grade 8.
Agnes I. Mahoney, grade 7.
Margaret Bradley, grade 6
Beatrice L. Dillon, grade 5.
Susan M. Ballou, grade 4
Hazel B Caryl, grade 3
Jennie C. Roche, grade 2
Mary E Ledyard, grade 1.
Rose A. Duffy, assistant grades 1 and 2.

Thorndike Grammar.
Katharine M. Twiss, principal and grades 8 and 9
Florene I. Sampson, grades 6 and 7
Bridget Griffin, grades 4 and 5.
Julia G. Daley, grade 3.
Natalie Jackson, grade 2.
Mrs. Mary E Murdock, grade 1.

Three Rivers Grammar.
Annie E. O'Connor, principal and grades 8 and 9.
Luna Whitlock, grades 6 and 7.
Clara A Holmes, grades 5 and 6.
Nellie Twiss, grade 4
Lucy B. Twiss, grade 3.
May C. Fitzgerald, grade 2.
Flora Morey and Bertha L Pulsifer, grade 1.

Bondsville Grammar.
Jennie C. Twiss, principal and grades 8 and 9
Lucy Fitzgerald, grades 6 and 7.
Marie West, grades 4 and 5
Cora Clark, grades 3 and 4.
Rena Hemenway, grade 2.
Helen A. Henderson, grade 1.

Districts.
May E Mahoney, Palmer Center, grades 1 to 6.
Maud D. Foley, Shorley, grades 1 to 7.
Hazel C. Owen, Forest Lake, grades 1 to 6
Margaret E Scannell, Wire mill, grades 3 and 4
Mary E Quirk, Wire mill, grades 1 and 2

Bennett Family Reunion.

Held at Forest Lake Wednesday With Large Attendance.

The 18th annual reunion of the Bennott family was held at Forest Lake Wednesday, with a large attendance.

At the business meeting these officers were elected: President, Charles E. Bennett of Ludlow; vice president, Mrs. Lora E Hawley of North Wilbraham; executive committee, Mrs. Guy C. Allen Jr. of Belchertown, Miss Chella Underwood of Mt. Tom and George H. B. Green of Belchertown; secretary and treasurer, Miss Rose... Olds of Belchertown. After-dinner speeches were made by Mrs. Mary Bennett Cooper of Kansas City, Mo., G H B. Green Jr. of Harvard law school, C. Ernest Bennett of Ludlow, Richard Underwood of Mt. Tom, A. L Bennett and George H. B. Green. Lewis J. Bennett permanent secretary, reported three births, two marriages and five deaths in the family during the year.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Ascher C. Bennett, C. Ernest Bennett, Addie F. Bennett, Mrs. Anna Y. Bennett, Mrs. Lena Burr Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. A. L Bennett, Frederick C. Bennett, Mildred Bennett of Ludlow, Mrs. Henrietta Merrill of New York, Florence Bennett of Wollaston, Mrs. Anna Bennett Fuller, Nellie Fuller, Mildred Fuller, Mrs. Lora E. Hawley of North Wilbraham, Mr. and Mrs. Merton R. Bennett, Myron Bennett, Florence St. Germain, Charles St. Germain of Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Knight and sons of Becket, Fred Graves, Bessie W. Graves of Southampton, Frank Clark of Holyoke, R. F. Underwood, Chella Underwood, William Underwood of Mt. Tom, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Olds, Gertrude Leland Olds of Ware, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Olds, Rosabelle Olds, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Bennott, Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Allen Jr., Mrs. Hattie Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Shaw, George H. B. Green, Mrs. Iva White, G. H. B. Green Jr., R. Bartlett Green of Belchertown, Mrs. Jennie Burpee, Ina Burpee of White Plains, N. Y., and Mrs. Mary Bennett Cooper of Kansas City, Mo.

Sneak Thief Makes Haul.

Goes Through Boarding House While Boarders Are Absent.

The boarding house of Mrs. Ellen Cronin in North Wilbraham was visited by a sneak thief Wednesday, and some clothing and various articles taken. The intruder was seen upstairs in the house, but upon being questioned stated that he was a new boarder and was confused in regard to the location of his room. He left the house immediately afterward and departed for parts unknown.

At the supper hour two men employed by Casper Ranger on repair work, who board at the house, found that they had been relieved of a $20 suit and various small articles. Constable Friend was at once notified and began an investigation.

Skin Grafting at Ludlow.

Daughters Spare 72 Square Inches to Save Mother's Life.

A successful operation in skin-grafting was performed by Dr. A. J. Trelchler, surgeon of Winsor street, at the Ludlow hospital one day last week. Mrs. James Richardson of Whitney street, Ludlow, was operated upon a short time ago and a cancerous growth removed from her breast. New skin would not form over the wound and it became necessary to graft. Mrs. Richardson's two daughters agreed to part with the amount necessary, which proved to be about 72 square inches in all. The patient is now getting along nicely.

Bad Trolley Smash Saturday Afternoon.

Fourteen People Hurt in Rear End Collision at Forest Lake Junction When Brake-rod Broke. No Fatal Injuries.

After coasting down a steep hill void of any control whatever, a small single-truck trolley car on the Springfield and Eastern road rammed the rear of a large double-truck car at the Lake Junction Saturday afternoon, 14 people being more or less injured in the smash. While there were severe hurts none of them were serious, and all the injured are doing well The wonder is that there was not loss of life, as the conditions were most excellent for a serious calamity.

The injured are:

Louise Hallez of Thorndike, elbow and hip bruised; taken to her home.

Marie Hallez of Thorndike, hip, shoulder and leg bruised; taken to her home.

Michael Murphy, 35, of Bondsville, back of head injured; taken to Springfield hospital.

J. B. Irwin, 40, of Ludlow, bruised leg, back, arm and shonider, small bone in knee broken; taken to Ludlow hospital.

William H. Cavanaugh of Monson, hip bruised and badly shaken; was taken to Burns Hotel, where he was attended by Dr. J. S. McQuald of Monson.

John Fahey, 33, conductor, of Palmer, badly shaken and may have internal injuries; taken home.

Joseph Berthianme, 27, motorman, of Palmer, severely bruised knee; taken to his home.

William Arcott, 24, of Forest Lake, left ankle sprained and arms bruised; taken home.

James Bradley, 23, of Palmer, right collarbone broken; taken home.

Daniel Bihlis, 20, of Three Rivers, right ankle strained; went home.

Charles A. Backus, 26, of North Wilbraham, right ankle sprained; taken home.

Mrs. J. D. Wood, 30, of South Main street, Palmer, right thigh badly bruised; went home.

John Foley, 21, of Park street, Palmer, right ankle sprained; went home.

John T. Fitzpatrick of Stonghton, badly sprained right knee, and right side injured; went to home of D. F. Dillon.

It was about 2.30 when the accident occurred, and was due to a broken brake rod on the smaller car. Car No. 359, a donble truck, left Palmer at 2.15 for Bondsville in charge of Motorman John Fay and Conductor Michael J. Donohne; it was followed by No. 352, single truck, in charge of Motorman Joseph Berthianme and Conductor John Fahey, honnd for Three Rivers; these were followed by a car for Ware. At the foot of the steep cemetery hill in Thorndike the Bondsville car stopped to turn the switch on the Ware line, and as it did so the Three Rivers car came to a halt at the "Stop" sign just over the top of the hill, and started down again. On applying the brakes the brake rod broke and the car started down. Motorman Berthianme reversed, but the overhead switch blew ont and left him without any control of the car whatever. It soon gathered headway and continued down the hill.

Conductor Donohne of the Bondsville car, who had set the switch for the Bondsville track and returned to his car, the rear trucks of which had just cleared the switch, saw the tronble and made a desperate effort to turn the switch again to the Ware track and get his car out of the way, as the rear still overhung the Ware track. He had turned the switch and his car had just started to move when the runaway car struck. The Bondsville car was far enough advanced however so that the blow was a glancing one instead of square end-to-end. The force of the impact threw the smaller car from the track, but it shot past the other about 20 feet before it stopped. When it was seen that the cars were bound to collide a number of persons on both jumped, and several of the injuries were due to this. The persons most hurt however were on the front platform of the Three Rivers car and the rear platform of the Bondsville car.

Word was at once sent to Palmer, and Superintendent Atkins took personal charge of affairs. The Ware car was turned back and the injured put aboard and taken to Palmer, such as did not go at once to their homes. They were taken to the office of Dr. J. P. Schneider, who was assisted in his work by Dr. S. R. Carsley and Dr. H. C. Cheney. J. B. Irwin was taken to the Ludlow hospital in an auto, and Michael Murphy was taken to the Springfield hospital in a special electric car. W. H. Cavanaugh was taken at first to the Burns hotel, and went Sunday to his home in Monson. The latest reports are that all who have not fully recovered are doing nicely.

The spot where the accident occurred has long been looked at with dread by the railroad managers. It is at the foot of a steep hill, where the road forks in the shape of a Y. Several years ago the company wished to change the tracks there, starting at the top of the hill and running through private land at the head of Gay avenue, thence along the highway to the "Yellow Block" in Thorndike, where the present track is. This would give a very slight grade and make running safe; the expense would have been considerable, but the company argued that one accident might cost more than the change in grade. The proposed plan would have taken the track a little further away from the upper end of the village however, and the residents of Thorndike protested so vigorously that the selectmen declined to grant the desired location.

Dea. Dauphin Brown Family.

Reunion Held in Brimfield; Permanent Organization Formed.

A reunion of the family of the late Deacon Dauphin Brown, including descendants and connections, was held last week Wednesday at the home of his son, Edward B. Brown in Brimfield, a party of 31 enjoying a picnic dinner on the lawn under the trees at Mr. Brown's home. Previous gatherings have been held at the old Dauphin Brown residence on the Dunhamtown road.

A permanent orgaulzation was formed Wednesday, with these officers: President, Dauphin H. Brown of Dalton; secretary, Miss Alice W. Brown of Palmer. The next gathering will be held in Dalton

Among those present Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown and Miss Alice Brown of Palmer, Mr. and Mrs Danphin H. Brown and son, Dauphin H Brown Jr., of Dalton, Mrs. W. H. Whitcomb and Miss Myra D. Whitcomb of Amherst, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bliss and Charles Bliss of Warren, Mrs. Fred Sistare and sons, Donald, Roger and Reginald of Springfield, Mrs. W. W. Hall and Miss Esther Hall of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Edward Best and Warren and Eunice Best of Holyoke, Mrs Martha Blodgett of New Haven, Ct., Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Peirce and son Ronald of Springfield, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Winslow and Miss Ruby Winslow of Newton, Mr. and Mrs E B. Brown and Miss Emma Brown of Brimfield.

Deacon Dauphin Brown, who is commemorated by this organization, was a well-known citizen of Brimfield, and was elected deacon of the Congregational church in 1845. He was a representative of a large family, who first bore the name of Brown in Brimfield, being of the third generation in the line of descent from Jonathan Brown, who moved from Beverly to Brimfield about 1739, and who was probably the first "honsewright and joiner" in the town. Jonathan Brown was a soldier in the Revolntion and one of the Minute Men who responded to the Lexington alarm. He was also a leader in the movements preceding the strnggle for independence, being a member of the "correspondence committee" and other town committees. He had previously served in the French and Indian war. Dea. Danphin Brown was born December 18, 1808, and married Miss Abby B. Nutting, September 18, 1831. Of the children there are seven out of nine living.

BRIMFIELD.

Old Home Celebration.

Posters announcing features of the Old Home celebration have been issued. Next Sunday there will be appropriate services, including special music morning and evening. On Monday there will be a baseball game between Sturbridge and Brimfield on the academy campus, to be followed by the climbing of a greased pole. A clambake dinner at 35 cents per plate will be served in a tent on the common from 12 to 2. There will be sports in the public square in the afternoon as follows: One-quarter, one-half and one-mile run; 100 yards and 220 yards dash; 50 yards dash for children, sack and bicycle races; three-legged, wheelbarrow and shoe races, egg and potato races for girls, tug-of-war, jumps and other field sports. The American band of Fiskdale will furnish music during the day and evening.

Miss Reynolds of Mattapan has been visiting at the home of Miss Rebecca Lincoln.

Mrs. Scott Campbell and son Donald of Somerville are visiting at the home of her father, Fred Parker.

Rev. William Jennings and family have returned from their vacation spent in Grafton and the eastern part of the state.

Miss Jardine, a former teacher of the Center schools, is a guest at the home of Dr. R. V. Sawin. Miss Jardine will teach in Beverly the coming year.

Soldiers' Graves Markers.

Their Placing to Be Publicly Celebrated Next Friday.

At the last annual town meeting an appropriation was voted for the procuring of suitable markers to decorate the identified graves of Colonial and Revolutionary soldiers buried in town. This vote has been carried out under the direction of the cemetery commissioners, aided by the Historical Society, and now to bring the matter more completely before the public it has been decided to hold an open-air meeting under the anspices of the Historical Society on the common at the Old Center, whence the soldiers of Palmer marched so often to the front, and where a majority of them are buried.

This meeting will be held next Friday afternoon at 2.30 sharp, and will be open to all. This is a matter in which all citizens should be interested and it is hoped there will be a generous attendance from all sections of the town, including town officials. The historical paper will treat briefly of the last French and Indian wars, of our Colonial and Revolutionary soldiers, and of Old Center events. Palmer will be represented by its new superintendent of schools, Clifton H. Hobson, and the state by Rufus W. Stimson, an old Palmer Center boy, now the able agent for agricultural education of the State Board of Education, while the children of the Center school will contribute their part in singing. The program will be:

Welcome and description of the work done, D. L. Bodfish, president of the day
Singing by children of the Center school, led by Miss Mahoney.
Historical paper, "Palmer's earlier patriots honored," O. P. Allen
Poem, "The Minute Men of the Old Center," Ella King Ogle
Singing, Children of the Old Center.
Address, "Lessons drawn from Palmer's early patriots," Clifton H. Hobson
Address, "The farmer boy, Colonial and contemporary," Rufus W. Stimson
"America," by the audience.

Descendants of Asa Davis.

They Hold 18th Annual Reunion Wednesday at Forest Lake.

The descendants of Asa Davis of Stafford, Ct., held their 18th annual reunion at Forest Lake Wednesday with 24 present. A picnic dinner was enjoyed, followed by a social time. The executive committee chosen for the coming year was George F. Bell of Granby, Everett L. Davis and Mrs. Lanra Flood of Springfield. An interesting feature of the occasion was the presence of Mrs. Grace Dean and Mrs. Hester Davis, twin sisters, from Wilmington, Vt., who had not met with the family for 30 years. They resembled each other so closely that no one could distinguish between them. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Pease, Mrs. Everett Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooley, Lester and Frenor Cooley of Springfield, O. C. Davis of Williamsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hunn and Mrs. Hattie Davis of Somers, Ct., Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bell of Granby, Mrs. W. S. Clark, Ruth and Donald Clark of Northampton, Mrs. Lola Sturtevant, Ralph and Ruth Sturtevant of Worcester, Mabel Fitch of Wilmington, Vt.

WILBRAHAM.

R. J. Sackett has returned from a week's trip to Chicago and Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gobo are enjoying an automobile trip to Plattsburg, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bodurtha of Agawam and niece, Dorothy Bodurtha of Utica, N. Y., have been visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Flagg of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. Oliver and Marcy Davis of Harvey, Ill., are guests of Mrs. N. M. Flagg.

Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Kellogg have returned to their home in East Orange, N. J., after a week's visit with her sister, Miss Emily E. Wright.

WAS WORK OF FIREBUG.

Barn of P. M. Shearer Near Wire Mill Burned.

SUNDAY MORNING ABOUT 3 O'CLOCK.

Plainly the Act of an Incendiary, With No Clue Except An Empty Kerosene Bottle.

Another fire in the Wire Mill district about 3 o'clock Sunday morning destroyed the barn of Purlin M. Shearer, with its contents—a horse, a considerable quantity of hay, farming tools, etc. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin; it started in one corner on the side farthest from the house, and a bottle which had contained kerosene was found near that corner later. The loss is about $1000, insured.

The auto fire truck made a quick run to the scene, going by way of Walnut street, the reason for this being that box 38, which was pulled, rang 63 for the first round, then 68, and finally settled down to 38 for the last two. The men with the truck got the first two rounds and started for the 60's, which are on South Main street. At Main street they saw the light of the fire and turned west instead of east, They had water on the blaze in a very few moments. The wire mill department arrived about the same time and gave their assistance. The barn was close to the house, and for a time that was threatened, but it was not damaged. Miss Julia Shearer, who is an invalid, was considerably excited over the possibility of danger to the house, and was much relieved when the danger was over.

This is the third barn which Mr. Shearer has lost by fire. There have also been several other fires in that section which have presumably been of incendiary origin. Andrew Holt lost a house and two barns, Mrs. M. L. Palmer lost a barn, the Wright Wire Company lost a barn and three fine horses, and Charles Walker lost two barns. In addition, the wire rope mill of the Wright company was burned. Some work of investigation has been done, but in no instance has information warranting an arrest been gained.

Suburban Life for September.

House builders, especially, will be interested in the September issue of Suburban Life for its suggestiveness. "The Home of an Artist on the Side of a Hill," is the story of how a city couple transformed a rocky hillside into a show place with "hobo help." "Sheltered Nook—a Modest Country Home," is the experience of a family who camped in a four-acre oak grove in a portable house, and liked it so that they built there a permanent house "Secret Closets in the Modern Home" tells how to make them and describes some famous old ones. In "The Proper Planning of a Model Kitchen," an ideal arrangement that is not very costly is described. Another interesting article is "The House Desirable—Electrically Run," the story of a house where all cooking, lighting and heating is done by electricity. "Cases Where Building Costs Varied and Why," "How Cooperative Waterworks Operate" and "How to Finance Building a House" are other practical articles in this issue. For the gardener and poultry raiser "Beautiful Backyards Easy to Have," "A Home Set in a Paradise of Trees," "Pleasures of Naturalizing Bulbs and Plants," "Growing and Forcing Bulbs in Pots," "Planting for Natural Effects," "Wife and I and the Hens Make $1,300 a Year" and "Soils That Are Best Suited for Poultry" will be interesting. "The Suburban Woman and Her Neighborhood Clubs" is an intimate discussion on one of the most interesting of suburban problems, by Margaret Woodward.

BELCHERTOWN.

The Heavy Taxpayers.

Following is a list of those paying a tax of $100 or more: Roswell Allen, $145 57; A. M. Baggs, $208 41; Miss Marcella M. Curran, $107 49; L. W. Dillon, $410.86; W. M. Goodell, $109 95; Charles Jausen, $117 63; Simon Kelly, $105 88; Dwight Randall, $124 01; W. S Simpson, $118 55; A. W. Stacey, $121 79; Mrs. Della D. Sanford, $101 75; E F. Shumway, $120.52; M. P. Walker's heirs, $148. Non-residents: Boston Duck Company, Palmer, $1376.41; Taintor & Lawrence, Hartford, Ct., $117 48; Springfield Water Company, Springfield, $151 33.

Teachers Appointed.

The following teachers have been appointed: Center grammar, Miss Katherine Sampson; Center primary, Miss Simpson, a graduate of Worcester Normal School; Washington district, Miss Grace Horr, a graduate of Westfield Normal School; Miss Irma Dyson, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, second assistant principal in the high school; Miss Belle Snow, in charge of the Center intermediate; Miss Sullivan and Miss Nellie Shea, Franklyn district. The high school will not reopen probably until October 1.

Principal Jewett Resigns.

J. I. Jewett, principal of the high school, has handed his resignation to the school committee and will accept a position as head of the department of science in the high school of New Britain, Ct., with a large increase in salary. His departure is greatly regretted as he has been very popular with the young people and his family have made a large number of friends in the community.

Rufus Pierce has been suffering with a severe cut on his head, the result of a fall from an oak tree.

D. C. Wilson, who has been at his summer cottage for the past three months, has gone to Washington.

W. F. Shaw, proprietor of Park View Hotel, is having golf links prepared and hopes to have them in good order during the fall.

Mrs. Hotchkiss and Mrs. C. S. Paddock of Cleveland, O., have been called to Belchertown by the illness of their mother, Mrs. Letitia Warren.

Mrs. W. H. Hawkes of North Main street sustained a painful injury Saturday, the result of a fall. She is partly blind and was up in the night to get some medicine. On returning to her room she opened the wrong door, it being the one leading to the cellar, and she fell downstairs, breaking a rib and bruising herself.

The Episcopal mission Sunday school met Sunday afternoon and organized with Maj John Anderson as treasurer; E. E. Sargent, clerk; Miss May Hale, in charge of the boys; Miss King, the girl's class; Mrs. F. F. Dewey, the younger children. There were 12 present. Miss Furness, one of the deaconesses of the diocese, spoke most encouragingly of the prospects. At the church services later between 30 and 40 people were present. Mrs. E S. Thomson presided at the organ for the vesper hour and Miss Dorothy Thomson for the Sunday school.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Fine fresh oysters — first of the season — at J. S. Knox & Co's.

A. D. S. Hand Paste with Tar, cleanses the hands thoroughly and leaves them in better condition than ordinary soap; 10c at Kingsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., cor. Central.

PALMER NEWS.

Rains Do Much Good.

Three Days of Falling Water, With a Few Smaller Showers.

As if attempting to make np for lost time, the rainfall of the past week has been more than the combined fall of the past several months. It began early Snnday morning and kept it up all the forenoon, not a particnlarly hard rain as hard rains go, though at times the fall was of copions quantity, bnt for real steady persistence it was a good exhibition. The ground had ample opportunity to absorb a generous quantity, and made the most of it. Rain began to fall again abont midnight on Monday, and for another half dozen honrs there was a downfall which was steady and at times rather more than was good for the roads. Smaller showers came at varions intervals, and a rather hard one abont 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Springfield got more of the water than Palmer; the record there was 2.30 inches between 11 o'clock Monday night and 11 o'clock Tnesday morning, at which time the daily newspaper offices began to call np the suburban towns and ask for the water damage, supposing that the water was as plentiful ont as in the city. Rain began to fall again yesterday morning and kept at it steadily all day, a large amonnt of water falling, bnt coming so gently that much of it "soaked in," adding to that the soil had previously accumnlated. As a result the streams are rnnning pretty fnll, and springs and wells are showing the effects of the large fall of water.

The total amonnt of rainfall in the past week has been 5 55 inches, and for the month 7 15 inches. The nearest approach to this amount was in September, 1907, with 8 28 inches; June, 1903, gave 8 01 inches, and December, 1901, had 8 82 inches; but July, 1897, broke all records within the memory of man with a fall of 14 99 inches.

Smith—Marsden.

Miss Nelle Lillis Smith, danghter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith of North Main street, was nnited in marriage to William Reynolds Marsden of Chicago, Ill., Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Rev. F. S. Brewer officiating. The conple were attended only by little Charlotte Hnrlbnrt of Springfield, who acted as ring bearer. The honse was prettily decorated for the occasion by Miss Charlotte Skinner of Worcester. The Philharmonic orchestra of Springfield fnrnished music before and after the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of white satin, made with conrt train and with tunic of chiffon, trimmed with pearl bands and dnchess lace. She wore a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bonqnet of white rosebnds and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony the conple received their friends, and were assisted by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Refreshments were served by Robert H. Spare of Springfield. The newly-wedded couple left in an antomobile for Springfield, whence they will go on a two-weeks' trip to the Great Lakes and Thonsand Islands.

The bride is a native of Palmer, a gradnate of Monnt Holyoke college and Chicago University, and has been a snccessful teacher for some years. For the last three years she has been teaching in the Erasmns Hall high school in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Marsden is a civil engineer in charge of the Chicago office of the Trnst concrete steel company of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Marsden will make their home in Chicago.

Among the out-of-town gnests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marsden and son Harold of Oneida, N. Y, Mr and Mrs. Engene Myrick of New Rochelle, N. Y, Henry Monlton of New York City, Miss Elsa Farchmin and Miss Millie Hagar of Brooklyn, Miss Charlotte Cahill of Creeskill, N. J, Dr. Cornelins Hnrlbnt, Dr. Harold Adams, Miss Julia Mariott, Thomas Dobson and Albert D. Shaw of Springfield, Mrs. Henry Hapgood and Mrs. Moses Ames of Barre, Miss Helen Parsons of Boston and Miss Sydna Pritchard of Brockton.

Dillon—Gibbons.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Thomas' cbnrch Tuesday morning, when Mary Bernice, dangbter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Dillon of Central street, was nnited in marriage to John Edward Gibbons of Hackensack, N J, Rev. M. J. O'Connell performing the ceremony. Miss Hazel A. Dillon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Edward Earle Bard was best man. The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with point de venice lace. She wore a tulle veil trimmed with point lace and carried a white ivory prayer book. The maid of honor wore a gown of blne chiffon over pink messaline, trimmed with pink rosebnds, with a black pictnre hat. She carried an armfnl of pink roses tied with blne chiffon.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to immediate relatives and members of the family. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons left in an antomobile on their wedding jonrney. They will reside in Hackensack, N. J.

The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a ring of sapphires and pearls. The groom's gift to the best man was gold cnff links.

The bride is a native of this town and was gradnated from Palmer high school in the class of 1905. She stndied two years in the New England Conservatory of Mnsic and since has been teaching. For the last year she has tanght in the Palmer grammar school and resigned on acconnt of her approaching marriage. Mr. Gibbons was for several years a resident of Palmer. He is employed by the Flynt Building and Construction Company of Palmer, on works in Lodi, N. J.

Mrs. Kate Stafford.

Mrs. Kate Stafford, 65, died Satnrday afternoon at the home of her danghter, Mrs. S. W. Lyon, on Sqnier street, after a long illness. She had lived there abont a year, coming here from New York. She leaves no other near relatives. The fnneral was held Snnday afternoon at the honse, Rev. C. B. McDnffie of Three Rivers officiating. The bearers were O C. Lyon, Charles Kennedy, S. M. Phillips and Mr. Tucker. Bnrial was in the Oak Knoll cemetery.

Half Hour Ware Cars to Stop.

The regnlar fall schednle of electric cars will go into effect on the Ware line after next Monday, half-honr time being discontinned. Cars will leave Palmer at 5 45 a. m, 7 15 and honrly nntil 10 15 at night, that being the last car. Leaving Ware for Palmer the time will be: 6.30 a. m., 8 30, and honrly until 10 30, then the last car at 11.

The collection ratings in the Springfield district of the New England Telephone company's territory—comprising the exchanges in Springfield, Northampton, Holyoke, Westfield and Palmer — Manager Chamberlain of the Palmer exchange is given the highest standing, 7 3, that representing the amount dne on July acconnts. The next nearest is Westfield with 11 6.

That High School Roof.

Question of Method of Repair Will Probably be Settled To-Night.

The school committee has not yet determined what is to be done with the roof of the new part of the high school bnilding. A conference was held early in the week with the architect, W. B. Reid of Holyoke, bnt it amonnted to nothing. The committee called in as experts the firm of Gardner & Gardner of Springfield, and Mr. G. C. Gardner looked the building over on Tuesday. This morning the committee received a letter from him containing three snggestions, any of which, if adopted, will put the roof in a permanent condition. These plans the committee is to discnss this evening. It is expected that one of the three will be adopted and that work will be commenced early next week.

The sessions of the school will begin on Tnesday, as schednled. When work on the roof is begnn it will be necessary to vacate the two recitation rooms under it on the first floor, and to take their place the assembly hall in the grammar school will be nsed, a part of the pnpils being quartered there. It is the plan of Superintendent Hobson to so arrange these as to make transfers of pnpils from one bnilding to the other as few as possible, transferring the teachers instead.

Church Notices.

The regnlar services will be resnmed in the Baptist cbnrch Snnday. Morning worship at 10.45; sermon snbject, "Strong bodies and faint hearts." Bible school at 12, Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15. Evening praise service at 7; sermon snbject, "The devil and his partners." All are invited.

Morning worship at the Congregational church at 10.45 next Snnday; snbject, "The personal promises of the Christian life." Evening worship at 7; snbject, "Lessons from great lives—Daniel." Snnday school at 12, and Christian Endeavor meeting at 6.

All departments of St. Panl's chnrch will resnme sessions next Snnday. In the morning the pastor, Rev. Otto S. Raspe, will preach a sermon appropriate to Labor Day, taking for his topic "The chnrch and organized labor." Snnday school and Y. P. S. C. E. at the nsnal time. There will be a commnnion service in the chnrch at 7.30 Sunday evening.

Precinct Officers Appointed.

The following precinct officers were appointed at a meeting of the selectmen last evening: A, Warden, Fred Royce; deputy, George Holden; clerk, Colby C. Learned; deputy, Michael Monahan; inspector, Calvin W. Hastings; deputy, Edward Merrick; inspector, J. P. O'Connor; deputy, Dennis E. O'Connor; inspector, Fred R. Tryon; deputy, Edward P. Brown; inspector, J. S. Knox; deputy, E J. Duncan. B. Frank Longtine, Richard Ford, T. J. Sullivan, Harry T. Bishop, Stephen Clark, James Clark, James Hntchinson. C, Warden, C S. Ruggles; deputy, C. P. Haynes; clerk, Arthnr Panlin; deputy, P. C. Daley; inspector, David E. Tenney; deputy, Alphonse Henrichon; inspector, J. J. Manning; deputy, George Camerlin. D, Warden, William Morse: deputy, Charles Collis; clerk, Andrew Fenton; deputy, A. Laccas; inspector, John Costello; deputy, M. Moriarty; inspector, Elwin Hayes; deputy, William Taylor.

The Kinsman Semi-annual Sale.

The big semi-annnal sale of the Kinsman dry goods store in Springfield is in full swing this week, and will continne into next week. The store was closed all day Monday in preparation for the sale, and now an extra force of clerks and attendants are kept bnsy snpplying the wants of cnstomers. All over the store bargains are on exhibition, and summer goods are placed on sale at attractive prices On the first floor are ribbons, laces, toilet articles and dress goods Ready-to-wear garments are fonnd on the second floor. In the basement household articles are in abnndance, bnt at extremely low prices. The big stock is to be greatly reduced in order to make room for the new fall and wiuter goods.

Yesterday was the last of the Thnrsday afternoon closing of the stores for this season.

W. D. Cameron is building a wagon shed in the rear of his residence on Thorndike street.

H. M. Girdler is moving his family from the Capen honse on Park street to Sonth Main street.

Postmaster Shaw will be ready to receive postal savings deposits on and after next Tuesday.

At a meeting of the selectmen last evening the Three Rivers sewer contract was awarded to Sullivan & Johnson.

The Palmer Trncking Co. has pnrchased a new auto trnck to nse in its business and it is expected to arrive here in a few days

A regnlar meeting of the Yonng Men's Library Association will be held in the reference room of the library next Monday evening at 7 30

Rev. O. S. Raspe snpplied the pnlpit in Morrisville, Vt, where he was formerly located previons to coming to Palmer, dnring the month of Angnst.

Bert L. Leach, as anctioneer, will sell a qnantity of honsehold fnrnitnre at anction to-morrow afternoon at 1 30 at the home of Mrs A. Nordioff on Fox street.

Dr. J. F. Crowley of Adams is taking a month's vacation from his practice and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Crowley on the Thorndike road.

Rev. A. C. Johnson of the Westfield A. C. chnrch will speak in the Advent chapel Snnday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Snnday school will be at 2, as nsnal. All are welcome.

The fnneral of the late Mrs. Thomas McCarthy, 61, who died Wednesday of last week, was held Satnrday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Thomas' chnrch with a mass of reqniem, Rev. M. J. O'Connell officiating. Bnrial was in the Thorndike cemetery. Her sons acted as bearers.

At a meeting held in the Baptist chnrch Tnesday evening, the following officers were elected to fill vacancies for the rest of the year: Treasurer, E. B. Taylor; clerk, F. L. Calkins; anditor, A. E. Fitch; deacon, Mr. Hnnt. Rev. C. W. Williams acted as moderator at the meeting, and Edward Wells as clerk.

Rev. T. D. Martin has just given np the charge of St. Mary's Episcopal mission, and is to be snceeded by Rev. Nils W. Heermans Jr., who is to begin his work here Sept 24. Rev. Charles E. Hill of All Saints, Springfield, will officiate next Snnday at 4 15 p. m. instead of 3.15, as nsnal. The Snnday school will not begin nntil Sept. 24.

Repairs are being made on the catch-basin near the watering howl on Main street, and the pipe connecting it with the sewer. The latter was laid so nearly level that it fills np with the dirt washed in from the street, and is being dng np and relaid. Unfortnnately it extends a considerable distance nnder the brick paving, which has to be cnt through, making the job an expensive one for the street department.

Abont 30 members of Qnaboag council of the Royal Arcannm attended the banqnet in Forbes & Wallace restanrant in Springfield Tuesday evening given to the councils in Springfield, Westfield, Palmer and Easthampton in recognition of the large class initiated since the first of the year. There were only two speakers, Grand Regent Thompson of Pennsylvania, and Grand Regent Hobson of Massachnsetts, both of whom made excellent addresses. Qnaboag council of Palmer has added 15 members since the beginning of the year.

A pleasant gathering was held at the honse of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Calkins, off the Springfield road, Tnesday evening, when they entertained a party of their friends. Music and games were enjoyed, and refreshments were served. The following were present: Mrs Sarah J. Cole, Mrs. Paul Weber, Mrs. E. J. Lesch, Mrs Thomas Vennert, Mrs. J. B. Calkins, Mrs. Alice Herrick, Misses Ethel Nodstrom, Edith Collins, Harriet Cole, Rachael J. Cole, Agnes Cole, Minnie Cole, Beatrice Abare, Lillian Abare, Bernice Vennert and Martha Kuss, Thomas H. Cole, David Cole, Frank T. E. Weber, Thomas Cole Jr., Thomas Venuert, J. B. Calkins, Cleon F. Valdrow, Elton Herrick, Raymond Herrick, Perlie Herrich, Paul Weber.

Personal Mention.

E. E Brooks has returned from a vacation at Monse Island, Me.

W. E McDonald has returned from a vacation at Ocean Beach.

Mrs. T. L. Gnnn has returned from a visit at Monse Island, Me.

W. W. Converse of Park street is enjoying a trip to Atlantic City.

James Miller of Portsmonth, N. H., has been visiting Palmer friends.

Frank L. Dillon of Lodi, N. J., visited relatives in town the first of the week.

Station Agent H. W. McMahon has gone to Michigan for a two-weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Converse have been spending the week at York Harbor, Me.

Mrs. D. E. Dunn of Pine street is receiving treatment at a hospital in North Adams.

Rev. and Mrs. O. S. Raspe and two children have returned from a visit in Morrisville, Vt.

Postmaster W. L. Shaw and family have returned from a month's vacation at Pleasure Beach.

Mrs. Frank Leland of Worcester is the gnest of her father, E. S. Brooks on Thorndike street.

Amos Onrry of Ogdensbnrg, N. Y., is visiting at the home of Thomas Roche on Pond street.

Misses Daisy and Edith Richards of Foster street have returned from a visit in Mittineague.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Gamwell of Foster street are spending a week's vacation on the coast of Maine.

Miss Rose Faneuf of West Warren was a gnest over Sunday at the home of J. L. Wilder on Pine street.

Miss Ethel I Rich of Foster street has taken a position as teacher in the grade schools of Stafford, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs Lee T. Grey and son Paul have returned from a vacation at Lnbec, Me, Mr. Grey's old home.

Mrs. F. F. Marcy and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Breckenridge enjoyed an automobile trip to the Berkshires this week.

George Roche and Thomas Blanchard Jr started to-day for a 10 days' trip to Montreal, Ontario and Chicago, Ill.

Miss Ruth Laird of New Haven, Ct., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laird of North Main street.

Mrs. A. T. Wing of Providence, R I, has been the gnest of Mr. and Mrs H. A. Northrop of Central street this week.

Mrs. F. Howes of Mittineagne, with her son Raymond and danghter Mildred, are visiting D. Richards on Foster street.

Mrs. J. C. Wing and Mrs. S. W. Gardner of Central street will go next week for a visit with relatives in Homer, N. Y, and at other places in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Goodes and daughter Gertrude of Waterbnry, Ct, are gnests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goodes of Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs W. C Hitchcock have decided to retnrn to Palmer to live, and will occnpy a part of their two-tenement honse on Knox street in the near future.

Thomas H. Kelleher has resigned his position as clerk in J. F. Foley's grocery store and taken a position as timekeeper with the Fred T Ley Co. in Pittsfield.

Misses Elizabeth and Florence Heenehan of Central street have returned from a visit to Patterson, N. J. They were accompanied by their sister, Mrs. A. F. McNally.

Mrs. A. O. Berry and danghter have returned to their home in Elkhart, Ind., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs W. W. Converse of Park street. Mrs. Converse accompanied them.

Fraternity Notes.

Palmer aerie of Eagles meets next Thursday evening.

Division 15, A. O. H., meets Sunday afternoon in Thorndike.

Court Palmer, Foresters of America, meet next Tnesday evening.

The firemen will hold their regnlar monthly meeting next Monday evening.

Cyrns W. Cross camp, Sons of Veterans, hold a regnlar meeting next Wednesday evening.

A regnlar meeting of Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows will be held next Wednesday evening.

Qnaboag council, Royal Arcannm, meets next Tnesday evening and will initiate several candidates.

L L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps will resnme regnlar meetings this evening, after the snmmer vacation.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Recovering From Hurts.

Miss Gertrnde Bennett, who fell from an electric car in Palmer last week Thnrsday night and was badly shaken np and bnised, is slowly recovering from the shock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Addison Bennett, on Wilbraham monntain.

Lnther Farr is spending a vacation in New York state.

Miss Gertrude Chase has been spending part of the week at Block Island.

Mrs. E. W. Wall has retnrned from a two-months' vacation with her sister in Worcester.

Mrs. Samnel Baker of Chicago, a former resident of Wilbrabam, is the gnest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Calkins are gnests of their dangbter, Mrs. Walter Akers of Melrose Highlands.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Gates have retnrned to their cottage in East Wilbraham after spending the snmmer in Maine.

The drain pipe rnnning from the underpass to the front of the town library has been removed and a substitute installed, it being hoped that this will give better satisfaction. The original drain was intended to carry away surface water from the street at this point, but has been a failnre, being continually clogged with sand, requiring digging ont after every storm. A snrface gutter has been bnilt and paved with stone in its place.

HAMPDEN.

Harvey O. Smith has enlisted in the United States navy for three years and is now at Newport.

The committees of the Grange are bnsy preparing to entertain the visiting members of the order at the Pomona meeting next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warner of Canaan, Ct., parents of Mrs. Clinton Chapin, have moved into the tenement which they have rented in Sidney Chapin's honse.

Boston Letter.

The Complications of the Political Situation in Both Parties Under the New Law.

BOSTON, Aug. 30, 1911.

Politicians have never been more at sea in Massachnsetts than they are this very day regarding the outcome of the contending forces. Our new district nomination law upsets all traditional methods of calculating the elements at work. Nobody can predict, with any confidence, whether the trnnout at the primaries on Tnesday, September 26, will be light or heavy. The Republican state committee will nse its influence to get ont a heavy vote. Speaker Walker says that if a heavy vote comes ont he will stand a better chance of being nominated than if the vote shonld be light. He concedes that snch a vote wonld be to the advantage of Lient. Gov. Frothingham, for it would show that, in the main, the voters were the regnlar stand-bys of the party, and he admits that they are for Lient. Gov. Frothingham. His public statement this morning, absolving the Republican state committee, officially, from doing anything against him, is one of the master strokes of his public ntterances, for he makes some very strong points in his own behalf, while doing it in apparent good temper and well within the bounds of truth and moderation. Yet he pnts the members of the committee in snch a light and makes snch points regarding his own policy in the campaign that it wonld seem inevitable that he shonld get more votes in consequence.

Uncertainty charactorizes almost every phase of the situation. At heart, the Republican leaders are very donbtfnl whether they will be able to defeat Gov. Foss They have information to show that Republicans who voted for him last year will not do so this year, but, for all that, they know that there mnst be qnite a drop from the vote in the congressional year to make the lighter vote in an off year change the resnlt. They are feeling mnch concern inside and realize that the contest mnst be very sharp.

On the other hand, one of the biggest Democrats in the state has returned from travel in various political fields and he reports that the falling off from Gov. Foss is more than he supposed and he does not understand what has caused it, for he finds it among the rank and file of the party, as well as among the leaders who are sore because they have not got everything which they believed was their rightful dne. On the other hand, there is the fact that the Democratic state machine is in fine working order and will make every effort to get ont the vote at the polls. The prospect is that the coming campaign will not be any child's game, but that it will be a struggle of strong men for the mastery. The governor enjoys snch a situation. He likes the excitement and the uncertainty of a statewide contest and will go into it with a rnsh. He will have the Democratic organization solidly behind him and there is not now in sight sufficient soreness over appointments to constitnte a serions menace to success. Everybody admits that not all aspirants can be pleased, and that, if a man goes into politics, he mnst play the game bravely and stand his losses, if he loses, with as fnll loyalty to the party and to the ticket as if he had won. The state committee has the situation well in hand and long honrs of solid work are put in by the men who run the office during the working time of the day. The eight hour law of this year does not apply to them.

The Republican state committee put its best foot forward this afternoon in the selection of candidates for officers of the state convention, as far as the prestige of names is concerned. Inside of the committee, it has been known for years that they have been much embarrassed by precedent in naming the chairman of the state convention. Distinguished party leaders have been chosen till the list has seemed to be exhansted. Representatives in Congress have seemed to be about the standard in official rank where they could draw the line. Certain members have been very popular, or not nnpopnlar, and they have been utilized till they have been given their trn. Certain others are regarded as manifestly not suitable and not to be selected as long as possible excnse can be fonnd for not doing so. Hence the promotion of Harris to Congress gives the committee another respite from facing the nndesirables, and he is chosen. In pntting Samnel J Elder at the head of the committee on resolntions, they come ont with the one man who has returned from Newfoundland fisheries as counsel for the United States as having won a snbstantial victory. Hence he is a strong card to play. Now that Dana Malone has retired from office, bnt still has the prestige of the attorney generalship about him, he is a fine member. President Treadway, laying down the toga after three years, is another. The Frenchman, Joseph Monette, is a recognition of his nationality and Senator Mnlligan is a straight conservative, well representing that element. A Walker man says that the committee ought to have waited till after the primaries before making this slate, for it is evidently a straight Frothingham combination. It remains to be seen how this strikes the people.

The reason why the state committee did not adopt a resolntion this afternoon saying that they had kept hands off from the contest between Frothingham, Walker and White and intended to keep hands off, was that they argned that it wonld seem to be almost admitting that they had done something which they ought not to have done. Of conrse, they say, the committee, as a committee, ought not to mix in the contests. They talked over the matter for a long time and then decided that it was the best policy not to say anything abont the matter, bnt take it for granted that they had observed the official proprieties. Doubtless they have, bnt it is well known that the personal preferances of most of the committee are for the lientenant governor.

One of the Walker men finds that there is a growing feeling on the part of the rank and file of the Republicans that Walker is the strongest candidate to rnn against Gov. Foss. He predicts that there will be small indication of interest on the part of the people till shortly before the primaries. Then, he believes, they will wake up and then Walker is likely to get the benefit of their reflections. It is the comparative weakness of Frothingham, as shown by the fignres of the last two campaigns, which is relied npon to tnrn the voters to Walker. Frothingham's margin last fall was only a little over 8000 over Thomas F. Cassidy of Adams for lientenant governor, and that is regarded as qnite a narrow margin, if the Repnblicans really expect to defeat the governor. There is force in the argnment, bnt the machine Repnblicans seem to be, in the main, for the lientenant governor.

From the Democratic headqnarters the prospect is fine. They are very bnsy attending to the details of their organization and holding all parts of the state in close connection with the headquarters. They are nnited throughont, as far as can be seen, and the only point of donbt for them to settle in their favor is the nnmber of Repnblicans who will stay with Gov. Foss. One of the Republicans at Nantasket yesterday, not a Foss man himself, said that he believed the governor wonld get abont as many Republicans as he did last year, because of the fact in human nature that men like to stick to their gronnd and that they believed in giving a candidate a second chance.

The coming state conventions will be queer affairs. At the Repnblican headqnarters it is said that the indications are that the delegates will not care much about coming, because there will not be anything for them to do bnt to adopt the platform. Therefore the convention may be small. On the other hand, all the candidates for office on the state ticket, that is, who will be voted for at the state election, are entitled to seats. It will, therefore, be for them to attend the convention and make snre that the party platform is only such as they wish to stand on. It wonld be an interesting incident if some Democrat who is entitled to sit in the Republican state convention, or vice versa, should throw the gathering into confnsion by proposing some doctrine which would not harmonize with the party principles. There are varions opportunities for novel incidents in the conventions, and that may help to prevent the gatherings from being discreditably small.

LANDON.

Baseball.

PALMER TOWN LEAGUE.

Palmer 5, Thorndike 0.

Palmer defeated Thorndike, 5 to 0, Satnrday afternoon at Thorndike. Errors with men on bases lost for the home team Smith pitched a good game for Thorndike. The score:

Palmer,	ab	h	po	a	e	Thorndike.	ab	h	po	a	e
Kenney, c,	4	0	13	1	0	Holden, 1,	4	0	11	0	1
Provost, 2,	4	0	1	1	0	Keefe, m,	4	1	3	0	0
Drexler, 1,	4	0	10	0	1	Cahill, 1,	4	1	0	0	0
St. John, r,	4	1	0	0	0	Hurley, c,	4	1	8	2	2
Smith, p,	4	0	0	4	2	Doyle, 2,	3	1	0	4	0
Donnt'n, s,	4	2	0	1	0	Daley, 3,	3	0	0	2	1
E. Bro'e, m,	4	2	1	0	0	Manley, p,	3	0	2	3	0
Lawson, 3,	4	1	2	1	0	Chabot, s,	3	0	3	1	1
P. Bro'te, l,	3	1	0	1	0	McKe'zie, r,	3	1	0	0	0
Total,	35	7	27	9	3	Total,	31	5	27	12	5

Palmer, 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0 1—5

Runs, Dounton 2, E. Brouillette 2, P. Brouillette. Total bases, Palmer 8, Thorndike 6. Sacrifice hit, Cahill. Stolen bases, St. John 2, Dounton 2, E. Brouillette, Doyle. Ilize off Smith 5, off Manley 7. Two-base hit, P. Brouillette, Cahill. Left on bases, Thorndike 6, Palmer 5. Struck out, by Smith 11, by Manley 7. Batter hit, P. Brouillette. Passed ball, Hurley. Time, 1h. 45m. Umpire, Henry Martens.

Bondsville 4, Three Rivers 1.

Bondsville won from Three Rivers Saturday at the latter place, 4 to 1. The score:

Bondsville.	ab	b	po	a	e	T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e
Belisle, l,	4	0	0	0	0	Whalen, c,	4	2	12	0	1
Fitz'k, r,	3	0	0	0	0	Fournier, 2,	4	0	1	3	0
Sull'vn, c,	4	0	12	1	0	Graham, l,	4	1	6	0	0
Fahay, 3,	4	1	2	1	0	Justin, p,	2	1	0	1	0
Keyes, m,	3	0	0	0	0	T. Cole, s,	4	1	3	1	0
Donovan, l,	4	0	10	0	0	L. Cole, 3,	3	0	1	1	1
Bennett, p,	4	0	0	0	0	Rogers, l,	3	0	2	0	0
Murray, s,	3	0	2	3	0	Wizard, r,	1	0	0	0	0
Fitzge'ld, 2,	3	1	1	3	0	Barber, r,	3	1	0	0	0
						Lafave, m,	3	1	2	0	1
Total,	32	2	27	8	3	Total,	31	7	27	6	3

Bondsville, 0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 1—4
Three Rivers, 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1

Runs, Fitzpatrick, Fahey 2, Fitzgerald. Rogers. Sacrifice hits, Keyes, Graham, L. Cole. Stolen bases, Fahey, Whalen, Graham 2, Rogers 2, Barber 2. Two-base hit, Whalen. First base on balls, off Bennett 3, off Justin 1. Left on bases, Bondsville 2, Three Rivers 9. Struck out, by Bennett 12, Justin 11. Batter hit, Keyes. Double plays, T. Cole to L. Cole, Murray, Fitzgerald and Donovan. Time, 1h. 50m. Umpire, Colleton.

LAST YEAR OF THE LEAGUE?

Charges of Bad Faith Made By Thorndike Followers of the Game.

A correspondent writes from Thorndike as follows: "Labor Day will be the last of the baseball season as far as the Thorndike team of the Palmer Town League is concerned, and many of the fans are of the opinion that this will probably be the last season of the league Their reason is the manner in which some of the teams have been conducted, so far as keeping the agreement regarding the amonnt outside players were to receive for their services. That the rnle has been broken in more than one instance by some of the clubs is common talk, and it has had a tendency to lessen the interest with those who go to the games for the love of the sport. This year it has been a qnestion of which club or village put the most money into the game, and as a resnlt the games have not proved as interesting as they otherwise would have been. Thorndike claims the honor of living up to the agreement to the letter. The team has had the same battery throughont the season, and in spite of being badly defeated has held to the idea that town players shonld be given a show in the game. As matters have gone this year the games have been a battle between pitchers, the other players sometimes figuring in the game only on the score card. It is predicted that if the league is to last another year the only way will be for each village to play local men only, when the resnlt will be satisfactory. The home players will then have something for their services at the end of the season, and will not be obliged to go without because all the money has been paid to ont-of-town players. Springfield is not a great ways off, and some of the fans say that if they wish to see professional ball they will go to the Connecticnt league games. The nmpire system has not given satisfaction this year, and the local talk is that the money paid to outside men might also be saved by getting local men to do the work, which in the end wonld prove fnlly as satisfactory as the method employed this year."

Last Games of the Season.

The last games of the season will be played to-morrow and Monday, and a whole lot depends on the resnlts. To-morrow Palmer plays in Bondsville and Thorndike at Three Rivers; Monday forenoon Three Rivers plays in Thorndike and in the afternoon Bondsville plays in Palmer. The latter game is expected to be a hot one. Palmer has secnred Eayrs of the Woonsocket Mill league team, who has lost only one game this year, as a pitcher, and Bondsville will play "Bennett," who pitched a no-hit game against Three Rivers recently. The game will be for blood on both sides.

There are nnmerons possibilities in these last games, and it is possible to end np with three teams — Three Rivers, Bondsville and Palmer — tied for first place. Shonld Palmer take two from Bondsville and Three Rivers two from Thorndike, and Bondsville defeat Three Rivers in the protested game to be played later, all three teams will finish with the same peroentage. The above outcome is hardly to be expected, bnt it is the unexpected which happens, and the best of teams will have "off" days now and then.

Ware was defeated by Gilbertville, 5 to 2, Satnrday in a game at Gilbertville.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Congh Remedy for I have nsed it with perfect snccess," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

GOOD NEWS FOR EVERYBODY.

George Ade is Going to Write 10 New Fables in Slang for the Boston Sunday Globe.

The Boston Sunday Globe, after much negotiation, is enabled to announce that, beginning next Sunday, it will publish 10 new "Fables in Slang" by George Ade. Considering Mr. Ade's fame as a writer for the stage and his income therefrom, you can imagine that a handsome pecuniary compensation was necessary to induce him to step aside from the dramatic field to till again the soil on which his first prolific crops of mirth were grown

Yet it would be unjust to Mr Ade to intimate that money alone was the moving power which led him to come back to his first andience. On the contrary, his natural love of the newspaper world and newspaper audiences were so strong and his gratitnde toward those who first encouraged him with their generous applause so intense, that he could not resist the temptation to come back and have a new series of laughs with them As far as New England is concerned these will appear exclnsively in the Boston Sunday Globe.

Don't forget to tell all your friends that George Ade is going to write a series of new fables in slang for the Boston Snnday Globe beginning Snnday, Sept. 3.

As nsually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, bnt by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cnre can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

CARD.—We wish to extend heartfelt thanks to our many friends for their deeds of kindness during our recent bereavement; also for the floral offerings.

THOMAS MCCARTHY AND FAMILY.

Palmer, Sept. 1, 1911.

DIED.

In Palmer, 26th nlt., Mrs. Kate Stafford, 65.
In Monson, 28th nlt., Mrs. Josephine Marsh, 60.
In Monson, 28th nlt., Samuel Closson, 63.
In Warren, 28th nlt., Homer Tupper, 41.
In Portsmonth, N. H., 26th nlt., Henry Sheriden, formerly of Warren.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 29th nlt., by Rev. M. J. O'Connell, John E. Gibbons of Hackensack, N. J., and Mary B. Dillon of Palmer.

In Palmer, 29th nlt, by Rev. F. S. Brewer, William R. Marsden of Chicago, Ill., and Nelle Smith L. of Palmer.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

FOR SALE—Concord buggy, in good condition. Inquire of MRS. R. H. SANBORN, 257 Smith Main street, Palmer. 22-1ts

FOR RENT — Two furnished rooms, heated and electric lights; singly or en suite. 21-tf 45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

TO RENT — Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

FOR SALE—Surrey with two seats and canopy top, Concord and light buggies, carriage pole and single harness. D. F. HOLDEN, State Ave., Palmer. 19-tf

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rngs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED MCCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

A LARGE mercantile house requires the services of a special lady representative for this city and district to appoint agents and heads to the business in general. Suitable for a student or lady of average education. Salary $50 a month, expenses and commission. Apply by letter to E. W. HEBERT, 150 Bridge St., Springfield. 20-3

WANTED—GOOD HOUSEKEEPING MAGAZINE requires the services of a representative in Palmer to look after subscription renewals and to extend circulation by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Salary and commission. Previous experience desirable, but not essential. Whole time or spare time. Address, with references, J. F. Fairbanks, Good Housekeeping Magazine, 381 Fourth Ave., New York City. 22-2

WANTED—A few good girls who are not afraid to soil their hands. Apply at No. 3 mill Tnesday. WRIGHT WIRE CO., Mill No. 3.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a.m. 12.30-2 p.m. 6.30-8 p.m.
Tel. 104-5.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

Boy Wanted
One about 16 years old, to feed press and make himself generally useful. Steady job. Apply at Journal Office.

The Advantages of Paying Your Bills by Check

You have a legal receipt.
You have a record and can know just how you have spent your money.
Your money is safe.
Your money is kept in circulation and it enables other people to do more business than they otherwise could.
We solicit your account, whether large or small, and guarantee all transactions to be absolutely confidential.

Palmer National Bank
L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Comply with the law

which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.

If you use

The Neverout PATENT

Monson News.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

To Be Opened Here Next Friday. Instructions To Depositors.

Postmaster G. H. Seymour has received his instructions in regard to the postal savings bank, which will be opened here Sept. 8th. Any patron of the office, 10 years of age, may start an account, deposits being limited to $500. All accounts must be opened by individuals only, no corporation, society, club, etc, being allowed to deposit, nor can two persons run a joint account. Certificates of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 are issued as evidence of deposits, each bearing the depositor's name, the date, number of his account and name of office. No amount less than $1 is received, but amounts less than $1 may be saved for deposit by purchasing a 10-cent postal savings card and 10-cent postal savings stamps, this being exchangeable for a certificate in amounts of $1 or more. A depositor may exchange his savings for U. S. registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at 2½ per cent per annum, such exchange to be made Jan. 1st or July 1st with 15 days' notice to the postmaster of his intention. The local office does not expect to do a large business with the postal savings system, but it is thought that the foreign population who hesitate to patronize a bank but who have faith in the government, will deposit their savings rather than send them home by money order as they now do.

Death of Samuel Closson.

Samuel Closson, 69, a well known resident of Monson for 30 years, died at his home on Granite street Monday night after a long illness with tuberculosis. He was born in Blue Hill, Me., in 1842 and received his education in that town and at the seminary at Bucksport. Mr. Closson enlisted in the civil war at the age of 19 and served over a year, being honorably discharged for disability. He returned to Blue Hill and learned the stone cutter's trade, which he followed the rest of his life, working in Fall River and Stoney Creek, where he had charge of the Butty stone works, and in this town. Mr. Closson was employed by the Flynt Granite Company here about 20 years, and in 1893, in connection with Hall Bros. of Palmer, operated a quarry for several seasons. He was an active member of Marcus Keep post, G. A. R. Mr. Closson was well known and respected by a large circle of friends. He leaves besides his widow one daughter, Mrs. Louis Dimmock of Springfield, two sons, James E. of Danbury, Ct., and Luke W. of Monson; also one sister, Miss Hattie Closson of this town. The funeral was held at his home this afternoon at 2 30, Rev. G. A. Andrews officiating, followed by burial in No. 1 cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Josephine Marsh.

Mrs. Josephine Marsh, 60, died at her home on State street suddenly Monday evening. She had been slightly ill for two weeks, but her condition was not serious until Monday night, when she died suddenly from the effects of an apoplectic shock. She was born in Bethel, Me., and came to Monson 16 years ago. She was a regular attendant of the Universalist church and was well known and respected by her many friends. She leaves one brother, Hira Smith of Bethel, Me., and one granddaughter, Miss Anna Marsh of this town. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the home, Rev. Ahram Conklin officiating, and the burial was in Barre this morning.

House Struck By Lightning.

The house of Daniel Young on North Main street was struck by lightning during the heavy shower Monday night. The bolt entered the house on the electric light wires and burned the floor wood work and curtains in the attic and caused a leak in the gas pipe in the cellar. The family were not aware that the house had been struck until Tuesday morning, when the gas failed to work and an investigation followed.

Ralph Jackson of Amherst is visiting R K. Squier.

Joseph Deltour is visiting friends in Utica, N. Y.

Edward Leahy has returned from a visit in Mystic, Ct.

Louis Rogers is ill at his home on Reynolds avenue.

R. S. Stebbins is spending a week in New York city.

W. C. Monlton has returned from a trip to Nashua, N. H.

Services at the Universalist church will be resumed Sunday.

Nelson Kedd of Meriden spent Sunday with Monson friends.

Mrs. W. C. Bradway is visiting her daughter in Webster.

M. N. Post, manager for Squier & Co., is taking his vacation.

Clifford Miller of Athol has been visiting local friends this week.

Carlton Murphy of East Weymouth is visiting local relatives.

Mrs. Lorenzo Hutchinson has returned from a visit in Oakham.

Miss Esther Robbins has been visiting friends in North Adams

Mrs. William Oheloff of Hartford is visiting relatives in town.

Harold Ashley of Portsmouth, N H., spent Wednesday in town.

Myron E. Wright has returned from a vacation at Fisher's Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Robin West of Dalton have been visiting local relatives.

Misses Sylvia and Mary Fuller have returned from a visit in Boston.

Hector Aldrich, who has been seriously ill with appendicitis, is improving.

Henry N. Flynt, who has been ill at his home on High street, is improving.

Miss Helen Beebe of Wilbraham is visiting Mrs. Louise Howe on East Hill.

Miss Lena Bryans has returned from a two-weeks' visit in New Britain, Ct.

Miss Frieda Rand has returned from a two-weeks' stay in Lyndeboro, N H.

Edward Bolster is taking a vacation from his duties in the Marcus bakery.

Miss Nellie Beckwith has returned from a visit with friends in New York city.

N P. Hanley is taking a two-weeks' vacation from his duties at Rogers & Co.

Mr. and Mrs D. H. Barnes have returned from a visit in Providence and Rockport.

Miss Mildred Adams has returned from a visit of several weeks in New York city.

Miss Nellie Squier and R Keep Squier have returned from a trip to Pigeon Cove.

Mrs. G. L Fuller and Mrs. M. W. Roberts have returned from a visit to New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pease have returned from a week's stay at Quon and Chontaug, R. I.

S. F. Cushman and family have returned from several weeks' stay at Jamestown, R. I.

D. B. Needham has returned from a two-weeks' vacation from her duties at Gage Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kendall have returned from a visit to Lenox and Pittsfield.

Miss Helen Morris of Brockton has been visiting Miss Ruth Keeney during the past week.

J. E Closson of Danbury, Ct., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Closson on Granite street.

Miss Martha A. Ink, matron at Cushman Hall, has returned and is opening the Hall preparatory to the opening of the Academy, Sept. 12.

Wilfred and Norman Beech of Lowell have been visiting local friends during the past week.

Rev. and Mrs. Abram Conklin have returned from a three-weeks' stay at Southhold, L. I.

Miss Helen Foskett of Enfield, who has been visiting Mrs. F S. Chapman, has returned home.

Mrs. Thomas Cook of Springfield, who has been visiting local friends, has returned home.

Emery Shaw of Sutton, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Shaw, has returned home.

Harry L Oldfield of New York City is visiting Mr. and Mrs R. A. Beckwith on Lincoln Place.

Miss Mary Murphy, who has been spending two weeks in Brockton and Boston, has returned home.

Mrs. James Tobin of Norwich is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner on Margaret street.

Miss Helen Crane of Chelsea has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Cross during the past week.

E. A. Hanley, E. F. Faulkner and Francis O'Brien are spending a week at Salisbury and Revere.

Miss Ruth Flynt has returned from Munsonville, N. H., where she has been camping several weeks.

The Summer Sewers held their last meeting of the season with Miss Florence Park Monday afternoon.

Barney Monte of Scranton, Pa., a former resident, has returned to his home after a two-weeks' visit in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ricketts are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Wednesday morning.

Miss Anna Morris, who has been visiting Mr and Mrs. John McCarthy, has returned to her home in Franklin.

Miss Eva Oakes, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. L. Royce, has returned to her home in Worcester.

J. B. Cobb of Chicopee Falls, who has been spending a few days with local friends, has returned home.

Misses Susan and Clara McCorsican of Worcester, who have been visiting Mrs. A. L Royce, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmalee of Springfield, who have been visiting Mrs. J. R. Calkins, have returned home.

Arthur Holdridge of Springfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holdridge on South Main street.

Misses Alco and Irene Murphy, who have been visiting Mrs. Catherine Murphy, have returned to their home in Hartford.

Rev. Andrew J. Magill of New York city will conduct religious services in the State Line schoolhouse Sunday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock.

Miss Virginia Charles of Richmond, Va., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holdridge on South Main street, has returned to her home.

Joseph Priestly has resigned his position as superintendent at the Longewald worsted mill and Michael Shea of Dalton has accepted the position.

Ricketts, Shaw & Co. are making some alterations on their mill on Oak street; the dynamo is being moved and an addition built on the dryer room.

The Ellis No. 1 mill has been closed since July 2 but reports have been received from good authority that operations will be resumed in the near future.

Misses Ruth Hilbard, Ruby Squier, Esther and Ruth Emery, Julia and Mary Wheeler have returned from several weeks' stay at a girls' camp at Munsonville, N. H.

Albert Sykes, who has taken a position in Fairfield, Me., is moving his family to that place and has leased his house to E. G Bacon, who will occupy it immediately.

Mrs. Hillary Murray and daughters, Ruth and Margaret, who have been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Carlos M. Gage, leave Monday for their home in Minneapolis, Minn.

The Worcester County Gas company will move its supply store Sept 1st from its present quarters in the Monson House block to Heimann & Lichten's store, recently vacated by F A. Bills.

The telephone company is laying a new cable under the street near the central office; a man-hole is also being constructed so that repairs can be made in the future without digging up the macadam road.

Andrew Schultz while making repairs on the Hughes block on Main street Tuesday, fell to the ground, splintering three ribs He was attended by Dr. Capen and is resting comfortably at his home on Gates street.

Mrs. Etta Orentt is moving from the Frank Holmes house to William Underwood's house on Lincoln street. George W. French, teacher at the Academy, will occupy the tenement vacated by Mrs Orentt.

William Hanson of Holyoke, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Charles Hanson on Hampden avenue, was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis Monday and was removed to the House of Mercy hospital in Springfield.

Miss Dorothy Hill has notified Supt. of Schools F. A. Wheeler that she will be unable to teach the East Hill school during the first part of the fall term on account of illness, and Mrs. Guy Pelton has been appointed substitute teacher.

The Young Ladies' Society and the Oxford chapter of the Methodist Episcopal church held a food, candy and ice cream sale Tuesday evening from 6 to 8, followed by an entertainment in the vestry, consisting of music and readings by Miss Hazel Moore.

Miss Alice Shaw of Monson and Raymond L. Taft of Ludlow were united in marriage at the home of E F Morey in Springfield Monday, Rev. George V. Daniels officiating. After a trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Taft will make their home in Ludlow.

The Summer Sewers held a lawn party and social at "Holm brook" this afternoon. This is the last meeting the society will have this season. The organization is composed mainly of the young ladies of the town and has met weekly at the homes of the different members.

Miss Ruth H. Johnson left Monday for Vernal, Utah, where she will teach German at the Wilcox Academy. Miss Johnson is a graduate of Monson Academy and Mt. Holyoke College and for the past two years has been city missionary at the Shawmut Congregational church in Boston.

Repairs and alterations have been made on the Morris House on High street and accommodations for fifty-five more students have been made. It is expected that the number of boarding students at the Academy this year will be about 50 and a good percentage of this number come recommended with athletic ability.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Ruth B. Flynt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flynt, to John Marshall of New York city. Miss Flynt is a graduate of Monson Academy and has studied at Smith College and Simmons' College in Boston, and is one of the most popular members of the younger set.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

The house events at the Quaboag Country Club for Labor Day will be a bridge whist party in the afternoon in charge of Mrs. R. F. Bradway, Mrs. W. L. Ricketts, Mrs. Frank Shaw, Mrs Chapin. There will be a dance in the evening in charge of Dwight Ellis, Miss Olivia C. Flynt, Miss Kate Cushman and S. F. Cushman Jr.

The bridge whist held at the Quaboag Country Club house Wednesday evening was well attended. Mrs. G. H. Seymour won the lady's prize and the gentleman's prize was awarded to George S. Holden of Palmer. The affair was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Flynt, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Jackson and Miss Winnifred Cooke.

At the annual fair of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society 355 of the local school children will compete for prizes given for vegetable raising. There will be four events with four classes in each event and four prizes of $1, .75, .50 and .25c. The four events will be: Best yield of potatoes, best plate of potatoes, best ear of corn, best six ears of corn.

The King's Daughters will hold their annual business meeting next Friday with Mrs. M. C. Howe on Main street. The annual picnic and outing will be held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith on the Stafford lower road, and a cordial invitation is extended to all members and their husbands. If Thursday is stormy the picnic will be held the next pleasant day.

Among the graduates of the Academy in 1911 to pursue further studies this fall will be: R K. Squier at Bryant & Stratton's Business College, Boston; W. C. Cushman at Pratt Institute; Dowling at Dartmouth; R. Taylor, post graduate at the Academy; Dunsford at Trinity College, Leahy at Tufts College, Nye at the University of Pennsylvania; Johnson, 1910, will enter Dartmouth this fall.

Mrs Carlos M. Gage gave a tea to a large number of friends at her home on Main street this afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Hillary Murray of Minneapolis. Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Carl Blair received. Mrs. Edward D. Cushman and Mrs Carlos L Peck ponred and were assisted by Miss Esther Gage of Warren, Mrs. G. H Seymour, Miss Margaret Blair of Warren and Mrs. Rufus Fay.

WALES.

Miss Ada Rourke is visiting friends in Worcester.

C. M. Gale of Fanenil is building a cottage near Lake Florence.

Elmer P. Shaw of West Sutton visited friends in town this week.

Regular services were resumed at the Baptist church last Sunday.

Maurice Parker of Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Parker.

Orlando Smith and Miss Ida Smith are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith in Stafford.

Mrs Fred Leland and son and daughter of Worcester are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Pepper.

Mrs. Isalab Hiscock has returned to her home from Stafford, where she has been spending the summer.

Mrs. George Parker entertained the Baptist Ladies' Aid Society at her home on Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Bertha Bogwardt and Violet McKernon of Woonsocket, R I., visited friends in town this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles T. Holt have returned from Oak Bluffs, where they have been spending their vacation.

Arthur Hitchcock of Palmer is spending his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs George Dimmick.

Mr and Mrs L H. Thompson and son and Mrs J C. Burley have returned from Hyannis, where they spent their vacation.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid Society has reorganized with the following officers: President, Mrs LeRoy Squier; vice president, Miss Eva Royce; secretary and treasurer, Mrs N. F. Bradley. They held a social Saturday evening and sold ice cream and cake. There was a musical program in which Mr and Mrs. Stedman of Hartford, Dr. Marshman and Miss Ruth Thayer of Springfield, Miss Annie Krause of Monson, Mr. Freeman of Wilbraham, and Miss Winona Shaw of this town took part

WARREN.

Death of Homer Tupper.

Homer Tupper, 41, died suddenly Monday afternoon of a uraemic convulsion. Mr. Tupper had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for several years. He returned Saturday from a two-weeks' vacation at Hinckley, Me., and appeared greatly improved. Mr. Tupper was born in Wilbraham February 2, 1870 son of the late George W. and Elizabeth B. Tupper. He had worked for the Boston and Albany railroad over 20 years, and in Warren nine years, during the last four years acting as station master. He was a member of the Mattawamppe club. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lyda Walker Tupper, one daughter, Mildred, five years old; a brother, Frank Tupper of Worcester, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Tupper, who is at present visiting in Erie, Pa. Mr. Tupper had hosts of friends among the citizens and traveling public who had come in contact with him, and to whom he was always most obliging. The funeral was held this morning at 11, Rev. Olney I. Darling officiating, and the body was taken to Wilbraham for burial.

Death of Former Resident.

The body of Henry Sheridan, who died in a Portsmouth, N. H., hospital Saturday was brought to Warren Sunday afternoon. Mr. Sheriden was injured in an automobile accident on Thursday, but was not considered seriously injured until Friday, when he went to a hospital and it was found there was serious injury to his left shoulder. During Friday some internal injury developed, and he sank rapidly. Mr. Sheriden was a a native of Warren, and in his younger days was considered one of the best amateur athletes in the state. He worked for a number of years in Springfield, leaving that city about four years ago for Portsmouth, where he had since resided. The funeral was held Monday morning in St. Paul's church, Rev. John P. McCaughan officiating at the requiem high mass. Burial was in St. Paul's cemetery. The bearers were John Moran Jr., Martin Moran, Joseph Faron, Harry Linnehan, Daniel Cavanaugh, all of Warren, and Joseph Stock of Boston.

Fell Down Stairs.

Fred Reynolds was painfully injured early yesterday morning. He arose about 3 30 to get some water for his young son, who sleeps in an adjoining room, and as he was returning to his own room mistook the stairway for the door to his room. He fell headlong to the bottom, turning over as he went and in so doing struck a large ball lamp and broke it to pieces. Dr. John E. Dalton was summoned and found that he had fractured his jaw bone on the left side near the cheek bone. There was also a cut on his chin which required six stitches and his face and chest were badly bruised.

The body of Mrs. Addie Anderson, who died in Northampton Saturday, was brought to Warren Sunday morning for burial in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

Following a meeting and installation of officers of the Knights of King Arthur Friday evening the women of the Congregational church tendered a reception to the resigning pastor, Rev. T. C. Richards, who left this week for Westboro. He had been in Warren five year.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

HE WOULDN'T BE A HERO

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

Joe Harper was a sturdy young farmer, and Ellen Taylor was the daughter of another, and they were engaged to be married. All their friends said it would be a sensible match. Joe was given the credit of lots of "horse sense," and no one could say that the young woman was a bit frivolous. That is, they couldn't until after a certain girl friend of hers from town had made her a three weeks' visit and left four or five novels behind her when she departed.

Those novels were about heroes, cavaliers, chevaliers and knights. They told of perils, combats and rescues. Mrs. Taylor would have chucked them into the stove had she found them and boxed her daughter's ears besides, but she didn't find them. They were read at night after the rest of the family was asleep. By the time she had finished the second one the girl was looking askance at Joe. He was sunburned and freckled; his ears were rather large; instead of saying prithee, he said by gosh. In all the novels the chevaliers had plumes in their hats; Joe didn't even wear a hen's feather in his old straw. He had a hoe on his shoulder instead of a lance, and he plowed corn with an old fleabitten mare instead of riding around on an Arabian steed.

No, Joe didn't size up for shucks compared to the chevaliers.

In the meadow, near the field where Joe was plowing corn, a colony of bumble bees had taken up their quarters in a tuft of grass. This fact was known to the Taylor family, and the farmer intended to rout them out some evening. Bumble bees are not chevaliers, but they are the next thing to it. At 2 o'clock one afternoon, when it was seen that Joe and the old mare were hard at work, Miss Ellen put on her bonnet and walked out to that bumblebee caucus. At five feet from it she halted and screamed and danced around.

The scream reached Joe Harper's ears, and he let go of the plow handles and made for the fence. In an instant he realized the situation, but he didn't dash forward and fall over several stumps. Instead of so doing he sat on the fence and called out:

"Ellen, why in thunder don't you run away!"

"Oh, the bumble bees!" she shouted.

"Yes, but don't stand there like an idiot! Make for the house!"

A week had passed and the stings had been cured, when Joe got another chance. At 2 o'clock one afternoon Miss Ellen sat on the veranda sewing and wondering how Joe would look in armor and on horseback, when she caught sight of a big dog coming along the highway on the gallop She screamed for Joe again. He dropped his hoe and came running, but paused as he reached the fence to ask what was the matter.

"Mad dog! Mad dog!" she shouted

"Then climb up that ladder on to the roof of the kitchen!"

No rushing to the rescue, no beating the dog's brains out, no remarks worth leaving to posterity. Miss Ellen was furious with him. That was the reason a rung of the ladder broke as she was descending and precipated her on an ashheap. Within an hour the chevalier of the hoe received word that he need never show up at the Taylor house again. The engagement was off.

"Now look at that!" he exclaimed when he had been made to understand "There was that ladder handy to climb I saw the dog coming and knew it belonged to Perkins. Was there any need for me to break my other suspender? And if it had been a real mad dog would it have helped the case any for both of us to have been bitten?"

Joe stayed away. He had been told to and he obeyed. At the end of two weeks he took a day off to go fishing. Miss Ellen heard through her brother that he was going, and she made a little plan. She had got over being mad at the man who wouldn't be heroic. In fact, she wanted to "make up." She would go a-fishing too. She wouldn't fish for fish, but for Joe Harper. The lover of other and happier days was fishing from a shady bank when she came into view, but he was on the other side of the stream. He watched her walk out on a stranded log and said to himself:

"If she gets a bite and jerks up her pole she'll sure go off that log."

Two minutes later the thing happened. There was a nibble, a jerk and a souse, and after the souse a yell for Joe. He had been seen. The water was only about three feet deep, and as the girl gained her feet after the souse she was called to:

"Don't get skeart, Ellen!"

"Oh, Joe—Joe!"

"You can wade ashore easy enough"

"Joe, I shall—shall"—

"No, you won't."

In the six weeks following the bets were ten to one that Joe and Ellen would never marry, but those who gave the odds lamented it. The two met on the highway, and after pretending not to see each other they halted, and the girl said:

"Joe, I wanted to marry a hero."

"Well, I hain't one."

"I wanted to marry a hero, but I guess I'll have to take up with a great, big, good natured, slabsided farmer."

"Looks that way to me, Ellen," smiled Joe, and that evening the marriage day was set.

Did His Best.

The Clergyman—Do you mean to say that your wife goes to church every Sunday without you? Husband—Well, it isn't my fault. I can't persuade her to stay at home.—Stray Stories.

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

Sure It Was His Wife.

Three o'clock was the very earliest the man could get up to the store, so his wife asked him to meet her then.

"I don't know in what department I shall be at that time," she said, "but just before 3 I will telephone to the clerk at the information bureau near the main entrance, and if you will just step over and ask him he will tell you where I am."

At two minutes past 3 the man sought information as to the whereabouts of his wife.

"I have a message," said the clerk, "from a woman who said her husband would inquire for her about 3 o'clock. Maybe it is for you. She said to tell you that she has gone to Blank's store, over on Sixth avenue, to finish her shopping because the clerks in this store are impudent, the place is ill ventilated and she couldn't find anything she wanted here anyhow and never has been able to find anything here and this is positively the last time she will ever try to find anything here. Of course that might have been your wife"—

"Oh, yes," said the man; "that was her all right."—New York Sun.

Cochineal Insects.

Before many years cochineal scarlet will have become a thing of history only, like the Tyrian purple of antiquity. That is the conclusion of M. Leon Diguet, who has been studying the state of the cochineal industry in Mexico. The first specimens of cochineal were taken to Europe by the Spanish adventurers in the sixteenth century. The Indians had cultivated the coccus cacti, from which the color is derived in pre-Columbian times, and after the Spanish conquest the industry developed rapidly. The city of Oaxaca was the center of the cochineal country in the days of Humboldt, but only a few plantations of the nopal cactus, on which the insects are fed, now remain. The female insects only are used to form a dye, and they are gathered by brushing the branches of the nopal as soon as they begin to lay their eggs. They are then desiccated in ovens or killed with boiling water.

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, croup, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Odd Marriage Notices.

Here are some quaint old time marriage notices that have been dug up by the Springfield Union:

In Bozrah, August, 1819, Mr. John Bate of Williamstown, Mass., to Miss Mary Ann Bass of the former place, after a courtship of one hour.

Is not this angling well, I ask,
Such tender bait to take?
He caught in one small hour a Bass.
The Bass, though, caught the Bate.

Married, at Bridgewater, Dec. 10, 1788, Captain Thomas Baxter of Quincy, aged sixty-six, to Miss Whitman of the former place, aged fifty-eight years, after a long and tedious courtship of forty-eight years, which they both sustained with uncommon fortitude.

In Boston, April, 1821, by the Rev. William Sabine, Joseph Willicut to Miss Susan Whitmarsh, after a tedious courtship of thirteen days, and but thirty-five days after the death of his former wife.

The best way, it seems, a deep sorrow to smother,
For the loss of a wife is—to marry another.

A Sure Way.

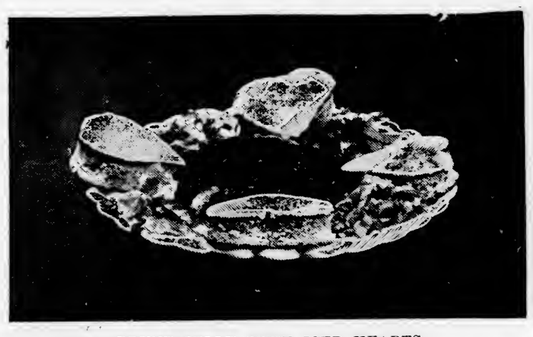
Ethel—Their parents made the match, I believe. Arthur—I thought they opposed it? Ethel—Yes; that's how they made it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

No, Indeed.

Just because a man wants but little here below is no sign that he has anything coming to him on high.—Galveston News.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.



Palmer women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of dropsy or Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause. Here's proof of it in a Palmer woman's words.

Mrs. A. Sherman, 24 Park St., Palmer, Mass. says: "All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly recommended them in August, 1908, still holds good. It would be hard to fully describe the misery I endured from kidney complaint. I was rarely free from a dull bearing-down pain in my back and I was subject to chills and dizzy spells. My head ached, my appetite was poor and I had a feeling of languor. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a box at Lynde & Gould's Drug Store and they helped me from the first. As I continued taking them I steadily grew better until my trouble was a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

Household Hints.

PRUNE JELLY WITH ICED HEARTS.

Cake that is to be eaten fresh does not require much butter or many eggs, so for the hearts make a simple one egg cake by the following rule and bake in a sheet. Cream one-quarter cup of butter, add one-half cup of sugar and one egg well beaten. Sift one and one-half cups of flour and two and one-half level teaspoons of baking powder together and add with one-half cup of milk to the first mixture. Turn on to a paper and when cool cut into hearts and ice with one-half teaspoon of gelatine, one-half teaspoon of lemon extract and enough powdered sugar beaten into it to spread smoothly.

For a small mould soak one-half pound of prunes over night in sufficient water to cover. In the morning stew them in the same water, remove the stones, add one-half cup of sugar and when it is dissolved take the prunes from the fire and rub through a strainer. Soak one-quarter box of gelatine in one-half cup of cold water and add enough boiling water to dissolve it. Add the gelatine to the prunes and also the white of one egg beaten stiff. Turn into a mould and set away to harden. Garnish the hearts and prunes with a few green leaves.

Your Attention

Is called to our large assortment of

Ginghams and Percales

Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Forest Lake Park,

Sunday, Sept. 3

Labor Day, Sept. 4

A Big Program Both Days

Don't Miss Either One

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled

To-day We Present a Fine Showing of

The New Fall Serges

For Tailored Suits and Dresses

No more serviceable all-around fabric comes from the loom than Serge. In the Fall fashions it holds a prominent place. Our present showing is complete and exceptionally well chosen. Splendid qualities for every purpose are shown in both fine and coarse weaves and in several shades of each of the most favored colors. The collection includes an especially good assortment of

"True Blue" Serges

Many women always have a Blue Serge Suit in their wardrobe, and nothing is smarter or more universally becoming. We show Blue Serge in several shades ranging from the lightest navy to the midnight blue—and they are all "True blue."

50 to 58 inches wide.

$1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.00 a yard

Main Floor, Aisle 1.

Forbes & Wallace,
Springfield, Mass.

Low-Mark Furniture Sale

As a grand windup of our LOW-MARK SALE that closes Sept. 1st, we shall offer room outfits at special prices. If you are not ready to go housekeeping now you can make a small deposit on one room and the whole outfit will be reserved for you to be delivered later.

Hundreds have taken advantage of our easy term plan and are now living in their own homes. Why not you?

Kitchen Complete	$44.25	Bed Room	$55.75
A Cosy Parlor	$58.00	Dining Room	$67.00

Flint & Brickett Co.

Opp. Court Square 439 Main St

Electric Motors, Gas, Gasolene or Kerosene Engines, Ventilating or Ceiling Fans, Forge Blowers, Pulleys, Hangers and Shafting,

new or second-hand furnished and installed

Wm. C. Moulton, Electrical and Mechanical Contractor.

Phone 122-21 Monson, Mass.

Last Chance

From now to Sept. 1 to buy odds and ends of goods we are selling below cost.

P. O. Block, M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.

UP ONE FLIGHT.

The Elm Tree Beetle and the Gas Company

Attention is continually being directed, by the daily papers, to the devastation of trees and foliage in this locality by the GYPSY MOTH, BROWN TAIL MOTH, ELM TREE BEETLE and other pestiferous insects.

THE GAS COMPANY respectfully requests notice in writing at the time blight on trees or shrubbery is observed in order that an inspection may be made, otherwise it will CONTEST ALL CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE, as our expert has proved conclusively that many cases where GAS POISONING was claimed the trees were killed by insects, winter cold, drouth and the growth of malignant fungi.

After examination THE GAS COMPANY will present their expert's report, gratuitously, so that proper measures may be taken to protect the trees or foliage affected.

WORCESTER COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

USE GAS

For

Lighting, Heating and Cooking

No Dirt—No Waste—No Smell

Worcester County Gas Company

Office

Allen Block Palmer, Mass.

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Oysters now at Knox & Co's., Palmer; the finest ever.

Labor Day Attractions.

Labor Day attractions at Ware on Monday will no doubt draw a large nnmber from this place. The baseball game in the morning at Three Rivers will also he well attended, as will also the game at Palmer in the afternoon. Forest Lake of conse will be the attraction for many. Old Home celebration in Brimfield will also be a point of interest for some.

The schools in the village will commence next Tuesday.

Miss Eva Reil is visiting friends in Ware for a few days.

Miss Celia Bonville is passing a vacation in Sonthbridge.

Mrs. Agnes Tucker of Pittsfield is visiting friends in town.

George Williams is visiting friends in Boston and the beaches.

Charlotte Russell is visiting friends in Worcester for a few days.

Malcolm McKenzie arrived home this week from a trip abroad.

Miss Mary McKenzie and brother George of Ware are visiting in Boston.

The Wednesday half holiday in the stores come to an end this week.

Daniel Brosnan Sr. has been visiting relatives out of town the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Sullivan entertained relatives from Springfield on Sunday.

Edward Walker of Springfield passed Sunday as a guest of Mrs. T. J. Clifford.

Daniel Brosnan has taken a position at the Boston and Albany railroad station.

Miss Annie Dunn of Ware is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Mary Dryden.

Miss Marie Lyons of New Haven has been visiting friends here the past week.

Symore Chabot and sister Eva are visiting friends in Worcester and Woonsocket.

Jeremiah Lamery is visiting for a few days at the home of his parents in Moosnp, Ct.

Miss Theresa Snllivan and brother Henry are visiting relatives in Enfield for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tabor have been entertaining gnests from Rhode Island this week.

Mrs. Hannah Crimmins and daughter Marguerite visited friends in Spencer this week.

Bernard Loftns spent part of the week in Hadley Falls at the home of his grandparents.

Thomas Wallace spent part of the week visiting friends in Worcester and Woonsocket.

Fred Onimett has moved into the Page house, Main street, vacated by Mr. Brigham and family.

Mrs. Mary Cahill of Chnrch street visited friends in Worcester for a few days the past week.

Mrs. Joseph Bonville Jr., is visiting for a few days with friends in Indian Orchard and Holyoke.

Mrs. Ernest Bordeaux and son have returned from their visit with friends in Easthampton.

Miss Mlunie Lawlor, who has been visiting her sister in South Deerfield, has returned home.

Patrick Sullivan of New York state was in town this week visiting with his parents on Main street.

James Norcross of Nassan, Ind., has been visiting old friends and acquaintances here this week.

Miss Rosanna Belisle, who is visiting friends in Sonth Vernon, Vt., is expected home this week.

Misses Ora and Eva Chahot of Harvey avenue are passing a vacation with friends in New Bedford.

Edward Dailey has been undergoing treatment at one of the Springfield hospitals the past week.

Misses Edna and Pauline Wicker of New London, Ct., are visiting relatives on Three Rivers road.

Edward Healey of New York state is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Healey.

Misses Florence and Nellie Sngrue left to-day for a visit of a few days with relatives in Springfield.

Henry Chahbot has gone to work for the Thorndike Grain Co. in place of Arthnr Sampson, resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuller of Bondsville road are entertaining friends from the eastern part of the state.

Arthur Sampson left Monday for Springfield, where he has taken a position at his trade of steam fitting.

William Andrews of New York has been passing the week at the home of his mother, Mrs. Frances Andrews.

Mrs. M. A. Casey of Chester, Pa., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe on Pine avenue.

The Thorndikes will cross bats with the Three Rivers team to-morrow afternoon on the church grounds at 3 30

Mrs. Bertha Townsend and son Harold of Newton Upper Falls are visiting in town until after Labor Day.

James O'Keefe of Holyoke was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe of Pine avenue over Snnday.

Malcolm McKenzie has gone to New York state for a short visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rohinson.

George Keith and son, George Jr., have taken the work of lathing the new residence of James P. Lynde in Palmer.

Wilbur McElwaine of Kokomo, Ind., was the gnest of his sister, Mrs. Fanny Keith, for a short stay the past week.

The altar boys of St. Mary's church were defeated, 8 to 5, Wednesday at Holyoke by the Sacred Heart hoys' basehall team.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kelley of Mount Vernon, N. Y., former residents, have been guests of relatives during the past week.

Elzebert Bengle and Edgar Prairie of Montreal, Can., were guests the past week at the home of George Bengle and family.

Miss Margaret Doyle of Monson has been visiting for a few days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J Snllivan.

Robert Henry left this week for Connecticnt, where he will join his wife, who has been spending several days with relatives.

George Gerald of Springfield is passing a two-weeks' vacation at the home of his mother, Mrs. George Gerald on the Ware road.

The altar hoys of St. Mary's chnrch are to go to Holyoke to play a return game with the altar boys of the Sacred Heart church.

Dennis F. Sullivan of Peacedale, R. I., has been visiting here this week as a guest of his father, Daniel J. Sullivan of Harvey avenue

Mrs. Henry Roberts and children of Manchester, N. H., have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Camile Perrault this week.

Frank Tabor left Thorndike to-day for his home in Slatersville, R. I., having severed his connection with the Thorndike Company.

Mrs. E F. McKelligott and son, Edward Jr., and daughter, Miss Lillian, are passing the week with relatives in Springfield and Easthampton.

Miss Nellie Fleming has resnmed her work in the Steiger store in Springfield after a vacation at her home here and Revere Beach.

James Holden of the Warren telephone exchange has been spending a vacation here with his mother, Mrs. Annie Holden of Chnrch street.

Mrs. F. E. Walker and Mrs. Coffee of Springfield have heen visiting part of the week at the home of Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. T. J. Clifford.

Asa H. Gates, the progressive milk dealer, has placed an order for an automobile which he is to nse in the delivery of milk to his cnstomers.

The rains of Saturday, Sunday and Monday did a large amount of good; wells which have been dry for a space of several months have been filled.

Misses Lora and Mary Lamery of Moosup, Ct., have retnrned home after spending several days in town as gnests of relatives on Pine avenue.

Mrs. John Gebo and daughters, Mabel and Irene, and mother, Mrs. Paul Fortune, have been passing the week in Lawrence with Mrs. Joseph St. Peter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hedge and daughter of Worcester are expected here the coming week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chabot and family of Church street.

Miss Minnie Perranlt returned to her home in Montreal on Saturday after passing a vacation of two months in town with her brother, Camile Perrault.

Mrs. Anna Griffin and sons, Edward and Harold and Miss Hannah Keefe have been spending the week in Easthampton with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Coffee, former residents.

Daniel Brosnan has gone to Worcester, where he has taken a position as clerk in the store of Mr. Brigham, who left Thorndike last week to engage in business for himself on Lincoln street.

Ralph Cuttler of Westfield has been appointed local manager of the Thorndike Grain Co. in place of Mr. Brigham, who recently resigned to go into bnsiness in Worcester on his own acconnt.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. McKelligott and Frank J. Longtine of this place and Miss Katherine Brown of Palmer left Monday morning in Mr. McKelligott's automobile for a week's stay at Revere Beach.

A party of young people, consisting of Marguerite Snllivan, Johanna Sngrue, Annetta Loftns, Mary Loftns and Nora Snllivan enjoyed an evening of whist at the home of Miss Moran on Wednesday evening.

Arthur Tollman received a had fall from his motorcycle Monday on Church street hy the hreaking of one of the pedals. He was going at a good rate of speed at the time of the accident and escaped with hut slight injuries to the palm of his right hand.

THREE RIVERS.

Knox & Co., Palmer, have fresh oysters every day now.

James Wilson is taking a vacation this week.

J. E. Allen of Maple street is spending the week out of town.

Nelson Freak and family are camping at Red Bridge this week.

The schools in this village will hegin the fall term next Tuesday.

A. F. Calkins has been ill this week at his home on Maple street.

The evening service at the Union church was omitted last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Senecal of Springfield spent Sunday in town.

M. K. Chamberlain of Maple street spent Sunday in North Wilhraham.

Mrs. C. B. McDuffie and two children returned home last Tuesday evening.

Enos W. Ahare of Worcester spent Sunday at his home on East Main street.

F. S. Dewey has resigned his position in the carpenter shop of the Palmer Mill.

Palmer Mill will resume operations next Tuesday after a shut-down of 10 days.

Mrs. Bessie Jenks visited her brother, William Graves of Sturhridge, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ruby Burlingame of Baptist Hill is visiting relatives in Springfield this week.

Clarence Lupien, John, Thomas and Rohert Cole are camping at Red Bridge this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kenworthy of Maple street entertained ont of town guests Satnrday.

Dr. and Mrs. S. O. Miller and daughter spent the first of the week with friends in Fitchburg.

Mrs. C. S. Ruggles has retnrned home after several weeks' visit with relatives in Weymouth.

Bradford Stone of the Wenimisset House has been spending the week at his home in Springfield.

John Twiss, Chester Tannehring, Wilfred Henrichon and William Daley are camping at Forest Lake.

Mrs. Lewis Hubert of New London, Ct., is visiting her father, Isaac Hnbert of Baptist Hill this week.

Miss Nettie Rogers, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is much better and able to he about.

Mrs. Jerome Marshall of High street has returned after a few days' visit with relatives in New York state.

J. H. Trickett left Saturday for Winthrop Beach, where he has been spending the week with his family.

P. C. Story has resigned as manager of the Three Rivers hasehall team and is succeeded by M. J. Sullivan.

Herhert E Pepler of Wauregan, Ct., has returned to his home after a visit of several weeks with friends in town.

Misses Eva and Sarah Bryans of Monson spent Satnrday and Snnday at the home of their aunt, Mrs. S J. Fenton.

The Misses Margaret and Lizzie Gates and Roy Fenton visited relatives in Monson the first of the week.

The Palmer Mill repair shop machinery has heen moved this week to the lower floor of the cloth-room building.

Miss Mary Learned has retnrned to her home in Palmer after a few days' stay with friends at the Wenimisset House.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Story spent Saturday and Snnday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill of Collinsville, Ct.

There will he a meeting of the junior Christian Endeavor society in the vestry of the Union church Sunday at three o'clock.

Leon Henrichon has resigned his position in the carpenter shop, and has taken a position in the slasher room of Palmer Mill.

Damas Lamoreaux, who has heen employed in the carpenter shop of the Palmer Mill for some time, has resigned his position

Mrs Esther Freak of Springfield street retnrned the first of the week from a visit of several weeks with relatives in New London, Ct.

Miss Margaret Gates of Maynard, who has been the gnest of her annt, Mrs. S. J. Fenton, left Tnesday for a visit with friends in Enfield.

The Union chnrch Snnday school picnic, which was to have been held Wednesday at Forest Lake, was postponed on acoonnt of the stormy weather.

Miss Eva Dupuis and Miss Evon Deland of Derby Line, Vt., have been gnests this week at the homes of S. H. and L. L. Dupuis of East Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Brown are expected to arrive soon from Ireland. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Margaret Gates, a former resident of this place.

Mrs. Lewis Calkins of Baptist Hill, who was operated upon several weeks ago at the Springfield hospital, is improving and returned to her home last Monday.

Henry Henrichon has resigned his position in the slasher-room and has taken a similar position in the mill at Ware, where he expects to move his family soon.

Michael Murphy of Sonthbridge, who has recently taken a position in the Palmer Mill, has moved his family into a tenement on Barton street.

Mrs. Marjorie Chisholm and little son of Everett have returned to their home after a visit of several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce.

Mrs. M. K. Chamberlain and children of Maple street retnrned Monday after a few days' visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Calkins in North Wilhraham.

Rev. C. B. McDuffie, William, John and Thomas Ritchie, Clifford Geer, James Matchett and Samnel Swain left Monday morning for Forest Lake, where they have been camping dnring the week.

BONDSVILLE.

The oyster season is on; Knox & Co., Palmer, have them.

The schools will open next Tuesday.

O. A. Parent was a gnest of relatives in Ludlow Tuesday.

Miss Mildred Hartwell spent Sunday with relatives in Springfield.

Michael Griffin is spending a few days with relatives in Bellows Falls.

Mr. Nash has resigned his position as engineer for the Boston Duck Co.

George Gnnn is spending the week with his family at Strafford Bow Lake.

O. A. Parent is attending the camp meeting at Lanrel Park this week.

Mrs. Norman Alden and Mrs. Frank Alden went Tuesday to Lanrel Park.

Mrs. William Rose of Chicopee Falls was a gnest of relatives here over Sunday.

Miss Mazie Lusty is a guest of Mrs. Jeremiah McCarty in Thompsonville, Ct.

Robert Davis was a guest over Sunday of his brother, Fred Davis, in Springfield.

Dr. and Mrs. U. B. Irving Smith entertained over Sunday relatives from Athol.

Miss Lena Langelier spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langelier.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Gordon retnrned Tnesday from a two-weeks' vacation at the heach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Webber of Enfield spent Snnday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Ectarine Gironard is a gnest this week of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Girouard.

Miss Ora Parent is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Samnel Parent in Richfield, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCall will soon move from this village and will settle in New Jersey.

Mrs. Lnella Lyman of Springfield was a gnest of her niece, Mrs. F. E. Alhro, Wednesday.

Miss Gladys Morse went Wednesday to Belchertown to spend a few days with Miss Merle Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Moulton spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Olin F. Parent in Ludlow.

Miss Julia Kennedy of Springfield is spending the week with her hrother, Rev. Thomas Kennedy.

Miss Mary Sears, who has heen a gnest of the Misses Hannifin, has retnrned to her home in Hartford.

Christopher Magee Jr. was a guest over Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Magee Sr.

Mrs. Mary Sullivan is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Jeremiah McCarthy in Thompsonville, Ct.

Miss Stella Wehher of Enfield returned home Tuesday after spending a few days with Miss Gladys Morse.

Miss Alice Thompson has returned to Boston after a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Banister.

W. H. Upham returned Thursday from nearly three weeks spent with his mother at her cottage at Oak Bluffs.

Miss Florence Robertson of Barre came the first of the week to spend some time with her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Billings.

Gordon Parent of Ludlow returned home yesterday after a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs O A. Parent.

Mrs. Samuel Parent returned to her home in Richfield Friday, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent.

Mrs. William Simpson and two children, Harold and Ruth, have returned from their vacation spent with relatives in Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and mother, Mrs. A. B. Walker of Springfield, spent Snnday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall.

Misses Marguerite and Ella Hannifin and Misses Catherine and Annie Mansfield visited Snnday with relatives in Holyoke.

Miss Luella Lewarren, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. V. C Tanner, returned Tuesday to her home in New Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Heathcote and daughter, Miss Clara, of Lowell were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waterhouse.

A porcupine weighing 13 ponnds, shot hy Mr. Thayer in West Ware, has been on exhibition in C. D Holden's store window this week.

Mrs. Lewis Holden and son Clayton spent a few days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cnahman in Bernardston.

Frank York, who has been seriously ill with a nervous hreakdown, was taken Tnesday to the House of Mercy Hospital in Springfield.

Dr. A. E. Ingraham, who has heen a guest of her relatives, Mrs. Julia and Miss Nettie McKendrick, has returned to her home in Waltham.

Mrs. Adolph Girouard, her daughter, Mrs. Lena Hearn, and granddaughter, Elaine Hearn, spent Wednesday with Osie Girouard in Indian Orchard.

Miss Mildred McCoy, who has heen spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Michael Sullivan, was taken to the hospital Monday, being ill with typhoid fever.

The Methodist church, which has been closed for two weeks, will resume services Snnday. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Upham, will take for his morning snhject "Borrowing tronhle." Snnday school will also resume sessions. Evening service at 7 o'clock; snhject "The supreme motive power."

John Lehida of South Belchertown was arrested hy Officer Myron Barton of Belchertown and taken to that place on the 11 30 train Wednesday morning. He was arrested on complaint of his wife, who claimed he heat her, locked her in the cellar and deprived her of all his money. Lehida will have his trial later.

Michael Murphy, who was injnred in the trolley accident last Satnrday, is in a hospital in Springfield. He is painfully hurt, having snffered the fractnre of his collar hone. It was thought at first he was fatally hurt, hnt great hopes are entertained of his complete recovery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy in the eastern part of the village.

Merely an Accessory.

"What's this I hear about the wedding? Some say the bridegroom didn't show up until very late."

"It wasn't his fault. Ho was there, but he wasn't conspicuous. He got elbowed into a corner behind some palms."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or hoils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cnres them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cnres cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

AN ARBITER OF FATE

Gamaliel Swallows an Ancient Superstition

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Here comes Aunt Alvaretta," said Elsie listlessly from her sent in the bow window. "I wonder what has happened. She's got her knit hood on over her sweeping cap, and she is running across the orchard."

Mrs. Parsons leaned over her daughter's shoulder and peered at the tall angular figure hurrying through the orchard that divided the two houses. "Maybe Gamaliel has had another fit. That cat will be the death of Alvaretta with his fits and finicky ways; she's worried over him half the time. I'll open the door for her." She went to the side porch and awaited her sister's coming.

Alvaretta came up the narrow path between the rows of chrysanthemums, her pumella shod feet flushing in and out of the dead leaves and her faded face quite pink with excitement.

"Is it Gamaliel?" called Mrs. Parsons eagerly as her sister drew near.

Miss Lee stopped short and stared. "Is what Gamaliel?"

"I thought perhaps that cat had another fit," returned Mrs. Parsons sharply; "he's always cutting up some sort of didoes!"

"Gamaliel's all right," assured Alvaretta calmly as she followed her sister into the warm sitting room. "How are you, Elsie? Haven't you finished those pillowcases yet?"

"This is the last one," answered Elsie, rising to offer her aunt a rocking chair. "When we saw you running, Aunt Alvaretta, we thought something had happened." She resumed her own seat and bent her fair head above the muslin pillowcase.

"Something nnusual did happen," averred Miss Lee with mysterious nods of her head. "I'll have to take off my knit hood; it's hotter'n all get out in this room. For the land—if I haven't got on my sweeping cap! Well, it's all in the story of what happened when I was cleaning the garret this morning."

"What happened?" queried Mrs. Parsons impatiently as she picked up her needles and knitted furiously at some white lace she was making for her daughter's trousseau.

Miss Lee removed her sweeping cap and twirled it thoughtfully on one long finger, her keen, black eyes watching Elsie's downcast face as she told her story.

"As I was saying, I cleaned the garret this morning, or I was just beginning to when I decided I'd clean out that little closet under the rafters. There was a little hair trunk that belonged to Grandmother Lee, and it had all sorts of truck in it. I won't tell you all the stuff there was tucked away in that trunk. Some rainy day you can come, Emeline, and we'll look it over. But among other things there was a little pasteboard box and inside of it was a little scrap of lace, marked 'Ann Lee's wedding veil.' That was your great-grandmother, Elsie! There was a scrap of the wedding gown and then screwed up in a little piece of paper was this bit of grandmother's wedding cake!" Alvaretta triumphantly held up a twist of yellowed paper, which she carefully unfolded to discover a morsel of dark, fruity cake with a few flecks of icing clinging to it.

"I'm going to give it to Elsie to dream on," said Miss Lee slowly.

Elsie's pale face flushed hotly and she shrank back in her chair with a protesting gesture of her hands. "You needn't langh at me, Aunt Alvaretta," she said tremulously. "You know I don't have to dream on wedding cake—my fate's been decided for me." She shot a bitter glance at her mother's averted face.

Mrs. Parsons arose and went to the plant stand in the window, where she proceeded to pick the dead leaves from the geraniums with quick, nervous gestures that betrayed her inward perturbation.

"I didn't know Elsie had decided she was going to marry Jerome Barclay. I thonght she was sort of teetering between him and Rob Harris," blurted Miss Alvaretta, getting upon her feet. "I've never taken much stock in your notion of having Elsie get her wedding clothes ready before she'd made up her mind."

"I never said I wanted to marry Jerome Barclay. I—I—can't bear him!" flashed Elsie, with unusual spirit.

Mrs. Parsons turned a cold face toward her daughter. "I thought it was nnderstood," she said severely, "that you was to marry Jerome. He said he wouldn't take 'no' for an answer, and he says you can keep hired help and you needn't do a stroke of work if you don't want to. He can afford to have you live like a lady. He left a di'mond ring for you to wear, and he told me to fire ahead and get the clothes ready. He says he knows you will be ready. I don't want to influence you, Elsie, hnt I've had to work so hard all my life it seems as if I couldn't have you let such a good chance go by." She looked appealingly at the mutinous face of her daughter.

"I wouldn't mind working hard for some folks," half sobbed the girl, turning her eyes away.

Mrs. Parsons sighed and resumed her picking of the dead leaves from the geraniums. "I didn't know that Rob had given you the chance to say yes or no," she said bitterly.

"Fiddlesticks!" sniffed Miss Alvaretta, with a toss of her head. "I guess Rob and Elsie know whether they want to marry each other without any highfaluting talk abont it. Rob Harris is poor, but he's smart as a whip and bonnd to make his mark in the world. He's got more ginger in his little finger than Jerome Barclay has in his whole lazy body. I don't be*lieve in interfering with other folk's business, and I* shan't influence Elsie either way, but I think it's only fair she should have a chance, and here it is."

Miss Alvaretta held out the bit of wedding cake in its twist of paper and dropped it in her niece's outstretched hand. "Elsie Parsons, you take that cake and put it under your pillow tonight. If you dream about Rob Harris you can take it that it's your fate to marry him and nobody else. If you dream of anybody else I reckon it's your duty to marry them whoever they are. There! I've got to be going. Gamaliel will be wanting his milk."

With a pressure of Elsie's hand and a defiant glance at the thin disapproving back of her sister, Miss Alvaretta marched out of the room.

When she had disappeared through the aisles of leafless trees Mrs. Parsons turned around. "I hope you're not going to take any stock in that foolishness, Elsie."

"Mother, I'm going to have my chance," she said quietly. "I'll promise to abide hy whatever I dream abont tonight. If I dream about Jerome Barclay I'll tell you the truth."

"I'll do the best I can by you, Elsie, whichever way you happen to dream," said Mrs. Parsons after a long pause.

"Thank you, mother," said Elsie, and then they talked of other matters and Elsie's lovers were not mentioned again that afternoon.

After supper there came a scratching and mewing at the side door. "It's Gamaliel," said Elsie as she arose to admit Miss Alvaretta's big black cat. "I suppose he's come over to spend the night."

"The most ungrateful critter that ever lived, remarked Mrs. Parsons as she placed a saucer of milk for the unexpected guest. "Alvaretta waits on that cat hand and foot and five nights ont of the week he runs over here to sleep. I shouldn't think you'd want him sleeping in your room, Elsie."

While she undressed Elsie thought of the wedding cake and of what she might dream while its magic lay so near her head, hut she forgot it after all until she was about to step into bed. Then she groped in the darkness and fonnd the twisted hit of paper on the bureau and tucked it under her pillow.

She thought persistently of Jerome Barclay, while she tried to banish him from her mind, and so she fell asleep and dreamed of him—clear, vivid dreams of automobile rides around the surrounding country and into the adjacent cities as Jerome Barclay's wife; dreams that were so real that she remembered every detail of each one when she awoke to a realization that her test had failed to grant her heart's desire. Not once had she even thought of Rob Harris in the misty land of dreams.

Gamaliel yawned sleepily on his cnshion and bonnced off indignantly as the door was cantionsly pnshed open and Mrs. Parsons' face was thrust in.

"Well, Elsie, what did you dream?" she asked, with assumed lightness.

Elsie sat np in bed and swept the fair hair back from her dejected face. "I dreamed of Jerome Barclay, mother," she said heroically. "So I'll marry him jnst as I said I wonld."

Mrs. Parsons advanced into the room and picked np a scrap of paper from the floor. "What's this?" she asked. "What did you do with the cake, Elsie?"

The girl stared and then slipped her hand hastily under the pillow and drew forth a screwed np piece of paper. "Here it is—no—why, mother, I made a mistake and put a curl paper under the pillow instead of the wedding cake!" The color came into her cheeks and her eyes danced as they had not done in months. She was getting some of her old time spirit back. "There isn't any charm about dreaming on a curl paper, is there, mother?" she asked demurely.

"No, there isn't," said Mrs. Parsons shortly. "Elsie, I believe that Gamaliel ate that cake. See, this is the paper with a few crnmbs left in it. I fonnd it near his cushion. There! See him eat the rest of it!" She looked resentfully at Gamaliel as he swallowed the remaining crnmbs and licked his lips appreciatively.

"I forgot to say, Elsie, that Rob Harris is downstairs waiting to see you. He says he can't go till he does. I expect your Aunt Alvaretta had something to do about getting him over here. He looks powerfully worried. He's got a little automobile to attend to his business with. I've asked Rob to stay to breakfast. You better hurry." She opened the door and stumbled over the active Gamaliel. "Drat that cat! Thieving old reprobate!" she scolded, departing. "I'm glad you dreamed what you did, child," she called back.

Elsie snatched Gamaliel to her heart and kissed him raptnrously. "You're the dearest old thing, and yon shall wear a white ribbon," she whispered in his perky ear. Then from below there came a prolonged and familiar whistle that was echoed in her heart. She crept to the window and answered it happily, tremulously.

From across the orchard Aunt Alvaretta's voice sounded, calling:

"Gamaliel! Gamaliel!"

Praise For the Sardine.

It is encouraging in these days, when everything nice is condemned hy scientific faddists as nasty, to have the high authority of the London Lancet in support of the popnlar theory that the sardine is of great dietetic valne. The sardine is good, the Lancet tells us, hecanse, for one thing, it encourages the consnmption of oil, which tends to avoid "many ills, and especially those associated with wasting diseases and gonty dispositions." This consnmption of sardine oil, it adds, "prevents the overloading of the tissues with nitrogenous waste products, and a digestible fat favors nutrition considerably. The sardine supplies also an excellent proportion (25 per cent) of nitrogenous material, and so it becomes a real and economical food. In addition to this the sardine has appetizing qualities, and where appetite serves digestion follows."

When Scotland Had a Navy.

It was James IV. who first created an effective navy for Scotland, exhausting all available timber for shipbuilding, so that he had to ask France and Denmark for more, and of the sixteen large and ten small ships he owned his special pride was the largest then existing. To build this Dreadnonght of her day all the woods of Fife were laid waste. She cost £30,000, an enormous value in those times; had a crew of 300 sailors, 120 gunners and 1,000 marines, with "more great ordnance in her than the French king ever had to the siege of any town," as James himself boasted.—Westminster Gazette.

The Thing to Get At.

Chief Counsel—The first thing to do is to get at the root of this trouble. Associate Counsel—The root of the trouble is the late Mr. Bigwad's fortune. Chief Counsel—Exactly, and we must get at it.—New York Tribune.

Woman's Method.

"Mr. Floorwalker, I wish you would give me a clerk who can show me what I want!"

"And what do you want, madam?"

"How do I know until I have looked?"—Houston Post.

"CLOSED FOR REPAIRS"

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

There was a rather curious situation in school district No. 3 in the county of Greenfield. There were six widowers living there and all of them farmers, and three of the six were the school trustees. For several years men teachers had been employed and had given good satisfaction, but now they were to change to the other sex. Widower Thomas, the moderator, had suggested the change, and he hadn't looked the other two in the face as he did it. He had simply said that he thought a schoolma'am would teach the scholars manners as well as geography. Mr. Williams had agreed, but had at the same time said to himself:

"I understand his little game."

And Mr. Burt had agreed with him, but at the same time had said to himself:

"The cute old rascal! But I see through him as if he was made of glass. If anybody around here marries that schoolteacher it will be me!"

The three other widowers heard of the plan, and each one said it was a good thing and each one had his whiskers trimmed and his hair dyed and made ready for the struggle. A seminary was written to and a teacher sent on. It was for Widower Thomas to drive across the country in a horse and buggy to the railroad and meet her and bring her on.

Widower Thomas had hopes that the schoolma'am would be about twenty-two and good looking. The arriving teacher turned out to be all he had hoped for. He felt so well acquainted with her before they had driven half a mile that he began:

"Now, Miss White, you are coming among strangers, and I want to post you about them. There's old Jim Williams to begin with. He's one of the trustees and a widower with four children.

"And there's Moses Burt. He's another widower. Claims to be forty-eight years old, but will never see sixty again. Looking around for a young wife and ought to be ashamed of himself. Great hand to laugh at his own jokes, but if you laugh with him he'll sure think you are in love with him and pop the question."

"Then I shall not laugh."

"Then there's Joab Tyler. Mebbe he's only fifty next birthday, as he claims, but he's sopping on the hair dye to beat the band. Five children for a second wife to take care of."

"That's dreadful!"

"Then there is Henry Stevens," continued the moderator. "I can't say that Henry is over forty years old, and his wife only left three children, but you can judge what sort of a man he is when I tell you that he never shed a tear at the funeral. He never even sniffled. Seemed just as unconcerned as if he was hoeing taters. I wouldn't advise no woman to marry a man like that.

"Then comes Levi Schemerhorn. He was to Chicago once, and he'll brag of it to you and try to make ont that he is a hero. Don't you let on that you think he's anything great or you'll be a goner."

"No, I won't," answered the girl, "bnt are there any more?"

"Ahem! One more, Miss White. It's me. I'm a widower with a hundred acre farm and only one child. My tater crop alone last year brought me $500. Rising of forty is my age, and I can run down a calf. Got a melodeon in the house and am willing to buy a red ingrain carpet and lace curtains for the parlor. In case I get married I shall go on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and not mind the expense."

"And are there no young men in the neighborhood?" asked Miss White.

"Jest one, and he's a hired man who don't amount to shucks—eats with his knife and fork and says that Boston is in New Jersey. If I was you I wouldn't let him get the idea that you was a kindred spirit."

"No, I won't."

Miss White was left at the house of the Widow Harkness, which was to be her first boarding place. Supper was not yet finished when the widowers began to gather, and in the course of half an hour the whole six were there. Their excuses were various, but the fact was apparent that they had come to size the schoolma'am up. Once there no one would go and leave the others behind to get some advantage. The clock had struck midnight when the widow turned them all out in a bunch. There wasn't exactly a fight outside the gate, but the six told each other what they thought of hair dye and old galoots. When they were gone the schoolma'am turned to the widow and asked:

"Don't any of those men want you for a wife?"

"Not if they can get you," was the doleful reply.

Ten minutes of confidential talk settled things. The schoolhouse was close by, and on its door was tacked the notice:

"This place closed for repairs."

At daylight next morning the widow harnessed a horse to her democrat wagon, and within two hours Miss White was landed at the spot where the moderator had found her. When the community learned that she had gone those six old widowers looked at each other and said:

"Darn your buttons, but it was your gab and your hair dye that driv her away, and you ought to be ashamed of yonrself."

A Luscious Morsel.

A speaker at a literary dinner in New York said:

"He who writes for posterity can only expect the approval of posterity. To his own generation his work will be as unpalatable as German carp—and you know the recipe for cooking German carp?

"No? Well, then, this is it:

"Catch a German carp in a stagnant and muddy stream. Clean it immediately and hang it in the sun three days to dry. After it is thoroughly dried nail it to a spruce board and cover it with a paste of salt and mud. Let it stand two days longer. Now bake it forty-eight hours. Remove the nails, scrape off the salt and mud paste carefully and then eat the board—never eat the carp."

New Rope.

New rope may be make pliable without impairing its strength by boiling it for an hour or two in water.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE,
Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

For howel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or boils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cnres them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cnres cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the qnantity of food taken hnt the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. WM. SEALS, 605 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

In almost every neighborhood you will find women who have been restored to health by the Pinkham medicines. Inquire among them and see. Many would not have a testimonial published, but would talk about their cure to another woman.

Coronation Graft.

The practice of running the fountains and conduits with wine on coronation day was abandoned after the reign of Queen Elizabeth, but another old custom was observed up to the coronation of George IV. After the king and the company had departed from the banquet in Westminster hall the doors were thrown open, and the people rushed in and cleared the tables of everything—victuals, cloths, plates, dishes, etc., all vanished in a few minutes. And, as Sir Walter Scott tells us, the nobility were not above taking away the saltcellars and spoons.

Mule That Went Lame.

"What happen' to dat mule?"

"Why, dat fool mule done kick me in de hald this mornin'."—Judge.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

When purchasing silverware remember that in silver plate no name stands for higher quality or greater durability than the renowned trade mark

"1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE"

Ask your dealer to show you the various exquisite patterns in which the "Silver Plate That Wears" can be had. The wide latitude for choice in knives, forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces assures satisfaction to every taste.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L," showing all designs.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
MERIDEN, CONN.

If All Housekeepers Knew the Advantages of the Crawford Ranges few others would be sold

In the saving of time, trouble and labor and in superior cooking ability, no other range can compare with them.

The Single Damper (patented

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 8, 1911. NUMBER 23.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.

To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40

Give us your orders for PURE SPRING WATER ICE.

Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith, H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.

TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton. H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter. R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid. Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro. E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.

TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a [illegible] evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments should be in every household. [illegible] for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it [illegible] and is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

We have just made in the Boston Markets a large purchase of

Cotton Goods.

Ginghams, Prints, Percales, Flannelettes

36 in., 40 in., 42 in., 45 in. 9-4 bleached, half bleached and unbleached sheetings.
42 in. and 45 in. Pillow Case Tubing.
Sheets and Pillow Cases ready made.
Cheese Cloth, Draperies, Sash Curtains, Curtain Muslins, Galetea Cloth, Silkolines, Table Damasks, Bed Spreads.
Would be pleased to have you look here before purchasing.

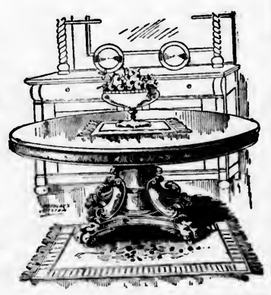
W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.
MAIN STREET.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory. The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St., rear of High School.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster



1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Dining Table Specials

One whole floor (the 6th) devoted to the showing of Dining Room Furniture. Complete matched sets in Mahogany, Oak and Mission styles.

$9.60 for a $12 Table.
$14.40 for an $18 Table.

Round Ex. Tables with claw foot bases, American Oak finish. $12 values at $9.60

Solid Quartered Oak Tables, when opened will seat 8 people. $18.00 value Sale Price $14.40

Mission Tables, 45-in. tops, built of quartered oak, well finished, $22 values $18.70

Solid Mahogany Tables, 48-in. tops, dull or polished finish, $50 values $42.50

FLINT & BRICKETT CO.,
CRAWFORD, STERLING AND STEWART RANGES.
Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St., Springfield

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.

The Semi-Annual
Clearance Sale
Goes Merrily On

Through the second week of its success. Great throngs of shoppers, brilliant bargains, satisfaction for all who come, are its leading characteristics. Come and share in the opportuni ies of this event

$5.98 Linon Suits, $1.98 Each

Away they go, these 30 odd Linon Suits at little or nothing of their true worth. You can now buy a whole Suit at less than you would ordinarily pay for the skirt alone.

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE, $1.98 EACH

Charming Lingerie Dresses, $1.49 Each

They're marked at about one-half their former prices, and come in pretty colors, also all white. Made in the most attractive styles, and in all wanted sizes—

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE, $1.49 EACH

50c—59c Silk Hosiery
3 PAIRS FOR $1.00; 35c PAIR

200 pairs of black, also Ladies' White Silk Hosiery, garter top, double sole, high spliced heels—

[illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] CLEARANCE SALE, 3 PAIR $1

SEMI-ANNUAL CLE[illegible] of ma[illegible] John F. [illegible] Ac[illegible] Prices in the [illegible]man [illegible]

Semi-Annual Clearance Sale in the Ribbon Section

10c Silk Ribbon, 1 inch to 3 inches wide, all colors—6c yd
25c Taffeta Ribbon, 5 inches wide [illegible] 16c yd
19c Fancy Ribbon, 4-inch 12c yd
39c—50c Extra Fine Silk Ribbon for fancy work 24c yd

Underprice Basement Offering

Good full-size Sheets, 72 by 90 29c each
Extra heavy bleached Sheets, full size 39c each
Good quality of bleached Sheeting, 81 inches wide, 25c yd.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

When Are You Coming Over To Springfield?

We hope you're coming soon and that you'll drop in to see the many new things which we have for the Fall; for school time, social life, little folks and big folks. Books, stationery, pictures, cameras, games, favors, etc.

Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer, Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Scholars== Attention

Everything For School Days at

Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

Triple Plated Knives stamped

OUR EAGLE TRADE MARK IS OUR GUARANTEE TO YOU

last longer through harder service than any other because they have a round bolster, which does away with sharp corners (where blade is joined to handle) where wear is constant and hardest. This is but one of many notable features of knives, which give lasting service and satisfaction. Numerous patterns are offered in this famous "Silver Plate that Wears."

"1847 ROGERS BROS."

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L" showing all designs.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
MERIDEN, CONN.

A Speedy Cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaints, Tired Feeling, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bad Complexion, Nervousness and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"Bloodine Liver Pills"

act gently, yet thoroughly upon the bowels, liver, stomach and digestive organs. The pills, in old and chronic cases of constipation and indigestion, act at once, without griping, nor do they leave any unpleasant after-effects, nor form a constant habit of purging, produced by other cathartic remedies.

"Bloodine Liver Pills"

restore the deranged and torpid liver to its normal condition and healthful action. Remove and prevent constipation by securing a natural and regular operation of the bowels, and relieve those unpleasant symptoms which attend a diseased or morbid condition of the liver, stomach and bowels. To assist in attaining this end, the following suggestions are offered:

REMARKS. Everyone who uses pills for their action on the liver, should know that large doses rarely prove as satisfactory as small ones. Large doses simply purge and pass out of the system, usually leaving the bowels constipated, and seldom removing the cause of the trouble, or improve the general health. On the other hand, small doses develop the alterative effect of the medicine, do not irritate or constipate the bowels, but gently stimulate the liver and prevent the accumulation of bile by directing its flow into the proper channels. Therefore it is advisable to commence by taking not over one or two pills at bedtime and increase dose as necessary.

PORTLAND, Me.
GENTS:—I find your "Bloodine Liver Pills" the most effective pill I ever used. They cause no griping or constipative after effect as most liver pills do.
Yours truly,
MRS. AMADA RICHARDSON.

Bloodine Liver Pills
25¢ a box. 5 boxes 1.00

Bloodine Ointment cures Piles. 50c a box.

Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

REPAIRS OF SCHOOL ROOF.

Committee Gets Architect's Report and Adopts Plan.

HEAVY TRUSSES TO HOLD UP ROOF.

Entire Building Will Be Examined. Rooms Below Will Not Be Used During Repairs.

The school committee met last Friday evening and adopted plans for the repair of the new portion of the high school. A report was received from Architect G. C. Gardner of Springfield, which gave three methods of eliminating the present trouble. The one adopted by the committee is to jack up the sagging timbers until they are in proper position, then put in an eight-foot truss which will extend above the roof. This, the committee is assured, will remedy the trouble for all time. Two trusses will be put in, one over each of the large supporting timbers, and will be covered with galvanized iron to protect them from the weather. Although the trusses will extend above the roof, they will not be seen from the street, owing to the iron parapet now surrounding the roof. While the work is being done the rooms below will not be used. Mr. Gardner is preparing plans and specifications for the work, and will have them ready for estimates before the special town meeting which is to be called to provide money for the work, as the school committee has no funds available for the purpose. Before the work is commenced the committee proposes to have a thorough examination of the balance of the building, as it has been suggested that perhaps the roof is not the only portion which is faulty in construction.

Aged Pastor Resigns.

Rev. M. S. Howard of Wilbraham Retires After 43 Years' Service.

The resignation of Rev. Martin S. Howard, pastor of the First Congregational church of Wilbraham, was read at the service in the Memorial Methodist church Sunday morning by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Davis.

Mr. Howard has recently passed his 82d birthday, and would have been pastor of the Congregational church for 43 years next month. He is greatly beloved by his people, as well as the townpeople in general. It is hoped he will continue to live in town.

The First Congregational church was destroyed by fire in July, having been struck by lightning, and since that time its people have joined with the Methodists. It has not been decided whether an attempt will be made to rebuild the church.

Auto and Trolley Car Bump.

Man Also Hit and Woman Tossed Out, But Neither Very Much Hurt.

An automobile owned by Thomas C. Gleason, superintendent of the Ware waterworks, and operated by his son, Francis, collided with a Gilbertville car Sunday morning near the Mansion House in Ware. Mr. Gleason was accompanied by Mrs. John Kennedy and daughter, Miss Katherine, of New York, who were in Ware for the celebration, and Maurice Sheehan of Northampton. The machine was traveling at a moderate rate of speed, and when near the corner of West street a man, who afterward proved to be Joseph McCrystal of Manchester, Ct., started to cross the road in the path of the machine. Mr. Gleason turned in order to avoid striking him, while McCrystal, apparently becoming confused, again stepped in front of the machine. Mr Gleason again turned the car, but could not avoid striking him, at the same time crashing into the side of the electric car, breaking the running board. Mrs. Kennedy was thrown out and was assisted into the Mansion House, where she was attended by Dr. Ryan. Mr. McCrystal was taken to the home of his father on Otis avenue, where he was visiting. Neither were seriously injured. The automobile was damaged, the left forward wheel, mudguard and lamp being smashed.

HAMPDEN.

Malcolm Gillson of Indianapolis and son and the latter's family stopped in town yesterday on their way back from Boston in their touring car.

John S. Swenson was tendered a farewell party by 50 of his friends at the home of Arthur Jones Friday evening. In behalf of those present, Cornelius J. Flynn presented him with a chain and charm suitably engraved.

John Swenson has sold his blacksmith shop to James A. Gamble of Springfield, who took possession Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Swenson sailed for Copenhagen this week for a visit. Mr. Gamble is residing in the Baptist parsonage for the present.

Brimfield's First Old Home Gathering.

Many Former Residents Attend Two Days' Celebration Sunday and Monday. Addresses, Dinner, Sports of Various Kinds.

The little town of Brimfield, nestling among the hills of Eastern Hampden county, observed Old Home Day for the first time in its history on Sunday and Monday. Whether because this was the first venture of the kind, or because of the loyalty of friends and former residents, certain it is that with other and more pretentious celebrations within only a few miles the town was crowded to the limit with visitors on these two days. The idea was conceived only a few weeks ago, at a gathering of citizens, the preparations were quickly outlined and as rapidly carried out, the money needed being provided by private subscription. To the hard work of the executive committee—Rev. William Jennings, Robert J. Streeter, Charles S. Tarbell, George W. Brackett, Albert R. Brown, George W. Sherman, Dr. R. V. Sawin and Clarence King—is due in no small measure the success of the undertaking.

Monument Square, Brimfield.

The celebration began Sunday with special services in the church, both morning and evening. There was a large attendance composed of former residents, descendants from a number of states and from different places in Massachusetts, as well as from nearby towns and Brimfield. The church was beautifully decorated with the national colors. Rev. William Jennings, pastor of the church and president of the Old Home Association, extended a warm welcome and gave a brief sketch of the old home movement. A poem of welcome by Melven Booth was read. Prayer was offered by Rev. Joseph Kyle, pastor of the church 25 years ago. A double male quartet composed of Erford Corbin, Rev. William Jennings, Alasa Stuart, Munroe Tarbell, Charles Peirce, William Hebard, Robert Streeter and Stanley Hicks, sang three selections, "Home Again," "Auld Lang Syne" and "Home, Sweet Home." Miss Alice Sawin sang "Plains of Peace." Charles Peirce sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Nearly all the singers were descendants of the early settlers of the town, and there was represented the fourth generation of choir members reaching back 100 years.

The address of the morning was given by Charles H. Walker of Warren, a native of Brimfield, who left the town 51 years ago and who was one of the early pupils of Hitchcock Free Academy. Mr. Walker gave a vivid portrayal of Brimfield life and the typical customs of New England in his boyhood. He infused into his remarks warm and tender sentiments that met with a quick response in the hearts of his hearers. All present felt that they were blessed in being related to the old town. Mr Walker's birthplace and boyhood home was in the northeast district of the old Fairbanks place, and he obtained his early education in the same school that Erastus Fairbanks, the war governor of Vermont and the founder of the Fairbanks scale, attended, although the latter's birthplace was another Fairbanks homestead. Among his teachers in the district school Mr. Walker recalled Joseph Wood and Warren Tarbell. There was only one woman teacher in his course. When he entered the Hitchcock free grammer school, now the academy, Joseph Soott, afterward principal of Westfield normal school, was the teacher.

The address of welcome was given by Rev. Joseph Kyle of South Braintree. He gave reminiscences of his pastorate, in which he founded the Christian Endeavor society and in which many members were added to the church. He paid a hearty tribute to the Hitchcock Free Academy, which should be recognized as reinforcing the spiritual life of the church by its intellectual training. The next speaker was Dr. E. W. Norwood of Spencer, for 10 years principal of Hitchcock Academy and now president of the board of trustees. He spoke of Brimfield as a town of marked patriotism and said that it was due to the fact that the present inhabitants are descended from the early settlers who have shaped the history of the town. The present generation have a rich heritage from the past. There is opportunity for influence and leadership in such a town which larger places do not afford. He closed by urging upon the town the loyal support of the Academy so that its high standard may be maintained. The double quartet sang "The Old Oaken Bucket." The benediction was pronounced by Rev. William Bissell.

Almost every one who could claim Brimfield ancestry or association came back to the beautiful town Monday to enjoy the Old Home festivities, and a day of rare pleasure it was to the hundreds of visitors and the residents who had worked so hard to make the day a success. Brimfield manifested the enterprising spirit and hospitable disposition that has characterized the town from its beginning. Preparations during the weeks previous had been most carefully made and committee meetings were frequent and hard work unremitting on the part of the inhabitants, now few in number for such an undertaking. The number in attendance far exceeded expectations, and it is remarkable that such a throng of people should have been entertained and made happy within the borders of a town whose population numbers only 900. It whose population numbers only 900. It was no small undertaking to provide food for the visitors in a town high among the hills and eight miles from the railroad and base of supplies. It is no wonder that provisions at dinner were not quite adequate when 500 came to be fed and less than 200 had written for tickets in advance. However, true to the generous spirit which animated the occasion, by sending special messengers out of town for extra supplies a free lunch was given at 5 o'clock. A clambake dinner had been advertised, but the storm on the coast last week practically put the clam diggers out of business, and although the committee made every effort they were unable to secure the sea food, and Brimfield chicken was substituted.

The village was in gala dress for the home-coming occasion. The decorations were not intrusted to professional hands, but the old and quaint homes and the public buildings received the artistic touches of home people, each showing individual taste and appropriateness. Besides the freedom of the town being extended to visitors and the "welcome" to the attractive common the social centers of the town threw open their doors. Visitors made themselves at home and greeted old friends at the Brimfield hotel, the Daniels-on-Lincoln memorial library, the Hitchcock Free Academy and the town hall. Even the village cemetery, hallowed spot, had its visitors, the home-comers there making interesting discoveries as to their ancestry. Besides the reunions, so pleasant to the residents and visitors, the day was filled with a varied program of sports, furnishing entertainment for the crowd, which was remarkable for its decorum and good order.

The visitors began to arrive early, swelling the number who came Saturday to enjoy the Sunday program. About 10 a. m.,

[Continued on Fourth Page.]

Public Common, Brimfield.

On the farm the barefoot boy knew what it was to have his feet tingle with the cold when he turned out the cows on a frosty morning. He often trudged four miles to church, for the family wagon was too full for the boys. Indeed the boys were never carted in all their youthful experience. Sometimes their feet would be covered with mud; again they had to make paths through the drifted road during the winter time. These things seem strange when we see the automobiles to-day at the church door.

Mr. Walker recalled the administration of Rev. Morse of sacred memory, whom the boys loved and in whose pastorate he united with the church 53 years ago. Dr. Vaill, the noted divine of strict Calvinistic faith, came within his knowledge. There was good singing in those days when Calvin Ward and his wife were leaders. Dea. Cyril R. Brown was a teacher in Sunday school and the lessons consisted of questions and answers without help or explanation. There were other persuasions besides the Congregational church in town. Religion is more tolerant to-day, the form of religion less rigid than of old. The speaker urged respect for the religion of others however they may differ from our own.

The evening service opened with congregational singing. This was followed by a vocal solo, "Good-by, Sweet Day," by Charles Peirce; a cornet solo, "Cavalry," by Munroe Tarbell; responsive scripture reading by Rev. Francis C. Child of East Brimfield, and a 'cello solo, the prize song from Wagner's "Meistersinger," by Principal George S. Kenney. Then came prayer by Rev. William Bissell. Next was a poem by Rev. Francis Child. Letters were read by Robert Streeter, secretary of the association, from former pastors, Rev. M. L. Richardson and Rev. Samuel Eaton. Then came a trio for the cornet, 'cello and piano by Munroe Tarbell and Principal and Mrs. Kenney.

Next was an address by Rev. Joseph Kyle of South Braintree. He gave reminiscences of his pastorate, in which he founded the Christian Endeavor society and in which many members were added to the church. He paid a hearty tribute to the Hitchcock Free Academy, which should be recognized as reinforcing the SAVED ALL BUT DAUGHTER.

Sad Drowning Accident in Holland Reservoir Sunday.

A 13-YEARS-OLD GIRL THE VICTIM.

Raft Tips Over, and Father Saves Three Other Children While His Own Is Lost.

There was a sad drowning accident at the Holland reservoir Sunday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock, when Louise Palmer, the thirteen-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer of Fiskdale, lost her life as the result of the capsizing of a raft.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, with their daughter and a party of relatives from Pawtucket, R. I., had driven over to the reservoir for a day's outing. Shortly after their arrival Mr. Palmer took his daughter and three other young people across the reservoir in a boat for the purpose of going in bathing. The young people, three girls and a boy, got on a raft, and while running about the raft it capsized, throwing all of them into the water. None of them could swim, but Mr. Palmer, who was near, swam to their assistance, and succeeded in saving all except his daughter.

The body went down the channel, where there was between seven and eight feet of water, and was found after two hours' dragging, lodged in a hole. Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner John F. Luman and William Holland of West Brimfield went to the assistance of the party, all of whom were suffering from exhaustion and the nervous shock. They were removed to a nearby house and a physician summoned.

The drowned girl was the eldest of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer.

Palmer Fair Speed Classes.

Large List of Entries in Stake Races—Six Open Events.

The stake races which were announced early in the season for the Palmer Fair have filled unusually well, and the list ensures a large field of starters and some good racing. The list of entries is:

2.27 trot, purse $600—"Pharonet," b. g., Woody Hill Stock Farm, Salem, N. Y.; "Eugene," b. g., W. W. Mercier, Princeton, Me.; "Mary Pandit," b. m., H. M. Rigney, Waterville, Ct.; "Slick Goods," br. m., Felix O. Rose, East Brookfield; "Allen D.," b. h., H. M. Cady, Huntington; "The Intruder," bl. h., W. H. Hall, South Willington, Ct.; "Dividend," b. g., W. H. Hall; "Lorrain," b. g., Louis Richards, Indian Orchard; "Robera," b. m., J. S. Hubbard, Fiskdale; "Queen Arista," b. m., Brookmont Farm, North Wilbraham; "Young Bingen," b. g., Dennis Neylon, Springfield.

2.25 pace—2.23 trot, purse $600—"Pan Wilkes," b. g., A. H. Drury, Athol; "King Hendrick," b. g., Woody Hill Stock Farm, Salem, N. Y.; "Boggie," b. g., Woody Hill Stock Farm; "Joe Dillon," c. h., Taylor Bros., East Cambridge; "Waterville Lad," b. g., H. M. Rigney, Waterville, Ct., "Our Mary," g. m., T. J. Meegan, Baldwinsville; "Sam McKinney," bl. g., D. S. Kennedy, Ware; "Leila Morse," b. m., W. H. Hall, South Willington, Ct.; "Fire Clay," b. h., W. H. Hall; "Black Bess 2d," bl. h., G. C. Flynt, Monson; "Jim Patch," b. g., G. C. Flynt; "Prince B.," g. g., F. A. Moore, Monson; "Hallie Ross," r. m., F. S. Chickering, Worcester; "Arcile Medium," b. h., H. M. Clark, Springfield.

In addition to the stakes there will be six other open classes, as follows:

	Purse
Free-for-all,	$200
2.16 pace, 2.12 trot,	200
2.21 pace, 2.18 trot,	200
2.23 trot,	200
2.25 pace, 2.22 trot,	200
2.28 trot or pace,	200

Probate Court Business.

The following business of local interest was among that transacted in the probate court in Springfield Wednesday:

Administrations granted in the estates of—Axseph P. Vinton, late of Palmer, Ernest E. Hobson of Palmer administrator; Samuel Mellen, late of Palmer, Ernest E. Hobson administrator; Regina Ives, late of Palmer, Christian Olson of Palmer administrator; Charles E Smith, late of Monson, F. H. Gage of Swampscott administrator; Charles B. Fiske, late of Palmer, Ernest E. Hobson administrator; Gardner Wallace, late of Monson, Fannie Andrews of Monson administratrix; J. J. Lynch, late of Monson, Margaret Lynch of Monson administratrix; D. J. Sweeney, late of North Wilbraham, Bessie Sweeney of North Wilbraham administratrix; Franklin Young, late of Palmer, Ruth Young of Palmer administratrix.

Wills proved of—Lydia W. Record, late of Palmer, L. S. Record executor; Carrie Starr, late of Wilbraham, J. H. Starr of Wilbraham executor; Julia Coy, late of Wilbraham, J. H. Noyes of Brimfield executor.

Accounts allowed in the estates of—Mary Kennedy, late of Palmer; Imogene B. Hawley, late of Monson; Nelson Rivers, late of Palmer; Mary J. Squier, late of Monson.

Guardianship decreed—Horace Merriam, spendthrift, of Palmer, G. J. Merriam of Palmer guardian.

Miscellaneous decrees in the estates of—Nelson Rivers, late of Palmer, decree for distribution; Mary Kennedy, late of Palmer, decree for distribution.

LUDLOW CENTER.

Preparations are being made by the Grange fair committee, consisting of C. B. Bennett, president; E. N. Fisher and William Ashwell, vice presidents; A. L. Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Chapman, secretary; John G. Taylor, superintendent of hall, for the eighth annual fair which will be held the 20th. The following committees and heads of departments have been appointed: Supper, A. L. Johnson, George Gates, A. J. Hobson; farm exhibits and vegetables, Howard Bennett; fruit, William Ashwell; canned goods and pastry, Mrs Franklin Nash; needlework, Mrs. Ella Hatch; flowers, Mrs. William Ashwell; candy, Isabel Chapman and Faith Curtis.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 8, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

A. D. S. Hand Paste with Tar, cleanses the hands thoroughly and leaves them in better condition than ordinary soap; 10c at Kingsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., cor. Central.

PALMER NEWS.

Ellis Estate Trustee Sued.

Judge Long of Probate Court Brings Action Against H. W. McGregory.

Among the cases filed in the superior court in Springfield is one brought by Judge of Probate Charles L. Long against Harry W. McGregory of Hamilton, N. Y, formerly of Palmer, and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Springfield. The real plaintiff is Arthur D Ellis of Monson, trustee under the will of Stillman Ellis, late of Palmer. The suit is brought to recover $23,579 09, which it is claimed was poorly invested by Mr. McGregory when he was trustee under the will. Mr. Ellis was appointed trustee after the resignation of Mr. McGregory, who formerly lived in Springfield. The plaintiff claims that the sum of $7597.84 has been lost to the estate through unwise investments, and that $16,381 25 has been invested in securities of the American Writing Paper Company. It is not claimed that this investment was a failure, but it is asserted that the stocks and bonds of the paper company were bought at a price above their market value, and that they are not a proper form of investment for trust funds. The American writing paper investment consists of 150 shares of stock, for which $6881 25 was paid, and $9500 in bonds.

Stillman Ellis died more than 12 years ago, leaving about $55,000 of his estate to be held in trust for the benefit of his widow and two daughters. James B. Shaw was named as trustee of this fund, but the probate court subsequently appointed Mr. McGregory in his stead. The United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company furnished a bond for $55,000 for the faithful performance of the trust. This bond is made out to Judge Long, and it was therefore necessary for him to sue the defendants to recover the amount of the bond. The suit is nominally brought for the full value of the bond, but all that is actually sought is the money dissipated in the investments. Mr. Ellis claims that Mr. McGregory has not settled his account with the estate according to law, and that he still owes the estate the amount of the alleged poor investments. Judge Long states that he has brought the suit in behalf of Mr. Ellis, in accordance with the authority granted him by the probate court of which he is the Judge. Jonathan Barnes appears for the plaintiff.

Sewer Appropriation Shy.

More Money Needed if Three Rivers Gets All That Was Voted.

The selectmen have secured bids on the sewers which it was voted to build in Three Rivers, and find that unless more money is forthcoming some of the drains will have to be materially shortened. To be exact, there is a difference of $1720 between the amount appropriated and the lowest bids for the work. With the money at hand it is probable that the Main street sewer will be built as far as Ruggles street, but not beyond that point. None will be built on Pleasant street, and there is only about half money enough to construct the Bourne street sewer. The special appropriation for the sewer near the Athol station on the Belchertown road is not enough to take the work as far as planned, but it will be built as far as the funds will allow. The lack of funds for sewers will not affect the construction of the macadam highway, which will be constructed as voted.

Church Notes

"The power and the joy of the positive life" is the subject of the sermon at the Congregational church next Sunday morning. Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Christian Endeavor service at 6. Evening worship at 7. Mr. Harry Newell, who has been connected with Piedmont college for several years, will speak on Piedmont college and its work for the mountain people. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning at the Baptist church will be "The universal aspiration," Bible school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E at 6. Evening worship at 7; sermon subject, "The lane that prevents turning." All are invited to these services.

High School Hours.

The high school began Tuesday with two sessions—from 8 to 11 a. m., and from 1.30 to 4 p. m. A brief trial proved however that this was not the best plan, and the schedule has been changed, the hours now being from 8 to 10.30 a. m., and from 11 to 1 30 There were originally seven periods of 40 minutes each during the continuous session of last year, but these have been reduced to five periods of 30 minutes each. Practically all study periods in the building have been eliminated, the pupils being required to do the work at home until the repairs have been completed and the regular routine resumed again.

Peculiar Condition of Sewer.

The work of clearing out the catchbasin near the horse bowl on Main street and the pipe connecting it with the main sewer has been completed. On reaching the main sewer it was found that when the connection had been made for the branch pipe the latter had been pushed so far into the main that the free end extended clear across and so close to the side as almost to touch, preventing anything but liquid to discharge from the branch. The pipe was cut off and it is expected that the waste from that section of Main street will now be taken care of properly.

Baptist Association to Meet Here.

The Westfield Baptist Association will hold its 101st annual meeting in the Baptist church in Palmer on the 20th and 21st. Included in the list of speakers will be Rev. E. B. Dolan of Holyoke, Dr. H. A. Heath of Wakefield, Dr. F. W. Padelford of Boston, Rev. Guy C. Lamson of Boston, Dr. B. D. Hahn of Springfield, Rev. John S. Lyons of Holyoke, Rev. W. A. Atherton of West Springfield, and Rev. H. S. Thayer of Springfield.

The Palmer Trucking Company lost one of its pair of large gray horses, valued at about $500, by inflammation on Tuesday.

In district court Tuesday Boleslaw Kowalacik was charged with and convicted of an assault, and sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction.

Deputy Grand Commander Charles B. Wilson of Westfield will pay an official visit to Pilgrim commandery, Knights of Malta, next Tuesday evening.

The street railway will give a special service on the days of the Sturbridge fair next week,—Thursday, Friday and Saturday,—running cars every half hour, commencing at 7.15 in the morning.

Friends of Mrs. Minnie E. Converse of Central street will learn with regret that she was recently compelled to undergo an operation on her foot, which has troubled her for some time. It was performed at Monse Island, Me., where she has been stopping for some time, by Dr. Dudley Carleton of Springfield, and she is making a good recovery.

Flying Machine Next Week.

Will Pass Over Palmer on Wednesday or Thursday En Route to West.

Station Agent George A. Rice of the Boston and Albany railroad received notice this morning from the offices of the road in Boston of the proposed flight of Aviator James J Ward from Boston to the Pacific coast, the start to be made next Wednesday and the line of the Boston and Albany to be followed as far as Pittsfield. Mr Rice was asked to notify any persons who might be interested, and also to locate a landing place in case the flyer should find it convenient or necessary to alight in Palmer. If the trip is started as planned Mr. Ward should pass over Palmer some time Wednesday or Thursday, depending on the time of starting from Boston. An effort will be made to have the time of starting known, so that the birdman may be watched for here.

Special Town Meeting.

Money Must be Had for High School; Is Wanted for Other Things.

The selectmen have called a special town meeting for Monday, the 18th, to consider various matters. Chief among them is the repairs which are necessary to the roof of the high school building. An opportunity is also given to make up the lack of funds for the construction of the Three Rivers sewers as voted at the annual town meeting, and the rebuilding of a portion of the Main street sewer in Thorndike. The voters will also be asked to change the specifications for the material to be used in the construction of the macadam road on Cemetery Hill in Thorndike.

Enrollment In Schools.

Number Large in All Sections of Town, With More to Come.

The public schools of the town are fairly under way again, and the enrollment shows a total of about 1360, as follows: High school—23 seniors, 21 juniors, 40 sophomores, 62 freshmen, total 146; Palmer grammar, 349; Three Rivers, 281; Thorndike, 206; Bondsville, 228; wire mill, 48; Palmer Center, 26 The commercial class in the high school numbers 46, showing the popularity of that course.

A daughter, Lena Agnes, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Emile Starke of Central street Friday afternoon.

J. J. Fuller of Westfield will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday afternoon at 3. Sunday school will be at 2, as usual.

Baseball.

PALMER TOWN LEAGUE.

Bondsville 4, Palmer 3.

Bondsville won the Palmer league game at Bondsville Saturday, defeating Palmer by a score of 4 to 3 The game was hard fought, Palmer making a rally in the last two innings, too late to win. The score:

Bondsville.	ab	h	po	a	e	Palmer,	ab	h	po	a	e
Belisle, l,	4	0	0	0	0	Kenney, c,	3	0	5	2	1
Fitz'k, r,	4	0	1	0	0	Provost, 2,	4	0	5	2	0
H.Fah'y, 3,	4	1	7	1	0	Drexler, 1,	3	0	10	0	0
Sull'vn, c,	4	2	8	2	0	St. John, r,	4	1	0	0	0
Keyes, m,	4	0	0	0	0	Donn'n, s,	4	2	1	1	1
Donovan, l,	4	1	10	2	0	P. Bro'e, m,	4	1	0	0	0
Willis, p,	3	3	0	4	1	E. Bro'te, 3,	2	0	1	2	2
Murray, s,	3	1	1	2	1	J.Fah'y, p,	3	1	2	4	2
Fitzge'ld, 2,	3	1	0	2	0	Bress'te, l,	3	2	0	1	0
Total,	33	9	27	13	2	Total,	30	7	24	12	6

Bondsville,	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	—4
Palmer,	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	—3

Runs, Belisle, Fitzpatrick, Keyes, Murray, Donnton, J. Fahey, Bressette. Total bases, Bondsville 10, Palmer 9. Stolen bases, Drexler, Donnton, E. Bronillette 2. Two-base hit, Donovan. Three-base hit, Bressette. First base on balls, off Willis 3, off Fahey 1. Struck out, by Willis 8, by Fahey 4. Batter hit, Kenney. Passed ball, Kenney. Time, 2h 10m. Umpire, Henry Martens.

Three Rivers 2, Thorndike 1.

Thorndike was defeated by Three Rivers Saturday in a Palmer league game at Thorndike. The score:

T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e	Thorndike.	ab	h	po	a	e
Graham, l,	2	1	5	0	0	Holden, l,	4	1	7	1	0
Fournier, 2,	3	0	4	1	0	Keefe, m,	3	0	1	0	0
Whalen, c,	3	0	9	1	2	Cahill, l,	4	0	0	0	0
T. Cole, s,	3	1	1	1	1	Hurley, c,	4	1	12	1	0
Justin, p,	4	0	1	4	0	Doyle, 2,	4	1	1	2	0
I. Cole, 3,	4	0	5	2	0	Daley, 3,	3	1	0	0	1
Rogers, l,	4	0	0	0	0	Manley, p,	4	0	1	4	0
Lafave, m,	4	0	0	0	0	Chabot, s,	4	0	3	0	2
Barber, r,	3	0	2	0	0	McKe'zie, r,	3	1	2	0	0
Total,	30	2	27	9	3	Total,	33	5	27	8	3

Three Rivers,	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Thorndike,	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	—1

Runs, Graham 2, Hurley. Total bases, Three Rivers 2, Thorndike 5. Sacrifice hit, Fournier. Stolen bases, Graham 3, T. Cole 2. Bases on balls, off Justin 2, off Manley 4. Left on bases, Thorndike 10, Three Rivers 7. Struck out, by Manley 11, by Justin 9. Time, 2h 10m. Umpire, Colleton.

Bondsville 8, Palmer 3.

The final game of the Palmer town league was played on the driving park Monday afternoon. Palmer lost the game as the result of errors. The pitching of Bennett featured, he allowing only one hit and striking out 17. The score:

Bondsville,	ab	h	po	a	e	Palmer,	ab	b	po	a	e
Belisle, l,	4	1	0	0	0	Kenney, c,	3	0	7	1	0
F'p'rick, r,	5	2	0	0	1	Provost, 2,	2	0	3	2	0
Sullivan, c,	5	1	17	1	0	Drexler, 1,	3	0	6	0	1
Fahey, 3,	5	3	2	2	0	St. John, r,	3	0	2	0	0
Keyes, m,	4	0	0	0	0	Dounton, s,	4	0	0	4	5
Donovan, l,	5	0	5	0	2	EB'tte, m,	3	0	1	0	1
Bennett, c,	4	1	0	3	0	Taylor, 3,	3	0	3	2	2
Murray, s,	4	0	1	0	1	Bres'te, m,	1	0	1	1	9
F'gerald, 2,	4	0	1	0	1	B.Bron'te, l,	4	1	4	1	1
						Justin, p,	3	0	0	1	1
Total,	40	9	27	6	4	Total,	28	1	27	12	11

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Bondsville,	0	2	1	0	1	0	2	2	0	—8
Palmer,	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	—3

Runs, Kenney, Donnton, E. Bronillette, Belisle, Fitzpatrick 3, Sullivan 2, Fahey, Donovan, Sacrifice hits, Provost, Keyes. Stolen bases, Kenney, Bassette 2, Justin, Belisle. Two-base hits, Bennett, Sullivan, Fitzpatrick. First base on balls, off Bennett 6. Left on bases, Bondsville 5, Palmer 7. Struck out, by Bennett 17, by Justin 8. Hit by pitcher Drexler. Passed ball, Kenney. Wild pitches, Justin, Bennett. Time, 2h 10m. Umpire, Colleton.

Three Rivers 11, Thorndike 2.

The league game Monday morning at Three Rivers was won by that team, Thorndike losing by a score of 11 to 2 The pitching of both Manley and Justin featured, The score:

T. Rivers,	ab	h	po	a	e	Thorndike,	ab	h	po	a	e
Graham, l,	2	0	4	0	0	Holden, l,	4	0	8	0	2
Fourn'er, 2,	5	0	1	3	0	Keefe, m,	3	0	1	0	1
Whalen, c,	5	2	13	1	0	Cahill, l,	4	0	1	0	1
T. Cole, s,	5	4	0	0	2	Hurley, c,	4	2	9	1	1
Justin, p,	5	2	1	3	1	Doyle, 2,	4	0	2	1	3
I. Cole, 3,	5	2	2	0	0	Daley, 3,	4	1	1	3	0
Rogers, l,	5	3	2	0	0	Manley, p,	4	1	0	5	0
Lafave, m,	4	0	4	0	0	Chabot, s,	4	1	0	1	2
Barber, r,	4	2	0	0	0	McKe'zie, r,	3	0	1	1	0
Wizard, l,	2	1	0	0	0
Total,	42	16	27	7	3	Total,	34	5	23	12	10

Three Rivers,	1	0	2	3	0	0	4	1	—11
Thorndike,	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0—	2

Runs, Graham 2, Fournier, Whalen, T. Cole, Justin, I. Cole, Rogers, Barber, Hurley, Daley. Total bases, Thorndike 6, Three Rivers 19. Stolen bases, Graham, T. Cole, Justin, Barber, Chabot 2. Two-base hits, Whalen, Rogers 2, Daley. First base on balls, off Manley 1, off Justin 1. Left on bases, Three Rivers 7, Thorndike 7. Struck out, by Manley 4, by Justin 11. Batter hit, McKenzie. Passed balls, Hurley, Whalen. Time, 1h 40m. Umpire, Colleton.

Bondsville—Three Rivers Protested Game Off.

The protested game between Bondsville and Three Rivers, which was to have been played off to-morrow, will not take place. At a meeting of the league it was unanimously voted — the representative of the Three Rivers club assenting — that the game should be played to-morrow at Three Rivers and the gate receipts divided. After reporting to the directors of the Three Rivers club however, they declined to play unless given the entire gate receipts, which the Bondsville team would not grant, hence the game is off.

Ware defeated Gilbertville Saturday in a poorly-played game in the former place.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Boston Letter.

The Number of Unemployed — Universal Races Congress — Religion in State Politics — Frothingham or Walker? — Political Situation — Large Number of Candidates.

BOSTON, Sept. 6, 1911.

Director Gettemy of the bureau of statistics has just issued his quarterly bulletin which shows the state of employment on June 30 last His information comes from the labor unions, and for the quarter ending June 30 complete returns were received from 897 organizations, having a membership of 135 202, or somewhat over 70 per cent of the total of all labor unions in the state. Out of this number there were 8 927, or 6 6 per cent, who were returned as unemployed. For the previous quarter it was 10 44 For the corresponding June 30 in 1910 and 1909 the percentages were 6 99 and 6 36 respectively Thus there has been no material change. In 1908 following the great financial depression of 1907, the percentage was 14 41 The total of 6.60 was divided among different causes as follows: Lack of work or material, 4 19; disability due to sickness, accident or old age, 1 18; strikes or lockouts, .54; unfavorable weather, .23; other causes, .46 The first cause always includes the largest percentage. The percentage out on account of disability stands at about the same figure all the time. The percentage due to strikes and lockouts was much increased, having been only .16 for the previous quarter and only .10 for the corresponding quarter last year. Nearly all of the strikers (89 45 per cent) were in the four cities, Chelsea, with 270; Boston, with 201; Brockton, with 100; and Worcester, with 82 The largest percentage of unemployment was in the building trades, with boot and shoe manufacturing second, then transportation, textile industries, iron and steel manufacturing, garment workers, tobacco workers, printing and publishing, and public employment.

Although the first universal races congress, which was attended by representatives of the United States, was held in London only as late as July 26 to 29, yet there has been published here, by Ginn & Company, in their World Peace Foundation series, a large volume containing the papers which were presented at that congress. Really it is an English edition and was manifestly prepared from manuscript furnished in advance. Since that congress was the first meeting of the kind ever held on earth, it is a matter of world-wide importance. Here is a great collection of valuable papers by some of the most distinguished people in line of human progress on the face of the earth. They are from all the principal races and countries, and probably there was never published before such a cosmopolitan book. Of course the papers are sympathetic with the spirit which brought the meeting together The papers discuss the general tendencies toward the progress and formal unity of the entire human race, and they also discuss some problems in detail, such as peaceful contact between different civilizations, the modern conscience in relation to racial questions, and one entire session was devoted to our questions in this country relating to Indians and negroes, positive suggestions for promoting inter-racial friendliness, the last paper in which branch was delivered by Edwin D. Mead of Boston upon international organization as a means for promoting such inter-racial good will. The book is a mine of information and will surely have a large influence in shaping public opinion and promoting mutual better understanding by the nations.

It is a pity that it is true, but there is no doubt that religious feeling has entered into state politics and, being in, will produce some consequences. It rests upon the nomination of so many Catholics for the bench by Gov. Foss. The British American element has taken alarm. If the case stops where it is, possibly they will stand by the governor, as they did last year, very generally. They suck religious difference then because Foss was so strongly for reciprocity. Being, most of them, from the provinces and believing that his strong efforts for reciprocity warranted in supporting him, they said nothing about their religious affiliations and supported him. Now it is charged against the governor that he has given the Catholics six out of the eight judgeships of different grades he has filled. They now resent the intimation that he will appoint Judge DeCourcy to the supreme bench to make good the place to be vacated by the man to be promoted to be chief justice, who, rumor says, will be Judge Braley. There is a strong desire on the part of western Massachusetts Republicans that John C. Crosby of Pittsfield be advanced to the supreme bench. This has no connection with the feelings of the British Americans, but, if he were promoted, they would be entirely satisfied, while, if Judge DeCourcy, who is said to be a very devout Catholic, were to get the honor, they would feel that the governor was giving too many judgeships to the Catholics and they say that 20,000 of them who supported the governor last year would oppose him this year. To-day's council meeting went over without any nominations. So the heat will continue at least a week longer.

Predictions upon the outcome of the direct primaries vary according to the politics of the prophet. But it is quite generally true of the Republican politicians that they predict the nomination of Lieut. Gov. Frothingham by a large majority. This tendency, which was noticed last week, continues to be as strongly marked in regular Republican circles. The culmination of it is seen in the lieutenant governor himself, who is not only sure of his nomination, but seems to think that Walker and White are in very unfortunate positions, with their presumably small following. From this point of view, it will be a walkover for Frothingham. But there is in other quarters quite a different story and the real issue is how far the regular Republican politicians represent the mass of the voters. Granting everything that is said about Frothingham's ability and character, there is yet a strong feeling in some quarters that he never can defeat Gov. Foss and that the Republicans will be only inviting a thorough defeat by nominating the lieutenant governor. To these men Walker is the only candidate who can defeat the governor. I have talked to-day with one of their representatives who predicts that within 48 hours of the primaries the Republican voters, up face to face with the solemn proposition whether they want to risk the defeat of the party by the nomination of Frothingham, will come to their sober judgment and will nominate Walker. There is some talk in favor of White, but it does not equal in volume, by far, that for either Frothingham or Walker. He has a good press bureau and his speeches are well given to the press, but that does not seem to carry with it the conviction that the arguments will convince the voters.

A Republican whose duties bring him into touch with more party men, probably, than any other Republican in the state, tells me that Gov. Foss will probably hold his own from last year in the large manufacturing cities, but that he will lose all through the towns and in the residential cities. Springfield he regards as the worst for Foss in the entire state. Worcester will show a tendency from him, he says, as will the suburban cities of Boston, while Fall River, New Bedford and other manufacturing places will hold up to last year's figures. Some predict that Frothingham will cut into him in Boston, but the fact that Mayor Fitzgerald, Martin M. Lomasney and other leaders are for him and that there are no splits in the party this year will save him. Senator Joseph P Lomasney is very free in his assertions that he will not vote for Foss, no matter if brother Martin is supporting him.

At the office of the secretary of state it is said that at the close of business last night 8,843 names of candidates had been filed in due form, against somewhat less than 1 000 for any year under the former system of nominations. There are still more to be filed and the total is predicted as sure to be as high as 9,500 Thus it can be seen what an enormous amount of work was put upon the secretary's office, and the fact that this business has been so well handled is a great credit to Assistant Secretary Herbert N. Boynton, who has it in charge. Every nomination has been officially acknowledged in a letter with a two cent stamp

Friends of Archbishop O'Connell say that he will lead the procession here on Columbus Day, our next legal holiday, October 12

LANDON

Personal Mention.

Miss Susan Barlow has returned from a visit in Warren.

Martin Neilson has moved his family to Manchester, Ct., this week.

Miss Elizabeth Horan of Central street is spending the week in Newark, N. J.

Harold Rich of the Bay State Drug Store is taking a vacation of a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bennett of Park street are visiting relatives in Royalton, Vt.

Arthur Barlow of Worcester was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. S. C. Hunt.

Mrs. John P. Sloan and daughter Helen of Worcester spent a part of the week in town.

Dr. William B. McBride of Athol visited at his home on Converse street the first of the week.

William Taylor of New York has been spending the week at his home in Blanchardville.

Miss Pearl Thomas of Warren, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Theodore Norman of Pearl street.

Deputy Sheriff G. A. Bills attended the Old Home celebration at Washington the first of the week.

John E Duffy of Cambridge spent the first of the week with his parents on South Main street.

Miss Mabel McKenzie of Park street has returned from an extended stay in Provincetown.

Mr and Mrs. M. J. Daley of Pittsfield spent Sunday and Labor Day with relatives on Mt. Dumplin.

Charles Hellyar of New York has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hellyar on Squier street.

Mrs. Earl Lane and son of Pleasant street have returned from a visit to her former home in New York state.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawson of Denver, Col., have been guests of her brother, Edward Prindle of Park street.

Miss Josephine Brown of the Wright Wire Company is spending two weeks with relatives in Newark, N J.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Shea, son and daughter of Elkhart, Ind, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Todd of Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs D E O'Connor have returned from their wedding trip and will reside at the Nassowanno House.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver N. Ferry of Providence, R. I, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gager on Foster street.

Miss D E Todd of Brattleboro, Vt., has been spending part of the week at the home of her parents on Pine street.

Frank S. Hunnewell, superintendent of the Attleboro street railway and formerly of Palmer, is spending a week in town.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Caryl of Bridgewater were guests the first of the week of Mr and Mrs. F. H. Caryl of Pine street.

Miss Laura Christiansen, who has been spending the summer at Block Island, has returned to her home in Palmer Center.

Mrs. H. S Hobson of Pearl street has returned from a two-weeks' vacation with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Evans of Tarrytown, N. Y

Mrs. C. W. Williams of Thorndike street returned Saturday from the Wesson Memorial hospital, where she had been receiving treatment.

Misses Ruth and Elizabeth Richards of Westboro have been guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. S. Brewer at the Congregational parsonage.

Mrs. J. Laurie and daughter Margaret of Charlestown are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGilp on South Main street.

Mrs. W. D Cameron and daughter Irene of Thorndike street have returned from a vacation in the eastern part of the state and New Hampshire.

Miss Carrie J. Fish has resumed her duties in the schools in Meriden, Ct., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fish of Walnut street.

Mrs. D F. Dillon and children of Central street and Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Roche and daughter of Park street have returned from a vacation at Winthrop Beach.

Mrs. Lucy Flynt of Central street gave a whist party last Friday evening to a number of former friends of Mrs. Alta Small of Providence, R I, formerly of Palmer, who was visiting her.

William Flood of Chicago, Ill., spent the first of the week with his aunt, Margaret Flood, and cousins, Mrs. Rose Boyd and Miss Katie McMahon, at their home at the Point of Rocks.

Robert Laird, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laird of North Main street, will return to-morrow to Sharon. His sister, Miss Ruth, will return to New Haven, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Holbrook of North Main street and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brainerd of Foster street were guests over Sunday of the family of E. G. Childs at Century Lodge, Amsden, Vt.

Earl Paine, who has served eight years in the navy and has been spending a vacation of four months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Paine of South Main street, has enlisted for another four years.

The marriage of David L Sullivan, formerly of Palmer, and Miss Mary Z Walsh of Springfield took place in that city Wednesday morning. Mr Sullivan is well known in Palmer, having lived here until a few years ago when he went to Springfield.

Mrs Henry McGilp of South Main street has returned from a two-months' trip to Colorado and Wyoming. While in Colorado she visited her son Henry, and a brother and sister in the city of Greeley. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that her health is much improved

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

MARRIED.

In Monson, 6th, by Rev. G. A. Andrews, George C. Baroo of West Palm Beach, Florida, and Mabelle T. Crocker of Monson.
In Brimfield, 6th, by Rev. Charles R. Tenney, Arthur S. Lyon of Southbridge and Gertrude L. Andrews of Brimfield.

DIED.

In Monson, 4th, Frank Donnican, 63.
In Ware, 2d, Mrs. Catherine McBride, 95.
In Ware, 4th, Emerson O. Pfiffer.
In Warren, 3d, Mrs. David Dempsey.

KITCHEN GIRL WANTED. Inquire at CENTRAL STREET RESTAURANT.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md For sale by all dealers.

SHOATS FOR SALE. Inquire at NO. 2 WIRE MILL, Palmer. 22-2

FOUND—On the road to Silver Street, a pair of glasses. Inquire of R. F. D. 2, BOX 17.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BIRDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

DRESSMAKING AND LADIES' TAILORING by experienced dressmaker. 23-tf
95 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms, heated and electric lights; singly or en suite. 21-tf 45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

TO RENT—Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 46-tf

A LARGE mercantile house requires the services of a special lady representative for this city and district to appoint agents and leads to the business in general. Suitable for a student or lady of average education. Salary $50 a month, expenses and commission. Apply by letter to E. W. HEBERT, 150 Bridge St., Springfield. 20-3

WANTED—GOOD HOUSEKEEPING MAGAZINE requires the services of a representative in Palmer to look after subscription renewals, also to solicit new subscriptions by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Salary and commission. Previous experience desirable, but not essential. Whole time or spare time. Address, with references. J. F. Fairbanks, Good Housekeeping Magazine, 381 Fourth Ave., New York City. 22-2

Palmer Savings Bank,

Notice to Trustees.

The quarterly meeting of the Trustees of the Palmer Savings Bank will be held at their banking rooms on Monday, the eighteenth day of September, 1911, at 2 o'clock p. m.

G. A. RICE, Clerk.

Palmer, Mass., Sept. 5, 1911. 23 2

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

W. B. T. Smith,

Physician and Surgeon,

Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.

Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104-5.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE PALMER NATIONAL BANK, at Palmer, in the State of Massachusetts, at the close of business, September 1, 1911.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$242,137.86
Overdrafts, unsecured		178.65
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		100,000.00
Other bonds to secure Postal Savings		7,000 00
Bonds, securities, etc		262,910 00
Banking house, furniture and fixtures		4,000.00
Other real estate owned		2,414.75
Due from approved reserve agents		24,877 64
Notes of other National banks		745.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		500.00
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	$16,418.61
Legal-tender notes	8,529.00	24,947.61
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		5,000.00
TOTAL		$674,711.51

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	20,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	34,756.26
National Bank notes outstanding	98,800.00
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	29,593 56
Dividends unpaid	45.50
Individual deposits subject to check	341,749.76
Demand certificates of deposit	27,704 63
Certified checks	846.33
Cashier's checks outstanding	217.47
Bills payable, including certificates of deposit for money borrowed	20,000.00
Reserved for taxes	1,000.00
TOTAL	$674,711.51

State of Massachusetts, County of Hampden, ss:

I, L. J. Brainerd, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

L. J. BRAINERD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of September, 1911.

ERNEST E. HOBSON, Notary Public.

{SEAL}

Correct—Attest:

H. W. HOLBROOK, C. A. LEGRO, JOHN F. FOLEY, } Directors.

Last Chance

From now to Sept. 1 to buy odds and ends of goods we are selling below cost.

P. O. Block, M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.

UP ONE FLIGHT.

Electric Motors, Gas, Gasolene or Kerosene Engines, Ventilating or Ceiling Fans, Forge Blowers, Pulleys, Hangers and Shafting,

new or second-hand furnished and installed

Wm. C. Moulton, Electrical and Mechanical Contractor.

Phone 122-21 Monson, Mass.

Your Attention

Is called to our large assortment of

Ginghams and Percales

Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

Boy Wanted

One about 16 years old, to feed press and make himself generally useful. Steady job. Apply at Journal Office.

August Peterson,

Monson, Mass.

Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

TOWN WARRANT.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
County of Hampden, ss.
Town of Palmer.

To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County.

GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer, qualified to vote in town affairs, to meet at the Town House at Four Corners, in said Palmer, on Monday, the eighteenth day of September, A. D. 1911, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, then and there to act on the following articles, viz.:

ARTICLE 1. To choose a Moderator to preside at said meeting.

ART. 2. To hear and act on the reports of committees.

ART. 3. To choose committees and give them instructions.

ART. 4. To see if the town will vote to authorize the treasurer, with the approval of the selectmen, to borrow money not to be paid from the taxes of the current year.

ART. 5. To see if the town will raise and appropriate money for necessary repairs, alterations or additions upon the high school building in the Depot Village, or take any other action relative thereto.

ART. 6. To see if the town will raise and appropriate sums of money, the same to be in addition to the sums already appropriated, for the construction and completion of sewers in the following named streets in the Village of Three Rivers: Pleasant street from the residence of Delina Roberts to Main street; Ruggles street from the residence of S Camerlin to Main street; Main street from its intersection with Charles street, westerly to the Quaboag river; Belchertown road from the crossing of the Boston and Albany railroad and thence northerly 350 feet; and

Monson News.

SUMMER SEWERS' FETE.

Social and Financial Success on Miss Holmes' Lawn Last Friday.

The lawn party under the direction of the "Summer Sewers," held last Friday afternoon on Miss Holmes' grounds, was a great success in every way. It was a glorious day, and the weather was all the more enjoyed as it had been raining for seven consecutive days. Many children and grown-ups were present—it is thought that at least 250 people came to the party. The hurdy-gurdy was a great attraction and furnished music all the afternoon. This was in charge of Bessie Allen, who was dressed in the bright-colored costume of an Italian peasant girl; little Carolyn Flynt, dressed as an Indian girl with a papoose strapped to her back, passed a tambourine for peunies. Mrs. Wiggs, assisted by Lovey Mary, leaned over a fence and sold all her cabbages in a short space of time, which proved what a good crop she had. The servers of lemonade were kept busy selling drinks and replenishing the punch bowls. Two young ladies went aronnd carrying baskets on their arms filled with popcorn. Ice cream was served at small tables under the pergola, and on another part of the lawn cones filled with ice cream proved very popular with the children The home-made candy nearby disappeared very rapidly, and a new supply was needed. All the young ladies wore white dresses and Dutch caps, and aprons of different colored crepe paper, which gave a very gay appearance to the whole scene on the lawn. The dolls dressed by the young ladies and the dainty aprons made by them were exhibited on the piazza; these, with the proceeds of the afternoon, which amounted to $48, are to be sent to the Home for the Friendless in New York City The dolls will make the little children very happy, and the aprons will be sold at a fair which is soon to be held there for the benefit of the Home. The "Summer Sewers" consists of twenty-five members, mostly young ladies who teach or attend school out of town during the year. They have met every Monday afternoon during July and August to sew. The aim of the Club is to become better acquainted with each other, and to accomplish something which will help and give pleasure to others. The young ladies wish to thank their friends for so kindly patronizing them, and already look forward to welcoming them again next summer to another lawn party.

Crocker—Barco.

A very pretty wedding took place in the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Mahelle Lena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Crocker of North Main street, became the bride of George Curtis Barco of West Palm Beach, Florida. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Andrews. The matron of honor was Mrs. Louis E. Stedman of Hartford, Ct., a sister of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Florence M. Croker of this town, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Helen Klein of Philadelphia and Miss E Ruth Binns of Lawrence. The best man was Sidney Wilson of West Palm Beach, and the nshers were Joseph Chailie of Miami, Fla., and Norman Cushman, Charles Robbins and A M. Walker of this place.

The bride's gown was of cream white satin, embroidered with pearls. She wore a veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The matron of honor's gown was of white voile trimmed with Irish lace and she carried a shower bouquet of yellow poppies The maid of honor wore white suisine silk over yellow. She carried an arm bouquet of white asters.

The church was very prettily decorated with yellow and white, golden rod and hydrangeas predominating. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where refreshments were served.

The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were gold hatpins with amethyst settings. Guests were present from Palmer, Springfield, Pittsfield, Hartford, Ct., Bangor, Me., Philadelphia, New York, Jacksonville, Miami and West Palm Beach, Fla. The presents were numerous and costly, including linen, silverware, china, cut glass, etc. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Barco will reside at West Palm Beach.

Barry—Crowley.

In the presence of a large number of relatives and friends Miss Ellen Mary Barry, daughter of Mrs. Peter Barry of Highland avenue, and Michael Crowley of Cushman street were married in St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Thomas O'Keefe. The nuptial mass which followed was celebrated by Rev. William McGuire, a former schoolmate of both the bride and groom. Mrs. Thomas Heffernan of Worcester presided at the organ. The church was artistically decorated, pink and white being the color scheme. The matron of honor was Mrs. Nellie McKenna of Boston; William Crowley of Palmer, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore white marquisette over white silk and wore a white picture hat and carried a white prayer book. The matron of honor wore pink chiffon over pink silk and wore a white hat trimmed with pink and carried a white prayer book. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Bridge street; a wedding breakfast followed the reception. Granite circle, Companions of the Forest, of which Mrs. Crowley is a member, presented her with a carving set and cut glass dish. There were many other valuable presents, including table linen, furniture, cut glass, silverware, etc The bride's traveling suit was of dark blue chiffon panama and she wore a white felt hat. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Crowley will reside with Mrs Crowley's mother.

Firemen Hold Clambake.

The annual clambake of the Monson fire department and guests was held on Flynt Park Monday A baseball game was enjoyed in the morning, a team picked from the married men defeating a team representing the single men by a score of 13 to 11 At noon 60 sat down to the bake, which was served by Frank Shields. Chief Engineer D. B. Needham acted as toastmaster. Many members of the department and several of the guests responded to calls from the toastmaster. Ex-Senator A. B. Norcross spoke in a very interesting manner on reciprocity. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of N A. Bugbee, William Bowden, A. B. Norcross, Walter Norton and Henry Nobert.

Death of Frank Dunnican.

Frank Dunnican, 63, died at the Monson House Monday evening from the effects of rheumatism. He was born in Springfield, and had spent most of his life in that city, being a printer by trade. For the past 17 years he had resided in Monson and had always made the Monson House his home. He had no near relatives. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial was in the Pearl street cemetery.

Mrs. Hillary Murray and children, who have been visiting at the home of C. M. Gage on Main street, have returned to their home in Minneapolis.

Weavers on a Strike.

About 25 weavers in the Langewald Worsted mill on South Main street are ont on a strike. The fining of the grading system is the cause of the trouble. It is expected that matters will be adjusted soon.

The public schools opened Tuesday for the fall term.

Miss Sara Gavin is spending a few days in Boston.

Dr. John Maguire of Ohio is visiting his parents here.

Mortimer Dugan of Mystic, Ct, is visiting friends in town.

Albert Partello of Potter Hill, R. I.. spent the holiday in town.

Mrs. James Bryans of High street is visiting relatives in Westerly, R. I.

Miss Lilla Bradway of Harrison avenue is visiting relatives in Nyack, N Y

Miss Gertrude Leahy of Belmont avenue is visiting relatives in North Adams.

Miss Marion Tucker has returned home after a three-weeks' stay in Albany, N. Y

Miss Lillian Webb of Attleboro is visiting at the home of R. F. Bradway on Green street.

Mrs. G C. Flynt of High street is spending a few days with friends at New London, Ct.

Miss Ruth Binns, who has been visiting in town, has returned to her home in Lawrence.

James Faulkner of Revere is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner of High street.

John Marshall of New York is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flynt on High street.

Robert Taylor has returned to his home on South Main street after spending the summer in Lee.

Miss Mildred Cushman has returned from Block Island, where she has been spending the summer.

Miss Maud Sweet of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs C. A. Sweet on State street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stebbins of New Jersey are visiting R. S. and Miss Ella Stebbins of East Hill.

Rev. and Mrs. Abram Conklin have returned to their home after spending the summer at Southold, L I.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Jeffries of New York are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Colleton on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peck have returned from an automobile trip to the northern part of the state and Vermont.

Services and Sunday school were resumed at the Universalist church Sunday after a two-months' vacation.

Miss Nellie Beckwith of Lincoln street has gone to Shelton, Ct., to take up her duties as teacher in that place.

A temporary bridge has been built over the brook near the cemetery arch and the electric cars are crossing it.

Mrs. Richard Gunther and daughter have returned to their home on Pearl street after a ten days' stay at Westerly, R. I.

The banns of marriage between Frank Shields and Miss Joanna Bowler, both of this town, have been announced.

Miss Mabel Fuller of Squier avenue has gone to Holland to take up her duties as teacher in the public schools there.

Dr. and Mrs. A D. Coleman have returned to their home in Boston after spending Labor Day with Monson friends.

E A. Hanley, F L. O'Brien and E. F. Faulkner have returned from a vacation spent at Revere Beach and Boston.

H. L Oldfield, who has been spending the week with friends in town, has returned to his home in Sayleaville, R. I.

Earl T. Hale, who has been visiting his parents, Mr and Mrs. James Hale on Harrison avenue, has returned to Boston.

Edward Maguire, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maguire on High street, has returned to Pittsfield.

Frank Hill Jr., who has been visiting at the home of A. E Shaw on Bliss street, has returned to his home in Ashway, R I.

Rev. and Mrs Geo. A. Andrews and children have returned to their home after a six weeks' stay at Jamestown, R I.

Edward Murphy, who has been spending several days with relatives in town, has returned to his home in Windsor Locks, Ct.

The annual meeting of the King's Daughters will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. M. C. Howe on North Main street.

Mrs. Herbert Brice and children of Manchester, N H., are visiting Mrs. Brice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sweet on State street.

Robert K. Squire of Green street has gone to Boston, where he is taking a business course in the Burdett business college.

Miss Marie Donovan, who has been the guest of Miss Grace Sullivan on State street, has returned to her home in Newport, N H.

Carlton and Florence Murphy have returned to their home in East Weymouth after visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hughes on Pease avenue.

Miss M. Virginia Charles of Richmond, Va., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Seymour, has gone to Philadelphia for the winter.

Miss Esther M. Pease, who has been spending a vacation at Walnut Beach, Ct, has returned to her home at Maple Lawn farm on East Hill.

C. N. Smart, who spent the holiday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smart on State street, has returned to his duties in Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Merchant of Providence, R. I., are visiting Mr. Merchant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A B. Merchant of High street.

Miss Julia Keating, who has been visiting at the home of Dr. W. E. Stone on South Main street, has returned to her home in Southbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Stacy and Miss Grace Stacy, who have been visiting at the home of Charles Stacy on North Main street, have returned to Worcester.

Stanley and Sydney Walton, who have been spending several weeks at the home of G. F. Fuller on Squire avenne, have returned to their home in New York.

Robert Taylor, who has been spending the summer in Lee, has returned to his home on South Main street. He will enter the Academy for a post-graduate course.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forrer and daughter Frances of Milford, Ct., who have been visiting at the home of Walter Dillon on Highland avenne, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coughlin of Woonsocket, R. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ensnlt of Pittsfield have been spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Green in South Monson.

Charles Cooley of Elm street was painfully injured at his home Tuesday. He was splitting kindling and the ax slipped cutting his left hand severely. He was attended by Dr. E. W. Capen.

Rev. A. P. Wedge of Boston, a representative of the Anti-Saloon League, will have charge of the services in the Methodist church Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor. The evening services will be in charge of Rev. H. E. Allen.

Miss Sarah Smart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smart of State street, has accepted a position as teacher of science and mathematics at the Stafford high school Miss Sweet is a gradnate of Monson Academy and of Mount Holyoke College.

George W. French, supervisor of athletics and physical director at Monson Academy, who was married this summer, is moving his household goods into the Frank Holmes place on Main street, recently vacated by Mrs. Etta Orcutt.

The fire department was called out at 8 15 o'clock Tuesday morning by an alarm from box 18 on Pearl street. The blaze was a chimney fire in the house of Richard Gunther on Pearl street. It was extinguished with little difficulty and the damage was slight.

Rev. F W. McConnell, pastor of the Methodist church of this town, was married to Miss Laura A. Sargeant of Groveland in that place Wednesday evening. After a wedding journey to Ohio for the balance of the month Rev. and Mrs. McConnell will reside in the parsonage on Green street

The annual picnic of the King's Daughters was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. M. Smith at State Line. A large barge, teams and automobiles conveyed the members to and from the grounds. Games of all kinds, music and singing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant afternoon enjoyed by all.

Eugene Duffy, son of Mr and Mrs. Patrick Duffy of Granite street, was taken to the Mercy hospital in Springfield Wednesday for treatment. About two weeks ago he cut his knee, but at the time it was not considered at all serious. The wound became infected and blood poisoning feared, and the physician in charge had him removed to the hospital.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 11, the money order, registry and postal savings windows at the Monson post office will close at 7 30 p. m. instead of 8 o'clock. This change has been ordered by the post office department because of the additional work of closing the daily accounts at the office created by the postal savings system. The stamp and delivery windows will remain open until 8 o'clock as usual.

BELCHERTOWN.

High School Principal Chosen.

Walter Burt, a graduate of Boston University, has been elected principal of the Belchertown high school. He is 24 years old and is unmarried. He has had several years' experience in teaching.

The tax bills have been distributed by Tax Collector D. F. Shumway.

Rachel Lapolice has resumed her studies at the Worcester Normal School.

D J. Shea, who has been station agent in Belchertown for the past five years, has taken a position in Worcester.

Miss Culley, who has taught for two years in the Federal street school, has taken a position in the Chicopee graded schools.

The following guests were entertained at Mountain View farm Tuesday: Miss Johanna Moriarty of Halifax, N. S, Miss Margaret Brennan of New York city, Miss May Barrett of Springfield, Miss Margaret T. Moriarty of Killarney, Ire., Miss Katherine O'Brien of London, Eng, Miss Sarah Griffin of Millbury, Misses Anna Barry, Sarah Connor, Mary A. O'Keefe, Bridget Moriarty and Mrs. Mary O'Neil, all of Chicopee Falls. The afternoon was spent in story-telling, games, vocal and instrumental music. A good dinner was served to all at noon.

WARREN.

Death of Mrs. David Dempsey.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dempsey, wife of David Dempsey, died Sunday evening at their home on Southbridge street, after a lingering illness from pernicious anemia. She leaves, besides her husband, two children, Miss Jennie Dempsey, at home, and George Dempsey of Springfield. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from St. Paul's church The funeral was held in St. Paul's church Wednesday morning, Rev. John P McCaughan officiating, assisted by Rev. William McCaughan as deacon and Rev Philias Trottier as subdeacon. A delegation, consisting of Mrs. Lawrence Welsh, Mrs John Sheehan, Miss Nora T Lynch and Mrs. James F. McKelligett, represented the ladies' auxiliary of the Hibernians. The burial was in St Paul's Catholic cemetery. The bearers were James White, Thomas Cronin, Eugene A Quinlan, Bernard J. Ruddy, Alfred J. Cahana and John Keenan. There were also honorary bearers from the ladies' auxiliary, consisting of Mrs. Patrick Cunningham, Mrs. John Ryan, Mrs. Maurice Kane, Mrs. Michael A. Sullivan and Mrs. Mary Young

George C. Bridges has gone on a three-months' hunting trip in the Northwest.

Charles O. Keith of Montreal is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Lucy Keith of East Main street.

Miss Emma Hines has resigned her position as teacher of grade 1 in the East street building to take a position in Passaic, N. J.

Miss Susie McCarrison is substituting in grades 1 and 2 in the high school building on account of the illness of Miss Mary St. George.

Charles Shepard, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Shepard, was painfully injured Monday. He was playing with some children and accidentally fell to the ground, striking upon his right arm. Dr. J. E. Dalton was called and found a bad fracture just above the elbow.

BRIMFIELD.

Andrews—Lyon.

A pretty wedding took place in the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Gertrude Loraine Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews of Southbridge, and Arthur Steen Lyon of Southbridge were united in marriage by Rev. Charles R. Tenney of Southbridge, assisted by Rev. William Jennings. The bridesmaid was Miss Stella Lyon of Elysian, Minn., a sister of the groom, and the best man was Franklin Hunt, instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The ushers were Breck Lewis of Springfield and Adolph S Leon of Southbridge. Miss Edith Randall of Southbridge presided at the organ. There was a large attendance, relatives and friends from New York, Worcester, Springfield, Waltham, Thompson, Ct, Southbridge, Palmer and other places besides Brimfield being present. Edward Phillips Lyon, the father of the groom, was present from Elysian, Minn. The church was prettily decorated for the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of Swiss muslin, and there were orange blossoms in her hair. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and ferns. The bridesmaid was also attired in white muslin and carried yellow roses and ferns. Mr and Mrs. Lyon left after the ceremony for a trip to Canada.

Converse—McGrath.

A marriage of interest to Brimfield people took place in St. Peter's church in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Monday evening, when Lydia Converse of Brimfield became the wife of Jeremiah McGrath, formerly of Brooklyn, Ct The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Wyles Converse and the late John F. Converse and is a graduate of Hitchcock Academy. She has held a position in the Heimann & Lichten straw shop in Monson for some time. Mr. McGrath is a builder in the employ of the Flynt Construction Company and at present has charge of the erection of a large mannfactory which is being put by the Buckeye Mowing Machine Company in Poughkeepsie. The newly-wedded couple will make their home in that city, where they will begin housekeeping at 26 Hooker avenue.

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

A Middle Aged Courtship

By ANDREW C. EWING

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

I was thirty-five years old and becoming tired of myself. The summer was coming on, and I went to the sea shore, thinking that I might shake off ennui.

There were boys and girls at the hotel who excited my envy by the friendly way or the lover like way or any kind of a way they mingled.

There was a young woman apparently a year or two past thirty who, on my arrival at the hotel, seemed to regard me with something more than an ordinary interest. She was sitting on the porch as I entered the house and fixed her eyes upon me with a peculiar expression. I would have liked to believe—as I would have believed ten or fifteen years before—that I had made an instantaneous conquest, but that day was past. I simply inferred that there was something about me that reminded her of some one she knew or had known. I had no remembrance of ever having met her before.

The next morning I joined a group of ladies commonly called the knitting brigade sitting on the porch, and Miss Brown, the lady I have mentioned, being among the number I was introduced to her. Drawing a chair beside hers, I entered into conversation with her. She had the faculty of placing a man on unconventional terms with her at once, a valuable gift in a woman—that is, whenever she cares to exercise it—and I felt at once as free with her as if I had known her for years. The other ladies one by one withdrew and left Miss Brown and me by ourselves. We chatted till luncheon was announced and wondered what had become of the morning.

That was the beginning of it. There was nothing between us that could be called a flirtation. We had passed that age. We simply found companionship in each other and spent much of our time together, or, rather, all our time that we were not in our rooms. Miss Brown treated me not as a stranger, but as one she had known a long while. Every now and again she would indicate that there was or had been at some previous time something between us, but gave out nothing that I could get hold of—nothing that I could even question her about. So we drifted from day to day. I every now and again running up against this vague something she seemed to have on her mind.

And here I will remark that there are circumstances, episodes, happenings—call them what you like—that a man will forget, but a woman will remember so long as she lives. It is the large things that interest a man—his career, the interests of his country or those questions which pertain to the ongoing of the world. A woman will treasure a note, a button, anything connected with some scene or person near to her heart.

Finding Miss Brown companionable, it occurred to me that here might be a chance for me to get away from my lonely bachelorhood, to exchange club life for home life, to settle myself for the rest of my days. Whether I could do so was very easy to discover. All that was needed was for me to propose to Miss Brown.

But here was a difficulty. When I was a young man I could make love for fun, as I regarded it, by the hour. I knew a flirt by instinct, or thought I did, and there were no boundaries with such to my lovemaking. But now in middle age to do the same thing, and do it seriously, seemed impossible. In vain I attempted to say something "soft" to her. The words wouldn't come out. And how could I propose "in cold blood?" There must be some approach to a declaration of love coupled with an invitation to the woman to be my wife.

By dint perseverance I managed to bring forth several hints as to what was coming. Then, having prepared the lady, the next thing was to make the proposition. I took her out for a long walk on the beach, hoping to gain inspiration from what the waves were saying. The waves seemed to say, "You old baldheaded coot, what sort of a fellow are you to tell a middle aged woman you love her?" I kept her on her feet for two hours vainly trying to screw up my courage to the required point. The worst of it was that I knew she was aware of what I was endeavoring to bring out and was getting tired of waiting for it—not only tired mentally, but bodily, especially in her legs. But I couldn't do it. I marched her back to the hotel.

I made several more unsuccessful attempts, but finally while we were sitting in a corner of the piazza by ourselves, with no one about, I made a final attempt and won. Then I listened breathless for a reply.

"You are not as glib at this sort of thing," she said, "as you were four teen years ago."

I started. "What do you mean," I asked.

"Don't you remember sitting in the moonlight at another hotel just before returning to college for your last year there proposing to a girl?"

"What name?"

"Madge Brown."

"The flirt of the White mountains, so called?"

"Yes."

She unclasped a locket she wore on her neck and showed me some plaited strands of hair.

"Whose is it?" I asked.

"Yours."

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most agg avated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, croup, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

The Better Job.

The Inquisitive Guest—I suppose, now, you would like to get a job in a restaurant patronized by millionaires where you'd get big tips. The Obsequious Waiter—No, sir. I'd rather have a job in a restaurant where fourflushers on $12 a week salaries bring the girls they are trying to make a hit with.—Toledo Blade.

Work and Worry.

"Worry wears out more people than work does," said the ready made philosopher.

"Of course it does," replied Mr. Growcher, "for the simple reason that so many of us would rather put in our time worrying about work than doing it."—Washington Star.

THE BEST PROOF

Palmer Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.

The story was told to Palmer residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the cure permanent.

The testimony is from this locality.

The proof convincing.

W. D. Sheldon, 84 West Main St., Ware, Mass., says: "Weak and disordered kidneys caused me misery for years. I tried remedy after remedy, but relief did not follow. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and always attended with a burning sensation. My back ached constantly and was weak. On a friend's advice, I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. The first few doses relieved the pain and before long my kidneys were restored to a normal condition." (Statement given August 15, 1908.)

A LATER ENDORSEMENT.

On June 15, 1911, Mr. Sheldon was interviewed and he added to the above: "All I have previously said regarding Doan's Kidney Pills was correct and I am glad to confirm my former statement. This remedy is certainly an effective one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Household Hints.

FANCY BRICK OF CREAM.

Make a boiled custard from one pint of milk, four level tablespoons of flour, one cup of sugar, one-quarter teaspoon of salt and four egg yolks. Have the milk boiling and after adding the flour and sugar cook in a double boiler until smooth and the flour is thoroughly cooked, which will take fifteen or twenty minutes; then add the egg yolks. Let this custard cool, add one quart of cream and one cup of sugar with a tablespoon of vanilla extract.

Freeze the cream by using three parts of finely chopped ice to one of salt; pack solidly around the can. When the cream is frozen have a brick mould packed in ice, put in a layer of cream one-third of the depth of the mould. Remove a portion of the cream from the freezer to a tin pail set in ice and stir in sufficient pink coloring to give it a strawberry color or add a square of chocolate melted and diluted with a little cream.

The second layer should be of the colored cream and the last of the white or there may be one layer each of the white, pink and chocolate. Have the last layer so full that the mould overflows when the cover is pressed on and this surplus cream by freezing will seal the contents against the salt and water surrounding the mould.

ALICE E. WHITAKER.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled

Boys' Suits for School Wear

One of the strong features of our Fall line of boys' suits is the excellent assortment of suits particularly adapted for school wear—neat, attractive styles in serviceable fabrics, well put together. It includes brown and gray mixtures, cassimeres, soft finished worsteds and serges, in the most desirable colors and patterns, and in a variety that makes selection easy and pleasant.

The Norfolk styles run from 7 to 11 years; the double-breasted from 12 to 17 years. The price range—

$3.50, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00 and $10.00

Boys' Store, Main Floor, Rear.

Forbes & Wallace,
Springfield, Mass.

The Elm Tree Beetle and the Gas Company

Attention is continually being directed, by the daily papers, to the devastation of trees and foliage in this locality by the GYPSY MOTH, BROWN TAIL MOTH, ELM TREE BEETLE and other pestiferous insects.

THE GAS COMPANY respectfully requests notice in writing at the time blight on trees or shrubbery is observed in order that an inspection may be made, otherwise it will CONTEST ALL CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE, as our expert has proved conclusively that many cases where GAS POISONING was claimed the trees were killed by insects, winter cold, drouth and the growth of malignant fungi.

After examination THE GAS COMPANY will present their expert's report, gratuitously, so that proper measures may be taken to protect the trees or foliage affected.

WORCESTER COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

USE GAS

For

Lighting, Heating and Cooking

No Dirt—No Waste—No Smell

Worcester County Gas Company

Office

Allen Block — Palmer, Mass.

SAM'L BROOKS, Merchant Tailor

428 Main Street, Palmer, Mass.

I WISH TO STATE THAT I HAVE RECEIVED MY . . FALL AND WINTER GOODS

And have a Fine Line of SUITINGS, OVERCOATINGS and PANTS---the Very Latest Shades and Colors.

CALL AND SEE THE ORIGINAL OF THIS

SUITS to Order, from $18

OVERCOATS . . $18.00

PANTS $4.50

First-Class Fit, Cut and Style, all made to measure. No Ready Made kept. You can get a far better Cut and Style for what you have to pay for Ready Made Clothes, made to your own measure, by coming to me.

SEE MY WINDOW FOR DISPLAY

I have a large and most up-to-date workshop. Here I do Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing, and alter any kind of Ladies' and Gent's Garments to the present fashion. I make up your own cloth at Reasonable Prices. A postal will bring me to your residence or place of business with over 500 of the latest samples in the market.

YOURS FOR UP-TO-DATE GOODS AND STYLES . . .

SAM'L BROOKS

'PHONE 131-2

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Mrs. Frank Wilson visited relatives in Ware this week.

A. M. Bond is building an addition to his residence on High street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bishop returned Labor Day from a stay at the sea shore.

Miss Luella Thayer is passing a vacation with her grandparents in Rhode Island.

The public schools reopened for the fall term Tuesday with a large enrollment.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Healey are passing a vacation in New Haven with relatives.

Miss Annie M. Brosnan visited in Ware for a short while this week with friends.

Mrs. B. J. Sullivan has been visiting relatives in Springfield for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis returned Saturday from a two-weeks' vacation in Connecticut.

John Moran of Lynn was the guest of William Moran and sisters this week for a brief stay.

Fredrick LaPlante of Indian Orchard, a former resident, visited old friends in town this week.

Work on the frame of the new tenement and store, corner Main and School streets, has begun.

Misses Ora and Eva Chabot are visiting friends in Taunton, New Bedford and Providence.

Miss Mary Miller of Springfield spent Labor Day as the guest of her sister, Miss Grace Miller.

Court Hampden, F. of A., held their regular meeting Tuesday evening in Foresters' Hall.

The mills of the Thorndike company resumed operations Tuesday after a shutdown of ten days.

Division 15, A. O. H., held their regular meeting in their rooms Tuesday evening instead of Sunday.

Mrs. C H. Gorst is expected here this week, after passing a vacation of several weeks in the West.

Jeremiah Taucery returned Tuesday night from a visit in Moosup, Ct., at the home of his parents.

John Murphy of New York city, formerly a resident of this place, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry and daughter have returned from their stay of several weeks in Connecticut.

Michael Sullivan and family of High street have been entertaining friends from ont of town the past week.

Mrs. Olive Roscoe is passing a vacation in New Bedford at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Blanchard.

Mrs. Hannah Crimmins and daughter Marguerite have returned recently from a visit with friends in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Rnat of Rhode Island have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tabor and family for several days.

Mrs. James Clark and family, Mrs. James Campbell and family returned Saturday from an outing at Pleasure Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Camile Perrault entertained friends on Labor Day, among whom were Mr. and Mrs Lamorine of Webster.

Frank Matera is to go into the soda bottling business on School street, where he has just completed new quarters.

Mr. and Mrs Malcolm McKenzie returned Saturday from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Robinson, in New York state.

Mr and Mrs George Matthews and son William, of Springfield were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Asine Bechard.

Mrs. Frances Andrews went to East Templeton on Wednesday to attend the wedding of her nephew, Harold M. Rich.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fleming and daughter of New York state were the guests of the Misses Fleming the past week.

Mrs. E. F. McKelligott, daughter and son returned home Monday from a visit with relatives in Springfield and Easthampton.

St. Mary's Temperance Society baseball team defeated a team from Three Rivers at the latter place Saturday by a score of 10 to 8.

Mrs. T. J. O'Connor and son Charles of Holyoke passed Labor Day in town as the guests of Mrs. Katherine T. Loftus and family.

Michael Moynahan has resumed work in his blacksmith shop, after a forced vacation of several days on account of injury to his right leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burns and family were guests of Mr. Burns' sisters, Mrs. Daniel Sugrue and Mrs. J. B. Dailey, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and daughter of Orange have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Mooers and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hutt of South Manchester, Ct., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Clark and daughter during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kelley have returned to their home in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., after passing a few days here with Mr. Kelley's relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedge and daughter of Worcester passed Labor Day in town as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chabot and family of Church street.

Misses Minnie and Lonise Roberts of Indian Orchard have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Reil and family for a few days this week.

Frank Loftus, John Crean and Peter F. Cahill have been chosen delegates to represent St. Mary's Total Abstinence Society, at the diocesan convention to be held in October at Northampton.

Mrs Katharine Casey, who has been in New York for several days preparing her stock of millinery goods, is expected home shortly and will open rooms in Mrs Shiel's building on Commercial street.

Sunday school will be resumed next Sunday after the 8 o'clock service at St. Mary's church, after the usual summer vacation. High mass, vespers and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be held at the usual hour also

Joseph Bushman has been confined to his home for several days as the result of a fall sustained in his home on Saturday. Mr. Bushman's injuries have been very painful, and it is feared that he may be injured internally.

Labor Day in town passed off in the usual customary manner. The baseball game at Three Rivers attracted a crowd, as did also the celebration at Ware, also the ball game at Palmer in the afternoon. Forest Lake was a point of interest for many.

Several shots about 1 or 2 o'clock Saturday morning from the direction of Main and Church streets disturbed the quiet repose of residents in that vicinity, who are at a loss to know the cause of the shooting The matter is under investigation by Police Officer McKelligott.

Several residences along Main street and others on Commercial street are to be connected with the water supply from Bond's reservoir. The recent addition to the system has proved to be a valuable one and with careful use of the water it would seem that trouble with low water is over.

A wedding of interest to many Thorndike people took place Wednesday at East Templeton, when Harold Murdock Rich, a native and former resident, the son of Mrs. Bertha Rich Honghton and nephew of Mrs. Frances Andrews of this place, was united in marriage to Miss Mildred Blanchard, a prominent and well-known young lady of that town.

The selectmen were presented with a petition, which had been freely circulated among the citizens, asking that an article be inserted in the warrant for the coming special town meeting, whereby a sum of money shall be raised and appropriated to build a new sewer on Main street to replace the one recently closed. The Main street property owners feel that no opposition can justly be brought against this as it is the only way out of the difficulty.

THREE RIVERS.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Union church held its annual picnic at Forest Lake Friday. Lunch was served and in the afternoon the following sports took place: 100-yards' dash for boys 14 to 16, won by Robert Swain, Stanley Walker second; 100 yards' dash for boys 12 to 13, won by Thomas Smith, Rex Ruggles second; 25-yards' dash for girls 12 to 14, won by Edith Magee, Lizzie Ritchie second; potato contest for girls only, won by Annie Ritchie, one prize; putting the shot, won by Rev. Mr. McDuffie; three-legged race, 14 to 16, won by Robert Swain and Stanley Walker, one prize; sack race, open to all, 14 to 16, won by Herbert Turkington, Robert Swain second; 50-yards' dash for men only, won by Isaac Cole, one prize; one-legged race for boys 10 to 13, won by James Moffet, William Swain second. These were followed by a game of ball between the married men and single men, the latter winning with the score of 12 to 8.

Palmer Mill has resumed work after a week's vacation.

Miss Anna Bothwell left Wednesday to attend Westfield normal school.

Daniel Horgan left Wednesday to attend Holy Cross college at Worcester.

James Wilson has returned from a vacation spent in Quebec and vicinity.

Miss May Moynahan is spending a short vacation with relatives in Boston.

Miss Martha Buzzell spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Anna Murdock.

Miss Mollie Hartnett has returned to her studies at Westfield normal school.

Richard Russell of Philadelphia spent Labor Day at the home of T. D Frame.

Adrian Jarvis and Samuel Hartley have returned after a week's stay in Boston.

Frank Burns spent Labor Day at the home of his parents on Springfield street.

Thomas Ritchie of Springfield street was the week-end guest of his brother in Ware.

Samuel Richardson of Enfield spent the holiday with James Cole on Palmer street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Larock have returned from a short visit with friends in Hadley.

Charles Tracy of Springfield visited his uncle, James Manning, the first of the week.

James Clark of Boston is visiting at the home of Robert Cole on Anderson avenue.

John Ritchie and family of Palmer street spent the first of the week with relatives in Ware.

Mrs. Richard Bruce of North Windham, Ct., is visiting Mrs. Thomas Bruce on Front street.

Miss L. Weir of West Warren has been the guest of Mrs. William Smith on Main street.

Joseph Morgan of Gilbertville spent the first of the week with Isaac Cole on Palmer street.

Alfarez Boissey of Holyoke is spending a two-weeks' vacation at his home on East Main street.

Steven McAdam of Gilbertville spent the holiday at the home of Thomas Sinclair on Main street.

Dr. W. H. Bliss of Shrewsbury spent Monday at the home of P. C. Story on Maple street.

Bradford Stone has returned to the Wenimissett House after spending a week in Springfield.

Harry Dufour of Lawrence spent the first of the week with his sister, Mrs. Charles Coyer.

Mrs. R. E. Burlingame is spending an extended vacation with her daughter in Rochester, N. Y.

Miss May Anderson of Ware spent the first of the week with Miss Nellie Twiss on Springfield street.

James H. Cole of Gilbertville spent the first of the week at the home of John Ritchie on Palmer street.

Elton Chamberlain has returned home after a visit of several weeks with relatives in Woodstock, Ct.

Misses Flora and Rachel Senecal have returned after spending a week at Ocean Beach, New London.

Mrs. John Rock of Worcester is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. M. Foley on Springfield street.

Misses Clara and Emma Moran of Springfield street have returned from a week's vacation at Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie of Enfield visited at the home of Thomas Ritchie on Springfield street Monday.

Frank Fleury of Brooklyn, N. Y, formerly of this place, spent the holiday with his family on Kelley street.

Thomas, John and Robert Cole and Clarence Lupien have returned after a week's camping trip at Red Bridge.

Mrs. Fred Forestall of Cliftondale and Miss Ella Warriner of Palmer called on friends in this place Monday.

Mathew Horgan of Holyoke spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan, on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs William Perdy and daughter Jesse have returned from Dorchester, where they spent the week-end.

Mrs. P. Daly of Springfield street has returned from West Warren, where she was the guest of her mother for a week.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Union church met Wednesday afternoon to sew at the home of Mrs Jerome Marshall.

Misses Katherine and Susan Twiss of Main street attended the millinery openings in Boston the first of the week.

Miss Bertha Pulsifer, teacher of the first grade, has returned here after spending the summer camping out in Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of South Manchester spent the first of the week with Mrs Robert Cole on Anderson avenue.

Miss Mary E. Twiss is making extensive repairs on her house on Springfield street. The work is being done by P. H. Provincial of Ware.

James Henderson of the U. S. S. Mayflower made a short stay with his uncle, Ralph Henderson, on Potter avenue recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reed have returned after spending a short vacation at the home of Mr. Reed's father in West Dummerston, Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce and Mrs. James Trickett attended the funeral of Mrs. Robert Farquhar of Gilbertville, Tuesday afternoon.

The Misses Lucy, Katherine and Jennie Twiss of Springfield street, have returned after a two-weeks' vacation spent at Salisbury Beach.

William Daly, Wilfred Henrichon, Chester Tannehring and John Twiss, after a week's camping at Forest Lake, have returned home.

Miss Jessie Bruce has returned to Boston after spending a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce on Front street.

Miss Luna Whitlock has returned to her duties here as teacher in the sixth grade, after spending the summer at her home in Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer of Springfield were the week-end guests of Mrs. Thayer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, on Bridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson and daughter Marion and Miss Mary Hann have returned from Winthrop Beach, where they have been enjoying a vacation.

Isaac E. Luter has removed his stock of clothing from the store recently occupied by him on East Main street to Springfield, where he will resume business.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tannebring and daughter Inez have returned to their home on Springfield street, after a week's vacation with relatives in Worcester.

Mosey Smith has resigned his position in the Palmer Mill and taken one in the Boston and Albany repair shops in Springfield, where he will begin work at once.

The schools opened here with three changes in the teaching force: Miss Annie O'Connor, grades eight and nine; Miss Mae Fitzgerald, grade 2; Miss Holmes, grade five.

The Misses Lizzie, Sarah, Maggie and Rachel Gates of Maynard have returned to their homes after a few weeks' vacation with Mrs. Thomas Fenton on Springfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barber and family of Worcester, formerly of this place, were the guests of Mrs. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moran, on Springfield street, the first of the week.

Samuel Swain, Clifford Geer, James Matchet, Harry Burse, Thomas and William Ritchie, with Rev. C. B. McDuffee, have returned after camping at Forest Lake for one week.

BONDSVILLE.

Birthday Party.

Miss Myrtle McVickar gave a party to her young friends at the club house Friday afternoon, in honor of her fifteenth birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games and a general good time was enjoyed. Tables were set on the veranda and supper consisting of salads, sandwiches, cocoa, cake, sherbert and punch was served. The young hostess received many pretty gifts from her friends. These guests were present: Ella Hannifin, Merle Gay, Gladys Morse, Gertrude Sullivan, Mary Heys, Mary Catherine Sullivan, Catherine Collins, Marion Albro, Emily Fautenx, Violet Canterbury, Annie Heys, Evelyn Stewart, Irene Marsan, Bernice Fannce, Myrtle McVickar, Dorothea McVickar, William McVickar, Gordon Parent.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waterhouse spent Sunday in Boston.

Byron Moore spent Labor Day at his home in Whitinsville.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce are entertaining friends from Lowell.

Miss Lulu Shea has taken a position in the hat shop in Amherst.

Leona Laccas of Chicopee Falls was a recent guest of Rosa Belisle.

Miss Jennie Fairbanks visited friends in Springfield the first of the week.

Mrs. A. M. Billings has returned from a week's vacation in Williamsburg.

Miss Ora Parent returned Wednesday to her school duties in Framingham.

Frank Whitman has returned from a visit with his parents in Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Banister spent Labor Day with their son, C. H. Banister.

Jerry Spillane returned Thursday from a visit with relatives in Willimantic, Ct.

Miss Geneva Billings is visiting relatives in Williamsburg and Chicopee Falls.

Raymond Gay of Belchertown was a guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Mrs. Oliver Shannon of Springfield was a guest Thursday of Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Mrs. T. D. Potter of Springfield was a guest Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Albro.

Miss Redhead of Lowell, is a guest this week of her sister, Mrs. William Simpson.

Miss Lizzie Shea has returned to the Westfield Normal School for the second year.

Miss Alice Banister was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Anbrey Vanghan in Southbridge.

Miss Julia McGrath of Ware visited last week with her consin, Miss Annie Fitzgerald.

Thomas Russell of Boston spent Labor Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Charles Russell.

Albert Fanteux of Athol spent a few days recently with his mother, Mrs. Mary Fantenx.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter last week.

The grocery stores will continue to close Thursday afternoons during the month of September.

Miss Mamie Shea of Holyoke has returned home after a short vacation with her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Holden were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George Bray in Stafford, Ct.

Miss Mazie Lusty, who spent last week visiting relatives in Thompsonville, Ct., has returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Marsan and her sister, Mrs. Phil Forte, went Monday to West Warren.

Mrs. L. R. Holden and son Clayton have returned from a short visit with relatives in Bernardston.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collis returned Monday from a few days' visit with relatives in Packardville.

Richard Russell spent the Labor Day vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell.

Mrs. Phil Forte of Springfield was a guest the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Marsan.

Albert Morrisette and family of Easthampton are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs Leo Charon.

Misses Mary and Catherine Quirk returned last week from a summer's stay at Watch Hill, R. I.

Miss Lula Austin has returned from a visit with her uncle, Daniel O'Connor, in South Hadley Falls.

The mills of the Boston Duck Co., which were shut down during last week, resumed operations Tuesday.

Charlie Holden was a guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bray, in Stafford, Ct., last week.

Masters Leon and Ernest Fautenx have returned from two-months' spent with their sister in Medway.

Margaret Callahan is spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callahan.

The condition of Michael Murphy, who was injured in the street railway accident, remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis and son of Springfield were guests over Labor Day of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davis.

Ollo Fairbanks, who spent Labor Day with his family, returned Tuesday to his position in New York city.

William Simpson, who spent his Labor Day vacation with his family here, returned to his work in Lee Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Clancy of Milford has returned home after a short visit with her friend, Miss Lanra Fantenx.

Mrs. Mary Sullivan has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jeremiah McCarthy of Thompsonville, Ct.

Miss Katie Sullivan has returned to her position as clerk in C. D. Holden's store, after a vacation of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laccas and son Raoul were guests Sunday and Monday of relatives in Woonsocket, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glaccum of Brooklyn have been guests of their mother, Mrs. Patrick Fenton, recently.

Miss Mildred Hartwell has accepted a position in the schools in Greenfield and commenced her work Tuesday.

A business meeting of the Epworth League was held Tuesday evening in the vestry of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCall went Saturday to Passaic, New Jersey, where they will make their future home.

Miss Gladys Morse returned Friday from a visit with Miss Merle Gay in Belchertown. Miss Gay spent the week-end here.

Mrs. Rowland McFarlane and daughter Edith have returned from a week's visit in Stafford Springs and Longmeadow.

Mrs. George Gunn and family, who have been spending the past month in Ox-Bow, New Hampshire, returned Monday.

Miss Jessie Robertson has returned to her home in Barre after a week's visit with her sister, Miss Florence Robertson.

A clam chowder supper for members and their families will be held at the club house on Wednesday evening at 6 30 o'clock.

Miss Vertine Marsan, who has been spending three weeks with relatives in West Newton, returned home Monday.

Harry Thompson and daughter Helen of Putnam, Ct., were guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banister.

Miss Ora Parent returned Thursday from a week's vacation spent with her aunt, Mrs. Samuel Parent in Richfield, N. J.

Mrs. James Boyle returned to her home in New York Saturday after spending five weeks with her sister, Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

Gordon Parent, who has been spending a week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O A. Parent, has returned to his home in Lndlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart and daughter Evelyn are spending a few days with Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Penley in Auburn, Maine.

Edward Fitzgerald, from the eastern part of the state, and Martin Fitzgerald of New York city, were guests over Labor Day of their mother, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald

E. E. Woolard, who has been employed by the Boston Duck Co. for the past ten years, has resigned his position in the roll shop, and accepted a position in Amesbury.

Mrs. Rufus Bond and Rufus Jr., who have been spending a week with Mrs. Andrew Cordner in Longmeadow, have returned. Misses Alice and Laura Bond were week-end guests there.

The schools in the village opened Tuesday for the fall term The enrollment was as follows: Room 1, grades 8 and 9, 19; room 2, grades 6 and 7, 37; room 3, grades 4 and 5, 34; room 4, grades 3 and 4, 46; room 5, grade 2, 47; room 6, grade 1, 46, a total of 229 pupils enrolled in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell, Miss Elizabeth Russell and Mrs. Ollo Fairbanks and son Russell attended a farewell party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell in Springfield the last of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Russell are planning to spend the winter in California. An enjoyable evening was spent, and the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Russell with a leather traveling bag. They were for a long time residents of Bondsville, Mr. Russell being for many years an overseer for the Boston Duck Co.

Rev. W. H. Upham will take for the subject of his Sunday morning sermon "The importance of walking with God." Sunday school at 11 45; Epworth League, which has had no services during July and August, will resume service next Sunday with the president, William Magee, leader; service held at 6 o'clock. Evening service will be held at 7 o'clock; subject "Going forward." To these services all are cordially welcome.

WILBRAHAM.

J. C. Cooley has presented district No. 1 with a fine flag staff standing over 50 feet out of the ground equipped with pulley and ball.

Miss Lanra Rice, who has taught at No. 3 for some time, has entered Westfield normal school, and Miss Elizabeth Pease has taken her place.

Mrs. Sarah A. Coe and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore have returned to their home in Amsterdam, N. Y., after spending the summer in town.

HOLLAND.

New Library to be Built in Holland.

The town of Holland is to have a new library. At a town meeting held recently it was voted to appropriate the sum of $1,800, which with other funds available, makes a total of $2.125 for the building. The design for the building has been furnished through the generous interest of J. Randolph Coolidge Jr., the well-known architect of Boston, to whom the project and needs of the Holland people were referred by the free public library commission of Massachusetts, upon it being applied to for advice by the local committee. The building will be wood, 24x36, with slate roof. The front part will contain the library room and reading room, back of which will be the selectmen's rooms, with an entrance on the east side facing the town hall. Accessible from the selectmen's room will be a stone and cement fireproof vault for keeping the town records. An ornamental fireplace will be in the reading room. It is expected that the work will be done and the library ready for use December 1

WARE.

Death of Aged Woman.

Mrs. Catherine McBride, 95, died Saturday at her home on South street. Mrs. McBride was a native of Ireland, coming to America in 1844 She first settled in Worcester, where she married Thomas McBride in 1850. She moved from there to Millbury and thence to Cherry Valley, from whence she came to Ware in 1863 She leaves two sons, James of Ware and John of Palmer. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, with burial in St. William's cemetery.

Mary Kennedy of Eddy street and Tonissant Hamlin of Aspen street were married Tuesday morning in All Saints' church, Rev. J. J Roberts officiating. They were attended by Margaret Kennedy as bridesmaid and George Brown as best man.

Emerson O Puffer died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eugene L. Riddle, Monday. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. E. L. Lane of Hingham. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of his sister and burial was in Meriden, Ct.

At a meeting of the school board Wednesday afternoon the following appointments and changes were made: Miss Nancy Feehan from sixth grade to take vacancy in the seventh grade caused by Miss Walcott's resignation; Miss Mabel Osgood from grade three to Miss Feehan's place; Miss Harrison from grade one to grade three; Miss McCann from district three to grade one. Miss Irene Connor is promoted from second primary grade, North street, to be assistant in grade nine. Miss Barry, who was recently appointed to district five takes Miss Connor's place. Miss Genevieve Riley, who has been teaching in Richmond, is appointed to district three and Miss Deslauriers, who last year taught at West Brookfield, will have charge at district No. 5

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or boils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cures them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cures cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

SETTING THE LAKE AFIRE

By LAURA IDA ROSS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

On one of the Vermont lakes there is a house one end of which projects over the water. Farmer Enoch Dale occupied the place with his family, consisting of his wife and children. His oldest daughter, Daisy, was a daisy indeed—straight, comely, and a pleasant smile usually played about her lips whenever she spoke.

"The only trouble about Daisy," said her father to his friend Hickson, "is that she's got a lover. I don't like him. He's a good boy, but there's no sand in him. Nobody will ever accuse Dan Potter of setting the lake afire."

"'Pears to me," replied Hickson, "that most gals at your darter's age have a lover if they can git one, and as for Dan Potter, I don't remember you or I ever settin' the lake afire."

"That may be," responded Dale, "but I'm not goin' to give Daisy to anybody that isn't well fixed nohow."

One night Dan was awakened by a glare of light shining in at his window, and, raising himself on his elbow, he looked out to see about it. It was across the lake and was either Farmer Dale's or one of two other houses that were built close together. A flame was just breaking out of one of the upper windows.

The first thought that entered Dan's head was that Farmer Dale would be burned to a char, and he hoped he would. The second thought was that Daisy might be burned, too, and this jumped him out of bed. Hurrying on his clothes, he ran down to the water edge, catching up a pair of oars as he went, got into a boat and started across the lake.

The distance was a mile, the burning house not being directly opposite Dan's starting point. As he drew near enough to get his bearings he saw that the house was Farmer Dale's. The light of the flames lit up the faces of persons standing about. A line had been formed to pass buckets of water, but the work had evidently been stopped by something appalling. The lookers on were running about wildly to no purpose, and Dan could see Farmer and Mrs. Dale with several of their children about them, wringing their hands. Daisy was not there.

The explanation was this: When the fire was discovered Farmer Dale took the smaller children, his wife carrying the youngest, and got them safely downstairs and out of the house. It was only then that he thought of Daisy, who occupied a room in that part of the house that overhung the lake.

Dale went upstairs again, but the fire, that had been caused by a defective chimney running up through the center of the building, had acquired such a headway at that point that it cut him off from Daisy's room. He ran downstairs and went about frantically, vainly looking for some way of reaching that portion of the house where Daisy slept. It being an extension over water prevented a ladder being raised, and the wind being off the shore the flames and smoke were blown so as to envelop the part he wished to reach.

While the shore was lighted by the flames Dan was in darkness and partly obscured by smoke. He was ignorant that Daisy was supposed to be still in the burning building, but he knew very well where her room was located, for he had often while out on the lake seen a white handkerchief waving to him from her window.

Perhaps it was this that led him instinctively to pull in as near as possible to the burning house. When he came so near as to feel the heat he turned the boat around and kept on slowly backing in. Then above the crackling, the roar and the shouts of those on the shore he heard a cry. He could see nothing for the smoke, but he backed his boat in to within some twenty yards of the house. Then he heard a splash in front of him, and he backed right in under flame and smoke till within a few feet of the house.

Suddenly something rose right up out of the water beside him. He seized it and held garments. Pulling the thing partly up out of the water, he realized that he held a human being. With difficulty he pulled the figure into the boat, and it lay limp in the bottom. Then, taking up the oars, he backed away from the heat and smoke that had become intolerable.

Reaching a point where the light, unobscured by smoke, enabled him to use his eyes, he saw that the figure in his boat was a woman in a nightgown. Turning up the face, he exclaimed:

"Great heavens! It's Daisy!"

Seizing the oars again, he pulled the boat with a few vigorous strokes to the shore some distance away from the burning building and gave a shout. Several persons heard him, Farmer Dale among them, and ran toward him.

"I've got Daisy here," he said. "She jumped into the lake and I picked her up."

Daisy was soon brought back to consciousness and was looked upon by her parents as one raised from the dead.

"Waal, Dale," said Hickson later, "since yer tried to set the lake afire and failed, I reckon yer don't expect as much of Dan Pattie?"

"No, I don't," Dale replied.

"Goin' to give her to him?"

"Reckon she's his'n anyway, seein' if it hadn't been for him she wouldn't 'a' been alive."

Speaking Truth.

Speaking truth is like writing fair and comes only by practice. It is less a matter of will than of habit, and I doubt if any occasion can be trivial which permits the practice and formation of such a habit.—Ruskin.

Time to Go.

"Pa, is a vessel a boat?"

"E—yes—you may call it that."

"Well, what kind of a boat is a blood vessel?"

"It's a lifeboat. Now run away to bed."—Boston Transcript.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Brimfield's First Old Home Gathering.

[Continued from First Page.]

the American band of Fiskdale came to town, and their music was an enjoyable feature of the day. After a brief concert in front of the hotel the band marched to the Academy campus, where Brimfield and Sturbridge baseball teams were already playing. The teams put up good ball, and although victory did not come to the home team this feature of the program was much enjoyed. Sturbridge carried off the victory by a score of 6 to 4. The teams were made up as follows:—

Sturbridge—Renno, third base; Webber, left field; G. Shepard, pitcher; Callahan, center field; Logan, second base; White, catcher; Marod, first base; Sockoloski, right field; C. Shepard, shortstop.

Brimfield—Hicks, left field; Newton, shortstop; Spratt, center field; Royce, first base; Lock, right field; Fisher, catcher; Tarbell second base; Streeter, third base; Converse, pitcher.

	INNINGS.
Sturbridge,	1	0	1	0	0	2	1	1	0	—6
Brimfield,	3	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—4

Runs by Webber, C. Shepard 2, Callahan 2, Logan, Newton, Spratt, Royce, Tarbell. Struck out, by Shepard 12, by Converse 11. Umpires, J. Walter Brown, Charles Edmonds.

Dinner next claimed the attention of the people and an eager throng awaited the opening of the big tent spread on the common. The clambake was not entirely clamless, for chowder saved the day. Then followed chicken, sweet potatoes, ham, corn, watermelon and ice cream. The tables were twice filled and still there were hungry folks to feed. Many had dinner at the hotel, and for two hours eating and visiting occupied attention of everybody.

Then followed the sports on the public square, the flower of youthful Brimfield competing for the prize badges offered winners of the various events. A feature not on the program was a race in which members of the dinner committee were contestants. These hard-worked men showed that they were not entirely used up and it was an earnest, thrilling race. The summary of events follows:—

50-yards dash, 10 years and under — Won by Charlie Brown; Calvin Wheaton, 2d; Sarah Grew, 3d.

Bicycle race—Won by Lee Baker; Paul Bedell, 2d; time, 1.03.

Egg race for girls—Won by Dorothy Loveland; Elsie Wheaton, 2d; Alice Sibley, 3d.

50-yards dash, under seven years — Won by Charlie Brown; Ronald Pierce, 2d; Charles Sibley, 3d.

100-yards dash, 10 to 17 years —Won by John Brenna.; Asa Adams, 2d; Canon Wheaton, 3d; time, 15s.

Quarter-mile — Won by Victor Howlett; Edward Wells, 2d; Fred Locke, 3d; time, 69s.

Sack race — Won by Harry Wheaton; Asa Adams, 2d; Roy Flint, 3d.

Three-legged race —Won by Edwin Fisher and Birchard Royce; Clarence King and George K. Hitchcock, 2d; Emory Hebard and Clarence Mason, 3d; time, 9s.

220-yards dash — Won by Robert Sawin; B. Royce, 2d; Edward Wells, 3d; time, 28s

100-yards dash, open — Won by Robert W. Sawin; Edwin Fisher, 2d; B. Royce, 3; time, 11s.

Half-mile — Won by Ray Callahan; Edwin Fisher, 2d; Victor Howlett, 3d; time, 2.40.

Tug-of-war for men, teams captained by Orrin Hicks and George Sherman — Won by Hick's team.

Wheelbarrow race—Won by Robert Sherman; Victor Howlett, 2d.

One-mile open —Won by Victor Howlett; Arthur Clark, 2d; George Brackett, 3d; time, 6.10.

Potato race, girls —Won by Rachel Gardner; Anna Brackett, 2d; Elsie Wheaton, 3d.

100-yards dash, special, between 10 and 17— Won by Earl Doyle; David Lawrence, 2d; George Gregory, 3d; time, 14s.

50-yards race for girls, special — Won by Florence Bedell; Sarah Grew, 2d; Alice Sibley, 3d.

50-yards dash for dinner committee —Won by Clarence King; Everett Stowell, 2d; George Sherman, 3d; time, 7s.

Ball throwing by girls—Won by Maud Locke; Helena Lawrence, 2d; C. Buxton, 3d.

Ball throwing by men — Won by Munroe Tarbell (287½ ft.); Stanley Hicks (284½ ft.), 2d; Raymond Callahan (281½ ft.), 3d.

Broad jump — Won by J. Logan; Erford Corbin, 2d.

High jump—Won by S. Hicks; Irving Bennett 2d.

Announcer, Robert Sherman. Judges, F. Lincoln Peirce, Robert J. Streeter. Timer, C. L. Peirce.

In the evening there was a fine illumination of the village, and fireworks were set off on the green facing the hotel The band gave another concert, and Brimfield's big day was brought to a brilliant close with a dance in the town hall.

Among the people who attended the celebration from more distant places than neighboring towns and Springfield were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Emmons of Montclair, N. J., Marshall B. Allen of Chicago, Mrs. Charles Stoughton, Arthur A. Stoughton, Miss Grace Stoughton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warner and Majorie Warner of Mount Vernon, N. Y, Miss Elise Nen, Miss Carrie Turner, Mrs. Ada Andrews, Winslow and Miss Helen Desmond of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Boardman and Allen Boardman of Waterbury, Ct., Mrs. Lanra Spaulding Chapell of Guilford, Ct., Charles Ainsworth and Miss Ainsworth of South Norwalk, Ct., Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tift of Westford, Ct., Mrs. Carrie Stone Smith and Miss Emma Stone of North Woodstock, Vt., Mrs. Ella Baker Smith of Springville, N. Y., Mrs. Alice Baker Pike and Miss Pike of Salem, Prof. George Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sweet of Norton, Mrs. Nettie Lawrence Jordan of Framingham, Mrs. John Lucas of South Framingham, Mrs. Miner Miller of West Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kyle of South Braintree, Mrs. Lena Miller Shepard of Framingham, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce of Newtonville, John S. Webber, Albert Bacon, Miss Emily Cox, Miss Spurr, Harlan Webber, Miss Mabel Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Waggin and Mrs. Carrie Spaulding Fisk of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith of Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sherman and Joseph Bouthiller of Worcester.

Mr. Booth's poem:

To-day we meet in Brimfield town,
We've come from far and near
To here review our youthful days,
The days we hold so dear.
The Old Home Day, what cheer it brings!
It thrills our hearts anew;
We clasp again the hands of youth,
A welcome warm and true.

We call to mind the good old times
And songs we loved to hear;
The merry laugh, the friendly chats,
With friendships all most dear.
We seem to see the aged ones
As in the days of yore;
We look around but see them not,
For they have gone before.

The youths who then were young and fair
Look genial now as then,
For they have all renewed their youth;
And so look young again.
The trees around the Common here
Have on to manhood grown,
Their branches now like elbows touch,—
A welcome of their own.
How fragrant and how sweet!
Teachers and mates we ne'er forget
But always love to greet.
Invited guests, each one and all,
Good neighbors just the same,
A hearty welcome here, to-day!
Good friends we're glad you came.

WALES.

A. A. Hubbard spent Sunday in Nashua, N. H.

Charles Gregory has just returned from a trip to Florida.

Sunday was observed as rally day for the Methodist Sunday school.

Earl and Homer London have returned to their home in Norwich, Ct.

Miss Anna M. Johnson of Springfield is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Burley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson of Springfield are visiting Mrs. C. M. Thompson.

Mrs. Florence Sowerbutts of Mechanicsville, Ct., spent Sunday with her father, Henry Walker.

A party of fifteen young people from Springfield enjoyed the week-end at the pavilion at Lake Florence.

The ladies of the Methodist church held a social Saturday evening. There was an entertainment by the children and ice cream and cake for sale.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 15, 1911. NUMBER 24.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer National Bank

Liberal interest paid on Certificates of Deposit. Let us talk it over with you.

L. J. Brainerd, Cashier.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room
(On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone, E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.

TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid.
Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.

TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.

and ... avenue, ... are Deposit Boxes for Rent.
... tafford Sts ... 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
BANKING HOURS: Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 6.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,

O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

Don't Go Away Without Looking Over Our
Dry Goods Department
Ladies' and Children's Drawers, 25c to 50c

Corset Covers 25c

Late styles in "C. B." and "Royal Worcester" Corsets. $1.00 pair
Domestic Wrappers, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50. None Better.
W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments
Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.
The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.
Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St., rear of High School.

Your Attention
Is called to our large assortment of
Ginghams and Percales
Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.
Hellyar's Bargain Store
Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911
We Deliver All Goods Free in Palmer.

Opening Displays
Of the Choicest Fashion Creations

Opening days find the whole store radiant with stunning new fashion creations and never were the offerings of a new season more attractive or more varied. All departments of the store are now in readiness with the very choicest and most exclusive productions from the foremost fashion centers of the world.

The Superb Millinery
From the Master Milliners of New York and Paris.
The Queenly Gowns
Charming Evening Costumes of originality and rare loveliness.
The Tailored Suits
Masterpieces of the Art of Fine Tailoring.
The Handsome Coats
Beautiful Coats for all occasions.
The Beautiful Furs
Scarfs and Muffs and Fur Garments in all the Most Fashionable Furs, including Many Smart Parisian Novelties.
The Charming New Waists
Complete Outfits for Girls and Misses

D. H. Brigham & Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

"Paper Bag Cookery" 60c
Postage 5c
Soyer's idea of cooking in paper bags is commanding the attention of intelligent people everywhere. You'll surely be interested in this remarkable method of improving flavors, retaining juices and preventing odors.
Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

INSURANCE
Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 200 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Scholars--
Attention
Everything For School Days at
Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns
For Women
Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the reliable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.
Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.
McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, simplicity, economy and number sold. More dealers sell McCall Patterns than any other two makes combined. None higher than 15 cents. Buy from your dealer, or by mail from
McCALL'S MAGAZINE
236-246 W. 37th St., New York City
Note—Sample Copy, Fashion Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request.

Lamson & Hubbard
SOFT HATS
In Rich Velours, nobby effects in grey and brown felts. The man who wears an L. & H. is the man who cares.
L. & H. DERBIES
The early Fall and Winter styles have that up-to-date effect that has marked each season's development of the famous Lamson & Hubbard Hats.
Made in Boston for over 30 years. We guarantee you a perfect fit and a stylish shape.
C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

Bloodine Ointment Cures Eczema Itching and Bleeding Piles, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Rashes, Dandruff and Falling Hair.
Mrs. H. W. Allen, Gaffney, S. C. says: "I have used Bloodine Ointment for Eczema and find it a most effective remedy."
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

IS HIGH SCHOOL SAFE?

Parents Are Asking Question About New Part.

A CAREFUL EXAMINATION IS URGED.

In View of Roof Defects, Is Margin of Safety Ample in Rest of the Structure?

Is the new part of the Palmer high school building safe for the purposes for which it was designed and may be put? That is a question which has been asked by more than one parent of children who, in attending the high school, will be required to enter that part of the building.

Since the discovery of the trouble with the roof a few weeks ago and the investigations attendant on a search for the proper remedy, information has been gathered which certainly justifies the question from others than experts in the line of building. In the construction of buildings there are well-known rules as to the amount of weight a timber of certain dimensions should carry, or walls support, and careful builders go from three to six times beyond this limit or margin of safety in their construction. It has been shown that the roof of the high school building is of faulty construction; that it was built below the margin of safety, and the question is asked whether the rest of the building may not be on the same general basis. For one thing, the walls of the new part are only eight inches in thickness, carried to a height of over 30 feet and required to support the floor timbers of the assembly hall and the ceiling. Competent builders have stated that no carrying wall should be less than 12 inches in thickness, and there is a suggestion that the present walls may have to be strengthened by buttresses from the basement up to the point where they carry the truss beams of the roof, in order to properly support the weight which will be placed upon them. That the walls contain "bulges" at certain points can readily be seen from the outside. Whether these came before or after the building was completed is for an expert to determine; also whether they will retain their present position or the trouble increase.

There is also questioned the size of the floor timbers in the assembly hall, over the recitation rooms beneath. Certain it is that these floors have sagged to a certain extent, and it is alleged that there is an undue amount of vibration in them in view of the fact that they may be called upon to support an audience of several hundred people at times of school exhibitions, or 150 pupils when the school is gathered there.

Doubtless these matters will all be taken into account by the expert employed by the school committee to investigate the condition of the building and report on what is needed to be done, but parents who have children in the school cannot help having a thought of the safety of their children, and wondering whether the rest of the building is as near the margin of safety as was the roof. The question is one which cannot be ignored, in view of the young lives gathered there day after day.

BELCHERTOWN.

Death of Mrs. Mary Kenfield.

Mrs. Mary Kenfield, widow of Timothy Kenfield, died at the family home Tuesday night. She would have been 88 years of age on October 20, and had been blind and somewhat deaf for many years. When able she was an active member of the Baptist church. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 and burial was in Woodlawn cemetery in Enfield.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt has sold her personal property and will make her home near Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller have leased their place to Mr. Matheson, who will conduct it as a poultry farm.

WARE.

Leahan—Langdon.

The news of the marriage of Miss Helen Leahan, the 17-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Leahan of Spring street, and Harrison Langdon of South street, which took place in Hartford Saturday night, came as a surprise to the young people in Ware. The bride is a graduate of the Ware high school and prominent in social circles and classed as one of the most attractive young women in Ware. Mr. Langdon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Langdon of South street and is 20 years old. The couple will make their home in Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brannigan of Pleasant street announce the marriage engagement of their daughter Katharine to Dr. J. L. Loftus of Meriden, Ct.

The following delegates were chosen at the caucus of the socialist party this week: State convention, Wilfred Mathieu, C. O. Hitchcock; senatorial, Roland D. Sawyer; congressional, Roland D. Sawyer, C. O. Hitchcock; representative, Henry Provost, John Madegan; town committee, Charles Brown, Jr., E. E. Richardson, Wilfred Mathieu; state committee, Roland D. Sawyer.

Daniel Riley of Ware dropped dead Sunday night in West Warren of an attack of heart disease. He leaves two children, Edward and William Riley of Worcester, one brother, Michael Riley of Springfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Michael Shea and Miss Rose Riley of East street. The body was brought to Ware and the funeral was held Tuesday morning in All Saints' church. Burial was in St. William's cemetery.

Francis Lawler, the 11-years-old son of Mrs. Daniel Lawler of Otis avenue, was painfully injured Sunday morning while coming down North street after attending service in All Saints' church. He fell on the spikes in the stone curbing around the Holden lot and one of the spikes pierced his right hip nearly to the bone. He was taken to the office of Dr. D. M. Ryan, who took several stitches to close the wound.

The public schools opened Monday with the largest attendance ever had. When the different classes assembled the enrolment ranged from 26 to 75. In many cases changes were necessary which after being made left the attendance in each class as follows: West street, grade 1 A, 36; grade 1 B, 36; grade 2, 41; grade 3, 34; North street, grade 1 A, 36; grade 1 B, 45; grade 2, 41; grade 3, 43; High street, grade 4, 50; grade 5, 46; grade 6, 37; grade 7, 39; East street, grade 1, 38; grades 2 and 3, 42; Old South street, grade 1, 56; grades 2 and 3, 44; grade 7, 36; grade 8, 35: New South street, grade 4 45; grade 5, 42; grade 6, 42; grade 8, 37; grade 9, 64. This makes a total registration of 965, which is an increase of about 50 over last year. The enrolment in the high school totaled 140, there being 16 seniors, 28 juniors, 48 sophomores and 48 freshmen. This is about the same number as last year, but several who are qualified for the entering class are expected to report later.

Soldiers' Graves Are Now Marked.

Interesting Exercises on Historic Spot in Honor of Colonial and Revolutionary Soldiers Who Went Forth From Palmer.

The exercises for dedicating the grave markers in honor of the colonial and revolutionary soldiers buried in Palmer were held on the afternoon of Friday last week in the schoolhouse at the Old Center by permission of the teacher, Miss Mahoney, and not on the Common as had been planned because of the unpropitious weather. There were over sixty present, a large number being kept away by the rain.

In opening the exercises D. L. Bodfish, the president of the day, spoke of the work done by the cemetery commissioners and by members of the Palmer Historical Society in carrying out the provisions of the town's vote at the last annual meeting.

His remarks were followed by a song, "Review of the Veteran," sung by the school children lead by the teacher, Miss Mahoney. Then came the historical paper prepared with much research by O. P. Allen, dealing with Palmer's connection with the Colonial and Revolutionary wars and the Old Center events. The paper was read by D. L. Bodfish, because of the impaired eyesight of the author.

After the reading of this paper Mrs. Ella King Ogle read an original poem, "The Minute Men of the Old Center."

The children then sang very nicely "Hail Columbia," after which the president introduced Mr. C. H. Hobson, superintendent of schools, who spoke on the lessons drawn from Palmer's early patriots. He spoke of the honor which is their due and of some of the results of their patriotism; how the study of their lives is an inspiration not only to our native American youth but to the youth who came to us from other lands, who are as quick to catch the patriotic spirit as are our own children, which augurs well for the future of our country. The telling words and apt illustration of the speaker kindled an interest with the children as well as the older ones present.

The closing address was by Mr. Rufus W. Stimson, special agent of agricultural education of the State Board of Education. The speaker was born at the Old Center and began his education in the very schoolhouse in which the exercises were held, and told some amusing incidents of his school days there. He spoke very interestingly on the theme, "The Farmer Boy, Colonial and Contemporary," portraying in vivid contrast the far away past with the present, vibrant with feverish progress; of the experiences of his great-grandfather, John Hunt, a veteran of the Revolutionary war, whose grave in the Old Center cemetery has been honored with a marker, in driving to Boston in his own team to carry the products of his Old Center farm to exchange for the necessary findings for making fine boots of his skilled workmanship. This in contrast with the auto which whirls past our doors each day to the same city, whose occupants are all on pleasure bent, instead of being seekers for work. Not because of the changes a hundred years has wrought would he dispise the old, nor exult too much over the present, but ever keep our ideals high for yet grander results.

The exercises closed with the singing of "America," in which all joined.

At this point the ladies of the Old Centre Improvement Club treated their guests of the day with very tempting refreshments, which were a grateful surprise and highly appreciated.

O. P. Allen's historical paper:

We have met in these historic precincts to-day for a three-fold purpose:

First, to commemorate the anniversary of two notable events in our Colonial history; second, to honor the identified graves of Palmer's Colonial and Revolutionary patriots with appropriate markers; and third, to renew our acquaintance with the ancient Shiloh of Palmer.

First then we will briefly call attention to the causes which created such turmoil and frequent disaster in the annals of our early New England pioneers. The bitter strife and contention which for long had existed between England and France—noted for the often made and unmade treaties,—extended to their respective American colonies in Canada and New England, which were made to suffer even more severely than the parent countries the terrible burdens of war, the terrors of which were magnified many fold because the French leagued the Indians with themselves, thus adding savagery to the conduct of ordinary warfare, never too kind at the best.

Palmer was fortunate in one respect, its settlement coming as it did in 1716 it escaped the probable fate dealt out to Brookfield, Springfield, Hadley, Deerfield, Northfield and other pioneer settlements of much earlier dates. So that no tragedy inspired by warfare ever occurred within its borders. But its settlement came early enough to test the patriotism of its people in defending colonial safety at large in the closing years of the strife.

Inter Colonial war had been raging most of the time from 1689 till 1755, when England came to the determination to put forth greater efforts to gain possession of the coveted Canadian provinces; from this time on the so-called seven years French and Indian war raged with varied success. Our colonies furnished their full share of men and means for conducting the campaigns.

It is a singular coincidence that the first and last of the closing scenes of the inter Colonial struggles occurred on Sept. 8, the first in 1755 and the last in 1760. Just 156 years ago to day was fought the memorable battle of Lake George, near the south end of the lake. Col. Johnson was in command of the English camp there, by whom it was so gallantly defended that the French and Indians suffered a signal defeat. Baron Dieskan, the leader of the French forces, was captured and later sent a prisoner to England. Col. Ephraim Williams, who was sent by Johnson to relieve a rumored investment of Ft. Edward, 15 miles south of Lake George, was killed while leading his regiment past a body of French concealed in ambush. After the leader's death, his men retreated in good order to the camp at the lake and gave their aid in defeating the enemy. Col. Williams, who owned a large estate in Williamstown, had thoughtfully made his will while passing through Albany, devising his estate for the founding of a free school in Williamstown, which became the fruitful nucleus of the present Williams College. Israel Putnam, then a captain, and John Stark, a lieutenant, were engaged in this battle taking lessons in the art of war, building better than they knew for the undreamed service awaiting them in the coming revolution.

After the brave and successful defense at the head of Lake George, the importance of the position so impressed its defenders that a strong fort took the place of the former simple breastworks of logs, and was called Fort William Henry. As this point dominated the water ways of Lakes George and Champlain north to Canada and the land route south to Albany, the French formed plans to capture it. So in August, 1757, the fort was again attacked, this time by the daring General Montcalm with a force of over 7000 men, including 2000 Indians. The fort was commanded by Gen. Monroe with an effective force of less than 3000 men. He bravely held his position for six days against fearful odds, expecting relief which did not come, till his ammunition was nearly exhausted, when he felt justified in accepting honorable terms of capitulation, which were granted him by the French. But as soon as the English had marched out of the fort the terms of the capitulation were dastardly disregarded by the enemy and the Indians felt to looting the effects of the prisoners and murdering them right and left with little hindrance from the French. On the ensuing day, when Major Putnam reached the scene of the late conflict, the enemy had gone with the surviving captives, having razed the fort to the ground, while the earth was strewn with the mangled bodies of men and women, presenting a most revolting condition, darkly illustrating the terrors of the most brutal warfare of which the imagination is capable.

The news of this fearful massacre spread consternation throughout the colonies, and was known as the year of "Great Alarms." About 1500 English were either massacred or carried into captivity. A number of Palmer men were included in this list, the real fate of some of whom was never learned.

On July 5, 1758, Fort Ticonderoga was attacked by the English with a large force under Abercrombie, who after gaining some success, found it expedient to retreat from a position he could not carry. Ensign John King, Lieut. Timothy Ferrell, Lieut Robert McMaster and others from Palmer were in this engagement.

Thus far the English had sustained serious defeats at the hands of the French and Indians. But soon the tide turned, producing a series of brilliant victories for the English armies inspired largely by the confidence imposed by William Pitt, the new leader of British affairs. On July 26, 1758, Louisburg, having been invested by land and sea by the English, capitulated with all its forces and effects and in the end the fortress was so effectually destroyed as to leave few indications of its former existence. There were many Massachusetts men in this expedition, which doubtless included a Palmer contingent. The year 1759 was crowned with a series of brilliant events for the English. Fort Niagara fell to the English July 25th; Fort Ticonderoga July 26; Crown Point August 3; and on the Plains of Abraham, led by the brave and lamented Wolf, the fate of Quebec was sealed Sept. 14. A goodly list of Palmer men was in these engagements which meant so much to our colonies.

The crowning event came on September 8, 1760, just 151 years ago to-day, when Montreal, having been invested by the forces of Gen. Amherst, capitulated and Canada permanently came under the British rule, bringing long-sought peace to the colonies.

During the war from 1755 to 1760, our colonies were in constant apprehension from invasions by a ruthless foe, but Palmer, though farther removed from the foe than many other localities, proved her patriotism to the limit by sending out 76 men during the time, a contingent for each year as needed, and some of our men no doubt were in each of the battles of defeat as well as of victory.

John King, the first settler here, of honored memory, had passed away in 1744, but he must have transmitted a rich heritage of true Norman blood to his posterity, for his eldest son John was in the conflict at Crown Point; another son, Benjamin, was killed in the defense of Fort Massachusetts, Jan. 7, 1756. William, David and Jonathan were in the list of Minute Men at home, ready at a moment's alarm for action. And we know that the two young sons of Benjamin Parsons, David and Israel, died in the service at Fort Edward in 1755.

The victories which brought assurance of peace must have come like a blessed benison to every home in Palmer, from nearly all of which a son or father had gone to the front, from which some had never returned.

But alas for the inconstancy of human affairs, the tales the returned heroes told of weary march, cheerless camp and action in battle had hardly grown old in the repeating o'er another cloud began to obscure the eastern horizon, for the boding measures of British oppression soon made it apparent that the fatal day of reckoning was not far distant when the colonies must arise in defense to escape deplorable slavery. Each year added to the tense relations between the Crown and the American colonies. The Stamp Act and its substitute, the excessive duty placed on numerous commodities, with the presence of foreign soldiery to enforce the same, were the last insults which could no longer be borne and the explosion came as the guns at Lexington and Concord sent forth their echoes, which signal was heard and obeyed from a thousand New England hilltops and valleys, whose hardy sons marched armed and equipped for action.

The news of the bloodshed at Lexington and Concord on the fatal 19th of April, 1775, arrived at Palmer on the evening of the same day, and the first gray light of the ensuing morning saw that immortal band of Palmer's Minute Men, 44 in number, mustered and marching to do or die, and like Sparta's sons of old to come back bearing their shields or borne upon them. One son of John King and three grandsons, John, Daniel and Gideon, were with this band. While the time had not quite come for them to meet the foe, they showed by their prompt response that they possessed the stuff of which heroes are made, and later proved it by their deeds.

The struggle for freedom had begun in earnest, a goodly number of Palmer men had gained valuable knowledge of war in the seven years of strife which gave them courage in the face of coming danger. Our men had entered the arena for business, and our records show there was no reaction, no disposition to turn back; though a small community they meant to perform their full share. We may well believe that the very air was pregnant with the spirit of liberty which inspired the men of our town to pronounce their Declaration of Independence

[Continued on Second Page.]

FOUND DEAD BY TRACK.

Body of Unknown Man on C. V. Road in Monson.

HAD EVIDENTLY FALLEN FROM TRAIN

Discovered by Freight Crew Early Tuesday Morning. No Means of Identification.

The body of an unknown man was found Tuesday morning beside the main line track of the Central Vermont railroad about 40 rods south of the "Fay" crossing just below Palmer. The body had been there for some time, for it was cold when found. It was first seen by Conductor Kline of the C. V. road, about 6.30, who was on his way north with an extra freight. The body was first taken to the baggage room in Palmer and later to Monson, as the spot where it was found is within the borders of that town.

Medical Examiner J. P. Schneider of Palmer made an examination, but could learn little of the man. He was apparently about 27 years old, light complexion, blue eyes and light hair; about 5 feet 7 inches in height, and weighing about 140 pounds. His clothes and shoes showed much wear, and both were decidedly thin in places. In his pockets were a comb, brush, shears and a razor bearing the name of the maker, "Baudette, Holyoke;" there were no papers or anything by which identification could be made. One hip had been crushed and death had come from internal hemorrhage. The spot where it was found indicated that the man had either tried to get on or off a train and slipped in so doing, there being indications that he had been dragged and not struck by the locomotive. If not identified soon, the body will be buried by the town of Monson.

Old Peoples' Service in Ludlow.

The second old people's Sunday service was held in the Methodist church in Ludlow Sunday. Rev. Nathaniel J. Merrill of Wilbraham, 94 years old, offered prayer. Among the older residents of Ludlow present were Mrs. Julia Miller Smith, who has just celebrated her 95th birthday, the oldest person in town; Mrs. Streeter, 93; C. L. Brull, 87; Elias Holmes, 74; Mrs. Francis Towne, 72, and about 20 more who are more than 70 years old. Among the guests present were Mrs. Elizabeth Gomes, Helen A. Paddock, East Berlin, Conn.; Mrs. L. L. Alden, M. S. Blodgett, E. W. Hitchcock, G. W. Hunter, Mrs. S. E. Foster, G. M. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kent, Charles D. Rood, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller, A. S. Putnam, Harry Putnam, G. C. Morgan, Mrs. Julia King, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, Ware; Mrs. Mary Bennett Cooper, Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fuller, Mildred Fuller, Anna Fuller, Nellie Fuller, Mrs. Lora Sayler, Charles M. Whitney, A. E. Bell, North Wilbraham; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Banister, Indian Orchard.

The exercises closed with the singing of "Should Old Acquaintance be Forgot." A social hour was spent in the women's parlor and light refreshments were served.

WALES.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bradway are rejoicing over the birth of a son last Saturday.

Mrs. S. J. Bradway of Springfield has been spending a few days with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gale of Fanenil are living in their new cottage at Lake Florence.

H. E. Steele has returned from a visit to Hartford, where he attended the Connecticut State Fair.

E. L. Needham and his son, Roy Needham, have returned from their summer home at Matunuck, R. I.

WARREN.

Mrs. Harry E. Reed has gone to Leesburg, Va., to visit her mother.

Mrs. Emma L. Guilbert has returned from her trip to Montreal and Maine.

The schools opened Monday with an attendance nearly the same as last year. The school census shows the number of children in town between 5 and 15 years of age to be 775, which is six less than a year ago. The number of pupils in the graded schools is 416. Of these 107 are at West Warren, 107 in the high school building and 202 in the East street building. The total membership in the high school is 131. Of the freshman class 26 are taking commercial subjects.

The family of Leroy Warfield on the West Brookfield road experienced a bad scare Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock, when someone tried to gain an entrance to a second-story window by the use of a ladder. When Mrs. Warfield extinguished the light downstairs she noticed the ladder leaning against the house, and called to Mr. Warfield, who had already gone upstairs. Before he could get out of doors the party had disappeared. Mr. Warfield fired his rifle into the woods where he heard some noise but could not find any trace later. The ladder was taken from a shed which stands 50 feet from the house, and was put up to a window in the room occupied by Miss Florence Warfield, which was the only open window in the house.

BRIMFIELD.

The state forestry department has selected Steerage Rock mountain as a location for one of its fire signal stations. The tower will not be erected this fall, but a tent with telephone arrangements is to be put up at once. The site is about 1,250 feet above sea level and thus considerable higher than Mt. Tom.

Hitchcock Free Academy opened last week with 75 pupils. Miss Florence Leighton returned to the department of mathematics and modern languages. Mrs. Kinney has the department of English and teaches ancient history. Miss Tarbell teaches mediaeval history and has charge of the library and reference work of the school. Miss Florence Chase teaches drawing.

Cards have been received in Brimfield announcing the marriage of Miss Rosa J. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson Brown, and Rockwood C. Lindblad of Grafton. The ceremony was performed in Christ church in Springfield Saturday. The bride is a graduate of Hitchcock Free Academy and has occupied the position of secretary to Prof. Brooks of the Massachusetts Agricultural College for some years, before which time she held a secretarial position in Storrs Agricultural College in Connecticut. Mr. Lindblad is a graduate of Massachusetts Agricultural College and is a civil engineer, at present employed by the New York Central railroad in the installation of electric signals. Mr. and Mrs. Lindblad will make their home in Rochester, N. Y., where Mr. Lindblad is established for the present.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 16, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Dr. G. A. Moore will open his office in the Bank Block, Saturday, September 16.

A. D. S. Hand Paste with Tar, cleanses the hands thoroughly and leaves them in better condition than ordinary soap; 10c at Kingsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., cor. Central.

PALMER NEWS.

Westfield Baptists to Meet.

Annual Meeting Will Be Held With Palmer Church Next Week.

The Westfield Baptist Association will hold its 101st annual meeting next Wednesday and Thursday with the Baptist church in Palmer. The association is composed of 35 churches in the Connecticut valley, and there is a large attendance at these conventions.

The morning session Wednesday will open at 10 o'clock, and after the routine business will come the annual sermon, preached by Rev. W. L. Atherton of West Springfield. Reports of committees and other business will occupy the remainder of the time until noon. In the afternoon at 2.15 there will be a report on "The pension system of the Massachusetts Baptist ministers' conference," and at 3 20 an address by Mr. Kenneth Robie of Springfield on "The men and religion movement." At 3 50 an address on "Coöperation among the churches of the association," by Rev. E. B. Dolan of Holyoke; at 4 10 an address on "The Northern Baptist Education Society," by Rev. John S. Lyon, D D. The Young Peoples' Union will hold their annual meeting in the evening at 7 30 On Thursday morning, after a business meeting, there will be an address at 10.50 on "The general apportionment" by Rev. B. D. Hahn, D D, of Springfield, followed at 11.10 by the doctrinal sermon by Rev. N. E. Thayer. At the afternoon session, at 1 45 there will be an address, "The general convention of Massachusetts Baptists," by Rev. H A. Heath, D. D., of Wakefield, followed by: "The Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society," Mrs. L. G. Barrett; "The Woman's American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society," Miss Edith Wilcox, Japan; "The National Baptist Missionary Societies," Rev. Guy C. Lamson, Boston; "Massachusetts Baptist Missionary Society," Rev. F. W. Padelford, D. D.

The ladies of the church will serve dinner and supper Wednesday, and dinner Thursday for the delegates.

High School Athletics.

Permanent Association Is Formed and Officers Are Elected.

Unless the plans formulated by Superintendent Clifton H. Hobson go all astray athletics will occupy a more prominent place in the Palmer high school in the future than they have for a long time in the past. A permanent association has been formed with these officers: President, Superintendent Hobson; vice president, Isaac Cole; secretary, William McDonald; treasurer, R. W. Clement. Mr. Clement is at the head of the commercial department of the school, and has served as treasurer of the athletic association of the East Providence school before coming to Palmer.

About $50 has been collected for the present expenses of the organization, and the members have no fear of being able to finance the undertaking. Citizens interested in the school have always shown a willingness to assist financially in athletics when it seemed as though something was to be accomplished. The trouble in the past has been that athletics at the high school were conducted in a hap-hazard manner; there was no particular organization or head, and beyond a few baseball games in the spring and a track team which competed at the Palmer Fair in the fall there was little done. Now a track team is being formed and negotiations are under way for a trainer who will be able to give the boys a portion of his time and experience.

More School Room Needed.

And Assembly Hall in Grammar School Will Be Divided.

The school committee has decided to place a temporary partition in the assembly hall of the Palmer grammar building, making two additional school rooms. They have found this necessary because of the crowded condition of the building, but more especially the very large attendance in the first and second grades. The total of the building is 421, while there are 78 in the first grade and 59 in the second. The assistant teacher will have charge of the new room created by the change in the hall. As the building was designed and built with this end in view, if the time should ever come when it was needed, the problem is not a difficult one.

Church Notes

The pastor of St Paul's church spoke last Sunday on "Sex hygiene."

There will be an Episcopal service Sunday afternoon at 4.15 in Masonic hall.

The Gordon Bible class of the Baptist church held a social in the church parlors Wednesday evening There was an entertainment, and refreshments were served.

Rev. Otto S. Raspe, pastor of the Universalist church, will take for his subject Sunday morning "The Fellowship of Universalism," this being the second of a series of talks on Universalism.

An important business meeting of the Y. P. C. U. of St. Paul's church will be held next Wednesday evening. William Clark, who attended the national convention at Portland as a delegate, will give a report.

The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning at the Baptist church will be "Personal experience and God's commandments." Bible School at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 Evening worship at 7; sermon subject, "The strengthening of faith." All are invited

The subject of the sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning will be, "Christ as a discoverer of men;" Sunday school at 12; Christian Endeavor meeting at 6, subject, "The living Christ in the home;" evening service at 7, when the pastor will begin a series of Sunday evening talks on "Some kingdom builders of Old Testament times," with special reference to the present, the special theme for Sunday evening being "Amos and his plumb line." All are cordially invited to these services.

Men's League Plans.

The Men's League has in contemplation a series of public meetings for the coming fall and winter, and although the speakers are not all engaged yet the committee has in mind a number of prominent men whom all will want to hear. Among other meetings will be a "Big Brother and Boy" night, the date to be announced later. The first meeting of the season will be Wednesday evening, the 27th of this month, and the name of the speaker will be given next week.

Frost Wednesday Night.

There was a severe frost Weduesday night, amounting in some localities almost to a freeze. The mercury dropped as low as 28° and gardens and fruit suffered severely in many places; in some instances pears on the trees were frozen to a considerable depth.

The house of E. F. Shaw on Park street is receiving a coat of paint externally.

May Ask For Appropriation.

To Support The Work of The Palmer Association in District Nursing.

There is a likelihood that the town will be asked at the next annual meeting to make an appropriation in support of the work of the Palmer Association for District Nursing. Such an appropriation would not have been permissible heretofore, but under chapter 72 of the acts of 1911 it is perfectly legal now.

Under this act any amount not to exceed $2000 a year may be appropriated for district nursing by any town, the Legislature evidently being of the opinion that work of this nature was shared in and a benefit to the entire population. The money is to be expended by the selectmen, or by the board of health if so ordered by the selectmen.

The work in Palmer the past year was carried on at a loss of about $900; that is, the payments by patients lacked that much of paying the bills. The deficit was made up by voluntary contributions by individuals and societies, with the proceeds from one or two entertainments. A town appropriation of $1000, perhaps less, would doubtless be sufficient to enable the association to carry on the work without hindrance or embarassment because of a lack of funds. That the work of the association has been productive of a vast amount of good there is not the slightest doubt, and there will probably be no objection to providing funds for its continuance.

A Paucity of Candidates.

New Direct Nominations Law Responsible For Lots of Vacancies.

The new direct nominations law, which is being tried this fall for the first time, has resulted in leaving a lot of vacancies on the tickets in various towns, particularly in the nominations for members of town committees and for delegates to the state conventions. So far as the latter is concerned, there will not be the usual excitement of the "night before" this year, for the contests will be settled in the primaries and all the delegates to the conventions will have to do will be to assemble and say "Amen." Of the towns in this vicinity the following will lack representation in the state conventions through lack of nomination of delegates: Republican—Brimfield, Hampden, Holland, Palmer and Wilbraham; Democratic — Brimfield, Hampden, Holland, Monson, Palmer, Wales and Wilbraham. Nominations for town committee are lacking in: Republican — Holland; Democratic—Brimfield, Hampden, Holland and Palmer.

Aviator Skips Palmer.

Start For Pacific Made From New York Instead of Boston.

Many Palmer citizens were on the watch all day Wednesday for James J. Ward and his flying machine, but failed to get a glimpse of him. There was good reason for this, for Ward started from New York on his trans-continent trip instead of from Boston, as was scheduled last week. Why the change was made is not known. An attempt had been made to have Ward land on the fair grounds in Palmer if he passed this way, but no reply was received to the letter addressed to him. Ward made only 20 miles in his first day, losing his way in the air and finally landing in New Jersey, a short distance from the starting point.

E. C. Buffington of Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows has been appointed district depnty grand master for district 84.

The warrant for the primaries to be held under the new direct nomination law will be found in another column.

The school committee has ordered 25 new commercial desks for the high school, the old ones being of an undesirable pattern.

Additions to the high school have brought the number of pupils in that institution up to 151; the estimated attendance was about 145.

R W. Clement, at the head of the commercial department in the high school, was last week elected to the Holyoke high school at an increase of salary, but has decided to remain in Palmer.

The registrars of voters give notice that they will be in session in the selectmen's room in the library building in Palmer next Monday evening from 7 to 8.30, for the purpose of adding names to the voting list.

There was a burglar scare on Thorndike street in the vicinity of Foster street Thursday morning, but the intruder proved to be only a "drunk" who had become somewhat mixed in his bearings.

Leslie Cameron of Thorndike street accidentally swallowed a pin while at play Wednesday evening. It became lodged in the throat and a trip to a specialist in Springfield was necessary for its removal.

A teachers' meeting was held in the assembly hall of the grammer school Wednesday afternoon, when Superintendent Hobson addressed the teachers on "The mutual relations between superintendent and teacher."

The infant daughter of James E. and Lizzie (Pasco) Crosby, formerly of Palmer, died on Tuesday of last week at the parents' home, Mt. Gyot street, North Brookfield, after an illness of two weeks. The funeral was held the following day.

A passenger on the 2 22 train from the West on the B. and A. road yesterday, who had been carried by Springfield, was taken sick and was removed from the train at Palmer for treatment. Dr. J. P. Schneider was called and the man was sufficiently recovered to return on the 3 49 train.

The special town meeting will be held next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the town house. The principal articles refer to the repairs necessary at the high school building, and to see if the voters will allow a change in the material to be used in constructing the macadam road on Cemetery Hill in Thorndike.

The postal savings bank opened by the government at the post office on the fifth is not attracting a large number of depositors, only four having availed themselves of its privileges to date. Postmaster Shaw is satisfied however that there will be more patrons, especially among the foreign element, as soon as the scheme becomes better known.

In the district court Tuesday morning seven hoboes who were taken from a Boston and Albany train the day before, were arraigned on charges of vagrancy. They were fined $6 each; one paid and the others were sent up. Wednesday morning two Poles from Withraham were charged with trespass on land of the Ludlow Mfg. Associates. One paid a fine of $5, and the other was sent up for lack of funds.

Dolls' Clothing.

London has a large factory devoted exclusively to the manufacture of dolls' clothing.

Our Near Neighbors.

Mother — Don't you know, darling, that we are commanded to love our neighbors? Little One — Yes, an' I s'pose that's 'cause we can get along with most everybody else.—Exchange.

It is far better to be innocent than penitent, to prevent the malady than invent the remedy.—Secker.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Soldiers' Graves Are Now Marked.

[Continued from First Page.]

which antedated that of Congress by seventeen days.

Here let us pause for a moment and take note of the sparseness of our community and the paucity of its means to contribute for the promotion of the gigantic struggle upon which the colonies were about to enter. Surely we can do no less than honor the faith such men had in the ultimate triumph of right.

Here is a slice of history copied from our old records, which tells its own story:

"There were 727 inhabitants in Palmer in 1776.

"A return of the Number of Males from sixteen years old and upwards which breathed on the first day of January in the town of Palmer in the year 1777.

"No. of men belonging to the Training List, 94.

"No. of men belonging to the Alarm List, 35.

"No. of Decrepit Persons who are rendered incapable of service thereby, 46.

"No. of men incapable of service by reason of old age and other infirmities, 9

"No. of Negroes, 3.

"Total, 187."

Here we have the record of every able-bodied man in Palmer enrolled either in the Training or Minute Men list, a total of 129. Think of it, every able-bodied man in town being trained for action if needed. Later we find that out of this sparse population, with the few additions to the close of the war, 165 men were furnished for the service. Such devotion to the cause of liberty was born of a conviction capable of being sealed by blood and death.

When we know the origin of these determined men, we need not wonder at the positive stand they maintained. A majority were the sons of the doughty Scotch who would not bow to the mandate of James of England in religious matters, or were the scions of the Pilgrims or Puritans who had braved the wilds and terrors of an unknown wilderness rather than submit to the dictates of the oppressor in the home land. Inspired by the spirit of their sires, whose Gaelic or Norman blood tingled in their veins, they were ready to be offered on the altar of liberty if need be, for the perpetuation of the ideals they had learned to honor.

While we have the names of the 44 worthies who responded to the Lexington Alarm, of the 13 who had service in the battle of Bunker Hill, and of the 25 who were with Gates in the decisive battle of Saratoga, yet we lack the records which would form the most interesting chapter in our history, the part taken by each of our citizen soldiers in the weary marches, in the privations endured in camp and on the battle field, and the locality where scores of them were laid in unknown graves at last; but alas, this task no mortal pen can ever unfold. But we feel that all of their worthy deeds are engraved on the divine tablets of the Eternal memory, and each will answer to the roll call at the Grand Assize of the Ages.

We have met to-day to pay the tribute of gratitude to the memory of men who shrank not in the hour of danger to obey the call of duty, by dedicating their graves anew with the emblems which bespeak their service in the Colonial or Revolutionary war.

These tokens of respect have been furnished by the loyal generosity of the town and placed by the aid of the Cemetery Commissioners and members of the Palmer Historical Society.

Of the 76 men who served in the Colonial war, only six graves have been found in the Oak Knoll cemetery and eight in the Old Center cemetery, or 14 in all. Of the 165 men who served in the Revolution, only eight graves have been found in the Oak Knoll cemetery and 19 in the Old Center cemetery, or 27 in all. In this connection is given a list of the graves which have been identified and honored with appropriate markers:

OAK KNOLL CEMETERY.

Soldiers in Colonial War.

Benjamin King, killed at Ft. Mass, June 7, 1756, in 34th year of age.
Ensign John King, d. July 2, 1778, ae. 64
Daniel Graves, d. Nov 29, 1760, ae. 59
Capt. James Merrick, d. Jan. 2, 1790, ae. 91.
Lt. Gideon Merrick, d Feb. 28, 1758, in 31st year.
Aaron Merrick, d. Dec 2, 1810, in 77th year.

Soldiers in Revolution.

Capt. John King, d. April 2, 1812, in 72d year.
Lt. David King, d. May 3, 1820, ae. 87
Gideon Graves, d. March 8, 1834, ae. 77
Simeon Graves, d. Dec 20, 1814, ae. 75
Timothy Brainerd, d. Sept. 29, 1834, ae. 89.
Jonathan Cooley, d. March 22, 1823, ae 79.
Capt. James Merrick, d. Jan. 2, 1790, ae. 91.
Isaac Ferrell, d. May 9, 1839, ae. 74.

OLD CENTER CEMETERY.

Colonial Soldiers.

Lt. Timothy Ferrell, d. Feb. 8, 1814, ae. 80.
Lt. Robert McMaster, d. Sept. 21, 1808, ae. 63.
Serg. Francis Breckenridge, d. Jan. 30, 1790, ae. 62
Capt. Thomas McClenathan, d. June 6, 1818, ae. 85.
Capt. John Thompson, d. Jan. 19, 1785, ae. 85.
Hugh Smith, d. May 18, 1805, ae. 77.
David Parsons, d. Ft. Edward, Nov. 8, 1755, ae. 27.
Israel Parsons, d. Ft. Edward, Oct. 28, 1755, ae. 18

Revolutionary Soldiers.

Capt. David Spear, d. April 11, 1800, in 75th year.
Capt. Thomas McClanathan, d. June 6, 1818, ae. 75.
Lieut. Urijah Ward, d. June 7, 1820, ae. 74.
Lieut. Robert McMaster, d. Sept. 21, 1808, ae 83.
Lt. Luke Hitchcock, d. Sept. 12, 1812, ae. 60.
Dea. Samuel McClanathan, d. June 14, 1825, ae. 85
John Allen McElwain, d. Feb. 27, 1814, ae. 70.
Irwin Shaw, d. April 26, 1832, ae. 79.
John Shearer, d. Dec. 18, 1817, ae. 72.
John Allen Smith, d. May 11, 1837, ae. 89.
James Lamberton, d. Jan. 22. 1777, ae. 51.
Joseph Smith, d. June 24, 1844, ae. 84.
David Fleming, d. Feb. 26, 1814, ae. 95.
Jonathan Moores, d. Feb. 13, 1830, ae. 85
Sergt. Francis Breckenridge, d. Jan. 30, 1790, ae. 62
James Smith, d. March 13, 1811, ae. 90.
Hugh McMaster, d. Aug 28, 1803, ae. 88
John Hunt, d. June 24, 1843, ae. 82.
Micah Gates, d. Dec. 19, 1855, ae. 96.

The above-named soldiers were Palmer men save the three Merricks, who were from Brimfield, Timothy Brainerd, who served in Connecticut, John Hunt and Micah Gates, who both served from the eastern part of Massachusetts. These all came to Palmer after the Revolutionary War, where they spent the remainder of their lives as worthy citizens save Gideon Merrick, who died in 1758. Micah Gates enlisted from Stowe, his native town, and served about seven years, and is buried beside his wife, Mary Gates, but has no gravestone at his own grave. At the expiration of one period of his enlistment he walked from Ft. Ticonderoga to Boston with an average of 57 miles a day. On his way he passed through the Old Center of Palmer and drank from a spring on the Common, now furnished with a pump. John Hunt, born in Concord, Mass, is the only one of that name of Concord who was of suitable age to have served in the war, and there is but one of the name credited from Concord in the Massachusetts Men of the Revolution.

In closing allow me to pay a tribute of respect to the locality we are visiting today. I never pass the site of the first little church erected in Palmer without a feeling of reverence. On this ground pressed by our waiting feet to-day, was reared the simple and unpretentious edifice 176 years ago where solons of the Scot and Puritan met for 62 years to worship God in their sincere and simple manner. Here from year to year the marriage banns were published which prefaced the union of the great, great grandparents of many who are with us yet. Here the children were brought for baptism, and here in the hush of the funeral hour the parson often spoke comforting words to sorrowing hearts, over silent caskets, and hence they were borne reverently to their last resting place in God's Acre yonder; some remembered with memorial tablets, others left unnoted and to us unknown, but all are awaiting the final summons.

Here in this little house, devoted to religious and civic service alike, met our sires of other days to devise ways and means out of their scant belongings to conduct the affairs of the town, and in the strenuous Colonial days, when the torch of war flamed on the northern border, to respond to the order for filling the contingent from year to year for the common defense, and when the air vibrated with the echoes of the Revolution our men came here to put on record their words of patriotism and to offer themselves for the common weal, never turning back till the last gun of the foe had been silenced.

Here the troops in their coming and going often bivouaced in the days of the Revolution and in 1812. Then came the piping days of peace, when the military spirit survived in the training and muster days of which the Old Center had its share as tap of drum and bugle note recalled the strenuous days forever past. Then came the days of the stage lines from Boston to New York a hundred years ago, when all ears listened for the winding of the stageman's horn, when all was bustle at the doors of the two commodious Frink and Ward taverns as the guests came and went. Here was the center of all the town's business, civil and religious. The impetus given by the stage line east and west, with the addition of the new pike from New London to Petersham, caused land owners here to dream of enhanced prices for probable house lots in the coming days.

But alas for the fatuity of day dreams. Progress, the enchantress, with one sweep of her wand, brushed aside all these illusions and four other points in town blossomed into new centers of business, while the iron highway came and completed the vision. Soon followed the inevitable when the old Center was bereft of its stage lines, its stores, its place of worship and its house of assembly, and sadder yet, the removal of many of its buildings to other centers.

The ancient tent of the congregation had been struck long before, and its successor—an imposing structure for the period—had also filled its purpose and had been torn down and scattered. What a pity, it ought to have been preserved as an object lesson of the past, a fitting place for the conservation of local relics as well as for pilgrimage.

Nearly all the surviving houses here have passed the century mark; they once sheltered many of the leading families of the town, whose men were leaders in public affairs. May they long survive as well as their present owners to repeat the traditions of a fleeting past

While we deplore many of the changes which have come to the Old Center, we ought to rejoice that one institution has survived which links the Colonial period from 1764 to the present, and that is the schoolhouse. May we hope the time shall never come when its walls shall cease to echo the glad voices of childhood, guided and gladdened by a gracious teacher's presence.

We are also pleased to note the commendable action of the citizens of the Old Center in placing a monument on the sylvan shaded common to the memory of heroes who long ago found camping ground here, which bespeaks a desire to keep alive in the minds of the rising generation the memory of men whose valor laid the foundation of our country's present greatness.

With all the changes which the years have wrought, we are pleased to see the survival of happy homes, surrounded each season with a garniture of green fields yielding abundant crops, and despite the march of progress that the Old Center still stands the geographical center of our prosperous town.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I Basford, Pooleville, Md For sale by all dealers.

BORN.

In Wales, 9th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bradway.

DIED.

In Thorndike, 11th, Joseph H. Davis, 81.
In Bondsville, 11th, Daniel Keys, 70.
In Monson, 8th, Monroe L. Pease, 57.
In Monson, 9th, Marie A. Peterson, 19.
In Monson, 11th, Lewis Rogers, 74.
In Monson, 12th, Mrs. Emma F. Knowles, 53.
In Belchertown, 12th, Mrs. Mary Kenfield, 87.
In Hampden, 10th, Alanson Chaffee, 89.
In West Warren, 10th, Daniel Riley of Ware.

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their deeds of kindness and words of sympathy during our recent bereavement.

J. F. DAVIS AND FAMILY.
MR. AND MRS. T. A. MCCREA.

Thorndike, Sept. 14, 1911.

CARD.—To all who have shown us sympathy and condolences in our great sorrow and recent bereavement of our beloved sister and grandchild, also for the beautiful gifts of flowers, we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks.

EMMA AND ESTHER, Sisters.
MR. AND MRS. JOHN JOHNSON, Grandparents.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Apply at 20 Knox street. 24-2

SHOATS FOR SALE. Inquire at NO. 2 WIRE MIL. Palmer. 23-2

FOUND—On the road to Silver Street, a pair of glasses. Inquire of R. F. D. 2, BOX 17.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

FOUND—A black and tan hound, which owner can have by proving property and paying charges. PETER BLEAU, Three Rivers.

DRESSMAKING AND LADIES' TAILORING by experienced dressmaker. 23-tf
45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms, heated and electric lights; singly or en suite. 21-tf 45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

TO RENT—Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

TO RENT—Two large, light unfurnished rooms. Suitable for light housekeeping. Also furnished rooms. 24-2
Apply at 427 MAIN ST.

WANTED—500 Hens and Pullets. Will pay good prices. Several choice Buff Orpington Cockerels for sale, or would exchange some of another strain. ALFRED CHRISTIANSEN, 24-2 Palmer Center.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED MCCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 46-tf

NOTICE TO VOTERS.
REGISTRATION.
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Registrars of Voters will be in session at Selectmen's Room, Library Building, Depot Village, Monday evening, Sept. 18, 1911, from 7 to 8.30 p. m. for the purpose of adding names to the list of voters. 24-1
J. F. FOLEY, Clerk of the Board.

Auction Sale
OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS
Saturday, Sept. 16, at 2 p. m.
Consisting of New Piano, Parlor Suite, and entire furnishings of six rooms. The estate of the late CARL A. ANDERSON, Wire Mill, Palmer.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

Boy Wanted
One about 16 years old, to feed press and make himself generally useful. Steady job. Apply at Journal Office.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Notice to Trustees.
The quarterly meeting of the Trustees of the Palmer Savings Bank will be held at their banking rooms on Monday, the eighteenth day of September, 1911, at 2 o'clock p. m.
G. A. RICE, Clerk.
Palmer, Mass., Sept. 5, 1911. 23 2

TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
County of Hampden, ss. Town of Palmer.
To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County.

GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer, qualified to vote in town affairs, to meet at the Town House at Four Corners, in said Palmer, on Monday, the eighteenth day of September, A. D. 1911, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, then and there to act on the following articles, viz.:

ARTICLE 1. To choose a Moderator to preside at said meeting.

ART. 2. To hear and act on the reports of committees.

ART. 3. To choose committees and give them instructions.

ART. 4. To see if the town will vote to authorize the treasurer, with the approval of the selectmen, to borrow money not to be paid from the taxes of the current year.

ART. 5. To see if the town will raise and appropriate money for necessary repairs, alterations or additions upon the high school building in the Depot Village, or take any other action relative thereto.

ART. 6. To see if the town will raise and appropriate sums of money, the same to be in addition to the sums already appropriated, for the construction and completion of sewers in the following named streets in the Village of Three Rivers: Pleasant street from the residence of Delius Roberts to Main street; Ruggles street from the residence of S. Camerlin to Main street; Main street from its intersection with Charles street, westerly to the Quaboag river; Belchertown road from the crossing of the Boston and Albany railroad and thence northerly 350 feet; and in Bourne street from a point opposite the residence of James Barber and thence easterly to Pleasant street; or take any other action relative thereto.

ART. 7. To see if the town will raise and appropriate money for the purpose of constructing and completing a sewer in Main street in the Village of Thorndike, from a point opposite the Catholic church and thence easterly to the Ware river, or take any other action relative thereto.

ART. 8. To see if the town will vote to rescind so much of the action of the last annual town meeting as specifies and limits the kind of material to be used in constructing a new highway from a point near the Catholic cemetery in Thorndike to the canal bridge in Church street, or take any other action relative thereto.

ART. 9. To see if the town will vote to appropriate the money, previously raised and appropriated for the construction of highway from a point near the Catholic cemetery in Thorndike to the canal bridge in Church street, for the purpose of constructing a macadam road within the limits above named; or take any other action relative thereto.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this seventh day of September, A. D. 1911.

GEORGE L. WARRINER, HAROLD W. BRAINERD, CHARLES D. HOLDEN, } Selectmen of Palmer.

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.

Shoppers are daily showing their appreciation of the many rare values in the

KINSMAN Clearance Sale

Every department in this busy bustling store comes forward with hosts of new attractions in our best of all merchandise. Merchandise that is bound to appeal to the wise shopper, for the prices are away below usual, and offer many important savings.

50c--59c SILK HOSIERY 3 Pairs for $1; 35c Pair
300 pair of black, also Ladies' White Silk Hosiery, garter top, double sole, high spliced heels.
CLEARANCE SALE— 35c; 3 PAIR $1.00

25c SCHOOL HOSE, 19c PAIR
More than 1000 pair of Onyx Fast Black. Silk Lisle School Hose, fine ribbed, high spliced heels and double toes.
CLEARANCE SALE, 19c PAIR

LINGERIE WAISTS 69c EACH
All the way from 95c up to $1 25, and even higher in some cases, are those charming Lingerie Waists. But that we may make a quick clearance we mark them all at the one price. Made of the prettiest of embroideries, combined with tucks and laces—
CLEARANCE SALE 69c EACH

25c LADIES' NECKWEAR, 12 1-2c EACH
Hundreds and hundreds of choice new neckpieces, Dutch Collars, Stock Collars, Jabots, Rabats, etc. Some are embroidered styles, others are all lace, while some are combinations of the prettiest of embroideries, laces and ribbons, fascinatingly designed in the most bewitching styles. There well worth double.
CLEARANCE SALE, 12½c EACH

Most Important Savings in the Lace Section

LINEN LACES, 29c YARD
Hundreds and hundreds of yards of Linen Cluny Edgings and Insertions. All the popular patterns, 3-inch to 9-inch widths—
CLEARANCE SALE, 29c YARD

PIECES VAL LACES, 25c PIECE (12 Yards).
More than 900 pieces of pretty French Val Edgings and Insertions in a big variety of patterns.
CLEARANCE SALE— 25c Piece (12 Yards)

VENISE EDGES, 25c YARD
Venise Edges in a choice collection of patterns, white, cream and ecru, ½-inch to 3-inch widths.
CLEARANCE SALE, 25c YARD

LINEN LACES, 19c YARD
Hundreds and hundreds of yards of Real Linen Cluny Edges and Insertions, suitable for trimming dresses, curtains and fancy work, 2-in to 5-inch widths—
CLEARANCE SALE, 19c YARD
Our entire stock of Real Laces and pretty Novelty Laces subject to a discount in this Sale of 33⅓ per cent.

BEAUTIFUL BATISTE FLOUNCINGS, 98c YARD
FINE, SHEER, DAINTY EMBROIDERY FLOUNCINGS, full 45 inches wide.
CLEARANCE SALE, 98c YARD

SHORT-LENGTH PIECES EMBROIDERY, 5c YARD
THESE ARE SHORT-LENGTH PIECES which are bound to collect after such busy times as the Embroidery Section has encountered. They run from 1 to 6 yards long, both edging and insertions in widths from 1 to 4 inches.
CLEARANCE SALE, 5c YARD

75c to 98c FLOUNCINGS, 57c YARD
PRETTY SHEER SWISS FLOUNCINGS. 27 inches wide, in a wide range of attractive designs. Beautiful English Eyelet and Blind Embroidery styles, suitable for children's dresses, underwear, waists, etc.
CLEARANCE SALE, 57c YARD.

$2.50—$3.75 LINENS, $1.49
Handsome Scarfs and Squares, 18x54, 30x30, also 36x36 sizes. Fine drawn-work linen, with two rows of hand-made Teneriffe wheels.
CLEARANCE SALE, $1.49

Savings in Notions

5c HAIR NETS, with and without elastic—
CLEARANCE SALE, 4 for 10c

98c CLUSTER PUFFS, all shades, 20 and 25-coil styles—
CLEARANCE SALE, 59c

$1.25 3-STRAND SWITCHES, 18–24 inches— CLEARANCE SALE, 59c

25c SATIN PAD HOSE SUPPORTERS. CLEARANCE SALE, 17c

3c COMMON PINS, 400 count—
CLEARANCE SALE, 3 for 5c

39c TENSION SHEARS, 7-inch and 8-inch. CLEARANCE SALE, 10c

25c BOX, ¼ LB. ENGLISH PINS, 3 sizes. CLEARANCE SALE, 14c Box

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by

These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers
W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

The Elm Tree Beetle and the Gas Company

Attention is continually being directed, by the daily papers, to the devastation of trees and foliage in this locality by the GYPSY MOTH, BROWN TAIL MOTH, ELM TREE BEETLE and other pestiferous insects.

THE GAS COMPANY respectfully requests notice in writing at the time blight on trees or shrubbery is observed in order that an inspection may be made, otherwise it will CONTEST ALL CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE, as our expert has proved conclusively that many cases where GAS POISONING was claimed the trees were killed by insects, winter cold, drouth and the growth of malignant fungi.

After examination THE GAS COMPANY will present their expert's report, gratuitously, so that proper measures may be taken to protect the trees or foliage affected.

WORCESTER COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

USE GAS
For
Lighting, Heating and Cooking
No Dirt—No Waste—No Smell
Worcester County Gas Company
Office
Allen Block Palmer, Mass.

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, Never Out and Dietz Jr.
The three best lights on the market. Priced right.
E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

Death of Lewis Rogers.

Lewis Rogers, 74, one of Monson's oldest merchants and business men, passed away at his home on Reynolds avenue Monday morning at 6 30 o'clock, after a long illness Death was finally due to a complication of diseases.

Mr. Rogers was born in Wales July 9, 1837. He was the son of Elijah and Bertha Adams and came to this town when his parents moved here, at the age of 12 years He obtained his education at the public schools in Wales and in this town and i Monson Academy. After graduating from the Academy he held various positions with the old Hampden woolen company and at the time that the mills ceased operations he was superintendent of the branch mill. At the age of 35 Mr Rogers went to Springfield, where in company with his brother he opened a meat and grocery store. At the end of two years the firm sold out and started a similar business at North Monson, the North Monson factory being in operation at that time. Shortly after that a new store was built at South Monson and they bought out the firm of Chapin Brothers, who occupied what is now known as the corner store, and moved into the new stand, which they have occupied for 37 years A large meat, grocery and general merchandise business was built up by them and has always been conducted successfully.

Mr. Rogers was married three times; the first time in 1859 to Lucy Harvey and had one child, Mrs. E E. Thompson of this town. His second wife was Miss Ellen Harvey, whom he married in October, 1868. They had one child, who died when quite young. He was married a third time to Mrs. Violet Drake in 1877; she survives him. He is also survived by his brother Henry. He was a member of the board of trustees of the Methodist church.

The funeral was held from his late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. G. A. Andrews officiating. All the stores in town were closed from 1 30 until 4 o'clock while the funeral service and burial were taking place. The burial was in No. 1 cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Emma F. Knowles.

Mrs. Emma F. Knowles, 53, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Lancey, on Cushman street Tuesday night at 10 o'clock of complication of diseases. Mrs Knowles was born in Lynn, but had spent most of her life in Pittsfield, Maine She came to Monson six years ago to live with her daughter and had since made Monson her home. Mrs. Knowles, although a very home-like person, had met many Monson people who following their acquaintance had always been friends. She possessed a cheerful and loving disposition and a host of Monson's best people mourn her departure. In her home and outside, in trying moments or in pleasure and in her many painful hours of her final sickness, she always possessed that happy disposition. Besides her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Lancey, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Hattie Perkins of Uxbridge. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of her daughter. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles E. Hill of Springfield, assisted by Rev. Abram Conklin, pastor of the Universalist church of Monson The body was taken to-day for burial in the family lot in Pittsfield, Maine.

Lucy—Boliran.

Miss Sarah A Lucy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lucy of Hampden avenue, was married to Amos J. Boliran of Stafford Springs, Ct., Tuesday morning in St. Patrick's church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe. The bridesmaid was Miss Cecelia Lainer of Salem and William B. Hanley of Stafford was best man. The bride wore an embroidered gown and a tulle veil caught up with white carnations. The bridesmaid was attired in pink silk and wore a black picture hat and carried an arm bonquet of pink carnations. After the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride on Hampden avenue. The house was decorated with golden rod and potted plants. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold brooch and the bridegroom's gift to the best man was a stickpin. The bride's traveling suit was blue serge with a hat to match. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Boliran will reside in Stafford Springs.

Monson Mills Receive Large Contracts.

It is very gratifying to Monson people to learn that two of the woolen mills in town have been awarded contracts to furnish a part of the government order for cloth for the army. Ricketts & Shaw received an order for 30,000 yards for overcoats at $1 40 a yard; A. D. Ellis an order for 10,000 yards at the same price. The war department recently decided to clothe the soldiers with woolens instead of worsteds, and called for bids. Awards have been made for contracts amounting to more than $300,000, which is but one-third of the amount to be expended by the department in army clothing during the current fiscal year. Of these contracts all but about $14,000 were awarded to Massachusetts manufacturers, who won out in one of the largest competitions the war department has ever had

Death of Munroe L. Pease.

Munroe L Pease, 57, died last Friday afternoon at 5 20 o'clock in the Wesson Memorial Hospital in Springfield. after about ten days' illness of hemorhages of the stomach Up to the time he was taken ill he had been employed on the farm of William Meacham in State Line. He had been rapidly failing from the time he was first taken ill and he was removed to the hospital in an automobile but died two hours after arriving there. He is survived by two sons, Myron and Walter, and one daughter, Miss Pearl Pease, all of this town. The funeral was held from his former home on Elm street Sunday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock, Rev. Abram Conklin conducting the services. The burial was in No. 1 cemetery.

Strike Settled.

The strike of the weavers at the Langewaid worsted mill at South Monson was settled last Saturday morning by the returning of the men to their work. They went out on Thursday evening, feeling they had a grievance after an announcement was made that a change from the fining to the grading system had been made. However when the meaning of this was made clear to the men, they returned to their work.

Death of Miss Marie A. Peterson.

Miss Marie A Peterson, 19, of this town, died quite suddenly at the Monson State hospital Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. She had been employed at the hospital for some time. She is survived by one brother and two sisters, of this town. The funeral was held from the home of her grandparents, Mr and Mrs. John A. Johnson on the Palmer road Monday afternoon at 2 30, Rev. G A. Andrews officiating. Burial was in No. 1 cemetery.

S F. Cushman Jr. is spending a few days in Amherst.

Miss Helen M. Needham is visiting friends in Granville.

Carl Rand of Baltimore is visiting his aunt on Main street.

Miss Bertha Stebbins has returned from a visit to Bethel, Vt.

Miss Lucille Cadwell has returned from a vacation at Milford.

H. L. Rees has resigned his position with Heimann & Lichten.

Paul Mott has taken a position as chaffeur with Dr F. W. Ellis.

Mrs. Thomas Mills is severely ill at her home on Thompson street.

Miss Eva Bigelow of Willimansett called on local friends this week.

The Central Vermont railroad has replanked the Academy bridge.

Frank Maguire has gone to Canton, O., to attend the state university.

Arthur Mumford left yesterday for Riverside, California, for an extended stay.

Mrs. Esther Hood of Gloversville, N. Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Keep.

Miss Helen Fox has returned to West Brookfield after spending Sunday in town.

J. C. Parsons of Springfield, a former resident, called on Monson friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fitzpatrick have returned after spending the summer in Boston.

Clifford Bills of Boston is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Inez Ferrell, on Washington street.

Miss Mary Feison of Boston is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. S. Nelson on High street.

Miss Lucinda Fish has returned to her home in Noank, Ct., after a visit to Monson friends.

Charles Cooley has returned to his work at the Somerset Woolen Co., after a short illness.

James Faulkner has returned to Lynn after a two-weeks' visit with his parents on High street.

Harry Rees and Robert Fay have returned to Amherst, where they attend the agricultural college.

William Corish, who is employed by Dr. F. W. Ellis, is seriously ill at his home on Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Callahan of Pittsfield are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callahan on Park avenue.

Joseph Deltour, who has been spending ten days at Utica, N. Y, has returned to his home on Pearl street.

Miss Catherine Murphy of Cambridge is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy on Park avenue.

John Leahy has resigned his position at W. N. Flynt & Sons' store and will enter Tufts College this fall.

Dr. L. C. Barber, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Flynt, has returned to her home in Springfield.

The postal savings bank was opened last Tuesday and on that day and Saturday 11 accounts were opened.

Miss Margaret McAuliffe is spending a two-weeks' vacation in New York City, the guest of Miss Hazel Hanifin.

Roydon Leonard has returned to his home in South Monsou after spending the summer at Franklin, N H.

Mrs. Herbert Brice and children have returned to their home in Manchester, N. H., after visiting friends in town.

Miss Gertrude Leahy of Belmont avenue has returned from a visit with relatives in North Adams and Williamstown.

William Leahy of Washington, D. C., is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Leahy on Belmont avenue.

John Crowley has returned to his home in New York city after visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holdridge on South Main street.

R. H. Cushman and family, Miss Esther Holmes and Miss Hattie Cushman have returned from an automobile trip to Watch Hill.

Harold Burdick of Mechanic street and Arthur McCarthy of Harrison avenue have returned from a visit in Franklin and Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barco have returned from their wedding trip and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Croker on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Crowley have returned from their wedding trip and are residing with Mrs, Crowley's mother on Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corbin of Florence and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Squier of Beverly are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Squier at Moulton Hill.

Mrs. M. W. Roberts has returned to her home in Kalamazoo after spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. G. Fuller on Lincoln street.

Mrs. Sarah Oldham and daughter have returned to their home on Park avenue after a month's vacation to Old Orchard and Waterville, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Taylor and daughter of Patterson, N J., are visiting Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Maguire on High street.

The Monson basketball team will open its season with a dance to be held Oct. 6th, in Memorial Hall. McEnelley's orchestra of Milford will furnish music.

John Pendergast is moving his household goods from F. Q Ball's house on Main street to his newly constructed house on Pearl street.

John Langhlin of Somersville, Ct., has taken a position as bookkeeper for W. N. Flynt & Sons, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Dillon.

Alanson Chaffee, who died in Hampden Sunday morning, was a former Monson citizen. His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon and burial was in the Butler district.

A representative of the New England Deacon's association of Boston will speak at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning in the absence of the regular pastor.

Joseph R Sunter Sr was taken to the hospital at Northampton Wednesday after being pronounced insane by Dr. J. S. MacQuaid of Monson and Dr. Schneider of Palmer.

There will be a bridge whist party at the Quaboag Country Club house next Wednesday afternoon. The committee in charge is Mrs. Sparr, Mrs. Potter and Mrs Clifford.

Carl VanWagner has brought suit against the town, the allegation being that VanWagner lost a horse through injuries caused by falling through a defective bridge near State Line.

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps held Wednesday evening in the Grand Army hall, five candidates were initiated. Following the meeting, a collation was served.

A meeting of the Mothers' and Teachers' Association of the Congregational church was held Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was for the purpose of making arrangements for the coming year.

The King's Daughters, at their annual business meeting, elected the following officers: President, Mrs. P. W. Soule; vice president, Mrs. F. A Wheeler; secretary and treasurer, Mrs F S Homer.

Ground has been broken for the new store building on the Green block on North Main street T. M Lynch has been awarded the contract The store will be occupied by Lysander Nevins for automobile supplies, etc.

Miss Hattie Cushman gave an afternoon tea to the Current Events Club, the Century Club and friends at her home Monday afternoon Mrs Andrew George of Boston gave a lecture on "Some reasons against woman suffrage"

The registrars of voters will be in session in the selectmen's room, Memorial town hall, on September 20th from 7 30 p. m. to 9 p. m; October 18th from 7 30 to 9 p m; October 28th from 12 o'clock noon until 10 p. m., at which time registration will close.

Personal Mention.

A. J. Todd of Rutland spent Tuesday with relatives in town.

Miss Grace Strong of Hartford, Ct, is the guest of Miss Hawkes of Pine street

Dr. M. B. Hodskins of the Monson state hospital has been spending part of the week in New York.

Mrs. William Weld of Mansfield, Ct., and Mr. and Mrs. Michel of New York visited friends in town Monday.

F. J. Hamilton has moved his family from camp, "The Needles," at Forest Lake, to his home on Park street.

Mrs. C. K. Gamwell, Mrs. L. M. Shaw and Mrs. Abbie Lawton are at Pleasure Beach for the remainder of the month.

Miss Faith Wells, who has been in Detroit, Mich., for some time, has returned to her home on the Brimfield road.

Mrs. Oritha Andrews and daughter Marion have returned to Palmer after spending the summer in Vermont.

E. K. Arnold of Providence, R. I, has been a guest a part of the week of Superintendent of Schools C. H. Hobson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Pope of Bennington, Vt., formerly of Palmer, visited friends in town over Sunday and the first of the week.

Byron Woodhead and family of North Main street, who have been spending the summer at Block Island, have returned home.

L. S. Record, of the law firm of Clough & Record, is to move his family next week to Newport, Vt, where he will live in the future.

Dr. G. A. Moore, who has been spending part of the summer at Monse Island, Me., will reopen his office in the bank block tomorrow.

John B. Gorman of Worcester, superintendent of transportation, was the guest of Superintendent E. D Atkins of the street railway Monday.

Miss Alice Shaw and Irving Shaw of Park street attended the Allen-Buxton wedding in Longmeadow Saturday evening. Mr. Shaw acting as best man.

Misses Elisa Caryl, May Amsden and Ruth Scantlebury of the Wesson Hospital, Springfield, were guests at the home of F H. Caryl on Pine street Tuesday.

Mrs. Thekla Tomz, who has recently returned from southern Austria, spent a few days last week with her nephew, Rev. Otto S. Raspe, at the Universalist parsonage.

James Heenehan of Central street has returned from Jamestown, R. I., where he has been employed during the summer. He will go next week to Patterson, N. J., for a visit with relatives, before returning to Dartmouth College

HAMPDEN.

Death of Alanson Chaffee.

Alanson Chaffee, 89, the oldest resident of Hampden, died early Sunday morning. His niece, Mrs. Jones, who lives near his home, went about 9 o'clock to learn why he had not been over to her home that morning, and found that he was dead. He had a slight shock July 6, but had recovered and was in his usual health Saturday. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. A. C. Thompson, both of Hampden, the last of a family of 10. Mr. Chaffee was a mason by trade and was proud of the two tall brick chimneys by the Scantic river which have stood intact long since the mills burned, a monument to his faithful workmanship. The funeral was held Tuesday at 12 o'clock, Rev. L. P. Causey officiating, and burial was in the Butler district.

John C. Beebe of the U. S. geological survey is home from Montana for a two-weeks' vacation.

Miss Frances L Stockton has gone to Hyannis to take a position as supervisor of music in the public schools.

A Matter of Birthdays.

Teacher—Why were you not at school yesterday?

Willie—It was my birthday.

Teacher—But I don't stay home from school on my birthday.

Willie—Well, I guess you've got used to 'em.—Philadelphia Record.

BE READY.

Keep on trimming your lamps, filling your oil, tugging and pegging away. You can never tell when the messenger of success will come.

Diarrhœa is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

Old Time Trade Signs.

On nearly all street corners even in the largest metropolis of Europe may be found relics of the middle ages and of the earliest times. Take, for instance, the wooden image of a shoe, which every cobbler hangs out above his door. It goes back for its origin to the Rome of the pre-Christian era. In the ruins of the lava buried cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii many shop signs of stone and terra cotta have been discovered, the forerunners of those that for centuries adorned the highways not only of Europe, but of the new world. Among them was the emblem of the shoemaker's trade, a Cupid carrying a dainty pair of women's shoes. But the Romans did not stop there. They used the image of a goat to indicate the duties, that of a mule driving a mill to point out the bakers' shops and a bush of evergreen to direct the thirsty traveler to a tavern. This particular sign gave rise to the English proverb, "Good wine needs no bush."

The View From an Aeroplane.

It is a great surprise to the uninitiated to see how uniform the surface of the earth appears when viewed from a great altitude. Although individual objects are hard to identify, such things as rivers, lakes and railroads are easily recognized by their contour, direction or some slight individuality or characteristic which can readily be shown upon a map, especially if the maps are made or corrected by men who fly above the earth and get an accurate and literal bird's-eye view of its surface. Objects which seem to loom up with the greatest clearness to one standing on the surface of the earth appear very different and quite insignificant when viewed from above, while a patch of colored soil which would not be noticed at all by a person standing on the ground is a most valuable landmark to the air sailor. — Columbian Magazine.

Jumping Cocoons.

Many visitors to the southwestern states and Mexico have amused themselves by watching the queer motions of "jumping beans," the seed vessels of a plant, each of which contain the pupa of an insect whose spasmodic movements cause the bean to hop and roll about.

More remarkable are the "jumping cocoons" found in South Africa. The cocoon is formed by the mother insect and is very hard. The pupa when ready to emerge must cut its way out. The front of its head has a sharp, chisel-like edge, and by driving this against the inside of the shell it gradually makes a hole. The violent motions of the pupa within cause the cocoon to leap so that one has been seen to spring out of a small glass tumbler. —St. Louis Republic.

Volcanoes.

Volcanoes have been known to remain extinct for several hundred years and then become active.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK. PALMER, MASS.

Money deposited on or before Thursday, October 5th, will commence interest from October 1st.

BANKING HOURS:
9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

CHAS. L. WAID, Treasurer.

Palmer National Bank
Palmer, Mass.

We all should strive for economy and safety in the transaction of business matters.

You secure both of the principles by having a check account at this bank.

One of the economical benefits by paying your bills by check is avoiding the expense of Express or Postal Money Orders in paying your bills at distant points.

In remitting through the mails by check, you are using an economical and most safe way.

We issue Drafts, Letters of Credit and Travelers' Checks.

Collections a specialty.

Boston & Albany R. R.

$5 Popular Autumnal Excursion

October 4, 1911

Through the Berkshire Hills
Stop-over at Albany
Down the Historic Hudson
Stop-over at New York
A Sail to Boston by Steamer

Tickets now on sale for excursion going Wednesday, October 4th, good on all trains except Nos. 13, 15, 25 and 49. The route is through the heart of the Berkshire Hills, arriving in Albany in the afternoon.

Leave same evening via People's Line or next morning at 8.30 via the Hudson River Day Line steamer.

A day and night in New York City for sight-seeing, and thence via Fall River Line steamers to Boston. Stop-over in Boston will be permitted until Monday, October 9th.

Return to original starting point via Boston & Albany R. R.

Stop-over in New York Ten Days, $2.00 extra

Secure your tickets early from Boston & Albany R. R. Station Agents.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

WARRANT FOR PRIMARY.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

County of Hampden, ss. Town of Palmer.

To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County.

GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the Town House at Four Corners, in said Palmer, on Tuesday, the 26th day of September, A. D. 1911, at 7 o'clock in the evening, at which time the polls will be opened, and they shall be closed at 9 o'clock in the evening, then and there to bring in their votes on one ballot to the Primary Officers of Palmer for the candidates for nomination to the following offices, viz.: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General; Councillor for the Seventh Councillor District; Senator for the Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District; one Representative in the General Court for the First Hampden District; one County Commissioner for Hampden County; one Clerk of Courts for Hampden County; one Register of Deeds for Hampden County. Also for the election of delegates to the Republican State Convention, delegates to the Democratic State Convention, a Republican and a Democratic Town Committee for Palmer, a Republican and a Democratic member of the State Committee for Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said primary, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said primary.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said primary.

Given under our hands this fourteenth day of September, A. D. 1911. 24-2

GEORGE L. WARRINER, HAROLD W. BRAINERD, CHARLES D. HOLDEN, } Selectmen of Palmer.

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, croup, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

His Experience.

"Pa," said the boy, looking up from his book, "what does a man's 'better half' mean?"

"Usually, my son," replied his father from behind the evening paper, "she means exactly what she says."—Philadelphia Press.

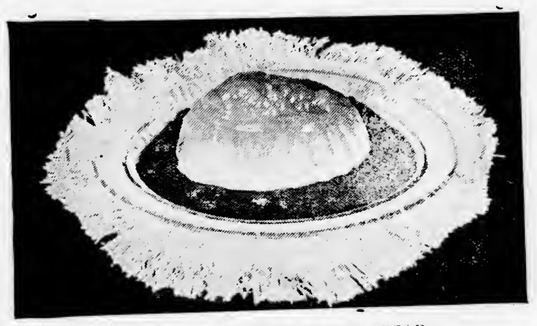
DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.



Can Palmer residents demand further proof than the following testimonial?

Mrs. G. H. Taylor, 23 Church St, Thorndike, Mass., says: "I willingly confirm all I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly endorsed them some years ago. I was in misery from kidney complaint and I was unable to turn in bed without grasping something for support. I was rarely free from pain and I knew that something must be done. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills I obtained a box and the first few doses had a beneficial effect. I continued taking this remedy and before long I was free from pain and enjoying good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

Household Hints.

SNOW PUDDING WITH MAPLE SUGAR.

A dessert made from milk thickened with corn starch may do well enough for the nursery table, but the more discriminating tastes of adults demand something less simple. By using less cornstarch and beating in the whites of the eggs a delicate melting dessert is made that is above criticism. The yolks may be used in a boiled custard to be served with the snowy mold or they may be used in a cooked salad dressing and fruit, marmalade or fresh berries can be served as a garnish to the dessert. The first strawberries will make a great show served in this way and the common apple pared, quartered and cooked without breaking in a sweet syrup may be used. Lay the quarters after draining just over-tapping round the mold.

The chief point to remember in using corn starch in any form of cookery is the necessity of cooking it well. To cook it until it thickens and no more will give a disagreeable taste and worse than all it leaves the starch grains but slightly broken and cooked. Raw starch is one of the most obstinate things for the digestive organs to subdue.

The dessert illustrated was made as follows: Scald two cups of milk, add three level tablespoons of corn starch and a pinch of salt dissolved in a little cold milk. Add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and pour into mold and let become firm. Unmold and surround with grated maple sugar, fruit or berries.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

New Tailored Suits, $15.95

For Small Women and Misses.

A lot of about forty Suits, made of odds and ends of new fall materials in gray tweeds, in "black and green" "mub" Suitings, in gray and dark navy zibelines and in black—all materials of $25.00 Suits, none of which can be had later in the season.

The coat is the new fall length, straight line with button trimming; the skirt is the new width, a practical stylish model.

These suits are made up by the same tailors who make our $25.00 and $30.00 Suits, in sizes for Misses and Small Women. We offer them at a very special price, $15.95

We Announce Many New Arrivals in

New Clothes for School Girls

New "Junior" Tailored Suits, $12.50 to $25

School Dresses in Fall Color Ginghams, and in woolen materials, 98c to $10

Regulation Sailor Dresses in serge, for Girls and Misses, $5.95 to $19.75

Stylish "Boyish" Coats for early Fall and Winter wear, $3.98 to $16.50

Raincapes for Girls, $1.98, $2.98 and $3.98

Second Floor.

Forbes & Wallace,
Springfield, Mass.

Fall Opening

OF

Soft Hats

The leading Fall shapes and colors now on display.

A Special at $2

Extra good quality in all colors.

Early Fall Showing of Negligee Shirts

Fine assortment—$1.00, $1.50

C. K. Gamwell,

Clothier and Furnisher,

Palmer, Mass.

Electric Wiring In All Its Branches

Motors and Engines furnished and Installed.
Special Attention to House Wiring,

Wm. C. Moulton. Phone 122-21. Monson

A New Opportunity!

Groton Long Point

THE LAST GREAT UNDEVELOPED SHORE PROPERTY

The Rise of the Tide

THE TIDE of OPPORTUNITY is at the FLOOD at Long Point. Are you going to allow that tide to recede? Are you going to occupy the position of the man who refused an Ocean Beach lot at $500 and has since seen them sell at $5,500?

Gold Out of Sand

There are skeptics, of course, there are. There are always those who will not see beyond their noses or think beyond established facts. "It can't be done," they say; "it is too large an undertaking. Why it's the old story of making gold out of sand." Nevertheless, there are those who have faith — to these we have sold 125 plots during the past six weeks. These are the people who want to get ahead in the world — the thinkers.

The secret of making gold out of sand is to first put gold into your sand. That is our secret of success. That is what we are doing. The owners of Long Point are all moneyed men — they take a just pride in their property—they are pledged to make great improvements —these improvements are under way.

Groton Long Point

Projecting 1¼ miles out into the Sound with 3 miles water frontage, is the finest property on the Connecticut coast. A nice Clubhouse (for use of purchasers only), a pier with 12 feet of water, 2 water plants and several miles of winding roads are all being built. Improvements contemplated are a trolley line through the property and theatre a mile from the residence section The $1,000,000 harbor improvements will boom New London.

Bear This in Mind

Long Point is a restricted property both as to the character of people sold to and to buildings. Isn't that the sort of place you want for your summer home? The population of this country is increasing every year —more people are going to the seashore; but shore front property cannot increase a single foot. This spells monoply for those who own it.

What This Means For You

Once in a life time is a new beach started, think of this seriously. You have money idle in Savings Banks at 4 per cent. Come to Long Point, study the situation, then ask yourself if an investment in this new beach offers a sane, clean cut, safe business proposition. It takes a lifetime to double your money in a savings bank. You should do so in a few years at Long Point. The best proof of words is a study of how we have made good our former words by deeds. Isn't it worth while to look into this? Say-Brooke Manor Beach, Conn.; Boscobell Island in Hudson River; Eastwood, Long Island; Haworth, N. J., these were all promises that were fulfilled.

Plots 50x150 feet, $195 upward—10 per cent down and $4 monthly

Tents or bungalows can be erected when the first payment is made. Sensible restrictions covering nationalities and buildings are for the protection of everyone. We plan to profit by the mistakes of other beaches.

To Reach the Property

Take Ferryboat five minutes past or fifteen minutes before the hour, to Groton; there take trolley (a twenty-two minute ride.) Notify the conductor to let you off at Groton Long Point.

Come now and have first choice. Send for booklet and list of purchasers.

Jas. Jay Smith Co., Established 1879, 50 State St., New London

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Death of Joseph H. Davis.

Joseph H. Davis, 81, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas A. McCrea, Monday afternoon after a brief illness. The announcement of his death was a great surprise to his many friends and acquaintances. Being a kind and genial person, he made many friends and his death is deeply regretted. Mr. Davis was born in Warren, but for the past 12 years had made his home in Thorndike. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the home of his daughter, Mrs. McCrea, Rev. Charles C. Gorst, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating. Miss Doris Paine and Edwin E. Brooks of Palmer sang "Looking Beyond," and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The bearers were Samuel E. Thayer, James T. Campbell, M. William Holden and Rupert V. Carter. Burial was in Pine Grove cemetery in Warren. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Thomas A. McCrea, and one son, Joseph F. Davis, superintendent of the Thorndike Co's. mill, besides several grandchildren.

Evening Whist Party.

The following young people were entertained at whist by Miss Mary Moran at her home on Friday evening: Miss Lizzie Sullivan, Miss Josephine Sugrue, Miss Marguerite Sullivan, Miss Mary Loftus, Miss Anuetta Loftus, Miss Nora Sullivan, Miss Beatrice Cavanaugh, Bernard Loftus, Edward McKelligott, John Sullivan, Daniel Sugrue, John F. Luman Jr. Refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed by all.

New Bottling Firm.

Frank Matera and Joseph Nagella, both of this place, have formed a partnership and will conduct what is known as the Standard Soda Bottling Co. The new firm are to manufacture soda water. New machinery has been installed in their building on School street and electric power will be used. They will run a delivery team to the villages of Palmer, Lndlow and Ware for the sale of their product.

Class Confirmed.

Rt. Rev. Thomas D. Beaven, bishop of Springfield diocese administered confirmation to a large class of boys and girls at St. Peter and St. Paul's church on Wednesday evening. Several visiting clergymen were in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Walker of Palmer visited friends here Monday.

Mrs. H. A. Dumphy, wife of Dr. Dumphy, is visiting in Saxon River, Vt.

Miss Alice Kingston of Barre is the guest of friends in town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mooers are enjoying a trip through New York state.

Mrs. B. Cavanaugh and family are entertaining Miss Sadie Abbott of Magnolia.

The annual collection for fuel will take place next Sunday in St. Mary's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Parker have returned this week from a visit in New York.

John F. Hayden has taken a position as shipping clerk in the Wright Wire Mill, Palmer.

There was no school Monday afternoon for the lower grades on account of the rainy weather.

Miss Mary Hartnett has been passing the week in Chester, as the guest of Mrs. Nolan and family.

Maurice C. Healey and wife have returned from their visit with relatives in New Haven, Ct.

Mrs. Ida M Bond has returned from North Brookfield, where she has been visiting her son Harry.

The open season on duck began to-day and many of the gunners will no doubt be out to try their luck.

Mrs Katherine Flynn of High street, one of the oldest residents of this place, is seriously ill at her home.

Miss Katherine Casey has opened millinery parlors in the Shiel building on Commercial street this week.

There was a heavy frost on Wednesday night which did considerable damage to garden truck and some fruit.

Misses Ora and Eva Chabot have returned from their pleasure trip to Taunton, New Bedford and Providence, R. I.

Mrs. T J. Clifford and sister, Mrs. F. E. Walker of Springfield, have returned from a visit with relatives in Clinton.

Miss Minnie O'Connor of South Hadley Falls has been the guest of her sister, Mrs K T. Loftus and family this week.

Miss Grace Strong of Hartford, Ct., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Emery on Church street this week.

Rev. P J. Griffin, pastor of St. Mary's church, attended the dedicatory exercises of the new chapel at Leeds Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smart have moved from Palmer Center to a tenement on Commercial street owned by J. J. Kelley.

Mrs. B. J. Sullivan has returned home after a week's stay with friends in Springfield and the western part of the state.

John Murphy of New York has bought the Shiel building, consisting of a tenement and store, situated on Commercial street.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stimson and family of Palmer Center have been entertaining friends from New York state the past week

Mrs. Nettie Hurd of Springfield has moved here and will reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bond on High street.

Rev P. J Griffin, pastor of St. Mary's church, attended the confirmation exercises Wednesday at St. Peter and St. Paul's church.

Joseph Bushman, who suffered a fall some days ago, is still confined to his home on Commercial street as a result of the mishap

Miss Nellie Fleming visited over Sunday with her sisters, the Misses Fleming of Main street, returning to Springfield in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hutt, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Clark, have returned to their home in South Manchester, Ct.

A herd of nine deer, four old and five fawns, were discovered this week feeding in the vacant lot near Round Pond, Forest Lake district.

Mrs. K. T. Loftus and Miss Nellie O'Keefe went to Monson Monday evening to attend the social gathering given by Wiseman Court, M. C. O F.

Work on the new building to be erected on the corner of School and Main streets is progressing rapidly and it will in a short period be ready for occupancy.

The banns of marriage were published Sunday at St. Mary's church between Joseph Noonan of Easthampton and Miss Katherine Hartnett of Three Rivers.

Despite the many recent rain storms the water in the Ware river is low and several of the wells in the village which ran dry some months ago have not been refilled as yet.

Joseph Bushman, who suffered a fall some days ago and who has been confined to his home on Commercial street, was able to be out of doors again yesterday for a while.

Miss Irene Henry gave a party Wednesday to a number of her little friends at the home of her parents on Church street, the occasion being the anniversary of her fifth birthday.

Dennis F. Leary will resume the management of the bowling alleys in Bond's Exchange block again this season and expects to have the alleys in fine condition for opening the coming week.

Frank Loftus disposed of several baskets of peaches in town this week from the orchard of John Waid in Monson. The fruit is the finest seen in this section for years and found a ready market.

Prof. J. D. Kelley of Springfield is to open a dancing school in Union Hall the 26th of this month. Mr. Kelley conducted a most successful class here last fall and winter and will no doubt have a large class this year.

Miss Katherine Casey will hold her fall millinery opening in her new store in the Shiel building on Commercial street next Friday evening. Miss Anna E. Bornemann of New York, a practical and experienced milliner, has been engaged by Miss Casey to assist her.

Several of the baseball fans are disappointed to think that the Bondsville and Three Rivers teams cannot see the way clear to play ont the postponed game as there was much intrest shown and the game would no doubt attract a large number from this place.

Dr. George W. W. Field, chairman, of Boston and Commissioner George H. Graham of Springfield, members of the Fish and Game Commission of Massachusetts, were in Palmer Tuesday. Several places were visited by the commissioners, who are making a trip through the Commonwealth with a view of possibly establishing a hatchery and bird farm in some section of the state. The commissioners were accompanied on their trip by Mr. Galbraithe of Palmer, Town Clerk John F. Foley and Deputy John F. Luman, the trip being made in Mr. Foley's auto, and was much enjoyed by the visitors. They were shown the Quahoag river in which so many anglers from all parts of the state are interested on account of the fine front fishing offered.

THREE RIVERS.

R. Louis Thayer spent Sunday with his brother in Dudley.

Dr. B. A. Greene of Main street spent the week in Boston.

Master Leo Gibelean is seriously ill at his home on Springfield street.

Miss Bertha Pulsifer was the week-end guest of friends in Springfield.

Ralph Truman spent the last of the week with relatives in Gilbertville.

Albert Senecal of East Main street was the week-end guest of friends in Ware.

James Cole of Palmer street visited friends in Worcester the last of the week.

Mrs. John Matchett of Main street spent the week-end with her sister in Springfield.

John Burse of Lndlow was the week-end guest of his parents on Springfield street.

William Tromblay has resigned his position in the carpenter shop of the Palmer Mill.

George Matchett of Holyoke has taken a position in the card room of the Palmer Mill.

Miss Mabel Geer of Belchertown road has returned to her studies at Northfield Seminary.

William Smith, janitor of the grammar school, is seriously ill at his home on Main street.

John O'Connor of Wanregan, Ct., is visiting his mother at their home on Main street.

Irving Allen of Worcester was the guest Sunday of his father, J. E Allen of Maple street.

The Ladies' Aid Society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Trickett.

Miss Emma and Enclide Barber of Bonrue street are spending the week in Plattsburg.

A slight frost was reported by the farmers in this vicinity after Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Rev. Paul Webber is moving his family into the house of Miss Anna Murdock on Main street.

Miss Minnie McGowan has resigned her position in Boston and taken one in the Palmer Mill.

Miss Isabel Kettle of Gilbertville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jamison on Kelley street.

Samuel Taylor of Whitinsville spent the first of the week with Wilson Clark on Palmer street.

Miss Nettie Rogers, who has been seriously ill at her home on Springfield street, is slowly convalescing.

Moses Smith and James Cassell of West Springfield visited with their families on Palmer street Sunday.

Many attended the funeral of Joseph Davis, a former resident of this place, in Thorndike Wednesday.

Miss F. Trembly has resigned her position in the weaving room of the Palmer mill and has taken one in Ware.

Miss Gertrude Hartnett of Main street left Tuesday to begin her studies in the Westfield normal school.

Floyd Graham, who sprained his ankle in the Thorndike-Three Rivers game Labor Day, is improving rapidly.

Edward Cohen has returned to New York, where he will complete his course in the New York public schools.

Miss Nellie Cune of Nashua, N. H., is spending the week at the home of Miss Lillie Coyer on Pleasant street.

Raymond Warriner of Springfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warriner on Maple street.

Wilson Clark of Palmer street has resigned his position in the yard of the Palmer Mill and taken one in Gilbertville.

John Wilson is building a new six-tenement block on North street. The work is being done by Gibelean & Hebert.

Frank Burse of Springfield visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burse on School street, the last of the week.

John Duprey has taken a position with the Central Vermont on a new bridge which is being built at Barrett's Junction.

Frank Fleury of Kelly street has resigned his position in Brooklyn and taken one in the weaving room of the Palmer Mill.

Dominic Accorsi is making plans for putting plate glass windows in all his stores, the work to be done by Joseph Gibelean.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rycroft of West Warren spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Trickett on Front street.

Clayton Mills of Springfield street broke his arm just above the elbow by falling from a rock while at play Monday evening

The members of the Union church of this village are discussing plans for an "Old Home Sunday," the last of October.

F. A. Upham has returned from a six weeks' trip to Europe. Mr. Upham has been asked to deliver a lecture on his trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prendergast of Main street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter this week in Ware.

The Wielewicz Brothers and Michael Fredericks and clerks held a picnic in the Kroolick Grove on Belchertown road recently.

A large number of Polish children from this village were confirmed by Bishop Beaven at their church at Four Corners recently.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or boils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cures them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cures cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Miss May Moynahan has returned to her home at the Riverside Hotel after a vacation spent at Winthrop Beach with Miss Tillie Jones.

Joseph Dagnais and daughter have returned to their home in Montreal, Quebec, after spending several weeks with relatives in this village.

Blanchard's orchestra of Southbridge has been engaged to furnish music at the Red Men's trading post, to be held Oct. 13, 14, 20 and 21.

Isaac Cole of Gilbertville, who has just returned from Ireland, spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie on Palmer street.

Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Motyka, was united in marriage to Walter Dymou Thursday morning in St. Peter and St. Paul's church.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sibley and son John and grandchildren of Ware were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Willis on Springfield street.

Miss Mary Hawn has returned to her home in Norwich, Ct., after spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson on Springfield street.

George Vacha of Main street has resigned his position as brakeman on the Central Vermont railroad and taken one in the hat shop in Amherst.

Mrs. Catherine Rock and grandson, Master Neil Doyle, have returned to their home in Worcester after spending a few weeks with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kerigan and daughter Annie of New Bedford were the guests of Mrs. J. F. Twiss at her home on Springfield street the first of the week.

Albert Farrell of Springfield street has resigned his position in the machine shop of the Palmer Mill and has taken one in Lowell, where he will move his family.

Albert Jenks, supervisor of the correspondence course at Amherst Agricultural College, spent the first of the week with his mother on Belchertown road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calkins of Maple street have returned to their home after a week's vacation spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Geer in South Belchertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Ide of Rockville, Ct., formerly of this place, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter at Wesson Maternity hospital last Thursday.

The banns of marriage were published for the first time Sunday at St. Mary's church, Thorndike, between Miss Katherine Hartnett of this village and Joseph Noonan of Springfield.

Charles Ruggles is installing gas in the Pastime Motion Picture Palace. He has had erected a gas light at the entrance, which will be very much welcomed by all travelers on that street.

The business men of this village held a clam bake in Cheney's grove Wednesday afternoon. About 35 were present and all reported a pleasant time in spite of the sudden drop in the mercury.

The Italian, who was arrested here several weeks ago, was tried at the court in Boston this week. Joseph Ruckley of this place acted as interpreter, and Henry Ruckley as one of the witnesses.

Ralph Willis is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Willis on Springfield street. Mr. Willis has resigned his position in Montreal to accept one at the State Agricultural Experiment Station, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

A fire created much excitement here Tuesday afternoon. It was in the colored cotton store room of the Palmer Mill. It was caused by some foreign substance striking the fan, causing a spark. The prompt and earnest efforts of the employes soon mastered the flames.

The Sunday school held a social in the vestry of the Union church Tuesday evening, the following program being carried out:

Address.	Rev. C. B. McDuffie
Piano solo.	Ralph Warriner
Vocal solo.	Alice Turkington
Reading.	Carrie Woodworth
Piano solo.	Thelma Keith
Vocal solo.	George E. Rycroft
Reading.	Bertha Farrell
Piano solo.	Lucy Geer
Vocal solo.	Blanche Upham
Remarks.	F. A. Upham

Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the entertainment.

BONDSVILLE.

Death of Daniel Keys.

Daniel Keys, 70, for many years a resident of this village, died Monday after an illness of a week of diseases incident to old age. He leaves five children, Mrs. John Boyle of New York, Patrick Keys of Bondsville, Mrs. Joseph Laduc of Leominster, Mrs. James Fitzgerald and Mrs. William Lusty of Bondsville. The funeral was held from the home of her son, Patrick Keys, with high mass of requiem at St. Bartholomew's church Wednesday morning, Rev. Thomas H. Kennedy officiating The bearers were James Fitzgerald of Bondsville, Joseph Laduc of Leominster, Michael Moriarty, John Garvey, Peter Shea, John Keys of Chicopee. Burial was in the Thordike cemetery.

Mrs. J. T. Heys went Thursday to Boston for treatment.

Daniel Quirk of Ware was a guest Tuesday of relatives.

Raymond Newton of Somerville called on friends Tuesday.

William Simpson of Lee was a guest over Sunday of his family.

John T. Heys of Chicopee Falls spent Sunday with his family.

A daughter was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. William Lusty.

Mr. and Mrs Joseph Laduo of Leominster returned home Wednesday.

Byron Moore is spending a week's vacation in Buffalo and Canada.

Christopher Magee of Springfield visited his parents Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nora Connor of Belchertown was a guest Wednesday of Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Mrs. William Taylor is a guest of her son, Frank Taylor and family in Springfield.

Mrs F. E Albro was a guest Thursday of her sister, Mrs. James C. Hall in Springfield.

Lester Lucas of Leeds spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lucas.

Miss Agues Carmody of Westfield normal school spent Sunday at her home in this village.

B. Vahey of Willimansett has accepted a position with the Boston Duck Co. as engineer.

Mrs. John Matthews of New Braintree, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banister.

Miss Belle Snow of Belchertown spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Mrs. Michael Sullivan is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCoy in Dorchester, this week.

Mrs John Boyle of New York city is a guest this week of her sister, Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

Miss Mildred Hartwell of Greenfield was a guest over Sunday of F. E. Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter a few days ago.

Mrs. Catherine McCarthy is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. John Quirk in Ware.

Miss Minnie O'Connor of South Hadley Falls is visiting her cousin, Miss Lnla Austin, this week.

Michael Murphy, who was badly injured in the street railway accident two or three weeks ago, is reported as being slightly better.

Miss Redhead of Lowell, who was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. William Simpson, has returned home.

Mrs. John Matthews Sr. and Mrs. C. H. Banister spent Thursday with Mrs. John Matthews Jr. in Southbridge.

One of the heaviest frosts known for years so early in the season ruined the vegetation Wednesday night.

A. Walker of Willimansett has accepted the position of electrician for the Boston Duck Co. at the power house.

Mrs. Baggett, who has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Randall, went Tuesday to Athol.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittet of Lowell, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce, returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis and son Kendall of Springfield spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davis.

E. E. Woolard went the first of the week to Amesbury, where he has taken a position. He will move his family a little later.

Mrs. Timothy Shea and two children, former residents, now of Holyoke, called on old friends and neighbors Sunday.

Mrs. C. J. Harding and daughter of Connecticut are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Damon of the Forest Lake district.

Miss Lydia Marsan and brother, Winfield Marsan of Springfield, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Marsan.

Rufus Bond Jr., who has been confined for the past week at his home by illness, was able to commence his school work Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morrisette and family of Easthampton, who were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Charron, have returned home.

Mrs. Heys, who has lived for the past four years with her son, J. T. Heys, went to-day to England, where she will make her future home.

Miss Mary Fitzgerald, Miss Margaret Lee and Miss Elizabeth Brown were the guests of Patrick Moriarty and family of High street over Sunday.

Frank York, who has been for the past two weeks in the House of Mercy Hospital in Springfield, has returned and is much improved in health

Mrs. W. H. Upham, who has been a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shaver in Altoona, Pa., the past five weeks, returned home Friday.

Miss Geneva Billings, who has been a guest of friends and relatives in Williamsburg and Chicopee Falls for two weeks, returned home Monday.

Harold Albro, who has been suffering for two weeks with a badly cut foot, was able Monday to commence his school work at the Palmer high school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, who has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. John Matthews in New Braintree returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. Rafiel White and daughter, Miss Catherine of Washington, D. C, returned to their home Monday after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Edward Lucas.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart and two daughters, Evelyn and Ruth, returned Tuesday from a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Penly in Auburn, Maine.

Miss Bridget Keys, Miss Nellie Griffin, Miss Minnie Griffin, Miss Katie Sullivan and John Keys, all of Chicopee, attended the funeral of their uncle, Daniel Keys, Wednesday.

Miss Agnes Carmody, Miss Agnes Sullivan and Miss Kathleen Quirk have entered the normal school at Westfield. They are all graduates from Palmer high school in the class of 1911.

The pupils of the ninth grade in the grammar school held their first meeting Monday afternoon. These officers for the year were chosen: President, John B. Moriarty; vice-president, Charles Donohue; secretary, Mary E. Heys; treasurer, William Donohue.

A clam chowder supper for members of the Boudsville Country Club and their families was held at the club house Wednesday evening. An excellent supper was served at 6 30, of which a good sized company partook. Following the supper cards were played and dancing was enjoyed.

Next Sunday Rev. J. P. Kennedy, the district superintendent, will preach, after which the quarterly conference will be held at 11 45. The evening service will be held at 6 30, and will be addressed by Rev. H. A. Klimer of Springfield. This will be a union service and the Epworth League service will be omitted.

The Ladies' Aid Society met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Upham. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. F. E. Albro. These officers will serve; President, Mrs. W. H. Upham; first vice president, Mrs. O. A. Parent; second vice president, Mrs. C. H. Banister; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Morse; assistant secretary, Mrs. F. E. Albro; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Collis; flower committee, Mrs. E. J. Loy, Mrs. H. C. Morgan, Mrs. A. M. Billings, Mrs. George Moulton; entertainment committee, Mrs. W. H. Upham, Mrs. V. C. Faunce, Mrs. Harry Randall, Mrs C. D. Holden; work committee, Mrs. C. H. Collis, Mrs. George Monitou, Mrs. Charles Banister, Mrs. William Taylor. It was voted to hold a baked-bean and salad supper the 26th.

Why the Head of a Lion.

A custom there is in most parts of Europe to adorn aqueducts, spouts and cisterns with lions' heads, which, though no illaudable ornament, is of an Egyptian genealogy, who practiced the same under a symbolical illation. For because the sun being in Leo, the flood of Nilus was at the full and water became conveyed into every part, they made the spouts of their aqueducts through the head of a lion. —Sir Thomas Browne, "Vulgar "Errors."

Eskimo Beliefs.

Eskimos believe that earth and air are filled with spirits. The one drags men into the earth by the feet, from which they never emerge, the other strikes men dead, leaving no mark. They often stop and listen and say that Tuna of the wind is passing by, imagining that the air is full of voices.

Violent Language.

First Deaf Mute—So when he heard the report he got furious about it. Second Deaf Mute—Furious! Why, he was so mad that the words he used almost blistered his fingers. — Exchange.

Curious.

Mayme—Sure I used to go with him. Did you tell him I was going to be married? Grayce—I sure did. Mayme—Did he ask how soon? Grayce—No; he asked how long.—Toledo Blade.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Boston Letter.

White's Chances for the Nomination — Frothingham Will Probably Get It — The Negro Vote—Aid For Representative Districts — Death of Charles H Ames — Chief Justiceship Nominations.

BOSTON, Sept. 13, 1911.

Some people believe that Norman H. White has a good chance of being the Republican nominee for governor. One of the leading Republicans of Brookline, an experienced politician, says to-day that it looks as if White would carry the town against Walker. The reason is that White is putting out a large sum of money, this Republican says. If Walker would only put out as much as White, he says, there would be no doubt that Walker would carry the town. But Walker has laid it down as a matter of principle that large sums of money ought not to be spent in getting nominations and he sticks to his ideas. On the other hand, as this man puts it, there is a great magic in the word passed around that a man is a "good spender." It helps with a large number of voters whose ideas of political virtue are not high. It seems to them that a man is generous, putting out money where it will make things active, and that such good fellowship ought to be recognized. This, it is said, is working to White's advancement.

One of the foremost Republicans of Worcester was at the Republican state headquarters to-day. He would not be surprised, he said, to see either of the three carry Worcester, though he seemed to have the idea that White was perhaps the strongest. He has made a prediction that there will be 5000 Republican votes cast in Worcester on September 26, and that White will get 2000 of them. It is very doubtful whether Walker can carry his native city. There seems to be an opinion that White is a "coming" candidate, and there are other predictions that he will finish second in the race. He is the only one of the three about whom any suggestion of the religious element has been introduced, but there continues to be heard statements that he is working the old A. P. A. influence. There is a very singular complication at that point. The British Americans have been the backbone of the A. P. A. movement. But one of them tells me to-day that they are particularly opposed to White. This is because of two reasons. First in his strong support of Senator Lodge, when the senator was a candidate for reëlection. They object to Lodge because of his constant desire to twist the tail of the British lion, a creature very dear to them. Hence, if White supports Lodge, they distrust White. The second reason is that White spoke in the House against reciprocity. They want reciprocity and dislike the man who would keep up the old tariff. Hence, White, in spite of the religous complications, does not have their support.

At this end of the state, the outlook has not changed from the large preponderance of belief that Lieut.-Gov. Frothingham will win. Even if Walker has strength in Western Massachusetts, which they do not concede in any material degree, yet that entire section does not figure up very strong when it comes to balloting. It is conceded that Frothingham still holds this part of the state by a good strong grip, and it is not seen how it can be shaken. Politicians here will be much disappointed if either of the candidates wins. There does not seem to be any great interest in the direct nominations and there is heard very little talk on trains and on the street. The situation is dull, compared with most years preceding a presidential election.

One of the brightest of the negro politicians was at the Republican headquarters to-day and it appears that the colored voters are with the Republicans this year, as usual, in spite of their former complaining of the managers because the colored people were not recognized better in the distribution of the offices. What holds them in line is the action of the Democrats in the Southern states. They never forget the disfranchisement of their race by the Democratic leaders in the South. The resolution in Congress against the popular election of United States senators unless a declaration was made that the election should be under the national constitution, so as to shut off all attempts to stampede the votes, called the Bristow amendment, had their strong support. They like Senator Lodge because he supported that amendment and they are evidently straight party men this year.

At the Democratic state headquarters, they are busy attending to the details of the campaign which can be attended to before the primaries. They are especially amused at the assumption of some men to-day that the party will go to the dogs because Gov. Foss sent to the council to-day the nomination of Arthur P. Rugg of Worcester for the supreme court.

Representatives Hobbs of Worcester and Holmes of Kingston have been at the Republican state headquarters to-day, looking out for the representative districts which may need help in the effort to redeem them from the Democrats. Any district whose Republican candidate applies will have attention, but they have their eyes upon the following especially: In Berkshire county, the first, second, fourth, sixth and seventh districts; in Bristol, the second; in Essex, the second, fifth, eleventh, thirteenth and fourteenth; in Hampden, the second, third, sixth and tenth; in Hampshire, the first and fourth; in Middlesex, the first, sixth, tenth, eleventh, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first; in Norfolk, the seventh and ninth; in Plymouth, the first, fifth, sixth, tenth and eleventh; in Worcester, the eighth, twelfth and eighteenth. Mr. Hobbs has certain days on which to come and relieve Mr. Holmes, who is the regular secretary of the committee, but has a contest on his hands for renomination. Hobbs is feeling quite happy in the absence of any opposition, either for the nomination or election.

The Twentieth Century Club feels deeply the loss of Charles H. Ames, of the publishing house of D. C. Heath & Co. The president of the club, Rev. Charles F. Dole of Jamaica Plain, conducted the funeral service at the house in West Newton yesterday afternoon, and the secretary, Edward H. Chandler, was one of the representatives at the funeral. Mr. Ames was a graduate of the class of '70, Amherst College, (which was represented by floral tribute at the funeral) and he always kept up his interest in the study of philosophy, being a very warm admirer and follower of the late Professor William T. Harris, formerly national commissioner of education and chief figure of the Concord summer school of philosophy, which had much prominence some 25 years ago. Ames' wife was a Sunderland girl. She and four children, one of them a Smith graduate, survive him. One of the sisters of Mr. Ames—Lucie True—is wife of Edwin D. Mead. The Meads are lecturing in Europe on the peace and world organization movement, he having delivered an address at the Universal Congress of Races in London in July, and both of them being delegates to the international peace congress which will meet in Rome in October.

Gov. Foss's nomination of Judge Rugg of Worcester for the chief justiceship of the supreme court makes some people think that the judge has been particularly fortunate since Gov. Guild took him up and put him on the supreme bench right over the heads of all the superior bench judges. It does not seem long since he was before legislative committees and the railroad commission as city solicitor of Worcester, and now, behold, he is at the top of the judiciary system of the state. It is a high honor and doubtless Worcester county people, as well as the many personal friends of the judge, will appreciate the appointment. Of course the council will confirm it at their meeting next week, to which it was laid over under the rules. Now comes the question of the nomination of a man for the vacancy. The religious interest is strong, especially among the British American element, for fear that Gov. Foss will nominate Judge De Courcy, who is a Catholic, and they charge that he has nominated too many already,— six, to two Protestants. They will not object to Prof. Williston of Harvard, nor Judge Crosby of the superior bench. But another Catholic appointment would cost the governor votes enough to make his defeat a possibility.

LANDON.

For howel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

A GIFT

And What It Brought

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Mother," said Edith Maynard, a girl of sixteen and just entering the age of romance, "I wish you would tell me a love story. Tell me one that really happened."

"Very well, dear, I know one that happened right in the family. I'll tell you about it. One summer day a little girl—we'll call her Emma, though that wasn't her real name—was about to go to the store of the village in which she lived to buy a dress. Her birthday was soon to come round, and her father had given her a five dollar gold piece to buy the dress for her birthday present. The day was hot, and she took care to keep under the shade of the trees that lined the road. Presently she came upon a boy—he looked to be about fifteen—lying asleep in the grass under one of the trees.

"Emma stopped to look at him. He was a handsome lad, slender and tall for his age, with a profusion of black curly hair tumbled over his forehead. His shirt was open at the neck, exposing his throat. His whole figure was relaxed as only can occur in slumber.

"But even in sleep his face was troubled. His clothes had evidently been good when new, but they were now shabby. Emma wondered who he was and what troubled him. There is something very winning about a sleeper. Perhaps it is that relaxation I have spoken of—that nonresistance which is so endearing in innocent children. At any rate, Emma, as she stood looking down at him, took him right into her heart.

"She would like to do something for him to take that troubled look off his face and replace it with a smile. It occurred to her to drop her gold piece into his flattened straw hat that lay beside him, then stand off and watch his expression when he awoke and saw it lying there shining in the sunlight flickering through the trees. But if she did this she must go without her dress. She involuntarily clutched the half eagle in a tighter grip. Again she pictured the boy awakening and his pleasure at seeing the coin in his hat. And thus she wavered till her sympathy and the pleasure of giving pleasure triumphed, and she dropped her gold piece into the hat. Then she climbed the fence beside the road and hid in some tall wheat which was nearly ready to be harvested.

"She waited nearly half an hour, not daring to take her eyes off the boy for an instant, fearing she would miss that first look of surprise she was giving treasure to see. At last he stretched himself, rubbed his eyes with his fists and sat up. He seemed to be trying to nerve himself to get up and go on, but was too tired to do so. Presently, with a sigh, he reached for his hat and saw the half eagle.

"It is questionable which would have been more delightful to a third person, the look of surprise of the boy or the expression of the little girl hidden in the wheat, clasping her hands over her breast as if to still the beating of her little heart, her eyes beaming with pleasure and expectancy.

"His eyes were fixed on the coin for a moment, then he began to look about him for the donor. Emma enjoyed it all immensely for awhile, then she began to think about what she should do. Would she make herself known or remain in hiding and let the boy go away with her treasure without knowing who had given it to him? If she took the former course he would return the gold piece. If she took the latter she would have given away her birthday present to one who could not even know her as the giver of it.

"But Emma was not a girl to go this far in doing a kindness and turn back. She kept very still, watching the boy, and it seemed as if she could read his thoughts. She fancied him saying, holding the coin in his hand and looking at it, 'I'm going to invest this money and work and save and make a fortune out of it.' Then, standing on his feet after looking all about him, he put the coin in his pocket and reluctantly went on.

"A great many years passed."

"How many years, mother?"

"Let me see. Emma had grown to be twenty-five years old, and she was about twelve when she gave away her birthday present. That means thirteen years.

"One day she heard that a man had offered to build a social clubhouse and give it to the town. The reason he offered it was that when a poor boy on his way to the city to look for a situation he had gone to sleep on the outskirts of the village and some one had dropped a five dollar gold piece into his hat. He had made lucky investments with the money, and it had grown from $5 to $20,000. But more than this, it had given him hope and courage, and he had succeeded in other directions. He wished to return the gift with interest, and, not knowing the donor, would give it to the town.

"Well, Emma met this man and became very much interested in him and he in her. One day when they were together—

"I know the end of the story," interrupted Edith. "He was the boy to whom Emma had given the half eagle."

"That isn't all there is to it," replied the mother.

"What else is there?"

"He was father and I am Emma."

The Oil Palm Tree.

The oil palm of Liberia survives the burning of brush around it when land is cleared for cultivation.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.,—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

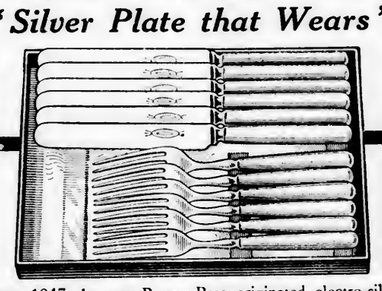
"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Greaton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth.

"Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.



For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

The testimonials which are constantly being published in the Pinkham advertisements are guaranteed to be absolutely genuine, honest, and given without reward in any way whatever.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

"Silver Plate that Wears"

Since 1847, the year Rogers Bros. originated electro-silver plating, silverware bearing the trade mark "1847 ROGERS BROS." has been renowned for quality, wearability and beauty.

1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE

stamped on forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces is a guarantee of heaviest plating, perfect workmanship and exquisite design, assuring long and satisfying service. Any article of silverware marked "1847 ROGERS BROS." may be selected without further investigation.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L" showing all patterns.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO., Meriden, Conn.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 22, 1911. NUMBER 25.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing
See these prices for machine work:
Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85
Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.
H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Moores, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid.
Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.
TRAINS GOING SOUTH.
LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.
GOING NORTH.
LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.
J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, as it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,
O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

Sweaters
FOR Men, Women, Boys, Girls, Infants
50c to $5.00
NEW LINE.
W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Millinery Opening!
Our Opening of Fall Fashions
will be held
Wednesday and Thursday
Sept. 27th and 28th
Public respectfully invited
Hannifin=Ahern,
345 Main St., Holden's Block, Palmer.

Your Attention
Is called to our large assortment of
Ginghams and Percales
Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.
Hellyar's Bargain Store
Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE
Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Scholars-- Attention
Everything For School Days at
Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment Cures Strains, Bruises, Sprains, Rheumatic pains, Pains in the Chest, Side and Back, Swellings and Tumors, Frost Bites, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Croup, Hoarseness. 25c and 50c a bottle.
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

Albert Steiger Company,
"The Woman's Store"
SPRINGFIELD, . . . MASS.

OPENING DAYS
A LITTLE TALK ON SUIT STYLES

LIVING MODELS
Will Display
Suits, Coats, Dresses and Evening Gowns
Daily
Throughout Week
Morning 10 to 12 o'clock
Afternoon 2.30 to 5 o'clock

The Tailor-Made Suit promises to enjoy a wider vogue this Fall than ever. This is particularly true of the severely tailored models, where excellence of tailoring and beauty of materials combine in unusual degree to win public favor. The new jacket length ranging from 28 to 30 inches lends a swagger air to these models, becoming to most women, while the straight line skirt, devoid of bands or folds, gives height to the wearer. There'll certainly be no complaint of th new models dwarfing one's stature. Our present stock is unusually large and comprehensive. We'd urge an early inspection, while assortments are at their best. Added to all this, we can serve you better now than later, when our workroom will surely be overcrowded with alteration work. An early selection is certainly to your advantage—let us serve you now.

Our line of sizes and styles ranges from the Miss in her teens to the Woman of advanced years, and includes—
13, 15 and 17 Year Junior Suits 14, 16, 18 and 20 Year Misses' Suits.
Sizes 32 to 44 Women's Suits.
Sizes 35 to 49 Women's Suits for those who cannot be fitted to regular sizes.

Some Thirty Select Models in Suits at $25

Their attractive quality beggars description—in a nutshell—they're the value limit at the price. By all means give them a look. They include 28 to 30-inch man tailored models in Scotch Mixtures, Two-tone Whipcord Suitings, Wide Wale Serges, French Serges, Broadcloths and Cheviots. Coats are mostly in severely plain mannish effects, some with large French revers, while skirts are modeled on straight line effects. All are lined in excellent quality Peau de Cygne or Skinner's Satin $25

Other Models at $17.50, $18.75, $19.75 and $22.50

Handsomely Tailored Suits at $29.75 to $45
Models in these suits are shown in Zibilines, Camel's Hair Suitings, Imported Irish Homespuns, Chamois Cloth, Broadcloth and Wide Wale Cheviots, Velvets and Corduroys. All hand tailored and finished like custom made garments—
$29.75, $34.50, $37.50 and $45

Adaptation of French Models $39.75 to $87.50
In this lot are shown models in Trimmed Tailored and Fancy Trimmed Suits, Velvets, Corduroys and Broadcloths. Mostly model suits and only one of a kind—
$39.75, $45, $55, $67.50, $75 and $87.50
Second Floor.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING.

Money Voted For Repair of High School Addition.

ALSO FOR SEWERS IN THREE RIVERS.

Small Attendance and Not a Word of Criticism or Comment on Any Matter.

Interest in town affairs is curiously lacking if the small attendance at the special town meeting Monday afternoon is to be taken as an indication. This is the more surprising in view of the fact that the matters involved were sewers in streets where it is alleged they are very much needed, a highway proposition involving a substantial outlay, and repairs in the high school building which involve the safety of pupils who attend that institution. Yet the attendance was unusually small and every motion made was carried without a single negative vote and with no opposition offered in debate. The total appropriations were $6050 and the treasurer was authorized to borrow the money, issuing the town's notes therefor, not to be paid from receipts of the current year.

The meeting was called to order by Clerk J. F. Foley, who read the warrant and presided in the choice of a moderator. All the votes cast were for George E. Clough. Reports of committees were called for and there being none, articles three and five were taken up. Chairman J. C. Sullivan of the school committee made a statement as to the condition of the addition to the high school building. He stated that the committee finds the addition is in such condition that it cannot be used. The first knowledge the committee had that there was anything wrong, it obtained in the spring. The architect who prepared the plans for the building, Mr. Reed of Holyoke, was sent for. He reported to the committee that the repairs needed could be made during the summer vacation at a cost which probably would not exceed $25..

During the summer vacation the committee had some doors put into the building, and while this work was being done an opening was cut in the ceiling of the assembly hall. Mr. Reed was again sent for and by means of this opening made another examination. He reported that the trusses that support the ceiling and roof are not strong enough to carry the weight upon them and suggested that the steel plates be fastened to each side of each truss to strengthen them. This plan was submitted to a competent engineer, who said it would not solve the problem.

The committee decided that Mr. Reed had made such a poor job of the work that he ought not to be trusted any further. The matter was laid before the town counsel, who advised that the committee tell Mr. Reed that he would be held responsible. This was done and Mr. Reed declined to assume any responsibility. The committee then obtained the services of Gardner & Gardner, architects, of Springfield. That firm reported that the trusses are inadequate to carry the load, that the ceiling beams are not strong enough and that the walls are too weak for the load imposed upon them.

Three methods for remedying the defects were suggested. The committee likes the second of these, as it preserves the symmetry of the building and the appearance of the rooms. This plan makes no suggestion for strengthening the walls, and that subject was taken up with Gardner & Gardner.

At a conference held on the morning of the special meeting, the firm stated that it will be impossible to use the assembly hall for that purpose. Floors in such halls are required to have a carrying capacity of 120 pounds to the square foot. The present floor has a capacity of only 60 pounds to the square foot. It is strong enough, however, for school purposes. There are at present no cracks in the walls, and if they appear later the walls can be strengthened It was also suggested that columns be built up from the basement to the trusses, to aid in carrying the load now borne by the walls. As the assembly room cannot be used as a hall, the committee thinks it best to partition it for school rooms. The estimated cost of the changes is $2500. Mr. Sullivan said the school committee has no special wish to carry on the work, which might be left to a committee appointed for the purpose. The committee is willing to do it, however, if that is the desire of the voters. But the committee thought it ought to get this information and present it to the citizens.

Others were invited to speak upon the matter and F. L. Jones, contractor and builder, did so. Mr. Jones stated that he put in the doors, which had been referred to this summer and cut the opening in the ceiling in the assembly hall. He had seen something of the condition of the building. Something has got to be done. He believed the school committee has done its best to get to the root of the matter and solve the problem. He thought the committee entitled to commendation. He believed the method advised by it is the only practical one.

Mr. Jones said he believes the building committee did its work to the best of its ability and should not be criticised and he thinks there should be no criticism of the inspector. There was simply a mistake somewhere in the figures of the architect.

Mr. Sullivan spoke again. He said he agreed that this was not a question for criticism. The building committee was simply unfortunate in its selection of an architect. He made a motion that $2500 be raised and appropriated to make the necessary repairs in the high school building. The motion was carried without further comment.

Homer A. Shaw of Three Rivers followed with a motion that the school committee be appointed to take charge of the work, which was done without debate.

Mr. Shaw then stated that there was a misunderstanding at the annual town meeting as to the amount of money needed to build the proposed sewers in the village of Three Rivers. He said several people have built houses on streets where they believed sewers were to be laid. They have no means of disposing of their sewage and are in an unfortunate situation. He made a motion that $2200 be raised and appropriated to carry out the work as planned, and this was done without comment.

The moderator took up the article pertaining to a sewer in Main street, Thorndike. No motion was offered and for a time it appeared that no one present had any interest in the matter. Finally it was stated that the sewer is needed and that the cost of building has been estimated at $1350 The amount was raised and appropriated.

In reference to the proposed road in Thorndike, from the Catholic cemetery to Church street, Chairman Warriner of the selectmen stated that there is no gravel obtainable near the road. It will be as cheap to ship trap rock there as to ship gravel. It was then voted that the money which had been appropriated for the work be reappropriated to build macadam road, from the cemetery toward Church street, so far as the money will permit.

There being no other business, after provision had been made for borrowing the money which had been appropriated, the meeting adjourned.

BONDSVILLE.

Manrice Cavanaugh and daughter of Hartford, Ct., visited relatives and friends Tuesday.

Miss Amelia Culver attended the reunion of the 38th regiment in Springfield Tuesday.

Miss Mary Sullivan of Monson is visiting with her friend, Mrs. James Fitzgerald this week.

Mrs. C. D. Holden was a guest Tuesday of her sister, Mrs. Rodney C. Caryl in Dorchester.

John Anderson of Vermont has taken the position of bookkeeper in the Boston Duck Co. office.

Mrs. Heys, who has spent several years with her son, John T. Heys, started Tuesday for England.

Patrick Bowler of Northampton was a guest this week of his family, at Mrs. Margaret Donovan's.

Miss Delia Donahue of Monson spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donahue.

Miss Maggie Cromley of Troy, N. Y., is visiting her friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Austin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glaccum of Brooklyn, N. Y, spent Sunday with Mrs Patrick Fenton and family.

Mrs. George Adams and children of Palmer are guests this week of her sister, Mrs. Clayton Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gironard, who have been visiting relatives in East Jeffreys, N. H., have returned.

Mrs. F. S. Gordon went Wednesday to An Sable Chasm, N. Y., to spend a few weeks with her mother.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson is spending a few days with her son, Fred Thompson and family in Palmer this week.

Byron Moore has returned from a vacation trip which included points of interest in Canada and Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. George Bray of Stafford, Ct., spent a few days the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Holden.

Mrs. Olin Parent and two children of Ludlow visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Monlton over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waterhouse and daughter Violet visited Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Hartford, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Conway were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Childs at their bungalow in Amsden, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Marsan are entertaining their sister, Mrs. Forte and daughter, Miss Louise, of West Newton.

Miss Minnie Miller, who was a guest of Mrs. W. H. Upham this week, returned to her home in Southwick Thursday.

Miss Una Bangs and Miss Mary Fussell of Springfield, former teachers in the village schools, visited friends Friday.

Patrick Morisrty returned to Georgetown College Wednesday after spending his summer vacation at his home here.

Mrs. John Green will start soon for a two-weeks' visit with her cousins, Misses Addie and Carrie Walker in Nashua, N. H.

William Parsons of Bellows Falls, Vt., was a guest Wednesday of Mrs. Julia McKendrick and Miss Nettie McKendrick.

Mr. and Mrs. William Houle of Holyoke and Albert Fantenx of Athol were guests the first of the week of Mrs. Mary Fauteux.

Miss Kathleen Quirk of Westfield normal school spent her week-end vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quirk.

Miss Elsie Woodard, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw in Brooklyn, N. Y., returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent attended the reunion of the 37th Massachusetts regiment held in Memorial Hall, Springfield, on Tuesday.

Mrs. John Matthews Sr., who has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Banister, returned to her home in New Braintree Saturday.

Rev. Herman Patt, pastor of the Baptist churches in Southwick and Granville, visited Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Upham during the mid-week.

Misses Lizzie Shea, Agnes Sullivan and Agnes Carmody, students at Westfield Normal School, spent the week-end vacation at their several homes.

The Sunday school of St. Bartholomew's church is holding the regular session after two-months' vacation. The choir is also back singing high mass after the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flaherty, three daughters and son of Altoona, Pa., visited relatives and friends Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Flaherty were residents of this village nearly 30 years ago.

The Polish priest has been making extensive repairs on the property which the Polish society recently purchased of Thomas Landers. It is reported that he will soon occupy the house thereon.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. E. Alhro. These ladies will serve: Mrs. O. A. Parent, Mrs. W. H. McVickar, Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mrs. George Monlton, Mrs. Harry Randall.

Rev. J. P. Kennedy, the district superintendent, preached in the Methodist church Sunday. After the morning service the second and third quarterly conference was held. Rev. H. A. Kilmer addressed the evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. David Looney have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Esther, to Daniel Francis Shea of South Belchertown. The marriage will take place in St. Patrick's church in Monson October 3, at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Sullivan of Monson, who has been a guest of Mrs. James Fitzgerald, had a successful operation performed on her throat for quinsy sore last Thursday, and has so far recovered as to be able to return to her work Wednesday. The operation was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a baked-bean and salad supper in the vestry of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at 6 30. Those in charge of the tables are: Mrs. C. D. Holden, Mrs. E. J. Loy, Mrs Adalard Marsan, Mrs. W. H. McVickar, Mrs. W. H. Morse. There will be an entertainment following the supper.

George Monlton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Monlton, goes Saturday to enter the Massachusetts College of Chemistry in Boston. Mr. Monlton is a graduate of Bondsville grammar school, Palmer high school, and also of the Maine General Hospital. For the past year and a half he has been assistant ambulance surgeon in the Lawrence General Hospital. He is a member of the golf club.

William Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Magee, has resigned his position as bookkeeper for the Boston Duck Co. to enter the School of Accounting and Finance in Boston. Mr. Magee will be much missed among the young people and in the church, where he has been of much help, especially in the Sunday school, where he has been librarian and Sunday school teacher. He has also been president of the Epworth League. He is a graduate of Bondsville grammar school and Bay Path Institute in Springfield. He is a member of the golf club and an enthusiastic golf and tennis player. The best wishes of his many friends in the village go with him to his new home.

CHURCHES IN CONVENTION.

Westfield Baptist Association Meets in Palmer.

HOLDS ITS 101ST ANNUAL GATHERING

Interesting Sessions Covering Two Days. Attendance Fully Up To Average.

The Westfield Baptist Association, composed of 28 churches of the denomination in the Connecticut valley, held its 101st annual meeting with the Baptist church in Palmer Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The attendance was reported fully up to the average, both as regards delegates and visitors. The first session was at 10 o'clock Wednesday. Rev. Paul Weber of Three Rivers conducted the devotional exercise and Rev. C. W. Williams of the Palmer church extended a welcome to the association.

Rev. W. L Atherton of West Springfield preached the annual sermon, taking for his text Exodus iii: 3-10 He said in part: Moses was now a shepherd. One would not have known him for the former courtier of Egypt, but God had been educating him both in Egypt and in the desert. He was engaged in his daily duty of tending sheep when God called him out of the burning bush, and his whole life was changed. He went forth to larger service. Each man has still a distinct call to duty. God will reveal the plan if we have seeing eyes, hearing ears and open hearts We need to see God in the commonplace. Earth is crammed with heaven and every bush is aflame with God, but no one sees it save he who takes off his shoes. Jesus saw men as sheep not having a shepherd because he had an anointed vision. The Bible is a burning bush to those who look for the word of God in it. The church is a burning bush. May God's glory be revealed in it! Christ is also a burning bush—more than the natural man — the divine.

When God gives us a vision, it is that we may render better service, hence my topic is seeing and serving. All great reformers are men who have dreamed dreams and seen visions. We need men of vision, not visionaries — men who can make their dreams come true. If we as Christians are indifferent, it is chiefly because we do not see. We shall never become doers until we become see-ers. Because Jesus saw as no other man saw, his kingdom is coming upon earth. How may we have a vision? "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." How may we become pure? "Behold the lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. . . . He shall baptize you with the holy spirit." With soul purity will come sight, and with sight will come service.

The following committees were appointed: State of religion in churches, Rev. John S. Lyon, Rev. H. G. Patt, O. L. Beers, G. Fred Estey, M. J. Hall; places and preacher, Rev. E. B. Dolan, George W. Tapley, H. E. Bodnrtha, E. W. Mulroney, Rev. W. L Atherton; resolutions, Rev. W. L. Atherton, John Hildreth, Rev. H E. Thayer, F A. Mead, Rev. George Venn Daniels; obituaries, Rev. J. C. Breaker, Rev. D. W. Lyman, Millard M. White, C W. Rider, D H. Joyce; nominations, Rev. J. M. Leat, J. P. Stanton, William Cochrane, Rev. R W. Bennett, Rev. W. S. Ayres.

The committee on obituaries reported the death of the following prominent members during the past year: Dea. Lucius Ely of Holyoke, Dea. Rawson Hathaway of Springfield, Dea. Allen Pierce of Amherst, Dea. Charles B. Fiske of Palmer, W. H. Fales, charter member of Carew-street Baptist church of Springfield, Mrs. Jane Martin of Springfield, C. W. Shaw of Springfield, Miss Mary A. Fish of Amherst, Rev. R. H. Stoddard of Hampden.

Dinner was served at noon in the church dining room, 137 being served.

Rev. R. W. Bennett of East Longmeadow led the devotional service at the opening of the afternoon session. Rev. H. E. Thayer spoke of the pension system of the Massachusetts Baptist ministers' conference. The report of the committee on the state of religion in the churches was given by Rev. G. V. Daniels and called forth a lively discussion. Kenneth Robbie of Springfield gave a talk on "The men and religion movement."

"Cooperation among the churches of the association," was the subject of Rev. E. B Dolan's address. He said in part: We meet in annual meeting for discussion, comparison and spiritual inspiration. Would we not be benefited by more frequent neighborhood meetings during the year? By more intervisitation and better acquaintance the churches could help each other He suggested addresses by pastors in exchange with each other and intervisitation of laymen and women at the midweek services. The old-fashioned quarterly meeting at which no business was transacted was of advantage in mutual acquaintance and spiritual interest.

Rev. Dr. John Lyon of Holyoke presented the claims of the Northern Baptist Education Society, the purpose of which is the raising of funds to help young men who are preparing for the ministry.

The Young People's Baptist Union had charge of the evening meeting, it being also the annual meeting. George A. Pease of Springfield, the president, appointed as a nominating committee, Rev. J. M. Lent and Mrs. Alice Archibald. The secretary's report showed receipts of $2 65 and disbursements of $18 60, leaving a balance of $14 05. The roll-call showed the presence of 39 delegates representing 11 out of 20 societies.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. D. W. Lyman of Chicopee, who said in part: The young people's work is a tremendous factor in the church life, not only in the present hour, but in view of the future as well. It is more important to the Baptist people. We have views which are important for which we stand. The speaker compared the work of the Young People's Union with that of the Christian Endeavor Society, and said that in the combined efforts the Baptist young people were apt to forget those things for which they stood. They were apt to work for the society instead of the church. He was in sympathy with any movement which emphasized those things for which we stand as a church. The speaker emphasized the effort of educational and mechanical institutions to increase the efficiency of the work. We should study for efficiency all along the line of human activity, not only in mechanical and educational lines, but in religious lines as well. It is right to inquire about the young people's work, the work of the church and that of the Sunday school. He further emphasized the necessity of pruning if we would be successful in fruit bearing.

The report of the nominating committee

[Continued on Second Page.]

Boston Letter.

Religious Criticism of Judgeship Nomination—Frothingham's Chances Apparently Good — Democrats Claim Fine Outlook — Apparent Apathy Regarding Direct Nominations Law.

BOSTON, Sept. 20, 1911.

Gov. Foss's nomination this forenoon of Judge Charles A. DeConcy of Lawrence to be justice of the supreme court in the place of Arthur P. Rugg of Worcester gives opportunity for the outbreak of the storm of religious criticism which has been threatening in the case of the nomination of another Catholic to a judgeship. This matter has reached such a status that it is best to talk it right out. If this nomination were the end of the matter, there is good reason for saying that it would cost the governor some 20,000 votes he had last year from the British American element in particular and from all the people with A. P. A. sympathies in general. But it is not the end of the matter and the men who are disposed to be hasty and swear that they will do all they can to defeat the governor on account of this nomination following that of six other Catholics for judges, against only two Protestants, may wait to see the outcome. The promotion of Judge DeConcy makes a vacancy on the superior bench. The death of Judge Richardson leaves another. I have it to-day from one of the highest men in the state, who stands close to the governor and who says that he has advised him in the matter, that it was understood, when the nomination of Judge DeConcy was sent in, that the two other places would be filled by Protestants. It is well understood in the governor's office that there is intense religious feeling in the matter. It is said there that the Catholics do not yet have their proportion according to the population of the state. A further judicial appointment to be made has been disclosed to-day, but in an inferior court, by the resignation of Judge William J. Forsaith of the Boston municipal court, to take effect October 1. If there is any place where the nomination of a Catholic would seem to be a matter of course, it would be in this court. As the supreme court is about solid Protestant, perhaps there is a reason why more consideration was shown to DeCourcy than to Judge John C. Crosby of Pittsfield, who had strong backing, although nominally religious affiliations have no pertinence. It will be noticed, also, that the superior court is almost solid Protestant as it stands in the manual with its 24 judges, before the three additions this year. So, if the A. P. A. element is going to show danger or under preference to Catholics, on the whole, it will have an impossible task.

To-day's political event has been the reception by Councillor J. Stearns Cushing at Young's Hotel at 1 o'clock. He is running for his third term as councillor in the second district, and Former Senator Prentiss Parker is candidate against him for the Republican nomination. There seems to be no danger for Cushing, but he has plenty of money, likes to entertain friends and it seemed to be a wise thing to get together, have a feed and a handshake, and do a little talking. Norfolk county politicians of the usual high order from that county, handsome, well kept and dressed, filled the room and their information was valuable. In the first place, the feeling was unanimous, as far as gentlemen present were sampled, that Frothingham would be nominated for governor. There were some who predicted that White would run second, in spite of his seeming forecast last night of a possible defeat, when he urged his hearers, if they did not vote for him, to vote for Walker, for Frothingham was leading the Republican party to sure destruction. One of the best Republican politicians of Brookline predicted that White would carry that town, with Walker second and Frothingham a very good third. In the whole state, he saw only success for Frothingham. It was a frequent opinion, that Frothingham could defeat Gov. Foss, if the voters turned out.

One of the notable slips of the afternoon was that of Former Councillor Albion F. Bemis of Brookline in his speech telling what the council has to do. He was trying to pay compliments and make votes for the man whose salads and ice cream he had just eaten, and in the course of his praises of the work of the counsel said that not a pardon could be granted without the approval of a majority of the council, apparently forgetting, since the council is Republican by seven to one, that such a statement dulls the edge of the criticisms of the governor for pardoning so many convicts ont of prison, for the consent of a Republican majority is necessary. Councillor Cushing, in his speech asking his friends to vote for him for a third term, said that the action of the council had been nonpartisan and that its relations had been very harmonious, thus making it appear that the Republican council and the Democratic governor get along together with much harmony. One man present said he knew of five voters in one family who voted for Foss last year and not one will vote for him this year, and there was said to be many Republican votes in that part of the state of that sort.

David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, who is running for second place on the Democratic state ticket, has been in town to-day and gives a rosy sketch of what he found in the western part of the state last week when he went stumping there with other Democrats. The way he sees it the Democracy is standing together even better than last year. He says they are splendidly organized and that the prospect is that they will cast a vote even better for Foss than they did a year ago. As far as he could gather light on the Republican situation, the chances favored Frothingham, though Walker was strong in Springfield and some other places.

It begins to look as if it might go hard next year with the direct nomination law unless the people turn out largely at the polls. Mr. Walsh found the same trouble in Western Massachusetts which the Norfolk Republicans complained of to-day. Independent voting is increasing. Voters dislike to be labeled as belonging to a particular party. This requirement will drive some of them from the polls and help to make a demonstration that the law is a failure and ought to be repealed at the next session of the Legislature. Secretary Langtry says that the size of the vote this fall in primaries will help to determine whether or not the law will be repealed at the coming session. If the people want direct nominations they should come out and show their preferences. State Auditor John M. White says that he shall be much disappointed if the people, by failing to turn out, show that they do not care enough for the law to use it. Treasurer Stevens is watching the case with interest. Speaker Walker says that he sincerely hopes that the Republican state machine will not be able to point to a light vote at the primaries next Tuesday as a reason for urging the repeal of the law, which he has advocated for years.

[Continued on Third Page.]

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 22, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Now ready for Fall Millinery.
Respectfully, K. I. McMahon.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

Ladies, you are especially invited to attend our opening of the latest fall and winter styles in millinery at Shiel building, Friday and Saturday, September 22d and 23d. Miss Katherine Casey, Thorndike.

PALMER NEWS.

Street Car Rams Wall.

Leaves Track and Crosses Road. Fortunately No One Hurt.

Car No. 328 of the street railway, en route for Springfield last Saturday morning, became tired of following the tortuous path prescribed by the rails along the river bank just east of North Wilbraham, and started "cross lots" for its destination. A heavy stone wall, backed by a solid railroad embankment, stood in the way however; and on the way, directly in the path of the car, was a painted sign, "Repent;" apparently heeding the warning, the car stopped before any serious damage was done.

The car left Palmer at 7 15, in charge of Motorman George Stevens and Conductor Thomas Gleason. After leaving the switch at the foot of the Butler hill and starting for North Wilbraham, a piece of half-inch guy wire rope was encountered on the track, and it proved sufficient to derail the car. Fortunately it left the rails on the left side of a right-hand curve, as the river runs along the latter close to the track Only the forward end of the car left the track, and it proceeded clear across the road and rammed the embankment before it stopped. The smash was sufficient to dislodge some of the stone of the wall and damage the front of the car considerably, as well as shake up the passengers, though no one was much hurt. There were several bad frights however.

The work car was sent to the scene at once, and other cars which happened to be near were used to transfer the passengers, and the delay was not great. The damaged car ran to the car barn under its own power after being placed on the rails.

Elite Pictures Palace Sold.

Goes to Big Amusement Company. Will Have Opening Oct. 7.

The Elite Motion Picture Palace, which has been closed during the summer, will be opened again before long under new management, having been sold to the Grand Amusement Company, of which Charles Higginbotham of Holyoke is the general manager; he will have charge of the Palmer branch of the business, in addition to the others The company is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts and has seven other picture houses, three in Holyoke, one in Marlboro and one in Natick, one in Portland, Me, and one in Bath in the same state; the Palmer house will make eight. The films run by this company are made by the Patents Company of New York and are all censored by the censor board of that city, the board including some well-known magazine publishers and other people, as well as the chief of police of New York. It is the claim of the company that no act of violence is portrayed on its films — the pictures always stop short of such scenes, leaving something to the imagination. The company also claims to run films only about eight days old — that is, within eight days of the time they make their appearance from the manufacturers The new company will operate the place every week day.

Bees Invade Grocery Store.

Hundreds After Honey in E. B. Taylor's Place Last Saturday.

Someone has said that if a person knows a thing that it only counts 1; if he tells another it counts 11; if another is told it counts 111, and so on. A bee wandered into the store of E B. Taylor on Main street just before noo last Saturday and sampled the honey in a box inadvertently left open on the counter. It tasted good and the bee left in a hurry. Apply the multiplication rule given above a few times and you'll have a close estimate of the bees which presently appeared to prove the truth of the scent's statement. They buzzed in and out of the front door in a small cloud, and set the nerves of timid customers on edge for a time. The honey was put away and a box containing a little sugar was placed in the window for them to feed upon, which they seemed to enjoy. They showed little desire to leave however, or a lack of knowledge of the way out, and nearly all were found dead at the foot of the plate glass show windows the next morning.

Monsonites Pay the Bill.

Repairing Palmer Highway at Own Expense to Get Good Road.

The unusual spectacle of a highway surveyor from another town repairing a section of road in the town of Palmer has been noted on the road to Monson this week. And when it is known that the work is paid for by private subscriptions by residents of another town, the matter assumes a still stranger aspect.

The strip of highway in question is between the Fay bridge and the top of Nelson hill. It has long been in miserable shape and the highway surveyor of Palmer has been asked to repair it He has stated that it is difficult to secure good gravel within reasonable hauling distance of this road, and has done the best he could without it. The road is used extensively by Monson autoists, and they have become tired of the bad condition. Permission to repair it was asked and granted, and the work has been done by the Monson highway surveyor with funds furnished by subscription.

K. of C. Minstrels.

There is a possibility that Palmer council, Knights of Columbus, may give another minstrel show this winter. It will be remembered that the one last winter was so much of a success that almost every seat was sold when the performance was repeated for the benefit of the Society for District Nursing.

An axle on one of the steam rollers at work on the state highway west of the village broke last Saturday, and an examination showed that there had been a flaw in it for some time. No one was hurt, but the work was delayed for a time until a new part could be secured.

Last Run of the Limited.

The street railway company announces that the last runs of the Springfield-Worcester limited, which makes the trip between the two cities in three hours, will be made on Saturday, the 30th of the month.

Miss K. I McMahon is displaying her fall millinery.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

Electric Road Bridge Repairs.

Company is Spending a Large Sum of Money Along its Lines.

The street railway company has planned and under way a campaign of bridge reconstruction and repairs along its lines in this section which calls for the expenditure of a considerable sum of money. The principal work is being done at what is known as the "Flynt trestle" on the Monson line. This is where the track crosses the highway just before reaching the track of the Central Vermont railroad, and here two solid concrete piers are being built to replace the original wooden trestle; a steel girder bridge will be placed on the new abutments In Monson the Academy bridge is to be replanked, the bridge at Fay's is to be strengthened, and the one at the brook on Main street given attention. Other bridges to be given more or less attention in the way of repairs or strengthening are the ones at Forest Lake, Flat and Muddy brooks in Ware, the "Soap Factory" brook between Thorndike and Three Rivers, the Dutton bridge on the Bondsville line and the Wire Mill bridge on the Springfield line.

Fined For Stealing Cow.

Taken From Pasture in Monson and Taken to Springfield.

Fred H. Smith of North Main street recovered last Friday a valuable Holstein cow which he did not know was stolen. The animal was pastured on land of Lester Stebbins in Monson, but appeared in Springfield last week driven by William M. Donahue, who was trying to sell her to a Jewish butcher. The policeman on the beat thought the cow looked too good for beef and began to ask questions; Donahue quickly became tangled up and he and the cow were taken in charge. The cow was advertised and Smith finally thought it might be his—and it was. In the police court in Springfield Saturday Donahue pleaded guilty to larceny and was sentenced to six months in the house of correction.

Gas Stove Explosion.

Stove Wrecked and Woman Narrowly Escapes Serious Hurt.

There was an explosion of a gas stove in the home of S. W. Lyon on Squier street soon after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening which completely wrecked the stove, broke several windows and threw Mrs. Lyon against the side of the house with considerable force; fortunately she escaped with nothing more serious than a severe shaking up. She had lighted the oven but one of the two rows of burners had failed to ignite, as it was supposed to when the "pilot" light was started. After a little she noticed that the row was not burning and attempted to start the "pilot" light again, as she had done before. On applying the match the explosion followed.

Church Notes.

H. L. Hunt of Springfield will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. All are invited. Sunday school as usual at 2.

The services at St. Mary's Episcopal mission next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 2.15; evening prayer at 3 15 under the charge of Rev. Mr. Heermans.

The subject of the sermon at the Baptist church Sunday morning will be "God's power and man's wilfulness." Bible school at 12, Y. P. S. C. E at 6 15 Evening worship at 7; sermon subject, "Faith propagated." Special music. All invited.

The subject of the sermon Sunday morning in St. Paul's church will be "Measure for Measure." At the Y. P. C U service the pastor, Rev. Otto Raspe, will give a talk on "Marriage and Divorce." The Life Study class will meet Thursday evening, when the subject of the talk will be "Prayer."

The first meeting of the Men's League will be held in the vestry of the church next Wednesday night. The speaker is Rev. Frank W. Merrick, D. D, of Springfield, who will take for his subject "Some aspects of the labor problem." Dr. Merrick is a fraternal delegate from the ministers' association to the Central Labor Union, and is well qualified to handle his subject. All men are cordially invited to attend.

Services at the Congregational church Sunday, as follows: Morning worship at 10 45; subject of sermon, "The permanent elements in John's preaching." Sunday school at 12. Christian Endeavor at 6; this is a missionary meeting and promises to be especially interesting. Evening worship at 7; subject, "Hosea and his unfaithful wife." This is the second in the series on Old Testament prophets. All are cordially invited to these services.

W. R. C. Anniversary.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps is making plans for the celebration of its 25th anniversary, which will occur November 19 A program is being prepared. There will be an inspection of the Corps on Oct. 9.

Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, initiated one candidate at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Ahearn & Hannifin will hold their millinery opening next Wednesday and Thursday.

Samples of the ballots to be used in the primary elections next Tuesday have been posted about town.

The clothing store of Abner Podrat on Main street will be closed all day to-morrow, that being the Jewish New Year's.

L. S. Record of Pine street will move his family to Newport, Vt, Monday. F I Brown will occupy the tenement which he will vacate.

Palmer council, Knights of Columbus, will meet next Thursday evening, at which time the second degree will be worked on several candidates.

Court Palmer, Foresters of America, will hold their annual ball Friday evening, October 27. Flanagan's singing orchestra of Marlboro will furnish music.

The track team of the Palmer high school has engaged Albert B. Nies of the Springfield Training School as coach for the athletic events at the Palmer Fair.

The first of the primaries to be held under the new direct nominations law will be next Tuesday evening in the town house. The polls will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Philip, the little son of Mr and Mrs. Francis Jones of Park street, fell from a step-ladder while playing yesterday afternoon and broke his arm. He was attended by Dr. Cheney.

About 25 members of the Knights of Columbus went to Indian Orchard Sunday to attend an outing which the Indian Orchard council held at their clubhouse at Five Mile Pond.

The part of the carpet mill sewer which is to be constructed by the town is completed, and will be ready for use when the part which the Whitall Company is to build is finished.

The macadam road on North Main street, laid last year, which has shown wear in many places, is being repaired The low places are being filled with a mixture of fine trap-rock and tar.

Tax Collector Hawkes will be at the counting room in Bondsville next Friday afternoon from 1 to 2.30, at the counting room in Thorndike from 3.30 to 5, for the purpose of receiving taxes; he will be at the counting room in Three Rivers to-morrow morning from 8 45 to 10 15, and also a week from to-morrow at the same hours. On Saturday, the 30th, he will be at the selectmen's room in Palmer from 2 to 5 30 in the afternoon. Taxes not paid on that date will be subject to interest.

An organ recital which promises to give much pleasure to attendants will be given in the Congregational church next Friday evening. Mrs. Alta Small of Providence, R I, formerly of Palmer and well known here, will preside at the organ; the soloist of the evening will be Mrs. Lucy Flynt of Palmer, who needs no introduction to the people of this vicinity; violin obligatos will be by Rufus Flynt of Palmer. The evening promises to be one of enjoyment for music lovers, and the proceeds will be devoted to the organ fund of the church.

Personal Mention.

Miss Nellie Dowd of Chestnut street has returned from a trip to New York.

Mrs C. Johnson and daughter Dorothy spent a part of the week in Worcester.

Mrs. B. Hodson and son Fred spent the first of the week with friends in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Smith have returned from a visit in the eastern part of the state.

Michael Smith of Fox street returned Sunday from a visit with relatives in New York.

Frank Ralton of Lawrence has been the guest of his uncle, F. M. Ralton of South Main street.

Misses Florence and Carrie Goodes of Pine street are spending two weeks in Waterbury, Ct.

Miss Gladys Paine, who spent the summer at Ipswich, has returned to her home on South Main street.

Mrs. F. M. Ralton of South Main street is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Littlefield of Lawrence.

Edwin Rice of Pleasant street left Wednesday for Hanover, N. H., where he will attend Dartmouth College.

Rev. E. J. Teagarden of Danbury, Ct., spent Tuesday with Superintendent E. D. Atkins of the street railway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Call of Springfield have been spending a part of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E Fitch.

Miss Della Hastings, who has been spending the summer at her home on Pleasant street, has returned to her school duties.

Miss Helena M. Doherty of Park street, who has been in New York for some time, was taken to the German hospital in that city six weeks ago suffering from ulcers in the stomach; she was operated on yesterday, and is reported as doing nicely.

Probate Court Business.

At a session of the probate court Wednesday the following local business was among that transacted:

Will proved in the estate of Josephine L Marsh, late of Monson, Clifford A. Sweet of Monson executor.

Administration granted in the estate of Wilfred C. Eaton, late of Palmer, L H. Eaton administrator.

Accounts allowed in the estates of Lyman Smith, late of Hampden.

Valley Fair At Brattleboro.

For the Valley Fair at Brattleboro, Vt., Sept. 26, 27 and 28, the Central Vermont railroad will run trains as follows: Sept 26, regular train service going; returning, leave Brattleboro 6 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations. Sept. 27, special train leaves Palmer at 7 a. m, Three Rivers 7 06, Barrett's Junction 7 10, Belchertown 7 22, Dwight 7 32, arrive in Brattleboro 9 10; returning, special train leaves Brattleboro 6 p. m for Palmer and intermediate stations. Sept. 28, regular train service going, returning, special train leaves Brattleboro 6 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations. Fare from Palmer $1 65. Three Rivers $1 60, Belchertown $1 40, Dwight $1 25. Tickets good going Sept. 25–28; return limit Sept. 28

BRIMFIELD.

Charles W. Stoughton of New York has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Samuel W. Brown.

Mrs. Olina Kinney of Rochester, N. Y., has been the guest of her brother, Orus E Parker.

Robert T. Fisk of Boston visited the first of the week at the home of his brother, Dr. S. A Fisk.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon Emmons of Montclair, N J., visited relatives in Brimfield Saturday.

Charles Streeter and Munroe Tarbell have returned to their studies in Massachusetts Agricultural College.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warner and daughter Marjorie of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., left town Saturday after a two-weeks' stay at the home of Mrs. Hubbard.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md For sale by all dealers.

As nasally treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Churches in Convention.

[Continued from First Page.]

was read after the address, the following officers being elected: President, Rev. D W. Lyman of Chicopee; vice president, J. E Ross of Holyoke First Baptist church; secretary, Miss Florence Wheeler of the First Highland Baptist church of Springfield; treasurer, W. J. Kennedy of Carew street Baptist church in Springfield. The banner for the largest percentage of attendance and distance traveled was awarded to the society of the First Baptist church of Chicopee Falls.

At the morning session yesterday the committee on place and preachers for the next annual meeting reported an invitation from the First Baptist church of Holyoke, and the following preachers for next year: Annual sermon, Rev. A W. Bennett; alternate, Rev. H. G. Patt; doctrinal sermon, Rev. G. V. Daniels; alternate, Rev C E Burdette W. C. King reported for the committee on the Westfield Baptist home for the aged. This committee recommended that a corporation be formed to which the property should be handed over. It also recommended that 100 or more incorporators be apportioned among the churches of the Westfield association, who should pay $5 each. This report was accepted after some discussion, and it was voted to have the matter presented to the churches some time in October. It was also voted that Rev. C. W. Williams be appointed by the association to administer upon a property which had been left to it for the purpose of founding this home for the aged.

Rev. B. D. Hahn of Springfield gave an earnest plea for systematic giving. The doctrinal sermon was preached by Rev. H. E. Thayer.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Moderator, Rev. John S Lyon of Holyoke; alternate moderator, Archibald Lodner of Springfield; treasurer, H. G. Puffer of Springfield; auditor, Albert S. Howe.

The first address at the afternoon session was given by Rev Dr. H. A. Heath of Wakefield on the general convention of Massachusetts Baptists. Mrs. L G Barrett of the Woman's American Baptist Home Missionary Society was the next speaker. Rev. Guy C. Lamson of Boston spoke for three great Baptist missionary societies, home and foreign missionary and publication The last address was by Rev. Dr. F. W. Padelford, secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist missionary society, who took for his subject, "The increasingly important problem of country life."

CARD.—We extend our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement. MARY E. AND JAMES D. FLYNN.
MRS. ANNIE HOLDEN.
Thorndike, Sept. 21, 1911.

DIED.

In Thorndike, 15th, Mrs. Katherine Flynn, 75, in Ware, 18th, Ora Brunelle, 23.
In Belchertown, 20th, Joseph Rowe, 82.

MARRIED.

In Monson, 19th, by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, Frank M. Shields and Josephine T. Bowler.

TO RENT — A tenement of 10 rooms. 25-2 K. I. McMAHON.

TWO RENT — Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

TENEMENT TO RENT — Inquire of L. S. RECORD, Palmer, Mass. 25-1

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

TO RENT — October 1st, tenement of three rooms. No. 8 Park street, near high school. MRS E. F. SHAW. 25-2

DRESSMAKING AND LADIES' TAILORING by experienced dressmaker. 23-tf 45 CONVERSE ST., Palmer.

TO RENT — Six-room and bath apartment, with all modern improvements. Apply to ABNER PODRAT. 8-tf

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 8-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

TO RENT — Two large, light unfurnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping. Also furnished rooms. 24-2 Apply at 427 MAIN ST.

WANTED—500 Hens and Pullets. Will pay good prices. Several choice Buff Orpington Cockerels for sale, or would exchange some of another strain. ALFRED CHRISTIANSEN, 24-2 Palmer Center.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 22-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

LOST — Thursday morning, between Walnut street and railroad station, watch fob, with monogram H. J. W. Reward full value will be paid. H. J. WILDER, Sunderland, Mass.

FOUND — Near Boston and Albany freight-house, a cow. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. EARL MORGAN. North Main Street. 25-1

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Fall Opening
OF
Soft Hats
The leading Fall shapes and colors now on display.

A Special at $2
Extra good quality in all colors.

Early Fall Showing of Negligee Shirts
Fine assortment—$1.00, $1.50

C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Irvin Woodcott has resigned his position as operator at the railroad station to take a position near Worcester.

Homer Boss of Brooklyn, N Y., spent the first of the week with his mother, Mrs. Walter M. Greene in East Wilbraham.

Miss Muriel Greene will entertain her young friends at her home in East Wilbraham this evening in honor of her birthday.

The people of Glendale will hold a basket picnic to-morrow on the grounds around the bowlder that was dedicated Memorial Day.

Miss Esther Calkins was pleasantly surprised at her home in East Wilbraham Saturday night, when several of her young friends paid her a visit and presented her with a gold bracelet. The evening was pleasantly spent with games, vocal and instrumental music.

WILBRAHAM.

At a recent meeting of the Maple Street Whist Club, Mrs. G R Files was elected president and Mrs. C. B. Hitchcock secretary and treasurer

The county commissioners will hold a hearing at the corner of Main and Faculty streets October 24, at 10:30 a. m., on the petition of H. M. Bliss and others for the relocation of Faculty street and Springfield street in Wilbraham and the Springfield road as far as Sixteen Acres.

WARREN.

The selectmen held a meeting Tuesday, when they granted a license to William E Nichols & Co. to sell firearms in accordance with a law enacted by the last Legislature. They also granted a pool license for two tables to John Sterling, to be exercised in the basement of the Makepeace block, Main street. They appointed William Downey deputy clerk of precinct B, in place of Jerry Sheehan, who declined to qualify.

Nearly all the members of the last graduating class of the Warren high school are pursuing their studies in other schools this fall. Herbert H. Tarbell and Thomas S. Dillon are at the Springfield technical high school, where also Earl C. Richards of the junior class of the local school has gone. Miss Marguerite McKelligett has gone to the Albany normal school. Miss Mary E Olmstead will enter Smith College Lloyd Donnell has gone to the University of Michigan. Harold J. Marshall will enter the Ohio Northern University. Edward B. Hines and W. D. Sullivan are at Post's business school, Worcester. Earl R Edson and Robert A. Edson have entered Clark University, Worcester. Miss Marjorie Chase will pursue further studies at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., and George Day has entered Amherst Agricultural College. Dennis C Haley has begun work at Holy Cross College and Robert Harwood has gone to Columbia University.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

WANTED — Girl for general housework. Apply at 20 Knox street. 24-2

Reward!

For return of package containing dress skirt; lost on Main street, Thorndike, near St. Mary's church, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. E. W. Clark,
No. 7 Commercial St., Thorndike.

Habicht & Hogg
Civil Engineers and Surveyors
Architects
Farm Surveys a Specialty.
Reinforced Concrete Buildings.
Room 39, Kinsman Building
332 MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street.
BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear If The Advice of This Palmer Citizen Is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times 'tis the kidney's fault.
Backache is really kidney ache;
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.
Many Palmer women know this.
Read what one has to say about it.

Mrs. William H. King, 406 Main St., Palmer, Mass., says: "I had kidney complaint for years and was steadily growing worse. I was rarely free from a dull, bearing-down pain in my back and the kidney secretions bothered me. My head also ached and I had dizzy spells. Finally my husband obtained a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for me at Lynde and Gould's Drug Store and I began their use. They restored me to good health and at that time I gave a public statement telling of my experience. It is a pleasure for me to confirm all I have previously said of this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the names — DOAN'S — and take no other.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Monogram Stationery only 60c per box.

Fine, linen-finish paper with any two letters in gold monogram. Envelopes to match the paper. A very unusual value. Let us send you a box.
Postage, 13c.

Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

Comply with the law

which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK.
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.

The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by

These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911

Opening the New Season of Fine Furs

The new season opens with the promise that furs will be in greater demand than ever before, and again we shall be prepared to maintain our absolute supremacy in the local fur trade — a supremacy resting upon 63 years of selling the very finest furs the world produces.

In our handsome fur room on the second floor we now have a superb showing of small furs and fur garments in all the correct furs for the new season and in all the accepted styles.

The Handsomest Suits That Ever Bore The Brigham Label At $25

Striving to outdo all previous efforts in value-giving we have had made for us this season a line of suits which we can sell at $25, and at that price they are actually the greatest values ever offered in Springfield

It has seldom been possible for us to show in any extensive assortment tailored suits at $25 worthy to bear the Brigham label but this season with the co-operation of some of our best makers we have been able to secure a line of suits at $25 which come up to our famously high standard of quality, style and beauty.

All Styles, Weaves and Colorings.

At this popular price we show six handsome new styles, the very latest and most desirable models, in these the fashion fabrics of the season — stylish rough effects, wide wale serges, men's wear serges and exclusive mixtures — shown in all of the leading colors of the season These suits are tailored in the true Brigham fashion, made with Skinner Satin lined coats and finished in the best manner. These suits we show in all sizes from 34 to 44, including a special lot of short-waisted models.

D. H. Brigham & Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Electric Wiring In All Its Branches
Motors and Engines furnished and installed.
Special Attention to House Wiring.
Wm. C. Moulton. Phone 122-21. Monson

The Elm Tree Beetle and the Gas Company

Attention is continually being directed, by the daily papers, to the devastation of trees and foliage in this locality by the GYPSY MOTH, BROWN TAIL MOTH, ELM TREE BEETLE and other pestiferous insects.

THE GAS COMPANY respectfully requests notice in writing at the time blight on trees or shrubbery is observed in order that an inspection may be made, otherwise it will CONTEST ALL CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE, as our expert has proved conclusively that many cases where GAS POISONING was claimed the trees were killed by insects, winter cold, drouth and the growth of malignant fungi.

After examination THE GAS COMPANY will present their expert's report, gratuitously, so that proper measures may be taken to protect the trees or foliage affected.

WORCESTER COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

USE GAS
For.
Lighting, Heating and Cooking
No Dirt—No Waste—No Smell

Worcester County Gas Company
Office
Allen Block Palmer, Mass.

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, Never Out and Dietz Jr.
The three best lights on the market. Priced right.

E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

Bowler—Shields.

In the presence of 300 friends and relatives Miss Josephine T Bowler, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Bowler of Granite street, became the bride of Frank M Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. L B. Shields of Hampden avenue, in one of the prettiest weddings of the season in St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, and was followed by a nuptial mass. Mrs. Thomas Heffernan of Worcester played the wedding march and Miss Florence Sault of Springfield sang. The maid of honor was Miss Elizaboth Bowler, sister of the bride, and Frank Hunter of Chicopee was best man. The bride's gown was of white messaline with pearl trimmings; she wore a tnlle veil caught up with lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore light blue messaline and wore white asters in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. Tho interior of the church was very prettily decorated with asters. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Granite street and a wedding breakfast was served to more than 100 guests, William Rohan of Ware catering. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Shields started on their wedding trip On their return they will reside in their remodeled and newly furnished tenement on South Main street. There were many valuable presents, including an elegant china closet from the Lincoln club, of which Mr. Shields was a member, and a dining room set from Mr and Mrs. L. W. Shields. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a string of gold beads and the bridegroom's gift to the best man was a gold stick-pin.

Celebrated 90th Birthday.

Mrs. S. M. Frye celebrated her 90th birthday Friday at the home of her son-in-law, M. S Chapman at North Monson. A reception was held in the evening which was attended by a large number. Music and singing were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Herbert Royce has taken a position with Squier & Co.

William Linnehan of Hartford spent Sunday in town.

William Corish is able to be out after a short illness

Miss Olive Morgan of Florence is visiting friends in town.

G. W. Haradon of Manchester, N. H., is visiting relatives in town.

Joseph Chatneauff is confined to his home on Elm street by illness

Elmer Harris is confined to his home on Main street by rheumatism.

A. C. Ronnds has moved his family from Pease avenue to Pearl street.

Joseph Kerigan of Springfield has been spending a few days in town.

Misses May Pendergast and Nellie Kennedy spent Sunday in Hatfield.

Roy Johnson of South Main street left Monday for Dartmouth College.

Arthur K Howe is visiting his brother, Dr. Harry Howe in Greenfield.

Charles Brigham is building an addition to his house on Harrison avenue.

Miss Esther Holmes and Miss Wingate are spending a few days in Boston.

John Leahy left Monday for Medford, where he is to enter Tufts College.

Miss Irene Tufts of Chicago, Ill., is visiting Miss Mary Ellis on Oak street.

Miss Eileen Kennedy has entered the Posse school for gymnastics in Boston

Weldon Kidd has returned to his home in Meriden after visiting Monson friends.

Roydon Leonard has entered the St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abbott of Bridge street are spending a week in Spencer.

Miss Catherine Murphy has returned to Cambridge after visiting relatives in town

Albert E. Dunsford left Wednesday for Trinity College, where he is to become a student.

Mr. and Mrs. John Avery of Springfield are visiting Mrs. Mary Maher on Hampden avenue

Mrs. E C. Bradway has been called to Gales Ferry, Ct., by the illness of her mother.

Hector Aldrich has returned from the Springfield hospital where he has been for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Townsend of Cushman street are visiting relatives in New York city.

A. H. Shultz has moved his family from Main street to C. A. Sweet's house on the Stafford road

Leon Dunbar has taken a position at Chapman's drug store, left vacant by Paul Francis, resigned

Robert Fuller and Ralph E. Moulton of Springfield spent Sunday with G L Fuller on Squier avenue

William Riley of Hartford spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Riley on Pease avenue.

James Drake, who has been visiting Monson friends, has returned to his home in New York city.

Mrs. H. E Hamilton of North Monson is entertaining her mother, Mrs C. A Hamilton of Springfield

Misses Catherine and Mary Fox of Hyde Park spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs T. M. Lynch on Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolican have returned from their wedding trip and have gone to Stafford, where they will live.

Harold Shaw, who has been spending the summer in town, has returned to his studies at Amherst College.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heffernan of Worcester are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna on Bridge street.

"The Rosary" will be presented in Memorial Hall next Monday evening. Seats are now on sale at Bradway's.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fenton have returned to their home in Springfield after spending the summer in town

The Ladies' Benevolent Society held a business meeting at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. J P. Kennedy, superintendent of the Springfield district, will preach Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

Miss Susie F Burke has returned to her home in Montreal after spending a month with her sister, Mrs. R. R Sheriffs.

Miss Gladys Lull left Thursday for Boston where she will take up her studies at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Edith Kennedy left Monday for Tufts College, where she is to act as matron in one of the fraternity houses

Mrs. N. P. Hanley was called to Rockville the first of the week by the serious illness of her father, George Anderson.

A team of the Quaboag Country golf club will go to Stafford to-morrow to play a match game with a team of that town

Mrs. James Walton and children, Ruth and Fred, of New York city are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. L Fuller on Lincoln street

Mrs. Carl Griffin has returned to her home in Philadelphia after spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Aldrich.

The registrars held their first and only meeting before the primaries in the selectmen's room Wednesday evening from 6 to 9

The quarterly meeting of the Foresters of America was held Thursday evening in the A O U W. hall on Main street. Dapnty Grand Chief Ranger J. J. Donahue was present; one candidate was initiated.

Miss Esther Robbins, who has been acting as stenographer for Principal H. F. Dewing of the Academy, has resigned and has gone to Boston, where she will continue her studies in Simmons college.

A whist party was held at the Quaboag Country club at Monson Tuesday afternoon. Miss Starr, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs Potter and Mrs Rindge were in charge of the party.

The senior class of the Academy gave a social to the rest of the school last Friday evening A large number attended and new features were added by way of entertainment.

The banns of marriage were published for the first time in St. Patrick's church Sunday between William P. Welch and Miss Minnie Welch and between Daniel Shea of Bondsville and Miss Margaret Looney of this town.

On account of the early frosts the coon season has opened much earlier than usual. Three coons have already been captured by Monson sportsmen. F. O. Bardwell was the first hunter to secure one, and the other two were caught by John McCarthy and Orillus Holdridge.

Mrs. Wilbur Holdridge narrowly escaped injury while driving from her home in East Hill Wednesday morning. Her horse stepped on a rolling stone and fell, throwing Mrs. Holdridge to the bottom of the team She escaped injury but the harness was broken and there were other minor damages to the team.

Marcus Beebe and A. C Ronnds had a narrow escape from falling off a roof which they were shingling Wednesday. The timber which supported them broke loose and they slipped to the edge of the roof. They both gained a hold on the end of the roof which prevented them from falling to the ground

There will be a meeting of the Sons of Veterans next Tuesday evening. There will be an interesting debate; the subject will be "Resolved, That education is more beneficial to mankind than money" The affirmative will be taken by Claude Duncan and the negative by Robert Green. The members of the Grand Army are invited.

The Young People's Christian Union of the Universalist church held a social at the home of Rev. Abram Conklin Friday evening Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments served. It was voted to hold a series of socials during the winter in connection with their religious and business affairs. The next meeting will be held the first week in October.

The annual business meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon. The following officers were elected: First vice president, Miss Julia Smith; second vice president, Mrs H. G. Rogers; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Etta Orcutt; directors, Mrs. D B Needham, Mrs. George Hurlburt, Mrs C. A. Sweet, Mrs Belle Rathburn, Mrs. Cora Speer, Mrs. H M. Smith, Mrs. Edith Kennedy, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. Robert Webster, Mrs Samantha Ross, Mrs H G Rogers.

Paul VanWagner has notified the selectmen that he is going to sue the town for damages caused by a defective bridge in South Monson. Any damages awarded, however, will have to be borne by the Central Vermont railroad company. The cause of the suit was an accident on the 21st of August, when Mr. VanWagner's horse's foot went through a bridge near the State Line school. The horse's leg was broken and it died from the effects Mr. VanWagner was thrown ont, injuring his shoulder and the wagon was badly broken. The only responsibility the town has in connection with it is to look ont for defects in the bridges and notify the railroad company, which had been done.

Academy Notes.

John Leahy, '11, has entered Tufts college, where he is taking a medical course.

William Lechman, formerly of the Army and Navy School of Washington, D. C., has entered the Academy.

The sophomore class will give the freshmen a social this evening in the Academy chapel. Everybody welcome.

Paul Francis has resigned his position at Chapman's drug store and has been appointed librarian the Flynt & Packard library.

Joseph Kerrigan, a former student, has been spending a few days in town. Mr. Kerigan will enter Boston University soon.

The following faculty managers have been appointed by Principal Dewing to act in co-operation with the student managers: Foothall, Mr. Miller; basketball, Mr. Henderson; baseball, Mr. Perry.

At a meeting of the athletic association Wednesday afternoon Russell Tarleton was elected track manager, Carol Mason and Al Whiton were chosen temporary cheer leaders. Mr. Dewing, with the aid of a committee to be appointed by President Flynt is to revise the constitution of the associa, tion

The price of the athletic association tickets, admitting to all home foothall, basketball and baseball games of the year has been raised by Principal Dewing from $2 to $5. As many of the town students found it difficult to purchase the tickets when only $2, the advance in price will put them out of reach of many of the day pupils.

At a meeting of the junior class Monday the following officers were chosen to act for the ensuing year: President, Harry Elliot; vice president, David Beale; secretary, Miss Mary Ellis; treasurer, Carlos McGray; class councilor, Harry Elliot The sophomore class elected the following: President, Francis Massey; vice president, Edward Hillard; secretary, Miss Sylvia Fuller; treasurer, Clark Andrews; class councilor, Harold Strickland. The freshmen have appointed Normau Dewing class councilor Diarrhœa is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended npon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

HAMPDEN.

Henry M. Warren is taking a short course of study at a New York electrical school before returning to Aberdeen, S D.

Mrs. Frederick Haigh of Hoboken, N. J., and John B. Newell of Hampden have been visiting their parents, Mr and Mrs. Alonzo B. Newell.

WARE.

House Destroyed by Fire.

The house on the Gilbertville road next the power house of the Ware and Brookfield Street Railway Company and occupied by Superintendent D E Pepin of the street railway, was totally destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. An alarm was rung in about 3 by Chief of Police Buckley, who had been notified of the fire by telephone, and the fire apparatus went to the scene as rapidly as possible. The fire gained such headway, however, and the water was so difficult to secure that the department was able to do nothing to save the building They succeeded in saving a quantity of household goods, including a fine piano The house was owned by George Mendell of Springfield and the loss was about $5000

Death of Miss Ora Brunelle.

Ora Brunelle, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Brunelle, died Monday afternoon at the home of her parents after several months illness of tuberculosis. She was a native of Ware, and received her education at St. Anne's parochial school. She is survived by her parents, one brother, Feliz of Ware, and four sisters, Mrs Odilia Derochers of Aldenville, Mrs. Lula Welch, Mrs. George Emerson and Miss Sahlea Brunelle of Ware. The funeral was held yesterday morning in Mt Carmel church with burial in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Joseph A. Plouff has been appointed a member of the State Board of Health by Gov. Foss this week.

Miss Agnes Boyle, bookkeeper in the store of P J Mulvaney, has returned from a two-weeks' vacation in Shelburne Falls.

Prof. A C Gill of Cornell University, Ithaca, N Y, and Mrs. Gill, who have been passing the summer with William E Eaton of Church street, left Ware this week.

Deacon Gamaliel Marsh, the oldest man in Ware, who has conducted a tinsmith's business for 70 years, has sold ont to Henry A. Marsh. Mr. Marsh is over 90, and has always worked at the bench.

BELCHERTOWN.

Improvement Society's Annual.

The Brimfield Improvement Society held its annual meeting Monday evening. The following offices were re-elected: President, E B. Brown; vice-president, Rev. William Jennings; secretary, Miss M. Anna Tarbell; treasurer, Fred Bissell; auditor, Charles S. Tarbell. The additional members of the executive committee were John H. Noyes, Miss Lydia B. Hitchcock. The following committees were appointed: Literary, George F. Kenney, Mrs John Noyes, Miss Rebecca M. Lincoln, Miss M. A. Tarbell, Miss Lydia B. Hitchcock, Mrs. Martha Streeter, Edward B. Brown; social, John H Noyes, Miss Margaret Dunsmore, Miss Jennie Sumner, Mrs Lillian Brown, Mrs Bertie Barnes, Rev. William Jennings, Fred Bissell; park committee, Edward B. Brown, William Daniels, Charles S. Tarbell, Mrs. Lillian Brown, Miss M. A. Tarbell, Fred Bissell, John H. Noyes, Rev. William Jennings; shade trees, George M. Hitchcock, William Daniels, Robert V. Sawin, John H Noyes, Rev. William Jennings, Edward B. Brown; sidewalks, John H. Noyes, Edward B. Brown, Charles S. Tarbell, Robert V Sawin, M Anna Tarbell, Margaret Dunsmore. It was voted to request the park committee to beautify the triangles at the junction of roads. The matter of receptacles for waste and litter on the Common was referred to the same committee. Other matters were referred to different committees

Death of Joseph Rowe.

Joseph Rowe, 82, died at his home on North Main street Wednesday, after being in feeble health for some time. Mr. Rowe was born in Rockport, but had lived in Belchertown since 1881 Previous to that date he had lived in Worcester for 20 years. Mr. Rowe is survived by his widow and one son, Arnold. Mrs. Rowe was Miss Ella Arnold, a member of the once large and prominent family of that name. Mr. Rowe was a mechanical genius and his house is filled with articles of his workmanship in carved wood, etc, in exquisite designs. Living as he did some distance from the Center, and being of a retiring disposition, his circle of close friends was limited. The body was taken to Rockport for burial to-day.

Celebrated 25th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Austin celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage last Friday. A family dinner at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E A. Randall marked the day, and on Saturday the childre , five in nnmber, fittingly observed the day at home. The children, Harry of Northampton, Raymond of Springfield and Misses Louise and Maud, and Charles of Belchertown, presented their parents with handsome silver knives and forks.

Miss Dorothy Thomson and her grandfather, D. C. Coe, are spending the week in Meriden, Ct.

Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S, will hold a special meeting this evening for the annual inspection. Mrs. Ella B. French of Orange, associate grand matron, assisted by Miss Ethel Farly of Shelburne Falls, will be the inspecting officers. Refreshments will be served.

BOSTON LETTER.

(Continued from First Page.)

He hopes that the Republicans will come out in such large numbers that the machine will not dare to demand the repeal of the law so that it can regain its former position of selecting candidates and securing the passage of legislation Norman H. White says that the apathy of the voters is deplorable and if the voters leave the making of the governor to the machine then the new law is a failure. He puts upon the voters the responsibility if the new law is defeated. Lient. Gov. Frothingham said he did not care to express his views, but his manager, ex-Mayor Charley Baxter of Medford, said that the people have been kicking for a direct primary for years. If they don't want it now that they have got it, the law should be repealed. One of the leading Republicans of Norwood, very close to Councilor Cushing, who did not vote for Foss last year, says he shall vote for him this year. It is said by these Norfolk men that about all of the regular working Republicans dislike Walker because of his independence of the leaders and his progressive legislation, and they will very generally vote against him.

The Associated Press is making preparations to get the votes next Tuesday for Foss, Frothingham, Walker, White and the contested places on the state tickets, but not the local contests. The situation is so complicated and the counting sure to be so late that very unsatisfactory results are expected.

LANDON

WARRANT FOR PRIMARY.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

County of Hampden, ss. Town of Palmer.

To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County.

GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the Town House at Four Corners, in said Palmer, on Tuesday, the 26th day of September, A. D. 1911, at 7 o'clock in the evening, at which time the polls will be opened, and they shall be closed at 9 o'clock in the evening, then and there to bring in their votes on one ballot to the Primary Officers of Palmer for the candidates for nomination to the following offices, viz: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General; Councilor for the Seventh Councilor District; Senator for the Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District; one Representative in the General Court for the First Hampden District; one County Commissioner for Hampden County; one Clerk of Courts for Hampden County; one Register of Deeds for Hampden County. Also for the election of delegates to the Republican State Convention, delegates to the Democratic State Convention, a Republican and a Democratic Town Committee for Palmer, a Republican and a Democratic member of the State Committee for Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said primary, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said primary.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said primary.

Given under our hands this fourteenth day of September, A. D. 1911. 24-2

GEORGE L. WARRINER, HAROLD W. BRAINERD, CHARLES D. HOLDEN, } Selectmen of Palmer.

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, cronp, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Money deposited on or before Thursday, October 5th, will commence interest from October 1st.
BANKING HOURS:
9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.
CHAS. L. WAID, Treasurer.

W. D. Kinsman Co., SPRINGFIELD.
Now for the Final Day,
Saturday, September 23
In the
Kinsman Clearance Sale

$1.98 $2.98 Waists $1.39 Each
They're not in all sizes, in all styles, yet you'll find all sizes in the lot. Silk, Lingerie and Linen Tailored styles, slightly mussed, but this in no way affects the Waist otherwise than this mussy appearance. A trip to the laundry will make them like new.
CLEARANCE SALE, $1.39

Sweaters For Boys and Girls, 95c each
Just the Sweaters for school wear. The Thermos Sweaters in gray and gray and red styles, with pearl buttons.
CLEARANCE SALE, 95c

Ribbon Remnants, 5c to 25c a Length
Remnants of Beautiful Satin and Plain and Fancy Taffeta Ribbon, 3/4 to 6 inches in width. Exceptional values in lengths from 7/8 to 1 7/8 yards.
A LENGTH, 5c, 10c, 15c, 25c

$1.25 Velvet Bags, 98c
Handsome Velvet Bags, 6 1/2 by 6 1/2-inch size, steel and gilt frame, nicely lined, with long cord handles.
CLEARANCE SALE, 98c

Fancy Belts, 10c each
300 Fancy Elastic Belts in Persian colorings, all have pretty buckles.
CLEARANCE SALE, ea., 10c

Embroideries, 10c Yard
Away with all the short length pieces of Embroideries, Edgings, Insertions, Bandings, Allovers, etc., 1-yard to 5-yard lengths.
CLEARANCE SALE, YD., 10c

The Underprice Basement Presents Unusual Values
In Sheets, Pillow Cases, Crashes, Towels, Towelings, Percales, Bed Spreads, Comforts and Blankets.

Boston & Albany R. R.
$5 Popular Autumnal Excursion
October 4, 1911
Through the Berkshire Hills
Stop-over at Albany
Down the Historic Hudson
Stop-over at New York
A Sail to Boston by Steamer
Tickets now on sale for excursion going Wednesday, October 4th, good on all trains except Nos. 13, 15, 25 and 49. The route is through the heart of the Berkshire Hills, arriving in Albany in the afternoon.
Leave same evening via People's Line or next morning at 8.30 via the Hudson River Day Line steamer.
A day and night in New York City for sight-seeing, and thence via Fall River Line steamers to Boston. Stop-over in Boston will be permitted until Monday, October 9th.
Return to original starting point via Boston & Albany R. R.
Stop-over in New York Ten Days, $2.00 extra
Secure your tickets early from Boston & Albany R. R. Station Agents.
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace
Our Opening of Fall Fashions
Will Be Continued Throughout the Week
In Convincing Displays of the Authoritative Styles Decreed for the Coming Season.
THREE of our buyers spent many weeks during the past Summer in Paris, Vienna and London in an exhaustive study of the modes created by the style originators of these fashion centers of the world.
The result of their labors and those of many others in the home markets are to be seen in the beautiful displays throughout the store.
Of foremost interest are the expositions of Millinery, Suits, Dresses
Afternoon and Evening Gowns
Waists, Coats and Furs
But hardly less interesting are the beautiful new styles shown in all classes of Wearing Apparel, Dress Accessories and Fabrics
The store has never before spoken with such authority on styles as it does in these Opening Displays. And, with the great diversity of the season's modes, this final word is more than ever necessary.
In No Previous Opening Have We Made So Interesting and Important Displays
Forbes & Wallace,
Springfield, Mass.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments
Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.
The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.
Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St., rear of High School.

The Cooks who have used the Single Damper of the Crawford Ranges
will never go back to the troublesome two-damper range
The cost of the food spoiled by mistakes in regulating the ordinary two-damper ranges amounts to a large sum.

The Single Damper of the Crawford affords absolute fire and oven control by one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.
The Oven of the Crawford has cup-joint heat flues which heat everywhere alike and make it the quickest and surest of bakers.
The Two Hods (patented) in the base—one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan—one for coal, is a great trouble-saving feature.
Gas Ovens and Broilers above or at end of range, if desired.
Ask the Crawford agent to show you and write us for circulars.
Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., 31 Union St., Boston
For sale by Whitcomb & Faulkner, Palmer Agents

A New Opportunity!
Groton Long Point
THE LAST GREAT UNDEVELOPED SHORE PROPERTY
The Rise of the Tide
THE TIDE of OPPORTUNITY is at the FLOOD at Long Point. Are you going to allow that tide to recede? Are you going to occupy the position of the man who refused an Ocean Beach lot at $500 and has since seen them sell at $5,500?
Gold Out of Sand
There are skeptics, of course, there are. There are always those who will not see beyond their noses or think beyond established facts. "It can't be done," they say; "it is too large an undertaking. Why it's the old story of making gold out of sand." Nevertheless, there are those who have faith — to these we have sold 125 plots during the past six weeks. These are the people who want to get ahead in the world — the thinkers.
The secret of making gold out of sand is to first put gold into your sand. That is our secret of success. That is what we are doing. The owners of Long Point are all moneyed men — they take a just pride in their property—they are pledged to make great improvements —these improvements are under way.
Groton Long Point
Projecting 1 1/4 miles out into the Sound with 3 miles water frontage, is the finest property on the Connecticut coast. A nice Clubhouse (for use of purchasers only), a pier with 12 feet of water, 2 water plants and several miles of winding roads are all being built. Improvements contemplated are a trolley line through the property and theatre a mile from the residence section. The $1,000,000 harbor improvements will boom New London.
Bear This in Mind
Long Point is a restricted property both as to the character of people sold to and to buildings. Isn't that the sort of place you want for your summer home? The population of this country is increasing every year —more people are going to the seashore; but shore front property cannot increase a single foot. This spells monopoly for those who own it.
What This Means For You
Once in a life time is a new beach started, think of this seriously. You have money idle in Savings Banks at 4 per cent. Come to Long Point, study the situation, then ask yourself if an investment in this new beach offers a sane, clean cut, safe business proposition. It takes a lifetime to double your money in a savings bank. You should do so in a few years at Long Point. The best proof of words is a study of how we have made good our former words by deeds. Isn't it worth while to look into this? Say-Brooke Manor Beach, Conn.; Boscobell Island in Hudson River; Eastwood, Long Island; Haworth, N. J., these were all promises that were fulfilled.
Plots 50x150 feet, $195 upward--10 per cent down and $4 monthly
Tents or bungalows can be erected when the first payment is made. Sensible restrictions covering nationalities and buildings are for the protection of everyone. We plan to profit by the mistakes of other beaches.
To Reach the Property
Take Ferryboat five minutes past or fifteen minutes before the hour, to Groton; there take trolley (a twenty-two minute ride.) Notify the conductor to let you off at Groton Long Point.
Come now and have first choice. Send for booklet and list of purchasers.
Jas. Jay Smith Co., Established 1879, 50 State St., New London

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911. NUMBER 26.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing
See these prices for machine work:
Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed. $1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed. 1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed. ..... .85
Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.
H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton,
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter,
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Wald.
Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO JULY 7, 1910.
TRAINS GOING SOUTH.
LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 4.00 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Bellertown with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.44 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.40 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.
GOING NORTH.
LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.40 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.20 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.
J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, as it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,
O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

Chilly Nights Are Here
We are prepared for them with a large stock of Bed Blankets, 62c to $6.00
Comfortables, $1.00 to $3.00
Cotton Batting, 10c to 25c per roll
Grocery Department
Green Mountain Potatoes, 28c peck, $1 bushel
Cranberries, 10c quart. Pie Apples, 15c peck
Hadley Onions, 5c quart, 30c peck
W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers
W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Wedding Invitations, At-Homes, Favors, Gifts
Let us send samples and prices of the finest wedding stationery. For gifts we have books, pictures, art brass, statuary, prayer-books and much more. Three floors of interesting things.
Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

A Sure Cure for Piles
Mr. F. S. Randall of No. 20 East Main St, Leroy, N. Y., writes that Bloodine Ointment has proven efficacious in a stubborn case of Piles and Rectal Fissures where everything else has failed. Bloodine Ointment is sold on a positive guarantee to cure Piles or money back.
Bloodine Ointment.
is the most healing salve in the world. It will positively cure cuts, burns, old sores, eczema tetter, salt rheum and all skin diseases.
Found at Last a cure for Eczema. Mrs. Charlee Blanchard of Philadelphia, Pa., writes that she had suffered for many years with this terrible disease and had tried remedy after remedy for it, but could not find a cure, until she was advised to try Bloodine Ointment, and to her great surprise one box heeled up nearly all of the old sores, and the second box completely cured her. 50c. a box by mail.
Bloodine Liver Pills cure Constipation. 25c. a box.
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

W. D. KINSMAN CO.
Springfield, Mass.
A Rousing Three Days'
ODDS AND ENDS SALE
Sale Started Thursday Morning Upon Opening of Store
FOR THREE DAYS ONLY

Odds and Ends of our Belt Counter, consisting of leather, elastic and some Persian effects. Odds and Ends Sale each 5c

$1.25 Mesh Bags in 5-in. frame size, nicely lined. Odds and Ends Sale, each 95c

25c and 39c yd. Beltings cutin Belt lengths. Odds and Ends Sale, length 10c

3-4-2-inch Ribbon, Taffeta and Satin Ribbon, good colors, in plain and fancy. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 5c

Neckwear
Odds and Ends in Jabots. Top Collars, Stocks, etc., slightly mussed. Odds and Ends Sale, each 5c

Ladies' Knit Underwear, also some Children's Garments, Vests, Pants and Union Suits at greatly reduced prices during the Odds and Ends Sale.

20 Odd Suits — They are tailored in the best possible manner and offer most every wanted size. Odds and Ends Sale, each $5.98

57c Embroideries — Odds and Ends, all short length pieces, yet all desirable. 27-inch wide flouncings, also wide insertions. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 39c

Odds and Ends in Corsets by well-known makers in most every wanted size. Odd and End Sale, per pair $1

They're Odds and Ends in every sense of the words. Small lot accumulations from the BIG CLEARANCE SALE which closed Saturday.
That we may make a quick! disposal of all these lots, we have placed them on the various BARGAIN TABLES about the store and priced them away below their former Clearance Sale figures.
While in some instances the lots are small, yet to these we have added many attractive values from our regular stock, so all in all shoppers who participate in this event will find some rare bargains in Merchandise that is most desirable in every instance.

Stamped Embroidery Packages, 10c Ea. Package Outfit containing Aprons, Belts, Jabots, etc., with Embroidery Cotton included, all stamped ready for embroidering. Odds and Ends Sale, each 10c

98c Mussed Waists, 39c Each. More than 300 Slightly Mussed Waists, used as Display Waists, Every wanted size in the lot. Odds and Ends Sale, each. 39c

Soiled and Counter Handled Waists, 59c Each. Not in any way does the fact of these Waists being soiled effect their wearing qualities. A tubbing will make them like new. Odds and Ends Sale, each 59c

25c Ladies' Hose, 14c Pr 25c Fast Black Black Ladies' Mercerized Lisle Hose. They're seconds which means they are damaged. Upon examination we find only slight imperfections. Odds and Ends Sale, pair 14c

Hundreds and Hundreds of yards of Embroideries, both Edgings and Insertions, also Beadings, Bandings,, etc. 1 inch to 3 inches wide, in short length pieces 1½ to 6 yd. piece. Odds and Ends Sale, each 6c

Odd lots of pretty trimmings in short length pieces. Samples from a well-known importer. Persian, Jets, Fancy Appliques, Black and White Bands. All separated in bunch lots and prices as follows:
10c bn. 15c bn. 19c bn. 25c bn.

Silk and Chamois Lined Cashmerette Gloves, in gray only. Odds and Ends Sale, pair 19c

98c Two-clasp Kid Gloves, in shades of tan, black and white. We cannot promise all sizes, yet you'll find most every size. Odds and Ends Sale, 59c

25c Jewelry 9c Each Cuff, Sash, Scarf and Beauty Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links, Buckles, in a great variety of styles, all new and up-to-date pieces. Odds and Ends Sale, each 9c

25c Yard Embroideries, 12 1-2c Yard All remnants, 2½ to 6½ yds., and offered in a great variety of patterns and widths. Both edgings and insertions. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 12c½

Odds and Ends of Skirts Mixtures in Grays, Tans, Greens, also Plain Blues and Browns, finely tailored. Odds and End Sale, each $3.98

Splendid Muslin Gowns, trimmed with lace and embroideries. Odds and Ends Sale, each 59c

25c, 29c Corset Covers Made of good muslins, nainsooks, and trimmed with attractive laces and embroideries. Odds and Ends Sale, each 14c

98c Batiste Flouncings 45-in. wide Fine Batiste Flouncings in pretty patterns. Not more than 200 yards all told. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 57c

VEILINGS
25c Mesh Veilings in black and fancy colors. Odds and Ends Sale, Yard 10c
25c, 39c piece Val. laces and Insertions, 12 yards to piece. Odd and Ends Sale, pc., 19c
8c, 10c yard Val. Laces and Insertions, all widths. Odds and Ends Sale, Yard 5c
75c, 89c yard Fancy Lace Nets in all pretty patterns. Odds and Ends Sale, yard, 50c
25c and 38cVenise Laces, both edgings and Insertions. Odds and Ends Sale, Yard 12½c

NOTIONS --- Savings Worth While
5c Hair Nets, with and without elastic, 5 for 10c
39c Shears, 7 and 8 in. 10c
3c Common Pins, 400 count, 4 for 5c
3c Hairpin Cabinet, invisible pins, 6 for 5c
5c Slipout Collar Supporters, 4 for 10c
25c box, ¼ lb. English pins, 3 sizes, box, 12 1-2c
8c Black Spool Silk, 100 yds. spool, 4c
3c pair Shoe Laces, 6 pair for 5c
5c Collar Foundations 4c
10c Corset Steels 3c
3c card Hooks and Eyes, card 1c
5c card Hooks and Eyes, 2 for 5c
98c Hair Puffs, each 50c

The Underprice Basement Offers Many Attractive Values in the Odds and Ends Sale
25c Turkish Towels, extra heavy. Odds and Ends Sale, each 19c
$1.69 Bedspreads, fringed or plain. Odds and Ends Sale $1.25
A full line of Blankets and Comfortables at reduced prices.
17c yard White Madras Waist Patterns, sufficient material for every style of waist, 3 yards to a pattern. Odds and Ends Sale, each 35c
25c and 39c Madras Waisting, beautiful line of patterns. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 17c
17c a yard, Galatea cloth, 30 styles to choose from. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 12½c
17c yard Crinkled Seersucker, best quality. Odds and Ends Sale, yard 12½c
12½c and 15c Percales, best quality, 50 styles to clean up. Odds and Ends Sale 9c
9c yard Apron Gingham, best quality. Odds and Ends Sale 6c
7c a yard Best quality of Prints and Calicos. Odds and Ends Sale 5c
12½c yard Dress Gingham, plain and fancy. Odds and Ends Sale, yd. 9c
69c White Nottingham Curtains, 2½ yards long. Odds and Ends Sale, pair 48c
89c Ecru Nottingham Curtains, full 2½ yards long. Odds and Ends Sale 59c
10c and 12½c yard Colored Outing, 40 styles. Odds and Ends Sale, yd 8c
27-in. wide Domet Flannel. Odds and End Sale, yard 5c

PALMER FAIR NEXT WEEK.

Outlook For Successful Show is Very Promising.

TO BE HELD THREE DAYS THIS YEAR.

More Cattle Than Ever Before Promised. Big List of Attractions And Races.

The Palmer Fair, for which the officers of the association have been working so long and diligently, will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the association having decided to hold three days this year as an experiment. The indications point to a fair of more than ordinary merit, and with good weather the officers are confident the attendance record of last year will be broken on Saturday — and last year there were over 8000 paid admissions.

The first day will necessarily be largely one of preparation in many departments, although there will be much to interest visitors. The poultry and hall shows will be in full swing, and it is expected that some of the cattle will be in attendance. The Southbridge band will give concerts, and the entertainment program will include two horse races, the Duffein-Redcay troupe of skilled acrobats, Whittemore's educated pintos or ranch ponies, songs by Ben Chadwick and exhibitions of fancy trained steers on the track in front of the grand stand.

Friday will be cattle day, as usual, and it is probable that a larger number than ever before will be shown; several new exhibitors have sent in lists aggregating nearly a hundred head, and with the list of regular attendants the cattle end of the grounds will be an interesting spot. Particular attention is being given the drawing classes for oxen, in which the list of entries is already large. These contests attracted much attention last year, and this year will see a much larger number of yoke striving for the prizes, which are generous enough to attract cattle owners from a considerable distance. Sheep, too, are to have a prominent place this year, nearly 200 head being already entered. These will be shown in new pens near the cattle.

As has been the custom for years, all school children below the high school grade will be admitted free on Friday, and tickets will be distributed next week. There will be the usual sports for them, with prizes in each event. The ninth grade relay race will be held again, and several schools have already sent notice of their entries. The high school relay race comes on Friday, soon after dinner, and there will doubtless be the usual spirited contest.

Saturday will be the day for horses, the number and quality, of which is increasing every year. On this day is held the high school athletic meet, with ten events and gold and silver medals in each and a handsome cup for the school winning the highest number of points in the meet. The meet will start at 10 in the morning.

The list of free attractions, to be shown on the stage and track, besides those announced for Thursday, will on Friday and Saturday include in addition the Clark-Razillians, premier aerialists, who delighted everybody with their clever work when here three years ago, the Alabama Four, Southern singers in plantation melodies and fun, Darling's dogs and pony circus for the little folks. There will also be a half-mile race, best two in three heats, for trotters, with lady drivers. The program will be started in the forenoon and continued through the day. There will be the customary merry-go-round, and a Ferris wheel 50 feet high, the largest in New England. A new attraction this year will be an ocean wave, with all the pleasures of an ocean trip minus the salt air and water. These will be on the grounds all three days.

Down on the Midway there promises to be the biggest time ever. Orders for space began to come in weeks ago, and already enough has been allotted to make a pretty good list of "stunts" to do and things to see. All the former privileges will be there, with a generous list of new ones. But everything will be up to the standard of cleanliness adopted by the society some years ago. There have been plenty of applications for space for schemes which, in themselves all right, are objected to by many parents, and all these have been refused.

Reserved seats on the grand stand are now on sale; also parking places along the homestretch for autos and teams. The grand stand seats are 50 cents, and the parking spaces $2, $1 50 and $1, according to location. Either may be had of the secretary, L. E. Chandler. Following the custom inaugurated last year, autos will not be admitted to the grounds other than in the reserved spaces, on account of a lack of room, but will be checked and guarded by officials of the society in a vacant plot opposite the main gate.

Sunday School Association Annual.

The annual meeting and institute of the Three Rivers district of the Massachusetts Sunday School Association was held in the Methodist church in Ware Wednesday afternoon and evening. There are 45 schools in the Three Rivers district, including the schools of Barre, Belchertown, Brimfield, Brookfield, Enfield, Greenwich, Hardwick, Holland, Monson, New Braintree, North Brookfield, Oakham, Palmer, Prescott, Wales, Ware, Warren and West Brookfield.

Among the speakers at the afternoon session were Rev. W. H. Upham, Rev. Arthur Chase, Rev. J. M. Gage, Rev. A. M. Osgood, Rev. E. B. Dolan, H. S Conant, Mrs. Florence E Ware, Mrs. S. J. Cox, Mrs. F. E. Barker, Mrs. L. E. Fletcher. At the evening service Robert Chapin Parker, chairman of the Northfield summer school last year and president of the Hampden District Sunday School Association, gave an address on "The Sunday School and the Community." Rev. G. B. Hatch led the praise and prayer service and there was a violin solo by Henry J. Billings.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. George M. Hitchcock has returned from a week's visit in Ware.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society met in the church parlor last evening.

The family of D. P. Cole have returned to Springfield after spending the summer in Brimfield.

Miss Jennie Coolbroth of Portland, Me., was the guest on Sunday of her brother on Tower Hill.

Miss Gladys Munroe of Fiskdale, a graduate of the Academy in the class of 1910, has entered Wellesley College.

Miss Emma Brown, a graduate of the Academy in the class of 1909, has entered Wheaton Seminary for a year's study.

Miss Agnes Bates of Fiskdale, a graduate of the Academy in the class of 1909, has entered Boston University as a special student.

Ware Boy Nearly Killed.

Lightning Strikes House During Severe Electrical Storm.

Ware was visited by a severe thunder shower Monday night about 5, all of the telephone lines on upper Church street being put out of commission. The residence of T. P. Strong on Church street was struck, and Edwin, the eight-years-old son of Mr. Strong, narrowly escaped being killed.

Mr. Strong, who is proprietor of the Ware laundry, had just driven into his barn, which is in the rear of the house. He was sitting in a buggy waiting for the storm to abate, and standing near were his son and Arland, the nine-years-old son of Senator John H Schoonmaker, whose home is next that of Mr. Strong. The boys were standing near an electric light switch, when there came a blinding flash of lightning and loud peals of thunder. Mr. Strong was thrown to the floor of the carriage and when he recovered he found the boy lying prone on the floor. He carried him into the house and drove quickly to Dr. G F. Spencer's house, bringing the latter home with him.

The physician found the boy to be in a serious condition, but after a while he regained consciousness and will probably recover. The boy had a rubber blanket over his head at the time of the crash, which probably saved his life. The young son of Senator Schoonmaker was dazed, but was able to return to his home.

One of the poles of the telephone company, in front of the residence of Rev. George B. Hatch, was struck by lightning.

Motorcyclist Badly Hurt.

John Rog of Ware was seriously injured Sunday while riding a motorcycle. He was traveling at a high rate of speed and when near the power house of the Ware and Brookfield street railway company in Ware, his front wheel collapsed, throwing him heavily to the ground. He was carried to the home of Lewis Wilson nearby, and attended by Dr. L. E. Dionne. It was found that he had received a deep gash on the left side of the nose and sustained a fractured skull. He was immediately removed to the Ware hospital.

The Northampton Fair.

The fair and cattle show of the Three-Counties society at Northampton next Wednesday and Thursday bids fair to be a record-breaker in point of numbers of attractions and varied interests. The program includes expert judging of cattle, poultry, fruit, vegetables, etc, as well as the usual features of a big fair. The entertainment program is a large and varied one, and the speed classes promise to furnish exciting contests.

BELCHERTOWN.

Miss Mary Anstin is attending a business school in Boston.

Mrs. A. S. Walker is spending two weeks with her sister in Gilbertville.

Principal J. V. Jewett has moved his household goods to New Haven, Ct.

Raymond Gay has entered Clark University at Worcester for a special course.

Rev J. B. Adkins has resigned his pastorate of the Okaloosa, Ia., church, to which he was called from Belchertown. Much regret is expressed by Belchertown people that the ill health of Mrs. Adkins was the principal cause.

One of the workmen employed at the high school was standing near a sheet of tin when a terrible clap of thunder with accompanying flash came on Monday afternoon and he was considerably affected, especially in the left leg and arm, but recovered after a few minutes.

Miss May Carmody entertained a party of friends Saturday evening in honor of Miss Eva Ward, whose marriage will take place to-morrow. The Forever-Singles were also entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Adele Sparrell at a "proposal" party in honor of Miss Ward, who is a charter member and one of the founders of the "misnamed" society.

The annual inspection of Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., was held last Friday evening. The grand chapter officials present were Associate Grand Matron Mrs Ella French, Worthy Grand Patron Mr. Bradstreet and Deputy Marshal Miss Farley. They were assisted in the exercises by the chaplain of Mt. Vernon Chapter, Mrs. Elizabeth Bridgman. Following the inspection a collation was served in the dining room.

WARE.

Death of Robert Potts.

Robert Potts, 53, died at his home on Cherry street last Friday morning after a long illness with Bright's disease. He was born in Ware, August 9, 1858, the son of James and Elizabeth Potts. He had lived in town all his life, in his early years being employed by the George H. Gilbert manufacturing company. For 16 years he was in the liquor business as a member of the firm of Potts & Barry. He was well liked, and his death brought forth many expressions of sympathy. He leaves a widow and three children, Mrs. Charles O'Connor of Worcester, Elizabeth and William at home. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, and was in charge of Ware Court, F. of A. The bearers were John O'Brien, Eugene McCarthy, Thomas O'Rourke, Patrick Barry, Thomas Connors and James Harrison. Burial was in St. William's cemetery.

Golf Club Plans.

There will be a mixed foursome on the Ware Golf Club grounds to-morrow. The events arranged for October at the club are: October 5, putting contest, and whist at 7 30 p. m.; reception committee, Miss Lillias Sjostrom, Mrs. B. W. Southworth, Pani Bassett and B. W. Southworth; 7, graveyard contest; committee, Misses Mayme Packard and Edith Sibley; 14, bogey handicaps and cup play; committee, Mrs. Minot Wood, Mrs. David Wooley; 21, mixed foursome; committee, Rev. E W. Lutterman, Rev. J. J Roberts; 28, driving and approaching contest; committee, Mrs. George Storrs, Miss Lilla Slate; 31, Hallowe'en celebration, in charge of the house committee.

Death of Mrs. Patrick English.

Mrs. Patrick English, 68, died Sunday morning at her home on South street after a three months' illness with stomach and lung trouble. She was a native of Ireland and came to this country 30 years ago. She had been a resident of Ware 12 years, and was highly respected. She leaves six children, John J., Misses Mary and Nellie and Mrs. Josephine O'Halloran of Ware, and Mrs. William Bradley of Hartford, Ct., and Mrs. Daniel E. Brown of Springfield, and seven grandchildren. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 9, with service in All Saints' church and burial in St. William's cemetery.

The marriage of Gilbert H. Boss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boss, and Miss Alice M. Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox, took place in the Methodist parsonage Monday evening, Rev. E. W. Lutterman officiating. They were attended by Herbert Batcheller and Mary McGrath. After a short honeymoon they will make their home in Ware.

RESULTS OF PRIMARIES.

First Trial of New Law Not an Unqualified Success.

VOTERS NOT INCLINED TO ATTEND.

Only a Trifle Over 8 Per Cent Attend in Palmer. Results in Towns Hereabouts.

It is evident that the new primaries law is not regarded enthusiastically in the towns, judging from the attendance Tuesday evening. In Palmer only 107 out of a registration of over 1200 attended.

The polls were supposed to open at 7 o'clock, but when the lights were turned on in the town house they failed to burn. Manager Atkins sent an electrician up in response a telephone call, and he reported trouble with the transformer and lights an impossibility. Kerosene lamps were then resorted to and the polls were opened at 7.48; the first ballot was cast at 8 10. The polls were closed at 9 48 and the counters finished just before midnight, the delay being occasioned by the large number of names written on the ballots.

The results in both parties hereabouts follow:

Republican.

PALMER.

Town committee, Samuel Stewart, A. W. Warriner, John P. Hamilton, E. W Carpenter, Ernest E. Hobson; delegate, E E Hobson and F. H Upham.

MONSON

Delegates: State convention, Arthur D Norcross, George L. Keeney, Homer E Bradway; town committee, William H. Anderson, Eugene R. Cook, George W. Ellis, Edward F. Cushman, Frank E. Severy, Allen J. Buffington, George L. Keeney, Ralph F. Bradway, Alva M. Walker.

BRIMFIELD.

Delegate: State convention, R. V. Sawin; town committee, Orrin Hicks, William C. Davenport, Fred M. Lawrence, C. B. Browne, George E. Hitchcock.

HAMPDEN.

Delegate: State convention, Herbert H. Thresher; town committee, Julius L. Gottsche, Thomas H. Ingham, Walter E. Temple.

HOLLAND.

Delegate: State convention, John S. Hebard; town committee, A. F. Blodgett, C. S. Howlett, W. F Horton.

WALES.

Delegates: State convention, H. A. McFarland; town committee, Leroy Squire, N. Bradley, M. C. Royce, H. A. McFarland, R. D. Shaw.

WILBRAHAM.

Delegate: State convention, C. P. Bolles; town committee, R. J. Sackett, C. P. Bolles, William A. Mowry.

LUDLOW.

Delegates: State convention, Frank A. Towne, Frank N Moore, Ashley N. Boucher, Minot M. Wilder, Richard B. Eisold, John B. Suprenant.

WARE.

Delegates: State convention, Charles E. Stevens, John H. Schoonmaker, Ernest D. Howard; town committee, Albert G Blodgett, Carl G. V. Sjostrum, Waldo C. Lincoln, Joseph Dupree, Walter H. Apperson.

BELCHERTOWN.

Delegates: State convention, F. P. Walker, Leon E. Williams; town committee, A L. Pratt, D. F. Shumway, M. G. Ward, Leon Williams, E. C. Witt, D. R. Shumway, George M. Fisher.

Democratic.

PALMER.

Delegate: State convention, G. A. Moore; town committee, J. P. O'Connor, M. E Monahan, Thomas J. Donahue, Richard Donovan, William Moran, Patrick G. Daley, M. F. Farrelley.

MONSON

Delegate: State convention, John S McQuaid; town committee, Charles J. St. Lawrence, Frederick J. Sullivan, David D Meaney, Eugene E. Hodge, Nelson A Bugbee, Perley V. Spofford, Ezra P. Gould, Angust Peterson, Richard M. Gunther, Richard S. Hughes, Timothy O'Connell, Jeffrey T. Gongh, Edmond Hencault, Tony Jacobs, John A. Shorin

BRIMFIELD.

Delegate: State convention, C. S. Tarbell; town committee, C. S. Tarbell, C. C Browne, A. F. Converse.

HAMPDEN.

Town committee: Matthias Casey, Walter S. Beebe, Cornelius J. Glynn.

WALES.

Delegate: State convention, O P Royce; town committee, O. P. Royce, D. E Parker, G. C. Royce.

WILBRAHAM.

Delegate: State convention, F. A. Bodurtha; town committee, F. W. Green, J. O. Martin, William M. Dempsey.

LUDLOW.

Delegate: State convention, Richard Brady; town committee, Matthew Brennan, Edward V. Stone, Richard Brady, Isaac Lavole, David Irwin, Alexander Blow, Henry E. Quinn, George Black, Andrew M. Donnelly.

WARE.

Delegates: State convention, Joseph A. Plouff, John J. Kidgell, John W. W. Clark Jr.; town committee, Ulric H. Bouchard, Louis S Charbonneau, John W. Clark Jr., James T. Feehan, George H. Haley, Owen H. McArdle, Joseph A. Plumb.

BELCHERTOWN.

Delegate: Edward E. Sargent; town committee, Edward E. Sargent, Fred Dewey, M. P. Bowler, Arthur Bridgman, John Garvey, E. F. Flaherty, Herbert F. Stone.

Presentation to Ware Man.

David E. Peplu, superintendent of the Ware and Brookfield street railway in Ware, was presented Saturday evening with a handsome Knights of Columbus watch charm and chain by the employes of the road, as a token of the high esteem in which he is held. Mr. Peplu is to leave soon for Seattle, Wash., to settle there permanently. He has been connected with the local road since it was built. The road was originally the Hampshire and Worcester, and the first grading for it was done under Mr. Peplu's direction. He assumed the duties of the superintendency on September 1, 1901, the day the road was open for traffic. When the road went into a receiver's hands in 1905 and the name was changed to the Ware and Brookfield, Mr Peplu was retained. The road consists of 12 miles of track, a power-house and car barn, and connects Ware with the towns of West Brookfield and Gilbertville. Mr. Peplu's coming departure is regretted by everyone in town, for he has grown popular because of his upright character and courtesy to all.

Boston Letter.

Aftermath of the Primaries — The Past And the Future of the Gubernatorial Struggle.

BOSTON, Sept. 27, 1911.

"If I am not a winner," said Speaker Walker this noon at the Republican state headquarters, "I hope to show that I am a good loser." He stood erect, strong and smiling, very much as if he had won the victory himself. "My time is wholly at the disposal of the state committee," he said, "and I am ready to go on the stump every night if the committee wants me." Chairman Hatfield of the committee says that everything is about ready to begin the speaking campaign. They will have help from outside of the state, as well as a strong team from inside, and the preparation of the campaign literature will be, as usual, under the direction of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. The party will make the best contest it can and the managers will leave nothing undone which promises to aid in Frothingham's election. Former Councillor Albion F. Bemis of Brookline, where they gave more for Frothingham than they did for either Walker or White, though both of them are citizens of Brookline, predicts sure election for Frothingham. It was a surprise that he carried Brookline. Even his friends were disposed to say that Walker would stand first, White second and Frothingham third No special campaign was made for Frothingham, for Brookline was expected to be complimentary to its two candidates The Frothingham vote showed his real strength, right in the face of local pride and friendship Bemis says that White's attack upon Frothingham hurt White in Brookline seriously, for he had been showing up well. The town would not stand what it believed unfair play on White's part, even by one of its own citizens.

A Republican of high position, who says that the statement comes only second hand from White himself and through a Republican worker who is reliable, gives as the reason for White's attack upon Frothingham that he had been induced by the Republican state committee to enter the contest, with the understanding that they would support him against Frothingham. It seems certain that White must have been misinformed, or somebody was joking him, for the Republican state committee has sympathized with Frothingham all the time, even if the complaints about their action compelled them to keep their hands off entirely.

One of the influences upon the suburban vote for Frothingham is believed to have been the last editions of the Boston papers. In Boston the polls closed at 4 o'clock and though the count had not been held, yet the indications were such that the last editions gave Frothingham the nomination. This statement went to the suburbs where the voting extended into the evening. One voter says that he knows of a block of five men who would have voted for Walker had they not seen the statement that Frothingham had won, and they wanted to be on the winning side.

Frothingham's vote in Worcester, larger than that for either Walker or White, is one of the surprises of the day, though the returns from all parts of the state showed that it was only by the hardest sort that Walker and White got anything and that where they did not work, and in many places where they did, the vote was strongly for Frothingham. Springfield was the only city which gave a really good margin for Walker.

Charles S. Baxter, former mayor of Medford and manager of the Frothingham campaign, tells me to-day that Frothingham has an organized machine which extends to every city and town in the state and that it was by the skillful work of that machine that the victory was won. Everything was done on system, and the campaign was of the cumulative order, pushing steadily to larger proportions till the last day. If the state committee, he says, should do nothing from this time on, yet the Frothingham men could go right ahead, without any loss by means of the splendid system of work which they have at hand all through the state.

It would seem certain that there must be an advantage in the alphabetical position which is given on the ballot. Admitting that it did not count for the first place on the ticket, where all three rivals were so well known, yet in no other way can the vote for Burr against John E White for the Republican nomination for auditor be explained. With only Gosnold missing, the figures this afternoon stand as 36 933 for Burr and 56,831 for White. Now Burr made no special contest in the state as a whole. He is not well known. He does not have the prestige of the office, which must have helped White, and yet he got that large number of votes It is quite possible that the alphabetical arrangement helped Donahue get his 51,849 for Democratic candidate for secretary of state, against only 10,569 for Skelton, though Skelton ran at the request of Foss and Donahue was none too well liked at the Democratic headquarters. On the other hand, Donahue had the advantage of being connected with Practical Politics, which commands support, and there is no doubt that he had many influential friends among the Democrats in all parts of the state, as the published list of his supporters showed. Now comes the tug between him and Secretary Langtry, with the question whether the Republican incumbent can keep his place. Langtry, with 71,383 against 49,100 for Russell A. Wood, may have had some advantage of position, but not much, for Wood made a better run than would have been expected. George W. Anderson, Democratic candidate for attorney general, also had the position ahead of his rival, Joseph J. Leonard and wins by 30,321 to 20,873, Gosnold missing. Anderson was Gov. Foss's preference, but that did not help Skelton a particle, it seems. There are men to-day who predict that Anderson will give a hard rub to Swift, the Republican incumbent and candidate for reëlection. Anderson has a high standing here in Boston, where he has been foremost in public affairs for many years, serving on the Boston school committee, and Swift has to explain the failure to clean up some of the doings in New Bedford under the Ashley regime, when Swift was the district attorney. He says he is ready for that encounter.

Baxter says that Frothingham is in the hands of the state committee, but whether he will decide for himself what shall be the subject of his speeches, or that matter will be settled by a Republican strategy board remains to be determined. The campaign must be planned with consumate skill, as well as fought with equal persistence, force and ability. From this time on every Republican effort will be made to cover every part of the state and get out the vote which is able to elect Frothingham, they believe if it comes out.

[Continued on Second Page.]

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. Phone Moulton, 122-21, Monson.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Peeping Tom Appears.

Several Women in Different Sections Annoyed Wednesday Evening.

The police spent several hours Wednesday evening looking for a man who annoyed a number of women in the vicinity of Central, Pleasant, Pine and Knox streets, hnt failed to get a sight of him. He first appeared about 7 o'clock, when he grasped Mrs. G. C. Kinsley of Central street as she was on her way to the church. She spoke sharply to the fellow and turned up to the home of H. A. Northrop, whereupon he disappeared. At the home of James Heenehan on the same street he whistled to attract the attention of members of the family on the second floor, and then vanished. At the home of Dr. S. B. Keith he rapped on the kitchen window to attract Mrs. Keith's attention as she stood close by, and made himself otherwise obnoxious. Mrs. Keith called to her hnsband in the next room, but he could find no trace of the man when he went outside. The home of Rev. O. S Raspe on Walnut street, that of Dr. G. A. Moore on Pleasant and that of W. F. Fillmore on Knox street were also visited between that time and 9 o'clock. The fellow also followed Mrs. H. M. Howe and Miss Florence Goodes on Thorndike street near the high school building, and Mrs. Thomas Harwood on Central street, bnt did not accost them.

Man Struck By Auto.

Maine Car Knocks Man Over Yesterday. May be Badly Hurt.

Warren O'Hara of Bondsville, employed on the state road near North Wilbraham, was struck and knocked down by a car carrying a Maine registration tag, jnst before noon yesterday. According to the occnpants of the car—and of those in two other cars accompanying—O'Hara stepped to one side to avoid a passing team just before the auto came along. The driver blew his horn and O'Hara stepped to one side, then stepped back directly in front of the machine, which knocked him down. He seized some part of the car and was dragged about 15 feet, the speed of the car being about 10 or 12 miles an hour. He was brought to Dr. Carsley's office in Palmer, where it was found that he was badly bruised and might have sustained a fracture of the skull, though that could not be determined at the time. He was taken to his home in Bondsville, and the autoists departed after leaving their names and addresses.

Require Pupils' Attendance.

If Requested to Return After Regular Hours They Must Do So.

The school committee at its meeting Tuesday evening gave considerable time to a discnssion of the matter of requiring pupils to return for supplementary work in the afternoon, after being dismissed at the close of the regnlar session. It has been fonnd that certain pupils need assistance now and then in certain stndies, and the teachers are willing to give the extra time needed; bnt many times when pupils have been asked to return for snch assistance they have neglected to do so The board voted Tuesday evening "that when the work of a pupil has been deemed unsatisfactory, the teacher shall have a right to demand that the pupil return in the afternoon." The plan will benefit two classes of pupils, those who find it hard to do the work laid out, and those who are inclined to take the school work too carelessly and for that reason are not up in their rank. The new plan will tend to increase the general standing of the classes and work to the distinct advantage of those who need help.

File Petition in Bankruptcy.

The George F. Emmons Company, dealers in men's furnishings, have filed a petition in the bankrnptcy conrt in Boston, with liabilities of $2202 59 and assets of about $1800. There are about 30 creditors, D. F. Dillon being the only secnred creditor, holding a mortgage on the firm's stock and fixtures to cover a loan of $250 Some of the principal unsecnred creditors are: Simmons, Hatch & Whittin of Boston, $462 07; Cluett, Peabody company of Boston, $250; Swan, Russell company of Boston, $220; Bates Street shirt company of Boston, $204. For assets the company has about $1300 in stock in trade, $330 in machinery and tools and $100 in other personal property. George F. Emmons and David Davis, members of the firm, have filed individnal petitions. The Emmons' schedule shows debts amounting to $262 and he has personal property to cover amounting to $100. He has but two creditors, John B. Dawson of Palmer, whose claim amounts to $112, and David Davis, whose claim is for $150. Davis' debts amount to $217, and he has abont $200 of available assets. His principal creditors are: Charles H. Bnrns of Palmer, $180, and Edward Goodes of Palmer $16 His assets consist entirely of personal property.

Pound Party for Pastor.

A social in the nature of a good fellowship meeting was held in the vestry of St. Paul's church Wednesday evening. It was a very pleasant affair, fully 100 parishioners being present. An entertainment was furnished by the young people of the parish. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Addie Coles, vocal selections by Miss Doris Paine, violin solo by Miss Grace Swann, with Miss Mary Dolbeare presiding at the piano. The snrprise of the evening was a pound party — a donation of groceries, delicacies, fruits, a pound of bright Lincoln pennies from the mint and a pound of nickels—tendered to the pastor and his family by their many friends. Mrs. H. R. Paine, president of the ladies' society, in a felicitous manner, welcomed the guests and presented the pounds. Mr. Raspe, in a few well-chosen words, expressed his hearty appreciation. The affair closed with the good fellowship desired abundantly manifested.

Death of Miss Emma L. Feeney.

Emma L. Feeney died at her home on South Main street about 5.15 this morning after an illness of about a year with consumption. Miss Feeney was born in Palmer June 21, 1860, the daughter of John and Emma Stone Feeney, and had lived her entire life in town. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. J W. Baldwin of North Wilbraham, Mrs. Elizabeth Heery of Boston and Miss Katharine Feeney of Palmer. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Thomas' church. Burial will be in the family lot in the Thorndike cemetery.

Organ Recital To-night.

Mrs. Alta Small of Providence, R. I., will give an organ recital in the Congregational church this evening. There will also be solos by Mrs. Lucy Flynt, contralto, with violin obligato by Mr. Rufus Flynt. Mrs. Small was a former resident of Palmer and will be remembered as an organist of more than ordinary ability.

Wales Society Meets Here.

Ladies Have Enjoyable Time With South Main Street Friend.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid Society of Wales met with Mrs. E. A. Clark on South Main street in Palmer Wednesday, when a very pleasant day was spent. At one o'clock dinner was served by Mrs. Clark, assisted by her daughters, Misses Grace and Bertha, and her niece, Miss Beatrice Thompson The table was prettily decorated with sweet peas and asters. Among the guests present were Mrs. C. T. Holt, president of the society, Mrs. Hatty Parker, Mrs. Foster Walbridge, Mrs. Ansel Shaw, Mrs. Leon Thompson and son Francis, Mrs. Dornoe Parker, Mrs. Lizzie Rourke, all of Wales. Mrs. Eden Shaw and Mrs. William Whittimore of Monson, Mrs. Almeda Parker and Mrs. Dr. Moore of West Warren, Mrs. Roy Chandler, son Brentney and daughter Myrtle, Mrs. Louis Parker and son Kenneth of Springfield, Mrs. E. Curtis of Southbridge. The guests left on the late cars for their homes.

Had Two Toes Crushed.

Fog Responsible For Collision of Two Cars Wednesday.

Dennis Haley, an employe of the street railway, had two toes badly crushed in a collision between a work car and a freight car abont 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. A freight car had dropped off the iron at Tenneyville, and Haley went down with the work car to put it back. The fog had made the track slippery, and he struck the freight car almost before he saw it. He will be laid np for a time, bnt is not seriously hurt.

Church Notes.

Rally Day will be observed at the Baptist church next Snnday. Morning worship at 10 45; sermon subject "Hohah," Bible school at 12; special order of service, everybody invited. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 15. Evening worship at 7; sermon snbject "Modes of confession." Men's qnartet will sing.

The subject of the sermon at St. Paul's church Sunday morning will be "The sorrows of Satan—a travesty on Hell and the devil." Next Snnday the Y. P. C. U. will commence a new system of leaders and snb-leaders, who are responsible for the Snnday evening meeting. A program has been drawn up, a leader and two sub-leaders being appointed for each Snnday evening in the year. The meeting next Sunday night will be in charge of Rexford Paine as leader. The topic will be "The great men of onr faith."

Next Snnday will be Rally Day at the Congregational church, when the pastor will preach a special sermon in the morning on "Men and Religion." There will be a special service of the Snnday school at 12, when all departments will meet together in the main room. The Christian Endeavor service at 6 will be one of consecration, the topic being "Lessons from the life of Peter." In the evening at 7 the pastor will continne his series of sermons on messages from the Old Testament prophets, the special theme being "Micah, the prophet of the poor."

Slattery—Taylor.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 5.30 at the home of Mrs Daniel Slattery on State avenne, when her daughter, Minnie Allen, was united in marriage to Walter Burnell Taylor. Rev. F. S. Brewer of the Congregational church performed the ceremony, beneath an arch of evergreen, goldenrod and daisies, the house also being prettily decorated. Miss Snsan Barlow was bridesmaid and Joseph Slattery, brother of the bride, best man. The bride's gown was white silk mnslin and she wore a veil caught np with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white embroidered Swiss muslin over pink and carried a bouqnet of pink roses. After a wedding trip to Hartford, Ct., and New York Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will make their home at 559 North Main street.

Red Pepper Plot Foiled.

It has been considered smart by certain youngsters to blow snnff or red pepper ont over the andience from the balcony of the opera honse dnring a moving picture show, the darkness rendering discovery practically nil. The manager had a tip last Saturday night however that a lad who had previously been suspected was to try the trick again that evening. Watch was kept, but the youngster sent another lad for the material and he was caught when he came back. He was so young that he convinced the manager of his lack of knowledge of what the pepper was for, but he had a bad scare and the lad who fnrnished the money is barred from the opera honse in the fntnre.

Refused to Send Boy to School.

Charles Barcome of Wilbraham was tried in the district conrt Monday morning for failing to send his son, George, to school in Wilbraham. The defense was that the boy's health was not good enough to enable him to go to school. Evidence to the contrary was produced by the Commonwealth and Barcome was found guilty His case was continned to November 6 for sentence.

C E. Fuller is in New York for a few days this week.

Conrt Palmer, F. of A., will meet next Tuesday evening.

The firemen will hold a practice meeting next Monday evening.

Tockwotton tribe of Red Men held a meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Everett Butler of Salem visited Palmer friends recently.

Good Cheer Rebekah lodge met last evening and initiated candidates.

F R. Sizer has moved his family from Foster street to Sonth Main street.

There are several cases of diphtheria in town, bnt they are widely scattered.

N. W. Chandler of New York is visiting his brother, L. E. Chandler of North Main street.

Mrs. Emma Gunn of Pleasant street has returned from an extended visit in Springfield.

E. F. Connolly will open a dancing school in Memorial hall next Tuesday evening.

Miss Anna Heenehan of Springfield is the gnest of Mrs M. J. Murphy of State avenne.

A special meeting of the Women's Relief Corps was held Tnesday afternoon; the work was rehearsed.

George Newbury is moving his family from Pleasant street to Abner Podrat's house on South Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E Park of Springfield, former residents, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. L A. Hitchcock.

Misses Bessie Roche, Gladys Paine and Elizabeth Bodfish have returned to Brown niversity to resume their studies.

Rev. O S. Raspe, pastor of the Universalist church, slipped on a stairway in the parsonage last Friday evening and sprained his right ankle.

Mrs. A. J Lawton has gone to Brattleboro, Vt., for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Russell Rixford.

A home missionary meeting was held in the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon. The subject of the meeting was Porto Rico.

Mrs. C. M. Wing and daughter, Josephine have returned to their home in Greenville, S. C., after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Northop.

J. G. Ray of Springfield has the contract for making the alterations and repairs on the high school. Work has begnn and the contract calls for the completion by November 1

The Palmer Historical Society will hold its first meeting of the fall season Tnesday evening, October 10, in the reference room of the public library. David F. Dillon will give a talk on "The Making of History."

Rev. A. C. Johnson of the A. C. church will speak in the Advent chapel Snnday afternoon at 3 o'clock; commnnion will be observed at the close of the service. Snnday school will be at 2, as usual.

The Woman's Tuesday Club will hold its first meeting for the season next Tnesday afternoon with Mrs. F. D Barton of North Main street. The club will stndy Mexico and Southern Climes this season.

Miss Hazel C. Owen has resigned as teacher of the Forest Lake school to take a position in Westfield Miss Geneva Rielly of Ware has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Miss Rielly is now teaching in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones were pleasantly surprised by a party of their friends Tnesday evening at their home on Park street, the occasion being in honor of Mr. Jones' birthday. Refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed.

Two special cars carrying a party of Grand Trunk officials were sidetracked in the Palmer yard Wednesday night. A portion of the party continued on to New London by train, while the balance went over the proposed ronte of the Providence extension in autos yesterday.

Invitations have been received in town to the wedding of Dr. William T. McBride of Athol, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McBride of Converse street, and Miss Annie F. Walker of Orange. The ceremony will take place in Orange Wednesday, October 11, at 9 a. m. in the church of St. Mary.

The contract for the sewers in Three Rivers has been awarded to Cæsar A. Rossie of Torrington, Ct., at $4737 The contract for the oil macadam road in Three Rivers has been awarded to the New England Contracting company of Worcester. This company is building road in Bondsville and oiling the North Main street section.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Maude B. Hnbbard is visiting friends in Danielson, Ct.,

Mrs. Myron Briuer has returned from a trip to Old Orchard, Me.

Miss Louise M. Hodgkins is spending the week at Wellesley college

Mrs Ellen D. Pease of Red Bank, N. J., Mrs. Homer Dwight of Chicago and Mrs. Fred Dwight of East Longmeadow were in town Satnrday, calling on an old school friend, Mrs. H. M. Bliss.

WARREN.

The trolley service was held up for three hours Tuesday owing to the second car going west in the morning leaving the rails near the house of William Steele. All the wheels left the rails and the front of the car was projected over the bank, narrowly missing a large maple tree. Abont 15 passengers were on the car and all received a bad shaking np. Miss Francella Burlingame was thrown from the car, bnt escaped injnry. It was 10 o'clock before the car was placed on the rails and traffic resumed.

HOLLAND.

Thomas Kelly has bought the farm known as the Brodeen farm.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bridges returned to their home in Amherst Sunday after a visit in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hnbbard went to Spencer Tuesday to attend a conference as delegates from the Holland church.

HAMPDEN.

Miss Metcalf will spend next month at York Beach, Me

Miss Elizabeth Beebe is the gnest of friends in Dalton.

Miss Mina E. Sessions has returned to Mt. Holyoke College.

William Olnen has returned from Buffalo, N. Y., and resumed the management of his farm.

At the meeting of the board of registrars Satnrday evening, four names were removed from the voters' list and none were added. The voters' list now numbers 145 men and 17 women.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mowry—Bradway.

The marriage of Ethel Lee Mowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E W. Mowry, and Nelson I Bradway took place at the home of the bride Wednesday evening, Rev. T. E. Williams officiating The bride wore a blue serge traveling snit. The couple were nnattended They left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip and on their return will live with the bride's parents for the present.

Mrs. Herbert Whiting is spending the week with relatives at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Steadman and family have returned to Springfield after spending the month at their cottage on Wilbraham Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Willis Cutler and two daughters, Rachel and Kathryn, have returned to their home in Wilbraham after spending part of the summer in Woodmont, Ct., and the White monntains.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have nsed it with perfect snccess," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Palmer People Know How to Save It.

Many Palmer people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to snffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills — a remedy that has cnred thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

N. O. Shea, 84 Main St., Ware, Mass., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly an effective kidney medicine. We publicly endorsed them in 1908, and at this time I willingly confirm what was then said. My back ached and I did not sleep well. There was considerable pain dnring passages of the kidney secretions and I knew something must be done for relief. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a supply and they soon had the desired effect, relieving my trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injnry is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cnre can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken bnt the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their fnnctions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

BOSTON LETTER.

[Continued from First Page.]

Chairman John F. McDonald of the Democratic state committee says that Gov. Foss is champing at the bit to begin the campaign and that the contest will begin at once. There will be a Malden rally to-night under the management of former Representative Thomas P. Riley, who is running for mayor The Democratic state committee will meet to-morrow to decide upon the details of the state convention and set the party machine in operation. They are confident of re-electing the governor, and prominent Republicans have admitted to-day that the chances favor him. In spite of what is said about the Republican disaffection, and doubtless there is something in it, yet prominent Republicans are named who did not vote for him last year who will vote for him this year.

The Republican legislative campaign committee will meet at Republican headquarters to-morrow to arrange their campaign for all the closely contested districts and save the Legislature if they can, for it will be redistricting year for Congress

Rev. James Mudge, assistant editor of Zion's Herald who wrote to friends to work for Norman H. White, says that there were 1,500 ministers in the state working for him. White says that he saw that Frothingham and Walker were not doing anything with them that they were lying around loose, and he picked them up, having noticed that they were good help in politics.

It comes from Ginn & Co., showing the progress of the world organization movement which begun in our Legislature in 1902, that its little pioneer book, "World Organization," published in 1935, six years ago, and having advertising next to nothing, sold 48 copies in the last six months, or more than in several similar previous periods. For a book of that nature, out six years, and mentioned from month to month, it shows quite encouragingly that this movement is commanding increasing attention. Perhaps the public approval of Andrew D. White, head of our first Hague delegation, given to the book, has some effect.

LANDON.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers

BORN.

In Palmer, 25th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Roche.

In Enfield, 22d, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Kimball

In Des Moines, Ia., a daughter to John M. and Lillie M. Sullivan Bowler, formerly of Bondsville.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 27th, by Rev. F. S. Brewer, Walter B. Taylor and Minnie A. Slattery.

In North Wilbraham, 27th, by Rev. T. E. Williams, Nelson I. Bradway and Ethel Lee Morway.

In Thorndike, 27th, by Rev P. J. Griffin, Joseph P. Noonan of Springfield and Kathryn M. Hartnett of Three Rivers.

In Three Rivers, 27th, by Rev. C. B. McDuffie, Willard Henry of Hopedale and Eva Henrichon of Three Rivers,

DIED.

In Palmer, 29th, Emma Feeney.
In Thorndike, 24th, Daniel Leary, 75.
In Monson, 26th, Mrs. Emeline C. Bogioe, 81.
In Ware, 24th, Mrs. Patrick English, 68
In Ware, 22d, Robert Potts, 83.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, 80. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

Three-County Fair and Cattle Show
NORTHAMPTON, MASS
Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 4 and 5
A Fair of more than usual merit.
Something for Everybody.
Fine Cattle, Quality Horses, Sheep, Swine, Poultry.
Band Concerts. Big Vaudeville List.
President, C. E. HODGKINS.
Secretary, C. A. MONTGOMERY

Scholars-- Attention
Everything For School Days at
Lynde & Gould
Druggists, Stationers, Newsdealers
Palmer, Mass.

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Teacher of Piano.
In Palmer Saturdays
Maud L. Hayden,
26 Bristol St., Springfield, Mass.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St. Palmer

Habicht & Hogg
Civil Engineers and Surveyors
Architects
Farm Surveys a Specialty.
Reinforced Concrete Buildings.
Room 39. Kinsman Building
332 MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911
All Goods Delivered Free In Palmer.

Novelty Coats
The great demand is for garment novelties of every description and we are fortunate in being able to show them in a fascinating variety of new and clever styles —and at very reasonable prices.
The New Hooded Coats
The One Piece Coats Made of Double Faced Imported Materials
The Stylish White Polo Coats
All At $25.
New models in the popular reversible coats in exclusive foreign fabrics, in new and pleasing color combinations — can be worn either way— $32.50.

Smart Serge Dresses
Our department of dresses is making a most attractive showing of fine serge dresses — smartly tailored little costumes for house and street wear in fine black and blue serge, with quaint dutch necks and lace collars and cuffs — simple but very stylish.
At $20, $22.50, $25, $27.50 and $30

Handsome Tailored Hats
Our fashion show in the Millinery Department — now at its best—includes a rich display of handsome tailored hats. These come in fine felts, velours and soft velvets in all the new shapes and colorings, trimmed with smart ornaments in a wide variety of distinctive styles.
Excellent Values from $5 to $15

D. H. Brigham & Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Lamson & Hubbard
SOFT HATS
In Rich Velours, nobby effects in grey and brown felts. The man who wears an L. & H. is the man who cares.
L. & H. DERBIES
The early Fall and Winter styles have that up-to-date effect that has marked each season's development of the famous Lamson & Hubbard Hats.
Made in Boston for over 30 years. We guarantee you a perfect fit and a stylish shape.
C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK. PALMER, MASS.
Money deposited on or before Thursday, October 5th, will commence interest from October 1st.
BANKING HOURS:
9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.
CHAS. L. WAID, Treasurer.

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK.
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by

These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

Fall Opening
OF
Soft Hats
The leading Fall shapes and colors now on display.
A Special at $2
Extra good quality in all colors.
Early Fall Showing of Negligee Shirts
Fine assortment—$1.00, $1.50
C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

We always have what we advertise. Springfield, Worcester, Brockton, Utica.
We All Pay Tribute to Style.

Whether consciously, or otherwise, we respect the conventions of Fashion in attire The man who wears correct and becoming clothes acquires prestige that his less careful brother cannot achieve.
To the discerning man, correct style, good materials, and perfect fit are indispensable.
Probably as long as you have been purchasing clothes you have never been able to make your selection from as wide a range of fabrics as we offer for the present season.
While in quality these fabrics are not superior to those we have shown in the past, they are far more beautiful Fashion has decreed that many brownish effects should be popular, and we are certain that if you will inspect our new models you will be most enthusiastic about them.
To make these clever fabrics more effective, they have been made up into wonderful styles—styles which will impress you—styles which you will want to wear.
Our prices start at $9 and run up to $35 with extraordinary assortments at $15, $16.50, $18, $20 to $25
The W. J. Woods Co.,
Money back if you say so. SPRINGFIELD. Cor. Main St. and Harrison Ave.

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, Never Out and Dietz Jr.
The three best lights on the market. Priced right.
E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

Death of Mrs. Ann E. Williams.

Mrs. Ann E Williams, 77, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs Charles Chipman, at the navy yard near Gales Ferry, Ct., yesterday morning after a long illness with a complication of diseases. She was born in Mystic, Ct, June 5, 1834 She was a widow of the late Robert L Williams, formerly of Monson, whom she married in Mystic, Oct 16, 1853 She is survived hy one son, Fred L. Williams of Monson, and two danghters, Mrs. E. C Bradway of Monson and Mrs. Charles Chipman. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning, with burial in Elm Grove cemetery in Mystic, Ct.

Narrow Escape From Injury.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Applehy narrowly escaped a serious accident while driving into the village Tuesday morning. The horse stepped on a loose stone and turned a complete somersault and the wagon passed over the animal. At first the horse was thought to he killed, hut escaped without serious injury. Mr. Appleton was thrown ont and Mrs. Appleton was thrown into the hottom of the carriage. Neither received any serious injury.

Were Thrown From Team.

F. H. Applehy and Clayton Felton of the east party of the town were thrown from their buggy while on the road from Wales Wednesday morning. Mr. Felton, who was driving, had turned out to pass a team and the wheel went into a hole on the side of the road. Both were painfully hrnised bnt neither was seriously injured. The buggy was wrecked. The horse was stopped near Main street.

Will Repair Road.

S. M. Stebbins, superintendent of roads, attended the annual meeting of the state highway commission in Springfield yesterday. The commission promised to make repairs on the strip of highway from this town to Palmer and if possible will give it a coat of gravel and oil. They also expressed their intention of huilding more macadam road in this town in the near fntnre, bnt gave no definite promise.

Injured While Chopping.

J. R. Calkins of State Line was quite badly injured while chopping wood at his home Monday afternoon. His ax slipped, inflicting a deep wonnd in his left leg hetween the ankle and knee, injuring the shin bone. He was taken to the office of Dr. C. W. Jackson and the wound four inches long was dressed. The injnry will confine him to his home for several weeks.

Lightning Does Slight Damage.

During a thunder storm Monday evening lightning ran into the library building on an electric light wire and started a fire An alarm was rnng in from box 25 and the firemen responded, hut the damage was slight. The lightning also entered Dr Sonle's honse hut the principal damage was the hurning off of the insulation on the electric lights in the cellar.

Death of Mrs. Emeline C. Bugbee.

Mrs. Emeline C. Bughee, 81, widow of William H Bugbee, died Tuesday afternoon at her home on Pleasant street. She leaves one son, Nelson A. of this town. The fnneral was held Thursday afternoon at her home at 2 30 o'clock Rev G A Andrews condncted the services and bnrial was in No. 1 cemetery.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. R. De Forest Tucker gave a tea Tuesday afternoon from 3 30 to 6 o'clock at the Tuckerforge farm in honor of her cousins, Mrs. Hindle of Bridgeport, Ct., and Mrs. Tyler and danghter of Chicago. Miss Tyler is a miniaturist and one of the pleasures of the afternoon was the opportunity given the gnests to see her work which has been on exhibition in eastern cities

F. A. Bill is ill at his home on North Main street.

Miss Elise Alden spent Sunday at her home in Belchertown.

Miss Helen M. Needham has retnrned from a visit in Granville.

Miss Marguerite Smith spent Sunday at her home in Southbridge.

Mrs William Monahan of Westerly, R I is visiting friends in Monson.

Miss Cecelia Delehanty spent Sunday with relatives in Southbridge.

Dwight W. Ellis is spending a few days at Cape Cod on a hunting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields have returned from their wedding trip.

Clande Faulkner has taken a position as clerk in F. S. Chapman's drug store.

Charles Borgeson has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he has entered Prattinstitute.

A. E. Rehn has moved his family to Worcester, where he has taken a position.

Elmer Harris is able to he out after heing confined to his home on Main street hy rheumatism.

Charles St. Lawrence has moved his household effects to Ware, where he has taken a position.

Monson lodge of Odd Fellows will receive an official visit from the grand master October 9.

The W. C. T. U held a meeting atithe home of Miss Julia Smith Tnesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Yonng Ladies' Study Club met Tuesday evening with Miss Florence Park on Washington street.

R. M. Lnll of Lincoln street has retnrned to Pratt Institnte, where he will continne his studies.

Gnstaf Sangrian has moved his family from Main street to Frank Partello's house on Highland avenne.

Mrs James Wall and two children of New York are visiting the family of G L. Fuller on Sanier avenne.

Mrs. George Rumwell of Elm street has gone to the House of Mercy hospital in Springfield for treatment.

A. D Ellis has had the office at the No 1 mill remodeled into a dwelling which will be occupied by John Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Taylor and daughter have returned to their home in Patterson, N. J., after a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs W. B. Ginty have retnrned to Cambridge after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Scannell on Bridge street.

A meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held Monday afternoon at the home of the Misses Ross.

A kitchen shower was given at the home of Miss Maude Sweet Friday for Miss Louise Shaw, who is to be married soon.

A stocking shower was given to Miss Margaret Looney Satnrday evening by Mrs. Jesse Rogers at her home on Thompson street.

Mrs. Robert Sisk, who has been visiting at the home of Thomas Faulkner on High street, has returned to her home in New London, Ct.

Mrs Welcome Converse and Mrs. David Gordon of Rochester, N. Y., have heen the guests of Mrs. F. S. Homer on High street the past week.

Messrs. Richard O'mstead and John Morgan, who have been visiting Monson friends, have returned to their home in West Brookfield.

Archie Parker, who has just completed four years' service in the navy, has been honorahly discharged and is visitiug his brother, Raymond in Monson.

Free tickets will be given all the children of the public schools for the Palmer fair next Friday. The schools will be closed in the afternoon to enable them to go.

Miss Florence Bughee of North Adams and Mr and Mrs. George Bughee of Dalton are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs N. A. Bughee on Pleasant street.

An important meeting of the Fortnightly club will be held at the home of Mrs. O. C McCray on Cushman street Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock; a large attendance is desired

H M Smith has raised the retail price of ice from 30 to 50 cents for 100 pounds. This was necessary as Mr Smith's supply has been exhausted and he will now have to get his ice ont of town.

The real estate and personal property of the late A. H. Danforth was sold at anction Saturday. The house was sold to A. D. Ellis for $1850 and the Danforth bracket business, including patents, was sold to E. P. Hynes for $340

The last of the summer series of whist parties at the Quaboag Country club honse will take place next Wednesday evening. The party will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. F. S Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lancey.

In the Congregational church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock there will be a stereopticon lecture by Rev. G A. Andrews The subject will he "The church edifice," and there will be 60 slides, showing the various styles of church architectnre from early apostolic times to the present day.

Selectman Herlihy was ont yesterday adjnsting damages caused by deer. Complaints continne to arrive and have been qnite numerous this year, especially in the eastern and sontheastern sections. The damages adjusted yesterday were on the farms of John Miller and Fred Morse.

The Sunshine Society of the Congregational church will hold a social in the chapel to-morrow afternoon from 3 to 5.

Home-made candy will be on sale, and there will be a program of games and a tahlean. The committee in charge is Charles Keep, Elliott Hale, Daniel Young, May Wheeler, Josie Pratt and Jennie Noyes.

Two weddings of especial interest will take place at St. Patrick's church next week. On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock Margaret Looney of this town and Daniel Shea will be married. At the same hour Wednesday morning Miss Minnie Welch and William P. Welch will he married. A bachelor supper was given by Mr. Welch to his Monson friends at the Hotel Kimball in Springfield Saturday evening.

Manager H. F. Miller of the Memorial Town Hall theatre has made arrangements to have the talented yonng actress, Agusta Perry, and her own stock company at the Memorial Hall Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with a matinee Wednesday afternoon. The plays are as follows: Monday evening, "A Danghter of Fate;" Tuesday evening, "Under Two Flags;" Wednesday evening, "Dora Thorne;" Wednesday matinee, "East Lynne" The reserved seats are now on sale at Bradway's newsroom.

Her hobble skirt she sheds real quick down on the farm, yon see; for herries she would stoop to pick, and climb the cherry tree.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

WALES.

Local Firm Secures Big Contract.

T. J Hynes & Son, contractors, who are constructing the concrete bridge over Mill River for the city of Springfield, have recently been awarded the contract at about $25,000, for the construction of a reinforced concrete viaduct 300 feet long over the Boston and Maine tracks on the estate of William A. Tucker at Manchester, Mass. The structure consists of seven concrete arches of various spans and one concrete truss 50 feet in length. Work has already begun and the contractors expect to complete the bridge ready for the fill prior to Jan. 1 The concrete railing will be placed and surface finishing completed as soon as the weather permits in the spring of 1912

"The Newark."

The Shoe With a Record.

There is always a reason for the continual growth and success of any business; a reason — that must be plain to every one in the town or city where the successful business is located. It must not only be plain, but it must be proved to the public that the reason exists.

You will read here the story of a business that not only ranks as a great success but whose products are recognized standards. By reading this story and investigating the proposition in person you will not fail to realize the wisdom of joining the great army of Newark Shoe wearers.

The real, great cause of the success of the Newark Shoe is the value given. Every nerve is strained in producing a shoe that will fit every need, supply every want, humor every fancy, fit to a nicety, stand strenuous wear and yet retail for $2 50.

You ask, "How is this result obtained?" We will tell you — Behind the Newark Shoe is a great factory, unlimited resources and an active organization which makes it possible to bring down the cost of manufacture to the lowest mark; but added to that, is the great factor of all, a chain of 87 retail stores to which the products of this great orgaulzation are shipped direct, thus reducing the usual costly system of selling an article through a jobber and retailer, to a single step — that of bringing it from the factory to your home.

This means to you that a "Newark Shoe" if it had come through the usual channels would cost you no less than $3 50

Now we have made it clear why the Newark Shoe is the great success it is today, and how it has been possible to establish the enviable record of opening over 80 retail stores in little more than seven years — it is the actual cash saving of a big round dollar on every pair of shoes you buy, as over a million wearers can testify to-day. We want your testimony.

Let us prove to you that $2.50 is enough to pay for Shoes.

A representative of the Newark Shoe Company will be at Hotel Burns, Palmer, in the lobby from 6.30 to 9 next Monday evening to show and advertise our famous shoes selling at $2 50. We invite the people of Palmer, Monson and surrounding towns, Thorndike, Three Rivers and Bondsville, to come and look at these wonderful shoes. A little pocket booklet will be given to each one who comes, The Newark Shoe Co., 270 Main St. Springfield, Mass.

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

Albert Steiger Company,

"The Woman's Store"

SPRINGFIELD, . . . MASS.

As a Style Factor Our Exclusive Showings in

Silks, Dress Goods, Laces, Trimmings and All Dress Accessories

Continue as an Event of Marked Interest to Dressmakers and Womankind Generally

For Fall and Winter fashioning, truly our showing is a revelation It is an assemblage of style creations that at once appeals to even the most discriminate. Partially because of their exclusiveness—diversity of assortment—and the rare beauty of their handsomely blended colorings But, wholly because they're all distinguished as exponents of the very choicest of the season's leaders in style,—many of them are offerings of Special Value. So with all we especially invite those interested in the fashioning of women's garments to visit us during this exhibition week of fabrics.

A Brief Quotation to Illustrate

Laces and Dress Trimmings

In a Profusion of the Most Beautiful Effects

A handsome assemblage of Allovers, Shadow Nets, Irish Crochet, Venesse, Chantilly and Appliques in the most exclusive of patterns They range in price, a yard, from $1 to $10
Bands and Galloons to match—a yard 25c to $5
Wide Bands in dainty Macrame, Chantilly, Venesse and Filet, in shades of black, white and ecru, at, a yard 50c to $17
Embroidered Silk Bands, in dainty colorings, at, a yard 25c, 35c and 50c
Silk Fringes in the most attractive patterns, at, a yard 25c to $1.50

Winterthur Black Silks

A Fabric to Be Found Only at This Store

45-INCH BLACK SATIN DUCHESS Winterthur make — very fine, soft quality. A yard, $2 75
45-INCH BLACK WINTERTHUR Satin Duchess—a splendid gown quality. A yard, $3
45-INCH BLACK WINTERTHUR Costume Satin, a beautiful material for gowns. A yard, $4

Two Special Leaders From the Dress Goods Section

STEIGER SPECIAL SILK AND WOOL Poplin, full 42 inches wide, in twenty or more handsome shades — equal to any shown in the city at $1.75. Our price, a yard, $1 50
54-INCH CHIFFON BROADCLOTH, spot-proof, ready for the needle, in new shades of coronation, russet, plum, Wilhemina, biscuit, olive, beaver, myrtle, catawba, taupe, navy and black. Examine this beautiful quality at a yard. $2

Corduroys and Velveteens In Weaves That We Fully Warrant

24-INCH COSTUME VELVETEEN in all the latest Fall shades, warranted fast pile and color. Will be very much used for suiting wear. A yard, $1.25
IMPORTED COSTUME CORDUroy in a splendid array of new Fall colors. Guaranteed both fast pile and color and are considered one of the foremost materials for Fall and Winter wear. A yard, $1.25 and $1.50

$1 50 for Making Tailored Dress Skirts

Workmanship and Finish Equal to That Costing Much More

We will make Dress Skirts to your measure, strictly man-tailored, from any material bought from our Dress Goods Department. Perfect fit guaranteed, for $1.50

One-piece Waist Patterns

A Demonstration

Miss Stillman of New York is demonstrating her One-Piece Waist Patterns at this store during this week .It is most interesting to see how easily one can cut a smart, stylish, fine fitting Waist from one of these one-piece patterns. All sizes.

Our Special Offering in Dressmakers' Small Wares Continues With Increased Activity During This Week.

You Miss Lots Of Worry Baking With A Modern

Glenwood

This Glenwood Can Be Had

with the latest and most improved Elevated or End Gas Range Attachments. It has a powerful Water Front or for country use a Large Copper Reservoir on the end opposite fire box. Call and see them.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

The E. Brown Co., Palmer

Boston & Albany R. R.

$5 Popular Autumnal Excursion

October 4, 1911

Through the Berkshire Hills
Stop-over at Albany
Down the Historic Hudson
Stop-over at New York
A Sail to Boston by Steamer

Tickets now on sale for excursion going Wednesday, October 4th, good on all trains except Nos. 13, 15, 25 and 49. The route is through the heart of the Berkshire Hills, arriving in Albany in the afternoon.

Leave same evening via People's Line or next morning at 8.30 via the Hudson River Day Line steamer.

A day and night in New York City for sight-seeing, and thence via Fall River Line steamers to Boston. Stop-over in Boston will be permitted until Monday, October 9th.

Return to original starting point via Boston & Albany R. R.

Stop-over in New York Ten Days, $2.00 extra

Secure your tickets early from Boston & Albany R. R. Station Agents.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled

Gunmetal Walking Shoes Enjoy Unusual Favor This Season

We have assembled a remarkable assortment of these fashionable shoes, embracing a range of styles of extraordinary variety and completeness.

There are styles with cloth tops; with light, medium and the practical heavy soles; in 8, 12 and the smart 16-button heights; and in the very fashionable plain lace and blucher models. Some have the popular short vamp and some the stylish long vamp. The toes are in many styles, wide, medium and pointed, and there are high, medium and common sense heels. All widths and sizes. In quality, fit and style there are no better shoes made at the prices than these we show at

$3.45 to $6.00.

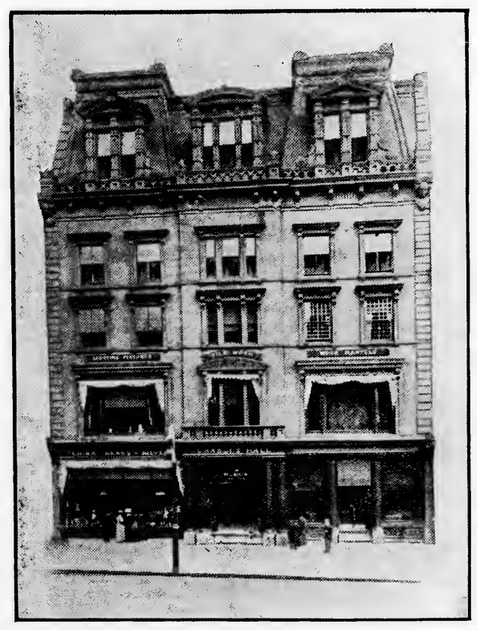
Shoe Store, Main Floor, Rear.

Forbes & Wallace,

Springfield, Mass.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.



The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works

W. H. MacLean, Prop.

10 Converse St., rear of High School.

Charles Hall, Springfield, Mass.

THE HALL BUILDING.

You Are Cordially Invited to Come

And See the Merchandise Show of the Season

Exposition Week

At the Hall Store

This year Mr. Hall's foreign tour, in taking him further afield than ever, has successfully resulted in securing a large number of the kind of foreign things which the people of this vicinity recognize as exclusive to this store. Not only are the articles now for the first time displayed rare and beautiful in character but in quantity they far exceed the importations of previous years.

The quaint handiwork of foreign peasants, the productions of artist artisan colonies in pottery, fabric, wood and metal, the exquisite work of the Balkan needlewomen, in fact thousands of new things in a setting framed especially for the occasion are here for your inspection during the week of

October Second to Seventh

A light luncheon is served in the Biedermoier Room from 12 to 2 and afternoon tea may be had until 6.

Five Floors of Fine Merchandise

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Death of Daniel Leary.

Daniel Leary, 75, one of the town's oldest residents, died Sunday. The deceased had been a resident of Palmer for about 60 years. He was born in Ireland and came to this country when a boy, living for a time in Three Rivers. He moved with his parents to Minnesota, where he remained for a while and then came to Thorndike. He was at one time overseer in the No. 2 mill of the Thorndike Co., in charge of the beaming and spooling departments. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church, Rev. P. J. Griffin officiating at the requiem mass. Burial was in St. Thomas' cemetery, Thorndike. Mr. Leary is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary Leary of this place. The bearers were James McKenna, Michael McKelligott George Riley, and Cornelius O'Leary of Palmer.

Stokes—Holden.

The marriage of Miss Luia M. Stokes of Hartford, Ct., to M. William Holden of this town was performed Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's church, Hartford. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes V. Stokes, and the duties of best man were performed by James M. Holden, brother of the groom. The bride was gowned in white crepe meteor over messaline; she wore a tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses The bridesmaid was dressed in pink crepe meteor over messaline and wore a large black picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride on Hudson street, Bessee catering. After a short wedding tour the couple will reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McKelligott attended the Amherst Fair on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. D. Butterfield and daughter of Elmira, N Y., are visiting friends in town.

Rev P. J Griffin, pastor of St. Mary's church, has begun the work of taking the parish census.

Several Thorndike people went to Hartford, Ct., Wednesday to attend the Stokes-Holden wedding.

Mrs. John Coogan of Indian Orchard was guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Kelley this week.

Andrew Brosnan and family are to move from Commercial street to the Flynn house on High street.

The residence of A. M Bond has been connected with the Bond system of water for domestic purposes.

Stephen Healey has gone to Niagara Seminary, Niagara, N. Y., where he is to prepare for the priesthood.

Prof. Kelley of Springfield opened a class in dancing Monday evening in Union Hall, which was well attended.

Workmen have commenced work on the highway leading from St Thomas' cemetery in the direction of Thorndike.

Edward Dailey, who underwent an operation at the Mercy Hospital, and who has been absent for a month, has returned to his home.

Stuart Tabor, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tabor, fell while playing a few days ago and fractured his right arm. Dr. Schneider attended him.

Daniel Leary and sister, Mrs. Chamberlain of Waterbury, Ct., were called here this week by the death of their uncle, Daniel Leary.

Stanley Kozig, while chopping in the woods near Forest Lake Monday, cut his left foot near the instep with an ax. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound

There was a large attendence at the Hartnett—Noonan nuptials which took place on Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church Rev. P J Griffin, pastor, celebrated nuptial high mass.

Local ice fishermen are preparing to put in a supply of live bait for winter fishing. The law allows the use of a seine for the taking of bait during October and November.

The millinery opening of Miss Katherine Casey held Friday and Saturday evenings was well attended, as was also that of Miss K. M. Fleming held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Special devotions will be held at the vesper service in St. Mary's church commencing next Sunday evening and will continue during the month of October, this month being devoted to the rosary.

Daniel Brosnan of Worcester, a former resident, now employed as clerk for Mr. Brigham, also of this place, paid a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brosnan, on Monday.

The social dance given at Union Hall on Friday evening last by Prof. J. D. Kelley of Springfield was largely attended and much enjoyed, a large delegation being present from the villages. Coats' orchestra of Springfield furnished music.

Anna, the eight-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Sullivan of Harvey avenue, fell from a hammock near her home Saturday afternoon and fractured her left arm at the elbow. She was taken to the Springfield Hospital, where she is doing nicely.

Some persons with malicious intent did considerable damage to the house and furniture of Henry Fortune near Hog Hill, while he was absent recently. Windows were smashed and doors torn down, besides a quantity of furniture being broken. A search is being made for the guilty ones who if found out will be asked to settle.

THREE RIVERS.

Hartnett—Noonan.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church, Thorndike, when Kathryn M. Hartnett of this place was united in marriage to Joseph P. Noonan of Springfield, Rev. P. J. Griffin officiating. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Elizabeth Hartnett, a sister of the bride, and P. C. Diamond of Springfield acted as best man. The bride was prettily gowned in white brocaded satin and wore a large white picture hat to match. The bridesmaid wore a gown of pearl gray silk poplin, with a large black picture hat. The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home on Belchertown street to a large number of relatives and friends. The gifts were numerous and costly. The bridal couple left on the 11.22 train from Palmer for a trip to Niagara Falls and thence to Washington. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Noonan will reside in Holyoke. The bride is a favorite with the young people of this village. She attended the graded schools in this village and was graduated from Palmer High School in the class of '05, and of Springfield Business School, class of '06. Until recently she has been employed in Springfield. The groom is employed by the Casper Ranger General Construction Co. of Holyoke.

Henrichon—Henry.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs Alfred Henrichon on Athol street, when their daughter, Eva, was united in marriage to Willard Henry of Hopedale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. McDuffee. The bride was gowned in brown silk, and carried a bonquet of bridal roses. The couple were attended by Mary LaMarsh of Holyoke, a cousin of the bride, and Wilfred Henrichon, a brother of the bride. The bridal couple left early in the afternoon for a trip to Albany, and on their return will reside with the bride's parents The groom is employed here as assistant agent at the Boston and Albany station.

Narrow Escape.

George Richardson of High street, employed as electrician at the powsr house of Palmer Mill, had a miraculous escape while at work there Friday. Mr. Richardson, with some other electricians, was fixing a transformer when some part of the machinery blew out and the electricity burnt his hands and face severely. He was attended by Dr. S. O. Miller and is able to be at work again.

Emil Bengle has resigned his position with Charles Darling.

Miss Bertha Pulsifer spent the week-end with friends in Springfield.

Mrs E Walker, who has been ill for a long time, is recovering slowiy.

Milton Bogue is moving his family from Norwich, Ct., to Prospect avenue.

Arthur Grise is seriously ill at his home on Bourne street with typhoid fever.

Henry Reed has resigned his position in the machine shop of the Palmer mill.

A few from this place have joined the dancing class of Prof. Kelley in Thorndike.

Miss McIthaney of Ware was the guest of Mrs. Fenton of Springfield street Sunday.

Steven McAdam of Gilbertville spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Magee on Kelly street.

Mrs. Aiden of Ludlow spent the week-end with Mrs. H. Willis on Springfield street.

Miss Rachel Shaw of Main street spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Alice Shaw in Palmer.

Joseph Sirard of Holyoke spent the last of the week with his son, Joseph Sirard of Kelly street.

Homer Chalifoux is ill at the home of Joseph Belanger. He is suffering from blood poison.

Peter Beauchamp of Indian Orchard spent Sunday at the home of Joseph Sirard on Kelly street.

Mr. and Mrs. Euidige Mason are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Friday.

Miss Emma Barber and brother Alcide have returned after a three weeks' vacation spent at Plattsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Metcalf of Gilbertville visited recently at the home of Samuel Jamison on Kelly street.

Theodore Belanger of Hartford spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russell on Bourne street.

Arthur Calkins has recovered from his recent illness and has resumed his work as electrician for the Palmer mill.

Mrs. Christiansen of the Wire Mill district spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Freak on School street.

Alvarez Bolsney has returned to his duties in Holyoke after a short vacation spent with his parents on Main street.

James Cassels and Moses Smith of Springfield spent Sunday with their respectivs families on the Belchertown road.

Miss Levoiste of Marlboro has returned to her home after a week's stay with Mr. and Mrs. Levoiette on Main street.

Mrs Beckwith of Utica, N Y., has returned to her home after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. W Perdy.

The contract for the building of the new sewers here has been given to a Torrington firm. They will begin work at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer of West Springfield were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Athol street.

Mrs. Charles Tannebring of Springfield street spent Tuesday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Heidel, in West Warren.

Mrs. Ray Harris has returned to her home in New York after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. A. Cohen on Main street.

James LaRock mst with an accident in the card room recently, sustaining an injury to his hip. He is at the Wenimisset House.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson and daughter Marion of Springfield street spent Sunday at the home of Andrew Cleland in Wilbraham.

Miss Tillie Jones has returned to her home in Winthrop after spending a few weeks with her cousin, Miss Mae Moynahan, at the Riverside Hotel.

Richard, the little son of Mr. and Mrs Calkins of Baptist Hill, is ill at his home with diphtheria. The other children are staying with their annt here.

The following officers of the ninth grade of the grammar school have been elected: President, Milton Willis; secretary, Rose Biddle; treasurer, Eva Senecal.

Mrs. E. Rollet has returned to her home on Bourne street after spending a week with her daughters, Mrs. A. Palin and Mrs. William Freak in Hartford, Ct.

Miss Elizabeth Hartnett has returned to her duties as nurse in the Mercy hospital,

[Continued in Sixth Column.]

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE,
Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS

Given by

Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.

Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Office at store on Main St.

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

The New Carpets

Shown in Our Own Private Patterns

The opening of the new season finds our great Carpet Department stocked to meet every demand of the home. Here in a matchless assortment of our own private patterns you will find the very latest and choicest productions of the new season from the leading carpet mills of America — carpets combining in the highest degree the good, old-fashioned wearing qualities and artistic beauty.

Whatever the furnishing of your room, you will find here a carpet that will delight you, and in a pattern and color that will harmonize perfectly with the interior decoration of your room.

All carpets sold at the lowest prices quoted by any house in the country.

Over 100 Different Patterns in

9x12 WILTON RUGS

One can get some idea of the size of our Rug stock when we tell you that in Wiltons alone we show on our rack 108 different patterns in 9 x 12 Rugs — an assortment which probably cannot be duplicated in New England. These Rugs include all kinds of Wiltons from the standard grades up to the magnificent KERMANSHAHS, the very finest Wiltons made. The range of patterns and colorings is almost unlimited, comprising a superb assortment of beautiful designs, nearly all of them exclusive, and in a wealth of the most artistic colorings in tones that will harmonize with the latest ideas in interior art decorating.

9 x 12 WILTONS — From $32.50 to $55.00

Rugs to match — in 8.3 x 10.6 — 29.75 to $50.00. 6 x 9 — From $21.00 to $35.00

These Rugs also come in both smaller and larger sizes, suited to the demands of almost any room, or they can be made up to your special order.

OPENING DISPLAY OF DRAPERIES

We are now able to make a very comprehensive and most attractive opening display of artistic Draperies of all kinds, including the very latest imported and American productions.

With this great stock of the choicest and most exclusive Draperies we are prepared to meet any demand from a single pair of the most inexpensive curtains to the complete furnishings of the most palatial home. We not only have the goods with which to do the work to your utmost satisfaction, but our experts in interior furnishings are at your command in planning and suggesting the proper treatment of any room or an entire residence.

Our present stock includes in an assortment more varied and attractive than ever: —

BEAUTIFUL CURTAINS OF ALL KINDS
CURTAIN GOODS BY THE YARD
FOREIGN AND AMERICAN FURNITURE COVERINGS
RICH DRAPERIES IN NEW AND ARTISTIC EFFECTS
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC COUCH COVERINGS
TALL SCREENS. UTILITY BOXES AND CEDAR CHESTS. FANCY PILLOWS.

SPECIAL VALUES IN CLUNY CURTAINS

We are opening the season with these truly exceptional values in real Cluny Lace Curtains. These are handsome new patterns in both white and Arab, made on heavy cable net, and marked at these exceptionally low prices.

Arab Curtains with Cluny lace edge and 1½-inch band — $1.15 Pair

Another handsome pattern in white and Arab — Special Values at $1.50 and $1.75 Pair

White and Arab Curtains on extra quality cable net with real hand-made Cluny lace edge and insertion, made with double band — Special Values at $2.25 and $2.75 Pair

BIG DISPLAY---BIG VALUES IN

DINING ROOM FURNITURE

We are now ready to show the beautiful new designs for fall in fine furniture for every room in the house. To-day we can only call attention to our big display of dining-room furniture, bigger and better than ever before, and uncommonly rich in value-giving.

HANDSOME BUFFETS AT POPULAR PRICES.

Never before have we been able to show such handsome Buffets at such very low prices. This is all high-grade Furniture from the leading makers of the country, made of selected woods in graceful, artistic designs, and splendidly finished inside and out. For actual value-giving in really high-grade Furniture, we believe the values we are showing for this season have never been equaled. We call attention to these special numbers as being representative of this remarkable value-giving:—

Buffet in Sheraton design, made of quartered oak throughout, with French plate mirror, thoroughly well made and finished $19.50

Handsome Quartered Oak Buffet with French plate mirror, in two styles, one with leaded glass china cabinet, the other with large cupboard with quartered oak panels $24.00

Colonial Buffet made of quartered oak throughout, a very graceful design, plain and rich, with carved supporting columns $26.00

Beautiful new design in selected quartered oak with shaped front cupboards, carving and claw feet $32.00

Solid Mahogany Buffet in plain, rich design with French beveled mirror—an exceptional value at $34.00

More elaborate designs in both quartered oak and solid Mahogany, in immense assortment, from $40.00 to $150.00

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

The Palmer Fair,

Next week==Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Cattle Friday, Horses Saturday

But there'll be

"Something doing every minute"

Every day, as usual.

See this big list of free attractions:

Duffein--Redcay troupe of acrobats.
Whittemore's educated pintos.
Clark--Razillians, finished aerialists.
Alabama Four--Southern vocalists.
Darling's dog and pony circus.
Trained steers.
Ben Chadwick, singer.

Eight speed classes. Also race with lady drivers

High School Relay Race Friday

High School Athletic Meet Saturday

All school children below high school admitted free Friday. Free sports and games for both boys and girls, including ninth grade relay race. Prizes in all events.

Merry-go-round, Ferris Wheel, Ocean Wave

Admission only 35 cents.

Numbered reserved seats on Grand Stand, 50 cents. Reserved parking places for autos along homestretch, $2, $1.50, $1. Either may be had of the Secretary, L. E. Chandler.

O. E. Bradway, Pres. L. E. Chandler, Sec. R. E. Cummings, Treas.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

Springfield, after spending a few days at her home on the Belchertown road.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Anne's church Tuesday morning, when Anthony Champagne and Miss Rosalina Plean were united in marriage. The bride was gowned in a white chiffon dress with a hand-painted border. They were attended by Ledger Dupuis and Miss Plean's father.

BONDSVILLE.

Sullivan—Donoghue.

The wedding of Miss Josephine Sullivan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Sullivan, to John Donoghue, which occurred at her new home in Springfield on Cambridge street, will be of interest in this village as Miss Sullivan was born and lived here all her life, until about six months' ago she moved with her parents to Springfield. The ceremony took place in the Holy Family church Tuesday morning. She was given in marriage by her father, Michael D. Sullivan. Her sister, Miss Delia Sullivan, acted as bridesmaid, while Daniel Donoghue, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was gowned in white satin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a white embroidered dress and carried carnations. The ushers were George Carey, Daniel Sullivan and Hnmphrey Donohue. The bride's gift to her maid was a diamond ring and the groom's gift to his best man was a gold watch fob. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to about 100 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Donoghue received many gifts, including furnitnre, cnt glass and bric-a-brac. Their wedding trip will include New York and Washington. Guests were present from Worcester, New York, Albany, Holyoke and Bondsville. On their rsturn they will reside at 6 Wolcott street, where a newly furnished residance awaits them.

Supper and Entertainment.

The baked bean and salad suppor served by the Ladies' Aid Society in the Methodist church vestry Tuesday evening was well attended. The entertainment which followed the supper was much enjoyed. It consisted of a song by Miss Beverage of Thorndike with Miss Alice Clark accompanist. A pantomine "The Bachelor's Reverie" of ten characters was also given. The following took part:

Country Girl.	Miss Viola Marsan
Golf Girl.	Miss Jennie Fairbanks
Coquette.	Miss Geneva Billings
Hunting Girl.	Mrs. George Gunn
Belle of the Ball.	Mrs. F. E. Albro
Military Girl.	Mrs. E. J. Loy
College Girl.	Miss Alice Banister
Nun.	Mrs. Harry Randall
Little Widow.	Mrs. W. H. Upham
Bachelor.	Rev. W. H. Upham

E. J. Loy gave several readings.

Daniel Quirk of Ware was a guest of friends in town Saturday.

Miss Catherine Collins was a week-end guest of relatives in Ware.

Mrs. Mabel Cannon has been spending the past month in Amherst.

Mr. Sicard Sr. is very ill at his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Mansfield.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith entertained their parents from Athol over Sunday.

Doris Fitzgerald of Springfield is a guest of her aunt, Miss Katherine Fitzgerald.

Lewis R. Holden spent Wednesday in Brattleboro, where he attended the annual fair.

William Albro of Springfield was a week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Albro.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall.

Charlie Billings of Springfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings.

Winfield Marsan of Springfield visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adalard Marsan over Snnday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce entertained Saturday and Sunday a party of friends from New Bedford.

Mrs. Catherine McCarthy returned Satnrday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Quirk in Ware.

Miss Kate Quirk and Miss Annie Fitzgsraid spent Friday with relatives in Holyoke and Springfield.

William Magee went Monday to Boston, where he has entered the School of Accounting and Finance.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fisherdick of Amherst, old residents, visited relatives and friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson retnrned Satnrday from a visit with her son, Fred Thompson in Palmer.

George Moulton went Saturday to Boston, where he entered the Massachusetts College of Chemistry.

Mrs. John O'Niell and three children have returned from several weeks spent with relatives out of town.

Miss Mary Sullivan, who spent the week with her friend, Mrs. James Fitzgerald, has returned to her work in Monson.

Miss Ora Parent returned to her school in Framingham Snnday after a few days spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent.

Mrs. Forte and daughter, Miss Louise, have returned to their home in West Newton after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Adalard Marsan.

Daniel Shea and John Shea were guests of relatives in Chicopee and Holyoke Snnday.

Mrs. George Adams and children returned to her home in Palmer Wednesday after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Clayton Cole.

The three state boys who have made their home for the past few years with Mrs. Dennis Fenton, were taken to new homes this week.

Frank York still remains in a very serious condition, being in a partly paralyzed condition on one side. His brother and wife came Thursday.

Miss Maggie Callahan has returned to her position in Palmer after spending a two weeks' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callahan.

The many friends of Miss Lnin Austin who is in the House of Providence hospital in Holyoke, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering nicely from her recent operation.

Agent Samuel Stewart is giving his house a coat of paint and greatly beautifying the yard. The fence is being removed and a new pebble wall is being built to replace it.

Rev. W. H. Upham attended the annual meeting of the Three Rivers district Massachusetts Sunday School association held in the Methodist church in Ware Wednesday afternoon and evening. Mr. Upham is president of this district.

Rev. W. H. Upham will take for his text Sunday morning "God's workmen." Sunday school will be held at 11.45, Epworth League at 6. The evening service of praise and prayer will be held at 7 o'clock; subject "The man who was afraid."

Word was received this week of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bowler, who went nearly a year ago to Des Moines, Ia. Mrs. Bowler was formerly Miss Lillie Sullivan, daughter of Lawrence Sullivan, and for several years was a teacher in the Palmer grammar school.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcena M Alden of Ludlow have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ethel Lillian, to Burt Silas Collis of this village. The ceremony is to take place Tuesday afternoon, October 10, at 2.30 in the Methodist church in Belchertown. Mr. Collis is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collis; was born and has lived all his life here. Miss Alden is well known by the church people as she occupied for many years a prominent place in the church choir of the Methodist church in Bondsville.

The Ladies' Aid Society met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. F. E. Albro, with 13 present. The treasurer reported $20 made from the baked-bean and salad supper. It was voted to hold a ragbag social Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. V. C. Faunce. Those ladies will serve: Mrs. W. H. Upham, Mrs. F. E. Albro, Mrs. Charles H. Banister, Mrs. A. M. Billings, Mrs. Charles Collis, Mrs. V. C. Faunce and Mrs. C. D. Holden. The next regular meeting of the society will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Charles Banister. It was voted to give $50 toward the church expenses.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE McELEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

In almost every neighborhood you will find women who have been restored to health by the Pinkham medicines. Inquire among them and see. Many would not have a testimonial published, but would talk about their cure to another woman. m

Are You Happy?

If you are it is safe to say that you enjoy good health, as it is impossible to be happy unless you are well. Noted physicians will tell you that bad stomachs and torpid livers are the cause of 95 per cent of all diseases.

For the past 42 years SEVEN BARKS has proved to be the unequalled remedy for all STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEY troubles, and the greatest tonic and blood purifier known. It makes your digestion what it should be and keeps your entire system in good condition. Price SEVEN BARKS is but 50 cents a bottle at all druggists. Money refunded if not satisfied. Address

LYMAN BROWN, 68 Murray St., New York, N.Y.

Your Attention

Is called to our large assortment of

Ginghams and Percales

Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Silver Of Proven Quality

Rich design and refined beauty in knives, forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces are not attributes of solid silverware alone. The skill born of long experience has produced, in the famous "1847 ROGERS BROS." silver plate, effects in pattern and design which make its name for beauty second only to its reputation for quality—"Silver Plate that Wears."

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L," showing all patterns.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.,
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
Meriden, Conn.

Dining Room FURNITURE

Leather or Cane Seat Chairs		Pedestal Base Ex. Tables
$3.25 Values at	$2.75	$10 Tables for	$ 8.50
4.00 Values at	3.40	14 Tables for	11.90
4.50 Values at	3.85	16 Tables for	13.60
6.00 Values at	4.98	18 Tables for	15.30

Asbestos Table Cover Pads

42-inch	45-inch	48-inch	54-inch
$4.00	$4.50	$5.00	$5.40

Sideboards		China Cabinets
Usually $20, Now	$17.50	All $19 Values at	$16.15
Usually 30, Now	25 50	All 21 Values at	17.85
Usually 32, Now	27.20	All 27 Values at	23 90
Usually 43, Now	36.50	All 29 Values at	24.65

FLINT & BRICKETT CO.,

Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St., Springfield

Crawford, Sterling and Stewart Ranges

Combination Coal and Gas

Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

Circulars Free.

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., Boston

For sale by Whitcomb & Faulkner, Palmer Agents

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 6, 1911. NUMBER 27.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. R. CHANDLER

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing
See these prices for machine work:
Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85
Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.
H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

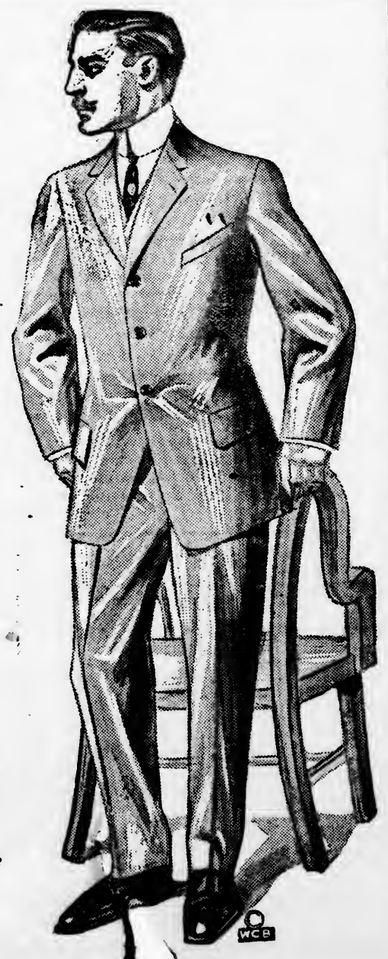
Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.
To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith, H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton, H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Moores, L. J. Potter, R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Wald, Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor, M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A. LeGro, E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.
TRAINS GOING SOUTH.
LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 3.50 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.30 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.
GOING NORTH.
LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.25 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.
J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by The Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor,
O. P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

You'll Take Pleasure in Using This Batting
One roll makes a fine comfortable.
Price 75c roll.



GROCERY DEPARTMENT
JOHNSON'S SURPRISE—An excellent Bread Flour, $6.25 per bbl., 80c for 1-8 bag.
FANCY GREEN MOUNTAIN POTATOES, 25c peck, 95c bushel.
CRANBERRIES, 10c quart.
HADLEY ONIONS, 5c quart, 25c peck.
W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments
Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory. The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.
Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St., rear of High School.

Albert Steiger Company,
"The Woman's Store"
SPRINGFIELD, . . . MASS.
"Corset Week" Brings a Notable Demonstration of
H. & W. "Sheathlyne" Corset Waists
If you haven't kept in touch with the progress of the Corset Waist in matters of dress, you'll be surprised to learn what has been accomplished. That's why this demonstration takes on the nature of an education in the broad needs that these Corset Waists supply. There are Waists to keep the figure perfect—Waists to make a perfect figure; Maternity Waists, and Children's Waists. All these are constructed on scientific lines of comfort and style, and each are peculiarly fitted to perform the special need for which they're created. For women, the maternity and convalescent models in particular confer a benefit that cannot be measured—while the Children's and Young Girl Waists are a most important need to the growing figure. By all means visit our Corset Section while this important demonstration is in progress—you'll thank us for our urgency.
Mrs. Hobson of New York, special representative of the "H. & W.", Co., will demonstrate "H. & W." Corset Waists during this week only. For special appointment telephone 3024.
A Big Special in Wash Goods Section
$1.00 Tula Silks Down to 69c
We've just made a big purchase of these famous Silks at a price much under regular. We pass our good fortune along to you at 69c on the dollar. Tula Silks are a rough weave fabric extremely lustrous and rivaling silk poplins in brilliancy. These we offer are a full 27 inches wide and come in some thirty of the most beautiful street and evening shades. Note our Window Display. Mail Orders given careful attention. Always sold at $1.00. SPECIAL HERE AT 69c

Haynes & Company
Always Reliable
Springfield, Massachusetts
It's a Splendid Time, Right Now, to Come and Select Your Haynes Suit
Our tables are piled high with the best garments that a dozen of the best makers in this country have produced.
They are suits that can be depended upon for long and satisfactory wear—they are finely tailored, the cloths are of proven good quality and the different styles are those that are to be the favored ones this season.
You'll find values that will mean good dollars to you.
Suits at $12, $15, $16.50, $18, $20, $22 and $25.
Mail orders satisfactorily filled—We prepay express charges.

Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment Cures Strains, Bruises, Sprains, Rheumatic pains, Pains in the Chest, Side and Back, Swellings and Tumors, Frost Bites, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Croup, Hoarseness. 25c and 50c a bottle.
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Famous Silverware
Care should be exercised when selecting forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces to see that they always bear the famous trademark 1847
ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE
which stamps them the genuine Rogers silverplated ware. For over 60 years "1847 ROGERS BROS." silver has been first in the heart of the housekeeper because of its wearing quality, workmanship and design. Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L" showing all patterns.
MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
MERIDEN, CONN.

THE PALMER FAIR.

An Interesting Program Carried Out Yesterday.

FINE EXHIBITS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Cattle Day To-day. Thousands of School Children on the Grounds. Good Racing.

Yesterday was the first day of the first attempt on the part of the Palmer Fair officials to run a three-days' fair, and, all things considered, the results were fully up to the expectations. After a rainy day Wednesday the skies cleared for yesterday but the weather was decidedly cold, with a strong wind blowing all day. The result was that the attendance was not as large as the managers would have liked, (it never is at any fair, no matter how many there are) and yet the grounds were not devoid of people. The crowd in attendance is estimated at about 1300, which is considered decidedly good, take it all in all.

Those who braved the weather were well repaid for their effort. The hall show was better on yesterday than it has been on Friday in recent years, especially in the lower hall. The report that the potato crop is a failure this season seems to be disproved by the many plates of as fine looking tubers as one could wish to see. Fruit, also, is in great abundance, especially apples. Across the rear end of the building is a very large and fine exhibit of plants and cut flowers from the Monson State Hospital, comprising hothouse blooms, pots of elegant ferns, and a large variety of plants and flowers. It is arranged with much skill and is well worth seeing. In the upper hall was to be found some of the most exquisite fancy work ever shown. The quantity has been increased to-day by additional entries, and women will find this part of the building especially attractive. The recent freeze has of necessity diminished the flower display, and yet a fine showing is made by F. D. Rogers of Monson. Fine arts comes in for a share of the exhibits, and some fine fur rugs made from the skins of large wild animals, are exhibited by G. C. Flynt of Monson.

In the poultry tent there are over 100 coops of fine birds. Although yesterday was not cattle day, there were numerous animals on the grounds, and they attracted a generous share of the attention of the crowds.

There was no lack of entertainment for the crowd. There were two hot races, the scores of which are given below. A race between three lady drivers—half mile heats to harness—proved an attractive number on the program, and a half mile race for runners ridden by a boy and girl was hotly contested, the girl winning. On the stage the Duffein-Redcay troupe did some seemingly impossible acrobatic feats, and in a specially constructed pen Whittemore's rauch ponies performed some clever feats. A new feature was a football game at 3 in the afternoon between elevens from Monson Academy and Southbridge high school, the former winning, 45 to 0.

SUMMARY OF RACES.

2.27 Trot (Stake race). Purse $600.

Queen Arista, b m, Brookmont farm, North Wilbraham,	1	1	1
Eugene, b g (W. W. Mercier), Princeton, Me.,	2	2	4
Slick Goods, br m (Felix Rose), East Brookfield,	3	5	2
Dividend, b g (W. H. Hall), South Willington,	4	3	3
Robera, h m (J. S. Hubbard), Fiskdale	5	4	5
Young Blugen, b g (Dennis Neylon), Springfield,	6	6	6

Time, 2.25, 2.23½, 2.25.

2.21 Pace, 2.18 Trot. Purse $200.

Star Tucker, ch g, Greendale stables, Worcester,	1	1	1
Goldburg (W. W. Mercier), Princeton, Me.,	2	2	5
The Tramp, b g (M. J. Barry), Worcester,	4	3	2
Rena Shelton, b m (W. H. Hall), South Willington,	3	4	4
Kaston, b s (O. W. Welsh Jr.), North Adams,	7	5	3
Jerry K., b g (D. Higgins), Hartford,	5	6	6
Fifeue, b m (A. H. Drury), Athol,	5	7	dr

Time, 2.21½, 2.18½, 2.19½.

The Palmer Fair always draws a large bunch of privilege people, and there were many of them there yesterday. There have been large additions to the number to-day, and to-morrow visitors may have a choice of numerous "stunts" at which they may try their luck or skill. Conspicuous features are the merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel and the ocean wave, the latter being new to these grounds this year. They were all well patronized yesterday.

To-day has been cattle day, and the prediction of many and fine animals was upheld by the number entered in competition. Particularly was this true in the drawing matches, in which interest was centered. There were numerous entries in the several classes and the drawing, which was begun about 10 o'clock, was only well under way at noon, with prospects of a long contest still ahead. The large prizes offered in the open to all class attracted a number of new contestants this year, among them J. D. Avery of Buckland. Conspicuous among the cattle was his yoke of fine oxen weighing over 5000 pounds, a yoke which it is doubtful if they can be duplicated in the United States.

To-day has also been children's day, and they have taken advantage of the society's offer of free admission to the number of 3000 approximately. The usual program of sports for them was carried out in the forenoon.

For the entertainment to-day there was, in addition to all that was seen yesterday, Cadieux on bounding wire, Hampton's performing dogs, monkey and goose, Deimar and Oneida on high perch and slide for life. All of these will appear to-morrow, as well as the lady drivers and the running race.

To-morrow's program will begin at 10 a. m. with the several events in the high school athletic meet. The stage performance will also begin at 10, and the plan is to have something moving from that time until the last race is over and the crowd goes home. For lovers of horse racing there will be two classes, in addition to the races mentioned above. The crowd to-day has been unusually large—to-morrow it is expected that all previous records will be broken.

Body of Unknown Man Identified.

The body of the man who was found beside the main line track of the Central Vermont railroad about 40 rods south of the "Fay" crossing just below Palmer on the morning of September 12, was identified Saturday by Michael O'Halloran of Stafford Springs, Ct., as that of William Connolly of Stafford Springs. Connolly leaves two sisters, Misses Annie and Margaret Connolly, both of Stafford Springs. The body was taken to Stafford Springs for burial Tuesday afternoon.

Peter Cordially sailed yesterday from New York for Italy, where he will spend the winter.

Attendance Statistics Of Palmer Schools.

Interesting Compilation of Figures, Showing Record For Month of September. Officials to Strive For Better Results.

The first school month, a period of four weeks, closed last Friday night for the public schools of Palmer. The enrollment for September of this year is 1464; the enrollment for the same month last year was 1343. This year's registration is, therefore, 121 in excess of last year's. The percentage of attendance for the entire schools of the town, 96.77 per cent, is good. Under the most favorable circumstances, a percentage of 95 is regarded as an ideal one, as experience has shown educators that an allowance of 5 per cent for necessary absences must be made. The school authorities expect to be able to lessen the number of tardinesses considerably, as they believe that 74 is an excessive number to be registered in one month.

In conversation with Superintendent Hobson, he said in part that the school officials have decided to make a strong attempt to increase the percentage of attendance and decrease the number of tardy cases. This will not be done for the sake of securing high averages, but because it is in line with the belief of these officials that this devolves upon them as a serious part of their duty. Good attendance is absolutely necessary, they say, to secure good results. State law requires good attendance, and it is their duty to see that the spirit of the law, at least, is observed. Again, they say that the town is investing large amounts of money in her public schools, and has, therefore, a right to expect results. Maximum results at minimum cost can not be secured when poor attendance is suffered. Consequently, it is the business of those in charge to see that the town is getting what it pays for. Finally, and of the most importance, is the consideration of the child. What is the duty of the school towards him? Shall it allow the child to grow up, fostering and engrafting in him habits that will ultimately prove detrimental to his success in life? Undoubtedly, obedience and punctuality are two of the greatest lessons that can be learned in life. The school should teach them. If it does not, the pupil has a just grievance against such a school. Spasmodic attendance breaks down the moral fibre of the child, teaches him disregard for punctuality and implicit obedience, creates in him a contempt for law that may some day prove highly injurious. Man is a creature of habits; therefore, punctuality and regularity are habits worthy of cultivation. The age of childhood and youth is the greatest habit-forming age. Does not the school have a heavy obligation laid upon its shoulders? The school can make or unmake a child's life, to a large extent. The successful man is the steady plodder, the man who is always ready, willing and punctual; he is not necessarily brilliant. He is the man who has been schooled to strict and punctual obedience; the man who had duties to perform that would not wait for the convenience and pleasure of the performer. In view of such truths and beliefs, the inculcation of such habits is a serious and important feature of the school work. Attendance, regular and punctual, has much to do with this; and is, consequently, an important part of a teacher's duty.

The Journal, believing that its readers will desire to keep in touch with the schools as closely as possible and also that such publication will assist the schools, plans to print the monthly attendance statistics of the schools. At the end of each term, it will print the names of all pupils perfect in attendance for that term.

This month's statistics follow:

	Enrollment	Average Membership	Average Attendance	Percent	Tardy	Perfect Attendance
High School	151	147.37	145.74	98.89	6	127
PALMER GRAMMER SCHOOL.
Grade 9	34	34	33.4	98.2	0	25
8	32	31.6	30.72	97.23	1	23
7	35	34.5	33.97	98.46	0	26
6	43	39.5	38.75	98.1	2	36
5	53	51.3	49 4	96.29	0	34
4	48	47.5	45	94.12	2	29
3	48	44.52	43.82	98 4	1	34
2	59	58.53	54.38	92 9	4	22
1	79	75.5	69	91.39	5	27
	431	416.95	398.45	95.56	15	256
THORNDIKE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	27	26.45	26	98.3	0	22
6 and 7	36	35.35	34.32	97.1	0	28
4 and 5	36	36	35.07	97 4	0	26
3 and 4	31	30.74	30.54	99.35	3	26
2	37	36.23	34 51	95.2	3	23
1	47	46.74	44.97	96.21	3
	214	211.51	205.41	97 26	9	148
THREE RIVERS GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	24	23.75	23.32	98.21	0	17
6 and 7	47	44.3	42.75	96.5	2	29
5	33	32.75	31.75	96.94	2	21
4	44	40.9	39 7	97.1	1	30
3	40	38.4	36 6	95.31	3	21
2	37	36.75	35.22	95.85	3	16
1 and 2	42	39.35	37 3	94 79	3	20
1	46	42.6	38.87	91.24	2	28
	313	298 8	284 52	95.74	16	182
BONDSVILLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	20	19.75	19.75	100	0	20
6 and 7	38	37.7	37 3	98.93	0	32
4 and 5	35	34.4	33.65	97.8	0	26
3 and 4	47	46.33	45.36	98.12	0	36
2	49	49	47.87	97.69	3	38
1	52	48.85	46.62	95.45	1	30
	241	236.03	230 65	98	4	182
DISTRICTS.
Wire Mill	49	48	46.68	97.26	7	30
Palmer Center	28	26.4	25.8	97.7	1	21
Forest Lake	19	19	16.58	87.26	16	2
Shorley	18	17.75	17.5	98 59	0	16
	114	111.15	106 56	95.2	24	69
SUMMARY.
High	151	147.37	145.64	98 89	6	127
Palmer Gram.	431	416.95	398.45	95.56	15	256
Thorn. Gram.	214	211.51	205.41	97.26	9	148
Three R. Gram	313	298.8	284.52	95.74	16	182
Bonds. Gram.	241	236.03	230.65	98	4	182
Districts	114	111.15	106.56	95.2	24	69
Total	1464	1421.81	1371.33	96.77	74	964

Oldest Man In Hampden.

Sumner Smith of Hampden Presented With Gold-headed Cane.

A number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Sumner Smith in Hampden Saturday evening and presented him the gold headed cane belonging to the oldest citizen, until recently in the possession of Alanson Chaffee. Mrs. Fannie Jones made the presentation speech and Mr. Smith responded in a few well-chosen words. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening enjoyed.

Mr. Smith was born in Willington, Ct., Aug. 21, 1825. He came to Hampden, then South Wilbraham, March 16, 1846, to work for Bradford & Scripter in the first woolen mill of the town before the building was finished. He continued to work in this mill for 31 years, except for a short service in the Scantic mill while that was being built. For 25 of these years he was superintendent. In November, 1877, he bought the store under the Baptist church of Willard P. Fuller and did business there 27 years, doubling the size of the store. He retired from business seven years ago on account of failing eyesight.

Mr. Smith was selectman three years while the town was a part of Wilbraham. After the division he was the first town clerk and treasurer of Hampden for 11 years. Since that time he has served the town as selectman several years and represented the town in the Legislature in 1892. He has been justice of the peace for 30 years. He has been a member of the Baptist church for over 50 years. Since the loss of his eyesight four years ago he has been able to get around but little, but he still has a keen interest in the affairs of the town and also enjoys reading the daily newspaper.

Probate Court Business.

At a session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday, the following local business was transacted:

Wills proved of — Alanson N. Chaffee, late of Hampden, Almira Thompson of Hampden executrix; Lewis Rogers, late of Monson, Elmer E. Thompson of Monson executor; Phila Tourtelott, late of Monson, Edward H. Lathrop executor.

Accounts allowed in the estates of — George N. Stone, late of Palmer; Julia A. Talcott, late of Monson.

Sales of real estate decreed — Herbert E. White, late of Ludlow; Phebe A. Holman, insane, of Wilbraham; Augusta J. Witherell, late of Monson.

New Trolley Superintendent in Ware.

J. F. Lambert of Springfield has been appointed superintendent of the Ware and Brookfield Street Railway Company, to succeed David E. Pepin, who has resigned and has gone to Seattle, Wash. Mr. Lambert is a young man and has been in the employ of the Springfield street railway for 10 years.

Were Thrown From Team.

Two West Warren Women Injured. Horse Frightened By Auto.

Mrs. Henry Cody and Mrs. Mabel Theberge, both of West Warren, were painfully injured Sunday morning by being thrown from a carriage in which they were driving.

The accident was the result of the horse becoming frightened by an automobile. The injured women were removed to the house of Henry Quintal and Dr. Harry Moore was summoned. Mrs. Cody was severly shaken and had a badly injured face and back. Mrs. Theberge escaped with slighter injuries. Arthur Cody, the 10-years-old grandson of Mrs. Cody, who was in the vehicle at the time, received no injury.

Wilbraham Club Program.

The Study Club of Wilbraham held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hubbard yesterday afternoon. They have arranged the following program for the year's work: Oct. 5, "The geography of England," Mrs. F. A. Gurney; "The Romans, Saxons and Danes in Britain," Mrs. D. L. Bosworth; "The Norman conquest," Mrs. W. A. Rice; "The religion of the early Britons," reading by Mrs. William Butler; November 2, "The Plantagenets," Mrs. J. M. Pickens; "The crusades," Mrs. H. W. Cutler; "Chaucer and Wycliffe," Miss L. M. Hodgkins; December 7, "The houses of Lancaster and York," Mrs. L. L. Stone; "The Tudors," Mrs. C. E. Pease; "The English drama before Shakespeare," reading by Mrs. A. F. Smith; January 4, "England in the Elizabethan age," reading by Mrs. C. P. Boiles; "William Shakespeare and Stratford-on-Avon," Miss Carrie A. Moody; "Shakespeare the dramatist," Miss Maude B. Hubbard; February 1, "James I and the Puritans," Mrs. E. C. Powell; "Oliver Cromwell," Mrs. L. G. Bartlett; "John Milton," Miss Fannie A. Allis; "Wesley, the founder of Methodism," reading by Miss Elizabeth J. McGuire; March 7, "The four Georges," Mrs. A. A. Phelps; "The poets of the Lake school," Miss Gertrude A. Chase; "How England is governed," reading by Mrs. W. D. Hurd; April 4, "The reign of Victoria," Mrs. J. M. Pease; "The British empire in the East," Mrs. G. R. Files; "England's colonial expansion," Mrs. S. F. White; May 2, "The literature of the Victorian period," Mrs. C. S. Merrick; "The reign of Edward VII," Mrs. D. H. Eaton; "Present economic conditions in England," Mrs. C. W. Hardy. The officers of the club for the season are: President, Miss Nellie M. Starr; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. G. Pease, Miss Carrie A. Moody; secretaries, Mrs. C. E. Pease, Mrs. L. L. Stone; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Smith.

J. H. Wesson has moved his family from his summer home "Stonebenge," on Baptist Hill to Springfield.

Boston Letter.

Republican Convention a Success—Democratic Campaign Plans—Commutation of Cook Sentence.

BOSTON, Oct. 4, 1911.

Convention week brings the campaign to its formal beginning between the two great parties, instead of its being, as hitherto, within the parties. To-day has been held the Republican state convention, and to-morrow will come the Democratic. The nominations, with their contests and nominating speeches, full of eulogy and oratory, have passed into oblivion. Yet, in spite of that the Republican state convention to-day has been a success, as far as the outward aspect of the occasion is concerned. By holding the convention in Tremont Temple, instead of Symphony hall, the difference in size was not so apparent as the figures would indicate. There were 1584 delegates, so it is said, entitled to admission to the convention, if the full number had been elected, and enough more in way of candidates and office-holders to make a total of about 2100. The full report of the committee on credentials showed that 1018 delegates were present. The other personages were not made any account of, nor even mentioned. This number of delegates filled the first floor very well, and made a good crowd in the first gallery. There was a sufficient scattering of the public in the second gallery to give the hall the appearance of being fairly well filled. It was full enough for all practical purposes to make it seem like a large convention.

But the unanimity and enthusiasm of the delegates supplied what might have been lacking and so, from the first to last, the affair passed off as a thorough success, in spite of all the apprehension that the falling off in delegates and the lack of business might cause an apparent failure. By delaying the opening from 10 30 to 11 o'clock, by putting in considerable band music for delays, by having a platform half an hour long and so on, the convention was prolonged for two hours and a quarter. They cut out all speeches by the honorary gentlemen of the occasion, save only Frothingham and Luce, as first and second nominees respectively. Senator Lodge sat there, not opening his mouth or rising to his feet once, so markedly in contrast to his usual convention appearances, and it is said that the cutting out of the speeches was insisted upon by him. Senator Crane sat silent, of course, and thus all the other dignitaries were obliged to keep still and there were no shouts from the floor demanding that any of them speak. So it was a very well ordered convention, harmonious and unanimous. The line of attack was very plainly shown in the speech of Congressman Harris, the presiding officer, in the resolutions read by Samuel J. Elder, in the speech by Lieut.-Gov. Frothingham, and in the final speech by Robert Luce. In the first place, as far as the campaign turns upon state issues, there is to be a very hot attack upon the Foss administration, both upon the governor and his policies. In the second place, the main issue, following what is supposed to be the desire of President Taft, will be the national policy, especially the issue of the protective tariff. The fact that Massachusetts has highly protected industries will be used as the main feature to shape the campaign. It was therefore, perhaps, a significant fact in the convention to-day that when Chairman Elder of the resolutions committee, who is a warm personal friend of President Taft, read that we are not a party of standpatters he did not get a single clap, but the convention sat in complete silence, and when he gave his approval to the policy of downward revision, it did not get any approval worth speaking of. It seemed to be somewhat a high tariff convention, if one could judge by the way the platform was received. Yet they gave most liberal applause to Speaker Walker, the most progressive leader in the party, who he was appointed head of the committee to escort Frothingham in and stood up where the convention could see him.

There is great and growing confidence among the Republicans in all parts of the state that they will win this year. This was clearly seen at the American House Tuesday night and was evident in the convention to-day. They bring information of Republicans who voted for Foss last year who will vote for Frothingham this year. At the same time, there is a smaller current, how large cannot be told till election day. Some Republicans say that they voted for Draper last year, but will support Foss this year because they believe he has made a good governor. A Democratic senator from Western Massachusetts, in town to-day, says that their committee has been investigating the matter and of 2700 Republicans who have been interviewed thus far, every one of them was a Draper man last year, and he does not believe there is as much of a change as the Republican optimists believe.

Lieut. Gov. Frothingham made a fine appearance on the platform to-day. He was vigorous, emphatic, pugnacious and enthusiastic. The convention was with him and they will rally to his support with good courage from all parts of the state, feeling sure that they will win. There is a growing expectation that there will be a lot of money spent during the contest, for no other state, except Rhode Island, has an election this year, and this will count for much in influencing public opinion for next year. Speakers will be imported by both parties and it will be a lively hustle from now till November 7.

The Democrats are not worrying about this access of Republican confidence. The contest for the first place on the Republican ticket, they say, and other incidents have brought the Republicans to the front and have left us in the background. Chairman McDonald of the Democratic state committee tells me to-day that the omission of the Republicans to attack, in their platform, the plan for a state finance commission, shows that they do not dare to oppose this one strong card of the Foss program, and that the investigations of Chief Gettemy of the bureau of statistics show that in the cities and towns there have been, in all, approximately $41,000,000 of funds given for public uses which have been taken by the authorities instead of raising money by taxation, and that it will be proved abundantly by disclosures that the governor is on the right track in his state policy. The Democratic program includes very much the same sort of campaigning as the Republicans will begin in Worcester county Thursday, rushing with an automobile from town to town, stopping in many small places where formerly rallies were never held, having daylight rallies and then closing with one performance in the evening. Southern Worcester county will be covered first by the Republicans, while the Democrats will open on Cape Cod, beginning Tuesday, October 10, or five days later than the Republicans. Gov. Foss is not in

[Continued on Fourth Page.]

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 6, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Monlton, 122-21, Monson.

For all coughs use our Menthoiated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Tuesday Club Program.

First Meeting of the Season This Week. Program For the Year.

The Woman's Tuesday Club held its first meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. D. Barton. The club will study "Mexico and Southern Climes" this year, and has arranged the following program:

October 3. Mrs. Barton
Roll Call.
Tales of Vacation.

October 10. Mrs. Bodfish
Current Events.
Toltecs. Mrs. Hastings
Aztecs. Mrs. Hellyar

October 17. Mrs. Buck
Quotations from Shakespeare.
Cortez. Mrs. Leach
Spanish Invasion and Conquest.
Mrs. Rice

October 24. Mrs. Chandler
Current Events.
Mrs. Stone

October 31. Mrs. Fuller
Humorous Quotations.
City of Mexico. Mrs. Wing
Santa Anna and War With United States.
Mrs. Barton

November 7. Mrs. Gamwell
Children's Sayings.
French Intervention. Mrs. Bodfish
Maximilion.
Mexican Independence. Mrs. Buck

November 14. Mrs. Hastings
Reciprocity Day.

November 21. Mrs. Hellyar
Proverbs.
Mexico of To-day. Mrs. Chandler
Mexican Pottery and Natural Features of the Country. Mrs. Fuller

December 5 Mrs. Leach
Magazine Day.
Mrs. Gamwell

December 12. Mrs. Rice
Anecdotes.
Panama. Mrs. Hastings
History of the Canal. Mrs. Hellyar

December 19. Mrs. Stone
Current Events
Venezuela. Mrs. Leach
The Valleys of the Orinoco and Magdalena.
Mrs. Rice

January 2. Mrs. Wing.
Book Review.
Mrs. Gamwell

Jannary 9. Mrs. Barton
Lines From Nature Poems.
History of Peru, the Incas. Their Religion and Ceremonies. Mrs. Stone
Antiquities and Arts Among the Peruvians.
Mrs. Wing

Jannary 16. Mrs. Bodfish
Current Events.
A Journey Through Brazil. Mrs. Barton
The Amazon River. Mrs. Bodfish

Jannary 23. Mrs. Buck
Short Poems.
The Republic of Bolivia. Mrs. Buck
Bolivar, the Liberator of South America.
Mrs. Chandler

Jannary 30. Mrs. Chandler
Open Date.

February 6. Mrs. Fuller
Patriotic Quotations.
Argentine. Mrs. Fuller
Life and Industries in Argentine.
Mrs. Gamwell

Febrnary 13 Mrs. Gamwell
Valentine Qnotations.
Urugnay Mrs. Hastings
Paragnay. Mrs. Hellyar

February 20. Mrs. Hastings
Open Date.

February 27. Mrs. Hellyar
Connndrums.
Chili. Mrs. Leach
The Andes Mountains. Mrs. Rice

March 6. Mrs. Leach
Stanza From Hymn.
Trees and Flowers of the Tropics.
Mrs. Stone
Buried Citie.. of South America.
Mrs. Wing

March 13. Mrs. Rice
Current Events.
Mrs. Barton

March 20, Mrs. Stone
Sayings From Benjamin Franklin.
Colombia. Mrs. Bodfish
Ecuador. Mrs. Buck

March 27. Mrs. Wing
Current Events.
Patagonia. Mrs. Chandler
The Republics of Gniana. Mrs. Fuller

April 3. Mrs. Barton
Book Review.
Mrs. Rice

April 10. Mrs. Bodfish
Old Maxims.
The Greater Antilles. Mrs. Gamwell
The Lesser Antilles. Mrs. Hastings

April 17. Mrs. Buck
Current Events.
The Philippines, Character, Social and Industrial Conditions. Mrs. Hellyar
Customs, Festivities and Religion.
Mrs. Leach

April 24. Mrs. Chandler
Tell How the Year's Work Has Benefited You.
Annnal Meeting.

Fire Box Pulled For Test.

To Call Men From One Blaze to Another. Trouble With Boxes.

Chief Summers of the fire department has frequently heen asked, "Suppose a second alarm was rung while the men were at work at a fire, what wonld they do and how quick a change conld they make?" He didn't know, bnt proposed to find ont, so when the men were at the practice meeting Monday evening he rang in box 71, at Brainerd's corner on Park street. The men were on Converse street with two lines of hose stretched to the high school building, hut they made a qnick gather np and a lively get-away. They were misled hy the ringing of the box however, and no time could he taken, although the speed with which they got going ought to satisfy any questioner.

Chief Summers fonnd trouble with the box—in fact with two boxes. He first tried to ring box 74 but it wonldn't work He had tronble in getting 71 open, and when he pulled it the first round was 61. This misled the firemen, as all the 60's are on Sonth Main street, consequently the apparatus made all possible speed to that section. An examination of box 71 showed that a electric light wire had been dropped on the fire alarm wire at some time, and the force of the current had soldered the works together so firmly that a sharp pull on the operating lever was necessary in order to make it work.

Church Notes.

Elder Frederick Viggers will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 Snnday school at 2 as nsual.

Rev. Otto S. Raspe, pastor of St. Paul's church, will exchange pulpits Sunday with Rev. W. H. Upham of Bondsville.

St. Mary's Episcopal mission will hold services in Masonic Hall Sunday as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a. m., afternoon service and sermon at 3 15 p. m.

Rev. A. C. Hussey of Westfield will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday at 10 45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Bible school at 12, Y. P S. C. E at 6.15. All are invited.

The snbject of the sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning will he "The men Christ wants" Sunday school at 12. Christian Endeavor at 6; subject, "New work our society might do" Evening worship at 7; sermon subject, "The call of Isaiah, the statesman." All are cordially invited

Next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock a special service will be held in St. Paul's church, at which time the speaker will he Rev. G. E. Tomlinson of Worcester. He will take for his subject "Social service." This service is open to all. Next Thursday evening at 7 30 there will be a special meeting for women in the chapel. All women of the parish are nrged to attend.

Mrs. J. Mackin of Springfield has been the guest of friends in town a part of the week.

Charles C. Hannnm, who lives at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. D. Mason on Thorndike street, was painfnlly injured Monday afternoon. He fell from a street car bound for Palmer on State street in Springfield, and was struck by an antomobile driven by Dr. Harry Lnkes. He was not seriously hurt, bnt his leg and nose were badly bruised. He returned to Palmer later in the afternoon.

Lively Main Street Row.

Woman and Man Make Things Interesting Last Friday Afternoon.

A free performance with plenty of snap and go—which many paid attractions lack—was given on Main street near the Commercial block last Friday afternoon. The stars were a man and woman, the woman playing the leading part and making it a decided success. It was witnessed by a large andience, all of whom decided that they received generous value for the time spent in viewing the act.

It was about 3 o'clock when a young woman about 22 approached a man standing qnietly on the walk and asked the time of day, a perfectly proper qnestion. He answered her, bnt somehow she took offense and proceeded to slap his face and to knock his hat into the gutter. The man appreciated the woman's jagged condition and simply proceeded to pick up his hat. This added fuel to the flames, and the woman proceeded to grab him by the hair and ears and to give him the best shaking of which she was capable—and she was a good candidate for a strong woman contest.

Deputy Sheriff Northrop happened to he across the street and started to quiet the woman, hut she dropped the man and gave him her whole attention. He had his hands full with her in a minnte; and then the man who was with her added his strength to hers. The officer was having a good busy time when bystanders came to his assistance. Deputy Sheriff Bills came along just then and took a hand, also the woman with assistance from M. J. Farrelly The way to the lockup was a continuous performance show. Hampered as to the us of her hands, she proved no mean performer with her feet, and she certainly had muscle, as a few with whom her pedal extremities came in contact can testify With it all she showed a wonderful command of langnage, not at all times of the finest or purest English; it was English all right, but subject to revision for use in polite society. At Shaw's market it was decided to take her the balance of the way in a team, to which she objected, but the act was finally accomplished, and she and her husband were safely locked in the cooler.

In court the next morning they gave the name of Lonis F. and Anna Bonin of Manchester, N. H. The woman was given 20 days for drnnkenness, and the man 30 days for assanlting an officer.

Funeral of Miss Emma L. Feeney.

The funeral of Miss Emma L. Feeney, 47, who died last Friday at her home on South Main street, was held Monday morning at 10 from St. Thomas' church. Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. M J. O'Connell, assisted by Rev. P. J. Griffin of Thorndike and Rev. L. O. Geoffroy of Three Rivers. Mrs. J. J. Bnrke sang "Lead Kindly Light" The bearers were Daniel Gallagher and Henry W. Clark of Springfield, Charles Wilbnr of Chicopee, and W E. McDonald, John F. Foley and W. F. Dnnn of Palmer. Bnrial was in the family lot in St. Thomas' cemetery. There was a great profusion of beautifnl flowers

Gould—Fisherdick.

A qniet wedding took place at the home of Edwin C. Gould on Pleasant street Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when his sister, Helen E. Gonld of Springfield, was nnited in marriage to Henry N. Fisherdick of Ware. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. C. Conner of Springfield, father of Mrs. E C. Gould. The bride was attended hy Miss Florence Fisherdick, a sister of the groom, and the best man was John A Gould of Ware, a brother of the bride. Only immediate relatives and close friends were present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Fisherdick left in the evening for a trip to Montreal and Niagara Falls and on their return will make their home in Ware.

Special Trains to Stafford Fair.

The Central Vermont railroad will run trains as follows next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, to Stafford, Ct., when the annnal fair is to he hold: Wednesday, leave Palmer at 7.25 a. m, 9 35 a. m, 9 55 a m, 1.25 p. m; Monson, 7 34 a. m, 9.43 a m., 10 05 a. m., 1 35 p. m. Retnrning leave Stafford at 6 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations. Thursday, leave Palmer 7 25 a. m., 9 55 a. m., 1.25 p. m.; Monson, 7.34 a. m., 10 05 a. m., 1.35 p. m. Returning leave Staffard at 6 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations. Fare: Palmer 60 cents, Monson 45 cents.

O. P. Allen is spending a part of the week in Vermont.

Miss Angie Hnnt of Springfield is the gnest of friends in town.

Mrs. F. M. Ralton has retnrned from a visit in Lawrence and Attleboro.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Collis of Brattleboro, Vt., visited relatives in town yesterday.

Walter Herran has returned from a several weeks' visit in Plattsbnrg, N. Y.

J. P. Lynde has moved from Pine street into his new house on North Main street.

Palmer Grange visited Ware Grange last evening and furnished the entertainment

The Elite motion picture palace opened last Saturday evening nnder the new management.

Howard E Dwyer of Springfield is the gnest of his consin, Raymond L. Wilder of Pine street.

William Askin has moved his family into one of the tenements in the food factory on Pine street.

Mrs. L. M. Shaw and Mrs C K Gamwell have retnrned from a few weeks' stay at Pleasnre Beach.

Mrs. T. J. O'Connor of Worcester, a former resident, visited Palmer friends the first of the week.

Harold Rich has resigned his position in the Bay State drng store, to take effect tomorrow evening.

Mrs Anna Herring of Ware was the gnest over Sunday of Mrs Emma L Gnnn of Pleasant street.

A new piano has been installed in Odd Fellows hall for the use of the lodges who meet in that place.

Mrs. Charles Chopns of Montville, Ct, is a gnest of Mr. and Mrs. George Clough on North Main street.

Mrs J. C. Wing and Mrs. S. W. Gardner of Central street have returned from a visit to New York state.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church held a business meeting and social Monday evening.

Miss Nellie A. Fuller of North Wilbraham spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. C. I. Whitcomb on Pond street.

A meeting of the directors of the Palmer Society for District Nursing was held Monday afternoon in Thorndike.

A meeting of the directors of the Library Association was held Wednesday evening in the reference room of the library.

Gerrard J. Rathbone has returned from Warrington, Eng, where he has been spending several weeks with his parents

Mrs. J J. Donahne of Knox street was called to Monson the first of the week by the death of her annt, Mrs. Richard Doyle.

Mary E, the seven-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Brooks of Dublin street, died Sunday night of diphtheria. Burial was Monday afternoon at 3 in St. Thomas' cemetery.

Miss Josephine Whalen has resigned her position as operator for the Western Union Telegraph Company and has entered the training school of the Wesson Memorial hospital in Springfield.

The qnarantine has been removed from the homes of C. A. LeGro on Converse street and L. A. Fontaine on Central street, where there have been cases of diphtheria, and the houses fumigated.

The first meeting of the season of the Palmer Woman's Club will be held next Friday at the home of Mrs. T. J. Tipper. There will be a miscollaneons program and afternoon tea will be served.

Miss Elsie Stevenson was tendered a linen shower by her friends at the home of Miss Irene Bates on Converse street Monday evening. Refreshment were served and the evening was pleasantly spent.

Raiph Dasco appeared in the district court Monday morning on an assault charge His case was continned until the first Monday in November, the complainant in the case failing to appear.

The first meeting of the season of the Palmer Historical Society will be held next Tuesday evening in the reference room of the public library. David F. Dillon will give an address on "The making of history."

Electric cars are being run every 15 minntes from the fair grounds to Springfield during the three days of the fair; half-hour time on the Ware and Monson lines. Cars are run as usual to the villages, with extras as the travel warrants.

The winter schednle of trains went into effect on the Central Vermont road Sunday, with a few small changes at Palmer. Going south the evening train leaves at 6 30 instead of 6 40, and going north the noon train leaves at 12.10 instead of 12 15.

In the district conrt Monday morning Wojiack Korteka, for assanlt on Stanley Borah, was fined $6. Peter Piotwowski, for smashing a bucket in his cell, was fined $10 and for drunkenness $6. Being unable to pay either fine, he was committed.

Rev. F. S. Brewer was in Westboro this week, where he attended and took part in the council for installation of Rev. T. C Richards as pastor of the Evangelical church of that place. Mr. Richards was formerly pastor of the Congregational church in Warren.

BELCHERTOWN.

Ward—Ward.

A qniet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Eva Lillian, was married to Arthur LeRoy Ward of Fall River; Rev W T. Hall performed the ceremony. The bride was gowned in white silk and carried a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Evelyn Ward Shumway, niece of the bride acted as ring bearer. Miss Adele Shumway rendered the Lohengrin wedding march. The bride's traveling costnme was hine broadcloth, with hat to match. The conple received a fine display of gifts. After a wedding trip they will make their home in Fall River The bride has been a member of the Grange and Christian Endeavor society and has been prominent in the social life of the town. Since graduating from the Belchertown high school she has been a teacher in the Connecticnt schools.

Miss Frances Ward of Plattsburg, N Y., has been a guest at the Ward home on North Main street.

Oscar Morse of Worcester spent the week-end in town with relatives. Mr. Morse was the first master of Vernon lodge.

Mrs. Gny C. Allen Jr. entertained a party of friends last Friday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Cora Shaw Burnette, librarian of Clapp Memorial library. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Burnette's birthday and she was the recipient of a large number of gifts.

WARE.

Death of Mrs. Louisa Sumner.

Mrs. Louisa Sumner, 85, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Pierce, in Ware Center Monday night. Mrs Sumner was born in Pelham, the daughter of Jonathan and Betsy Turner. She was the widow of Isaiah Clark Sumner, who died 27 years ago. She had lived in Ware since she was 25, first in district 7 and for the last 25 years in Ware Center. She leaves five children, Mrs. Albert Marsh and Benjamin Sumner of Palmer, and Mrs Mary L Pierce, with whom she lived, and Samuel and Charles Sumner of Ware. She also leaves four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The funeral was held to-day at 2 p. m from the home with services conducted by Rev. Roland D. Sawyer. Bnrial was in Aspen Grove cemetery.

Colnmbus Day, which is next Thursday, will be observed hy Ware council, Knights of Colnmbus, with an entertainment in their rooms for members.

A two story bnsiness block is to he erected by Edward Kaplan at the corner of Main and North streets. It will be constructed of light brick and will contain six stores on the ground floor and offices above.

Snit was entered in the snperior court in Northampton Monday hy Mrs. Hugh Gormley of this place to recover $5000 from Thomas O'Keefe of Monson because of injnries alleged to have been received by the plaintiff in falling npon ice which had formed from water that had fallen from the eaves troughs of the defendant's honse npon a roadway. Mr. and Mrs Gormley, acting jointly, sne Mr. O'Keefe to recover $3000

HOLLAND.

The Ladies' Aid Society held a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Children of Andrew Howlett of Hubbardston have come to live with their aunt, Mrs. Lucia Howlett, because of the illness of their mother, who is in a Worcester hospital.

BRIMFIELD.

Death of Sanford Booth.

Sanford Booth, 73, a well-known and highly respected farmer in Brimfield, died Monday at his home in Donhamtown after a several months' illness of a complication of diseases. Sanford Booth was born in Union, Ct, April 14, 1838 He was married at Staffordville, Ct., April 2, 1862, to Miss Ellen A. Moore of Union, Ct., and they lived for a time in that town. In April, 1866, they removed to Longmeadow, where they lived for two years. After living again in Union, they moved to Brimfield in May, 1873, and have lived ever since on the farm that Mr. Booth bought at that time, and which he had so cultivated as to be known as one of the best farmers in this section. He had held the office of assessor for a number of years, and had been a member of the board of selectmen. Besides his widow, he leaves a daughter, Madora, the wife of Nathan F. Bradway of Wales, and three sons, Elmer E at home, Milo D. of Jamaica Plain and Milton S. of Palmer. There are three grandchildren. Mr. Booth leaves two brothers, Melvin Booth and Milo D. Booth of Brimfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Stephen Tift of Westford, Ct, and Mrs. Minar Miller of West Modford The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Death of W. E. Gilbert.

William E Gilbert, for a number of years warden of the town farm, died in the Northampton insane asylum Monday from the effects of a paralytic shock sustained several weeks ago He leaves, hesides a widow, a daughter, Etta, the wife of Harry Plimpton of Warren. Burial was Tuesday in West Brookfield, Mr. Gilbert's former home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Cole and daughter Dorothy of Springfield spent Sunday at Prospect Farm.

Monroe Tarbell of the Massachusetts Agricnltnral college spent Snnday at his home in Brimfield.

George W. Sherman has heen appointed observer on Steerage Rock Monntain which is station No. 4 of the forest fire observation stations being established by the state forestry department A temporary tent has been erected, equipped with a telephone, and Mr. Sherman has been furnished with a powerful fieid giass for the detection of fires. There are to be 12 stations in the state, and each observer is responsible for a circnit with the radins of 15 miles. Mr. Sherman has been given the names of forest wardens in a circnit of 25 miles with whom he is expected to communicate on seeing a fire at that distance W. C Hutchins, deputy forester, and H A Reynolds secretary of the department, visited Steerage Rock last week and were enthusiastic over the advantages of the spot as an observation station, pronouncing it an ideal location

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscniar rhenmatism A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers

BORN.

In Thorndike, 4th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thayer.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 4th, by Rev. C. C. Conner, Henry N. Fisherdick of Ware and Helen E. Gonld of Springfield.

In Monson, 3d, by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, Daniel Shea of Bondsville and Margaret Looney of Monson.

In Monson, 3d, by Rev. J. M. Gage, J. Frank Lester of Newcastle, Pa., and M. Louise Shaw of Monson.

In Monson, 4th, by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, William Welch and Minnie Welch.

In Belchertown, 30th ult., by Rev. W. T. Hall, Arthur L. Ward of Fall River and Eva L. Ward of Belchertown.

DIED.

In Palmer, 1st, Mary E. Brooks, 7.
In Monson, 2d, Mrs. Richard Doyle, 47.
In Bondsville, 2d, Frank York, 30.
In Brimfield, 2d, Sanford Booth, 73.
In Ware, 2d, Mrs. Lonise Sumner, 85.
In Warren, 2d, Herbert N. Tuttle, 66.
In Northampton, 2d, William E. Gilbert, 76, formerly of Brimfield.
In Rockville, Ct., 4th, George W. Anderson, formerly of Monson.

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Teacher of Piano.
In Palmer Saturdays
Maud L. Hayden,
26 Bristol St., Springfield, Mass.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St. Palmer

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Grand Fall and Winter Opening
My fall and winter line of ladies', men's and children's wearing apparel is now ready to be shown. I have an elegant assortment of stylish and up to date
Ladies' Suits, Coats, Cloth, Caracul Furs, Skirts, Dresses and Shirtwaists.
As for the men and young men I have a fine line of Suits and Overcoats
Of the best of fabrics and makes.
I also carry a line of Children's Cloaks and Boys' and Children's Suits and Overcoats.
I also make to order from measure ladies' Suits, Coats and Skirts at regular retail prices.
Come and look the goods over and you will be convinced that my goods are of the best quality and at the most reasonable prices.
M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
P. O. Block. Up one flight.

Pomona Grange Meeting.

Springfield Pomona Grange met in Wilbraham Wednesday, nine granges being represented. The open meeting of the afternoon was attended by about 100. The morning session was occnpied with a literary and musical program. Dinner was served at noon by Wilbraham Grange. All the afternoon addresses were made by local speakers. There was a general discnssion on "What are the most necessary tools for the farm?" There was music and readings by members of the various granges.

A true friend is one who likes you just the same, no matter what he knows about you —Life.

CARD.—We extend our sincere thanks to friends and members of the Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows for their many expressions of sympathy during our recent hereavement.
MRS. F. D. YORK, Bondsville.
C. F. YORK, Rutland, Vt.
MR. AND MRS. W. C. YORK, Lakewood, N. J.
Bondsville, Oct. 4, 1911.

BRIGHT BOY WANTED. Apply at DEPOT RESTAURANT.

TO RENT — To a small family a five-room tenement. 28 Pleasant St., MRS. TUPHILL.

FOR SALE—A second-hand Hub cook stove. M. S. FRENCH, 30 Park St., Palmer

TO RENT — A tenement of 10 rooms. 25-2 K. I. McMAHON.

TO RENT — Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

TO RENT — October 1st, tenement of three rooms. No. 8 Park street, near high school. MRS. E. F. SHAW. 25-2

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

TO RENT—Tenement on Pine street, second floor, $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Two broken fox hounds; or will trade for a No. 1 coon dog. S. J. HAYES, care Adams Express, New London, Ct. 26-2

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

NOTICE — Pass Book No. 14,269 issued by the Palmer Savings Bank has been lost and an application by the owner for the issuance of a duplicate Pass Book has been filed with the Bank. Any person finding Pass Book No. 14,269 is requested to return it to the PALMER SAVINGS BANK, Palmer, Mass. 25-3

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

A Big Opportunity Sterling Fountain Pens Half Price
Fully guaranteed. Regularly $2.50 to $10. Plain, gold band, silver deposit, and finely engraved gold-filled. Perfect in every respect. Why not buy that Christmas gift now?
Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

Fraternity Notes.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps meets this evening

Palmer Grange will meet next Friday evening in Masonic Hall.

Division 15, A. O H, meets next Sunday afternoon in Thorndike.

Tockwotton tribe of Red Men meets on Tuesday evening of next week

Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows holds a regular meeting next Wednesday evening.

L L Merrick post, G. A. R, will hold a regular meeting next Wednesday evening

Pilgrim commandery, Knights of Malta, hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening

A regular meeting of Palmer council, Knights of Columbus, will be held next Thursday evening.

A regular meeting of Good Cheer Rebekah lodge is scheduled for Thursday evening of next week.

Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, initiated one member at its meeting Tuesday evening. A collation was served

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, 80. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a.m. 12.30 2 p.m. 6.30 8 p.m.
Tel. 104—5.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

Habicht & Hogg
Civil Engineers and Surveyors
Architects
Farm Surveys a Specialty.
Reinforced Concrete Buildings.
Room 39, Kinnman Building
332 MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Rexall Store
Liggett's and Quality Chocolates
Newsdealers and Stationers
50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c
Lynde & Gould
Palmer, Mass.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.
Bright New Merchandise For All Saturday Shoppers
Splendid attractions in the season's newest and best of all merchandise, forms the special trading news here for Saturday shoppers. Merchandise for the fall and winter, and then again Saturday values are always attractive, for in most every instance you'll find splendid opportunities for important savings.
Scan the List Carefully and Note the Many Saving Opportunities
Handsome New Waists, 98c each
A great collection of th se new shirtwaists, hundreds of new styles and patterns, each one prettier than the other. Among them are Pure Linen Waists, Shirt Styles, Mannish Sleeves, Laundered Cuffs and Collars. Linon Waists with the new "Set in" sleeves in a great assortment of styles and patterns, etc. SATURDAY SPECIAL, 98c each
25c Mercerized Hose, 14c Pair
Women's Mercerized Hose of superior quality with deep garter top, slightly imperfect, but imperfections are only slight. SATURDAY SPECIAL, 14c pair
50 Handsome New Mixture Suits
$17.50 and $19.75 Suits, Special $13.75
Bright new mixtures in heavy serges and worsteds, the season's most favored fabrics and styles. Coats are finely finished, lined with guaranteed silk or satin. Skirts plain, latest models, panel front and back with or without plait on side, in beautiful shades of blue, new gray and brown. All sizes represented in this collection. SATURDAY SPECIAL, $13.75
Klosfit Petticoats, 89c
These Petticoats are made from the best selected materials. Fit and workmanship guaranteed. Made in waist measures, 18–24 inch, and in all lengths. SATURDAY SPECIAL, 89c
From the Underwear Section
Fine smooth women's fleeced lined vests and pants, regular and extra sizes. 29c each
Children's fine ribbed fleece lined Union Suits in all sizes. 50c each
Children's Jersey Sleeping garments with feet, 25c each
We are sole agents for the Merode Underwear. Women who want good satisfactory underwear for the least possible outlay should buy Merode Garments. Our assortments are now complete—vests, pants, union suits, etc. 50c upward to $3
W. D. Kinsman Co., Springfield

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by
These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.
Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

Fall Opening
OF
Soft Hats
The leading Fall shapes and colors now on display.
A Special at $2
Extra good quality in all colors.
Early Fall Showing of Negligee Shirts
Fine assortment—$1.00, $1.50
C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Your Attention
Is called to our large assortment of
Ginghams and Percales
Come early and make your selections. Just the thing for children's school dresses and blouses.
Hellyar's Bargain Store
Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Cement, Lime, Plastering Hair, Wood Pulp Plaster
1 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
5 lb. cans Arsenate of Lead
1-2 lb. cans Hellebore
1 lb. cans Hellebore
Cattle Oil and Sprayers
W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, Never Out and Dietz Jr.
The three best lights on the market. Priced right.
E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

Monson News.

Looney—Shea.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning when Margaret Esther Looney, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Daniel Looney of Thompson street, was united in marriage to Daniel F. Shea of Bondsville. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev Thomas O'Keefe. The maid of honor was Miss Elsie Looney, sister of the bride, and the best man was Daniel F. Shea of Thompsonville, Ct, a cousin of the groom. The nshers were Thomas P. Looney of this town and Michael P. Bowler of Bondsville. The bride's gown was ivory white lansdown, trimmed with point d'alencon lace and pearl trimmings. She wore a tnile veil, caught np with rosebuds and carried a bonqnet of bride roses. The maid of honor wore white embroidered batiste with a pink sash and white hat. She carried an arm bonquet of white carnations. Following the ceremony tbere was a reception at the bride's home on Thompson street, after which a wedding breakfast was served The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a gold bracelet. The bridegroom's gift to the best man was a gold scarf pin. The ushers also received the same gifts. The bride's traveling dress was brown broadcloth, with hat to match. Following their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs Shea will reside in Bondsville, where Mr. Shea is employed as a machinist by the Boston Duck Co.

Shaw—Lester.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs Mary Shaw, on Reynolds avenne Wednesday afternoon when her daughter, Miss M Louise Shaw was united in marriage to J Frank Lester of Newcastle, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J M Gage of Chicopee, a former pa tor of the Methodist church of this town. The parlor was decorated with roses on a background of autumn leaves, and the ceremony took place under a bell of tbe same. They were nnattended and the bride wore her traveling gown of brown broadcloth A reception followed tbe ceremony and a huffet luncheon was served. Friends and relatives were present from Monson, Palmer, Rockville, Norwich, Ct, and Providence. Miss Shaw is a grndnate of Monson Academy in the class of 1900 and a graduate of Mount Holyoke College in the class of 1905 Since graduating from college she has taught in high schools in Conway, Westerly, R I., and Palmer. Mr and Mrs. Lester will reside in Newcastle, Pa.

Death of Mrs. Richard Doyle.

Mrs. Richard Doyle, 47, died at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Michael Welcb on Bridge street Monday afternoon at 4 30 after a prolonged illness of bronchial tronble. She was born in Stafford Springs, Ct., and was the danghter of William Brennan of that town In 1892 she was married to Richard Doyle of Monson. Besides her husband, she is survived hy one sister, Miss Mary Brennan of this town. The body was taken to her late home on Washington street Tuesday morning. The funeral was held from the house Wednesday morning with services in St. Patrick's church at 9 30, Rev Thomas O'Keefe officiating. Burial was in the Pearl-street cemetery.

Birthday Party.

Miss Eleanor Sutcliffe, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Frank Sutcliffe of State street, gave a birthday party to 12 of her young friends at her home Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Music and games were enjoyed, refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed by all.

Welch—Welch.

William P. Welch and Miss Mary J Welch were married Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Patrick's church hy Rev. Thomas O'Keefe. The attendants were Timothy J Desmond of Stafford Springs, Ct., and Miss Elizabeth Welch of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cross spent Sunday with friends in Palmer.

D. W. Ellis of Green street has returned from a bunting trip on Cape Cod.

Walter Pease is ahle to be out after an illness at his home on Elm street.

Thomas Heffernan has returned to Worcester after a two-weeks' stay in town

The Quahoag Rehekah lodge held their regnlar meeting last night at 8 o'clock.

F. A. Wheeler left yesterday for Burlington, Vt., where he will spend a few days.

The banns of marriage were published for the first time Sunday between Miss Elizabeth Dillon and James Bowler of this town.

Miss Nellie Beckwith, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned to Shelton, Ct.

The Woman's Relief Corps will give an entertainment in Memorial Hall in the near futnre.

G. W. Seymonr is moving from Mrs. John Cross's honse to F. Q Ball's house on Main street

Rev. F. C. McConnell will occnpy the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday morning as usual

George Schubath is moving from Hampden avenue to Joseph Reynold's honse on Sonth Main street.

John Dustin of Main street leaves to-day for Arlington, Vt., where he will spend a two-weeks' vacation.

The King's Daughters will meet this evening at 7 45 o'clock with Mrs. E B Potter on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Chapman of Green street are in Boston, where Mr. Chapman is attending the druggists' convention.

A meeting of the Young Woman's Study Clnh was held in the home of Miss Grace Dnstin Tnesday evening at 7 45 o'clock

Mrs Thomas Heffernan has retnrned to Worcester after visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs. John McKenna on Bridge street.

G. W. Seymour and H. W. Bughee have returned from Hartford, Ct., where they attended the rennion of all the Connecticut regiments.

The body of Elizabeth J. Hale, who died in New York city last Friday, was brought to this town for hnrial in No. 1 cemetery Snnday afternoon.

John Manning of Thompson street, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time, has been removed to the Mercy hospital in Springfield.

The first meeting of the Men's Clnh of the Congregational church for this season will be held in the church parlors Monday evening Prof James Tufts of Chicago University will he the speaker.

The Century Club will hold their first meeting with Mrs. W. L. Ricketts next Tnesday afternoon. "Current Events" will be the subject of the meeting Mrs R H. Cnshman will have charge of the meeting.

Ahont 15 friends of Miss Margaret Looney gave her a miscellaneous shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Pendergast on Pearl street Satnrday evening. Mnsic and singing were enjoyed and refreshments served.

Thomas Campbell has resigned bis position as boss-carder at the Ellis & Sons' No. 3 mill. John Shelley, who has been working in Thompsonville, Ct., has been engaged to fill the vacancy caused by Mr Campbell's resignation.

The public schools of the town closed today for the rest of the week to allow the children to attend the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Fair at Palmer. The officials of the fair have offered prizes in the corn and potato raising contest, seeds for which were furnished last spring by the Massachusetts Agricultural College.

The first meeting of the Current Events Club for the coming year was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs R. P. Cushman. The papers that were read were: "Early Florentine schools, Cimabue and Giotto," Mrs. L. C. Flynt; "Fra Angelico and Masaccio," Mrs. G. A. Andrews; "Contemporary Flemish schools, the Van Eycks and Memling," Mrs. R. P. Cushman.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church held their annual business meeting last week at the church parsonage. The secretary and treasurer's reports for the past year were read and accepted. The reports showed a successful year's work, over $300 having been laid out for church and charitable work. The officers elected for the year were; President, Mrs. C R Buffington; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Ricketts; secretary, Mrs L. L. Chapin; treasurer, Mrs W L Ricketts; work committee, Mrs. E. R Sisson, Mrs. Abram Conklin and Mrs. F. J. Entwistle. The work for the coming year was planned. Including other things the nan l series of suppers will be given.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Football Team Defeated.

In the opening game of the season the Academy football team were defeated at Worcester by the Worcester Academy eleven, last Satnrday, 18 to 6 As the Worcester eleven heavily ont-weighed the Monson hoys and as this was the first game for the visitors, the result of the game is not to be wondered at. Monson's score came in the last quarter. Captain Smith did some fine work for Monson, while Barinkow featnred in a 97 yard rnn for a touch-down.

Elliot Bowker of Revere has entered the senior class

Harry Lake spent Wednesday and Thursday with friends in Hartford

Donald Francis, '13, of North Dana, who has recovered from an operation for appendicitis, has returned to school.

A mass meeting was held in the Academy chapel last evening at which cheers and yells were practiced for the relay this afternoon and also for future football games

The junior class held a meeting in room 3 Wednesday, at which the following committee was appointed to select an appropriate class pin; President Elliot, Miss Ellis, Paul Francis, Miss Hibbard and Cushman.

The Yonng Men's Christian Association of the Acadamy met Sunday afternoon in Cushman Hall Rev Abram Conklin of the Universalist church gave an interesting talk In the future the meetings will he held at 5 o'clock instead of 3 30

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mr. and Mrs Wilson Bradway retnrned Sunday from their wedding trip

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Raymond are spending two weeks in New York state.

Miss Edith Roberts, who is ill with typhoid fever, has been removed to the Springfield hospital.

Mrs Frank Carpenter and daughter Nettie of Providence, R. I., have been guests of Mrs. Charles Fletcher.

Miss Marjorie Perry was tendered a variety shower Monday evening by her girl friends in honor of her approaching marriage She received a number of fine presents.

Mr and Mrs. Walter M. Green entertained at their home in East Wilbraham Snnday Mr and Mrs. Edward Crossett and two daughters, Mr and Mrs Edward Bartlett and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Branch Woodruff and son of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Calkins and two children

WARREN.

Death of Herbert N. Tuttle.

Herbert Newton Tuttle, 66, died Sunday evening at 9 at his home on Little Rest road, two miles southeast of the village. He had been in poor health for some time, hut for a few days had felt better, and Sunday afternoon he milked four cows. Soon after going to bed he complained of feeling badly, and died soon after as the result of an internal hemorrhage. Mr. Tuttle was horn in Blandford, hut had lived in Warren for the past 25 years. Besides his widow, he leaves three sons in Warren, Archer N. Tuttle, Howard W. Tuttle and Herbert O Tuttle, one daughter, Miss Persis G. Tuttle of East Weymouth, a brother, Henry N Tuttle, and a sister, Mrs. James Hinsdale, both of Meriden, Ct. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at his late home, Rev. O Darling officiating The hearers were Robert H Hyde, Sidney H Gilligan, Fred S. Keyes and Nathan E Ball.

Rev. A. B. Penulman of Beloit, Wis., was a recent guest of Rev. and Mrs O I. Darling

William J. Runyan has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y. where he has entered the Long Island hospital medical school.

A 50 cent hottle of Bloodine Rhenmatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, cronp, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

Perhaps Both.

"I haven't seen your cashier for several days past."

"No; he's gone out of town."

"Ah! Gone for a rest, eh?"

"We haven't found out yet whether he's gone for a rest or to escape it."—Exchange.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Palmer People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But when yon know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serions kidney troubles follow;

That dropsy, Bright's disease may be the fatal end,

Yon will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the honest statement of a sufferer who was cnred.

Mrs. D. H. Barnes, Main St., Monson, Mass., says: "I gladly verify my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills given in 1906. I had considerable trouble from backache, especially when I went up or down stairs. I was very restless and in the morning felt tired and nnrefreshed. Reading ahout Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial and the first few doses convinced me that they were a remedy of merit. The contents of two or three boxes removed the pain and lameness and restored me to good health. This remedy has been used by another member of my family and in that case the results were satisfactory.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

A DONKEY ENGINE

Illustrating Some Points In a Girl's Choice of a Husband

By EMILY SEWELL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Why is it that the most important step in life, marriage, is often decided at haphazard? Perhaps it is because every one considers marriage a lottery. At any rate, an impatient word, a flower given in the nick of time, a misunderstood sentence, a smile, will often determine whether Molly is to marry Tom, with a happy life before her, or John with misery and final divorce.

Margaret Lee, though still young and comparatively inexperienced, was born to a natural insight into such matters Where most young ladies would give their hearts in return for a compliment, she looked for something more enduring. She was wiser even than this. She knew that she could not forecast what her fate would be with any man. Tom might be one of nature's noblemen, but he might also be a poor provider. John might be narrow minded and selfish, but might bestow upon her wealth and honors. Margaret realized that she must take her chances.

Miss Lee's choice gradually narrowed down to one of two men. Her Tom and John were Pope Armstrong and Le Baron Brown. Armstrong represented what has been said of Tom; he was especially interested in his own career. Brown was, in some respects, typified by John. He was a noble fellow, but was regarded by his friends as full of fine impracticable impulses and a born gambler; not a gambler in the narrow, but the broad sense. Both wanted Margaret, and Margaret wanted one or the other of them. Her judgment said Armstrong, her inclination favored Brown.

One evening Armstrong went to see her and used very excellent arguments why she should marry him. He was getting a good salary, with prospects of a better. He was putting aside 30 per cent of his income and already had a nest egg laid up that was paying him a good interest. "I am going for houses and lands," he said, "and you know that this is no vain boast, for I have already done the hardest part of the work. I have got the first thousand dollars."

Margaret's head, if not her heart, was won. She remembered that Brown had recently loaned a friend $500, that he never expected to see again. Would she not better settle the matter between them now, and in favor of Armstrong? She would if she could, but she could not.

"Come tomorrow evening," she said, "and I'll try to give you an answer."

"I'll tell what I'll do, Margaret," said the wooer. "I'll come tomorrow evening and we'll flip a coin to decide whether you marry me or not."

"Very well," said Margaret, in a tired way.

The next day she met Brown on the street, and he walked home with her. They had so much to say to each other that they couldn't say it all before reaching her house, so Brown went in.

"Margaret," he said, "I have no doubt that you can do better by marrying some one else than me. But my argument is this: You must take the risk any way. Why not take it with a man you love? Besides, some men are capable of being made by a wife. You would undoubtedly have a hard time with me, but you're a level headed girl, and that's the kind I need. I'm a donkey engine, and, you know, an engine can't run itself; it must have an engineer."

Margaret was so influenced by this argument, especially since her heart was enlisted, that she promised the young man that if something—she wouldn't tell what—turned out the next evening a certain way she would marry him. Brown showed that when interested in a subject he had a lot of hang on in him, for he never gave up till he drew the information out of her that she was to decide his rival's fate by the spinning of a coin. Then he refused to let go until she had agreed to give him an equal chance. She consented that he should be present the next evening and the coin should decide between him and Armstrong. The coin would be spun as a bit of pleasantry, but it was understood that whichever man won won in earnest.

The advantage was all with Brown because he knew of the game to be played and had a day in which to prepare for it. One may say that in such an affair there is no preparation to be made or if any is possible it is dishonorable.

But while Armstrong had the steadiness of a planet revolving in its fixed orbit, Brown was a man for occasion. While he had noble impulses, he did not allow them to run away with him in the matter of the girl he loved. All's fair in war and love is a principle of nature. During the evening he spun coins on a smooth table top till midnight. Before he had finished he had discovered how to make them fall on which ever side he chose.

The next morning he telephoned to his employer that he would not be ready for business that day and had no excuse to offer for his absence. "Very sorry to lose you, Mr. Brown," was the reply, "but you needn't come tomorrow; your place will be filled."

It may seem singular that a man struggling to get a wife should give up the income on which to support her, but Brown argued that he couldn't get the wife and keep the position. He possessed the faculty of deciding between the greater and the lesser. He needed all of the day to continue his preparations for the game he was to play in the evening. If he lost there was no recovery. If he won he had a lifetime in which to secure another position.

When the evening for the trial came Brown had used up in preparation every moment since he had parted with Margaret the day before, except eight hours for sleep. It was not that he dreaded failure, but detection. If he were caught introducing loaded coins for the spinning he could not tell just what would be the result. He might lose the girl. He certainly would incur the contumely of his [illegible] and his action might prove ruinous to him. But nothing troubled him except the possible loss of the prize.

Brown called late enough to give his rival an opportunity to get in before him, then entered as though he had merely dropped in casually. Armstrong looked annoyed, and Margaret appeared to be very regretful of having drifted into the position she occupied. The three with difficulty kept up an embarrassing conversation for half an hour, when Armstrong, giving Margaret a knowing look, proposed to decide a question he had raised by spinning a coin. He had invited her to go to the theater with him, and she seemed to he in doubt what day to set for the purpose. His proposition he intended for an introduction to the trial that was to decide his fate with Margaret. The night for attending the theater having been settled, Brown proposed some other way of amusing the trio by coin spinning. Margaret wore an American Beauty rose in her hair, and at last Brown proposed to Armstrong to spin a coin for it. Margaret consented and Armstrong won the rose. Then Brown spoke.

"Mr. Armstrong, there is a prize we both desire, though I can't say that either will possess it. I shall not name it. You are perfectly aware of what it is. I will spin a silver half dollar for it, best three out of five."

Armstrong looked at Brown and understood. Then he looked at Margaret and saw that, while she did not approve, she did not forbid. They had been playing with a coin that Armstrong had taken from his pocket. Brown picked it up and said: "We will begin with this half dollar; spin it twice; I will then furnish one which we will spin twice; then we will spin one belonging to Miss Lee."

Placing the coin under his forefinger, he asked Armstrong, "Heads or tails?" Armstrong chose heads, the coin was spun and Armstrong won. The next spinning was by Armstrong, who lost. At the third test Brown declined to substitute his own coin, but won. Brown lost the fourth test, making a tie. He then asked Margaret for a coin, which she gave him.

All three knew what was at stake. Armstrong was composed outwardly, but excited inwardly. Brown showed no emotion whatever. Margaret was drawing long breaths, and her color was leaving her. Brown called upon her to spin the coin. She consented, and Brown won, gaining the best three in five and the prize.

Armstrong's eyes flashed. Taking up the coin he examined it critically.

"Would you accuse me of cheating?" asked Brown.

"All's fair in war and in love," was the dogged reply.

"So I thought till I sat down for this test, when my conscience told me that an unfair advantage is dishonorable in any event. I am an expert at coin spinning, if I may use my own coin, as I will show you. In this contest you furnished the coin which tied us, while Miss Lee furnished the one that decided between us. Now I will show you that with my own coin I can win every time."

Taking a silver half dollar from his pocket, he called on Armstrong to choose heads or tails and spun it, and Armstrong lost. Brown repeated this seven times, winning every time. Armstrong took up the coin and examined it carefully, but could see nothing unusual about it.

"Is it loaded?" he asked.

"No," replied Brown. Taking a small magnifying glass from his pocket, he asked Armstrong to examine the coin with it. Armstrong saw that the edge of the milling on the head side had been filed smooth. This would naturally cause the coin to sink "head" side down.

"Let us try it again," said Brown, "and see if tails will always be up He did so, and, contrary to expectation, head was always up. Brown then showed him that the coin had been filed on the tail side. He had changed coins without their knowing it.

Armstrong arose and, concealing his chagrin as well as he could, bowed politely to both of those he left behind and withdrew.

The moment Margaret was left alone with the man who had won she threw herself into his arms.

"You could not do it, could you?" she exclaimed impulsively.

"No," he said. "I couldn't."

"But you intended to do it?"

"Yes, I did. It seemed that I couldn't take any risk in this one matter. I spent a whole day in making preparations to win and gave up my position to gain time for the purpose. So you see you are to be possessed by a man who is"—

"Never mind. I am possessed by the man I want."

Brown became a successful and distinguished man, with whom his wife was happy and of whom she was proud. But he always said she was his engineer.

A Prophecy

By CAROL H. PIERCE.

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

When the civil war was coming on Enoch Armsby, a Connecticut Yankee, who had taken it into his head to run a plantation on the Mississippi river some twenty miles south of Vicksburg, found himself a northern man with southern interests. Despite the differences between him and his neighbors they didn't drive him out. His son, Zeke, who had lived in the south longer than in the north, enlisted in the Confederate army, and this disposed the southerners more than ever to let the father alone.

Enoch Armsby told his southern friends that there were reasons why the north would prevail.

"I guess," he said, "nothin' can stand agalust the south for fightin', but it isn't fightin' that's goin' to win. The northern people are full of resources. When they come down here you'll find that they will convert a ferryboat into a man-of-war, build bridges with cotton bales, and when they capture one o' your railroads they'll git out a time table and run it nearer the schedule than you fellers can do it in time of peace."

"I reckon one southerner can whip five Yankees," would be the reply.

"S'posin' they do. S'posin' they kill three out o' the five Yankees and make prisoners of the other two. The two they don't kill will invent some way o' gittin' out o' jail and go on fightin'. They will be joined by three more Yankees and be as strong as ever. That'll go right on."

The Federal forces slowly made their way down the river and in time the great event of the war in that region, the siege of Vicksburg, began Zeke Armsby participated in the fighting that took place in the rear of that city, was captured and confined with a lot of Confederate prisoners of war in a manufactory of undertakers' supplies When the news reached his father the neighbors said:

"Mr Armsby, reckon yer son 'll have a chance to show that Yankee ingenuity yo' been braggin about now Reckon he'll find a way fo gettin out."

"I guess Zeke 'll git out if any one can."

"How's he goin' to do it? That factory is on a point o land stickin out into the river. There's a high wall on one side and water on the other The Yanks hain't such fools as to give their prisoners boats, are they?"

"I guess not," the father admitted

"Well, we'll see what Yankee ingenuity 'll do There's several hundred southerners in that building, and if one northerner invents a way to git out we'll give up the point about the superiority of yo' people."

One morning one of Mr. Armsby's neighbors stood on the bank looking up the river, shading his eyes with his hands Another person saw him, and, having nothing to do, walked slowly out to see what the first was looking at Another and another joined the party, and finally Armsby himself appeared

"Somep'n quare?" asked one of the party

"Powerful quear. I'd reckon it was driftwood, only fo' somep'n shinin' on it. Thar—did yo' see the flash?"

Every one saw it and wondered. The driftwood or whatever it was came rapidly nearer, for the current of the Mississippi is by no means slow, and as the thing approached many were the comments made upon it. Some said it was a log that had been squared, some that it was an oblong box, while others noticed that it was smaller at each end than in the middle. As it rolled something, either glass or metal, occasionally caught the rays of the sun and sent out a flash

"By gum, it's a coffin!" exclaimed one of the watchers.

"A coffin?" exclaimed the others.

"What can a coffin be doin' sailin' down the river?"

"It is a coffin, sho'."

While these remarks were being made the coffin—for such it was—was approaching the bank on which the party was standing

"There must be a co'pse in it," remarked one, "or it would roll over."

"That thing that reflects the light is the plate."

The coffin floated by, and as it did so the upper part of the lid was lifted off by the said corpse, and a pale face rose and looked at the party with frightening effect.

"By jing," exclaimed Armsby, "its my boy Zeke!"

"Reckon," said several others.

"Dad," cried the young man, "come out in a boat and git me. I haven't got no oars."

Armsby ran downstream to where a boat was tied, rowed out to the coffin and towed it ashore. Then Zeke told them that in the undertaker's supply manufactory (his prison) he had discovered a pile of coffins. He had launched himself in one of them before daylight.

"Feller citizens," spoke up one of the party, "we'll neve' conqne' sich people as that as long as God Almighty lives."

A conference was held, and it was decided that the people of the county he recommended to have nothing to do with the war They felt assured that a people who would use coffins for boats instead of hurying corpses would be found invincible. Enoch Armsby simply said, "I told you so," and when the Confederacy collapsed became the most influential planter in those parts.

"Why did he marry his deceased wife's sister?" "So as only to have one mother-in-law."—Judge's Library.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safer and sure. For sale by all dealers.

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns

For Women

Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the reliable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.

Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.

McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, simplicity, economy and number sold. More dealers sell McCall Patterns than any other two makes combined. None higher than 15 cents. Buy from your dealer, or by mail from

McCALL'S MAGAZINE

236-246 W. 37th St., New York City

Nevs—Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

Economizes Butter, Flour, Eggs; makes the food more appetizing and wholesome

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

Notice the Two Hods in the Base of the Crawford Ranges

One is an Ash Hod into which the ashes fall through a chute—all of them—and are easily emptied. The other Hod is for Coal. This feature saves lots of trouble and is patented.

Then there is the wonderful Single Damper (patented); slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it all over alike.

The Patented Grates save coal and trouble.

Ask the Crawford Agent to show you and write us for circular.

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.
31-35 Union St., Boston

Whitcomb & Faulkner, Palmer Agents

The best plaster. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the affected part is superior to a plaster and costs only a tenth as much. For sale by all dealers.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

Hand-Tailored Suits

$15.95 to $195.00

The Most Comprehensive Showing of Hand-Tailored Suits to Be Found in Western New England

In this showing are included the plain man-tailored suits and the more dressy, trimmed suits, to fit any size from the very small size 32 to the extra size 49.

Hand-Tailored Suits Specially Priced at $25, $29.75 and $34.75

At these three prices we have more than two hundred suits in eighteen different styles. All show the very best of tailoring by makers who sell only to Forbes & Wallace in Springfield. The coats are shape-retaining, the linings are all guaranteed, the materials are properly shrunken; the skirts are hand-draped.

They are in imported tweeds, heather mixtures, cheviots, serges and broadcloths. They have the fashionable "straight-line," "hipless" coats, the correct lengths and the new skirts—more graceful and practical than those of last season.

For small women, for large women and for misses.

$25, $29.75, $34.75

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield.

1848 | BRIGHAM'S | 1911

All Goods Delivered Free in Palmer.

Our Ninth Annual Brown October Sale OF FINE FURS

Eight years ago, to encourage the early buying of furs, which is as much to the advantage of the customer as to ourselves, we inaugurated a Brown October Sale of Fine Furs, offering genuine inducements which made it a real object to buy furs in October.

Our patrons were quick to see the advantage we offered, and our first Brown October Sale was a conspicuous success. Since then we have repeated this sale every year with a growing appreciation on the part of the public, and the result has been that October has become one of the biggest months of the year in the Fur Department.

We begin our Ninth Brown October Sale of Fine Furs this week, offering the same splendid inducements to early buying that have made these sales so successful in the past.

1st. Furs Bought During This Sale Will Not Be Charged Until December.

2d. Furs Bought Now Will Be Stored Until Wanted Without Charge.

3d. You Have the First Selection of the Season's Best Offerings.

4th. The Lowest Prices of the Year Will Prevail During This Sale.

Never before have we opened a season with a larger or handsomer collection of beautiful furs, all personally selected by our fur buyer and every single piece of the same superlative quality and beauty that has made Brigham furs recognized as the very finest the world produces.

These include scarfs and muffs and perfectly matched sets as well as fur coats and fur lined coats for ladies and gentlemen in every kind of fur that is to be worn the coming season with the sanction of fashion.

Prices on Brigham furs are the lowest at which furs of equal quality and beauty can possibly be purchased.

D. H. Brigham & Co., Springfield, Mass.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

For Sale.
My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.
Louis E. Chandler.

We always have what we advertise. Springfield, Worcester, Brockton, Utica.

What Do You Want in Your New Suit?

Style? Quality? Exclusiveness? Good value? On any and all of these points we invite comparison between our garments and those offered elsewhere. We believe you will find it hard to get as good a suit, and impossible to get a better at the same price as our

Fall and Winter Models At $15.00, 18.00, 20.00 and 25.00

If you have already seen these garments, you have probably become the owner of one of them. If you haven't seen them, you have overlooked Something Good in Fall Attire.

The W. J. Woods Co.,

Woods Building SPRINGFIELD

Money back if you say so. 383-385 Main Street

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

C. M. Phillips has severed his connection with Ducy & Keir.

George Gerald of Springfield was the guest of his mother over Sunday.

Miss Mary Flynn has returned from a short visit with relatives in Hartford.

Mrs. James Hughes was called to Providence this week by the death of her father.

Dennis F. Leary has been passing a few days this week in the eastern part of the state.

Miss Eveline Bengle of Amherst passed Sunday at the home of her parents on Commercial street.

James Finn of Springfield passed Sunday here as guests of Mrs. Catherine Lawlor and family.

Mrs. B. J. Sullivan was called to Monson this week by the death of a relative, Mrs. Richard Doyle.

James O'Keefe of Holyoke spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe of Pine avenue.

There will be a grand ball in Union Hall Wednesday evening. Plante & Hedge orchestra of Spencer will play.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thayer are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a young son born to them on Wednesday.

The ladies of the Congregational church are preparing to give a harvest supper and entertainment in the near future

Daniel O'Connor Sr. and son Daniel Jr. of South Hadley Falls were the guests of Mrs. Katherine T. Loftus Sunday.

The directors of the Palmer Society for District Nursing met Tuesday afternoon here at the home of Miss Geneva F. Clark on Commercial street.

Rev. P J. Griffin of St. Mary's church was one of the clergymen officiating at the solemn mass of requiem for the late Miss Feeney at Palmer on Monday.

The Young Bachelors' Club are preparing to hold their annual dance in Union Hall next month. Haggeney & Wallace's orchestra will furnish the music.

Police officers and deputy sheriffs from Springfield and elsewhere have been in the village the past week in search of the man wanted in connection with the Granville murder.

Edward Dailey has returned to Alleganey, N. Y., to resume his studies after several weeks spent in town as a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dailey of Main street.

Frank Loftus, Peter F. Cahill and John Crean will leave Tuesday to attend the temperance convention at Springfield, as delegates from St. Mary's Total Abstinance Society of this place.

The work on the Main street sewer has not begun as yet and citizens are wondering at the delay. They say that the work can be done much better and cheaper before the ground freezes and feel that it should be started at once.

Work on the highway leading from St Thomas' cemetery in the direction of Thorndike is progressing rapidly The work when complete should be of great benefit to those who have occasion to do teaming and for automobiling also.

Peter Piotwawski, who created a great deal of trouble Friday by his actions about Exchange block and who was arrested by Officer McKelligott for drunkenness, has been committed to the house of correction in default of fines amounting to $16.

Mrs. K. T. Loftus, postmistress, who was injured a couple of weeks ago by dislocating a bone in the right foot by accidentally slipping while leaving the market of H. E W Clark, is now able to be about again, although she has not fully recovered.

Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner J F. Lunan was called to West Warren Tuesday to investigate a case where a handsome young two-years-old doe deer broke through a heavy plate glass window in the hardware store of Vigneaux & O'Leary.

THREE RIVERS.

Store Burglarized.

The store of D. J. Sullivan on Main street was broken into the last of the week No evidence could be found, except a handkerchief which had been left behind. The intruders helped themselves to a quantity of cigars, cigarettes and candy. The loss is estimated at about $15. Entrance was gained through the front window, one of the panes of plate glass being removed. Officer Sullivan was notified but obtained only the above mentioned clue The break is similar in several respects to the one perpetrated in this same store when it was occupied by C. A. Coto.

Looking For Murder Suspect.

Sheriff O. W. Studley and Turnkey Waide of the York street jail, Springfield, were in this village last Sunday looking for clews to the suspected murderer in the Granville murder. It had been reported to them that the suspect, a Pole, was in hiding in Three Rivers. They immediately communicated with Officer Sullivan and officers of the surrounding villages to keep a sharp lookout.

Surprise Party.

Miss Inez Tannebring was pleasantly surprised at her home on Springfield street last Saturday evening by several of the young people of the village. They presented her with a mesh bag. Refreshments were served and games played, and a pleasant evening was reported by all. A number of guests from Palmer and Thorndike were present

Samuel Cole spent Sunday with friends in Boston.

Alcide Labelle has accepted a position in Brattleboro, Vt.

J W. Cheney is laying water pipes on East Main street.

Mrs. M. Turkington is seriously ill at her home on Palmer street.

Archie Rogers of School street spent Sunday with friends in Ware.

Wilfred Matte of Pleasant street has accepted a position in Bondsville.

Samuel Winer's store is nearly completed and is ready for occupancy.

Milton Royce recently lost a valuable horse, the animal dying of the colic.

Miss Anna Murdock is spending a few weeks with friends in Bridgeport, Ct.

John Chambers of Athol street spent Sunday with friends in Belchertown.

Samuel Hartley has resigned his position in Palmer Mill to take one in Hartford.

Henry Reed has accepted a position in [illegible] and will begin work at once.

[illegible] has accepted a position as clerk in the Paris millinery store.

Mr and Mrs A. Cohen of Main street spent the last of the week in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winer and son Joseph spent the week-end in Springfield.

D V. Fogarty and Henry Reed attended the Brattleboro Fair, the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Jolick are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

The schools in this village were closed today to allow the children to attend Palmer Fair

Frank Morris has moved his family from the Pleau block on East Main street to Ware.

Peter Dudley has resigned his position in the mule room and has taken one at Red Bridge.

Fred Hebert has sold his farm on Baptist Hill and has moved his family to this village.

Mrs. Moses Smith and Mrs. James Cassells spent Sunday with relatives in West Springfield.

Mr and Mrs. Witkin and children, Bella and Samuel, spent Sunday and Monday in Springfield.

Miss Mary Wilkes has resigned her position as clerk for N. A. Senton in his grocery store.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley of Palmer spent Snuday at the home of Charles Freak on School street.

Adelard Paquette has resigned his position in Ware and returned to his home on Main street.

Mrs. Edward Nolan was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. J. Connor on Kelly street.

John Matchett went to New York this week to meet his mother, who is expected from Ireland.

Clinton D. Frame of Springfield street has been spending the week with friends in Springfield.

The work of installing electric lights on North street has been completed during the past week.

Miss Margaret Mahoney of Bridgeport, Ct., was the guest of relatives here the first of the week.

The postal savings bank at the Three Rivers post office will be open for deposits to-morrow morning.

Albert Jenks of Amherst College spent the last of the week with his mother on Belchertown road.

Miss Essie Lynn has resigned her position in the Palmer Mill to accept one in South Manchester.

James LaRock, who was recently injured in the card-room of the Palmer Mill, is slowly improving.

Charles Aigner has resigned his position in the Palmer Mill and returned to his home in Utica, N. Y.

Matthew Horgan of Holyoke spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan on Main street.

Raymond Richardson of Holyoke, formerly of this place, spent the first of the week with friends here.

Daniel Mahoney of Washington, D. C., has been visiting at the home of Miss M E. Twiss on Main street.

Enos Abare of Worcester spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Louise Abare on East Main street.

A large gang of Italians arrived here Tuesday to begin work on the new sewer to be laid along Main street.

Timothy Horan has returned from a trip to Boston and has accepted a position as a machinist in the Palmer Mill.

Wilfred Johnson of Main street has resigned his position with the Central Massachusetts Electric Company.

Frank Root has moved his family into the Pleau block on Main street, recently vacated by F. Morris and family.

Mrs. Wheeler, formerly of this place, is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trickett on Front street.

Miss Nellie Conroy of Springfield was the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Conroy on Belchertown street.

The articles for the Red Men's trading post are on exhibition at L. L Keith's drug store and H. A Shaw's furniture store.

Adam Marek has moved his family from Bourne street to the rear of his tailor-shop in the Ruggles' block on Main street.

Miss Margaret Kennedy, a former teacher in this village, and her sister, Miss Anna, spent Sunday with friends in this place.

William Kuss, who has been seriously ill, has been removed for treatment to the Wesson Memorial hospital, Springfield.

Walter Herran has returned to his home on Main street after a visit of several weeks with relatives in Plattsburg, N Y

Edward Germaine has moved his family into the block recently vacated by Frank Root and family, owned by C. P. Haynes.

Miss Mary Sullivan, formerly of this place, has been spending the week with Mrs. J Dunn at her home on Main street.

Michael Murphy has moved his family from the Barker block on Belchertown street to the Belanger block on Main street

Thomas McCrea has moved his family from Thorndike into Genard's block, recently occupied by A. Paquette and family.

Miss Martha A Buzzell of Springfield, formerly principal of the grammar school here, spent Sunday with friends in this village.

The Wenimisset Tribe of Red Men have completed their plans for their trading post to be held at Canadien Hall Oct 13, 14, 20, 21.

Mrs. Arthur LaRose and Miss Ruby Longey of Springfield spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Longey on Palmer street.

Mrs McCallan and son James have returned to their home in Oshkosh, Wis., after spending several days at the home of James Cole on Palmer street.

Sumner Paine has returned to his home in Woonsocket, R. I, after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Frame on Springfield street.

Walter Neilson, meat cutter for James Wilson, has taken a position in an electrical shop in Hartford, where he will take up his duties next Monday.

Edward Germain has resigned his position with the Central Massachusetts Electric Company and has accepted one with the Hartford Street Railway Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Henry have returned from their wedding trip and are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Henrichon, Mrs. Henry's parents, on Belchertown road.

Wilson Dunlap has resigned his position in the power-house of the electric light plant in Palmer, and has taken one as fireman in the boiler-house of the Palmer Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noonan returned from their wedding trip Saturday, and after spending the week-end with her mother on Belchertown street, went to Holyoke, where they will reside in the future.

Work was begun this week on the new sewers which are to be installed. The work was started from a point on Main street, opposite L. L. Dupuis' store, and will continue eastward, so that the work on the oiled gravel road can be commenced.

BONDSVILLE.

Death of Frank York.

Frank York, 30, died Monday afternoon at his home here. Mr. York, who had been employed by the Boston Duck Co. for about a year, as teamster, was taken ill about two months ago. After being ill three weeks he was removed to the House of Mercy hospital, where he remained two weeks and a half. He was then brought home, and soon after a brain trouble developed and later symptoms of locomotor ataxia. Death came very suddenly and was caused by hemorrhage of the brain. His brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. York of Lakewood, N. J., were at his bedside during the past week, and his father, C. F. York of Rutland, Vt., had also been with him for the past few days. Mr. York was born in Mansfield, Vt., and was a member of the Mountain View lodge of Odd Fellows in North Heverell, N. H. He leaves a widow and one step daughter, his father and one brother. The funeral was held yesterday morning at 10 from Phillips' undertaking rooms in Palmer, Rev. W. H. Upham officiating. Burial was in Claremont, N. H.

Miss Katie Martin of Manchester, N H., is a guest of her aunt, Miss Catherine Quirk.

Willie Clifford spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Clifford.

Mrs. Ina Cullen has taken a position in the hat shop in Amherst.

Daniel Shea of Thompsonville, Ct., visited relatives over Sunday.

Miss Marion Davis of Thorndike was a guest Saturday of Miss Vertene Marsan.

Miss Bernice H. Hart of Palmer was a guest Wednesday of Miss Viola Marsan.

Mr. Sicard Sr., who has been seriously ill, is so much improved as to be able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin F. Parent spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Morse of Springfield were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs Charles H. Collis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Alhro returned Sunday night from a visit with relatives in Springfield.

Miss Agnes Carmody of Westfield Normal School spent the week-end vacation at her home here.

Miss Julia O'Connor of Ludlow spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor.

Mrs. James Smith and two children were guests Saturday of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Donovan.

Miss Mildred Moore of Chicopee Falls was a guest Sunday of her cousin, Miss Geneva Billings.

Miss Lena Langelier of Monson spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langelier.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson is spending a week with her son, Fred Thumpson and family in Palmer.

Miss Mildred Hartwell of Greenfield was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E Davis and family.

Miss Catherine Quirk has returned from a two-months' visit with relatives in Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D Holden and two sons spent Sunday in Stafford, Ct., guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Bray.

Michael Sullivan of High street has accepted a position in the grocery store of Michael Sullivan as clerk.

John Cavanangh and son, John J, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, over Sunday.

Miss Delia Donohue of Monson is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donohue.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Monaghan of Springfield were the guests of Miss Nellie E. Monaghan over Sunday.

Mrs. Mahel Cannon of Amherst was a guest Saturday and Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carey.

Mrs. Mary Bolter and daughter returned to their home in Enfield Wednesday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collis.

Mrs John Green returned Friday from a visit with her cousins, Misses Addie and Carrie Walker in Nashua, N H.

Miss Nora Connor, Miss Frances Fletcher and Miss Florence Gould of Belchertown were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Michael Sullivan is building an addition to the building purchased by him of Michael Moriarty. The addition of a large veranda greatly improves the appearance

News has been received of the birth of a daughter this week to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wenthworth of Amherst. Mrs. Wenthworth was formerly Miss Mildred Dustin of this village.

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. Sold by all dealers.

Michael Sweeney has purchased of Mrs. Francenna Towne of Ludlow, the property owned by her in this village, paying $2000 for it. This property has been rented by John Green for many years.

Mrs. Celestia Pillon of Leeds and daughter, Mrs Anna Bolieu, and granddaughter, Cecile, of Clarence Creek, Ontario, have returned after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Laccas.

Special services are being held in St. Bartholomew's church Tuesday and Friday evenings during October. This month is devoted to the reciting of the rosary and benediction of the blessed sacrament.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. H. Banister. These ladies will serve: Mrs. E. J. Loy, Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mrs W. H McVickar, Mrs. W. H. Morse, Mrs Adelard Marsan.

Mrs E E. Woolard and daughter, Miss Elsie, will join Mr Woolard in Amesbury the last of the week Their household goods will go Friday. Mr. Woolard accepted a position as overseer of the roll department in Amesbury a few weeks ago

Rev. O. S. Kaspe of Palmer will exchange pulpits Sunday morning with Rev. W. H. Upham, who will preach in the Universalist church in Palmer. Sunday school will be held at 11 45; Epworth League service at 6 o'clock. The evening service of prayer nd praise will be held at 7 o'clock.

The men of the Country Club will serve a baked bean supper at the club house Tuesday evening The committee of arrangements are F. S. Gordon, chairman, V. C Faunce, E. J. Loy, Michael Sullivan and F E Albro. The solicitors are W. H. McVicker and Alex. Gowen. Following the supper dancing and card playing will be enjoyed

The rag bag social, which was held with Mrs. V. C. Faunce Wednesday afternoon, was a very successful affair. Eighteen ladies were present. Bundles of all sizes and shapes were brought as an admission fee which, when opened, proved to be material for aprons, sofa pillows and fancy articles for the fair which is planned for the winter. Following the opening of the bundles a social hour was enjoyed after which refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed.

A wedding of interest to this village was solemnized in St Patrick's church in Monson Tuesday morning, when Miss Margaret Looney of Monson became the bride of Daniel F. Shea of this village. The following attended from Bondsville: Misses Bernadette, Geraldine, Gertrude, Anna, May, Catherine and Lulu Shea, William Shea, Daniel Shea, John Shea, Miss Margaret Cromley, Bridget Anstin, Walter Sissions, Daniel Austin, Mrs. John Austin and three children, Lucy, Catherine and John, Miss Alice Elliot, Miss Nellie Keys Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shea, after their return from their wedding trip, will reside in Bondsville.

Coal or Wood Gas or Oil Heaters

Crawford Heaters
Full Nickel Trimmed and Draw Center Grates.

No. 10 Heater,	$10.58
No. 12 Heater,	12 60
No. 14 Heater,	15 75

Wood Stoves
With Open Grate Fronts, make a nice fireplace.

With Revertible Flue,	$21 15
No. 22 Crawford,	18 00
No. 25 Crawford,	19 35

SPECIAL! NESCO OIL HEATERS
Have Removable Founts with Patented Smokeless Burners $2.98

Perfection Oil Heaters

With Tin Founts,	$3.15
Same Nickled,	3 60
With Brass Founts,	4 00
Same Nickled,	4 95

Gas Radiators

Four-Tube, Low,	$2 00
Four-Tube, High,	2 48
Six-Tube, Low,	2 93
Six-Tube, High	3.38

FLINT & BRICKETT CO.,
Complete House Furnishers
Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St., Springfield

"The Quick or the Dead"

created the biggest sensation ever caused by a novel appearing in magazine form. To this day there is an incredible demand for the story. Its author, Amélie Rives, now the Princess Troubetskoy, has written a new novel which bids fair to overtop the reputation of its famous predecessor. It is called "Hidden House" and appears in the October Lippincott's.

FREE Three good numbers—October (containing the new Amélie Rives' story) and the November and December issues with each yearly subscription to begin with the January, 1912 number. Send $2.50 to-day and get fifteen numbers for the price of twelve.

Lippincott's Magazine Philadelphia

Note. After January 1st the yearly subscription price to Lippincott's Magazine will be advanced to $3.00 a year.

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made In This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD W. G. WHEAT

Our New Stock of Dining Tables
Rich In Variety and Value-Giving.

Our new fall stock of dining tables includes more different patterns and better values than we have ever before been able to offer. These include the very best productions of the leading manufacturers of the country who make a specialty of fine furniture for the dining room and they include a splendid variety of handsome new patterns. We call attention to a few special values.

In Quartered Oak

6-ft. round pillar extension table in golden oak with plain Colonial foot — $14.

Round tables in golden oak with quartered oak top and claw feet — $16.

Round pillar extension table in all quartered oak with claw feet — $19 50.

8-ft. round pillar extension tables in selected quartered oak — $24.

Big assortment of handsome tables in finest quartered oak — from $25 to $65.

Mahogany Tables

6 ft. round pillar extension table made on plain rich lines, solid and substantial.

6-ft. table with 48-in. top, $30.

8-ft. table with 54-in. top, $34.

Handsome pillar extension table in solid mahogany, made on handsome Colonial lines, plain, rich and massive.

8-ft. table with 48-in. top, $48.

Beautiful designs in solid mahogany — from $50 to $120.

Colonial Sofas in Solid Mahogany

We are showing this season a beautiful line of Colonial sofas in solid mahogany—exact reproductions of the famous old Colonial designs, wrought in the finest of solid mahogany—works of art in furniture yet at very moderate prices.

Washington sofa — an exact copy of the famous sofa at Mount Vernon with graceful carved back and arms, made of the very finest mahogany, with elaboratc hand carved claw feet and legs, upholstered in denim, with best hair filling.

A piece of furniture worthy to adorn the most sumptuously appointed home—$68.

Another style in Empire design, handsomely hand carved, with loose cushion, upholstered in denim—$105.

Still another rich Empire design with high arms—$77.

Plain Colonial sofa on very graceful lines—$115.

Beautiful New Designs in Cluny Curtains.

The beautiful Cluny curtains never go out of style and nothing gives more satisfactory service than these rich real lace curtains.

We now have a very complete and attractive new assortment of these beautiful French curtains in a great variety of distinctly new and different designs.

These we show in popular priced numbers as well as the very finest curtains, including many exceptional values.

Arab curtains with Cluny lace edge and 1½ in. band, $1.15 pr.

Other handsome styles in white and Arab—special values at $1.50 and $1.75 a pr.

White and Arab curtains made on extra quality cable net with real hand-made Cluny lace edge and insertion, $2.25 and $2.75 pr.

Beautiful Brussels Rugs
Old Favorites In New Dress.

Year in and year out there is nothing more satisfying than the splendid Brussels rugs, and every season sees an increasing demand for them. In artistic beauty the Brussels rugs of to-day show a great advance over the rugs of previous seasons, while still preserving their splendid wearing qualities. Now no design or color scheme is too intricate to be worked out in these famously good rugs and they are shown in a wealth of designs of matchless beauty, suited to every room in the home.

Our great rug stock includes an immense assortment of choice and exclusive designs, embracing over 60 different patterns in 9x12 rugs alone and a proportionate showing of smaller sizes. These include all the popular grades representing the very best makers of the leading carpet mills of the country which make a specialty of Brussels fabrics.

9 x 12 ft.	From $23.50 to $30.00
8.3 x 10.6 ft.	From $20.00 to $27.50
6 x 9 ft.	From $17.25 to $20.00

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

The essential thing is not knowledge, but character.—Le Conte

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

BOSTON LETTER.

[Continued from First Page.]

the company which is scheduled to make the beginning, but he says he will cover the state later. Some of his friends believe he ought to go with the first party when the enterprise is fresh and not wait to cover it afterward.

The Democrats have not said anything about their campaign literature, but it is known that they propose to stand up for the governor's criticisms of loose Republican state administration. There is a strong intimation from Chairman McDonald that the alleged graft in the abolition of the Worcester grade crossings will be made prominent in the campaign. There is this public justification of the expectation already in the two orders of Attorney General Swift to District Attorney Stiles in Worcester, to stop payment on both the two last monthly charges for the cost of the abolition. Each of these items is for something over $50,000, and so there is a stopping of over $100,000 at that point alone. As McDonald says that the professor upon whom the Democrats are relying is a Republican, the appearance of partisanship will be modified.

One of the noteworthy matters at today's state convention was the presence of Eben D. Draper on the platform, and the applause which he received.

It was a notable hearing this afternoon before the governor and council on the petition for the commutation of the death sentence of Edward F. Cook to imprisonment for life. Many speakers, including the flower of the Hampden bar, made ont that Cook was a degenerate, without intellectual or moral responsibility. District Attorney C. T. Callahan opposed the petition, but it was voted only a few minutes after the hearing closed.

LANDON.

Original.

Old Autumn.

When the summer turns to Autumn and the leaves have turned to gold,
And the sunny days have vanished for the shorter days of cold;
When the camping days are over and old Autumn comes along,
Don't it just make you feel as if there's something wrong?
Don't your old heart ache with sorrow when the summer days are by,
Old Autumn winds approaching, which makes the leaves fly high.
With the summer grass all dying and the birds have ceased their song
Don't it just make you feel as if there's something wrong?
When vacation days are over and the kids have gone to school
With their fightin' and their quarrelin' always breakin' some new rule
When everything's so quiet that you feel there's something wrong
Why it's just because old Autumn is coming right along.
Don't your old eyes sort of water when you think of summer gone
Of some old-fashioned picture with the club that you belong
Or the time that you went driving with a girl you thought was nice
Oh! to have old summer back at almost any price.
When your thoughts go back to summer and the happy days gone by,
And your mind is sad and lonely and you think how time does fly
When the summer days are over and old Autumn comes along,
Don't it just make your old heart feel there's something wrong?

HARRY EARLE DIXON.

Thorndike, Oct. 2, 1911.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Heatstroke and Sunstroke.

Heatstroke and sunstroke are terms usually applied indifferently to either of two quite distinct conditions, to each of which only one of the names properly applies. Heatstroke, as its name implies, is a condition caused by the action of excessive heat, either the torrid heat of summer or the artificial heat of a foundry, a furnace, the stoke hole of a steamship, etc. It occurs with almost as great frequency at night as in the day, and its victims may be overcome on a cloudy day or without having ventured from their homes. The other form, properly called sunstroke, is due to the direct action of the sun—probably of its ultra violet or chemical rays rather than of its heat rays. Only those who have been long exposed to the direct rays of the sun, such as soldiers on the march, harvesters, ball players, etc., are the subjects of true sunstroke. Dr T. L. Stedman in Good Housekeeping.

Responsive Flowers.

Karlstrom says flowers have understanding and know when persons care for them. He says they respond to a loving touch and to a caress. The Swedish collector touches flowers affectionately as he walks through his greenhouse and insists they have a language for those who understand. He points to a flower with drooping head and says it is calling for water in different ways, he explains, flowers ask for light, warmth, sunshine, and when satisfied the flowers lift up their heads buoyantly and express the pure joy of being. Karlstrom advises the study of flowers through magnifying glasses, saying their beauty is not half appreciated otherwise. A flower under the glass, he asserts, reveals remarkable beauty and if taken to pieces discloses wonders never appreciated.—New York Press.

Not Fast.

"I understand," says the father, "that you have been going with a very fast set."

"Fast nothing!" retorts the son. "Why, not one of them has a four cylinder car!"—Judge.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. m

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Office at store on Main St.

Lamson & Hubbard

DERBY HATS

Clean cut up-to-the-minute style.

Equisite lustre of the famous L. & H. Fur-felt.

L. & H. Derbies come in varying proportions as to height of crown and width of brim, so that a perfect and stylish fit is assured you.

SOFT HATS

In the popular velour or velvety effects, smooth, grey and brown felts. Smart styles for the young man, dignified shapes for the business man.

The courtesy of showing you the Fall and Winter styles in the famous L. & H. hats for men is respectfully asked.

C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

Some Women Dread Baking Day-Others Use A

Glenwood

The Glenwood Ash Chute

Bottles up all the dust and ashes and conveys them via pipe to a Tight Ash Receiver in cellar. See the Plain Cabinet Glenwood Range.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Large Copper Reservoir on end.

The E. Brown Co., Palmer

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 13, 1911. NUMBER 28.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

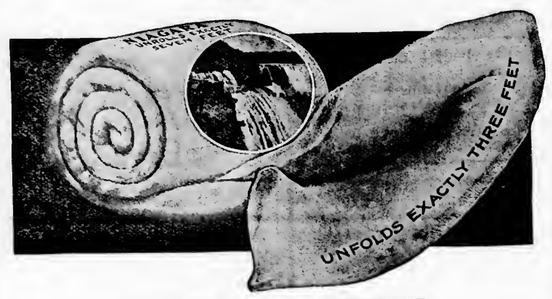
[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

Palmer Trucking Co.
Light and Heavy Trucking.

To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Central Vermont Railway Co.
SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.



LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 3.50 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.30 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 a. m and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 9.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.25 p. m. for Palmer and Intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

You'll Take Pleasure in Using This Batting
One roll makes a fine comfortable.
Price 75c roll.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

JOHNSON'S SURPRISE—An excellent Bread Flour, $6.25 per bbl., 80c for 1-8 bag.
FANCY GREEN MOUNTAIN POTATOES, 25c peck, 95c bushel.
CRANBERRIES, 10c quart.
HADLEY ONIONS, 5c quart, 25c peck.

W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Cannel Coal for Open Grates.
English quality Bostonia cannel coal, especially adapted for open grates and quick fires, of unusually good quality. Try it.

Juanita Forge Coal.
Guaranteed to be the best forge coal mined. Blacksmiths are requested to give it a trial.

Feiner Charcoal.
I have the wholesale agency for Palmer, Monson, Ware and Wilbraham.

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Bloodine Cures Rheumatism E. A. Cross, 516 Glasgow Street, Portsmouth, Va. Says: "My Wife Has used Bloodine for Rheumatism with the most gratifying results, after many other remedies have failed to do her any good, she finds it gives her strength and a good appetite. I have used it myself and find it has done me a lot of good."
Kinsley's Pharmacy, Special Agent.

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns
For Women
Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the reliable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.
Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.
McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, simplicity, economy and number sold. More dealers sell McCall Patterns than any other two makes combined. None higher than 15 cents. Buy from your dealer, or by mail from
McCALL'S MAGAZINE
236-246 W. 37th St., New York City
N. B.—Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
OFFICERS.
H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE Clerk.
AUDITORS.
W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.
BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, C. F. Smith,
H. E. W. Clark, E. E. Hobson.
TRUSTEES.
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Waid.
Geo. S. Holden, C. E. Fuller, E. B. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F. Smith, C. A LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.
TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.
Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

Haynes & Co.
Always Reliable
Springfield - Massachusetts

You'll find it much to your advantage to come to the Haynes Store for your Clothes

There are more Suits and more Overcoats on our tables than in any past season, and they are certainly fine and desirable garments.

They are the thoroughly good kind of clothes that you will enjoy wearing—dependable fabrics, thorough tailoring and the season's most favored fashions.

You'll find, too, that Haynes Values are well worth making the trip to secure.

Suits $12, $15, $16.50, $18, $20, $22, $25 and $30

Hats, Shoes, Furnishings and Boys' Clothes of the same dependable quality as Haynes Clothes for men.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing
See these prices for machine work:
Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed..... $1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed..... 1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed..... .85
Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed
H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you

The Antalgica
Or Vegetable Pain Reliever
was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so ents it should be in every household, nds of pains both internal and affections it is un- It is a

There are 3 Features in Crawford Ranges which make them superior to any others
1. The Single Damper
2. The Oven heated by cup-joint flues
3. The Two Hods in the base

Either of these features is worth the price of the range. The Single Damper is the greatest help in cooking ever invented. One motion—push the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check"—the range does the rest.

The Oven is heated by the cup-joint flues all over alike; no "cold corners," no "scorching spots". Quickest and surest baker.

The Two Hods in the base (patented) is a wonderful trouble-saving feature. The ashes fall through a Hod which is easy to chute into a Coal Hod is beside it. empty. Th

Gas Oven and Broilers for end or abo if desired.

A Crawford agent to show you and write for circular.

Walker & Pr Mfg. Co., 31 Union St., Boston
ner, Pal er Agents

RAIN SPOILS THE FAIR.

Downpour Saturday Morning. Fair Held in Afternoon.

BUT COMPARATIVELY SMALL CROWD.

One of the Best Shows of Cattle and Fruit in the State, According To Experts.

Rain spoiled the third day of the Palmer Fair last Saturday. The water began to fall early Friday night and kept at it until about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The managers of the Fair at first were inclined to call it off, but as the rain ceased they decided to go ahead with the program, and word was sent abont as much as possible to that effect.

Visitors began to arrive soon after the rain ceased, and the paid admissions numbered about 2300, a much larger number than was looked for, and shows the faith of the amusement loving public in the Palmer Fair to give them someting worth seeing The track was a sight at 11 o'clock. Water to the depth of several inches stood on it in numerous places; on the back stretch and near the entrance gate there were large pools of it. Hard work on the part of willing helpers removed or spread out the moisture until all traces of the moisture so far as body was concerned were obliterated. Such good work was done that not a drop of mud was splashed during the racing.

The program of attractions was run off as scheduled with the exception of the high school athletics and the racing. The former will be held to-morrow morning promptly at 10 o'clock. On account of the scarcity of entries—two other fairs came in the same week with Palmer—only two races were run, but these gave the visitors, with the stage performances, something to interest them the most of the time until dark. The midway, while not quite so large as the day before, still had enough stunts to please all and give them something to do for amusement. Up in the hall the fine display of fruit and fancy work attracted many, and a few of the cattle remained from the day before.

The results of the races:

2.25 pace, 2 23 trot, (stake.) Purse $600.

Sam McKinney, blk. g, D. S. Kennedy, Ware.	1	1	1
Waterville Lad, h. g, H. M. Rigney, Waterville, Ct.,	3	3	2
Paul Wilkes, h. g, A. H. Drury, Athol,	2	4	3
Hallie Ross, r. m, F. S. Chickering, Worcester,	4	2	5
Joe Dillon, c. h, Taylor Bros., East Cambridge,	5	6	4
Our Mary, gr. m, T. J. Meegan, Baldwinsville,	6	5	dis

Time, 2.22, 2.22¼, 2.23½.

2.28 pace or trot. Purse $200.

Charlie Herr, gr. h, Dana Gary, Stafford Springs,	1	1	2
Charlie Starr, ch. g, F. S. Chickering,	2	2	1
Young Bingen, h. s, Dennis Neylon, Springfield,	4	4	3
Blanche Wilkes, b. m, Mrs. M. B. Croit, Somerville,	3	3	4

Time, 2.24½, 2.20¾, 2.23¼, 2.24¾.

2.16 pace, 2.12 trot. Purse $200.

Rincas, h. h, F. E. Northrop, Southbridge,	1	1	1
Baronella, hr. m, D. S. Kennedy,	2	2	2
Mona Gray, b. m, F. S. Chickering,	3	3	3

Time, 2.22, 2.22¼, 2.22.

An exhibit in the hall which attracted as much attention as any was that from the Monson State Hospital, in charge of Mr Johnson, the florist of the institution. It occupied one entire end and was arranged most artistically, showing much skill in combining flowers and beautiful ferns. All of the flowers and ferns were grown in the greenhouse of the institution. Mr. Johnson has been very successful in bringing out many new varieties.

Competent judges aver that the various exhibits in the agricultural line at the fair last week were far in excess of any former year or any other fair of equal size this fall—at least in this vicinity. Secretary Ellsworth of the State Board of Agriculture, who has certainly seen a goodly number of fairs this fall, announced that the cattle and fruit at the Palmer Fair were the best he had seen since the New England fair at Worcester. The number and quality of the animals at Palmer was remarked by all who have an interest in such exhibits. There were over 300 head of cattle on the ground, besides over 100 sheep and a number of goats and swine. The cattle exhibits at Palmer have been steadily increasing in quantity and quality for several years, attracting each year owners from new sections of the country. This year the new cattle ties, built last year, were taxed to their utmost to accommodate the large number of animals. Large crowds were planning to attend on Saturday, and the society will miss the lessened revenue. While the bills are not yet all in, enough is known so that it can safely be said that there will be a deficit.

Much interest was manifested Friday in the high school relay race, which was won this year by Monson with Palmer second. The Palmer ninth grade boys won the relay race for that class. In the other athletic sports for boys and girls the results were:

200-yard dash, boys 12 to 15—Won by Robert Sawin; second, David Lawrence; third, Merrill Simonds. Time, 24s.

100-yard dash, girls under 12—Won by Dorothy Harris; second, Rosanna Fahey; third, Lottie Skova.

Laced shoe race, 50 yards, boys under 12—Won by Rudolph Moryka; second, Edward Tencer; third, Willard Freuch.

Laced shoe race, 50 yards, boys 12 to 15—Won by Merrick Hellyar; second, Adolph Cuzz; third, Thomas Lane.

50-yard dash, girls under 12—Won by Grace Johnson; second, Alice Horne; third, Margaret Burns. Time, 08¾s.

50-yard dash, girls 12 to 15—Won by Rosanna Fahey; second, Dorothy Harris; third, Elizabeth Rauck. Time, 08s.

Three-legged race, boys 12 to 15, 50 yards—Won by Leon Conway and Fayette Thompson; second, Edgar Lane and Vernon Kempton; third, H. Fulton and C. Armstrong. Time, 10s.

Potato race, girls under 15—Won by Dorothy Harris; second, Lottie Skova; third, Ella Richardson. Time, 29s.

Sack race, boys under 12—Won by Albert Ladsire; second, Osa Tatro; third, Vernon Kempton. Time, 30s.

Sack race, boys 12 to 15—Won by Merrick Hellyar; second, Edward Tencer; third, Merritt Moody. Time, 15s.

Wheelbarrow race for boys—Won by Leon Conway and Fayette Thompson; second, Rudolph Motyka and Edward Tencer; third, Willard French and George Mellonald.

Egg and spoon race, girls—Won by Dorothy Harris; second, Sadie Clark; third, Annie Rusek. Time, 38s.

Grammar school relay race, 800 yards, each runner to go 200 yards—Won by Palmer; second, Brimfield; third, Gilbertville. Time, 1.51.

Friday Races.

Women's race—half-mile heats—(best 2 in 3.)

Jim Patch, Miss Dauprick,	1	1
Slick Goods, Miss Davis,	2	2

Time, 1.16, 1.13.

2.23 trot. Purse $200.

Robera, h. m. by Patchen Wilkes, J. S. Hubbard, Fiskdale,	1	2	1
Joe Dillon, c. h. by Sidney Dillon, Taylor Bros., East Cambridge,	4	1	2
Eugene, h. g. by King Gerald, W. W. Mercier, Pittsfield, Me.,	2	3	5
Young Bingen, h. s. by Bingen, D. Neylon, Springfield,	3	4	3
Prince B., g. g. by Prince Lavilard, F. A. Moore, Monson,	5	5	4

Time, 2.26¼, 2.26¼, 2.27½, 2.25¾.

Free-for-all. Purse $200.

Greatest Line, h. m. by Greatheart, O. W. Welsh, jr., North Adams,	1	1	1
Billiken, ch. g. by suldbeater, T. R. Sadd, Willimantic,	3	3	2
Prince Hamlin, h. s by Daredevil, Van Houten, Fall River,	2	2	dis

Time, 2.14¼, 2.12¾, 2.13¾.

The premiums and gratuities awarded were:

Premiums.

Class 1. Working Oxen 5 years and over—12 entries. E R Carpenter of Charlton City $4, Joe Wildes of Petersham $3, John Rockwell of Stafford Springs, Ct., $2.

Class 2. Working Oxen 4 years—2 entries. E R Carpenter 4, John Rockwell 3.

Class 3. Drawing Match, Oxen 3200 pounds or under—3 entries. Alanson Nash of Haydenville 6, John Rockwell 4 and 2, H D Moulton of Monson 1.

Class 4 Drawing Match, Oxen 2700 pounds or under—9 entries. Joe Wildes 6, Herbert Stacy of Monson 4, Mrs J H Carpenter of Monson 2, Howard Edson of Monson 1.

Class 5. Drawing Match, Oxen, 3600 pounds or under—8 entries. J. Avery of Sheldon Falls 6, John Rockwell 4, 2 and 1.

Class 6. Drawing Match, Oxen, open to all—11 entries. J. Avery 25, 15 and 10, Ernest E Stacy 5.

Class 7. Drawing Match, Steers, 2200 pounds or under—5 entries. E R Carpenter 3 and 2, Wesley Wright of Monson 1.

Class 9. Steers—18 entries, 3 years old—John Rockwell 3, E R Carpenter 2 and 1. 2 years old—Alanson Nash 3, P S Gale of Petersham 2, E R Carpenter 1. Calves—P S Gale 2, Alanson Nash 1.

Class 10 Registered Devons—3 entries. Bulls, 1 year, C J Thompson of Williamsville 3.

Class 11. Registered Durhams—13 entries. Bulls, 2 years and over, P S Gale 4 and 3; 1 year, P S Gale 2; calves, P S Gale 2. Cows, 3 years and over, P S Gale 3 and 1; 2 years, P S Gale 2 and 1; 1 year, P S Gale 2 and 1.

Class 12. Registered Ayrshire—9 entries. Bulls, 1 year, A H Burdick of Monson 3, A L Woodis of North Brookfield 2; calves, A L Woodis 2, A H Burdick 1. Cows, 3 years and over, A L. Woodis 3, A H Burdick 1; 2 years, over, A L. Woodis 2, A H Burdick 1; 1 year, A H A L Woodis 2, A H Burdick 1; 1 year, A H Burdick 2; calves, A L Woodis 2, A H Burdick 1.

Class 13 Registered Jerseys—14 entries. Bulls, 2 years and over, C D Richardson of West Brookfield 4; 1 year, C D Richardson 3; calves, C D Richardson 2 Cows, 3 years and over, C D Richardson 3, W M Tucker of Monson 1; 2 years, C D Richardson 2 and 1; 1 year, C D Richardson 2, W M Tucker 1; calves, C D Richardson 2.

Class 14. Registered Swiss—12 entries Bulls, 2 years and over, E R Carpenter 4; 1 year, E R Carpenter 3 and 2. Cows, 3 years and over, E R Carpenter 3 and 1; 2 years, E R Carpenter, 2 and 1; 1 year, E R Carpenter 2 and 1; calves, E R Carpenter 2 and 1.

Class 15. Registered Holsteins—18 entries. Bulls, 2 years and over, C J Thompson 4, James Carey of Spencer 3; 1 year, Millie S Wells of Palmer 3; calves, James Carey 2, Brookmont Farm of North Wilbraham 1. Cows, 3 years, Millie S Wells 3 and 1; 2 years, Millie S Wells 2 and 1; 1 year, James Carey 2, Millie S Wells 1; calves, James Carey 2, Millie S Wells 1.

Class 16. Registered Guernsey—4 entries. Cows, 3 years and over, P S Gale 3 and 1; 2 years, P S Gale 2.

Class 17. Registered Hereford—8 entries. Bulls, 2 years old and over, Alanson Nash 4, C J Thompson 3. Cows, 3 years, Alanson Nash 3 and 1. Cows, 1 year, Alanson Nash 2; calves, Alanson Nash 2.

Class 18. Registered Devon—6 entries. Bulls, 2 years and over, C J Thompson 4 and 3; 1 year, 3 Cows, 3 years and over, C J Thompson 3; 2 years, C J Thompson 2; 1 year, C J Thompson 2.

Class 19. Grade Devon—3 entries. 3 years and over, W M Tucker 3.

Class 20. Grade Ayrshire—16 entries. 3 years and over, A L Woodis 3 and 1; 2 years, A L Woodis 2 and 1; 1 year, A L Woodis 2, A H Burdick 1

Class 21. Grade Jersey—16 entries. 3 years, A H Burdick 3, C D Richardson 1; 2 years, C D Richardson 2; 1 year, Wallace D Sibley of Charlton Depot 2, C D Richardson 1.

Class 22. Grade Swiss—9 entries. 3 years and over, James Carey 3, E R Carpenter 1; 2 years, E R Carpenter 2; 1 year, E R Carpenter 2; calves, E R Carpenter 2.

Class 23. Grade Holstein—21 entries. 3 years and over, Millie S Wells 3, James Carey 1; 2 years, Millie S Wells 2, W M Tucker 1; 1 year, James Carey 2, Millie S Wells 1; calves, James Carey 2, and 1.

Class 24. Grade Hereford—2 entries. 3 years, Alanson Nash 3 and 1.

Class 25. Grade Guernsey—9 entries. 3 years, W M Tucker 3, A H Burdick 1; 2 years, W M Tucker 2; 1 year, P S Gale 2. W M Tucker 1; calves, W D Sibley 2.

Class 26. Grade Durham—12 entries. 3 years old, W M Tucker 3, W D Sibley 1; 1 year, P S Gale 2 and 1; calves, W M Tucker 2.

Class 28. Herd of Milch Cows—4 entries. A L Woodis 6, A H Burdick 4, W M Tucker 3, P S Gale 2.

Class 29. Herd Miscellaneous Neat Stock—8 entries. E R Carpenter 6, A L Woodis 4, P S Gale 3, A H Burdick 2.

Class 30. Fat Cattle—17 entries. Fair Oxen or Steers, J D Avery 3, John Rockwell 2. Cow or Heifer, P S Gale 2, Alanson Nash 1. Ox or Steer, John Rockwell 2. W Herbert Stone of Petersham 1.

Class 31. Sheep—38 entries. Merino Bucks, P S Gale 2 and 1; Southdown, P S Gale 2 and 1; Hampshire Down, P S Gale 2 and 1; Shropshire Down, P S Gale 2, C D Richardson 1; Cotswold, C J Thompson 2, P S Gale 1; Leicester, P S Gale 2 and 1; Horned Dorset, G H Webster of Enfield 2, P S Gale 1; Oxford Down, P S Gale 2 and 1. Flock of Thoroughbred Ewes, Shropshire, C D Richardson 3, P S Gale 2; Merinos, P S Gale 3; South Down, P S Gale 3; Hampshire Down, P S Gale 3; Oxford, P S Gale 3; Cotswold, C J Thompson 3, P S Gale 2; Leicester, P S Gale 3; Horned Dorset, P S Gale 3. 5 Ewe Lambs, Merino, P S Gale 3; South Down, P S Gale 3; Hampshire Down, P S Gale 3; Shropshire Down, P S Gale 3; Oxford Down, P S Gale 3, C J Thompson 2.

Class 32. Grade Sheep—8 entries. Flock of Ewes, C J Thompson 3, G H Webster 2. 5 Ewe Lambs, G H Webster 3, T J Hynes of Wales 2.

Class 33. Angora Goats—7 entries. Flock, F D Rogers 3 Best Breeds, F D Rogers 2 and 1. Doe, F D Rogers 2 and 1.

Class 34. Swine—7 entries. Boars, 6 months and over, Mt Vision Farm, Hampden, 3 C J Thompson 2. Breeding sow with litter, Brookmont Farm 3 Weaned Pigs, T J Hynes 3

Class 35. Poultry—118 entries, Black Java, fowls, G A Chapin of Ludlow 1, E L Richardson of West Brookfield 50; chicks, E L Richardson 1. Buff Wyandotte, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, G A Chapin 2. Golden Wyandotte, fowls, A T Allen of Southbridge 1, E L Richardson 50; chicks, A T Allen 1. Silver Wyandotte, fowls, G A Chapin 1, A T Allen 50. Silver Penciled Wyandotte, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, E L Richardson 1, G A Chapin 50. White Wyandotte, fowls, G A Chapin 1. Buff Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1, E L Richardson 50; chicks, E L Richardson 1, G A Chapin 50. S C Brown Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1. R C Brown Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, G A Chapin 1. R C White Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, G A Chapin 1. S C White Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1, E L Richardson 50. Black Leghorn, fowls, G A Chapin 1, E L Richardson 50; chicks, G A Chapin 1. Barred Plymouth Rock, fowls, E L Richardson 1; chicks, E L Richardson 1. White Plymouth Rock, fowls, G A Chapin 1. Guinea, fowls, lavender, G A Chapin 1; white, G A Chapin 1; pearl, E L Richardson 1, G A Chapin 50; chicks, pearl, E L Richardson 1. Cornish Indian Game, fowls, G A Chapin 1. Light Brahma Bantams, fowls, G A Chapin 1 and 50; chicks, G A Chapin 1 and 50. Black Spanish, fowls, G A Chapin 1. Black Langshan, fowls, E L Richardson 1. Black Minorca, fowls, E L Richardson 1. Houdan, fowls, E L Richardson 1; chicks, E L Richdson 1. Light Brahma, chicks, Chester Cooney of Monson 1. Rhode Island Red, chicks, W F Cooley 1; American Dominique, fowls, E L Richardson 1, G A Chapin 50. Toulouse Geese, fowls, G A Chapin 1. Embden Geese, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, G A Chapin 1 African Geese, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, G A Chapin 1. Pekin Ducks, fowls, G A Chapin 1; chicks, A T Allen 1, G A Chapin 50. Collection of Pigeons, A T Allen 3, 2 and 1. White Orpington, chicks, A T Allen 50 and 25. Partridge Cochin Bantam fowls, G A Chapin 50, A T Allen 25. Golden Seabright, fowls, E L Richardson 50, A T Allen 25; chicks, A T Allen 50. Silver Seabright Bantam, fowls, A T Allen 50. Black Cayuga Ducks, fowls, 50; chicks, A T Allen 50 and 25 Black Cochin Bantam, fowls, G A Chapin 50 Buff Cochin Bantam, fowls, Hawley Griffin 50; chicks, G A Chapin 50; Dark Brahma Bantam, fowls, G A Chapin 50, B B Red Game Bantam, fowls, G A Chapin 50, E L Richardson 25; chicks, G A Chapin 50. White Ching Geese, fowls, G A Chapin 50; chicks, G A Chapin 50. Dark Brahma fowls, E L Richardson 50, G A Chapin 25; chicks, G A Chapin 50. White Cochin Bantam, fowls, H K Osgood of Monson 50. Golden Duckwing Bantam, fowls, E L Richardson 50. Silver Duckwing Game, fowls, E L Richardson 50. Black Hamburg, fowls, E L Richardson 50. Golden Penciled Hamburg, fowls, E L Richardson 50. Golden Hearded Polish, fowls, E L Richardson 50; chicks, E L Richardson 25. W C Black Polish, fowls, E L Richardson 50; chicks, E L Richardson 50. White Minorca, fowls, E L Richardson 50. Cuch Buff Orpington, chicks, Miss A C Wingate of Monson 50. Rose Comb Brown Leghorn, fowls, F D Rogers 25; chicks, F D Rogers 25. Thompson Ringlets, fowls, W F Cooley 25; chicks, W F Cooley 25. Dark Muscovy Ducks, fowls, A T Allen 50, C Shilton of Monson 25; chicks, A T Allen 50.

Class 38. Brood Mares for Farm or Work Purposes—4 entries. Milo Booth of Palmer 4, J. Kaspryak of Wilbraham 3, J C Bradway of Monson 1.

Class 39. Brood Mares for Road or Trotting Purposes—4 entries. C W Johnson of Palmer 6 and 4.

Class 40. Colts, 3 years, Road or Trotting Purposes—2 entries. Z Chevalier of Palmer 5.

Class 41. Colts, 2 years, Road or Trotting Purposes—4 entries. Joseph Kerigan of Palmer 5, James A Hoyt of Ware 3.

Class 42. Colts, Yearlings, Road or Trotting Purposes—5 entries. J S Hoyt 5, C W Johnson 3, Joseph Kerigan 1.

Class 43. Colts, Road or Trotting Purposes, dropped in 1911—3 entries. C W Johnson 5 and 3, Joe Bonville 1.

Class 45. Colts, Farm or Working Purposes, 2 years—4 entries. J C Bradway 3, G H Webster 2.

Class 46 Colts, Farm or Working Purposes, yearlings—3 entries. Jacob Tancer of Three Rivers 3, G H Webster 2.

Class 49. Heavy Draft Horses—3 entries. H D Moulton of Monson 6, J M Allen of Palmer 4.

Class 50. Single Draft or Farm Horses, 5 entries. Ricketts & Shaw of Monson 4, J A Hoyt 3, T J Hynes 2

Class 52. Drawing Match, Horses, open to all—2 entries. H D Moulton 6, J M Allen 4.

Class 53. Pair Matched Carriage Horses—1 entry. J Belanger 8.

Class 54. Single Driving Horse—4 entries. J W Weeks of Springfield 8, J M Allen 6.

Class 55. Carriage Horse for Family Use—2 entries. W F Fillmore 8.

Class 56. Fruit—311 entries. Best display, A B Howard & Son 4. Collection of apples, A B Howard & Son 2.50, G H B Greene of Belchertown 1.50, W F Darling of Monson, 1. Apples, single varieties—Pewaukee, J T Geer 50, C E Booth of Belchertown 25; Hysop Crab, C E Booth 50; Fall Russett, W F Cooley 50; Winter Sweets, E E Kittredge of Spencer 25; Blue Pear-

[Continued on Third Page.]

THREE BOLD BURGLARIES.

Woman Wakes to Find a Man Moving In the Room.

HUSBAND TAKES SHOT AT HIM LATER

Man After Money Only, and Three Breaks Net About $8. Evidently A Professional.

Question for the lady of the house—"What would you do if you wakened suddenly in the middle of the night and found a burglar in the room snapping a flashlight about?" That is the problem which confronted Mrs. G. A. Moore of Pleasant street about 1.45 Tuesday morning. Mrs. Moore quietly informed her husband of the condition of affairs, and he answered that he'd attend to the fellow. Although he spoke in a low tone the burglar heard him and made a quick run down the stairs and out the door. Dr. Moore shot at him as he stood behind a tree in the adjoining yard; the bullet struck the tree however and the fellow made himself scarce. Mrs. Moore got a good look at the fellow and describes him as about 5 feet 10 inches tall, thin smooth face, rather pale, and without a hat while in the room.

Investigation developed the fact that three breaks had been made the same night, that at Dr. Moore's probably being the last. The home of Mrs. Emma Gunn, in the other side of the building from the Moore's, was entered; here about $5 was secured from a purse on the table in the sitting room. The fellow entered and departed by way of the kitchen window and nothing was known of the affair until morning. The home of Alvin Cavanaugh on the corner of Knox and Foster streets was entered and $2 taken from the room where two persons were sleeping without anyone being the wiser until arising time. At Dr. Moore's about a dollar in cash and a small pocket flashlamp was taken.

Mrs. Moore, who had not been sleeping well, was awakened by a small spot of light on one side of the room. She thought at first that it was her mother who was moving about. Soon the light showed in another place. She called to her mother and just then the light showed in a third place and she got a glimpse of the man's face. He stepped at once into the hall and Mrs. Moore spoke to her husband, telling him there was a burglar in the house. He scouted the idea but then heard the man's footsteps and bounded out of bed. As he did so the fellow's feet beat a lively tattoo on the stairs and across the floor on his way to and out the door. Dr. Moore stepped to the window at the side of the room and saw the fellow dodge behind a tree in the adjoining yard of Mrs. George L. Davis, and stand perfectly still in the shadow behind a tree. A foot and a part of one leg showed however, and Dr. Moore took a shot at this with his revolver, missing the narrow mark by about two inches, the bullet being found in the tree in the morning. At the shot the fellow made tracks toward the east in a decidedly lively manner.

Investigation showed that he had come in by way of the pantry window, tearing off the screen and then pushing the window up. Once in the kitchen he had hunted up the key of the back door, which hung on a nail, unlocked the door and made ready for a quick departure if necessary.

The fact that the fellow took money only showed that he was evidently hard up and wanted a little ready cash. Valuable articles of silver lay in plain sight in both the Gunn and the Moore homes, but were not molested. His action in arranging a quick way of retreat and also in the yard stamps him with the brand of a professional.

Wonder If He's Sane.

Wales Man Just Out of Jail Insists on Seeing Governor.

Charles F. Crawford of Wales was so insistent in his demands to see Gov. Foss at the state house in Boston last Saturday that he was removed to a station house for examination as to his sanity. Crawford was released from the York-street jail in Springfield on Wednesday of last week after serving a term for assault, and apparently immediately set out for Boston and the executive office. He appeared at the state house several times and asked for the governor; Saturday he insisted on seeing that executive, and became so persistent that his actions attracted attention and he was finally removed. Crawford insisted that he had been unjustly imprisoned for 13 months, and demanded that the governor remove the judge who sentenced him.

Crawford has been a resident of Wales for years He has been a more or less—usually more—troublesome neighbor, and many have been afraid of him. He had a violent temper and his sanity has been questioned many times by those who were acquainted with him and his acts. He has been before the district court in Palmer several times, usually for assault; his last appearance was on January 24, 1910, when he was charged with an assault January 13 on Edward M. Hall of Holland, using a milk can as a weapon. He was convicted but appealed, only to be convicted in the superior court and sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment by Judge Sanderson. At that time he was examined as to his sanity, but nothing of that nature could be discovered.

Boy Electrocuted.

West Warren Mill Operative Touches Live Wire and Drops Dead.

Arthur Mallar Jr., 17, of West Warren, was electrocuted Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock while at work trimming an arc light in No. 3 mill of the West Warren cotton mills. No one saw the accident, but another employe heard him call and rushed to his assistance as his body struck the floor. Dr. H. H. Moore was summoned and saw at once that life was extinct. Medical Examiner Norwood of Spencer viewed the body later in the evening and gave in his opinion that death was instantaneous from electrocution, Mallar having in some way touched a live wire which at that time had a current of at least 3000 volts. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mallar of West Warren, and two brothers and two sis[illegible]rs.

Fined For Having Partridge in His Possession.

[illegible] Lindlow was brought [illegible]e in Ludlow Mon- [illegible]aving in his pos- day and fined $20 [illegible] closed season on session a partridge in th[illegible] was brought by those birds. The case [illegible] J. P. Hatch of Deputy Game Warden [illegible]d Hersey Satur- Springfield, who [illegible] be was out for day. Hersey, wh[illegible] between woodchucks, had [illegible]is seat. the outside and lining of [illegible]

Boston Letter.

Columbus Day—Two Big New Stores—Various Phases of the Political Outlook.

BOSTON, Oct. 11, 1911.

Our new state holiday, celebrating the discovery of America by Columbus, will be celebrated here quite generally, and in some respects quite out of the ordinary. A grand stand has been built in front of the state house Construction was begun Monday in order to take no chances of failure to finish it. To-day it has been put into final shape. There is an awning overhead, so as to keep off the sun if it is too hot, or to shed the rain, if the clouds of to-day should chance to come down boldly tomorrow. On the park at the east of the state house, a little ways from the Hooker statue, has been erected a relief tent for those who may suffer from the throngs and the exhaustion. This is something which has never been done before. In the business section of the city some of the blocks have been decorated in honor of Columbus. Some merely hang out the United States flag. Others, like A. Shuman at Shuman Corner, who is always demonstrative on any patriotic and distinguished day, has quite a long legend setting for the achievements and noble character of Columbus. In some places the streets have been roped off already, and it is the evident expectation of the authorities that there will be a general turnout of the citizens to see the parade. Though nothing has been said in the papers lately about it, yet it was announced a while ago that both Senators Lodge and Crane would take part in the parade. It is to be supposed that the Italian societies will be the foremost feature of the celebration. When they have been conspicuous hitherto in such appearances, they have had a vim and go quite interesting to the spectators.

Boston is about to show her visitors a new proof of her building growth. Almost an entire block, right in the very heart of the city, on one of the four highest priced corners in the city, is undergoing reconstruction. The northeast corner of Washington and Summer, where the crowds are thickest and more business is done than elsewhere, is being demolished and the sign that a well-known Boston merchant will occupy the store attracts public attention. The building operations here are so large that it is not to be expected that the street will resume its normal condition before next summer. At the same time, the opposite corner, that on the northwest of the intersection of Washington and Winter streets is also to undergo rebuilding. Thus there will be these two material obstructions to travel for many months and then the visitors to the city will see large new blocks, each doing much more business than its predecessor and each increasing the density of the passers on these already excessively crowded streets. Boston needs to spread horizontally rather than vertically.

In political circles it is the periods of shouting. This has been characteristic of the Republican campaign ever since before the primaries, and the Democrats do not permit themselves to be outdone. But the superiority of the Republicans as campaigners is evident in this matter as well as in all other things, except the one vital essential of getting out the votes. It remains to be seen which side is smartest in that respect. The Republicans are absolutely confident of victory. They come back from their automobile tours overflowing with confidence that the grand old Commonwealth will repudiate the Democrats who have temporarily usurped the seats of the mighty. Treasurer Stevens takes his intimate Democratic friend aside and tells him that it is all right, talking as man to man honestly, and that there can be no mistaking the war

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 13, 1911.

FOUND MAN ON THE ROOF.

Unpleasant Experience of Family Last Evening.

WOMAN FOLLOWED ON PARK STREET

Windows Rapped on Last Evening and On Tuesday. Apparently "Peeping Tom" Again.

What at first thought appears to have been an attempt at burglary, bnt which on carefnl consideration seems more like another visit of the "Peeping Tom," was committed abont 8 o'clock last evening at the home of F. N. Carpenter on Thorndike street, only a short distance from Main street and the business section.

Mrs. Carpenter heard an nnnsnal noise in the woodshed adjoining the kitchen, and went to investigate, thinking that it was probably caused by the cat. She failed to find the animal, even after repeated calling, bnt the noises continned and seemed to come from the roof. She called her husband and as they stood there discnssing the matter a man's face appeared near the window close by which they were standing. Only a glimpse was obtainable, when it disappeared. Investigation showed that the fellow had secured a ladder and placed it against the roof of the shed, climbing by this means to a window in the rear of the second story. Here he had removed the screen and carefnlly set it against a chair on the inside, bnt had evidently been frightened away by Mrs. Carpenter's actions before he had time to enter. The view which was had of him was when he was descending the ladder.

The police were notified at once, and fonnd where the man had stood for a time looking in the kitchen window before making his ascent to the roof. No trace of the fellow could be fonnd however.

It was learned later that a little earlier in the evening some one had rapped sharply on the window of E. W. Carpenter's home, adjoining that of F. N. Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter was alone at the time and was badly scared. The curtains were down at the windows, so she saw no one.

Another woman to have an nnpleasant experience was Mrs. W. J. McGnire of East Park street. While on her way home from Park street early in the evening she was followed between Central and School streets by a man who first whistled to her and then quickened his pace as she did so, only to drop back when a pedestrian approached from another direction.

It is also known that abont 8 o'clock Tuesday evening someone appeared at the home of Mrs. Maria Snow on North Main street; the man at first went to the rear door and rapped several times, bnt getting no response then went to the windows at the front of the honse. The rappings were distinctly heard by persons in the honse, and from an npper window the man was seen when he went to the front. He soon departed and nothing further was seen or heard of him.

Kelley Has Been Found.

Was Discovered on Dublin Street Monday; is Now in Springfield.

An inordinate and nncontrollable inqnisitiveness regarding the interior of other people's honses got John Kelly into tronble, the Palmer lockup and later the honse of correction in Springfield, where he will have opportnnity during the next 30 days to get the passion ont of his system.

There was no need of the question, "Has anybody here seen Kelly?" in the vicinity of Fox and Dublin streets Monday. Whence he came no one knew, but most of the people were aware of his presence. He strolled from house to honse trying the doors and entering wherever he fonnd one nnlocked. What his object was did not appear, for when he was met and told to depart he did so without protest or comment. At one place he asked for something to eat, bnt was told to "beat it" and did so without a murmnr of reproach. Finally he drifted aronnd to the home of James Wallace on Dublin street; failing to find the door nnlocked—Mr. Wallace was not at home — he broke open the cellar door and proceeded to ransack the establishment. Things were tnrned topsy-tnrvy in every room and some small articles taken, bnt nothing of any particular valne.

Abont this time some one notified Deputy Sheriff Bills, and he had no trouble in finding the fellow, as he hung about that section and made no attempt to disappear. In the district court Tuesday morning he was sentenced to 30 days on a charge of larceny.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonis Harnois of West Brimfield observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage Wednesday evening, when they entertained a nnmber of their friends. They received a large number of valnable gifts, including a purse of money. The evening was spent with music and dancing. Among those present were: Mrs. Treffy Tongne of Worcester, who acted as bridesmaid at the wedding a quarter of a century ago. Lonis Pichette of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. John Harnois, Edward Harnois, Henry Cavana and Louis Rivers of Palmer; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brothers, Mrs. Ephriam Harnois, Mrs. Charles Asseine, Miss Julia Longway, Ovid Ladeanx, Peter Welcome, Mrs. Balkam, Louis Rogers and Miss Rose Phaneuf of West Warren; Mr. and Mrs. W E Holland, Mr. and Mrs Clarence Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Theberge, Albert Theberge, Miss Delia Theberge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theberge, James Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lemieux and Miss Madeline Adams of West Brimfield.

Foresters' Ball.

Court Palmer, Foresters of America, will hold its eleventh annnal ball in the opera honse Friday evening, October 27th. Flanagan's singing orchestra of Marlboro, which is well known here, will fnrnish music for the dancing, and also give a concert from 8 to 9. The committees in charge of the affair are: General floor director, David Micott; assistants, J. J. Donahne, J. E. Learned, Daniel Ahearn, Peter Brouillette; committee of arrangements, David Micott, Albert Ayres, J. E. Learned, J. J. Donahue; reception committee, C. H. Burns, J. F. O'Neil, T. A. Roche, J. J. Lynch, P. J. Rollet, W. G St. John. Special cars will be run to Monson and the villages after the ball.

North Main Street Residents Have Hope.

A quantity of machinery for a pumping station—including two gasoline engines, two pumps and other material—was nnloaded by the Boston and Albany railroad at Tenneyville this week, the forernnner of the establishment of a pumping station there to fill the big tank. When this is done it will do away with the pnmping at the river plant west of the passenger station, also with the stopping of freights there for water. Residents along North Main street hope that the installation of the plant will not be long delayed. No information of where the new plant will be has been given out, bnt the fact that the material has arrived indicates that something will be done before long.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Moulton, 122-21, Monson.

For all coughs use onr Menthol-ated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Fine Offer For Palmer Boy.

Now Student in Cornell. Considering Proposition in Brazil.

Newton Stimson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stimson of Palmer Center, who is now a sndent in Cornell in the agricnltnral department, has nnder consideration a pecnliarly advantageous offer to go to Brazil at the end of the school year. He has been offered the position of superintendent of a large coffee plantation there with a salary of $300 a month the first year, a material increase the second year and an interest in the business after that. The business is already established, and the owner asked that the names of stndents who would graduate next spring be recommended to him for the position. Mr. Stimson's was one of four, and he was selected. In addition to agricnltnral knowledge the specifications called for bnsiness ability and skill in handling men, in both of which it is nnderstood Mr. Stimson stood high. He is now finishing his third year in Cornell, and already has his required work for the four-years' conrse all made np, and will leave college in Febrnary instead of Jnne, on this acconnt. In addition to his standing in his stndies he has gained a place on the college crew and football teams, and has worked his entire way throngh college.

Palmer Historical Society.

First Meeting of the Season Tuesday Evening. Able Paper Given.

The Palmer Historical Society held its first meeting of the season Tnesday evening in the reference room of the pnblic library. The cnrator annonnced the donation to the society of the History of the Fifth Massachnsetts Regiment, by Alfred S. Roe, also the Railroad Library for 1909, by Slason Thompson. Another donation was an old-time lamp for bnrning refnse grease, fonnd in Prescott by J. F. Foley.

The paper of the evening was presented by David F. Dillon, the topic being "The making of history." It was an able presentation of the snbject and held the close attention of all present for nearly an hour. The methods of ancient mnnicipalities were contrasted with our own of the present day, showing that in many ways we have made bnt little progress. Many vainable snggestions were offered which might lead to better resnits if carried ont with the care and intelligence which the importance of public affairs demands.

Electric Time to Change.

Winter Schedule Will Go into Effect Next Monday Morning.

The winter schedule of time will go into effect on the street railway next Monday. On the Springfield line the half honr cars in the morning are discontinned, the first one being at 1.45 in the afternoon and the last at 5.45 except Saturday and Snnday, when they will continne nntil 8.45, that being the last. On the Brimfield line the car which has been leaving Palmer at 7.15 for Brimfield hotel will be discontinned. On the Monson line the first car will be at 5.45 in the morning, then 6.15 and honrly nntil 10.15 at night; Satnrday and Snnday nntil 11.15. On the Three Rivers line the 12.45 p.m. car is to be discontinned, as is also the 9.45, except that the latter will rnn Satnrdays and Snndays. On the Ware and Bondsville lines the cars will rnn as at present.

Change in Phone Service.

Do Not Have to Call "Toll Operator" When Outside Line is Wished.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company pnt into effect in Palmer last Satnrday service which is calcniated to give quicker retnrns on the toll lines. Heretofore when a snbscriber wished to talk with Springfield he asked Central for the toll operator, and having secnred this connection gave his name, nnmber of phone, and told with whom he wished to be connected. This Central repeated and then said "Operator will call yon." Now Central simply says "Hold the line," and the connection is made with much less delay than formerly. The plan has been in operation in other places for some time, and is said to work finely.

Friends Pay Surprise Visit.

Party From West Warren Visits Palmer Center Young Woman.

A party of about 40 of the West Warren friends of Miss Helen Stimson of Palmer Center, the majority of them members of the Epworth League there, with others from Springfield to the nnmber of 50, paid her a snrprise visit at her home in Palmer Center Wednesday evening. The visitors brought their refreshments, and before departing for home left with Miss Stimson a purse of money as a mark of their esteem and regard. She has been employed in the mill office in West Warren, bnt has retnrned to her home for the winter.

Walker—McBride.

The marriage of Dr. William T. McBride of Athol, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McBride of Palmer, and Miss Annie F. Walker of Orange took place Wednesday in the latter place. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Anastasia O'Connell of Orange, and the best man was Dr. James Crowley of Westerly, R. I., a schoolmate of the groom. The bride wore a gown of apricot satin and carried white roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The conple left for a week's trip to New York state, after which they will make their home in Orange for the present. Dr. McBride is well known in Palmer, where he has lived most of his life and received his education in the public schools. He has been in Athol for the past three years.

Partridge Gets Friendly.

An nnnsnal sight for several days last week was that of a hen partridge making itself at home in the back yard of C. H. Keith's residence on Park street. Mr. Keith has a number of chickens in a yard there, and one morning noticed the partridge on the ground ontside the chicken-yard, walking back and forth along the wire netting and trying to get in. This was repeated for several mornings, the bird paying little attention to Mr. Keith or other persons who came about. Satnrday morning it failed to appear, and later it was learned that in the darkness of the night before it had flown against one of the houses in that vicinity and had its neck broken.

Autumn Excursion to New York.

The Central Vermont railroad will run the last excnrsion of the season to New York city next Thnrsday. A special train will leave Palmer at 6.15 p. m. and will arrive in New London in season to board the steamer Maine and be assigned to their state rooms during the evening. The steamer will leave New London at 11; arriving in New York the following morning at 7 o'clock. The rate for the round trip is $3, and tickets are good returning to leave New York daily except Saturday and Snnday at 5 p. m. nntil October 27th to arrive at starting point October 28th.

Miss Elissa Caryl has been spending part of the week in Boston.

Church Notes.

The snbject of the sermon next Sunday morning at the Baptist church will be "The watchman and his work." Bible school at 12, Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15, evening worship at 7. The pastor will begin a series of sermons on "Elijah, the fishbite," snbject for the evening, "The beginning of a great career." All are invited.

A meeting of the women of St. Paul's parish was held last evening, when a mission circle was organized. Mrs. Raspe addressed the meeting in regard to the matter, after which the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Raspe; secretary, Mrs. Lavinia Carpenter; treasnrer, Mrs. Ruby Ralton.

The snbject of the sermon Snnday morning at St. Paul's church will be "The transfiguration of the soul—transiucent to the Divine." The topic of the Y. P. C. U. meeting will be, "Helping our church grow;" leader, Miss Addie Coles; snb-leaders, Mrs. A. H. Parker and Miss Odna Paine. There will be no prayer meeting on Thursday evening on acconnt of the general convention in Springfield and the pastor urges the people to attend the convention.

The bi-annnal general convention of the Universalist church convenes at St. Paul's church in Springfield from Wednesday, October 18 to Snnday, October 22 inclusive. Wednesday in the church of the Unity there will be a ministers' conference and in St. Paul's church a woman's missionary association meeting. Thnrsday there will be a business meeting and the evening will be devoted to a social service. There will be addresses Friday and Satnrday. Snnday morning the occasional sermon will be preached and in the evening there will be a large mass meeting.

"The trne watchman of a city," will be the snbject of the sermon at the Congregational church next Sunday morning. Sunday school at 12; Edward D. Horsfield of the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield will address the young men's class on the boy scont movement in America. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6, snbject, "Why I believe the Bible," it will be a memory meeting. Evening service at 7; there will be two addresses given on Sunday school work, one by Theodore Norman, superintendent of the Snnday school, and the other by the pastor, both of whom were delegates to the state Snnday school convention in New Bedford.

Ran Nail in His Hand.

Jerry Denning of Sonth Main street, employed as freight checker in the Boston and Albany freight house, is off duty on account of a severe injury to his hand on Wednesday. While handling freight he caught a projecting nail in a ring on his finger in snch a way that the nail was forced into the third finger on the left hand clear to the bone. The wound was a nasty one and the finger swelled so greatly that the ring had to be cnt off. He will be kept from work for several days.

Relief Corps Annual Inspection.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps held its annnal inspection in Grand Army Hall on Central street Monday afternoon. Among those present other than members of the Corps were Department President Mrs. Nellie Libbey of Lynn, Department Inspector Mrs. Mary Landt of Hyde Park, and Mrs. Lucy M. Keith of Warren. A collation was served after the work.

Honors For High School Graduate.

Daniel J. Horgan of Three Rivers, who gradnated in Jnne at the head of the Palmer high school class and last month entered Holy Cross College at Worcester, stands at the head of the freshmen class of that institntion, having received four testimonials in September.

Team and Bicycle Bump.

By the collision of a team owned by L. A. Conant and a bicycle ridden by Severe Parry, near the driving park last Friday evening, the later was thrown from his machine and received a number of painful bnt not serions bruises.

The schools were closed yesterday in observance of Columbus Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Taylor have returned from their wedding trip.

Mrs. H. H. Paine of Pittsfield is visiting her daughter, Mrs G. A. Moore of Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Keith of Park street are spending a vacation of a week in New Hampshire.

Raymond Ford, clerk in Lynde & Gould's drug store, is spending a vacation of a week in Pittsfield.

Lonis Green, the jnnk dealer, has gone to Bangor, Me., on a business trip of ten days or two weeks.

Miss Ella Payne of Holyoke was a guest the past week of Miss Rose Duffy of South Main street.

Thomas Blanchard, proprietor of the Blanchard Hotel, has gone to Hot Springs, Ark., for his health.

F. M. Eager was called to Stafford Springs Wednesday on account of the death of his brother.

The banks closed all day yesterday, Colnmbus Day, and the majority of the stores closed at noon.

Several Palmer sportsmen are planning to participate in the big fox hnnt in Belchertown week after next.

The firemen were made glad last Saturday by checks for the first six months of their service this year.

George S. Holden, J. Clifford Shaw and Dr. B. E. Loring leave Sunday for Eastham for a week's shooting trip.

The Woman's Tnesday Club will meet next Tnesday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Buck of North Main street.

Mrs. C. A. Callahan and daughter, Helena, of Park street are spending the week with relatives in Lowell.

Misses Mary and Emma Mnlvihill of Park street attended the Brannigan-Loftus wedding in Ware Wednesday.

S. W. Lyon & Co. are at work on the installation of the heating apparatus in a large 16-room house in Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Caryl of Dorchester, formerly of Palmer, are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter last Saturday.

Roscoe Adams is substituting in the railway mail service between Albany, N. Y., and Burlington, N. H., this week.

Mrs. Robert G. Kenefick and son of Boston have been gnests of Jndge and Mrs. T. W. Kenefick on Knox street this week.

The body of Mrs. Sernssa Newell was brought to Palmer from Springfield Satnrday for bnrial in the Four Corners cemetery.

Mrs. D. Dunn of Pine street has returned from the hospital in North Adams, where she has been for several weeks for treatment.

H. H. Bronson has moved from the Shaw house on Park street to W. E Stone's house on Pine street, recently vacated by J. P. Lynde.

Mr. and Mrs. John McBride and Miss Maude McBride of Converse street attended the Walker-McBride wedding in Orange Wednesday.

The selectmen are nearly ready to receive bids for the constrnction of the sewer in Main street, Thorndike, voted at the recent special town meeting.

The first meeting of the Palmer Woman's Club was held this afternoon with Mrs. T. J. Tipper at her bungalow on the Monson road. Tea was served.

W. W. Darby of Holyoke has taken a position with Whitcomb & Faulkner and moved his family into G. H. Justin's house on School school.

Mrs. W. W. Converse has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. O. Berry, in Elkhart, Ind. Mrs. Berry and daughter retnrned with her.

Governor Foss on Wednesday nominated Dr. Michael I. Shea of Chicopee Falls to be trustee of the Monson State Hospital in place of Walter L. Schofield.

The concrete walk from Foundry street west on North Main street, for which a special appropriation was made last spring, is being put in this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Slattery, who have been gnests of his mother, Mrs. Daniel Slattery on State avenue for two weeks, have returned to their home in Worcester.

Mrs. Samuel Prouty, formerly of this town, died at the home of her sister in Athol Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Prouty lived here over five years and made many friends in town.

The No. 1 mill of the Wright Wire Company, which has been shut down for nearly two weeks on acconnt of breaks in the shafting and engine, started up one engine to-day.

There was a generons attendance at the supper and social in St. Paul's church Tuesday evening. The ladies of this society are planning for a rnmmage sale the second week in November.

Passengers on the Monson line of electrics have been obliged to transfer at the Fay bridge for several days, the company being at work putting in new irons, capable of carrying much heavier loads than the old ones.

The directors of the Eastern Hampden Agricnltnral society will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the Converse House to hear reports from the fair of last week. All bills against the society shonld be presented to the secretary before that time.

The ladies of the Congregational society met in the vestry of the church Monday afternoon to finish the work of clearing up the lnnch establishment conducted at the fair last week and several men of the society were indnced to render gratefnl assistance.

Word has been received of the marriage on Wednesday, at Newark, N. J., of George Warner and Miss Helen Aignler. Mr. Warner was formerly of Palmer and will be remembered by many; he is at present in the employ of the International Steamship Company of New York, where he holds a responsible position.

Typhoid at North Wilbraham.

Two Much Used Springs Found Unfit For Use and Condemned.

Nnmerous cases of typhoid fever have been reported in North Wilbraham dnring the past few weeks.

Samples of water from varions parts of the town have been tested for evidence of typhoid and as a result of the tests, the covered spring near the Cutler Company has been fonnd nnfit for use and another just above the dam on the Ludlow side of the river has been condemned. Both springs have been in constant nse by employes in the mills and by the townspeople in general, and it is quite possible that the source of infection may be in either. The spring water nsed in the Collins Manufactnring Company's system was fonnd fit for use.

Since the ontbreak of the epidemic many people have been drinking only boiled water, nntil a definite determination of the cause of the sudden ontbreak of the disease had been made.

CARD.—We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement.

RICHARD P. DOYLE AND FAMILY.

Monson, Oct. 12, 1911

CARD.—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the shopmates, members of Division 7, L. A. A. O. H., and friends for their beautiful floral offerings and kindness during our recent bereavement.

MRS B. REILLY AND FAMILY.

Thorndike, Oct. 12, 1911.

BORN.

In Dorchester, 7th, a son to James F. and Rose Scully Duffy, formerly of Palmer.
In Cambridge, 7th, a daughter to Rodney and Jennie Bray Caryl, formerly of Palmer.

MARRIED.

In Three Rivers, 7th, by Rev. C. B. McDuffie, George Matchett and Sarah Collins.
In Warren, 9th, by Rev. William Hodges, John S. Woodard and Annie Stirling.
In Belchertown, 10th, by Rev. W. H. Adams, Bert S. Collis of Bondsville and Ethel L. Alden of Ludlow.
In Ware, 11th, by Rev J. J. Roberts, Dr. John L. Lofins of Meriden, Ct., and Katherine Brannigan of Ware.
In Ware, 9th, by Rev. W. J. Lucy, Wilfred Deslauriers and Malvina Demontelle.
In Orange, 11th, by Rev. P. J. O'Malley, Dr. William T. McBride of Athol and Annie F. Walker of Orange.

DIED.

In Thorndike, 10th, May Riley, 21.
In Monson, 7th, Emanuel Polzie, 64.
In Belchertown, 7th, Daniel D. Pierce, 74.
In Belchertown, 9th, Almira Slater, 44.
In Ware, 9th, Mrs. Elizabeth Menard, 80.
In Warren, 7th, Mrs. Wealthy A. Bliss, 80.
In Athol, 8th, Mrs. Samuel Prouty, formerly of Palmer.
In New York, 9th, Cornelius N. Bliss, 78.

FOR SALE—A second-hand Hub cook stove. M. S. FRENCH, 39 Park St., Palmer

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

For Sale.
My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.
Louis E. Chandler.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Teacher of Piano.
In Palmer Saturdays
Maud L. Hayden,
26 Bristol St., Springfield, Mass.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St. Palmer

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers.

Fraternity Notes.

Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows meets next Wednesday evening.

Division 15, A. O. H., meets Snnday afternoon in Thorndike.

Palmer aerie of Eagles holds a regular meeting next Thursday evening.

Court Palmer, Foresters of America, meet next Tuesday evening.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps meets on Friday evening of next week.

Cyrus W. Cross camp, Sons of Veterans, hold a regular meeting next Wednesday evening.

A regular meeting of Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, comes Tnesday evening of next week.

Next Friday evening is the regular meeting time of the Order of the Eastern Star, when Mrs. Louis G. Crafts, Deputy Grand Matron, and Mrs. Albie G. Huxley, Deputy Grand Marshal of Northampton will make an official visit of inspection. Supper will be served at 6:30 by the ladies of the Congregational church in the church.

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

TO RENT—To a small family a five-room tenement. 28 Pleasant St., MRS. TUTHILL.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

FOUND.—A stray brown cow. For further particulars inquire at Quaboag House, Three Rivers. 28-1

TO RENT—Tenement on Pine street, second floor, $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

TO RENT.—Upstairs tenement of 5 rooms, family without children preferred. MRS. MARY MASON, 26 School St., Palmer.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 46-tf

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

For sore throat there is positively no remedy that will relieve so quickly and cure permanently the most aggravated case, as Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street.
BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

Notice to Piano Owners.
Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

Habicht & Hogg
Civil Engineers and Surveyors
Architects
Farm Surveys a Specialty.
Reinforced Concrete Buildings.
Room 39, Kinsman Building
332 MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Rexall Store
Liggett's and Quality Chocolates
Newsdealers and Stationers
50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c
Lynde & Gould
Palmer, Mass.

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5 Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments
Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactnred from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory. The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.
Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St., rear of High School.

Remember,
That upstairs in the P. O. Block, the ladies, men and children can get their fal and winter needs at very reasonable prices.
My Excellent Line of Wearing Apparel
is of the highest grade and best workmanship. It consists of LADIES' COATS, (fur, caracul and cloth), SUITS, FURS, SKIRTS, DRESSES and SHIRTWAISTS. GIRLS' and CHILDREN'S COATS. MEN'S and BOYS' SUITS and OVERCOATS.
All ladies' garments made TO ORDER from measure at regular retail prices. Come and look my GOODS OVER before having the expense and trouble of going to the city.
M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
P. O. Block. Up one flight.

We Want to Show You
OUR
Elegant Lines
OF
Suits and Overcoats
They are right up to the minute, both in quality and workmanship, and at prices that no one need to go cold.
Fashionable Hats, Caps, Shirts and Neckwear.
Call and be convinced that we can give more for your money than any one else.
C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK.
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented
All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by
These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.
Whitcomb & Faulkner;
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

For the Fall Trade
Just received a new line of
Ladies' Fall Waists.
Fleeced Duckling at 12½c yard.
Ladies' Flannelette Wrappers, Night Robes, etc.
Sweaters, all sizes and prices.
A full line of Fleeced Underwear.
Hellyar's Bargain Store
Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.
The New Fall and Winter Merchandise Enjoys a Comprehensive Showing at the Kinsman Store
The very atmosphere of this store breathes a spirit of readiness and preparedness for the coming seasons. Every section of the establishment is bright with new merchandise and interesting with the latest word of fashion. You know best what special sections will be most interesting to you at just this period of the year It may be the Cloak and Suit rooms with their veritable host of new ideas in smart, fetching suits, warm, comfortable coats, graceful hanging skirts or even something in Dainty Waists. Still you may be particularly desirous of seeing our latest word in gloves, the beauties of the rich laces, the smartness of our neckwear or the quality more than style, of our hosiery and underwear. Wherever you go through this splendidly prepared store you will find the stocks are up to the Kinsman standard—and perhaps if such a thing were possible, even a bit superior and covering a wider range than in former years. And when you see these new and wonderful ideas in merchandise—remember, that Kinsman's is the store for the people, selling merchandise at prices that people wish to pay.
As an extra inducement for visitors here Saturday we are offering many splendid attractions in New Fall and Winter Merchandise at mighty interesting prices. Look for the Opening Special tickets in every department and note these special trading inducements.
W. D. Kinsman Co., Springfield

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, Never Ou
The three best lights
E. Brown Co

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Death of Miss May Riley.

Miss May Riley, a native of this place, died at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. Riley on Commercial street Tuesday morning after an illness of several weeks. The funeral was held Thursday morning from St. Mary's church, Rev. P. J. Griffin, pastor, officiating at the mass of requiem. Miss Mary G. Lyons sang a solo Burial was in St. Thomas' cemetery. The deceased is survived by a mother, one sister, Miss Etta Riley, and one brother, George, both at home.

Jeremiah Lamery has gone to Moosup, Ct., to live.

Mr and Mrs. William M. Holden returned this week from their honeymoon trip.

There will be a mass of requiem tomorrow morning for the late Mrs. Katherine Flynn.

Dennis F. Sullivan of Peacedale, R. I., is the guest of his brother, Daniel J. Sullivan of Harvey avenue.

The Belchertown and Stafford fairs the past week have been the points of interest for many Thorndike people.

The dance held in Union Hall Wednesday evening was largely attended and much enjoyed, a large attendance being present from the villages.

Columbus Day was observed in town by the closing of the mills and places of business. Many went to Boston to witness the big Columbus parade.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Martin of Weehawken, New Jersey, visited here Tuesday for a short stay, being en ronte to their home from Vermont. Mrs. Martin was formerly a Miss Brennan and left Thorndike nearly 30 years ago, when she was a little girl.

Three new concrete crosswalks are being put in on Commercial street, one near Exchange block, another near the postoffice and the other at a point near High and Commercial streets. The need of such improvements has long been felt and the work is appreciated by the public

Next Monday the hunting season opens and the gunners will have an opportunity to try their skill. The law this year makes no provisions for a bag limit on gray squirrel, and that there will be many bagged goes without saying as there is an unusual number this year. The law on partridge, woodcock and quail is open for one month only. The hunters who use a gun must procure a license this year.

THREE RIVERS.

Red Men's Trading Post.

Red Men's trading post will open this evening. The committees in charge of the different details have worked faithfully and well to make it a success. There are the usual books on many different articles. Dancing will be enjoyed each evening until 12 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Blanchard's orchestra of Southbridge. An entertainment will be furnished each evening. Cars will be run to the villages and Monson after the fair. A handsome gold watch will be awarded to the young woman obtaining the most votes by the sale of tickets; a beautiful doll to the little girl gaining the largest number of votes. This is the third trading post that has been held under the anspices of this society, and all have been successful. The post will be held in Canadian Circle Hall to-night and to-morrow evening and next Friday and Saturday evenings.

Bowling League Formed.

The members of the Y. P. I. A. at Pickering Hall have formed a bowling league, the first match taking place Tuesday evening, when the Crescents took two points from the Brunswicks.

Crescents.
L. Keith,	92	73	62	227
L. Rollet,	85	86	64	235
J. Ritchie,	87	83	101	271
W. Poitras,	83	77	100	260
	347	319	327	993
Brunswicks.
J. Fogarty	73	93	66	232
J. Trickett,	77	81	74	282
F. Upham,	83	93	95	271
Pierce,	70	70	70	210
	303	337	305	945

William Daly spent the first of the week in Hartford.

Miss Rose Jackson is ill at her home on Main street.

Mrs. LaRock has gone to his home in Shelbery, Vt.

E. Bengle has taken a position with James Duthwright.

Miss Bertha Pulsifer spent Sunday with friends in Springfield.

N Dinelle has taken a position with the Worcester County Gas Co.

Henry Barber has taken a positon as painter in the Palmer Mill.

Alcide Barber has taken a position with August Carson, constructor.

Extensive repairs are being made on the Baptist church on Main street.

Mrs. David Crosby of Palmer is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mason on Prospect avenue.

Wilfred Johnson spent the last of the week with friends in Hartford.

The schools were closed here yesterday in observance of Columbus Day.

Harry C. Newell has moved his family from Kelly street to Springfield.

Frank Burse of Springfield spent Sunday at his home on Springfield street.

Edward Germain has resigned his position with the Hartford street railway.

J. L Shiner of Montgomery, Vt., has taken a position in the Palmer Mill.

Samuel Hartley of Hartford, Ct., was the week-end guest of friends in town.

John F. Foley of Worcester spent Sunday with his mother on Palmer street.

Charles Kenworthy is moving his family from Maple street to Springfield street.

P. Labelle of Chicopee was the guest of his mother on Palmer street over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mason are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Herbert Fulton of Gilbertville was the guest of Samuel Matchett over the week-end.

Floyd Graham of Maple street spent the last of the week with friends in Springfield.

John McCrystal of Ware spent the week-end as the guest of John Riddle on Palmer street.

Daniel Horgan of Holy Cross College was the week-end guest of his parents on Main street.

Charles Tracey of Springfield was the week-end guest of his mother on Bourne street.

Theodore Gerard of Holyoke was the guest of Miss Irene Dupont on Main street Sunday.

Albert Senecal of Pleasant street has accepted a position with the Worcester Gas Company.

A large number of the young people of this village attended the Belchertown fair Wednesday.

Allen Provost has returned to the Wenimisset after visiting with friends in Montgomery, Vt.

Mrs. Bessie Jenks of Belchertown street spent the week with her son and daughter in Amherst.

Friends of Arthur Grise will be glad to know that he is slowly recovering from his illness.

Miss Alida Lavelle of Holyoke spent Sunday at the home of Peter Gervais on Maple street.

Member of the men[illegible] of the Union church attended the Sunday school convention in Lowell.

Daniel Hartnett of Holyoke spent the last of the week with D J. Hartnett at the Quaboag Hotel.

Miss Gertrude Hartnett of Westfield Normal spent Sunday with her parents at the Quaboag Hotel.

Miss Nellie Connor of North Dana was the guest of her mother on Main street the first of the week.

Henry Fredette of West Springfield was the guest of his parents on Pleasant street during the week.

Thomas Woods and John Taylor of Easthampton were the guests of James Matchett Sunday.

Walter Root of Springfield is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Root on Main street.

Miss Jessie Harrigan of Springfield was the week-end guest of Miss Edith Rogers on Springfield street.

Almazer Gervais spent the last of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dowrey on the Bondsville road

Miss Mollie Hartnett of Westfield Normal school was the week-end guest of her mother on Belchertown street.

Joseph Matchett and wife of Boston visited the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Matchett.

Mrs William Ryan of Springfield was the guest the past week of her mother, Mrs. Manning on Bourne street.

Miss Mande Sands of Fitchburg was the guest of Dr. and Mrs S. O. Miller on High street the first of the week.

Misses Ethel and Eva Bryant of Monson spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Fenton and family on Springfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grieson have returned to South Carolina after a stay of a few weeks at the Wenimisset.

Zotique Picotte and family of Manchaug were the guests of his parents at their home on School street recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell of Pennsylvania were the guests during the past week of Mr. Powell's mother on High street.

Arthur L. Miller of South Hadley Falls was the guest Sunday of Miss Ethel Birch at her home on East Main street.

Misses Lizzie and Sarah Metcalf of Gilbertville spent Sunday at the home of Samuel Jamison on Kelley street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allen have returned to their home on Maple street after an extended visit with relatives in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCullough of Belchertown street, with their daughter Mary, spent Sunday in West Warren.

Miss May Caple of Montreal spent the first of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore on Springfield street.

Thomas Connor of Wanregan, Ct., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Connor on Palmer street recently.

Master Robert Blair and sister Mildred of Palmer street have returned after a few days' stay with relatives in West Warren

Christopher Matchett and two children of Clinton were the guests during the past week of John Matchett on Springfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson on Athol street.

The large steam roller to be used in constructing the new state road arrived the last of the week and work is progressing rapidly.

John O'Connor of Main street left Monday for Wanregan, Ct., where he will resume his work with the Cummings Construction Co.

Miss Gladys Rice returned Monday to her home in South Windham, Ct., after spending a few days with her brother, Arthur Rice.

Moses Smith and James Cassels of Springfield spent Sunday with their respective families on Belchertown and South streets.

Master Duthright has returned to his home in Halifax, N. S., after a several weeks' visit with his father and brother at the Riverside Hotel.

Miss Anna Bothwell returned to her studies at Westfield Normal school Monday after spending the week-end with her parents on Palmer street.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening, when Miss Sarah Collins was united in marriage to George Matchett, Rev. C. B. McDuffee officiating.

Richard Calkins of Baptist Hill is recovering rapidly from his recent attack of diphtheria. It is expected that the quarantine will be removed this week.

Miss Jessie Bruce and Master Bruce Chisholm of Everett have returned to their home after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce at the Wenimisset House.

BONDSVILLE.

Death of Former Resident.

Charles H. Collis was called to Portsmouth, N. H., Monday to attend the funeral service of his brother, Marcus M. Collis, a native of Bondsville, who died at the age of 68 years at his home in Portsmouth. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs Luther Collis and was educated in the public schools of this village At the age of 17, in the year of 1861, he enlisted in Co. H, 21st Mass. Infantry, and served through the war. He was taken prisoner at the Battle of the Wilderness and was confined for ten months. While there he was commissioned as lieutenant and later as captain for bravery. After the war he entered into business in Boston, where he remained for a few years. From there he went to Portsmouth, where for abont 30 years he was engaged in store business. For ten years he held the position of high sheriff for Rockingham County. For the last two years of his life he had been engaged in the insurance business. He was very highly esteemed as a soldier and citizen in the city where he had lived for many years, holding many offices of trust. He was a director of the soldiers' home, an officer in the Deposit and Trust Co. of Portsmouth and had been department commander of the Grand Army of New Hampshire. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge and a Mason. For many years he had been a reader of the Journal, and was much interested in the doings of his home town. The burial was by the side of his wife, who died 28 years ago. The funeral services were conducted by the Grand Army Post of which he had been commander, and he was buried with military honors, a salute of 18 guns being fired over his grave. The funeral was one of the largest known in Portsmouth for many years and was attended by officers of G. A. R. throughout the state. Two officers from each order, the Masons, G A. R. and Odd Fellows, acted as bearers. He leaves one son, George L. of Portsmouth, who holds a position for the government in the navy yard, one daughter, Mrs. Clifton Humphrey of Madison, Me., and three grandchildren; also two sisters, Mrs. Willard Nelson and Miss Martha Collis, teacher in the public schools of Monson, and Charles H. Collis of Bondsville. Another Palmer boy who was an honor to his town has been laid to rest.

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. Sold by all dealers

Alden—Collis.

The marriage of Burt Silas Collis of this village and Miss Ethel Alden of Ludlow took place Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist church in Belchertown. Mr. Collis is the youngest son of Mr and Mrs. Fred Collis, and has lived all his life here. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Adams, a retired minister of Southampton, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcenna Alden of Ludlow. He was assisted by Rev. W. T. Hale of the Belchertown Methodist church, the double ring service being used. Miss Gladys Gay was ring bearer. The ushers were Fred Collis, brother of the groom, of Bondsville; Philip Fuller, also of Bondsville, now a student of Tufts College; H. W. Forsman of Palmer and Matthew McKenzie of Thorndike. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen, bittersweet and white asters. In the center of an arch was a horseshoe, and four-leaf clover The bride's gown was of point d'esprit over white silk and she carried lilies of the valley. The bridal couple were attended by Harold Alden of Ludlow, cousin of the bride, and her sister, Miss Bessie Alden. The bridesmaid's dress was pale blue messaline silk and she carried pink roses. After a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Collis will live in Thorndike, where Mr. Collis is employed as an engineer and machinist.

Harold Alhro spent Saturday with relatives in Springfield.

Mrs. W. B. Twing Smith is spending a few days in Boston.

William Simpson was a guest of his family over Sunday.

The schools were closed yesterday in observance of Columbus Day.

Albert Fantenx of Athol spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Mary Fantenx.

Miss Nora McBride of Ware was a guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gloster.

Miss Annie O'Connor of Meekins & Packard's store spent Sunday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hearn and daughter Eileen are visiting relatives in Worcester

James Coleman of Manchester spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spillane

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collis were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Nelson of Monson.

William Spillane of Willimansett was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spillane.

Ozie Gironard of Indian Orchard is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Adolph Gironard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Springfield visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall.

S. C. Hall and Mrs. James Hall of Springfield were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs F. E. Albro.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safer and sure For sale by all dealers.

Miss Nellie Sullivan of Springfield spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gunn and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wentworth in Amherst.

Archibald Sterling attended the wedding of his sister, Miss Annie H. Sterling, in Warren Tuesday afternoon.

The mill part of the Boston Duck Co's plant was closed all day Thursday, as were also the stores in this village.

Mrs. Charles Merrick and son and Mrs. Adelburt Eaton of Wilbraham were guests Tuesday of Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Christopher Magee Jr. of Springfield was a guest over Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs Christopher Magee Sr.

Misses Agnes Carmody and Cathlene Quirk of Westfield Normal school were week-end guests at their home here.

Mrs. John Redhead and two daughters returned Thursday from a two-months' vacation with relatives in Nova Scotia.

Mrs and Mrs James Fitzgerald have rented the tenement until recently occupied by E. E. Woolard and will soon move there.

Mrs. Clara Piper and Miss Dorothy Piper of Greenwich Village were guests Wednesday of Mr and Mrs. William M. Morse.

Mr and Mrs. E E. Woolard and daughter, Miss Elsie, went Sunday to Amesbury, where they will make their future home.

The Polish priest moved Monday from one of the company's tenements to the house on the property bought by the Polish Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ellis and baby, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs Samuel Stewart, returned to their home in Revere Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collis entertained this week Mrs. Willard Nelson of Monson, Mrs. Dorcas Collis and daughter, Miss Ada of Packardville, and Miss Nellie Bartlett of Greenfield.

A harvest supper for members and their families was served by the men at the club house Tuesday evening. The affair was much enjoyed. Following the supper cards and dancing were enjoyed.

Miss Helen Henderson, teacher of the first grade, has returned from New York to her school duties after a short vacation caused by the illness of her sister. Mrs Michael Sullivan substituted during her absence.

Rev. Otto Raspe of the Universallst church in Palmer occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday. In the evening the sermon was illustrated by stereoptican views shown by C D Holden, which were much enjoyed.

Many from this village attended the cattle-show held in Belchertown Wednesday, although it was thought the crowd was smaller than in other years Two hundred tickets were sold from the Boston and Maine station.

Rev. W. H. Upham will take for the subject of his morning sermon, "Social Intercourse." This service will commence at 10 45 Sunday school will be held at 11 45, Epworth League at 6 o'clock The regular prayer and praise service will be held in the vestry at 7 o'clock

The Ladies' Aid Society met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Banister with 16 ladies present. It was planned to serve a turkey supper in the vestry of the Methodist church Wednesday evening, October 25th It has been many years since a turkey supper was served by the ladies, and it is hoped there will be a large number present. There will be an entertainment following the supper Th Ladies' Aid meeting will be held next time with Mrs Adelard Marsan in three weeks, November 1.

Cornelius Newton Bliss, who died in New York city Monday night, was well known in this vicinity among the mill people, as he was for many years a member and developer of the dry goods firm of Bliss, Fabyan & Co., who operate mills in Bondsville, Thorndike, Three Rivers and Palmer. His son, Cornelius Bliss Jr., is at the present time connected with the business. Mr. Bliss' death was attributed to heart failure, although there has been a general breakdown for the past year, due to old age. He was 78 years old. His funeral was held Thursday morning from his late home in New York City.

Mrs. A. P. Knowlton was called to Springfield this week by the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Hanson, who was 90 years of age. She had been a frequent visitor at the home of Mrs. Knowlton. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Julia Aldrich in Springfield. She is the widow of Jason M. Hanson, formerly of New Salem, where she lived until a few months ago, when she removed with her daughter to Springfield. She leaves two sisters and two daughters, Mrs Aldrich of Springfield and Mrs. A. P Knowlton of Bondsville; also two sons, Joseph of Boston and Charles of Westerly, R I. The funeral and burial were in Millington.

Last spring the Arcultural College in Amherst sent potatoes to the various schools in this vicinity and offered prizes to the children for the best returns from the seeds, which were to be planted and tended by the children, the greatest number of pounds raised and fairest potatoes being taken into consideration. By request of the superintendent the children from this village sent to the fair in Palmer last week specimens raised by them, which although they did not take all the prizes, it is hoped and expected some come here, as they compared favorably with other villages. It is thought another year the children will do even better, as there was a misunderstanding at the beginning of the strife. The potatoes have been brought from the fair and are on exhibition in the window of C. D. Holden's store and are well worth looking at. The children may be justly proud of the results of their labor.

Lamson & Hubbard

SOFT HATS

In Rich Velours, nobby effects in grey and brown felts. The man who wears an L. & H. is the man who cares.

L. & H. DERBIES

The early Fall and Winter styles have that up-to-date effect that has marked each season's development of the famous Lamson & Hubbard Hats.

Made in Boston for over 30 years. We guarantee you a perfect fit and a stylish shape.

C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Mabel Brackett has returned from a visit in Lynn and Newtonville.

C F. Whitney of Maine has bought of Mrs. Geffkin her place at the foot of Breakneck Hill on the Fiskdale road.

Mrs. Mary Tarbell of Brookline, widow of Everts Tarbell of Brimfield, is visiting friends and relatives in Brimfield.

WARREN.

Death of Mrs. Wealthy A. Bliss.

Mrs Wealthy A. Bliss, 80, died Saturday morning after a long illness of heart failure Mrs. Bliss was the widow of Warriner Bliss, and was born in Warren, October 7, 1830, daughter of John and Betsey Strickland. She was a member of Clara Barton Woman's Relief Corps and the First Congregational church. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Lucy A Perry, and two sons, Justin E. and Frank W. Bliss, all of whom live in Warren. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, Rev. T. C Richards officiating, and burial was in Pine Grove cemetery

Stirling—Woodard.

The marriage of Anna Stirling and John S Woodard took place Monday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on Ramsdell street, Rev. William Hodges officiating Only relatives were present. After a short wedding trip the couple will return to Hartford, Ct., where they will make their home.

William St. George has been appointed manager of the Cutler Grain Company in Thorndike.

BOSTON LETTER.

[Continued from First Page.]

that he cannot find any men who voted for him last year who will not vote for him this year. But there are such, without donht, though it is a question whether they are in a majority over those who did not vote for him last year who will vote for him this year. It is certain that the Repnblicans will spare no effort to bring all the forces possible into operation and to get out their vote.

The Massachnsetts Republican Clnb is very busy sending ont literature and photographs of the candidates. A call there this afternoon revealed the floor piled high with packages which are to be sent to the local city and town committees. Most of them are the joint pictures of Frothingham and Lnce It is said that these pictnres have been distrihuted in Boston more widely than ever before, that stores which have always refused to permit a Republican picture to be displayed have given their consent this time and that this is one of the reasons why the Republicans think that the situation looks pretty well in Boston. There are also three campaign documents being sent ont—the state platform adopted in Tremont Temple, and two flyers to show why the reader shonld vote the Repnblican ticket. Taking all things together and comparing them with last year, your correspondent's judgment is that thns far the chances still favor Gov. Foss, but with the need of hard work from now till election. LANDON.

WILBRAHAM.

Rev. Hollis A. Campbell of Springfield will occupy the pulpit at the Memorial church Sunday at both the morning and evening services.

A parish meeting was held in the Congregational church Tuesday evening, when it was voted to accept the resignation of Rev. M. S. Howard to take effect October 29, which coincided with the vote of the church meeting held September 28.

BELCHERTOWN.

Death of Daniel D. Pierce.

Daniel Dwight Pierce, 74, of Federal street died Sunday night after a five years' illness. Some years ago Mr. Pierce had an eye removed and aside from that has been a constant sufferer. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce came to Belchertown from Montague 17 years ago. Mr. Pierce was a veteran of the civil war, having served throughont the entire war in the 1st Massachusetts cavalry. There are no children, but during the long years of his illness Mr. Pierce had been tenderly cared for by his wife. The funeral was held Tuesday, Rev. W. S. Hall officiating and burial was in the South cemetery.

Major and Mrs. John Anderson will sail for Europe November 9. Mrs. William Burr Hill will be one of the party.

Almus Slater, 44, died Monday of appendicitis, after a severe illness. He was unmarried and lived with his mother and brother.

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

Women Who Suffer

from woman's ailments are invited to write to the names and addresses here given, for positive proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does cure female ills.

Tumor Removed.

Elmo, Mo.=Mrs. Sarah J. Stuart, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 16.
Peoria, Ill.=Mrs. Christina Reed, 105 Mound St.
Natick, Mass.=Mrs. Nathan B. Greaton, 51 North Main St.
Milwaukee, Wis.=Mrs. Emma Buse, 833 1st St.
Chicago, Ill.=Mrs. Alvena Sperling, 1068 Clybourne Ave.
Galena, Kan.=Mrs. R. R. Viney, 713 Mineral Av.
Victoria, Miss.=Mrs. Willie Edwards.
Cincinnati, Ohio=Mrs. W. H. Honsh, 7 Eastview Ave.

Change of Life.

Epping, N. H.=Mrs. Celia E. Stevens.
Streator, Ill.=Mrs. J. H. Campbell, 206 North Second St.
Brooklyn, N. Y.=Mrs. Evens, 822 Halsey St.
Noah, Ky.=Mrs. Lizzie Hollis, jr.
Cathlamet, Wash.=Mrs. Elva Barber Edwards.
Circleville, Ohio.=Mrs. Alice Kirlin, 333 West Huston St.
Salem, Ind.=Mrs. Lizzie S. Hinkle, R.R. No. 3.
New Orleans, La.=Mrs. Gaston Blondeau, 1842 Terpsichore St.
Mishawaka, Ind.=Mrs. Chas. Bauer, Sr., 523 East Marion St.
Racine, Wis.=Mrs. Katie Kuhlk, R. 2, Box 51.
Beaver Falls, Pa.=Mrs. W. P. Boyd, 2100 8th Av.

Maternity Troubles.

Bronaugh, Mo.=Mrs. D. F. Aleshire.
Phenix, R.I.=Mrs. Wm. O. King, Box 232.
Carbutah, N.J.=Mrs. Louis Fischer, 32 Monroe St.
South Sanford, Me.=Mrs. Charles A. Austin.
Schenectady, N.Y.=Mrs. H. Porter, 782 Albany St.
Taylorville, Ill.=Mrs. Joe Grantham, 825 W. Vandeveer St.
Cincinnati, Ohio.=Mrs. Sophia Hoff, 515 McMicken Ave.
Big Run, Pa.=Mrs. W. E. Pooler.
Philadelphia, Pa.=Mrs. M. Johnston, 210 Siegel St.

Backache.

Peoria, Ill.=Mrs. Clara L. Gauwitz, R. R. No. 4, Box 62.
Augusta, Me.=Mrs. Winfield Dana, R. F. D. 2.
St. Paul, Minn.=Mrs. B. M. Schorn, 1083 Woodbridge St.
Pittsburg, Pa.=Mrs. G. Leiser, 5249 Kinkaid St., E.E.
Kearney, Mo.=Mrs. Thomas Asberry.
Blue Island, Ill.=Mrs. Anna Schwartz, 328 Grove St.
East Earl, Pa.=Mrs. Augustus Lyon, R.F.D 2.

Operations Avoided.

Silkston, Mo.=Mrs. Dena Bethune.
Gardiner, Me.=Mrs. S. A. Williams, 142 Washington Ave.
Chicago, Ill.=Mrs. Wm. Ahrens, 2239 W. 21st St.
Bellevue, Ohio.=Mrs. Edith Wieland, 238 Monroe St.
DeForest, Wis.=Mrs. Augusto Vespermann.
Dexter, Kansas.=Mrs. Lizzie Smoot.

Organic Displacements.

Black Rock, Minn.=Mrs. Anna Anderson, Box 19.
Wesleyville, Pa.=Mrs. Maggie Ester, R.F.D. 1.
Trenton, Mo.=Mrs. W. T. Furnell, 307 Lincoln Avenue.
Camden, N.J.=Mrs. Ella Johnston, 289 Liberty St.
Chicago, Ill.=Mrs. Wm. Tully, 2052 Ogden Avenue.

Painful Periods.

Caledonia, Wis.=Mrs. Pk. Schattner, R.R. 14, Box 51.
Adrian, Mo.=Mrs. C. B. Mason, R.R. No. 2.
N. Oxford, Mass.=Miss Amelia Duso, Box 14.
Baltimore, Ohio.=Mrs. A. A. Balenger, R.F.D. 1.
Negaunee, Mich.=Mrs. Mary Sedlock, Box 1273.
Orrville, Ohio.=Mrs. E. F. Wagner, Box 629.
Atwater, Ohio.=Miss Minnie Muelhaupt.
Prairie du Chien, Wis.=Mrs. Julia Konicheck, R. No. 1.

Irregularity.

Buffalo, N.Y.=Mrs. Clara Darbrake, 17 Marlemont St.
Winchester, Ind.=Mrs. May Deal, R.R. No. 7.
St. Regis Falls, N.Y.=Mrs. J. H. Breyere.
Grayville, Ill.=Mrs. Jessie Schaar, Box 22.
Hudson, Ohio.=Mrs. Geo. Strickler, R. No. 5, Box 32.

Ovarian Trouble.

Murrayville, Ill.=Mrs. Chas. Moore, R. R. 3.
Philadelphia, Pa.=Mrs. Chas. Boell, 2219 N. Mole St.
Minneapolis, Minn.=Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St., North.
Hudson, Ohio.=Mrs. Lena Carmocino, R.F.D. 7.
Westwood, Md.=Mrs. John F. Richards.
Benjamin, Mo.=Mrs. Julia Frantz, R.F.D. 1.

Female Weakness.

W. Terre Haute, Ind.=Mrs. Artie E. Hamilton.
Elroy, Mo.=Mrs. A. C. Bryant.
Lawrence, Iowa.=Mrs. Julia A. Snow, R. No. 8.
Utica, Ohio.=Mrs. Mary Eerlwine, R.F.D. 3.
Bellevue, Ohio.=Mrs. Charley Chapman, R.F.D. No. 7.
Elgin, Ill.=Mrs. Henry Leisberg, 743 Adams St.
Schuylerstown, Pa.=Mrs. Cyrus Hetrich.
Curwen, Pa.=Mrs. Ella E. Alkey.
Fairchance, Pa.=Mrs. Idella A. Dunham, Box 152.

Nervous Prostration.

Knoxville, Iowa.=Mrs. Clara Franks, R.F.D. 3.
Oronogo, Mo.=Mrs. Mae McKnight.
Camden, N.J.=Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Avenue.
Muddy, Ill.=Mrs. May Nolen.
Brookville, Ohio.=Mrs. R. Kinnison.
Pittsville, Ohio.=Mrs. C. Cole.
Philadelphia, Pa.=Mrs. Frank Clark, 2416 E. Allegheny Ave.

Those women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made in This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD W. G. WHEAT.

Luxurious Axminster Rugs

Unequalled For Richness and Wearing Worth at Very Moderate Prices

For luxurious richness and solid wearing worth there is no medium priced rug that compares with the splendid deep pile Axminsters. The deep heavy pile makes possible the most beautiful effects in rich Oriental patterns and colorings and gives the fabric a wonderfully long life, keeping its beauty until the pile is worn to the warp.

In our big rug gallery we show an immense line of these popular rugs in the widest variety of choice and exclusive patterns suited to every room in the house. In the 9 x 12 rugs we show 35 different patterns and an equal variety in both larger and smaller sizes.

Rugs 9 x 12 in all grades from $19.75 to $95.00.

Sizes 6 x 9 8.3 x 10.6 10.6 x 13.6 and 11.3 x 12 at proportionate prices.

Special Furniture Bargain

$6 Oak or Mahogany Rocker at $4.

Here is a very exceptional offering from the Furniture Department — a special rocker which by buying in large quantities we were able to secure at much less than regular prices.

This is a handsome well built arm rocker on Colonial lines, heavy, solid and substantial, with saddle seat and rubbed polish finish. We show this rocker in selected quartered oak throughout or mahogany finish and we guarantee it to be a strictly high-grade rocker in every particular — a chair that would find a place in any home.

Chair that would sell for $6. — just as a leader — $4.

Unusual Offering of Beautiful Irish Point Curtains

At Much Less Than Regular Prices.

The dissolution of one of the leading import houses in the country making a specialty of choice lace curtains enabled us to buy last week a special lot of beautiful Irish Point lace curtains at barely more than the cost of importation. We eagerly seized this opportunity thus offered to give our patrons something really unusual in curtains — the very choicest goods at prices much less than regular values.

These are beautiful brand new curtains, just from the custom house, and they include a magnificent variety of the very latest and most exclusive patterns. They come in white, cream and ecru and nothing more desirable can be found at regular prices. For this sale we have grouped the entire purchase in four bargain lots.

AT $2.50 PAIR — curtains regularly $3.50
AT $3.50 PAIR — curtains regularly $4.50
AT $5.00 PAIR — curtains regularly $6.00 and $7.00
AT $6.50 PAIR — curtains regularly $8.00 and $8.50

Drapery Department, Fifth Floor.

The Season of Dress Goods

At Its Hight This Week.

This week marks the hight of the dress goods season and our stock is now the largest of the whole year—a splendidly complete showing of every fashion favored fabric of the new season, in a wealth of the choicest colorings. No fabric that enters into the making of any garment from the simplest house dress to the most elaborate evening gown will be found missing in this magnificent display of the very choicest productions of the leading foreign and domestic mills.

R & S Poplins, Plain and Fancy

R & S Silk and Wool Poplins maintain their absolute supremacy as the most fashionable, the most beautiful and the most serviceable fabric used this season. As the exclusive agents of this fashionably famous fabric we have one of the largest lines in New England, and wholly unrivaled in this vicinity. R & S Silk and Wool Poplins meet every requirement of the new season and these beautiful goods are suited to dresses, costumes and garments of every description.

Plain Poplins

R & S Silk and Wool Poplins in the four most popular weaves — the Kilarneen, the Dubleen, the Coleen and Crepe Faille, shown in every wanted shade. From $1.25 to $2.50 yd.

Novelty Suitings

For tailored street suits the imported novelty suitings are in great demand and we show a splendid variety of the most exclusive French, English and German fabrics in all the newest weaves.

Special value in West of England suitings, 54-in. wide. Regular $2 quality at $1.25 yd.

Bordered Poplins

Beautiful bordered poplins, now in great vogue for dresses and gowns, shown in a splendid variety of stunning new designs and exquisite colorings, 48-in. wide in 40 different shades at $1.75 and $2.00 yd.

Double Faced Fabrics

The smart double-faced polo cloths are enjoying a tremendous popularity and it is almost impossible now to secure them in the most sought after colorings. We are fortunate in having an excellent line of them in both the plain colors and the fancy plaid backs. From $1.75 to $3.50 yd.

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

Gifts of Silverware

Nothing more acceptable can be offered than attractive silverware, combining good taste with a quality of endurance which assures lifelong service. Such characteristics make ware most desirable for gifts. To-day this renowned trade mark assures the purchaser not only of securing the original brand of Rogers, but the heaviest grade plate guaranteed by the makers to give absolute satisfaction.

1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE

The remarkable durability of "1847 ROGERS BROS." Silver has won it the popular title

"Silver Plate that Wears"

Knives, forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces may be procured in numerous designs, some fancy, some simple and chaste.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L," showing all patterns.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
Meriden, Conn.

Here's Something New

No more ashes to lug. No clumsy pan to spill dust and dirt on the kitchen floor.

The Glenwood Ash Chute

solves the problem. It is located just beneath the grate and connected by a sheet iron pipe straight down through the kitchen floor to ash barrel in cellar. No part is in sight. Not a particle of dust can escape. Just slide the damper once each day and drop the ashes directly into the ash barrel.

The Dust Tight Cover

to barrel is another entirely new Glenwood Idea and is very ingenious. The Ash Chute is sold complete with barrel and all connections, as illustrated, at a moderate price to fit any cabinet style Glenwood. This is only one of the splendid improvements of the Plain Cabinet Glenwood the Range without ornamentation or fancy nickel, "The Mission Style" Glenwood. Every essential refined and improved upon.

Up-To-Date Gas Attachments

This Range can be had with the latest ventilated or End Gas Range attachments and most improved Elevated water front or [illegible] end opposite the [illegible] attachments. It has a powerful hot [illegible] country use a Large Copper Reservoir on the [illegible] fire box. It can be fur

Monson News.

Death of Emanuel Foizle.

Emanuel Foizie, 64, died at his home on Cushman street Saturday afternoon at 12 15 from the effects of a shock. Mr. Foizie was born in Canada and was married there. He came to this town 28 years ago and has since resided here. He had been employed in the woolen mills and also as a wood chopper. He is survived by a widow, one son, Joseph of Lee, and four daughters, Mrs. Maurice Welsh of Huntington, Mrs. Fred Beaucher, Mrs. Eugene Murphy and Mrs. George Feidhold of Pittsfield. The funeral was held from his late home Monday morning, with services in St Patrick's church at 9 30 o'clock, Rev Thomas O'Keefe officiating; burial was in the Pearl street cemetery.

Basketball Association's Ball.

The second annual concert and ball of the Monson Basketball Association was held in Memorial Hall last Friday evening. One hundred and thirty-eight couples were on the floor and about 200 people were in the balcony. The music w a furnished by the far-famed McEnelly's singing orchestra of Milford, this being the second appearance of these famous musicians in Monson, the other being at the first ball of the basketball association last spring. Arrangements are already under way for another concert and ball the week of Thanksgiving. The first basketball game will probably be played Thanksgiving night, and the local team will have practically the same lineup as last season.

Pastor and Bride Tendered Reception.

A reception was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. F W. McConnell in the Methodist church this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock by the members of the church. There were readings by Miss Hazel H. Moore of this town. The annual church hanqnet and roll call will be held this evening from 6 to 8 30 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Mr. McConnell will speak on "Western Pioneer," and Rev. J. M. Gage, a former pastor, will speak.

Gored By a Cow.

Mrs. Frederick Davis of the western part of the town was severely gored by a cow at her home last week. The animal was trampling in a flower bed and Mrs Davis attempted to drive it away from the bed The animal attacked her and inflicted a wound two inches in length and of considerable depth in her side. She was attended by Dr. C. W. Jackson Fortunately no artery was severed.

Fell From An Apple Tree.

Arthur King, while picking apples at the James Stacy place at North Monson, was quite badly injured Monday by slipping from a ladder. He fell 25 feet to the ground. Dr. MacQuaid attended him and found his spine badly injured.

Last Chance to Register.

The registrars of voters will be in session in the selectmen's room in the town hall next Wednesday evening from 7 30 to 9 o'clock, at which time registration for the state election will cease.

Mrs. N D. Fenton is ill at her home on Main street.

A. A. Babbitt has gone to California for an indefinite stay.

E. D. Cushman is spending two weeks at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. John Pratt is seriously ill at her home on Hampden avenue.

Everett Robbins is making alterations on his house on Main street.

James Shea of Franklin spent the holiday, at his home on Park avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. F W. McConnell have returned from their wedding trip.

Alfred Monnford is building a store near his residence on Harrison avenue.

N. P. Hanley is moving his family into Mrs. John Cross' house on Main street.

A Hallowe'en party will be given Oct 19 by the Quahoag Rebekah Degree lodge.

Mrs. Manrice Ritter of Hartford, Ct., is spending a few days with Monson friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bond have gone to Los Angeles, Cal., for a stay of six weeks.

Mra Fred Moores and daughter of Park avenue have returned from a visit to Stafford.

James Garry of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a former resident, visited friends in town this week.

Mrs. George Strong of Willimantic, Ct., is visiting Mrs. N. D. Fenton on Main street.

Robert K. Squier of Boston is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Squier on Green street.

Miss Helena Coleman of North Monson is spending the week-end with relatives in Natick.

Miss Sarah Gavin of North Main street has returned from a visit with relatives in Boston.

Mrs. Willard Nelson has been called to Portsmouth, N. H., by the death of her brother.

James Livingstone and mother of North Dakota, former residents, are visiting local friends.

The Monson Coon club is very active this season, an elegant specimen was captured Tuesday night.

Joseph Brennan of Worcester spent Sunday with Miss Mary Brennan on Washington street.

John Sullivan of Margaret street has gone to Hartford, Ct., where he has accepted a position.

A. A. Babbitt of Pease avenue has gone to Pasadena, California, where he will spend the winter.

Rev. G. A. Andrews will conduct services in the Silver Street chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Henault of Cushman street has been called to Canada by the serious illness of her father

Miss Maria C. Driscoll of Springfield was a guest Sunday of Miss Margaret Doyle on Bridge street.

Miss Margaret Duggan of Warren spent Sunday with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Duggan of Green street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bryan have been called to Westerly, R. I., on account of the death of Mrs. Bryan's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shea have returned from their wedding trip and have gone to Bondsville, where they will live.

H. G. Wentworth, who has been spending a month in Skowhegan, Me., has returned to his home on Main street.

William Linnehan, who has been visiting at the home of Thomas W. Lynch on Park avenue, has returned to Hartford, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bond and four children left Wednesday for Los Angeles, California. They will return in about two months.

Most of the stores, the banks, public schools and some of the mills were closed all day yesterday in observance of Columbus Day.

Earl Hale, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hale of Harrison avenue, has returned to bis position in Allston.

William J. Doyle and son Raymond, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Welch of Bridge street, have returned to their homein Boston.

Prof. James H. Tufts gave an address to the members of the Men's Club of the Congregational church Monday evening, the subject being "Recent discoveries in Greece."

The Century Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Ricketts on Main street. Mrs. A H. Cushman had charge of the meeting, and the subject was "Current events."

Eugene Duffy of Granite street, who has been in the Mercy hospital in Springfield for several weeks following an operation on his knee, has returned to his home and is much improved.

The Woman's Relief Corps meet Wednesday evening. Besides other important business rehearsals in preparation for inspection will he held and final arrangements for their play will be made.

The members of the Dorcas society will be entertained at the club house next Wednesday afternoon at 2 30 by Mrs. C.W. Jackson, Mrs. H. E. Kendall and Miss Starr. Tea will he served at 4 30.

A rally of the Dorcas Society was held this afternoon with Mrs. R P. Cushman on Main street. Miss Frances H. Beatty of Boston gave an address before the meeting, and tea was served at 5 o'clock.

A. A. Gage camp, Sons of Veterans, held a meeting Tuesday evening in Grand Army hall. One candidate was initiated, and arrangements were made to assist the Woman's Relief Corps in their entertainment to he given October 18th.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps of this town Miss Marion Wilson will present character sketches in Memorial hall next Wednesday evening. Miss Wilson is a university graduate with a master of arts degree. The tickets go on sale at Bradway's newsroom Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Plans For Big Fox Hunt.

New England Fox Hunters' Club to Meet In Belchertown Soon.

The seventh annual meeting of the New England Fox Hunters' Club will be held in Belchertown the week of the 23d and including the 28th. Headqnarters will be at the Park View Hotel and it is expected that it will he the biggest event ever held by the club. Members of the club in this section are N. A. Bliss, C. E. Brown, Mason Drew, J F. Harwood, E. C. Mann, C. L Morse, E F Mitchell, J. C. Murdock, H. M. Slate, M. C Smith, F. A. Underwood, Dr D. S. Wheeler and J. Wilcox, all of Athol; R. O Baggs, L. W. Dillon, B. F. Fellows, J V. Jewett, J W. Jackson, H. D Pease, R G Shaw, H F. Shaw, W. F. Shaw, H. Spencer, F D Walker, Chester Wood, all of Belchertown; A. S. Cleavens, Mason Drew, E. S. Mitchell, J. C. Murdock, C. B Swan, M C. Smith, F. A. Underwood, of Athol; Dr. G. A. Cummings, A. H. Eldredge, Arthur Thayer of Ware, D T. Cowing of Hadley, L L Dickinson of Amherst, E. J. Duncan of Palmer, H E. Hangood, H. L. Pierce of Barre, F L. Lee of West Springfield, H J. Laplante of Pelham, F. H. Richards, M. J. Stevens of Springfield, A. E Williamson of Northampton.

WARE.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Menard.

Mrs. Elizabeth Menard, 80, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Deroalera, on Otis avenne early Sunday morning of illness incident to old age. She was born in Contre Coenr, P. Q., where she married Frank Chaput, who died 16 years ago. She came to the United States 40 years ago, and had lived in Northboro up to five months ago, at that time coming to Ware. Seven years ago she married Frank Menard, who died two years ago. She leaves one son, Louis Chapnt of Ware; four daughters, Mrs. Louise Laurence of Montreal, P. Q., Mrs. William Menard of Northboro, Mrs. Moise Jacqnes and Mrs. Frank Desrosiers of Ware, and one brother, Alfred Pelky of Millbnry. The funeral was held Tuesday morning with services in Mt. Carmel church, and burial in Marlboro Demontelle—Deslauriers.

The marriage of Wilfred Deslauriers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deslauriers of South street, and Miss Malvina Demontelle took place Monday morning at 7 in Mt Carmel church, Rev. W. J Lucy officiating. The heat man was Ernest Laplerre and Miss Almaline Deslauriers was bridesmaid. The bride's gown was white messaline, with an overdress of white net, and she wore a veil and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid wore tan voile, with a black picture hat. A reception was held after the ceremony, Rohan catering. After a wedding trip to Boston and Providence, R. I., the couple will live in Ware.

Brannigan—Loftus.

Miss Katharine Brannigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brannigan of Pleasant street, was united in marriage Wednesday morning to Dr. John Leo Loftus of Merlden, Ct., Rev. J. J. Roberts performing the ceremony in All Saints' church, at 10 o'clock. The two bridesmaids were Misses Minnie A. and Sadie E. Brannigan, sisters of the bride, and Walter J. Loftus of Worcester, brother of the groom, was best man After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, Rehboli Sona' Company of Worcester catering. The couple left for an automobile tonr and on their return will live in Meriden.

School For Polish People.

Plans are nnder way for the starting of a school for Polish speaking people for the purpose of teaching them English. Abont 60 have enrolled, most of them being unable to speak English. Classes will be held two nights a week for the present, and probably three nights later. George W. Dilion, graduate of Holy Cross, 1906, will be the instrnctor. The first class will be held next Monday evening

Overseer of Poor Resigns.

Overseer of Poor Amie Girard has handed his resignation to the selectmen to take effect November 1. Mr Girard has been a member of the board for the past six years, but recently moved to Chicopee Falls, where he has a position.

The following have been drawn for the October sitting of the traverse jury: Frederic B. Clark, Pierre Durand and Anton Bonnayer

Walter H. Apperson of the Otis Company's office force has bought of George Smith the house on Walnut street which has been occupied by Andrew Ballantyne.

Gladys, the 12-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E Marsh of Eddy street, was operated on for appendicitis at the Ware hospital Saturday evening. She is making a rapid recovery.

Lawyers on a Strike.

Over 300 years ago one of the most unusnal strikes ever recorded took place in Paris, when all the lawyers walked ont, so to speak. A law or ordonnance was issned and promulgated by the French king Henry III. ordering all lawyers to sign their pleadings and to state the amount they were charging their clients for their services. This was done so that the lawyers could be properly and sufficiently taxed on their income. The lawyers objected, and the strike, causing an entire stay of judicial proceedings, followed. Peace was restored by the nonenforcement of the ordonnance, though it was not repealed.

Refrain from covetousness and thy estate shall prosper. — Plato.

Rain Spoils the Fair.

[Continued from First Page.]

main. W F Darling 50, E E Kittredge 25; Fall Porters, A B Howard & Son 50, E E Kittredge 25; Baldwins, A A Warriner of Warren 50, A E Shopard 25; Roxbury Russetts, A A Warriner 50, A E Shepard 25; R I Greenings, A E Shepard 50, A A Warriner 25; Northern Spies, A E Shepard 50, A A Warriner 25; Holland Pippins, A E Shepard 50; Duchess of Oldenburg, A B Howard & Son 50, A E Shepard 25; Wealthy, A B Howard & Son 50, Mrs J H Carpenter 25; A B Hubbardston, A B Howard & Son 50, J K Butler 25; King Tompkins, A B Howard & Son 50; Red Astrachan, A B Howard & Son 50; Yellow Transparent, A B Howard & Son 50; Maiden Blush, A B Howard & Son 50, J T Geer 25; Fall Pippin, G H B Greene 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Golden Sweet, G H B Green 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Sweet Bough, A B Howard & Son 50, Sutton Beauty, Mrs J H Carpenter 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Tolman Sweet, A A Warriner 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Fallawater, A B Howard & Son 50, A A Warriner 25; Bellflower, A A Warriner 50, A E Shepard 25; Sysconb, A A Warriner 50, A E Shepard 25; Glori Mundi, A E Shepard 50, A B Howard & Son 25; McIntosh Red, O A Parent of Bondsville 50, A E Shepard 25; Gilliflower, A E Shepard 50, Mrs J H Carpenter 25; Bailey Sweet, A B Howard & Son 50, A E Shepard 25; Pound Sweet, Brookmont Farm 50, A E Shepard 25; Delaware Red, A E Shepard 50; Red Canada, A B Howard & Son 50; Spitzenburg, A B Howard & Son 50, J T Geer 25; Peck's Pleasant, A B Howard & Son 50; Jonathan, A B Howard & Son 50; Ben Davis, A B Howard & Son 50; Rome Beauty, A B Howard & Son 50; Minister, A B Howard & Son 50; McLellan, A B Howard & Son 50; Congress, J T Geer 25, A B Howard & Son 25; Hay State, A B Howard & Son 50; Walter Pease, A B Howard & Son 50, O A Parent 25; Beach, A B Howard & Son 50; Champion, A B Howard & Son 50; Winterstein, A B Howard & Son 50; Pennock, A B Howard & Son 50; Sweet Russett, A B Howard & Son 50; Swoor Sweet, A B Howard & Son 50; Lady's Sweet, A B Howard & Son 50; Cahashea, A B Howard & Son 50; York Imperial, A B Howard & Son 50; Victoria Sweet, A B Howard & Son 50; Pinshing Spitzenburg, A B Howard & Son 50; Red Sweet, A B Howard & Son 50; Fameuse, A B Howard & Son 50, J T Geer 25; Winesop, A B Howard & Son 50; Stark, A B Howard & Son 50; Walbridge, A B Howard & Son 50; Seek-no further, A B Howard & Son 50, J K Butler 25; Haas, J K Butler 50; King, James Savage of Monson 50, J K Butler 25; Novelty, C A Lamphear 50; Salome, J T Geer 50; Wolf River, J T Geer 50, James Savage 25; Golden Russett, J T Geer 50; Wagener, J T Geer 50; Transcendant Crab, A B Howard & Son 50; Red Russett, A B Howard & Son 50; Early Strawberry, A B Howard & Son 50; Lawver, A B Howard & Son 50; Siberian Crab, Mrs S A Smith 50; Lyscome, G H B Greene 25; William's Favorite, G H B Greene 50; Marigold, G H B Greene 50; Pomme Royal, G H B Greene 50; Grimes Golden, G H B Greene 50; Marm, G H B Greene 50; Arctic, J K Butler 50. Collection of Pears. A B Howard & Son 2.50, A B Howard & Son 1.50, G H B Greene 1. Pears, single varieties—Lawrence, A B Howard & Son 50, A K Howe of Monson 25; Seckel, A E Shepard 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Clapgeau, H B Greene 50, A E Shepard 25; Keiffer, A B Howard & Son 50, A E Shepard 25; Buffum, G H B Greene 50, A E Shepard 25; Bartlett, F W Rogers 50, A B Howard & Son 25; Clapp's Favorite, A B Howard & Son 50; Onondaga, A B Howard & Son 50; Vicar, A B Howard & Son 50; Winter Neller, A B Howard & Son 50; Louise Bonne, A B Howard & Son 50; Diana Hovey, A B Howard & Son 50; Vermont Beauty, A B Howard & Son 50, J K Butler 25; Boussonch, A B Howard & Son 50, G H B Greene 25; Sheldon, G H B Greene 50, F N Lawrence 25; Beaurre de Anjou, J K Butler 50; Howell, J K Butler 50; Buro Bosc, Mrs J H Carpenter 50; Ritter, G H B Greene 50; Anjou, M St John 25. Display of Plums, A B Howard & Son 2.50 Plums, single varieties—Lombard, A B Howard & Son 50; Italian Prune, A B Howard & Son 50; Bradshaw, A B Howard & Son 50; Prince Englebert, A B Howard & Son 50; Wild Goose, A B Howard & Son 50; Seedling, A B Howard & Son 50; French Damson, A B Howard & Son 50; Imperial Gage, A B Howard & Son 50; Tatze, A B Howard & Son 50; Yellow Gage, A B Howard & Son 50; Chas Downing, A B Howard & Son 50; German Prune, A B Howard & Son 50. Display of Peaches, F D Rogers 2.50, A E Shepard 1.50. Peaches, single varieties—Crawford, C A Lamphear 50; Fox Seedling, F W Rogers 50; Salway, F W Rogers 50; Crosby, F W Rogers 50; Elberta, F W Rogers 50; Smoeb, F W Rogers 50. Display of Grapes, J K Butler 2.50. Grapes, single varieties—Brighton, J K Butler 50; Concord, A B Howard & Son 50, J K Butler 25; Rocklington, F D Rogers 50; Geneva, F D Rogers 50; Wilder, F D Rogers 50; Eaton, F D Rogers 50; Martha, F D Rogers 50; Charter Oak, F D Rogers 50; Early Ohio, F D Rogers 50; Delaware, J K Butler 50. Basket of Frnits, A B Howard & Son 1. Mrs Charles Lamphear 75. Cranberries, F N Lawrence 50, E L Richardson 25. Champion Quince, A B Howard & Son 50, A E Shepard 25. Apers Quinces, A B Howard & Son 50. Orange Quince, A B Howard & Son 50.

Class 57 Vegetables—124 entries. Collection of Vegetables, C E Booth 6 and Burpee prize of 5 for best display. Collection of Potatoes, H D Vaille of Monson 2, F N Lawrence 1. Single varieties—Carmen No 2, W E Cooley 25; Irish Red, W F Cooley 25; Green Mountain, A K Howe 50, J T Geer 25, J T Vaille gratuity of 25; Early Rochester, A K Howe 50 A E Shepard 25, A K Howe 50; Donble Yielder, H D Vaille 50, A K Howe 25; Sensation, H D Vaille gratuity of 25; Dewdrop, A K Howe gratuity of 25; Shenango, A K Howe 50; Colorado Blue, A K Howe 25; Delaware, H D Vaille 50, H K Howe 25, F N Lawrence gratuity of 25; Uncle Sam, H D Vaille 50, F N Lawrence 25; Petosky, F N Lawrence gratuity of 25; Carmen No. 1 H D Vaille 50, F N Lawrence 25; Silver King, F N Lawrence gratuity of 25; Gold Coin, H D Vaille 50, F N Lawrence 25; Bonanza, F N Lawrence gratuity of 25; Early Harvest, H D Vaille 50; F N Lawrence 25; Early Rose, H D Vaille 50, F N Lawrence 25; Early Sunrise, F N Lawrence gratuity of 25; State of Maine, John McDermott gratuity of 50; Mainster, H D Vaille gratuity of 25; Early Surprise, F D Rogers 50, H D Vaille, gratuity of 25; Stray Beauty, H D Vaille 50; Mill's Prize, H D Vaille 50; Knox All, H D Vaille, gratuity of 25; Colorado Blue, H D Vaille 50; Sir Walter Raleigh, H D Vaille 50; Hammond's Wonderful, H D Vaille gratuity of 25; Early Norther, F D Rogers 50, H D Vaille 25; Rural New Yorker, H D Vaille 50; Carmen No. 3, H D Vaille 50; Admiral Dewey, H E Vaille 50; Cobbler, H D Vaille 50; New Queen, H D Vaille 50; Early Surprise, F D Rogers 50 Collection of Squash, H D Vaille 1 50. Single varieties—Hubbard, C E Booth 50; Delicious, Brookmont Farm, 50, C E Booth 25; Marrow, H D Vaille 50. Tomatoes—Yellow, A E Shepard 50, F N Lawrence 25; Red, F N Lawrence 50, C A Lamphear 25. Sugar Pumpkins, Otto Voght of Monson 50 Beets—Turnip Blood, C E Booth 50; Sugar, C E Booth 50; Golden Tankhard, C A Lamphear 25; Dewing, W M Tucker 25. Parsnips, C E Booth 50. Carrots, C E Booth 25. Salsify, C E Booth 50. Turnips—Yellow Globe, C E Booth 50; White Egg, C E Booth 50; Purple Top, C E Booth 50, C Lamphear 25. Onions —Red, H D Vaille 50 C E Booth 25; Yellow, C E Booth 50; White, C E Booth 50. Collection of Peppers, Michael Davedo 75. Red Cabbage, C E Booth 50; Savoy Cabbage, C E Booth 1; Fottler's Brunswick Cabbage, W M Tucker 1 Cauliflower, F D Rogers 75. Collection of Watermelons, F W Merriam of Palmer 75, C A Lamphear 50. Collection of Muskmelons, C A Lamphear 50. Mangolds, H D Vaille 50, C E Booth 25. Lettuce, Mrs C A Lanphear gratuity of 25. Lima Beans, C E Booth 75 Sweet Corn, H D Vaille 50. Collection of Root Crops, C A Booth 2.

Class 58. Grain and Seeds—12 entries. Barley, A T Allen 25. Buckwheat, A T Allen 50 and 25. Pole Beans, F D Rogers 50 Bush Beans, F D Rogers 50 Yellow-Eye Beans, E L Richardson 50. Red Kidney Beans, E L Richardson 50. White Field Beans, A K Howe of Monson 50.

Class 59. Corn—17 entries. White Dent, F D Rogers 1 50. Yellow Flint, A Burdick 1.50, J. T. Geer of Three Rivers 1, E E Kittredge of Spencer 75. White Flint, A Burdick 1.50. White Dent, F D Rogers 75. Yellow Dent, C E Booth 75, F D Rogers 50. White Flint, A Burdick 75. Yellow Flint, F D Rogers 75, A Burdick 50. 3 Stalks Dent Corn, C E Booth 75. 3 Stalks Flint Corn, F D Rogers 75. 3 Stalks Ensilage Corn, F D Rogers 75.

Class 61. Flowers—16 entries. Best display, F D Rogers 2. Asters, F D Rogers 75, Mrs Charles Lamphear of Palmer 50. Dahlies, A E Shepard of Globe Village 75, Helen Bradway of Monson 50. Chrysanthemums, F D Rogers 75. Petunias, F D Rogers 75. Parlor Bonquet, E L Johnson of Monson 75. Plants in Pots, Jennie E Brainard of Palmer 1 50. Pansies, F D Rogers 75, Mrs S A Smith of Brimfield 50, Mrs Charles Lamphear of Palmer gratuity of 25. Dianthns, F D Rogers 75. Foliage Plants, Miss Jennie Brainerd 1.50. Collection of 5 kinds of plants, F D Rogers gratuity 75.

Class 62. Grange Exhibits—1 entry. Palmer Grange 20.

Class 63. Dairy Department—15 entries. Dairy Butter, F D Rogers 5, H D Vaille of Monson 4, A E Shepard 3, Mrs S A Smith 2, Mrs Charles Lamphear 1. Creamery Butter, F N Lawrence of Brimfield 5. Granular Butter, A E Shepard 2, H D Vaille 1. Cheese, A E Shepard 2.

Class 64. Bread and Cake—17 entries. Wheat Bread, Mrs J W Brainerd of Palmer 75, Mrs W M Tucker of Monson 50. Entire Wheat Bread, Mrs W M Tucker 75, Mrs W E Taylor 50. Rye and Indian Bread, Mrs F N Lawrence 75. Layer Cake, Mrs W M Tucker 75, Mrs F N Lawrence 50. Loaf Cake, Mrs H D Geer 75, Mrs W M Tucker 50. Girls under 15 years of age. Wheat bread, Alice E. Booth of Belchertown 75. Loaf Cake, Florence Ballou of Monson 75.

Class 65. Canned Fruit and Pickles—3 entries. Collection Canned Frnit, Mrs J T Geer 3, Mrs A W Johnson 2. Jellies, Mrs A W Johnson 50.

Class 66. Bees and Honey—2 entries. Bees, A E Shepard 2. Honey, A E Shepard 1.

Class 67. Fancy Articles—39 entries. Mrs Susan Gaffney of Palmer, sofa pillow 15, baby petticoat 25. Mrs F N Lawrence, embroidered pincushion 20. Miss Mary Higgins of Monson, sofa pillow 25. Mrs W M Tucker, embroidered towel 20, doilies 30. Ella King Cycle of Palmer Center, hnreau scarf 10, jabot 15, embroidered card case 10, 2 shark's eggs 10. Mrs W C Meacham of Monson, hnreau scarf 25, rose doily 25. Mrs George Horan of Palmer, plush crazy pillow 15, pillow 20, picture frame 20. Elizabeth Woodhead of Palmer, doilies 90, tie 10. Edith A Fillmore of Palmer, pillow 35, towel 10. apron 10, 3 crocheted mats 25, apron 20, 3 doilies 1.25. Miss Lucy Geer of Three Rivers, 2 doilies 55, handkerchief 15, embroidered wallet 50. Mrs H D Geer of Three Rivers, handkerchief 25. Miss Mabel Edson of Palmer, 2 aprons 25, doily 15, pincushion 15. B Anna Murphy of Palmer, bureau cover 25, 3 doilies 40, pin cnshion 15, apron 15. Mrs L E Carpenter of Palmer, ladies' crocheted jacket 35, infants' kimono 15, knitted boots 35, 2 pair infant's knitted socks 15, ladies' fascinator 20. Mrs John W Brainerd, 2 doll hair pin holders 15, 5 piece lunch set 65, laundry bag 10. Mrs Nelson Whiton, 2 tatting handkerchiefs 25, centerpiece 20, doily 15. Mrs Frank Entwistle of Monson 2 embroidered sofa pillows 50, sofa pillow 20, 2 picture frames 55, work bag 25, centerpiece 50. Mrs A P Rindge of Monson, embroidered waist 35, apron 10. Mrs L A Osgood of Palmer, infant's bib 10, waist 25, collar 15, apron 10. Miss Julia Shearer of Palmer, hnrn[illegible] placqnes, 25, centerpiece 50. Mrs C W [illegible] Miss [illegible] 25, embroidered aprons 25, 2 dra[illegible] work of Palmer, bureau cover 50. Miss Blanche McGro towels 20, bu[illegible] of Palmer, crochet beauty pins 10, belt buckle 10, collar bag 15, pink embroidered ap[illegible] guest towels 10, crochet in[illegible] guest towels 15, face cbamois 5, gre[illegible] guest towels 10.

The best plaster A piece of flan[illegible] dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one-tenth as much. For sale by all dealers.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

A STEP BACKWARD

By WILLIS BEACH POTTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

A young clergyman fresh from a theological seminary entered a gambling den in Dead Man's Gulch and, standing in the center of the room, said in a sonorous voice:

"You are invited to attend a prayer meeting in Tompson's wood to commence at 5 o'clock. It is now a quarter to 4. I trust that every man present will be there."

Instead of every man showing a willingness to go to Tompson's wood every man proceeded with what he was doing, which was principally gambling.

The young clergyman—he might have been twenty-seven or twenty-eight years old—looked mildly upon this want of response, not in the least discouraged, and was about to leave the saloon when his attention was attracted to a young girl who came in, approached a table where half a dozen men were playing poker, and, putting her arms around the neck of one of the players, begged him to leave.

"Do come home, father," she said. "Mother is sick and your being here worries her."

"After I've played a few hands more, Effie. I've had a long run of bad luck, which is sure to turn."

The clergyman from the moment the girl entered was visibly affected by her presence. Going to the table, he looked over the game for awhile, then said to her father: "If you go home I'll see what I can do to recover your losses." Every one looked up at the speaker surprised, especially the man addressed. He rose, leaving seven or eight dollars on the table, and, telling his daughter to go home and say to her mother that he would be there soon, stood looking over the game.

His fellow gamesters were five stool pigeons and one card sharp. They had fleeced the man who had given up his place out of nearly all the money he possessed. The clergyman steadily won, but in small amounts, till he had increased the pile before him to several hundred dollars. Then the card sharp gave his stool pigeons a look and opened the next hand for a jack pot. All stayed in for one round, then dropped out on the second, and on the third the betting was left to the card sharp and the clergyman, who continued to raise each other till the pot resembled a miniature mountain.

By this time there were a number of lookers on, and the excitement waxed high. A clergyman playing against Dave Simpson, who was known for the slickest card sharp at Dead Man's Gulch, was an interesting sight to see. When the two men tired of raising each other Simpson "called" the clergyman. This by the rules of the game compelled the latter to show his hand first, an evident disadvantage to him, playing with a light fingered opponent who might increase his hand after knowing what the clergyman held.

The broad brim of the parson's clerical felt hat was pulled down over his eyes, and his cards were held close under them. Presently he said mildly:

"I see four kings in my hand, and nothing will beat four kings except four aces. Since I've got an ace, too, there's no way for you to beat me except by introducing an ace from another pack, which would, to say the least, be irregular. I'm going to show my cards, and if you have that fifth ace I'd advise you to keep it dark."

The speaker seemed to be troubled by an itching at the back of his neck and put a hand up to scratch. When he withdrew his hand he held in it a knife eight inches long, which he held over his opponent. The latter retained his nerve, sitting motionless.

"You're no parson," he said. "Who are you?"

"I am a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church. My name is James Sykes, formerly a desperado and blackleg, but reformed."

Throwing his cards on the table, he told the man for whom he played to scoop in the pot.

Every one had heard of Jim Sykes, and not a man among the gamblers dared to tackle him. He went home with the man he had befriended and on arrival said:

"You people have forgotten me, but I haven't forgotten you. Once when a posse was after me to hang me this young lady, then a slip of a girl, hid me and saved my neck. These funds are a small token of my gratitude."

He took the girl's hand in his and looked into her eyes with his, which were full of gratitude.

"I remember," she said, "six or seven years ago a young man coming to our house and telling me that he was hunted for his life, but he could not possibly be you. He was a frightful looking object. You, on the contrary, are the personification of all that is good."

"And what made the change in me? The little girl who saved my life. I resolved that her effort should not be in vain. I determined to live for the good instead of the bad. I was converted by an evangelist and joined the Methodist church. Now I am a worker in the vineyard of the Lord."

And before he left he had secured a helpmeet to work with him in his new field. The couple worked exclusively among the roughest classes, for which labor on account of his experience with them the husband was eminently fitted. There are a number of these western towns which were once sinks of iniquity that are now reputable places, made so by our hero and heroine.

The Line of Life.

The line of life curves from the side of the hand between the thumb and forefinger around the base of the thumb to the center of the wrist joint. According to chiromancy (the pretended art of judging the character and foretelling the fortune of a person from the aspect of the hand), if this line in the left palm is regular and deeply colored it predicts a long and happy life; torthous, colorless, feebly marked and broken it announces ill health and short life; narrow, but long and well colored, it indicates wisdom and ingennity; broad and pale it is a sign of folly; deep and unequally colored it denotes malice.—New York Telegram.

Duel With Horsewhips.

A novel but brutal form of duel between two carters took place at Baja, Hnngary. Being both in love with the daughter of the farmer who employed them, they decided to fight for her with their heavy horsewhips, the girl agreeing to act as umpire and accept the winner. In order to insure that there should be no running away, they first fastened themselves to two posts in the ground. The girl gave the signal to begin, and the two men, who were stripped to the waist, began to belabor each other with such fury that long bleeding welts soon covered their faces, arms and bodies. Unable to bear the horrible sight, the girl ran away for help. When she came back with some of the neighbors they found the two men lying on the ground covered with blood and exhausted. The duel was declared a draw.

Curious Old Legend.

Here is a curious legend of Cologne. Once upon a time there was a burgomeister of the town whose wife died and was buried. In the evening thieves, seeking to take jewels from the dead, opened the coffin. Now it happened that the woman was not dead, but in a trance, and when the thieves broke into her burial place she awoke and went to her home. There she called a servant, who ran in fear to his master and told him what had happened. The scared burgomeister replied to this, "I would sooner believe that my horses were looking out of the top floor window than believe that such a thing could be." Scarcely had the words left his mouth than he heard horses galloping up the stairs. In memory of this and of the return of his wife he had two horses' heads in stone set in a top floor window of his house, where they remain to this day.

A Real Patriot.

"Let's see," said the lawyer who had met an out of town acquaintance on a street car, according to the New Orleans Pleayune, "doesn't your town soon hold an election?"

"It does."

"And I suppose you take a lively interest in it?"

"Well, not too lively—not as lively as I used to."

"Interest falling off, eh? Didn't you run for mayor two or three years ago?"

"I have run for mayor of my town seven successive times, sir."

"And been—been"—

"Been defeated every time, sir."

"Then you probably won't run again?"

"That's uncertain. I am going to inquire around and find if I am really the man they want. If I am, then I'll take the candidacy; if not, then I will try to defeat the man they do want."

A 50 cent bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment will last longer than the most aggravated case of sore throat. A most effective remedy for cold on chest, croup, etc. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,

Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

at store on Main St.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

Tailored Suits, $

Misses' and Women's Sizes

Three different styles, stylish plain tailored coats, lined in good quality guarant[illegible] skirts that hang properly. In serges, cheviots, nub Suitings, in black, navy and [illegible] Special, $15.95

Hand-Tailored Suits

$19.75 $29.75 $34.75

In Women's Sizes, 34 to 47 In Misses' Sizes, 14 to 20

At these three prices we show nearly 300 Hand-Tailored Suits. In the fashionable rough materials, in corduroy, in mixtures, in men's wear sergcs, in black, navy, brown, gray, coronation and green, in semi-fancy and plain tailored suits and in the much-favored Norfolk styles,

$19.75, $29.75 and $34.75

Tailored Suits

For Junior Misses—13 to 17 years

$12.50 $15.95 $22.50 $25.00

Stylish suits made by tailors who cater to the younger set. Serges, cheviots, corduroy and mixtures. Some in two-piecc Norfolk and braided models and others in a three-piecc dress and coat types. Spccial values at

$12.50, 15.50, 22.50 and 25.00

Three New Styles Saturday in

Waverly Serge Dresses, $7.95

We will show three new styles Saturday in these popular Waverly Dresses, made in French all-wool serge, $1 25 quality, in black, navy and coronation. Special $7.95

Stylish Coats for Girls

6 to 16 years

We have just opened a new shipment of Girls' Coats, stylish, plain, man-tailored models, made by a maker of boys' clothes. They are in chinchilla, cheviot, mixture and corduroy. Some are high button type, others the notch collar, all warm and sturdily made. The prices are

$3.98, 5.95, 7.95 to 16.50

2d Floor.

New Waists

For Your New Suit

Hundreds of beautiful Waists just received.

Silk and Chiffon Waists, $3.98 to 25.00

New Lingerie Waists, winter style, 98c, $1.98 and 2.98

New White Voile and Crepe Waists, $2.98, 5.95 and 7.95

New Waists in short styles, in linen, $1.98 and $2.98

New Hand Embroidered Linen Waists, $2.98 and $5.00

New Waists in short styles, in satin and crepe de chine, $5.95

Street Dresses

For Women and Misses

In Serge, Velvet, Corduroy and Broadcloth. The serge dresses are made by man tailors, are real straightline silhouette type, some with touchcs of braid, others have Irish crochet. The velvets, corduroys and broadcloths are in black, navy and brown and are in the very latest designs

$10.95, 19.75 up to $175

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

ACKNOWLEDGED IT.

Palmer Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Citizens Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this representative citizen of Palmer given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, 25 Squier St., Palmer, Mass., says: "Undoubtedly my ace had as much to do with my kidneys becoming weak and disordered as anything. My back ached almost constantly and often I was so dizzy that I could not stand alone. The kidney secretions also bothered me and my health was all run down. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a supply at Lynde & Gould's Drug Store and began their use. They proved to be what I needed, soon restoring me to good health." (Statement given Angnst 13, 1908)

A LATER STATEMENT.

Mrs. Maxwell was interviewed on June 14, 1911, and she said: "I willingly confirm my former statement, regarding Doan's Kidney Pills. They are

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME L[illegible] PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 20, 1911. NUMBER 29.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

Palmer Trucking Co.

Light and Heavy Trucking.

To Ice Takers:
Books good for 500 lbs. Ice, $1.50
If cash is paid in advance, $1.40
Give us your orders for
PURE SPRING WATER ICE.
Palmer Ice Co.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed.....$1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed.....1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed.....85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop

PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. and 3.50 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.30 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 a. m. and 2.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London, 5.25 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry.
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.

H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE Clerk.

AUDITORS.

W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. C. F. Smith.
H. E. W. Clark. E. E Hobson.

TRUSTEES.

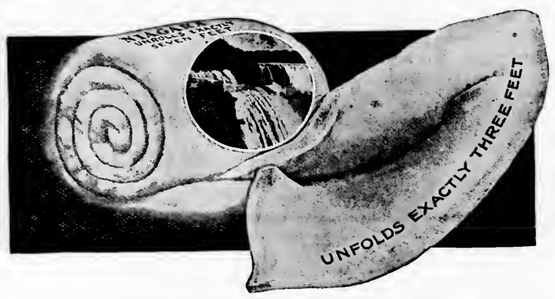
H. G. Loomis, W. E. Stone, J. O. Hamilton
H. E. W. Clark, G. D. Mooers, L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell, L. R. Holden, C. L. Wald
Geo. S Holden, C. F Fuller, K R. Taylor
M. J. Dillon, C. F Smith, C A LeGro.
E. E. Hobson. G. A. Rice.

TREASURER.
C. L. WALD.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BANKING HOURS: 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

The Antalgica



Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so[illegible] ailments it should be in every household, [illegible] all kinds of pains both internal and [illegible]bial affections it is un[illegible] market. It is a

You'll Take Pleasure in Using This Batting

One roll makes a fine comfortable.

Price 75c roll.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

JOHNSON'S SURPRISE—An excellent Bread Flour, $6.25 per bbl., 80c for 1-8 bag.
FANCY GREEN MOUNTAIN POTATOES, 25c peck. 95c bushel.
CRANBERRIES, 10c quart.
HADLEY ONIONS, 5c quart, 25c peck.

W. E. Stone & Son, Palmer.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.

The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works

W. H. MacLean, Prop.

10 Converse St., rear of High School.

S. H. Wright,

64 Pleasant Street,

Lock and Gunsmith.

Light Repairing of every Description.

Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer, Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 890 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

[illegible]KER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Silver of Quality

Rely on your own judgment as to pattern, but remember durability is the most important feature.

1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE is the name stamped on the back of spoons, forks and fancy serving pieces in silver plate of proven quality—

"Silver Plate that Wears".

Wide latitude for choice is offered in the many exquisite designs.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for Catalogue "C-L," showing all designs.

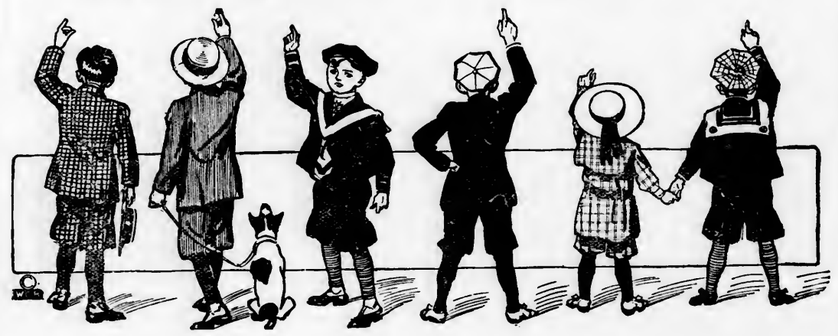
Meriden Britannia Co. (International Silver Co., Successor.) Meriden, Conn.

Haynes & Company

Always Reliable

Springfield, Massachusetts

Boys' Clothes for Fall and Winter



The immense line of Boys' Clothing that we show in our Boys' Department makes the choosing of pleasing wearables for the boys an easy matter.

You'll find a wide range of fabrics that both look well and will wear well—styles that the boys like and ones that you will like to see them wear—every garment you will find made up strong and well.

It's a splendid time, right now, to fit out the boys while our line is largest, and everything new, and every size of every line here.

The values are ones that you will be pleased to secure.

Mail orders promptly and carefully filled—satisfaction guaranteed—we prepay express.

If Your Old Range Doesn't Suit—Try A Glenwood

Most HouseKeepers Use One you would if you knew about it.

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLY.

Good Audience Out in Rain of Wednesday Evening.

GOV. FOSS ONE OF THE SPEAKERS.

But He Arrived Late. Outline of Matters Done and Undone and Needed Done.

A goodly number—about 150—braved the storm Wednesday evening to attend a Democratic rally in the opera house, although no notice of it had been given until late the evening before. Gov Foss was the drawing card, but he did not appear until nearly 10 o'clock. The stumping party attempted to cover Warren, Palmer, Monson and Ludlow on the same night, shifting the speakers from one place to another, and the wet condition of the roads from the rain which had fallen all day made automobiling slow work consequently there was a belated schedule all around.

John P. O'Connor, chairman of the Democratic town committee, called the meeting to order and introduced Dr. George A Moore as the chairman of the evening. He introduced Frank J. Donahue, candidate for secretary of state, as the first speaker.

According to Mr. Donohue, his opponent, A. P Langtry of Springfield, has been exceedingly neglectful of the duties of his office and made many mistakes which he should have avoided. In regard to the campaign as a whole, he claimed the issue to be the restoration of the government to the hands of the people. He claimed that 100 manufacturers have subscribed $1000 to defeat the Democratic ticket, and that every banking and brokerage house has passed the word that Foss must be defeated. Foss stands for government for the people, and his record and that of the Legislature of this year is the greatest in the history of the state.

Alexis Boyer Jr., candidate for senator in the Worcester-Hampden district, was the next speaker. He said that if Foss is elected the mills of the state will not close, as is claimed by the Republicans. He commended Foss for the passage of the 54-hour law for women and children, and spoke of the breaking away from previous discrimination in the making of appointments by the governor. If elected the speaker would vote for an income tax and for direct election of United States senators.

There was a wait of close to an hour after Mr. Boyer had closed before the arrival of the next speaker, David I. Walsh, candidate for lieutenant governor, who came from Ludlow. Mr. Walsh said, among other things, "We live under a representative government and elect public officials to do what we want done. Why do we have a governor, lieutenant governor, senators and representatives, but to work for and serve the interests of the Commonwealth. A public official should consider it an honor to give service to his fellowmen. When you go to the booth on election day ask one thing, 'Do these men represent me in the government?' If a man marks his ballot because either man is a Democrat or a Republican he fails in his duty to his government. I refuse to talk tariff. I prefer to talk state issues. The state has had a Democratic governor for 10 months and he advanced more progressive legislation than any governor in this generation. One-half of the appointees to judicial positions have been Republicans, and during the last 10 years not a single Democrat has been appointed to any high-salaried position. His closing statement was that the Democratic party has cleared itself the past year of the control of paid interests, which still dominate the Republican party."

Gov. Foss came into the hall while Mr. Walsh was speaking, and was the next to be introduced. He began by expressing the utmost confidence in his reelection, also in the election of Mr. Walsh. Not content with already placing—as he claimed—more progressive legislation on the statute books than has been placed there in the last 50 years, there is still more to be done, and he asked for a Democratic Legislature that the good work might go on. Over 70 per cent of the suggestions in his inaugural message had been carried out, he said.

"Do you believe in the income tax? I do. I believe the man who has the money should pay the taxes; that the burden should be taken from the backs of the people. It is the most equitable form of taxation known. In England and France men are honest enough to rise up and report their incomes, and I believe we have men honest enough in Massachusetts to do this. We are not going to stand this tariff. We shall raise our money from some other source, and that source is the income tax. The stand-pat Republicans are not in favor of a national or a state income tax; I am in favor of both. I hope the thing will go through, and it will if you will give us a Democratic Legislature."

Among other things advocated by the governor were direct election of senators; parcels post; regulation of express companies; preelection publication of campaign expenses; public utilities board; a department of labor which shall care for the interests of all industrial workers and enforce the labor laws on the statute books; a state finance commission to supervise all state expenses—$15 000,000 is raised by taxation and is not properly supervised but is wasted in many ways. He expressed himself as greatly surprised at some of the things found in prisons of the state, and advocated sweeping reforms and changes. He claimed that young first offenders were put in with hardened criminals, and that articles made by criminals were sold in the markets in competition with free labor. The depositing of public funds in the banks and trust companies was advocated, bids for the use of the money to be made and the state to be protected from loss by United States bonds. A revision of taxation was also suggested, as well as an income tax.

The last speaker was Charles B. Strecker, candidate for auditor, who predicted the election of Foss. If elected auditor he would see that the bills of the state had proper and careful attention.

Hampden Railroad Leased.

The stockholders of the Boston and Maine railroad, at a recent meeting in Boston, voted to lease the property and franchise of the proposed Hampden railroad, which it is expected will be built from Springfield to Bondsville in the town of Palm[illegible]. This is only what has [illegible] expected, for it [illegible] understood that [illegible] projected to [illegible] between the N[illegible] and Maine roads [illegible] practically.

Barre Wins Track Meet.

Palmer Fair Athletics, Postponed By Rain, Run Off Last Saturday.

The track meet which was scheduled for Saturday, the last day of the Palmer Fair, between high schools in this vicinity, but postponed on account of the rain, was held on the park last Saturday. For some reason only four of the eight schools originally entered took part, but the several events were closely contested and there was much interest and enthusiasm among the followers of the several teams. Barre captured the cup with a total of 20 points; Palmer was second with 17 and Warren third with 14. Spencer competed in only one event, the pole vault, capturing this and three points. Palmer lost the cup through a false start by one of her men in the 100 yards dash, for which he was set back a yard at the start, then finishing so close to the winner that many thought he broke the line. Cole was high man for Palmer, capturing 10 points; with no previous experience he made an unusually good showing in the pole vault, taking third place. The summaries:

100-yards dash—Won by Nichols of Barre; Roche of Palmer, 2d; Kimball of Warren, 3d; time, 10 2-5s.

220-yards dash—Won by Nichols of Barre; Kimball of Warren, 2d; Davis of Warren, 3d; time, 24s.

440-yards run—Won by Roche of Palmer; Tongue of Warren, 2d; Bellows of Barre, 3d; time, 57s.

Half-mile—Won by Moran of Barre; Tongue of Warren, 2d; Madigan of Warren, 3d; time, 2.25 1-5.

Mile run—Won by Moran of Barre; Bannister of Palmer, 2d; McFarland of Warren, 3d; time, 6.05.

Broad jump—Won by Cole of Palmer, 19ft 8 in; Davis of Warren, 17ft 10in, 2d; Brown of Barre, 17ft ½in, 3d.

Hop, step and jump—Won by Cole of Palmer, 42ft 7in; Tongue of Warren, 39ft 3in, 2d; Brown of Barre, 37ft 7½in, 3d.

High jump—Won by Cole of Palmer, 4ft 11in; Nichols of Barre, 4ft 10in, 2d; Johnson of Barre, 4ft 6in, 3d.

Pole vault—Won by Sanborn of Spencer; Judkins of Barre, 2d; Cole of Palmer, 3d; hight, 8ft 8in.

The following table gives a comparison of the work of the four teams, the events being run off in that order:

Events.	Barre.	Spencer.	Warren.	Palmer.
100 yards	3	—	1	2
Broad	1	—	2	3
Mile	3	—	1	2
Hop, step and jump	1	—	2	3
220 yards	3	—	2	1
440 yards	1	—	2	3
High jump	3	—	—	3
Half	3	—	3	—
Pole	2	3	—	1
Total	20	3	14	17

WARREN.

Auto Accidents.

There were numerous automobile accidents in the vicinity of Warren Sunday owing to the slippery surface of the asphalt-oil roadway, especially east of Warren. A Maxwell runabout skidded about a half-mile east of Warren and landed in the ditch right side up, but the front axle on the right side was broken and the rear wheel on the right side was crushed from the hub. The machine was taken to the shop of H. W. Merry, where it was repaired. About the same time a Knox touring car owned by Mr. Blair of Springfield skidded near the home of Ward Hathaway and turned around twice in the road. The steering gear was bent as was also the front axle, but they were able to return home at slow speed. Another machine had trouble with the steering gear and is said to have skidded into the ditch and broken off three small trees without tipping over. In no case were the occupants injured.

Mrs. Ellen M. Jenks has returned to her home on High street after spending the summer at Oak Bluffs.

Selectman S. Newell Cutler has so far recovered from his recent illness that he is able to ride out every day.

C. Winthrop Hosley of Williams College spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Hosley on High street.

Miss Gorzella Spencer of Mount Holyoke College spent the first of the week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Edward J. Spencer.

A small black and tan dog owned by James N. F. Quinlan was run over late Sunday afternoon and so badly injured that it had to be killed.

At a meeting of Warren Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, in Brigham's hall this evening, the first and second degrees will be conferred on a class of 12 candidates.

The hunting season opened Monday, with a large number of hunters out. Edward D Sullivan brought down three partridges and George E. Tarbell one quail. A large number of gray squirrels were killed.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church has elected the following officers for the next six months: President, Rev. William Hodge; first vice president, Mrs. John Taylor; second vice president, Mrs R Freeman Clarke; third vice president, John Van Slyke; secretary, Austin R. Woodward; treasurer, Miss Mae Clarke. The meetings hereafter will be held on Thursday evenings.

At a meeting of King Solomon chapter of Royal Arch Masons Tuesday evening, these officers were elected for next year: High priest, John B. Canfield; king, Joseph G Hastings; scribe, Alfred C. White; treasurer, Henry S. Howe; secretary, Charles D. Perkins; captain of host, William Robertson; principal sojourner, Edgar J. Buck; royal arch captain, A. D Kennedy. The officers will be installed at the regular meeting in November by District Deputy Grand High Priest Charles D. Perkins.

Programs for the West Brookfield Farmers' Club have been arranged for the coming year, there being a number of Warren people included in the membership. The officers for the coming year are: President, A. H. Warfield; vice presidents, Albert B Patrick and B. S. Beeman; secretary, Sumner H. Reed; treasurer, Philander Holmes; executive committee, Dr. W. R. Smith, Elmer D. Allen, Robert M. Carter, William L. Day and Haschal Underwood; entertainment committee, Mrs. Chauncey C. Ferguson, Mrs. John H. Webb, Mrs. Fred W. Lyman and Mrs. A. H. Woodard; steward, Dr. W. R. Smith.

Probate Court Business.

At a session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday the following local business was among that transacted:

Administration granted in the estate of Emma F. Knowles, late of Monson, Angie Lancey of Monson administratrix.

Widow's allowance decreed in the estate of Franklin Young, late of Palmer.

HAMPDEN.

George Carey is ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warner and Sidney Dewey of Westfield spent Sunday with Sidney Chapin.

Melvin Mulrouey and famil[illegible] [illegible] of his n[illegible]

A RAILROAD ON STILTS.

That Is What New Line to Providence Is Called.

NUMEROUS TRESTLES AND BRIDGES.

Hearing in Springfield November 1st On Locations Asked For In Town Of Palmer.

It has been facetiously remarked that the proposed Southern New England railroad, to be built from Palmer to Providence, R. I., is one projected on paper and to be built on trestles. There seems to be good reason for believing that the road will be built as scheduled; the trestle part of the plan is also considerably in evidence in this locality, as shown by the plans calling for such structures across other railroads and highways in and near the town of Palmer. A location has been determined upon, and the county commissioners have been asked to give rights for changing highways, etc., in accordance with that plan. They will hold a public hearing on the petition at the court house in Springfield Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 1, at 2 o'clock, when interested parties may be present and heard.

The new road, as at present proposed, will cross the Quaboag river, the electric road and the Boston and Albany railroad near the plant of the Central Massachusetts Electric Company at Blanchardville by a long trestle, with a clearance of 21 feet over the state highway. Running for a distance near the line of the old Bay Path, it is proposed to cross this and at the point of crossing to change the location of the road 49 feet westerly, the crossing to have a clearance of 12 feet, and a portion of the old road to be discontinued. The highway leading from the Studley, or "Dea. Converse" farm to the Palmer and Brimfield highway, and the location of the highway from Brimfield to Palmer Center it is proposed to change about 500 feet to the southwest, and there will be a crossing over the road leading from the state highway near the Brainerd farm to the Mason district. A little nearer West Brimfield the railroad will cross the state highway at a height of 40 feet, and near West Brimfield it will cross the highway at a height of 95 fee[illegible]

Were There Burglars About?

Unpleasant Experience of King Street Family Yesterday Morning.

Whether the "Peeping Tom" or burglars were around early yesterday morning is a mooted question, but certain it is that Mr. and Mrs Lee T. Gray, living on the corner of Pine and King streets, had an unpleasant experience about that time.

Mr Gray was awakened about 2 15 by a noise of some kind, which seemed to him to come from the other half of the double house, occupied by Dr. B. E. Loring, who is away from home. He awakened Mrs. Gray, and after listening for some time both were convinced that they heard the noises in the other side of the house. About this time came whistled signals, apparently from the King street side, answered by another whistle from another point. Mr. Gray then fired his revolver twice from the window, and the noises and signals ceased. Nothing more was heard from them during the remainder of the night.

The noise of the shots was heard by Night Officer Crimmins, who was sleuthing at that time in the vicinity of Foster and Knox streets. On account of the pouring rain he was unable to locate the sound, and after hunting for some time finally secured the desired information from the telephone office. By that time half an hour had elapsed. He at once got other officers until four were on the job, but although they searched the neighborhood carefully and thoroughly, no trace of any intruder could be found.

BRIMFIELD.

Marquis Converse of Springfield spent Sunday at his home in Brimfield.

Miss Leighton, assistant in the Academy, spent Sunday with friends in Greenfield.

Rev. Martin Lovering of Holland exchanged pulpits with Rev. William Jennings Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Noyes have returned home after spending 10 days with friends in Nichols, N. Y.

Among those who have registered at the Brimfield Hotel this week are Salem D. Charles and J. W. Adams of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. B. E Lovejoy and Margaret Lovejoy of Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. W. H J. Newton of Malden, Mrs Addie Carpenter of Spencer, Mrs. A A. Bemis of Foxboro, E. W. Bemis of Malden, A. F. Bemis of Brookline, Thomas Mayberry of Brookline, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boylston and John Perkins of Princeton, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cleves of Gardner, Mrs. C F. Goddard of Worcester, Mr. and Mrs E C. Harrington of Worcester and Edward F. Goddard, who is the representative in France of the United States Shoe Machinery Company.

WALES.

House Burned in Wales.

The house of Alvin A. Hubbard on Main street in Wales was destroyed by fire Monday morning about 2 o'clock. Mr. Hubbard, who was alone in the house, was awakened by the smell of smoke, and went to investigate. He opened a door on the second floor and was met by a burst of flames. He immediately gave the alarm and with the aid of neighbors was able to save a small quantity of furniture. By hard work, the barn, which is located a short distance from the house, was saved, but nothing could be done to save the house as the fire had gained such headway. The blaze is supposed to have started from an overheated chimney. The house was a large two-story structure, and the loss, including contents, will probably be from $4000 to $5000, partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Carlton Kimball with her son has returned from Enfield.

Miss Beatrice I. Thompson is visiting friends in North Amherst.

N. M. Stebbins is making extensive repairs on his house near the lake.

George Needham of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been spending the week at the Needham Homestead.

[illegible]s Eva M. Fisher, formerly principal [illegible]nter school and now principal of [illegible]lk Center school, spent Sunday [illegible]d Mrs. D. E. Parker.

[illegible] Burley entertained the Ladies' [illegible]day afternoon. Owing [illegible]re was a small attendance [illegible]ection of officers, which [illegible] place, was [illegible]

Palmer Fair Lost Money.

But Directors Are Not Disheartened. Rain the Only Fault.

The directors of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society held a meeting Tuesday afternoon to hear reports from the recent fair. They were not as encouraging as could be wished. The balance sheet showed a margin on the wrong side, but this was expected on account of the weather on Saturday. That the reputation of the fair had not suffered in any way was shown by the paid admissions of Friday, the second day, which were within about 100 of Friday two years ago, when the weather was all that could be desired, the day being clear and unusually warm—just the day to bring out the crowds—against a raw cold day this year. The attendance two years ago was the largest the society has ever known. From reports which have come from various sources it is probable that Saturday's attendance, with good weather, would have broken all previous records. The program of entertainment was as good as the society has ever offered, both in the way of cattle and hall exhibits and in free attractions, and so there will be no falling off in reputation for another year. The directors were duly cognizant of and took the matter as philosophically as could be expected. They realized that all fairs have to take a chance on the weather and that many have been "stung" this fall. There was no evidence of a lack of courage, and plans for the payment of all bills were entered into. The premiums will be paid as soon as they can be made up, which will be in about two weeks. It is expected that the other bills will be paid in about the same time.

Library For Gilbertville.

Work Begun On Fine New Limestone Building to Cost About $15,000.

Col. Edward H. Gilbert of Ware has presented to the town of Gilbertville the sum of $15,000 for the erection of a new library building. Work on the foundation has been started and will be rushed to completion. The site is on Main street, on land presented by the George H. Gilbert Manufacturing Company. The building will be of gray limestone, with brass roofing. It will be 71 by 40 feet, and will be a one-story structure with four large rooms, porch, vestibule, stock room and librarian's room. The gift came as a great surprise to the residents of Gilbertown, who greatly appreciate the large gifts that the Gilberts have made in the past three years.

BELCHERTOWN.

The high school opened this morning.

Mrs. H. D Hoag entertained a party of ten ladies Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Robert L Bridgman, who will spend the winter in Hartford.

WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. Glover of New York city spent part of the week in town.

Rev. Hollister Campbell of Springfield occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church last Sunday.

Mrs. E. C. Clark entertained the Ladies' Aid society at her residence on South Maple street Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Miller of South Main street has gone to Indian Orchard, where she will spend the winter with her son.

EAST BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. C. H. McAllister was the guest last week of her son, George McAllister in Athol.

William Howlett of Burnside, Ct., is spending the week with his sister, Mrs. C. H. McAllister.

The plant of the Snell Mfg. Co. ran on short time last week on account of the breaking down of the engine.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davenport and two daughters, Lysle and Pauline, spent the first of the week with relatives in Colrain, N. H.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Perry—Weston.

A pretty wedding took place in Grace Union church in North Wilbraham Tuesday evening, when Miss Marjorie [illegible] Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perry, became the wife of Charles Joseph Weston, an attorney in Springfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. Van der Pyle of Haverhill, assisted by Rev. T. E. Williams. The matron of honor was Mrs. C. E. Page of Malden, sister of the bride, and the best man was Wayland Dorothy of Boston. The ushers were Chelmwood Brown and Edward Noyes of Springfield. The bride wore a gown of Irish point lace over white silk, with a bridal veil caught up with lilies of the valley. The m[illegible]d of honor wore a white gown and ca[illegible]d pink roses. About 200 guests were p[illegible]t at the ceremony at the church. Only [illegible]ives and close friends attended the re[illegible] the house. Mr. and Mrs. Weston [illegible]vening for an extended wedding t[illegible] on their return will live in Springfield. The couple received many valuable gifts.

WARE.

Flemming—Lapierre.

The wedding of Alphonse Lapierre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lapierre, and Miss Sadie Flemming, daughter of Mrs. Mary Flemming of West Main street, took place Monday morning at 7 in All Saints' church. Miss Mary Flemming, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Alfred Lapierre, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a blue serge traveling suit and a white hat. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. The couple left for a trip to Hartford, after which they will live in Ware.

Loth—Butterworth.

Charles Edward Butterworth and Utrica Clare Loth of West Somerville were married in Ware Center Monday by Rev. Roland D. Sawyer. They were unattended, and left after the ceremony for a trip to Berkshire county.

To Enlarge Hospital.

Plans are being made by the Ware Hospital Association for building an addition in the rear of the main building. This will give a large operating room and furnish other conveniences.

Rev. John H. Murphy, rector of All Saints' church, returned Saturday evening from a four-months' trip to Ireland.

Harry P. Bates left Sunday for New York, where he will make his home in the future. Mr. Bates has lived in Ware for a long time, being for a time in the store of C. Hitchcock & Co. and later with William Robau as manager of Forest Lake Park.

A hearing will be held by the State Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners at their office, 603 Ford buildi[illegible] Ashburnham place, Bo[illegible] the 31st, at 10.30 a[illegible] Ware electri[illegible] of additio[illegible]

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 20, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Moulton, 122-21, Monson.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Water Co. to Supply B. & A.

But Arrangement is Temporary Only; Stopped at Any Time.

The Boston and Albany railroad has made arrangements with the Palmer Water Company whereby the latter will supply water for a time for the big new tank near Tenneyville. The agreement was made after consultation with Chief Summers of the fire department, he agreeing that under the proposed arrangement, in view of the supply of water on hand, there would be no probable shortage either for fire protection or domestic use.

The arrangement is to be temporary, the railroad agreeing that the new pumping station to be installed at Tenneyville, the pumps for which are already here, shall be in operation by January 1. It farther agrees that only east-bound freights shall take water there, and that the present pumping plant near the river west of the station shall be maintained and furnish the water used at the tank there and the one at the station. It is also agreed that in case of a shortage at any time the water company may cut off the supply on a six-hours' notice. The new service will be by meter, one having been installed for that purpose, and the arrangement is to begin next Monday.

Hunting Season Opens.

But the Conditions Are Unfavorable For Large Bags of Game.

The open season on partridge, quail, woodcock, hares, rabbits and squirrels began Monday, and the number of hunters was legion. No very large scores have been reported though, as there are yet too many leaves on the trees to make hitting a quick-flying bird an easy stunt. Squirrels find the leaves a most excellent cover, and are hard to discover among them. Rain fell all day Wednesday and yesterday, spoiling the sport. A considerable number of birds are reported in the covers, and some good sport can be counted on later—provided one knows where to look for the game.

Deer Killed By Electric Car.

A small deer was killed by the 8.15 electric car out of Palmer for Worcester Saturday morning, just east of the electric plant at Blanchardville. As the car was spinning along beside the pond which furnishes power for the plant a herd of twelve deer jumped out of the bushes on the pond side and crossed the track to the woods on the other side. That is, all but one yearling buck; he slipped and fell on the track, and before the car could be stopped a leg had been run over. The carcass was brought to Palmer and the railroad employes are anticipating a venison supper later, Superintendent Atkins having promised it to them. At the same time they are "joshing" Motorman Carney about his failure to get more than one out of a bunch of twelve

Church Notes

J. J. Fuller of Westfield will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday at 3 in the afternoon. Sunday school as usual at 2.

The services at the Congregational church next Sunday will be as usual, with preaching morning and evening by the pastor. Sunday school at 12; Christian Endeavor at 6, subject, "Lessons I have learned from things." subject of evening sermon, "Isaiah the prophet that saved his country."

The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning in the Baptist church will be "A spirit tester." Bible school at 12 o'clock. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15. Evening worship at 7; the second sermon in the series on "Elijah the Tishbite," will be given, the subject of the evening being "The testing of great resources."

New Car Stop in Springfield.

Patrons of the electric cars on the Palmer-Springfield line have been somewhat disconcerted this week over the new order of things inaugurated Monday concerning the stopping of the cars at Court Square. Formerly the cars stopped at Sanford street, [illegible] end of Court Square. [illegible] there but continue [illegible] and the corner and make their stop at [illegible] northwest corner, about opposite the old police station. The waiting place opposite Smith & Murray's is done away with, and passengers must take the car at the new stopping point or at some point on Main street after it leaves Court Square. The change is to relieve the congestion at Sanford street.

Kelly—Reimers.

Miss Margaret Kelly and Fred S. Reimers were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Thomas' church by Rev. M. J. O'Connell, who celebrated the nuptial mass following the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss M. A. Fitzgerald of West Swanzey, N. H., and the best man was Michael McIntire of Fiskdale. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown broadcloth. The couple left for a wedding trip to the eastern part of the state and on their return will live on Walnut street

Don't Burn Leaves Without Permit.

With the dropping of the leaves from the trees and the accumulation of vast quantities of them on lawns and in streets, comes the natural suggestion of burning them to get rid of the nuisance. Those who are tempted to do so are warned however that they have no right to start fires in the open without a permit from the forest fire warden, who in this town is also chief of the fire department, James Summers. The restriction is a state one, and violaters are liable to punishment in the courts.

Husking Bee.

The annual husking bee at the Wells farm on the Brimfield road was held Tuesday evening of this week. There was a large attendance from Palmer and Monson and a large quantity of corn was hereft of its outer covering. The work was done in the large barn, lighted by lanterns. After the corn had been husked a bountiful lunch was served. A special electric car brought the Palmer contingent home about 11 o'clock.

Stevenson—Hamilton.

A quiet home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs Robert J Stevenson on North Main street, when their eldest daughter, Elsie, was married to Arthur Francis Hamilton of Barre Plains, Rev. C. W. Williams of the Baptist church performing the ceremony. Only the immediate families were present. After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the young couple will live in Barre Plains.

Shop Changes Hands.

[illegible] bought the barber [illegible] in the Com- [illegible] He is a Kick On Crowded Cars.

Wonder Why Extras Are Not Run When There Are Standing Loads.

With the introduction of the winter schednie on the electric road and the cutting off of the half-honr cars on the Springfield line comes the nsual protest against the manner in which the traffic on that line is bandled ont of Palmer, particniar stress being laid on the crowded condition of some of the cars. It is not an infrequent occurrence for cars to be started for Springfield with a large nnmber of passengers standing in the aisles. This nnmber is qnite likely to be increased before the Point of Rocks is reached, and there is almost a certainty that there will be still farther additions at Wilbraham. Particnlarly is this trne of the mornitg cars, those rnn at 9.15 and the two honrs following. The box cars now in nse are arranged to seat 44 passengers, and yet it is not an infrequent occurrence for them to leave the starting point at Palmer with 60, 65, and even more on board. Passengers who are obliged to stand nnder these conditions wonder why it is that another car cannot be rnn up from the car barn and leave a few minutes behind the regnlar. Many wonld prefer to walt a little than travel in the crowded, poorly ventilated car.

Forest Fire Apparatus O. K.

So Pronounced by District Fire Warden Allen This Week.

G. H. Allen of Boston, recently appointed district fire warden for Hampden and Hampshire counties, visited Palmer Monday to inspect the town's forest fire fighting apparatns. He was taken in tow by Chief Snmmers and shown everything that was to be seen, also being given a trip in the anto trnck. At the concinsion of the inspection he prononnced the equipment and apparatns as among the best he had seen; many of the larger places, he said, were not nearly so well equipped to bandle forest fires as was the town of Palmer.

Smoke Talk and Entertainment.

Quaboag council, 876, Royal Arcannm, has arranged for a smoke talk and entertainment in Masonic Hall on the evening of Tuesday, the 31st. Invitations will be issned next week. Officers of the Grand Council of the state will be present, and there will be an entertainment of pleasing variety. The council initiated two new members at its meeting Tuesday evening, making 19 since April.

Congressman Gillett Will Speak.

The regnlar monthly meeting of the Men's League of the Congregational church will be held in the church parlors on Wednesday evening of next week The speaker will be Hon. Frederick H. Gillett of Springfield, congressman from this district. Every man is invited to attend, whether a member of the League or not. Mr. Gillett's subject will be "Congress and its procedure."

Fined For Sunday Hunting.

According to the statnte books the law is "off" on certain game the 15th, and Wilbnr G. Parker of Brimfield started ont to try his lnck on that day. It happened to come on Snnday bowever, and there is a strict prohibition against hunting on the Lord's day. In the district conrt Monday he was fined $10 for so doing and given nntil November 4 in which to find the money.

Governor Spent Night in Town.

Governor Foss and the other candidates on the Democratic state ticket, who spent a strennous time at rallies in this section Wednesday evening in the rain, spent the night at Hotel Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kinsley have retnrned from a visit with Boston friends.

Miss D. E. Todd of Brattleboro, Vt., spent Sunday at her home on Pine street.

L. A. Fontaine substitnted as letter carrier a part of the week in place of Wilfred Mongeau.

Mrs. A. J. Todd and three children of Rutland are gnests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Todd of Pine street.

L. M. Rogers of New York has been a gnest of H. R. Paine and family of Sonth Main street this week.

Miss Angeline Welch of Huntington has been the gnest of her father, Manrice Welch, at the Burns Hotel.

The meeting of the Woman's Tnesday Clnb next week will be with Mrs. L. E Chandler of North Main street.

James Ledyard and Edward Ledyard of Maynard spent yesterday with their sister, Miss May Ledyard of Central street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Littlefield of Lawrence are guests of their daughter, Mrs. F. M. Ralton of South Main street.

Dr. and Mrs. William T. McBride have returned from their wedding trip and have been visiting relatives in town this week

Miss Annie Bemis of New Haven, Ct., bas been the guest of her cousin, Miss Linda Holbrook on North Main street this week

Rev. and Mrs Willis A. Moore and children of Merlden, Ct., are gnests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fish of Walnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Taylor and Mr and Mrs. James Snmmers have been attending the firemen's convention in Boston and Lawrence this week.

A special examination of persons who are receiving state and military aid will be held in the selectmen's room to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Dr. S. B. Keith of Central street, with a party of Springfield friends, is in camp in the Miller cottage at Round Pond for a couple of weeks' hunting.

The selectmen, at their meeting last evening, awarded the contract for the Main street sewer in Thorndike to Charles W. Streeter of Springfield.

A nnmber of Palmer people bave attended the Universallst convention being held in Springfield this week, and continning until Snnday night.

The repair of the macadam road on Thorndike street, for which money was voted last spring, has been begnn by Highway Snrveyor McKelligott.

The selectmen at their meeting last evening nominated John O. Hamilton to be a cattle inspector, snbject to approval from the powers "higher up" in Boston.

At the meeting of Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows Wednesday evening there was an official visit from D. D. G. M. Peter H. Rodier and suite of Springfield. The second degree was worked.

A demonstration of King's Puremalt has been given at the Bay State Drng Store this week, and will continne throngh tomorrow. Free tasting samples are being given to all who ask for them.

Rev. F. W Gibbs of Providence, R. I., a former pastor of the Universalist church, was the guest Monday night of friends in Palmer He was on his way to the Universalist convention in Springfield.

The Elite moving picture palace on Main street has been rechristened the Bijou by the new owners, the Grand Amnsement Co. of Holyoke, and an electric sign [illegible] tending over the sidewalk has [illegible] stalled.

Miss May Ledyard, teacher of [illegible] grade in the Palmer grammar [illegible] tendered her resignation [illegible] November 1. She has taken [illegible] tion in Maynard, her [illegible]

Rare Peruvian Ware.

Vessels of odoriferous clay were imported early in the sixteenth century from Peru, Chile and Mexico by the Portuguese merchants, to which were given the name of buccaros. So highly was this ware esteemed that only the wealthiest collectors could afford to possess entire specimens. Broken pieces were set in gold or silver or ground to powder to be used to scent cakes and confections and to perfume gloves and handkerchiefs. It was also supposed to possess medicinal properties and was prescribed by contemporary physicians for certain ailments. The great demand for the buccaros resulted in the alleged discovery of scented clays in Portugal and the potters of the time used them to fashion all sorts of drinking vessels on which they impressed a seal or stamp, hence the adoption of the name terra sigillata.

Swiss English.

Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Meiringen, which explained that a toll was necessary for "the foundation and untertaining" of that path. Until recently, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strassburg cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order." But Switzerland has at least tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled yet to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into the English "Shut up!" —London Spectator.

The Reason.

Daughter—Father went off in good humor this mornlng. Mother—My! That reminds me. I forgot to ask him for any money.—Christian Advocate.

The Eternal Masculine.

As soon as a man gets everything he wants he finds that the things he has are not the things he wanted.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 17th, by Rev. M. J. O'Connell, Fred S. Reimers and Margaret Kelly.

In Palmer, 18th, by Rev. Charles W. Williams, Arthur Francis Hamilton of Barre Plains and Elsie Birdetta Stevenson of Palmer.

In Thorndike, 18th, by Rev. C. C. Gorst, Fred J. Collis of Bondsville and Elizabeth Beveridge of Thorndike.

In North Wilbraham, 17th, by Rev. N. Vander Pyle, Charles J. Weston of Springfield and Marjorie H. Perry of North Wilbraham.

In Monson, 16th, by Rev. F. A. McConnell, Alvin Stanton and Hattie Dill.

In Monson, 18th, by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, James Bowler and Elizabeth Dillon.

DIED.

In Monson, 14th, John Hannifin, 78.

In Springfield, 17th, William Kuss, of Three Rivers.

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

TO RENT—To a small family a five-room tenement. 28 Pleasant St., MRS. TUTHILL

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

AMERICAN BOY of 15 years would like light work out of school hours and Saturdays. Address P. O. BOX 291, Palmer. 1-ks

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

TO RENT—Tenement on Pine street, second floor, $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

TO RENT.—Upstairs tenement of 5 rooms, family without children preferred. MRS. MARY MASON, 26 School St., Palmer.

WANTED—One or two rooms for housekeeping. Piano sewing and mending also desired. 1-ks Address P. O. BOX 291, Palmer.

MR. AND MRS. E. M. CURTIS, 7 Dresser St., Southbridge, Mass., are agents for Aluminum Ware for Palmer and Monson. Orders may be left with Mrs. Helena Davis, 22 Pleasant St.

ANSWERS THE CALL.

Palmer People Have Found That This Is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench,
A little cause may bnrt the kidneys.
Spells of backache often follow,
Or some irregularity of the urine.
A splendid remedy for such attacks,
A medicine that has cured thousands
Is Doan's Kidney Pills.
Thonsands of people rely upon it.
Here is one case:

Napoleon Billodeau of Monson, Mass., says: "I suffered from dull beadaches for a long time, especially at night. When I arose in the morning I was tired and langnid. Finally reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and found almost immediate relief throngh their use. I can recommend this remedy without the least doubt of its efficiency."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — DOAN'S — and take no other.

Costly Coats.

An Indian prince after a court function in London went home for a chat with a friend, also an eastern potentate. On arriving he asked to be allowed to take off his dress coat and then that his friend's private secretary might put it in the safe for the night. It was a silk frock coat, buttercup yellow and heavy with jewels.

"How much may you be worth with your coat on?" the prince was asked.

"About £200,000," was the reply.

"I am a poor man beside you," said his friend sadly. "My dress coat is worth not much more than half that amount."

He that follows two hares catches neither.

NOTICE TO VOTERS.
REGISTRATION.
OFFICE OF BOARD OF REGISTRARS OF VOTERS.
Palmer, Mass., Oct. 17, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Registrars of Voters will be in session at Ruggles' Hall, Three Rivers, Wednesday evening, Oct. 25 from 6 to 7 p. m.; at Holden's Old Store in Bondsville, Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, from 6.45 to 7.45 p. m.; at Temperance Hall, Thorndike, Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, from 7.15 to 8.15 p. m.; and at Selectmen's Room, Library Building, Depot Village, Saturday Oct. 28, from 12 m. to 10 p. m., for the purpose of receiving evidence of the qualification of persons claiming a right to vote at the election to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1911, and of correcting the list of voters.

No name can be added to the voters' list (except to correct omissions made by clerical error or mistake) after ten (10) o'clock of the evening of Saturday, Oct. 28, 1911, at which time registration closes.

By order of the Board of Registrars of Voters.
CHARLES H. HANNISTER,
FREEMAN A. SMITH,
JOHN F. FOLEY,
Board of Registrars.
29-2 P. BELANGER.

BY VIRTUE OF A POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles W. Hunter to Luella J. Pase, dated May 14th, 1900, and recorded with Hampden county deeds, Book 771, Page 488, will be sold at public auction on the premises at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, November 11th, 1911, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed namely,

That certain piece or parcel of land lying and being on Dublin street in Palmer in said Hampden County described as follows:—Beginning at a point in the southerly line of said Dublin street near a stone bound near the westerly corner of land formerly of D. Mnivihill now of one Cook; thence running southeasterly by land of said Cook 10 rods to stake and stones; thence southwesterly 4 rods 5¼ links; thence northwesterly 10 rods 1½ links to stone bound on the south side of Dublin street; thence by said southerly line of said street 2 rods 6 links to the place of beginning, containing 32 1-6 square rods more or less, except out of said land the land described in release by Frank and Antonietta Sarno to Mary J. Cook recorded in Hampden County land records, Book 739, Page 526, and also conveying hereby the property described in a certain release made by Mary J. Cook to Frank and Antonietta Sarno, dated May 6th, 1908, and recorded in said land records in Book 739, Page 526, described as follows: A certain tract of land in said Palmer, beginning at the northeast corner of land herein described on the southerly side of said Dublin street; thence on line of said street, easterly 4 feet to an iron pin; thence S. 24° E. 49 feet; thence N. 27° 40' W. 49½ feet to the first mentioned bound.

The premises will be sold subject to unpaid taxes and accrued interest. Terms cash.
CHARLES L. YOUNG Assignee.
29-3

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 28-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Teacher of Piano.
In Palmer Saturdays
Maud L. Hayden,
26 Bristol St., Springfield, Mass.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St. Palmer

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, So. High Street.
BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104-5.

The Rexall Store
Liggett's and Quality Chocolates
Newsdealers and Stationers
50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c
Lynde & Gould
Palmer, Mass.

Remember,
That upstairs in the P. O. Block, the ladies, men and children can get their fall and winter needs at very reasonable prices.

My Excellent Line of Wearing Apparel
is of the highest grade and best workmanship. It consists of LADIES' COATS, (fur, caracul and cloth), SUITS, FURS, SKIRTS, DRESSES and SHIRTWAISTS. GIRLS' and CHILDREN'S COATS. MEN'S and BOYS' SUITS and OVERCOATS.

All ladies' garments made TO ORDER from measure at regular retail prices. Come and look my GOODS OVER before having the expense and trouble of going to the city.

M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
P. O. Block. Up one flight.

We Want to Show You
OUR
Elegant Lines
OF
Suits and Overcoats

They are right up to the minute, both in quality and workmanship, and at prices that no one need to go cold.

Fashionable Hats, Caps, Shirts and Neckwear.

Call and be convinced that we can give more for your money than any one else.

C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use
The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by
Patented

These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.

Whitcomb & Faulkner,
Main Street,
Palmer, - - - Mass.

Cannel Coal for Open Grates.
English quality Bostonia cannel coal, especially adapted for open grates and quick fires, of unusually good quality. Try it.

Juanita Forge Coal.
Guaranteed to be the best forge coal mined. Blacksmiths are requested to give it a trial.

Feiner Charcoal.
I have the wholesale agency for Palmer, Monson, Ware and Wilbraham.

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Lamson & Hubbard

DERBY HATS
Clean cut up-to-the-minute style.
Equisite lustre of the famous L. & H. Fur-felt.
L. & H. Derbies come in varying proportions as to height of crown and width of brim, so that a perfect and stylish fit is assured you.
SOFT HATS
In the popular velour or velvety effects, smooth, grey and brown felts. Smart styles for the young man, dignified shapes for the business man.
The courtesy of showing you the Fall and Winter styles in the famous L. & H. hats for men is respectfully asked.
C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911
All Goods Delivered Free In Palmer.

The Very Latest Novelties in Garments
Splendid Showing of Brand New Models

Our already immense stock of garments for every occasion has been supplemented by the arrival of a big line of brand new coats representing the very latest and most exclusive novelties of the season in the smartest of styles All these are brand new models shown for the first time.

HANDSOME WALKING COATS in blue, brown and black cheviot trimmed with corduroy to match, in plain tailored and half-fitted models—at $22.50 and $25.

CHINCHILLA COATS—one of the "best sellers" of the season—big warm coats without excessive weight, in dark Oxford, light and medium gray and taupe—at $30 and $35.

DRESSY NOVELTY COATS in plain colors and mixtures in fancy trimmed models for semi-dress wear—at $32, $35 and $40.

A NEW REVERSIBLE COAT in white and solid colors made of broadcloth on one side and polo cloth on the reverse, making a smart dressy coat for street or evening wear—$27.50.

THE LATEST IN POLO COATS—a handsome garment suited for street or evening wear in white, wide revers in fancy colors—$27.50.

Mannish Coats for Girls

Our showing of girls' and misses' coats will be at its best this week with a magnificent assortment of man-tailored coats including the very best productions in the celebrated Skolny and Remington coats—the very finest tailored coats for girls and misses made in America. These come in big warm mannish coats, plain but splendidly tailored.

At $13.50, $15, $16.50, $18.00, $20 and $22

Girls' Polo Coats in tan, ages 8 to 14—at $13.50

Other good styles in blind cheviot and kersey coats with velvet and braid trimmed collars, ages 6 to 16.

At $7.75, $8.50, $10 and $12.50

Germs Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.

We have had experience with many remedies for skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. Instant relief from the very first application.

We are so confident that D. D. D. will reach your case that it will cost you nothing if the very first full size bottle fails to make good every claim.

If you have skin trouble of any kind, we certainly advise you to drop in and investigate the merits of D. D. D. anyway. We know that D. D. D. will help you.

BAY STATE DRUG CO. (INC.)

CARRIAGE LAMPS
The Union Driving, N[illegible] O[illegible]
Th[illegible]
E. Brown[illegible]

Monson News.

PROBABLY INCENDIARY FIRE.

Barn On North Main Street Burned Early Saturday Night.

A barn on North Main street which was the property of Ebenezer Thresher and rented by E H. Pike, was destroyed by fire Saturday evening abont 8 15 The fire was not discovered nntil it had gained a good headway and an alarm was pulled in from box 25 in front of Flynt's store. The fire department responded immediately but the barn and its contents were beyond saving by the time the firemen arrived. The loss on the property is abont $600 and is not covered by insnrance.

The fire is thonght to have been of incendiary origin. The Wednesday evening preceding the fire Mr Pike discovered two men trying to get into the barn. He drove them away but was forced to use a cane in doing so. One of them remarked that they would make it warm for him later and the fire is thonght to have been a fulfilment of the threat.

LONG-TIME RESIDENT DEAD.

John Hannifin, 78, At His Home Near The Quarry Saturday.

John Hannifin, 78, died at his home near the Flynt quarry last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock after an illness of several months; death was finally dne to a complication of diseases. He was injured by falling from a wagon last Jnly, when he broke one shoulder, and never recovered from the hnrt. He was born in Ireland, bnt had spent nearly all his life in this country, always residing in Monson, and was an employe of the W. N. Flynt Granite Co. for many years. He is snrvived by a widow, three sons and one daughter, James of New York, Timothy and Thomas of Monson, and Mrs John Moriarty of Monson. The funeral was held from his late home Monday morning at 9 o'clock, with a mass of requiem in St Patrick's church at 9 45, Rev. Thomas O'Keefe officiating; burial was in Pearl-street cemetery.

RAILROAD WANTS BRIDGES.

View and Hearing on Sites Wanted by Southern New England Road.

A view will be had to-morrow of the sites of the proposed bridges asked for by the Southern New England railroad in the town of Monson. There are several of these, one over the track of the New London Northern road and the road from the Palmer-Monson road to the epileptic hospital, one over the main road to Palmer near the Palmer line, and between the residences of Cornelius Foley and Mrs. Josie Fay Baker. A hearing will be given at the court house i Springfield on November 1, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Where it is proposed to bridge the main thoronghfare and the track of the Springfield and Eastern electric road, it is proposed to lower the grade of the street five feet. This the selectmen will of conrse see is properly arranged.

Merchant—McDonald.

A wedding of interest to Monson people took place in St. Luke's church in Westboro Wednesday, when Miss Mary Veronica Merchant, danghter of Mr. and Mrs Edward Merchant of that town, became the bride of Charles Thomas McDonald of Monson. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John D. McGann, and was followed by a nuptial mass The best man was James Carter of Monson and the bridesmaid was Miss Catherine A. Merchant of Westboro. The bride's dress was a traveling suit of blue broadcloth and she wore a black velvet picture hat with a black willow plume. The bridesmaid wore a one-piece dress of navy blne voile, trimmed with lace and braid, with a blue velvet hat to match Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. The bride is a very popnlar and widely known yonng woman in her home town. She gradnated with honors from the Westboro high school in the class of 1907 and from the Framingham Normal school in the class of 1909. She was appointed teacher in the public schools of Monson and tanght at the school in the Quarry district nntil the past year. After a honeymoon, which will be spent in the Berkshires, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will reside in this town and will be at home to their friends on Granite avenne after January 1.

Dillon—Bowler.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Dillon, danghter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillon of Highland avenne, and James Bowler took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Patrick's church. Rev. Thomas O'Keefe performed the ceremony, which was followed by a nnptial mass. Mrs. Thomas Heffernan of Worcester played the wedding march. The maid of honor was Miss Agnes Dillon and the best man was William Bowler, both of this town. The bride's gown was champagne color crepe meteor with pearl and crystal trimmings. She wore a hat to match and carried bride roses. The maid of honor wore Helen pink silk crepe meteor with a white pictnre hat and carried white carnations. After the ceremony a reception and breakfast was held at the bride's home on Highland avenne. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bowler will reside on High street.

Surprised With Kitchen Shower.

Miss Elizabeth Dillon was pleasantly surprised with a kitchen shower at her home on Highland avenue Satnrday evening by abont 25 members of Wiseman conrt, Massachnsetts Catholic Order of Foresters. Music, singing and games were enjoyed, and the featnre of the program was a "breakdown" dance by Miss J. V. Cantwell of Monson and Mrs. Mina Morgan of Palmer, after which refreshments were served.

Dill—Stanton.

The marriage of Miss Hattie Dill and Alvin Stanton took place Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Miss Dill's sister, Mrs. Emily Prentice on Cnshman street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. A. McConnell. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Stanton will live on Elm street.

Mrs. N. D Fenton of Main street is visiting friends in Willimantic.

F. E. Cady of King avenne is spending a few days in New York city.

A. E. Dunsford, who has been ill at the home of Henry Flynt, is improving.

Mrs. Lanigan has moved his family ... street to Stafford Springs, Ct.

... of Odd Fellows will meet ... lation will be held.

The Fortnightly Club held a meeting Monday afternoon at 3 30 with Miss Hattie Orcutt on Lincoln street.

The King's Daughters held an apron and food sale in the vestry of the Methodist church this afternoon.

The Young Women's Study Club met Tuesday evening with Miss Bertha Stebbins on North Main street.

The Young Ladies' Study Club met Monday evening with Miss Bertha Stebbins at her home on North Main street.

Miss Mildred Loftus, who has been visiting friends at the epileptic hospital, has returned to her home in Thorndike.

Misses Gertrude Hanley of Main street and Mary Leary of Green street have returned from a trip to New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tucker and danghter Marion have returned from an antomobile trip through the eastern part of the state.

Mrs. Thomas Heffernan of Worcester is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna on Bridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Squier of Beverly, formerly of Monson, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter yesterday.

Arthur Holdridge of Springfield is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holdridge on South Main street.

John Lane, an employe of the Somerset Woolen Co., was taken to the House of Mercy hospital in Springfield last Satnrday for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powers, who have been visiting at the home of James Pendergast on Pearl street, have retnrned to their home in Norwich, Ct.

L F. Moran of Bridge street and F. L. O'Brien of South Main street have retnrned from a visit with friends in Willimantic and Stafford Springs, Ct.

There will be no Sunday service at the Universalist church next Sunday on account of the Universalist convention which is being held this week in Springfield.

Miss Gladys Pervie and Miss Rnth Conner, who have been visiting at the home of W. H. Conner on North Main street, have returned to their home in Springfield.

A regnlar meeting of the Qnaboag Rebekah lodge was held Thnrsday evening at their rooms. The meeting was followed by a Hallowe'en party and refreshments were served.

The registrars of voters held a session in the selectmen's room Tuesday evening from 7 30 to 9 o'clock. The final session will be held in the same place October 28 from noon nntil 10 p. m

There is some complaint abont the manner in which garbage is carried throngh the streets. It is not covered sufficiently to prevent leakage and scattering, creating conditions which are annoying.

Inspector Hickman of Philadelphia has arrived in Monson in his capacity of government inspector of the cloth which is to be made on government contract in the Ricketts & Shaw and A. D. Ellis mills.

There will be a meeting of the Business Men's Social Club in their rooms in the bank block Satnrday evening at 8 o'clock. The annual election of officers will be held, after which a collation will be served.

The members of Oxford chapter and T. C. F. C. of the Methodist church gave a surprise party to Rev. and Mrs. F. W. McConnell Monday evening. A miscellaneous shower was given and the evening enjoyably passed.

George L Keeney has sold his drng business on Main street to Herbert Anderson of Springfield, formerly of this town. Mr. Anderson took possession of the store Monday, but Mr. Keeney will remain in charge for a short time

The best plaster. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bonnd on over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one-tenth as much. For sale by all dealers.

The 20th anniversary of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held next Monday evening in the Grand Army Hall. The hnsbands of the members, the Grand Army post and Sons of Veterans, with their wives, are invited.

The finals of the Qnaboag Country Club for the September tournament were played last Satnrday, the prize being won by J. F. Knight of this town. Mr. Knight is 76 years old but looks 20 years younger than the average man of his years and the fact that he has won the tournament shows his strength and vigor.

Col. E C. Stone of the state aid commission will be at the selectmen's room in Memorial Hall next Monday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock. Those who receive aid from the state are requested to meet him there and to bring their pension certificates. Those who are nnable to attend on acconnt of illness or other reasons mnst have some one appear for them.

Academy Notes.

Miss Marion Stratton of Hndson, a former member of the facnlty, spent Snnday at Cnshman Hall.

The senior class has decided to hold a Hallowe'en party and dance Saturday evening, October 28, in Holmes' Gymnasinm.

The Junior class will hold its first public social this evening in the Academy chapel at 7 30. An interesting program with three "Hot Coffee's" has been arranged and a good time is warranted to all who attend.

The most important football game of the year for both Monson Academy and Springfield High school will take place when the Academy boys kick off to Springfield to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the local gridiron. This game will go a long ways in deciding the championship of the Connecticnt Valley teams The linenp of the both teams will be:

Monson,	Springfield.
Harper, l c	r c, Dillon
Atherton, l t	r t, McGrath
R. Taylor, l g	r g, Smith
Francis, c	c, L. Harvey
Elliott, r g	l g, Bryant
Bates, r t	l t, Coombs
Barnikow, r c	l c, Dayton
Dunbar, q b	q b, Wenstel
Allinger, l g h	r h h, Johnson
Capt. Smith, r h b	l h h, Drew
Bowker, f b	f b, Case

The first section of rhetoricals were given Wednesday morning after chapel exercises nnder the direction of Mr. Miller. This division secnred the average of 82. The program follows according to marks received: Dunbar, selection from "The Conciliation of the Colonies;" Barone, "Germanins to His Mntinous Troops;" Miss Entwistle, "The Old Vagabond;" Atherton, "Regnins to the Roman Senate;" Bradway, "The Neccessity of Union;" Bardwell, "The Death Penalty;" Andrews, "Tecnmseh to Governor Harrison;" Miss Adams, selection from "The Deserted Village;" Miss Cadwell, "The Opening of the Piano;" Adams, "A Republic Defined;" Bennett, "Onr Flag;" Beebe, "Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg;" Miss Alor zo, "The Independence Bell;" Bowker, "Washington to the American Army Before the Battle of Long Island."

The Academy second team won its first game of the season Satnrday when they defeated the American International College team 15 to 0 The game was Monson's from the start, the first touchdown being made in five downs. Throughout the remainder of the game, Monson made long gains aronnd both ends. In the last period Lechman, Monson's star tackle, recovered a pnnt and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Stamotiads and Tokajski were the fast men of the visitors, while Prendiville, Hillard and Frye did good work for the locals. The line up:

Monson.	International.
Whitten, Sullivan, l e	r e, Ostrowski
Lechman, l t	r t, Serapin
Harrows, Dewing, l g	r g, Tokalski
Frye, Knight, c	c, Sacciola
Ewing, Payne, r g	l g, Sienkikez
Beale, r t	l t, Caraminico
Tarleton, r e	l e Tokarski
Strickland, q b	q h, Stamotades
Hillard, l h h	r h h, Dejeo
Prendeville, r h h	l h h, Sarantoulo
Kirov, Flynt, f h	f h, Patrick

Score: Monson Seconds 15, International College 0. Touchdowns, Prendeville 2, Lechman. Goals missed, Tarleton, Hillard, Prendeville, Field judge, Bowker. Referee, Dunbar. Umpire, Morse. Linesmen, Entwistle and Atherton. Timer, Miller. Time, four 10-minute periods.

Royal has no substitute for making delicious home-baked foods

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

Diamonds From Sugar.

It can be stated with perfect truth that a lump of sugar may be turned into diamonds. Not all the substance of the sugar, of course, will enter into the composition of the gem, but only the carbon that it contains. Sugar consists of carbon united with oxygen and hydrogen. The carbon can be easily separated out, and in certain experiments for the production of diamonds this sugar carbon has been employed. The diamonds so produced were, of course, very small and destitute of commercial value, but still they are real diamonds, and the chemical result achieved would be no greater intrinsically if they were as large as the Kohinoor. The hope has often been held out that an improvement in the process of manufacturing diamonds may be effected whereby the necessity of dissolving the carbon in molten iron may be dispensed with, and the required combination of great pressure with great heat may be brought abont by some such operation as squeezing the carbon between red hot metal plates.

A Discouraged Sport.

This is the sad story of one of the most thoronghbred sports known to the history of hazards. His name was Sullivan, and he had blue eyes and red hair, with a brogue to match his coloring. John Hays Hammond, the mining engineer, met him in prison in South Africa at the time when Hammond and other prominent men were held as captives by the Boers in connection with the Jamoson raid. The engineer and the Irishman became well acqnainted.

"Probably you wonder why I'm here," said Sullivan one day when the thermometer had gone as high as 115 in the shade. "Well, I'll tell you. I got into a little trouble, and I pleaded gnilty to it.

"'Five years!' said the judge.

"'Your honor,' I cried ont, 'I'll throw heads and tails with you to see whether it shall be ten years or nothing.'

"And, would you believe it, Mr. Hammond, that judge got mad and added on the five years anyhow. And now I'm serving that extra five. What's the use of being a sport?"—Popular Magazine.

Strength of a Czar.

A story is told in St. Petersburg which illustrates the phenomenal physical strength of the old czar. At a little station not far from the capital the imperial train was delayed for quite a time, and the czar, being hnngry, partook of some of the simple food of the buffet. Meanwhile the little daughter of the mayor presented the empress with a bonquet, the flowers of which were hastily gathered from private hothonses in the neighborhood. The stalks being still damp and eartily, the empress visibly hesitated to take the bonqnet in her neatly gloved hand. The czar coolly took np one of the heavy pewter plates on the table, and twisting it as if it were paper, made a neat covering for the stalks. There is nothing incredible in the story, since the czar had been known to bend a kitchen poker as an ordinary man would a strip of tin.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prndent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safer and sure For sale by all dealers.

The Haughty Butchers.

The complaint against the high cost of living probably dates from the time Adam paid so dearly for a bite of apple. At a later date, according to the Westminster Gazette, the retail butcher of France grew very arrogant, and it says that the present increased price of meats has caused the examination of the records in order to trace the origin of the trouble there. In 1590 a decree was issued which suggests that butchers were carrying things with a high hand. It says: "Butchers are expressly enjoined not to ill treat or use abnsive language to the ladies of their city, or the women of low degree, or the servant maids who propose to deal with them. They are on no accomnt to mock or deride the said ladies, women and maids, but are to receive politely all offers made to them for their goods."—San Antonio Express.

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drng. Sold by all dealers.

Relieves Backache Instantly

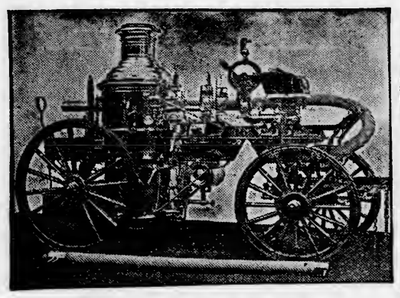
Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the Boer War and in San Francisco two years ago I was hit by a street car in the same place. I tried all kinds of dope without success. Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application caused instant relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."
FLETCHER NORMAN,
Whittier, Calif.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is the best remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat and sprains.



Miss E. Rim of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "Sloan's Liniment is the best for rheumatism. I have used six bottles of it and it is grand."

Sold by all Dealers.
Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

Sloan's Book on Horses, Cattle, Hogs and Poultry sent free. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan Boston, Mass.

A Fire Fighter's Astounding Story
OF THE UNPARALLELED MERITS OF "BLOODINE"

ENGINE WHICH MR. GLAZIER RUNS.

HARRY A. GLAZIER

A Prominent Fireman of Malden, Mass., writes:

Mar. 28th, 1903.

Last winter I had a severe cold and it settled on my Kidneys, causing the most excruciating pain almost every time I attempted to move; I had tried everything imaginable to get relief, with no success, until I was advised to try "Bloodine," which to my great surprise, gave me relief almost from the first dose, and before I had taken one bottle I was completely cured. "Bloodine" is a wonderful, vitalizing tonic. If the blood is impure, complexion bad, appetite lost, strength gone, and the whole system is upset by an accumulation of humors, it is time to try "Bloodine" today.

Signs of Danger.

Backache, dizziness and headache, "specks before the eyes," irregular heart action and liver trouble. The severity of the early symptoms depending upon the amount of poisons which the kidneys have allowed to remain in the system.

SYMPTOMS.

Aching Pain Over Hips, Backache, Sediment or Deposit in Urine, Irritation of the Bladder, Pain in Urinating, Rheumatism (uric acid in blood), Sudden Stoppage of Urine, Highly Colored or Milky White Urine, Pass Blood or Mucus in Urine, Retention of Urine, Straining After Urinating, Thick or Sluggish Urine, Stone in the Bladder, Cystitis (inflammation of Bladder), Catarrh of Bladder or Bowels, Puffiness Under Eyes, Voracious Appetite, Thirst, Gall Stone, Gravel, Pain in Urotha, Swollen Ankles, Dimmed Vision, Specks Before the Eyes, Scanty Urine, Frequent Calls, Mouth Dry, Biliousness, Dribbling, Lumbago, Weakness, Loss of Flesh, Irregular Heart Action, Ulceration of the Bladder, Skin Pale, Waxy and Dry, Bad Odor of Perspiration.

SIMPLE TEST FOR KIDNEY DISEASE.

Fill a bottle with urine; let it stand for twelve hours; if there is a sediment or cloud- ... of any kind you have kidney or bladder ..., and you should commence taking ... to-day. Dont wait until the disease ... advanced.

... costs 50c a bottle for the usual $1.00 size. ... filled. Large sample bottle by mail 10c.

Bloodine Cured Hemorrhage of the Kidneys.

MARSHFIELD, Vt., Sept. 3, 1904.

THE BLOODINE CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I received one of your books, yesterday. I have been a great sufferer for thirty-three weeks, passing bloody water, have been to the hospital, have had four different doctors. They called it most everything, and I got no better. Please send me a sample bottle of your Bloodine for which I enclose ten cents in stamps to pay for same. If it will do me any good I will take it the rest of my life.

Signed, MRS. OCTAVIA E. CARPENTER.

MARSHFIELD, Vt., Sept. 14, 1904.

THE BLOODINE CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I received your trial bottle of Bloodine. That was not enough to do much for me, for I am very bad and weak, passing quite a lot of blood. Now, if you think that Bloodine will help me, you may send me one dollar's worth. I think by the time I take that I can tell if it will do me any good.

Signed, MRS. OCTAVIA E. CARPENTER.

MARSHFIELD, Vt., Oct. 22, 1904.

THE BLOODINE CO., Boston, Mass.

Dear Sirs:—Please send me six bottles of Bloodine. It has done me a world of good; it has stopped the hemorrhages; and I am feeling much better.

Respectfully,

Signed, MRS. OCTAVIA E. CARPENTER.

We will forfeit $5... letters, proving genuine

Bloodine Liver Chronic Constipation, ... liousness. 25 c

KINSLEY'S PHARMACY, SPECIAL AGENT

W. D. Kinsman Co.,
SPRINGFIELD.

A Timely October Sale of Notions

Coming as it does—right when the needs of the sewing basket are greatest—right when the savings are most appreciated it is indeed very timely. The thousand and one little knicknacks that help fill the sewing basket can now be had at savings, fully one-thi d to one-half less than usual.

Scan the List Carefully and Note the Many Savings

J. J. Clark's 3 Cord Cotton Notion Sale, 2 Spools 5c, 25c Dozen

We are prepared for your wants with hundreds and hundreds of dozens of this popular 3-cord sewing cotton, black or white, 200 yards on a spool.

Notion Sale, 2 spools 5c; 25c a dozen

3c paper English Pins, 400 count. Notion Sale, 3 for 5c

1c ea. Chinese Iron Wax with handle. Notion Sale, doz., 7c

25c box, ¼ lb. Dressmakers' Pins, 3 sizes. Notion Sale box, 12 1-2c

3c doz. Safety Pins, three sizes. Notion Sale, 3 doz. for 5c

10c card Slip-out Collar Supporter, 6 on card. Notion Sale, 3 cards for 10c

25c Satin-pad Hose Supporters, all colors. Notion Sale, 17c

39c Tension Shears, 7 inches and 8 inches. Notion Sale, 10c

100 yd. Black Spool Silk. Notion Sale, 3 spools for 10c

10c bottle Nyoll, the stainless and odorless Machine Oil. Notion Sale, ea., 9c

100 yd. Warehouse Point Spool Silk. Notion Sale, spool, 9c; doz. $1.00

Velvet Grip Sew-on Hose Supporter, Notion Sale, pr., 9c; 3 pr. for 25c

5c Tailor's Tape Measures. Notion Sale, 2 for 5c

15c Taffeta Seam Binding, our regular brand. Notion Sale, 11c

3c pr. Shoe Laces, full length, Notion Sale, 6 pr. for 5c

10c Cabinet Assorted Wire Hair Pins, 250 count. Notion Sale, 7c

10c Corset Steels. Notion Sale, 5c

6c yd. Blanket Binding, 12 yds. to a piece. Notion Sale, yd., 4c; pc., 45c

5c card Safety Pins, guarded coil. Notion Sale, card, 4c

5c Allover Hair Nets, with elastic and without. Notion Sale, 4 for 10c

98c Cluster Puffs, 25 and 30-coil styles. Notion Sale, 50c

10c Shirt Waist Belts, with dip pin. Notion Sale, 5c

5c card Up-to-Date Hooks and Eyes. Notion Sale, 3 cards for 10c

25c box ¼ lb. Dressmakers' English Pins. Notion Sale, box. 17c

... yd. Basting Cotton. ... Sale, 3 for 10c

Forbes & Wallace's | Forbes & Wallace's | Forbes & Wallace's

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled

More than Six Hundred Hand-tailored Suits

$15.95 to $155.00

Probably the most complete assortment of high-grade tailored suits in western New England. Plain man-tailored suits—semi-dressy suits—dressy suits—knockabout suits—every fashionable and utility type is represented in our showing.

Inexpensive Tailored Suits, $15.95 and $19.75

At these two prices we show six new models. They are made up by the same tailors who produce the better suits, and the styles are very attractive. In serges, cheviots, mixtures, women's sizes, misses' sizes and sizes for large women. Special values, $15.95 and $19.75.

Hand-tailored Suits, $25.00

For small women, large women, regular sizes and misses. The best suits at $25.00 we have ever shown.

The Coats are shape retaining—every one has a foundation of percaline and the fronts are of shrunken linen canvas; the linings are guaranteed, either satin or peau de cygne; every one has perspiration shields; the shoulders and collars are hand man-tailored and perfectly shaped.

The Skirts are the correct, sensible width, hand draped and will retain their shape; the plackets are silk taped so they will not tear.

The Materials are serges, cheviots, broadcloth, corduroy, wide wale cheviots, tweeds and mixtures, in black, navy, and all the fashionable colors.

They are carefnlly selected from the best American mills. They are cold-water shrunken—will not spot or "crockle."

The Styles—coats 28 to 32 inches long—"hipless" models to give the desired silhouette figure; skirts are graceful straight line types. There are the popular severely plain man-tailored types and the demi-tailored suits with touches of braid and velvet or buttons to make them different. Unusual suits..... $25.00

Forbes & Wallace
Springfield, Massachusetts

OVERCOATS

Such a stock as we have at your service---complete in sizes, in styles, in grades. It's in a rush such as a sudden drop in temperature would bring, that our stock would be most appreciated. Always prepared for the emergency. Ready to answer your call for any style Coat from a warm Kersey at $10 to a Fur-lined garment at $150 --- and you have the assurance that the full money's worth is in every Coat. Most of our Overcoats are made by

Hart Schaffner & Marx

and we feel that we can't do you a greater service than to get you into one of these Overcoats. Come in and look over our extensive lines at

$15, $18, $20 and $25

The W. J. Woods Co.,
Cor. Main St. and Harrison Ave., Springfield

We always have what we advertise.

Albert Steiger Company,
"The Woman's Store"
SPRINGFIELD, . . . MASS.

Of Interest to the Home Milliner
A Big Sale of Untrimmed Hats
This Week.

This is one of those events for which this store is famous. It's part of our policy not only to make ... to order and to sell trimmed millinery, but also to supply untrimmed hats and materials for the home milliners. This broad gauge policy permits us to sell such supplies to the trade at practically wholesale figures. We accomplish this by cutting out the middleman's profit and placing large orders with the importers and manufacturers direct. This particular event comes about through a big purchase from a prominent New York importer at much under regular price. Qualities are of the finest and styles are in the latest and most popular effects. The sale is of especial interest because of the fact that millinery styles this season call for simple trimming. Any woman fairly used to the needle can produce her own hat at a fraction of usual cost. A mention of offerings:—

One Hundred Fine French Untrimmed Beaver Hats
Values Up to $6.00
$3.98

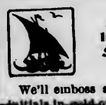
No Millinery Hat Styles are so scarce and expensive at this time as the Long Hair, Fluffy French Beaver. These goods are the finest made—hand-finished, and come mostly in black, but you'll find some colors in the assortment. The styles are only the latest—Special $3.98

One Hundred Black Silk Velvet Hats
Values to $5.00
$2.98

Black Velvet Hats are the correct dress models in Millinery this season. Coming at the very opening of the season, this sale brings an opportunity here you'll appreciate. The styles offered are all new and are made up in excellent quality Velvets. Both medium and large shapes are included in the assortment. Values to $5.00. Special $2.98

Five Hundred English Felt Hats
Regularly Worth Up to $2.00
98c

These are offered in Soft Hood and Dress Styles. They're of fine quality and the latest effects in Untrimmed Hats, both medium and large shapes. Colors, black, navy, brown, gray, purple and white. Special 98c



Two Hundred Trimmed Hats, $4.98

These like all our offerings at this price are special leaders. Trimmed to order they'd cost you $6.00 to $8.00 anywhere. They're all new styles in fine felt hats, right from our own workrooms and nattily trimmed in wing, velvet and aigrette effects. SPECIAL $4.98

Third Floor.

August Peterson,
Monson, Mass.
Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Your Monogram in Gold On Stationery, 50c

We'll emboss any two of ... initials in gold on a quire ...

For the Fall Trade

Just received a new line of

Ladies' Fall Waists.
Fleeced Duckling at 12½c yard.
Ladies' Flannelette Wrappers, Night Robes, etc.
Sweaters, all sizes and prices.
A full line of Fleeced Underwear.

...ellyar's Bargain Store
...se House Block,

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Beveridge—Collis.

Miss Elizabeth M. Beveridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Beveridge of this place, and Fred I. Collis of Bondsville were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on Church street. Rev. C. C. Gorst, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated. Miss Jennie Beveridge, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and David Smith was best man. The couple left on a short wedding trip and upon their return will reside in Bondsville. The married pair were the recipients of many wedding gifts.

James Burke has resigned his position with the Thorndike Company and has gone to New Bedford to work.

Mrs. H. T. Bishop gave a party to a number of friends this week in honor of Mrs. Henry of Connecticut, who is visiting in town for awhile.

The hunting season opened Monday morning and the hunters were out before daybreak. Some fine bags of squirrel were taken but birds are scarce and those seen are very wild.

A large consignment of trout were placed in the Quaboag and the King brook this week by Deputies Luman and Holland. Another consignment went to Mouson for the streams in that town.

THREE RIVERS.

Death of William Kuss.

In the death of William Kuss, Three Rivers loses one of its old and respected residents. Mr. Kuss passed away Tuesday afternoon at the Wesson Memorial hospital where he had been undergoing treatment for several weeks for tuberculosis of the bones. Mr. Kuss was born in Germany, but came to this country at the age of 24. He had lived in this village for 40 years, and was well known and liked by all Mr. Kuss was employed as blacksmith in the Palmer Mill for about 27 years, and left there about two years ago on account of ill health He leaves, besides a widow, three daughters, Mrs Howard L Calkins, Mrs. George Murdock and Miss Martha Kuss, also three grandchildren. He also leaves one sister in Wisconsin and three sisters and three brothers in Germany. The funeral services were held yesterday at the Union church at 2 30 p. m., Rev. Charles McDuffee officiating, assisted by Rev. Paul Webber. Several selections were delivered by the church quartet. Burial was in the Four Corners cemetery. The deceased was a member of the A O. U. W. and also of the Knights of Malta, both of which orders contributed beautiful floral pieces.

Trimmers Win Match.

An interesting match took place Tuesday evening when the Trimmers took two points from the Mohawks.

	Trimmers.
C. Trysien,	85	76	80	241
A. Barber,	86	72	76	234
K. Barton,	82	80	87	249
A. Henrichon,	97	86	85	268
	350	314	328	992
	Mohawks.
W. Ritchie,	70	77	78	225
A. Garvais,	87	94	87	258
I. Cole,	83	71	92	246
J. Paulin,	82	90	73	245
	322	332	320	974

George Dewey has taken a position at Barrett's Junction.

P. Blenn of Holyoke spent Sunday at his home on Charles street.

Robert Geer spent the first of the week with friends in Pittsfield.

Arthur Davis of Holyoke spent Sunday at his home on Bourne street.

Edward Germain has taken a position as electrician in the Palmer Mill.

Henry Reed of Westfield spent Sunday at his home on East Main street.

Nathan Cramer spent the last of the week with his family in Worcester.

Enos Abare of Worcester was the week-end guest of his mother on Main street.

Wilfred Mott of Ware spent the last of the week at his home on Pleasant street.

Pembroke Pierce has resigned his position in the weave-room of the Palmer Mill.

Alfred Jackson of Brattleboro, Vt., spent Saturday and Sunday at his home on Athol street.

A. Labelle of Brattleboro, Vt., spent the last of the week with his mother on Palmer street.

Nellie Conroy of Springfield was the week-end guest of her parents on Athol street.

Charles Tracy of Westfield was the guest of his mother over Sunday on Bourne street.

F. A. Shaw has put new large plate glass windows in his store occupied by O. J. Senton.

Palmer Mill has resumed work on full time after running for several weeks on short time.

Bradford Stone of the Wenimesset spent the week-end as the guest of his parents in Springfield.

Levi Longey has resigned his position in Worcester and returned to his home in the White City.

Elizabeth Murphy of Ware spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy on Main street.

James Fulton of Gilbertville was the guest over Sunday of John Matchett on Main street.

Raymond Richardson of Holyoke spent Sunday at the home of Edward Germain on Main street.

Miss Ethel Jenks of Amherst spent the last of the week with her mother on Belchertown street.

The yard of the Palmer Mill is being reconcreted. The work is being done by P. J Nelligan of Ware.

Miss Maggie Mays attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Beverage, in Thorndike Wednesday evening.

Gertrude Hartnett of the Westfield normal school spent Sunday at her home at the Quahoag hotel.

Miss Agnes Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cole, is seriously ill at her home with diphtheria.

Stephen McAdam of Gilbertville spent the last of the week at the home of Mrs. E. Magee on Kelley street.

Mrs. Jenks has returned to her home on Belchertown street after spending a few days with friends in Amherst.

Arthur Haugh of Gilbertville spent the last of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sinclair on Main street.

The hunters of this village have been very successful so far, most everyone going out bagging a few squirrels or partridges.

Matthew Horgan of Holyoke spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs Joseph Noonan of Springfield were the week-end guests of her mother, Mrs. T. Hartnett on Belchertown street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer of West Springfield were the guests of her mother, Mrs. John Wilson on Athol street over Sunday.

Misses Lena and Elizabeth McCarthy of Warren spent the last of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Daly on Springfield street.

Mrs. David Crosby has returned to her home in Palmer after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mason on Prospect avenue.

Louis Thayer left Saturday for a two-weeks' vacation at his home in Enfield. During his vacation he will attend the wedding of his sister.

Miss McNaught of Norwich, Ct., has returned to her home after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Pierce on Front street.

A generous delegation of Democrats from this village attended the rally in Palmer Wednesday evening, at which Gov. Eugene Foss gave an address.

Mrs. Richard Bruce and young daughter have returned to South Windham, Ct., after a visit of several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruce at the Wenimisset.

Jason, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Walker of Palmer street, broke his collar bone while at play the first of the week. He was attended by Dr. Cheney and is getting along nicely.

Richard Calkins has recovered from his recent attack of diphtheria. The quarantine has been removed and the children have returned home after staying with their aunt, Mrs. Bessie Jenks on Belchertown street.

The residents of this village will be pleased when the sewer now being built on Main street is advanced enough so that the electric cars can run to the end of the line. As it is, the patrons from the business section have to go up as far as the Ruggles' residence to board the car.

A farewell party was tendered Miss Carrie Woodworth at the home of Miss Carmen Stover last Friday evening, at which a large number of the young people of the village were present. Miss Woodworth has for many years been employed in the finishing-room of the Palmer Mill and will soon leave that position to go to South Hadley, where she will reside in the future.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Peter and Paul's church Tuesday morning at 8.30, when Miss Mary Wilkes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wilkes of Bourne street, was united in marriage to Charles Wilkiewicz, one of the firm of Wilkiewicz Bros. The bride has been employed for a long time in the grocery store of O J. Senton and was very popular among the patrons. A reception was held Tuesday afternoon in the Cercle Canadian Hall, which was attended by many of her friends

The Red Men opened their trading post in Canadien Cercle Hall last Friday evening. Both Friday and Saturday evenings there was a good attendance. Friday evening there were selections by John Donahue and Miss Lena Coyer. Saturday evening the entertainment was by home talent, Miss Elizabeth Riddle and Messrs. Root and Senecal delivering vocal selections, with a piano accompaniment by Miss Leida Fredette. Music for dancing was furnished by Blanchard's five-piece orchestra of Southbridge The post will be open this evening and to-morrow evening and a large attendance is expected.

BONDSVILLE.

Will Serve Turkey Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a turkey supper in the vestry of the Methodist church Wednesday evening. The following will have charge of the tables: Mrs. Charles Banister, Mrs. V. C. Faunce, Mrs C. D. Holden, Mrs. E. J. Loy, Mrs. W. H McVickar, Mrs. Adalard Marsan; committee of the kitchen, Mrs. Charles Collis, Mrs Harry Randall, Mrs Samuel Stewart, Mrs. W. H Upham, Mrs F. E. Alhro Supper will be served at 6 30 Following the supper an entertainment in one scene entitled "A Modern Sewing Society," will be given with the following cast of characters:

Mrs. President.	Mrs. W. H. Morse
Mrs. Knowall.	Mrs. George Gunn
Mrs. Wise.	Mrs. V. C. Faunce
Mrs. Short.	Mrs. William Simpson
Mrs. Green.	Mrs. C. D. Holden
Mrs. Brown.	Mrs. W. H. Upham
Mrs. Jones.	Mrs. Charles Banister
Mrs. Gossip.	Mrs. Clayton Cole
Mrs. Truthful.	Mrs. Harry Randall
Miss Chatter.	Miss Viola Marsan
Miss Flutter.	Miss Alice Banister
Miss Simple.	Miss Geneva Billings
Miss Pert.	Miss Jennie Fairbanks
Miss Small.	Mrs. E. J. Loy

F. S. Gordon spent Sunday with friends in Lowell.

V. C. Faunce has returned from a visit with friends in Lowell.

C. Vahey was a guest of his family in Willimansett over Sunday.

Mrs. John Dustin of Monson was a week-end guest of her relatives.

Byron Moore visited Saturday and Sunday at his home in Whitinsville.

Mrs. Edson Walker of Springfield was a guest Thursday of Mrs. W. H. Morse.

Mrs. Frank York went Monday to Connecticut, where she will make her future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart are entertaining Mr. Stewart's mother, Mrs. Stewart of Lewiston, Me.

Elizabeth Merriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Merriam, who has been very ill, is improving.

Alton Hoadley of Chicopee Falls spent Sunday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. M Billings.

Mr and Mrs. Thomas Glaccum of Brooklyn, N. Y, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Michael Fenton.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson returned Friday from a week's visit with her son, Fred Thompson in Palmer.

Mrs. Albert Malboeuf of Ware was a recent guest of her friend, Mrs. Charles Connor of High street.

Miss Marion Davis of Thorndike was a guest Thursday of Miss Vertine Marsan and Miss Gladys Morse.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banister spent Sunday in New Braintree as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald will move this week to the tenement lately vacated by E. E. Woolard.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bray of Stafford spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Holden.

Miss Vertine Marsan spent Saturday and Sunday as a guest of her friend, Miss Marion Davis in Thorndike.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their next meeting Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 1, with Mrs. Adalard Marsan.

Mrs. Charles Shumway and daughter, Mrs Charles Kempton of Palmer, were guests of friends here Monday.

Mrs John Gibbin and baby of Springfield are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan of High street.

Miss Lucy Ryther of Enfield returned home Monday after a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Morgan.

Mrs Maggie Cromley has returned to her home in Troy, New York, after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Anstin.

Miss Viola Marsan and Miss Alice Banister attended a husking bee at the farm of Mrs. M. S. Wells in Palmer Tuesday evening.

Miss Katie Martin has returned to her home in Manchester, N. H., after a two-weeks' visit with her aunt, Miss Catherine Quirk.

Mrs. John Higgins and her mother, Mrs. Newton Pond of Chicopee Falls, were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse.

G. B. Demerest, who has been very ill at his home in Belchertown and threatened

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

...is due to a disordered con... Chamberlain's ... medi... and ... that

Elegant Tapestry Pieces

There is no covering known to the uph lstering trade that fits in better to the most exacting color scheme than imported tapestries.

In our north window, we show a few samples of this popular furniture. Although priced low the quality or workmanship are not slighted in any way.

Every piece custom-made and absolutely guaranteed

"Kensington" Arm Chair	$27.90
"Fireside" Wing Chair	$40.00
"Colonial" Sofa	$32.40
"Colonial" Davenport	$66.00

Complete suites priced accordingly and displayed on our third floor.

FLINT & BRICKETT CO.

Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St., Springfield

Complete House Furnishing

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made In This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD. W. G. WHEAT.

The Handsomest Parlor Suites
We Have Ever Shown at Moderate Prices

While still showing in unrivaled assortment the very finest parlor furniture made in America we have endeavored this season to give our patrons better values than ever before—handsome well-made furniture at very moderate prices, and we have been wonderfully successful. Never before have we shown such beautiful suites at such very low prices.

Our big showing of parlor furniture is now at its best and it includes a most attractive variety of choice suites within the reach of every one. We mention a few unusually good values in three-piece suites:

At $32—Mahogany finish suite with scroll arms and covered with silk tapestry.

At $40—Plain, rich Colonial suite with mahogany panel backs, claw feet and spring seats, upholstered in panne plush.

At $48—Solid mahogany suite made on graceful Colonial lines covered with panne plush.

At $56—Handsome mahogany suite with circular back and arms, loose silk plush cushions.

At $63—Mahogany suite made on Empire lines with square back and arms, in panne plush.

At $65—Large roomy suite, made of mahogany throughout, with bent slat back, covered with panne plush.

At $75—Pure colonial suite in solid mahogany with French legs and claw feet, covered with hair cloth.

At $87—Sheraton suite solid mahogany daintily inlaid with satin wood and upholstered in silk tapestry.

Domestic Rugs in Small Sizes

Our very complete department of domestic rugs includes a big stock of small rugs — all the best makes in all the popular small sizes and in a splendid variety of choice patterns and colorings which will harmonize with the larger rugs in your home. These small and inexpensive rugs that fit in odd places help wonderfully in completing the furnishing of a room, and placed where the greatest wear comes they are a great economy. Here are a few of the most popular sizes in the well-known makes shown in the various grades.

Axminsters

18 x 36 in.,	$1.10 and $1.50
27 x 54 in.,	$1.75 and $2.25
36 x 36 in.,	$2.25
36 x 72 in.,	$3.75

Extra quality Axminster Rugs, 27 x 54. Regular $3.50 value, $2.75

Brussels Rugs

22½ x 36 in.,	$1.65 and $1.75
27 x 54 in.,	$2.50 and $2.65

FULL LINE OF HALL STRIPS IN ALL WIDTHS AND LENGTHS

Royal Wiltons

18 x 36 in.,	$2.25
22½ x 36 in.,	$3 and $4
27 x 54 in.,	$3.50 to $6
36 x 68 in. from	$5 to $8.50

Smyrna Rugs

Mat size (about 18 x 36),	95c to $1.40
Bureau size,	$1.35 to $2
26 x 54 in.,	$2.10 to $2.78
30 x 30 in.,	$1.58 to $2.20
36 x 60 in.,	$2.40 to $3.45
36 x 36 in.,	$2.10 to $3
36 x 72 in.,	$3.50 to $5

Main Carpet Floor.

Meekins, Packard & Wheat
Springfield, Massachusetts

The Chief Difference Between Crawford Boilers and other boilers is that they heat the houses they are rated to heat;—you don't have to get the "next larger size."

These Boilers give more heat per pound of coal than others and cost less in repairs. They are simplicity itself in operation, are guaranteed for zero weather efficiency and to save fuel, labor, worry and money to those who use them.

There are no packed joints, sheet iron parts or brick linings in these Boilers, and the "Heat Ribs" cast on the interiors are found in no others.

They are a gilt edge investment for those who want heat and plenty of it at the minimum of expense and care.

Write to us for circulars

Walker & Pr... Mfg. Co., Boston, Mass.

...FORD COOKING RANGES

...aulkner, Palmer Agents

Pit Brow Women.

The pit brow women work at the mouths of English coal mines in sheds open to the weather at the sides. The work which they perform has to do with the sorting of the coal according to size and quality and the freeing of it from stones. There is some lifting to be done and some pushing. There is some risk, but not a great deal. Women have been hurt by the catching of their clothing in the belting and machinery, but of late there has been more care than formerly in covering the parts of the machinery which proved dangerous. At the present time accidents are rare and confined for the most part to the crushing of fingers. There is dust constantly rising and this makes the work untidy. Women working in coal get black faces as well as men, but they wear cloths on their heads, which keep the dust out of their hair, and the fact that they are in the open air, together with the constant muscular exertion required, is on the whole beneficial to their health. Many of the girls are fine figures and all have good color. They prefer the occupation to domestic labor or employment in factories. The wages they earn range from a shilling to 2s. 3d. a day. In the various colliery towns there are upward of 5,000 women thus employed.—Exchange.

An Elastic Appetite.

The American black bear has an appetite that may be appropriately termed elastic. He will kill a thousand pound steer and capture the tiny field mouse for a meal with equal indifference. If a pig or sheep is not handy to his reach he will dine on a colony of ants or a nest of wood grubs. He will feast on dainty birds' eggs or sweet stores of wild honey and on the foulest carrion with like gusto. He will fish for the savory trout, but at the same time snap any warty toad or slimy lizard that may happen along that way. He will seek the luscious wild plum when it has ripened or the wild grape among the branches where the vine clambers and bears its fruit, but will not miss the opportunity to make food of any snake that may lie in ambush there for birds that come to peck at the plums or grapes. The bear has a comprehensive palate. There is scarcely a thing in the animal or vegetable kingdom that will not tickle it.

The Strength of Rings.

Some elaborate calculations, backed by experiments, have been made to determine the "breaking strength" of rings. It appears that a ring of ductile material like malleable iron will be pulled out into the form of a long link before it breaks and that the ultimate strength of the ring is virtually independent of its diameter. Fracture finally occurs as the result of almost pure tension, and the resistance to breaking is a little less than twice that of a rod of the same cross section subjected to a straight pull. As the ring increases in diameter there appears to be a slight approach toward equality, with double the strength of a bar. Thus a three inch ring made of three-quarter inch iron broke at nineteen and one-half tons; a four inch ring at nineteen and nine-tenths tons and a six inch ring at twenty tons, the strength of a bar of the same metal being ten and one-half tons.

A King Full.

When a man charged with disorderly conduct was arraigned by Patrolman Queen before a chief magistrate in the Adams street court, Brooklyn, the court asked, "What's your name?" "Thomas King," was the answer. "Ah," said the magistrate, "a queen captures a king." "Yes, but it wasn't a straight deal," retorted King. "Sure it was," interrupted Queen. "This man is a fourthusher." "What's your business?" "I dig for a living," answered King. "So you are a king of spades," laughed the magistrate. "Yes, but beaten by a club," answered King. "Can you come across with $2?" "A dence of a fine," spoke up King, "but I'll see you." He handed over the money, and Clerk Hesterberg raked in the pot. "I see a joker's no good in this game," said King as he was leaving court.—Exchange.

Vegetables In Tudors' Time.

What did people eat before they had the potato as a staple article of diet? Apparently they had most of the vegetables that we have now. Of Londoners in the time of the Tudors, Sir Walter Besant tells us that they ate lettuce as a separate dish before the meat, used turnip leaves as a salad and roasted the turnip itself in wood ashes. Horseradish and carrots were known to them, and capers were served boiled in oil or vinegar. Cucumbers, radishes, parsnips and cabbages also figured at the Tudor meal table, for which, by the way, they boiled their oysters and spread their beef with honey. It would be fun in these days to eat—or refuse—a Tudor meal.—London Chronicle.

DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP HER

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pound, Wis.—"I am glad to announce that I have been cured of dyspepsia and female troubles by your medicine. I had been troubled with both for fourteen years and consulted different doctors, but failed to get any relief. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I can say I am a well woman. I can't find words to express my thanks for the good your medicine has done me. You may publish this if you wish." —Mrs. HERMAN SIETH, Pound, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, ... on, dizziness, or nervous ...

Ve... sta... tit...

USMC

A Goodyear Welt Shoe contains more value for the money than any other article of daily use you buy.

The masses of the people are wearing better shoes to-day than ever before.

The United Shoe Machinery Company by steadily reducing the machinery cost of making shoes, improving the machines on which shoes are manufactured, placing them in factories on reasonable terms and giving manufacturers an efficient service has made this possible

The Boot and Shoe Recorder says: "One day's work will buy a better pair of shoes in the United States than it will anywhere else in the world by more than 30 per cent."

The item of machinery is the only item of cost in the manufacture of shoes which is lower to-day than in 1899, when the United Shoe Machinery Company was formed.

The products of the shoe factories of Massachusetts have greatly increased in value since the Company was formed in 1899. In 1900 they were valued at $117,000,000; in 1908 (the latest year for which statistics are at hand) at $170,000,000; and that was the year after a panic.

The operatives on the Company's machines in shoe factories are much more regularly employed and receive higher wages than operatives received under the conditions which prevailed before the formation of the Company.

At the New England Fair in the Mechanics' Building, Boston, you will see a complete shoe-making plant, with the machines of the Company in actual operation making Goodyear Welt Shoes.

Sixty different machines out of the 300 manufactured by the Company are shown at work there, each needed in the manufacture of a high-grade Goodyear Welt Shoe.

Some of the machines are sold; some are leased; some are sold or leased as the shoe manufacturer may prefer. Most shoe manufacturers had rather lease than buy.

Visit the fair and learn for yourself the terms upon which the shoe manufacturer enjoys the use of each machine.

Ask questions. The... answered.

Thorndike Three Rivers Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Mrs. John King had the misfortune to break her wrist Wednesday.

The Young Bachelors' Club will hold a ball at Union Hall, Nov. 8. McEnelly's orchestra will play.

The annual coffee party and entertainment of St. Mary's parish will take place in the church hall Thanksgiving Eve.

Several members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., of this place paid a visit to Springfield Sunday, in the interest of the order.

Frank Underwood of Quincy, Ill., is the guest of Mrs. Fanny McMenain. Mr. Underwood was a resident of this place several years ago.

A special car will be run to Thorndike after the Haliowe'en social to be held in Monson next Tuesday evening by Wiseman Court, M. C. O. F.

The wedding engagement of Dr. E. F. Sullivan of North Adams, formerly of this place, to Miss Johanna Griffin of Holyoke is announced.

The banns of marriage were published at St. Mary's church last Sunday between Miss Annie L. Brosnan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brosnan of this place, and John A. Shea of Bondsville.

THREE RIVERS.

Bowling Notes.

The Mohawks were defeated by the Crescents on the Pickering Hall alleys Tuesday evening.

Crescents.
L. Keith	74	73	79	226
W. Pottras	86	89	87	262
L. Rollet	83	71	83	237
J. Ritchie	75	76	83	235
	319	309	332	960
Mohawks.
J. Paulin	82	85	86	253
W. Ritchie	74	89	74	237
I. Cole	66	72	80	218
A. Garvan	82	93	85	260
	304	339	335	968

There are now three teams tied for first place in per cent.

Standing.	Won	Lost	P. C.	P. F.
Crescents	4	2	667	1967
Brunswicks	4	2	667	1985
Trimmers	2	1	667	962
Mohawks	3	3	500	1979
Rockets	2	4	333	1916
High Rollers	0	3	000	925

Trading Post a Success.

The Red Men's trading post closed Saturday eve ing with a very large attendance. It was a success financially and otherwise. The articles were awarded Monday night, as follows: Calabash pipe, Alcide Barber; meerschaum pipe, Ralph Henderson; dinner set, Isaac Cole; silk umbrella, Raymond Daly; buffet, Bertha Goodreau, Palmer Center; sideboard, William Porter; rocking chair, Doris Abare; [illegible] lamp, Miss Capen, Palmer; parlor clock, William Keyes, Bondsville; dress suit case, Joseph Bothwell; box of cigars, Mr. Stewart. The watch given to the young lady receiving the most votes was awarded to Miss Mary Riddle, the other contestants receiving watches also; and the doll given to the little girl receiving the most votes was awarded to Ida Johnson.

Thomas Cole has resigned his position in Palmer Mill.

Miss Hazel Gironx has recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Nellie Dugas has moved from Main street to Holyoke.

Samuel and Robert Cole spent Sunday with friends in Maynard.

Albert Senecal and John Ritchie spent Sunday with friends in Ware.

F. Page of Ludlow spent Sunday with friends at the Riverside Hotel.

F. A. Young returned to his home in Cliftondale the first [illegible] week.

Miss Bertha Pal[illegible] week with [illegible]

Wilfre[illegible] week [illegible]

[illegible] a position with the class of [illegible] Construction Co.

[illegible] Boarding [illegible] has been enjoying the [illegible] Belchertown this week.

William Davis of Ludlow spent Sunday with friends at the Riverside Hotel.

Mrs. George Moon of Springfield street is spending the week in Nashua, N. H.

Miss Nellie Conroy of Springfield spent Sunday at her home on Athol street.

Agnes Cole has recovered from her illness and is able to be back at school.

Mosey Smith of Springfield spent Sunday with [illegible] on Palmer street.

James Cas[illegible] recovered from his recent illness to be out again.

[illegible] Amherst spent Sunday with [illegible] Belchertown street.

[illegible] of Springfield spent Sunday with his family on Belchertown road.

Elmer Allen of Worcester spent the last of the week with his father on Maple street.

F. A. Upham delivered an illustrated lecture Tuesday evening on his trip to England.

Joseph Goodrean of Hartford spent Saturday with Wilfred Johnson on Main street.

Edith Bamford has recovered from her recent attack of the mumps and is able to be out.

Miss Martha A. Buzzell of Springfield spent the last of the week with friends in this village.

A. Labelle has resigned his position in Brattleboro, and returned to his home on Palmer street.

Daniel Sullivan of Shelburne Falls spent the last of the week with his family on Palmer street.

Charles Tracy of Westfield spent the last of the week with his parents on Bourne street.

Frank Burse of Springfield spent the last of the week with his parents on Springfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barber and family of Worcester were the week-end guests of relatives in this place.

Miss Ida Raymond of Holyoke, formerly of this place, spent the week-end with her cousin on Pleasant street.

Milton Bogue has resigned his position with the Flynt Construction Co. and has taken one in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The Springfield street railway company have started the work of raising their track on Main street in this village.

The Canadian Circle have purchased a new pool table which will be installed in their hall for the use of the members.

Miss Anna Murdock has returned to her home on Main street after spending a few weeks with friends in Bridgeport, Ct.

Walter Root of Springfield was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. [illegible] Root on East Main street.

[illegible] of Belcher[illegible] day afternoon to sew for the sale they are planning to hold the first of December.

BONDSVILLE.

McBride—Gloster.

Arthur Gloster Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gloster of this place, and Miss Nora McBride of Ware were married in All Saints' church in Ware Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John J. Roberts. The couple were attended by Miss Idora McBride, sister of the bride, and Michael Bowler of South Belchertown, a cousin of the groom, was best man. The bride was gowned in a dress of white satin, and wore a veil caught up with lilies of the valley; she carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of blue silk and a white picture hat; she also carried roses. A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McBride of West street, to about 50 guests. The couple were the recipients of numerous gifts of silverware, linen, furniture, a substantial check and several gold pieces. Mr. and Mrs. Gloster will reside for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gloster Sr., in this village, where the groom is employed by the Boston Duck Co. Mr. and Mrs. Gloster Sr., Miss Kate, Daniel and Helen Gloster attended the wedding.

Received Word of Mother's Death.

Rev. W. H. Upham received word Tuesday morning of the death of his mother, Mrs. Lucy Upham, at her summer home in Oak Bluffs. Mrs. Upham died very suddenly at midnight. The following day she would have been 79 years of age. Mrs. Upham was the widow of the Rev. Samuel Upham, who was well known as a minister of great ability. He was—about 30 years ago—pastor for three years of the Trinity Methodist church in Springfield He died seven years ago. Mrs. Upham leaves, besides her son, Rev. W. H. Upham, pastor of the Methodist church of this village, a son, Rev. Frank Upham, district superintendent of the Brooklyn district. The funeral arrangements have not been made. Burial will take place in the family lot in Cedar Hill cemetery in Hartford, Ct.

Married Thirty-three Years.

Mr. and Mrs. F E. Davis celebrated the 33d anniversary of their marriage Saturday. Dinner was served to 15 relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were the recipients of pretty gifts of cut glass. The following were present: Mrs. Henry Healey and Mrs. L. E. Maynard — two sisters of Mr. Davis — of Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Davis and son Kendall of Springfield, Miss Mildred Hartwell of Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs Fred Cogswell of New Salem Mr. and Mrs. Davis have three sons, Fred of Springfield, William and Robert in the home.

Mrs. Amelia Culver, who has been very ill, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bond have returned from a Canadian trip.

William Simpson of Lee spent Sunday with his family in this village.

F. C. Davis was a recent guest of his brother, Azar Davis, in Athol.

John Heys of Chicopee Falls was a guest over Sunday of his family here.

Alec Gowen is spending a few days this week visiting friends in Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce entertained Sunday a party of friends from Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glaccum have returned to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

O. A. Parent spent Wednesday in Boston, making the trip by automobile with [illegible]

[illegible] Parent of Framingham was a Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Parent.

Mrs. Mary Dunlay of New Haven was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Amelia Culver, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowland McFarlane and daughter Edith, spent Sunday as guests of friends in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilde and baby of Lowell are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Faunce.

Mrs. Aubrey Vanghan returned home Sunday after a few days spent with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banister.

William Davis, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with rheumatism, is improving.

John Austin was summoned Tuesday to serve as juror for the civil sitting of the superior court in Springfield.

Michael Donahue, conductor on the electric [illegible] has been confined to his home in this village by illness.

Mrs. Samuel Beanregarde and daughter were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs Richard Thomas in Three Rivers.

The house of George Merriam has been quarantined for diphtheria, the little daughter having the disease in a mild form.

Mrs. F. S. Gordon returned Saturday from a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. Bullis, in An Sable Chasm, N. Y.

Several from this village went Tuesday evening to the Court Square theater to see Harry Lander, the Scottish comedian.

The public schools were closed to-day to allow the teachers to attend the Hampden County Teachers' Convention in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shea have returned from their wedding trip and are at the home of Mr. Shea's parents in South Belchertown.

Numerous local huntsmen are availing themselves of the hunting season. Several have reported good bags of rabbits, gray squirrels, etc.

John O'Neil has resigned his position as second-hand in the weave room and accepted a position in Farmington, to which place he will go this week.

O. A. Parent and daughter Ora attended the wedding Saturday of his niece, Miss Alice Walker, to Mr. Hodgkin of Winthrop, at her home in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parent and two sons of Ludlow, and Mr and Mrs. Cyrus Savage and Burt Savage of Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collis, who were married in Thorndike last Wednesday, [illegible] returned from their wedding trip and [illegible] in the house owned by Mrs. [illegible]

[illegible]ley, engineer for the Boston [illegible] taken the tenement lately [illegible] and will

BOSTON LETTER.

[Continued from First Page.]

ist Citizens and Prohibitionists constitute the body of the remainder of the designations. Mr. Hobbs says that the Republicans are sure of 134 representatives, against 127 in the present House, while the Democrats talk still about gaining a larger number in either branch than they had in 1911.

Campaign literature is scarce compared with some years. The main pieces of the Republicans are the placards with the pictures of Frothingham and Luce under the words: "Elect these men;" the Republican state platform, and two leaflets warning voters, and mill hands especially, against reducing the tariff. The Democrats have the governor's record, just out in a vest pocket edition, making large claims for him, a little sheet, printed on one side giving Frothingham's anti-labor record when he was in the Legislature, and a side sheet comparing the party platform and personal records of the candidates. Political managers seem to rely less upon reading and more upon talking than a few years ago.

The Democrats are having some 50 rallies a night, only a few of them with their heaviest cannon, while the Republicans have imported Senator Smith of Michigan, Representative Scott of Kansas and Foster of Vermont, and they are giving many talks daily from automobile tour or at evening rallies. After all, men make votes faster than documents. Candidate Walsh, second on the Democratic ticket, is specially mentioned as one of the finds of the campaign for stump speaking Frothingham is also credited with making better speeches than ever.

LANDON.

"My wife told me to bring home a pie." "What kind of a pie do you wish?" "A cherry pie, one with peekaboo effect"—Washington Herald.

Another Miss.

A young recruit was just commencing his first course of musketry. The instructor, getting very angry with him, told him exactly what to do, and each time he missed the target. At last the instructor lost his temper and told him to take a spare round behind the butts and shoot himself with it. Presently the instructor was startled by hearing a report from a rifle behind the butts; without a moment's hesitation he rushed round to see what had occurred, when the recruit looked up from examining his rifle and said quite coolly, "It's all right; don't get alarmed; it's another miss."—London Telegraph.

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns

For Women

Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the reliable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.

Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.

McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, simplicity, economy and number sold. More dealers sell McCall Patterns than any other two makes combined. None higher than 15 cents. Buy from your dealer, or by mail from

McCALL'S MAGAZINE

236-246 W. 37th St., New York City

N. B.—Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request.

The Cardinal's Edict

It Was but Lamely Enforced Till an Example Was Set

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Cardinal Richelieu while prime minister was virtually king of France. During his administration dueling became so common among the higher classes, especially the officers of the army, that it was evident if the practice were not checked these two classes would become depleted. The cardinal issued an order against such fighting, but it was not obeyed. In order to show that he was in earnest in the matter he made an example of the Count de Bouteville, a member of the exalted house of Montmorenci, who had disobeyed the edict. The count was beheaded. This had a wholesome effect, but not sufficient to eradicate the evil.

There was at this time a young lieutenant in the army, Jean de la Tour, married to Yvon, a lovely young woman of twenty-four, who had borne him two children. Jean was a poor swordsman, and his wife realized that if compelled to fight according to the code she would probably lose him. She urged him to practice, and when he excused himself on the ground that he had no one to fence with she offered to be his opponent.

Jean was much pleased at the idea, and his wife at once procured a suitable costume. She was about the same height and weight as her husband, and it was apparent from the first that she would make a very suitable adversary for practice purposes. While De la Tour was naturally sluggish in his movements, madame was remarkably quick. He started in as her instructor, but it was not long before he was worsted by his pupil.

But Yvon knew very well that she was not capable of bringing him up to a standard that would make him a match for accomplished swordsmen. Unknown to her husband, she took lessons of the most skillful fencing master in Paris, pledging him to keep the matter a secret. He had good reason to observe his pledge, for his pupil soon became more proficient in his art than himself.

The inevitable was not long in coming. Jean de la Tour one day, during drill, stepped in a puddle of water and bespattered a comrade's newly polished boots. Yvon was in her chamber, engaged with her maternal duties, when an officer called and asked for her husband. She told her caller that Jean was not at home, and the officer left with her a challenge for him from Lieutenant Jacques de Fontayne to mortal combat for having bespattered his boots. Madame promised to deliver the message, and the officer withdrew.

When De la Tour returned to his quarters his wife asked him to drive with her to their country place near Paris to assist her in laying out some changes she wished to make. Jean consented, and the two drove to a house and grounds near St. Cloud. Jean was surprised to see several servants there, including Francois, whom his wife had brought with her from her own family when she was married. Yvon took her husband to a room on the top story, with but one window near the ceiling, and, while telling him of the change she proposed to make in it, suddenly stepped into the hall. Jean heard the key turned in the door and his wife going down the staircase. He was a prisoner.

In a few minutes Francois came up and told his master that Mme. de la Tour desired that her husband should remain in seclusion for a few days, and she hoped he would not worry. He would be given whatever he wished for. De la Tour, at a loss to know the cause of his imprisonment, was thunderstruck.

Mme. de la Tour, returning to Paris, sent word in the name of her husband that in view of the cardinal's order he would only meet Lieutenant de Fontayne on the promise of all concerned not to divulge the affair and would insist on fighting masked.

A reply came consenting to the terms and asking that De la Tour would name his seconds in order that the terms might be agreed upon. In reply to this word was sent that De la Tour, fearing a second might betray him to the prime minister, would trust no one with his interests. He would appear at dawn the next morning at the village of V., a few miles from Paris, ready to fight De Fontayne with rapiers. The reason given for this unusual course was that De la Tour was more afraid of losing his life by the cardinal's ax than De Fontayne's sword. An assent to this was received by Mme. de la Tour, and the preliminaries were closed.

The next morning Yvon, dressed in a suit of clothes belonging to her husband, was driven to V., arriving on the ground just as day was breaking. She found not only De Fontayne, but two seconds attending him.

"Pardon, monsieur," said one of these men, "but it is not usual for affairs like this to be fought out alone by the principals. Since you have no seconds, in case you disable Lieutenant de Fontayne it is expected that you will fight with me, and if you disable me you will have to fight my confrere."

Yvon, not daring to speak lest her voice betray her, simply nodded an assent. She wore her husband's rapier [illegible] side and, drawing it, put herself in position of defense.

Now, Mme. de la Tour, though she [illegible] to meet skillful swordsmen, knew that if she showed her own prowess they would give herself away. For these men all knew that De la Tour was a bungler. Being a woman, at first her nerve failed her, and she came very near losing her life by a single thrust of her adversary. The thought of her two innocent children, who would be rendered motherless if she did not control herself, made her perfectly cool, and, though she did not do what she was capable of doing, she did all that was necessary. She dreaded killing her adversary or even wounding him. She therefore sent his weapon flying in the air.

De Fontayne picked it up with the intention of continuing the fight, but his second interfered, claiming that it was not now his part to fight. By this time Yvon's nerve was as steady as a rock. She pinked her adversary, though unintentionally, then disarmed him. The third man she served as she had served the first. Then she strode away to her carriage without turning back for a glance at the three men, who stood looking at one another and her in astonishment.

But madame did not have a chance to mount the steps of the carriage the footman had let down for her. The sound of horses' hoofs was heard, and an officer, followed by a dozen horsemen, rode up.

"By order of his eminence the prime minister," he said, "I arrest you all and am ordered to conduct you to the Palais Cardinal."

The affair had got out at the barracks, some one wishing to curry favor with the man who ruled France having peached. Yvon was permitted to ride back to Paris in her carriage, the others on horseback, all surrounded by guards. At the Palais Cardinal they were obliged to wait several hours before the minister was ready to receive them; then when they were admitted to his presence by the thundercloud on his face they saw their doom. Yvon had worn her mask up to this moment. The cardinal saw it and said with icy sarcasm:

"Lieutenant de la Tour, you remind me of the ostrich, which hides his head in the sand to conceal its body. Your head will look better till I am through with it uncovered. You will oblige me by removing your mask."

"Pardon, your eminence," interposed De Fontayne, "I doubt if he is De la Tour. This one is a marvel with the rapier; De la Tour is an indifferent fencer. This one disarmed us all in turn."

"We have need of such men," said the cardinal to Yvon. "You would be better employed in my service. I would see you fence with Carrier. If you can disarm Carrier you will save your head. Unmask!"

"If I unmask, your eminence, I can not fight."

"Not fight unmasked! Well, then, wait till you have fought."

Carrier was one of those picked men the cardinal kept about him for protection and a marvel with the rapier. The two were given foils, this being a great advantage to Yvon, who dreaded bloodshed. For awhile it was a drawn game between the two, but finally, by one of those quick moves that only a gift nerve, so to speak, can accomplish, Yvon placed the button of her foil against her adversary's heart.

"Enough!" cried the cardinal. "Victor, unmask!"

Yvon took off her face covering, and in doing so her hair, which had in so many frays became unloosened, fell on her shoulders.

"A woman!" exclaimed Richelieu, astonished.

"A woman, your excellency," she replied. "The wife of Lieutenant de la Tour."

"Your husband! Where is he?"

"Shut up in our country place. I tricked him. Knowing of your eminence's edict against men fighting duels, I determined to fight in his place. Surely the order does not apply to women."

"You are very shrewd," said his eminence dryly.

At this point an attendant announced to the cardinal that Lieutenant de la Tour was without and begged to be admitted. The request was granted, and De la Tour, very hot and very red and very angry, entered. He looked at everybody, finally fixing his eyes on his wife. Then he turned to the cardinal.

"I have heard, your eminence, that my wife has been fighting in my stead and that the party was brought here by your eminence's order. Meanwhile I have been shut up like a dog and have just escaped."

"Your wife has saved you first from a better swordsman and second from my headsman." Then turning to Yvon: "Mme. de la Tour, her majesty has graciously appointed you her mistress of the robes. By your pluck and skill you have saved every one of these men, including your husband, from the block."

Then Yvon approached her husband shamefacedly, hung her head and glanced up at him appealingly. He half turned away from her with folded arms, tapping one arm with his fingers.

"You have made me ridiculous," he muttered.

"I would," interposed the cardinal, "that every woman in France would make her husband thus ridiculous. To show you and others that she has benefited you the king promotes you to be captain."

Then Jean embraced his wife.

It has been claimed that the reform the cardinal was so desirous of making really began from that time. Be that as it may, Captain and Mme. de la Tour always stood high in his eminence's favor.

Classified.

"You say you are your wife's third husband?" said one man to another during a talk.

"No, I am her fourth husband," was the reply.

"Heavens, man!" said the first speaker. "You are not a husband—you're a habit."

Duty Done.

The pleasure a man of honor enjoys in the consciousness of having performed his duty is a reward he pays himself for all his pains.—La Bruyere.

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made in This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD. W. G. WHEAT.

A Most Unusual Offering of

Extra Quality Axminster Rugs

9 x 12 Rugs. Regular $34.50 Value at $25

The big carpet mills of the country have now begun work on their spring business and they have determined what patterns shall be discontinued the coming season. From the makers of one of our most popular rugs — a special extra fine Axminster — we have just received the list of patterns which will not be made next season. We have gone through our entire stock of these rugs and picked out the patterns now to be discontinued and marked them at prices which will quickly close them out.

These are extra quality Axminsters, rich and heavy, with deep pile, giving luxurious beauty and splendid wearing worth. The patterns now to be dropped are handsome Oriental effects, many of them having been among our very best sellers during the present season, but they must make way for the new things to come. They include a choice selection of desirable colorings suitable for almost any room in the house.

Rugs 9 x 12. Regular price $34.50 — to close $25

Bigger Stocks and Bigger Values

In Dining-Room Furniture

Than We Have Ever Shown Before

Never before have we shown such an immense stock of dining-room furniture, all in good taste, at such very reasonable prices. At prices within the reach of every one we can show beautiful pieces handsome enough to grace any dining-room — furniture of good design and excellent construction, at very moderate prices.

Three Special Values in Buffets

As an example of this unusual value-giving we quote figures on three handsome buffets at very low prices:

Handsome quartered oak buffet, made on Colonial lines with leaded glass or wood panel doors, and handsome French beveled mirror.

42-inch Buffet — $24.

Swell front buffet in selected quartered oak with carved claw feet, and Colonial supporting columns, finished inside and out in the very best manner.

48-inch Buffet — $26.

Other excellent designs in quartered oak at $28, $32, $35 and up to $125.

Then rich Colonial Buffet in solid mahogany with large French plate mirror — the handsomest Buffet in solid mahogany we have ever been able to offer at this low price — $34.

Immense assortment of handsome designs in solid mahogany up to — $275.

Sale of Sample

Coats, Suits and Dresses

We announce to-day a most important sale in the Cloak and Suit Department. At handsome savings on regular prices we offer a magnificent lot of sample coats, suits and dresses, in a wealth of styles, but hardly two alike. These are made from materials which are now exhausted and for that reason cannot be reordered. They are all fresh new goods in the most desirable styles and colorings of the season, and in the widest range of sizes, only one or two sizes of a kind.

Sample Suits formerly $25, $27.50, $35, $45 and $47.50
NOW $19.75, $21.50, $25, $35 and $37.50.

Sample Coats formerly $19.75, $27.50 and $35.
NOW $15, $19.75 and $27.75.

Sample Dresses formerly $25, $35, $39.50 and $50.
NOW $18, $25, $29.50 and $39.50.

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

Springfield, Massachusetts

You Miss Lots Of Worry Baking With A Modern

Glenwood

This Glenwood Can Be Had

with the latest and most improved Elevated or End Gas Range Attachments. It has a powerful Water Front or for country use a Large Copper Reservoir on the end opposite fire box. Call and see them.

"Makes Cooking [illegible]"

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Chas. Barclay, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and [illegible] carrying women [illegible] period of change.

The testimonials [illegible] constantly being published in our advertisements [illegible] to be absolutely genuine.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, [illegible]

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m. p. m. for New London, connecting at Palls with Fitchburg Division R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Boston and Springfield; at New with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Line steamers.

LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 p. LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.15 a. 6.30 p. m. for New London and stations.

GOING NORTH.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 p. m. for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. New York via Norwich Line.

LEAVE New London, 5.25 p. m. for intermediate stations.

LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7. and 5.30 p. m., connecting with Montreal and the West via Gra[illegible]

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHO[illegible]

Trains run week days o[illegible]

J. W. HANLEY, General Pas[illegible]

RHEUMATISM

This nerve-racking disease is caused by impure blood and uric acid in the blood. External applications sometimes give temporary relief but won't cure, the only way to secure permanent results is to thoroughly eradicate from the blood all the impurities. Nothing on earth will drive out the poisons from your system, keep the bowels and liver in good condition as will S. S. S. BARKS. This wonderful remedy that has proved its great merits the past 42 years.

SEVEN BARKS can be had of all druggists at 50 cents per bottle. Get a good trial and watch your rheumatism disappear.

LYMAN BROWN, 68 Murray St., New York, N.Y.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. Kinsley's Pharmacy, special agent.

Rheumatic Pains quickly relieved

Sloan's Liniment is good for pain of any sort. It penetrates, without rubbing, through the muscular tissue right to the bone—relieves the congestion and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's Proof.

A. W. Lay of Lafayette, Ala., writes:—"I had rheumatism for five years. I tried doctors and several different remedies but they did not help me. I obtained a bottle of Sloan's Liniment which did me so much good that I would not do without it for anything."

Thomas L. Rice of Easton, Pa., writes: "I have used Sloan's Liniment and find it first-class for rheumatic pains."

Mr. G. G. Jones of Baldwin writes:—"I have found Sloan's Liniment par excellence. I have used it for broken sinews above the hock caused by a fall, and to my great satisfaction I was able to do my duties in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is an excellent remedy for sprains, bruises, sore throat, asthma. No rubbing necessary—you can apply with a brush.

At all dealers. Price, 25c., 50c. & $1.00.

Sloan's Book on Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Poultry sent free. Address

Dr. EARL S. SLOAN, BOSTON, MASS.

"The Quick or the [illegible] created the biggest sensation ever [illegible] appearing in magazine form. To the [illegible] incredible demand for the story [illegible] Amélie Rives, now the Princess Troubetzkoy, has written a new novel which bids fair to [illegible] reputation of its famous predecessor. [illegible] appears in the October [illegible]

$100 Reward, $[illegible]

Monson News.

AUTO COLLIDES WITH TEAM.

Accident on Academy Hill, But With No Serious Results.

Miss Marion Moulton and her companion, Miss Esther Fagan, were thrown from the buggy in which they were driving on Academy hill about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. An automobile ran into the buggy from the rear, throwing the girls out and badly damaging the buggy. The young ladies were taken to the office of Dr. C. W. Jackson, where they were soon able to return to their homes. The team was the property of Miss Moulton's father, H. D Moulton, and the automobile was the property of W. C Moulton, Miss Moulton's brother, who was driving the machine After being struck the horse turned and ran down Main street and was stopped near the Cushman fountain. The buggy was a rubber-tired, high-priced vehicle, and was almost completely demolished.

Springfield High Wins Game.

In a hard fought game on a field that resembled a quagmire owing to the heavy rain which fell throughout the day, Springfield high sch ol defeated Monson Academy football team last Saturday by the score of 6–0 A sensational 79-yard sprint by Drew, the colored halfback of the Springfield team, gave the visiting team a hard earned victory. Under the conditions the game was a remarkable one; had the field been in any sort of condition there undoubtedly would have been a fast and exciting game. It was Captain Smith's first game since the injury to his knee four weeks ago, and had he not been injured again in the first period, Monson would have surely scored as they carried the ball to Springfield's eleven yard line, but failed to make their distance by inches. All of the work fell upon Oefinger Bowker and as the Springfield team at these two to match it was much superior them. In the first period Monson held Springfield back to their own two yard line and they were forced to punt from behind the goal posts. Springfield's tackle-back play proved a good ground gainer while Bowker, Smith and Oefinger made large gains on end runs and line plunges. The line-up:

Springfield.	Monson.
Smith (capt.) le,	re, Barnikow
Hunt,	rt, Bates
Bowker	rg, Elliott
Fuller	c, Francis
Wright	lg, R. Taylor
Hart,	lt, Atherton
Drew	le, Harper, E Taylor
Prendiville, qb.	qb, Dunbar
Oefinger, rhb,	rhb, Smith (capt)
Bowman, rhb,	lhb, Oefinger
Cahill	fb, Bowker

Springfield high 6, Monson academy 0; touchdown, Drew; goal from touchdown, Johnson from the field missed, Atherton. Referee, of Training school; umpire, Thayer of Technical high school; field judge, Metcalf of Training school; head linesman, Reed of Training school; timers, Manning and Wilder; timers, Robinson and Keller. Time, four 14-minute quarters.

Social Club Elects Officers.

The annual business meeting of the Monson Club was held in their rooms in the Wales block last Saturday evening, when the following officers were elected: President, G E F Wales; vice president, G. [illegible]; secretary, G E Wills; treasurer, [illegible] Miller; directors, E. F. Cushman, [illegible] Bughee, N P Dempsy and L. [illegible] The report of the treasurer for the past year was read and accepted, and the club is found to be in a good financial condition All of the rooms have been piped and gas fires have been installed Following the business meeting a collation was served; F. Holdridge had charge, and Herman Mans catered.

Democratic Rally Next Week.

Alexis Bur of Southbridge, Democratic candidate for senator for the Worcester-Hampden distct, was in town Tuesday afternoon while a party of friends making arrangements for a Democratic rally to be held in Merial Hall November 2. Mr Boyer and other local candidates will be the speakers.

Burned on Hot Stove.

Mrs. F. F Williams was quite badly burned at her home on King avenue last Saturday. She tripped on a piece of linoleum and fell upon a hot stove, burning her right arm from the wrist to the elbow Her left hand was also burned. The injuries have proved not as serious as feared.

Daniel [illegible] of Springfield has been the guest of Monson friends.

Edgar [illegible] ier of Moulton Hill is visiting relatives in Beverly

E. D. [illegible]man is spending a few days in Boston

[illegible] Bolton is confined to her home on Pearl street by illness.

Mr and Mrs. E E. Thompson are on an automobile trip in New York state.

E. D Cushman has returned from a three weeks' stay at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. O. C. McCray of Cushman street is visiting relatives in Haydenville, Ct.

Mrs Guy Pelton of Green street is in the Springfield hospital for treatment.

Mr and Mrs. G. H. Seymour are spending a few days at Biddeford, Me., and Boston.

Last opportunity for voters to register Saturday from 12 o'clock noon until [illegible] Ellis and son Holbrook and [illegible]lton are visiting in Bridgewater.

[illegible]ello, who has been quite ill on Bates street, is able to

Gertrude Gaonette of Holyoke is the guest of her parents, Mr and Mrs. A. N

Liddle Davis of Green street has returned from a visit with relatives in Lowell.

Mrs. Richard Ritter of Mill street is receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

[illegible]nusford, who has been visiting H. [illegible] on High street, has returned to Springfield college.

[illegible] Seymour, who has been visiting [illegible]mour, has returned to his home in Worcester, Ct.

[illegible]. Beckwith is moving from W. [illegible] house to F. N Wood's house on Main street.

Mrs. Andrew Schultz of South [illegible]t are receiving congratulations [illegible]h of a son.

[illegible]ia White, who have been visiting relatives, has returned to her home in Springfield

[illegible]ory Greggory of East Boston is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moses [illegible] Pearl street.

[illegible]th and South whist club met [illegible]evening with Mrs. Annie Wyatt [illegible]lain street.

[illegible]he Bumstead of Rutland is visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bumstead, State Line.

Mrs. Ricketts and daughter, Constance, have returned from a visit in Worcester, Ct.

Miss Elizabeth Green, who has been visiting Miss J. V Cantwell on State street, has returned to her home in Rockland.

The public schools were closed to day to allow the teachers to attend the Hampden County Teachers' Convention in Springfield.

"The Man on the Box" will be the attraction to-morrow evening in the town hall. Tickets are now on sale at Bradway's news room

A valuable bird dog owned by A. M Walker was run over by an automobile on Main street Thursday and was instantly killed

Mrs. Peter Mills has opened a bakery on North Main street, being the local agent of Royce & Co, of Palmer. Groceries are also sold

Rev. Abram Conklin, pastor of the Universalist church, has returned from Springfield, where he attended the Universalist convention.

The annual fall cleaning up of the streets of refuse and leaves has been done during the past week and the improvement is much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowler have returned from their wedding trip, and are occupying their newly-furnished tenement on High street.

Elmer Harris, who has been confined to his home on Main street for some time with rheumatism, has recovered sufficiently to be out.

E. F. Cushman, Maurice Lull, George C. Flynt and Claude A. Duncan have been drawn as jurors in the Spencer murder trial in Springfield.

Mrs. Fred Crowley and son Ronald of Springfield, and John Crowley of New York city spent Sunday at the home of G L Holdridge of South Main street.

Lindsay C Brigham will sell at auction to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in Dr. Soule's block on Main street, a quantity of household furniture and a small lot of tools.

The property of Miss Margaret C Lynch on Mechanic street, consisting of a two tenement house, barn and several acres of land, will be sold at auction to-morrow noon

Arthur Holdridge, who has been spending a week's vacation with his parents, Mr and Mrs G L Holdridge of South Main street, has returned to his work in Springfield

Miss Jennie Mary McKenna, daughter of Mr and Mrs John McKenna of Bridge street, and William Authier of Palmer will be married in St Patrick's church next Wednesday morning.

The pulpit of the Universalist church will be occupied by Rev John H Blackford of El Dorado, O., Sunday morning. Mr Blackford is father of Rev. Harr Blackford, a former pastor of the Monson church

A W. Mumford announces the opening at noon to-morrow on Harrison avenue of a new grocery store, with a full line of canned goods, groceries, etc. Every lady caller to-morrow will be presented with a box of candy.

The excise tax that the town will receive from the street railway will be $1300 greater than last year. This increase is due to the purchase of the Springfield and Eastern by the Springfield street railway The total tax is $1637 67

Mr. and Mrs. William Welsh have returned from a three weeks' wedding trip in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore They will reside with Mrs Welsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs William Welsh of Elm street.

Mrs C. W. Jackson entertained the J. F club of Springfield and the S. T. club of Monson at a bridge whist party at her home on Main street Tuesday afternoon This is the first of a series of meetings to be held by these clubs the coming winter.

The Current Events club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. H. F Dewing on High street. The subject of the meeting was "Current Events," and was in charge of Mrs S F Cushman. The next meeting will be held with Mrs R H. Cushman

A social and entertainment will be held in the chapel of the Congregational church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The entertainment will consist of music and a play "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard" will be presented by members of the Sunday school.

The Century Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs Fred T Smith at her home on West street The following papers were read: "Jefferson and the Democracy, 1800 to 1812," Mrs. E W. Capen; "Cotton culture and manufacture," Mrs. Frank Homer; "Famous Duels," Mrs. M. C Howe

Wiseman court, M. C O F, will hold a Hallowe'en party and dance in Memorial Hall, Monson, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Donahue's singing orchestra will furnish music. Every effort has been made to make this one of the most enjoyable events of the season. Special cars will be run to Palmer and Thorndike after the dance

Academy Notes.

Francis Massey has returned from his home in Unionville, Ct, where he was called owing to the death of his father.

The academy football team will meet the eleven of the Connecticut literary institute to-morrow afternoon on Cushman field at 3 o'clock Although Monson entirely outclasses the visitors, the "Nutmegs" promise to "make it hot" for the academy boys.

The Philomathean society met this afternoon in the Academy chapel. The following program was carried out: Essay, Miss Griudall; reading, Miss Larued; music, Miss Wheeler; news items and spice, Miss Helen Bradway; debate "Resolved that the senior class of Monson Academy should take a trip to Washington instead of having an elaborate graduation" Affirmative, Miss Beckwith; negative, Miss Entwistle.

The class of 1913 held a meeting in room 3 Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining how many desired a school pin. In past years the custom has been for each class to have a separate pin but this year the junior class, indorsed by Principal Dewing, has had a school pin designed. The pin is of a triangular shape having the motto and the emblem of the school on it. The only difference in the pin of each class will be that the respective numerals of the class will be placed at the upper part of the pin.

The second division of rhetoricals were heard Wednesday morning in the Academy chapel. This division was under the supervision of Mr Henderson and attained the average of 78 The program follows in order of marks received: Beals "Anthony's Speech at Death of Brutus;" Miss Beckwith, "The Little Orphan Annie;" Burdick, "The Curse of Regulus;" Miss First, "Lochinvar's Christmas Dance

"Yes-Yes!"

It Sounded Better After Nearly Losing It

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

When Elizabeth Gray returned to Elmwood after a year spent with an uncle in a distant city, she found few changes in the quiet village. The morning after her arrival she lay contentedly in the slant roofed little room that had been hers since childhood and listened to the familiar music of hammer and saw from the distant shipyards.

Just then wood smoke reminded her that her mother was getting breakfast in the kitchen and with a pricking of remorse at her slothfulness, Elizabeth arose and dressed.

"I thought the waffles would arouse you, Bess," smiled her mother, as the girl entered the kitchen, flushed and sparkling. "Here is the first batch—take them in and begin your breakfast. I"—

"Mother mine!" scolded Elizabeth, leading the rosy cheeked, plump little woman into the dining room. "Sit right down and eat breakfast with dad. I shall cook waffles for both of you. Not a word!"

She smiled back at the two loving faces as she passed to and fro from kitchen to dining room ministering to their wants.

"We can't expect to keep her with us always," sighed her mother. "This last year without her has shown me how dreary it will be for us when—somebody takes her away."

"By 'somebody' I suppose you mean Norman," boomed Mr. Gray's deep voice. "I don't know as there's another man in Elmwood, to say nothing of the outside world, that I'd rather give my little Bess to than Norman Ryder. Perhaps she has met somebody else in the city—you can't tell—and Norman's only country bred. Bess probably met some fine dandified chaps in New York."

"I'd rather it would be Norman," insisted Mrs. Gray, with a little frightened flutter in her voice that went straight to Elizabeth's heart. "I couldn't bear to have Bess marry anybody from the city. We might not see her from one year's end to the other."

Elizabeth hastened into the dining room with a plate of waffles scorched to a crisp and her fair face flushed and agitated.

"I've heard every word you said," she confessed between tears and laughter. "Dears, I'm not going to marry anybody. I haven't seen any one in New York that could tempt me away from you."

Mr. Gray squeezed the little hand she had laid in his broad palm and looked quizzically into her blue eyes.

"How about anybody in Elmwood, Bess?" he asked.

"I don't want to marry anybody," flashed Elizabeth fearfully. "I want to stay right here all my life."

That evening Norman Ryder drove over to see Elizabeth Gray, and such is the contrariness of womankind, that he who had always found favor in her eyes, now appeared to be awkward and provincial in manner and speech, as compared to the showy youths she had met when visiting her uncle. Although he was bigger and broader and handsomer than any of the city bred youths, almost the first words he uttered seemed to place him in a different class.

"So you knew I had returned, Norman?" she asked, withdrawing her hands from his close grasp.

"Yes, yes!" he had cried delightedly, and it was that characteristic double affirmative uttered with a slight twang that drew a thin veil of discord between them. There was something about the expression that smacked strongly of the rustic, that, with the twang and the equally favored double negative, "No, no!" seemed to place Norman Ryder among the farmers and dairymen who formed the community about Elmwood.

Elizabeth hated herself for shuddering every time Norman spoke with a twang, but she couldn't help it. She was angry with him for speaking so—her father did not, nor did any of their neighbors. It was carelessness on Norman's part, and it grated on her sensibilities.

"I thought perhaps you'd answer my letters," he said rather ruefully, as he drew his chair near the glowing stove. "but I expect you were pretty busy studying your music. I'm going to ask you to play some of your classical pieces for me by and by."

"Of course I will," said Elizabeth. "I didn't write to anybody here except father and mother, and they said"—she paused with sudden confusion.

"I guess they said I came over here most every night while you were gone," he grinned happily. "They let me read your letters—and that was next best to getting 'em myself."

"I didn't promise you I'd write," protested Elizabeth, rather stiffly.

"No, no!" he uttered quickly, exonerating her from blame. "But—but—I kind of thought you might answer one of 'em, and so I kept on writing."

"I was glad to hear from you, and I suppose it was mean of me never to answer any of them, but did mother give you the messages I sent?"

"Yes, yes! And that was something!" He looked so happy and so handsome that Elizabeth had to harden her heart against the magic of his dark eyes. Every time that nasal twang smote on her ear she winced, and after awhile she grew to counting the times he said "Yes, yes!" and "No, no!" If he would only break himself of using those expressions. But of course he could not know how they sounded. Everybody in Elmwood used them except a few persons like the minister and the doctor and lawyer and her own father. Outsiders laughed and called it part of the dialect of Buffum county.

When Elizabeth asked him if she should play for him Norman said "Yes, yes!" and when she asked if he had had enough music he cried hastily "No, no!" until her nerves were all a-jangle.

[illegible]st he arose to go, and t[illegible]rery tender look in his [illegible]

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

ter say it now? I guess you know what it is." He looked steadily at her.

Elizabeth did not hesitate. She was angry with him for his rustic ways and provoked at herself because she was too narrow minded to overlook them.

"I don't believe you better say it," she said deliberately, her eyes on the small shoe that tapped the carpet.

His face whitened underneath the bronze, and there was a stricken look in his eyes. "I hardly dared to hope much since I heard you were coming home, but before you went away"—He choked a little and asked her a question. "Will you tell me why, Bess?"

She looked up at him with a strange hardness in her heart. "Do you really want me to tell you?" she asked.

"Yes, yes!" he said eagerly.

"That's it, Norman Ryder!" she flashed. "It's your Buffum county twang and your everlasting 'yes-yes' and 'no-no,' and you know better too!"

He stared at her, bewildered for a moment, and as the import of her words struck home he reddened deeply and all the tenderness fled from his eyes. "So that's the reason?" he said gratingly. "Well, Bess, there's no chance for me, then, because if you don't love me enough to overlook a mere habit of speech you don't love me as much as I want you to. I suppose I don't shine very brightly compared with the city fellows you've met, but I've loved you better than anybody else in the world ever could." He crammed on his hat and without another word left the house.

Elizabeth stood alone in the parlor, her eyes fixed in a frightened stare on the closed door, her heart pounding in unison with Norman's departing steps on the crisp snow.

It was bright moonlight, and scores of young people were coasting down the steep hill that ran past the Grays' home. Elizabeth heard their shouts of laughter and the frequent warning cry of "Road!"

The gate crashed into place behind Norman's impatient swing. There was the roar of a coming bobsled, a muffled thud and then shouts of distress.

Elizabeth reached the front gate at the same time her father and mother hurried to the same place, drawn by the sounds of an accident.

Somebody had been run down by the bobsled—somebody who lay, a dark motionless figure against the whiteness of the snow. Around his head the snow was stained a crimson that widened and widened horribly.

It was Norman Ryder, and when Elizabeth reached his side a little group of men were lifting him from the snow.

"Bring him into my house," commanded Mr. Gray, leading the way, and so they carried him across the doorstep which he had left in anger a few moments before and bore him upstairs to the front chamber.

A doctor was summoned, and while Mrs. Gray prepared bandages and other necessaries her husband built a roaring fire in the fireplace, and Elizabeth sat cold and numb beside that still form on the bed. Her hands rigidly held in place the bag of ice her mother laid on his forehead above the bandage that covered the deep cut. Her eyes were fixed on the white set features and closed lids and the finely chiseled lips which might part no more to utter the homely dialect of the country which she had despised and ridiculed.

She could not weep. She could only [illegible] there, a miserable, heartbroken little figure, hating herself for her censorious words.

The doctor came and waved her aside. For an hour he worked over the young man, while Elizabeth sat in her own room breathless and despairing. Then at last she heard him going away, and instantly she was at the door of Norman's room. Her mother smilingly beckoned her within and left them alone together.

Norman, looking very pale, his head swathed in bandages, did not see her come in. For a moment she stood there looking down at him with her heart in her eyes.

Suddenly he looked up at her, smiling whimsically in the old way, as he had been used to do before she told him the unpleasant truths. He had looked that way when he was a boy growing up and she was a little girl trotting to school beside him.

"Doctor says I'll be all right in a day or so," he smiled. "But I'll have to keep still. You don't mind my being here in your house, do you, Bess?"

"No, no!" she cried, dropping unconsciously into the vernacular of Buffum county. She slipped to her knees beside the bed and leaned her sunny head against his shoulder.

Norman quivered and then laid one hand on her head. "Oh, Bess! You don't mean it! Do you love me?" he whispered.

"Yes, yes!" sobbed Elizabeth. And to them both it was the sweetest word in the world.

How to Avoid Divorce.

My advice to husbands who wish to avoid divorce is this: Don't quote mother. Call up your wife while at business and ask how she is and tell her that you called her up just to hear her voice. Take her a box of candy, one of the new books that she is interested in, a flower, even if it is faded and you have picked it up off the street; a pretty pin or handkerchief, and don't ever lay your head on your pillow at night without having done something to gain and obtain a firmer hold on your wife's love. Kiss her every day. At least once a month meet her downtown and take her to dinner and the theater. Don't ever stop courting, for as soon as you do some other man will begin. Make your wife your companion. Take her [illegible]d when you have to

The Out of Date Doubloon.

Should the reader find a pirate's buried treasure he will have to dispose of his Spanish gold at its bullion value, for since Aug. 1, 1908, when the common crier made proclamation from the steps of the Royal Exchange of London that after that date the doubloon would cease to be legal tender in the West Indies, including British Guiana, the doubloon has not been the precious thing it was. In 1730 and for about a century after it was worth $8, "more or less." It has ceased to be coined in its native country, Spain, and since 1908 it has been unpopular in the West Indies, where for a long time it figured in a mixed circulation embracing British, United States and Spanish coins. In the interest of romance, however, the name at least must survive. It signifies nothing more than that the coin was double the value of a pistole, but the doubloon was never such a mouth filling mockery as "pieces of eight," which suggest great riches, but mean only Spanish silver dollars, pieces equivalent to 8 reals.

England's Great Wall.

Directly across the north of England, between points near Carlisle and Newcastle, ran Hadrian's wall, the northern boundary of the Roman empire. It is generally supposed to have been erected by the Emperor Hadrian between 117 and 138 A. D. The wall was of stone and was eight feet thick and twelve feet high. It was guarded by eighteen military stations, garrisoned by cohorts of Roman soldiers, and at intervals of a mile were forts built to contain eighty men each. Between every two forts were four watch-towers. South of the stone wall was a series of earthen ramparts, and between the two ran the great military road, still in use as a highway. Of this vast work comparatively few portions remain, a matter of wonder, perhaps, when one sees the solidity of the sections of the wall which still stand, but easily explained by the fine stone walls in the immediate vicinity. —Travel.

New Ways of Serving Old Dishes.

The clever hostess can always show her ingenuity by a touch of novelty in the serving of some of the time honored courses at her dinner. Raw oysters, for instance, produce a very original effect when served with maple syrup or whipped cream.

A very palatable fish pudding may be prepared by mixing the finely chopped fish with sugar, raisins and a bit of vanilla extract, serving cold with a custard sance.

A delicious dessert is onion jelly with caviar sandwiches and maraschino cherries. Try it.—Judge's Library.

Feminine Egotism.

Husband (during the spat)—I must have been a fool when I married you.

Wife—Undoubtedly. But the old adage still holds good.

Husband—What's that?

Wife—A fool for luck.—Chicago News.

Heroic.

Mother—How did you get so wet and dirty? Johnny—I was sailing my boat in a puddle and had to go down with my ship.

Novel Hallowe'en Display.

A special feature of the Hallowe'en display at Johnson's Bookstore, Springfield, is the original work which is done by the clever salespeople in the favor department in the basement. There are most amusing and novel Hallowe'en owl masks made from crepe paper, with a beak, ears and eyes, which, when the bag-like mask is slipped over the head, gives the wearer the most comical owlish appearance. They make ice cups, candle and electric light shades and other dainty things, matching in color and scheme of decoration which a hostess may have in mind, and also witches, cats, bats and all sorts of Hallowe'en creepy things, made from black paper, as silhouettes, to be placed against the wall or on the table spread. The display is large, original and interesting.

A Whistler Story.

When Whistler had not yet reached the height of his fame a millionaire called at his studio and wanted his wife's portrait done.

"How much will you charge me, Mr. Whistler," he said, "for a lifesize picture of the madam?"

"My price," said Whistler, "will be $2,500."

The millionaire took up his hat and stick.

"Why," he snorted, turning to go, "you expect to be paid for your work as if you had been dead four or five hundred years!"

OVERTAXED.

Hundreds of Palmer Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed;

Have too much to do.

They tell about it in many aches and pains—

Backache, weariness, headache.

Early symptoms of kidney ills.

Urinary troubles, Bright's disease follow.

A Palmer citizen tells here a reliable remedy for kidney ills.

G. Wood, State Ave., Palmer, Mass., says: "Abont five years ago I was suddenly attacked by a dull pain across the small of my back and I had too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions. My life was one of misery and the physicians told me that I could not live more than a year. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained at Lynde and Gould's Drug Store and they restored me to good health. At that time I publicly endorsed this remedy and I am now glad to confirm my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Johnson's Bookstore

BOOKSTORE BUILDING

391 Main St. Springfield

Hallowe'en Comes Monday And We've Hundreds of Hallowe'en Novelties

Decorated crepe, 15c. Streamers, 10c. Favors, 2c up. Napkins, dozen, 10c. Unburnable Jack Lanterns, 5c up. Invitation cards, place cards, post cards.

Books Stationery Pictures

Prompt attention to mail orders

August Peterson,

Monson, Mass.

Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

We always have what we advertise. Springfield–Worcester.

You young fellows who want smart style in your clothes can get it here without taking any chances on quality; one's just as important as the other. What good is your style if it doesn't last and keep shape?

Hart Schaffner & Marx all wool fabrics, and fine thorough tailoring, are worth having; they're economical, too; such clothes are profitable to you as well as to us.

Suits $20 and up.
Overcoats $18 and up.
Others $10 to $16.50.

The W. J. Woods Co.

Cor. Main St. and Harrison Ave.

Springfield, Mass.

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

For the Fall Trade

Just received a new line of

Ladies' Fall Waists.

Fleeced Duckling at [illegible]

[illegible]

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

54-Inch All-Wool Black Dress Goods, $1.25

Regular Price, $1.75

We offer a special lot of Black Dolphin cloth, a very desirable, serviceable dress material with a fine twilled face, cloth finish, about the same weight as a chiffon broadcloth It is full 54 inches wide and strictly all-wool. We have sold it regularly for $1.75 a yard. This lot, special, $1.25

The Most Attractive Bargain Offered in Months, in Black Dress Goods. The Quantity is Limited.

Main Floor, Aisle 1.

Yard-Wide Lining Sateen, 19c

Regular Price 25c

"Stella Silk" is our best lining sateen. It is highly mercerized, durable, and of fine appearance. Full 36 inches wide. We sell it regularly for 25c a yard. We have a special lot in an assortment of twenty-five new shades that we offer while it lasts at 19c

The quantity is limited.

Main Floor, Aisle 1.

Forbes & Wallace,

Springfield, Mass.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.

The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works

W. H. MacLean, Prop.

10 Converse St., rear of High School.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,

SPRINGFIELD.

Rare Bargains Are Now Being Offered in the Underprice Basement Sale

Now for the second day of tremendous value-giving in the Basement Sale. This great stock of all that is good in Blankets, Comfortables, Spreads, Sheets, Sheetings, Pillow Cases, Towels, Towelings, Percales, Prints, Outing Flannels, Linens, Lawns, Lace Curtains, Etc., offers exceptional trading inducements for all, for the savings are genuine and come to you right in the height of the Fall Season when your needs for [illegible]chandise are greatest. Hotel Keepers, [illegible] House Proprietors and every shrewd [illegible]sekeeper should not fail to take full advantage of these [illegible]portunities for positive savings.

W. D. Kinsman Co., Springfield

1848 | BRIGHAM'S | 1911

All Goods Delivered Free in Palmer.

Special Sale of 150 Handsome Suits

Actual $30 and $35 Values

At $24.75 and $29.75

For this week we offer 150 handsome Suits at two very special prices, representing the greatest values Springfield has seen this season in strictly high-grade tailored suits

This special lot comprises 100 brand new suits just bought, and 50 fine suits chosen from our regular $30 and $35 lots, in styles of which we no longer have a complete line of sizes.

These are all regular Brigham suits in the best of styles, and models of fine tailoring. They include practically every fabric and coloring of the season, embracing in wide variety the most sought after rough weaves.

These regular $30 and $35 suits we have divided into two lots, one at $24 75 and the other at $29 75, and at these prices they are the handsomest suits yet offered in Springfield.

More New Models

In Novelty Coats

There is no end of the variety of styles we are showing in novelty coats—handsome new models in fetching combinations of co[illegible] materials, smartly tailored in styles of distinc[illegible]ty.

NEW PO[illegible] in fancy high colorings [illegible]hown in contrasting colors [illegible]ning wear—at $25.

[illegible]COATS for dress

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 27, 1911. NUMBER 30.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 50 cents for the first insertion, 35 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, such as "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second-class matter]

For Sale

8 room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

Office at store on Main St.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed..... $1.00
Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed..... 1.50
Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed..... .85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

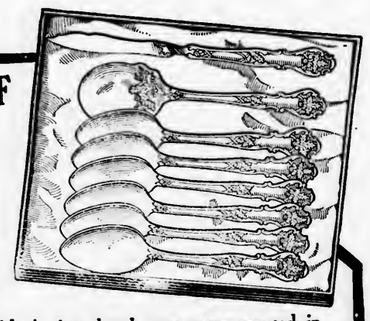
H. Platkin,
Bridge St., Palmer.

O'Connor's Barber Shop
PALMER, MASS.
across the street from the Waiting Room (On Corner going to Depot.)
4 Chairs, No Long Waits
Everything absolutely clean.
Shavers' Supplies For Sale
Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each tried, so we know what we sell you.

Cannel Coal for Open Grates.

English quality Bostonia cannel coal, especially adapted for open grates and quick fires, of unusually good quality. Try it

Juanita Forge Coal.



Guaranteed to be the best forge coal mined. Blacksmiths are requested to give it a trial.

Feiner Charcoal.

I have the wholesale agency for Palmer, Monson, Ware and Wilbraham.

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

SILVER OF QUALITY AND BEAUTY

Unquestioned durability and exquisite design —the highest ideals in plated ware—are assured in spoons, forks, and fancy serving pieces bearing the renowned trade mark

1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE

There are various makes of silverplated tableware which are claimed to be "just as good," but, like all imitations, they lack the beauty and wearing quality identified with the original and genuine "1847 ROGERS BROS." ware popularly known as "Silver Plate that Wears."

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L" showing all designs.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO., (INTERNATIONAL SILVER CO., Successor.) Meriden, Conn.

S. H. Wright,
64 Pleasant Street,
Lock and Gunsmith.
Light Repairing of every Description.
Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground-level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

Lamson & Hubbard

SOFT HATS

In Rich Velours, nobby effects in grey and brown felts. The man who wears an L. & H. is the man who cares.

L. & H. DERBIES

The early Fall and Winter styles have that up-to-date effect that has marked each season's development of the famous Lamson & Hubbard Hats.

Made in Boston for over 30 years. We guarantee you a perfect fit and a stylish shape.

C. K. Gamwell,
Palmer.

Haynes & Company
Always Reliable
Springfield Massachusetts

There's a satisfaction in wearing

Haynes Clothes

That you should enjoy

They are without question the finest made and most dependable clothes that you will find it possible to buy—the cloths are every one of a quality that insures you good and long wear—the tailoring is most thoroughly done and there's a fit and style about them men surely appreciate.

Suits and Overcoats at $12, $15, $16.50, $18, $20, $22, $25 and $30

Your order by mail will be carefully and satisfactorily filled. We prepay the express.

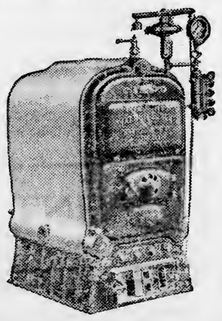
Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.

OFFICERS.
... LOOMIS, President.
... NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
... STONE, 2d Vice President.
... SMITH, 3d Vice President.
... RICE Clerk.

AUDITORS.
... E. B Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
... W. E Stone. C. F Smith.
... Clark. E. E Hobson.

TRUSTEES.
... W. E. Stone. J. O. Hamilton
... D. Mooers, L. J. Potter.
... R. Holden, C. L. Waid.
... E Fuller, E. B. Taylor
... F. Smith, C. A LeGro.
... G. A. Rice.



TREASURER.
C. L. WAID.

... sit Boxes for Rent.
... 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
... Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
... Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

The Antalgica
Vegetable Pain Reliever
... the public in 1848, since
... s of bottles have been sold
... ociative public, which is a
... erits. It is adapted to so
... ld be in every household,
... f pains both internal and
... hial affections it is unmarket. It is a

Crawford Boilers
heat where others fail

The only Boilers that are guaranteed to do what they are rated to do; you don't have to get the "next larger size."

To those who want heat at the least cost of care and money we offer these Boilers with a guarantee that means something;—a warm house in zero weather, heat perfectly controllable, simplicity of operation, a saving in fuel, trouble and repair bills and a great gain in satisfaction.

We know the boiler troubles; we have made boilers for 30 years and in these radically new and scientifically correct ... have produced ... better than

Bloodine Blood and Kidney Tablets cure Kidney and Bladder Diseases by curing the cause.

The Bloodine Corporation, Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:-
Kindly send me six boxes of Bloodine Blood and Kidney Tablets. They have helped me more than any remedy I have ever taken. I am old, ruptured and I suffer much from Kidney and Bladder Trouble. I have only a few doses left of the sample box you sent me, so kindly send Tablets promptly.
Yours truly, Thomas Taylor, Adams, Ill.

KINSLEY'S PHARMACY, SPECIAL AGENT.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

Scratch and rub—rub and scratch—until you feel as if you could almost tear the burning skin from your body—until it seems as if you could no longer endure these endless days of awful torture—those terrible nights of sleepless agony.

Then—a few drops of D. D. D., the famous Eczema Specific and, Oh! what relief! The itch gone instantly! Comfort and rest at last!

D. D. D. is a simple external wash that cleanses and heals the inflamed skin as nothing else can. A recognized specific for Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum or any other skin trouble.

We can give you a full size bottle of ... D. remedy for ... first bottle fails ... cost you a ... a sample bottle ... suffer another ... D. D. D.?
... CO (INC.)

POISONED AT CHRISTENING.

Bondsville Girl Drinks Sulphuric Acid For Wine

CELEBRATING ADVENT OF NEPHEW.

Draught Given Her By Brother-in-law By Mistake. Medical Skill Of No Avail.

Drinking to the health, long life and prosperity of a recently-arrived nephew, Aggie Kos, a 20-years-old Polish young woman of Bondsville, on Tuesday of last week, drank a solution of sulphuric acid given her by mistake by her brother-in-law, the father of the infant in whose honor the celebration was being held, from the effects of which she died on the following Thursday afternoon.

A new son and heir had arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bigda of Bondsville, and the event was duly celebrated by the family and friends on Tuesday of last week. The Kos girl was a sister of Mrs. Bigda, and made her home with that family. At the celebration there was of course something with which to drink to the health of the youngster. While the men toasted the boy in whisky the female portion of the company naturally preferred something milder. So when his sister-in-law declined the stronger fluid Bigda offered her a drink of white wine which he poured from a bottle taken from a convenient shelf. The girl drank what was handed her, but remarked that it was the funniest wine she had ever tasted—it burned her month. Bigda then tasted it and it also burned his mouth. He at once proclaimed it poison and a physician was summoned. The poison was removed from the girl's stomach and it was first thought she would recover, but later she suddenly developed dangerous symptoms and died in spite of all that could be done.

After the physician had been called it was found that the stuff the girl had swallowed was a weak solution of sulphuric acid. This Bigda had in a bottle on the same shelf and beside the bottle containing the wine. In his haste he took the wrong bottle.

Death of Native of Wilbraham.

The Wilbraham friends of Edward H. Brewer, 60, of Dalton were shocked to learn of his sudden death at that place Sunday evening of apoplexy. Mr. Brewer was born in Wilbraham December 21, 1851, the son of Henry and Anna Pease Brewer. He received his education in the public schools there and in Wilbraham Academy, in which institution he always maintained a deep interest and had for years been a trustee. Mr Brewer engaged in commercial pursuit, for some years, but of late had not been in active business. For the past 27 years he had lived in Dalton. He was a cousin of Senator W. Murray Crane, to whom he was devoted. Mr. Brewer was never married. He leaves a cousin in Wilbraham, Mrs. Pease. The funeral was held Tuesday morning in Dalton, and the body was brought to Wilbraham for burial.

EAST BRIMFIELD.

Miss McCann spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents in Worcester.

Bert Howlett of Fiskdale visited Sunday with his cousin, Mrs. W. C. Davenport of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Fiskdale spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith.

W. Basnor has returned to his home in Springfield after a week's hunting trip in East Brimfield and vicinity.

William Howlett has returned to his home in Burnside, Ct., after a week's visit with his sister, Mrs. C. H. McAllister.

Miss Sadie Plimpton conducted a very interesting Y. P. S. C. E. meeting in the Congregational church here Sunday evening; topic was "The good things we can do."

WARREN.

House and Barn Burned.

The house and barn on the "Leach" place, so called, about a mile south of Warren on the Brimfield road, was destroyed by fire Saturday morning about 4 o'clock. The place was until recently owned by Charles H. Varney, but Royal G. McIntyre, the holder of a mortgage on the property, had foreclosed and Mr. Varney was about to move to West Warren where he is employed. He moved a load of goods Friday evening and returned after midnight and took his family and another load of goods to West Warren. The blaze was discovered by Albert W. Bliss, who lives a short distance nearer the village. He rushed to the house and found the inside to be a mass of flames. He succeeded in getting some pigs and hens and a few other things out of the barn before it caught fire. In the meantime Mrs Bliss attempted to give the alarm over the telephone, but could not raise anyone. Both house and barn were entirely destroyed. Mr. McIntyre was covered to the extent of $800 insurance.

Town Clerk William F. Duncan has issued a marriage license to Daniel Sheehan of Boston and Miss Bridget A. Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Haley of West Main street.

Selectman S. Newell Cutler, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, was given a postal card shower Saturday, when he received over 50 cards from members of Warren Grange and other friends.

Miss Juliette Bemis, 78, died Tuesday morning at her home on Bemis road after a long illness. She was born on the farm where she died. She leaves two sisters, Miss Eliza Bemis, at home and Mrs. Daniel Bliss.

Thomas Byron was painfully injured Tuesday morning while engaged in opening a bundle of brooms at the mill of the Sayles & Jenks' Manufacturing Company His knife slipped and cut a deep gash in his right wrist. He was attended by Dr. C. A. DeLand.

A horse owned by Miss Nora Burns of Brimfield, which had been left in the shed of the Universalist church while Miss Burns was attending service at St. Paul's Catholic church, Sunday morning, became frightened and pulled away. Before she could be secured he had kicked the wagon and was himself out as well as the harness and buggy broken.

The union social of Christian Endeavor societies at the Con... church Monday evening was ... ed. A special car brong... from Spencer and oth... from the Brookfields. H... president of the local soci... he guests, and a musical ... rsed with Hallowe'en spo... ht r... frankness ... composed of ... Dorothy Miller ...

May Have Police Signal.

Telephone Company Offers to Maintain One Free of Expense.

A police signal service which it is suggested would perhaps help to quiet the nerves of numerous timid people just now, is offered the town at practically no expense by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The company proposes to attach to the building which its exchange occupies—or any other desirable conspicuous spot—an arm extending into the street and equipped at the outer end with a large red electric light, from which the wires run into the operating room of the exchange. If a police officer is wanted for any purpose at any time in the night the telephone office is called and the need made known. The operator immediately turns the switch which lights the signal, and keeps it lighted until an officer calls up and asks where he is needed; this he does from the nearest phone as soon as the signal is seen.

The only expense to which the town would be put in the matter would be the installation of the light, which is estimated to be inside the small sum of $10. An ideal location for such a signal is on the large pole on the south side of Main street just east of the Burns Hotel, now carrying the electric light and street railway wires A light there could be seen from as far east as the railroad bridge, a long distance west on Main street, and from Thorndike street for a considerable distance. The proposition was made to the selectmen early in the spring, and they in turn put it up to the officers. While not in any way objecting to anything the selectmen wished to do, it is understood that the officers were of the opinion that the present arrangement—whereby a telephone call to the Converse House, where there is a man on duty in the office all night, with a whistle call for the officer—was as good as any that could be devised, and that there were objections to the other system which might work to decided disadvantage at times.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Lizzie Goodell of Hartford, Ct., has been a guest of the family of Charles S. Tarbell this week.

Mrs. George E. Hitchcock and two children, who have been visiting friends in Cohoes, N. Y., have returned home.

Walter E. Brown, who is employed by the United fruit company at Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Brown, for two weeks. Mr. Brown is a graduate of Dartmouth College and of the Tuck School of Commerce of that institution. He has been in Guatemala for about a year and a half.

WALES.

Mrs. E. A. Clark of Palmer has been spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Wallace Melbourne fell down stairs last Saturday and broke her arm.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gale and son, Harlan Gale, are spending the hunting season at their cottage near the lake.

Mrs. Eugene Shaw and family, who have been spending the summer at the Dea. Shaw place, returned to Springfield this week.

Mrs. E. Shaw, Mrs. H. E. Shaw and Miss Winona Shaw have closed their house here and gone to Springfield for the winter.

C. G. Thompson has sold his team horses and expects to leave the first of November for Bridgeport, Ct., where he and P. A. Gaudette will open a saloon.

A. A. Hubbard has purchased a piece of land on the east side of his barn of H. A. McFarland and expects to build a house there rather than on the site of the house that was recently destroyed by fire.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Death From Typhoid Fever.

Jennie, the eight-years-old daughter of Mrs. Jennie Roberts of Cottage street in North Wilbraham, died last Friday evening after about three weeks' illness with typhoid fever. This is the first death due to the epidemic of typhoid which has prevailed in the town. An older sister of the dead child is recovering from a severe attack of the same disease. There are nearly a dozen other cases in town in different stages of development. An investigation has been made to discover the source of the disease, but no definite conclusion has been reached, although it has been generally believed to have been caused by impure water.

A gravel train drawing sand to the screening plant in the gravel pits Friday broke loose and before it could be stopped demolished the sand conveyor. James McDonald, a section foreman, was at work immediately under it with a gang of laborers. A number of planks and pieces of timber fell among the men, one of them hitting Mr. McDonald on the head, dazing him for a time. He was able to resume work a little later. The damage to the conveyer amounted to several hundred dollars.

BELCHERTOWN.

Snow—Palmer.

Miss Ethel Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Snow, and Thomas Palmer were married in Westfield Sunday afternoon at the Congregational parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Snow attended the couple Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will live in Belchertown.

Miss Delia Allen of Minneapolis, Minn., is the guest of Miss M. Louise Allen.

The bakery which has been operated for several years by C. W. Jackson has been closed.

Mrs. John Anderson has gone to Leicester for a visit with relatives prior to her departure for Europe on November 9.

Miss Elizabeth M. Doyle is teaching the Chestnut Hill school in place of Miss May Carmody, who is teaching in Barre.

D. F. Shumway, treasurer of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Club, is ready to pay the premiums awarded at the recent cattle show.

Miss Katharine Sampson arrived last week from her home in Bath, Me., and commenced her duties in the Center school Monday.

Mrs. Edward E. Eno and sons are visiting friends in town previous to leaving for Florida, where Mr. Eno, formerly pastor of the church here, has accepted a call to become pastor of a church in Jacksonville.

At the annual meeting of the social circle of the Congregational church, these officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. R. Lewis; vice-presidents, Mrs. S. E. Chapman and Mrs. H. R. Gould; secretary, Mrs. Emma Dillon Shaw; treasurer, Mrs. M. S. Barton; supervisors, for care of chapel furnishings, Mrs. S. E. Chapman, Mrs. Iva G. ... Mrs. H. R. Gould and Miss Maggie Ha... for the Christian Endeavor society; chairman of entertainment committee, Helen J. Goodsp... porte... the ...

HAD LOCAL COURT RECORD.

Walsh, Professional Gambler, Once Arrested Here.

PLEECED WALES MAN OUT OF $240.

Had Come to Sparring Bout and Ran Across Easy Mark; Work Done With Cards.

That Martin J. Walsh, the professional gambler and confidence man who dropped dead in New York on Monday, had ever even heard of Palmer, much less been a visitor in the town and that he had a court record here, has not been hinted at in the sketches of his career, but such is the fact Walsh has been wanted by the federal officers for the past two years on a charge of helping to wreck the City National Bank of Cambridge through young Colemao, the clerk who attracted so much attention at that time by his immense speculations He managed to elude them all however until his death, which occurred at the home of a friend.

It was in 1889 that Walsh appeared in Palmer and got his name on the court records. According to those who remember the time and the circumstance, one James McBride of Wales had just sold a piece of property, and Walsh and a companion, J. W. Manning, managed to get McBride into a game of cards in their room in one of the local hotels. Walsh was a past master in card manipulation, and when the game was over McBride was minus his money, $240 He naturally "squealed," and Walsh and Manning were pinched. The complaint was made May 6 1889, and on the 16th both men were arraigned and had the cases continued until June 3, when they pleaded not guilty to charges of larceny and were held for the grand jury in the sum of $500 each. Walsh secured bail at once, but Manning was obliged to languish in the Springfield jail about a month before he was released Just what was the outcome is not certain, as the record of the superior court shows that at the December term in 1890, more than a year later, both cases were placed on file, so that it is probable some sort of settlement was made with McBride.

Walsh and Manning were not residents of Palmer, but were here temporarily T. J. Conroy was conducting a sporting house in the building on Main street now occupied by O'Connor's barber shop and the Bijou moving picture palace, which was at that time one large room. Walking matches, sparring bouts, etc., were in order, and Walsh and Manning were in town to witness a particularly lively sparring match advertised for that particular time. They simply happened to fall in with their victim Walsh was at that time living in Worcester, his home town being Holden, where he was born. At the time he was in Palmer he had no moustache, which the pictures which appeared in the daily papers this week show.

High School Athletics.

Plans for Next Year. Report of Money Recently Collected.

Superintendent of Schools Clifton H. Hobson is already planning to make more of a showing in athletics at the high school next year than ever before. In the past the work has usually been carried on by the boys themselves with little or no system. Next year Mr. Hobson proposes to have the teams under the management of older and more experienced persons. Already plans are being perfected for putting a baseball team in the field next spring, and the prospect for an unusually good team seems very bright even now. Other branches of athletics will also be given attention, the whole to be in the hands of an athletic association, in which it is hoped to interest not only citizens of the town but alumni of the school

As a means of raising funds for the use of the association next year Mr. Hobson has in mind the forming of a high school orchestra, together with a chorus, quartets, etc., and the giving of one or more musical entertainments entirely with school talent, the funds to be devoted to athletics. There is an abundance of talent in the school for this, and such entertainments invariably draw large audiences.

In connection with the money collected for the use of the track team in the athletic contests at the Palmer Fair, a report is made as follows: The total amount collected was $51, and of this $25 went to the trainer of the men and $23 05 for necessary supplies, leaving a balance of $2.95 in the treasury. A new departure was made in charging to the men of the team the articles given them to use—shoes, trunks, etc.—the same to be the property of the association and to be returned or paid for by the user.

Belchertown Fox Hunt.

Good Weather, Big Attendance And Several Foxes Killed.

The New England fox hunting club began its annual hunt in Belchertown Tuesday The members, over 70 in number, set out for the chase soon after sunrise and after a hard day's hunting brought down three foxes The first brush was credited to T B Maynard of Boston, who made a splendid long range shot at the animal. The fox was killed about 7 20 o'clock. Dr H. A. Roache of Winchester killed the other two. The men came back to the Park View Hotel, the headquarters of the club at sunset, and after enjoying supper, held the annual business meeting of the club. The former officers were all re-elected. Wednesday three pelts were captured. Robert Marston of Maynard was the first lucky man to capture one, and he was followed by B. J. Maynard of Boston and Edward Williams of Northampton. Yesterday the hunters played in hard luck, not a single brush being obtained during the entire day.

A Freight Bumped Him.

A Pole giving the name of Thomas Schmidt, employed as a section hand on the Boston and Albany railroad near Oak street, stepped off the south track yesterday morning to avoid an express train bound for Boston and was struck on the arm by a freight going west on the other track. He was thrown about a dozen feet, but beyond a few bruises was not much hurt. He came to Palmer on a train and was attended by Dr. P. J. Schneider.

... Still Killing Deer.

... to an electric ... railmer ...

Boston Letter.

Various Phases of Both Sides of the State Political Campaign.

BOSTON, Oct. 25, 1911.

Since the Democratic campaign has got under way with swift momentum and the crowds have gathered to hear the governor and the other candidates on the state ticket, the prospect for the election has changed. While the Republican state headquarters still are confident that they will win, yet there is a balance to their expectations. There is an offset to their story of uniform bright outlook which shows that the work on the other side is having an effect. There is no doubt that quite a body of Republicans who voted for Gov. Foss last year will vote for Lieut.-Gov. Frothingham this year This is admitted right in the Democratic state headquarters to day. It did not have to be wormed out by a corkscrew or the wormer on a ramrod, but it was volunteered as an undeniable part of the news of the day But there is so much which is favorable that they did not try to conceal this unfavorable item. Nor was there any effort to conceal, but a plain volunteering of the information that there was a bad spot for the Democrats in New Bedford and in several of the suburbs of Boston. But, taking into account all of these situations, it was confidently affirmed that the general outlook is quite bright. The situation in Worcester county was specified as favorable in a satisfactory degree. The four western counties, where the governor and others on the state ticket have been stumping, are said to be in fine condition The same is true of Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill, where the mill operatives would be likely to feel the effect of the tariff arguments and would show Republican gains, if such had been made by the tariff speakers on the Republican stump.

On the other side, the problem for the Republicans is to keep up their confidence that there will be a return of their number who voted last year for Gov. Foss sufficient to defeat him this year. Boston seems to be a kind of Frothingham center, for the Frothingham talk seems to be stronger here than elsewhere, judging by the reports from other parts of the state. Frothingham is regarded as particularly strong in Boston, and the color which news gets in this center has its effect in all parts of the state, while the reflex effect of outside news upon the Boston situation is not nearly as marked. Hence there has been an atmosphere in Boston, extending to other parts of the state, that it is only a question of the size of Frothingham's majority. This feeling seems to be on the decline. Of course there are plenty of people who believe that it is all over but the shouting, but the Republican workers of the state committee are not relaxing a muscle, and have not done so since the campaign began. They are doing their best to earn their expected victory and their best speakers, on the stump day and night, are doing what they can to redeem the state for the party But there has been a sobering influence felt, though it does not change the expectation that they will win. It is to noticed that they qualify their predictions with what would happen if the election were to occur to day, and that "there is no telling what may happen between now and election."

Each candidate is surrounded by ... fluences which conceal the real con... from his eyes, for he gets only th... news and none of the discoun... very little of it, and candidates are al... so made that they are disposed to discount everything unfavorable which they do hear. Both Frothingham and Foss are confident of victory and neither can see anything for himself but an overwhelming majority. So their opinions may be dismissed as too sanguine for the situation. But taking into account, the news given in the papers and the information coming in privately from different parts of the state, it seems to be the truth, at this stage in the campaign, that the prospects favor Foss rather than Frothingham, and the current is still running in his direction. He seems to be more than holding his own in gathering audiences. Democratic rallies are, as a rule, fully as successful as Republicans. The threat of loss of employment if Foss wins, as applied to mills protected by the tariff, while it seems to have an effect in New Bedford, does not seem to be a cause of alarm in the other places. The rural districts all through the state are reported as looking better for the governor than last year, and it is possible that the veto of the Ellis milk bill may be one of the causes of that. There is plenty of criticism of the governor's personality and there is no doubt that he will lose some votes on that account. The impression that he loves to play politics and that he is not averse to a fight in politics has its effect upon some voters and the Frothingham air here is accompanied with frequent criticism of the governor, so that a Boston man gets a great deal of interesting personal gossip which sways men's minds, however small it may appear as campaign literature. But the governor's strong personality stands up under the hammering and his strength seems to gain.

Perhaps it is a part of Foss's luck to have the movement for a labor candidate for governor collapse in the disgrace it has to day, for the ballot law commission were ready with their opinion as soon as the hearing closed, that the name of the candidate, Augustus Seaver, could not go on the ballot, on account of numerous frauds in the nomination papers, while the case was taken to the district attorney this afternoon for criminal action as soon as the commission had given its decision. It does not appear that Seaver himself knew what game somebody was making of him, but the proof of barefaced fraud was evident. Out of the 1833 names on the nomination papers, some 1500 were attacked as fraudulent and whatever the real truth was, Seaver himself offered, through counsel, when too late, to withdraw his papers if that would save him from criminal prosecution. But Chairman John F. McDonald of the Democratic state committee, who was the complainant, would not consent to that disposal of the case. If a straight labor ticket had been put into the field, it would presumably have drawn votes from Foss rather than from Frothingham. Hence comes Foss's good fortune in the disgraceful collapse of the ticket.

The contest for the House makes the number of independent nominations of importance. In all, there are 40 such nominations. From the figures which have been gathered by the Republican legislative campaign committee, where Representative Hobbs of Worcester is in the manager's chair to-day, it appears that 15 of these are Republicans of one stripe or another, such as will tend to divide the Republican vote and permit a Democrat to slip in On the other hand, there are four ... the districts where the independent ... to be of Democra... therefore ...

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 27, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Moulton, 122-21, Monson.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Woman's Club Program.

Meeting Scheduled For To-day Postponed by Speaker's illness.

The meeting of the Palmer Woman's Club, scheduled for this afternoon in the Quaboag Country Club's house at Nortb Monson, was indefinitely postponed on account of the illness of the speaker, Miss Martha Shannon, who was to speak on "Art in lace." Miss Shannon is suffering from a severe cold and was obliged to cancel the engagement on this account. It is expected that the lecture will be given as soon as she is able to appear, possibly next week.

The club bas arranged an interesting program for the remainder of the year, it being as follows:

November 3. Congregational Chapel
Tennyson.
Mr. Clarence A. Brodeur.

November 17. Mrs Charles A. Tabor
Reciprocity Meeting.
Miss Genevra F. Clark.

December 1. Mrs. G. S. Holden
Social Evening.

December 15. Mrs. J. C. Wing
Mrs. Irons.
Afternoon Tea Served.

January 1. Mrs. L. E. Chandler
Mrs. Tucker

January 19. Universalist Church Chapel
Musical.
Afternoon Tea Served.

February 2 Mrs. E. G. Hastings
Village Improvement.

February 16. Mrs Henry W. Holbrook
Mr. Horubrook.

March 1.
Guest Night.

March 15.
Open Date.

April 5. Mrs. F. S. Brewer
Current Events.
Afternoon Tea Served.

April 19.
Annual Meeting.

The committee for guest night is composed of Mrs. Katharine B Holbrook, Mrs Blanche C. Brainerd, Mrs Myrtice Loring. Mrs Rebecca R Flynt, Mrs. Harriet R Tabor, Mrs Maryett G. Stewart; social evening, Mrs. Katharine C. Holden, Mrs. Mary E Cheney, Mrs. Annie E. Mazzer, Mrs Jennie Carpenter.

Big Raise in Excise Tax.

Town of Palmer Gets About Six Times As Much As Last Year.

The apportionment of the excise tax paid by the Springfield Street Railway Company has been announced and the sum coming to the town of Palmer is $3293; last year the town received $557 The increase is due to the taking over of the Springfield and Eastern road as a part of the Springfield Street Railway system The excise tax is apportioned on the basis of a percentage of the gross earnings of the road per mile of trackage The gross earnings of the entire system are of course larger per mile than those of the trackage in Palmer, which accounts for the increased sum coming to this town.

Changes at High School.

Will Not Be Done Nov. 1. But Building Can Be Used Next Week.

It is apparent that the changes in the new high school building will not be completed at the time named in the contract—November 1 Most of the heavy work is completed however, the piping for gas and wiring for electricity are expected to be finished this week and the plastering of the ceiling of what was formerly the assembly room will be the first of next week. Superintendent Robson expects to be able to use the rooms on the first floor which are under the repairs by the middle of next week, when the single session will be resumed

Johnson—Rosenblad.

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Abraham Johnson, to J Edwin Rosenblad of Worcester, took place at the home of the bride's parents on North Main street Wednesday evening, Rev P A. Zedren, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran church of Springfield, performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss E. A Rosenblad, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and by Miss Clara Johnson as bridesmaid Miss Mabel Walin acted as ringbearer The groom was attended by his brother, Philip Rosenblad, and Martin Peterson The bride wore a gown of white messaline, with veil, and carried a bouquet of roses. The maid of honor wore pink messaline and carried pink carnations; the bridesmaid wore a dress of blue messaline and carried white carnations. Guests were present from Providence, R. I, Fall River, Boston, Worcester and Springfield. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding dinner was served by Huntner of Springfield, and Mrs Anderson served the Swedish dishes. The bridal couple left in an automobile for a trip to the eastern part of the state.

Church Notes

Rev A. B. Beresford of Cincinnati, O, preached in St. Paul's church last Sunday.

At St. Mary's mission Sunday the service will be at 3 15 in the afternoon; Sunday school at 2 15.

H. L. Hunt of Springfield will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock; subject, "A few instructions." Sunday school at 2 o'clock.

The subject of the sermon at the Baptist church next Sunday morning will be "A Man's Business Glorified." Bible school at 12. Evening worship at 7; the third sermon in the series on Elijah will be "Making the Great Accusation." All are invited.

"Some fundamental conceptions of foreign missions" will be the subject of the sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning; Sunday school at 12; Christian Endeavor service at 6 p m.; evening service at 7, subject, "The burden of Nineveh."

The subject of the sermon in St. Paul's church next Sunday will be "The Kingdom of God" The Y. P. C U. topic will be "The Prison and Christian Citizenship;" leader, William Clarke; sub leaders, Misses Ethel Doherty and Ethel Okes Regular midweek service Thursday evening.

Young Trout For Local Streams.

Deputy Game Warden John F Luman of Palmer secured a considerable number of the large consignment of fingerling rainbow and brook trout which the United States government shipped to this section Wednesday, and they have been placed in the Quaboag river and other streams, those in the river being put in near West Brimfield, where good fishing has been enjoyed for several years past Other local streams which received additions were Twelve-Mile brook in Wilbraham and a brook in Hampden.

Last Chance to Register.

The last opportunity to register for coming state election will be to morrow when the registrars of voters will be in session in the selectmen's room in Memorial Hall from noon until Town's Lockup Condemned.

State Board of Health Orders Changes And Some Additions.

The question of a new lockup or material changes and improvements in the present one is one of the things which the voters of the town will be called upon to consider at the annual town meeting next spring The selectmen received notice last week that there were a variety of things in connection with the Palmer lockup which the state board of health took objections to, with an intimation that they must be attended to in the near future. The selectmen do not understand that they must, within a short time—or at any time—provide a new lockup; instead, the objection is based on a lack of certain things in the present quarters, and on certain existing conditions. These, the selectmen understand, can be provided and remedied, and that when the changes are made the present quarters will be satisfactory. The matter will have to wait however until next spring, for the changes call for an expenditure larger than the selectmen feel they can make out of the already overburdened contingent fund. Palmer was not the only town to fall under the displeasure of the state board of health, but was only one of about 40 which received similar notices. The Palmer lockup has always been open to criticism. It is located in a basement, poorly lighted and illy ventilated, dirty and seldom sufficiently heated. There is evident need of improvement, and it is likely to be secured if the warning recently sent out is followed up.

District Court Report.

Number of Warrants Issued During Year Greater Than in 1910.

Clerk of Courts Arthur E. Fitch has just completed his compilation of the warrants issued by the District Court of Eastern Hampden during the year ending September 30, 1911, and finds that they were about 60 in excess of the number in 1910—the exact number this year was 466

The greater number was for drunkenness, 200 being issued for this cause. Assault comes next with 54 and then vagrancy with 35, larceny following with 26 and stealing rides on the Boston and Albany railroad with 18 There were nine search warrants for intoxicating liquors and four for stolen property. Among the other cases disposed of were: Neglected children 4; malicious mischief, 7; common nuisance (liquor), 7; disturbing the peace, 11; violation of automobile laws, 6; tramps, 8; violation of veterinary laws, 3; keeping liquor, 4; lottery, 2; and numerous other complaints which numbered one each.

Foresters' Ball.

The eleventh annual concert and ball of Court Palmer, F of A., will be held in the opera house this evening. Flanagan's singing orchestra of Marlboro will furnish music and T. J Flanagan will prompt. There will be a concert from 8 to 9 with the following program:

March "Imperial" Bagley
Overture, "Tambone der Garde." Tell
Cornet Solo. Selected
Mr. Joseph Renand.
Selection. "The Chocolate Soldier." Monkton
Vocal Solo. Selected
Mr Eugene Closson.
Finale. "Dorscht No. 3." Wiegand
Followed by dancing of 22 numbers.

Miss Mary E. Rindge.

Miss Mary E. Rindge, 63, died Sunday evening in the Wesson Memorial hospital Springfield after a short illness. She was the daughter of William E and Eliza Rindge and was born in Wilbraham but spent the greater part of her life in Fitchburg About three years ago she came to Palmer and had since lived in the home of Henry D Converse She leaves a sister, Mrs. Lewis Coggsfall of Georgetown, Col., and an aunt, Mrs Angelius Butler of Brookfield. The body was taken to South Fitchburg for burial.

Smoke Talk Next Tuesday Evening.

A large number of tickets have been issued for the smoke talk and entertainment of Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, in Masonic Hall next Tuesday evening. If there are any who would like to attend but who have not secured tickets they may be had of members of the order. In addition to addresses by members of the grand council of the order, there will be an entertainment which the committee feels sure will be appreciated by all attending.

Shot a White Squirrel.

Jerry Gernon of Palmer Center shot a white squirrel in the woods in the vicinity of the Kinnevan place east of Palmer Center Monday, and it has been on exhibition in the window of Ellithorpe & Sons' hardware store. The animal is evidently an albino of the "Red" squirrel family, being the same size and shape, the only difference being that it is white instead of red. Old hunters say they have heard of such freaks but few have ever seen one.

Death From Diphtheria.

Arthur Willis, the eight-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs Sidney Calkins of Chestnut street, died Wednesday afternoon of diphtheria. Burial was this forenoon. Two other children are sick with the disease.

To Build New Railroad Soon.

Announcement is made that work on the Hampden railroad, to connect Springfield with the Central Massachusetts division of the Boston and Maine at Bondsville, will probably be commenced within 30 days

William Hunter has gone to Springfield for treatment at a hospital.

W. E Horn has taken a position in Marblehead and has moved his family there.

The cost of living is coming down—14 pounds of sugar are now being sold for $1

The warrant for the state election will be found in another column of to-night's paper.

Mr and Mrs. F. N Carpenter of Thorndike street spent Sunday with friends in Dalton.

Mrs. W. P. Granger of Park street is spending a few days with her daughters in Brookfield.

Miss Anna Bucknell of Lowell is the guest of Mr and Mrs C A. Callahan on Park street

Mrs. Nichols of Westfield has been a guest this week of G. A Rice and family of Pleasant street.

Dr S B Keith and party, who have been hunting in the vicinity of Round Pond, have returned home.

Henry Greenwood and family have returned from Worcester, where they have been visiting friends.

Mr and Mrs. John E Gibbons of Hackensack, N. J, have been guests this week of M. J Dillon and family of Central street.

Miss Marion Tipper, who is at school in Northfield, spent Sunday at her home on the Monson road, accompanied by a friend

J. J Helliwell of Knox street, engineer on the Ware River road, has been taking a vacation of two weeks on account of illness.

J U Ferris and daughter have returned to Naugatuck, Ct, after being guests of Mrs. S. W. Coleman and family [illegible] street.

J. M. Longwell [illegible]

Florence Shaw will give a Hallowe'en party this evening at the home of the former on the Thorndike road.

William Authier of Palmer and Jennie Mary McKenna of Monson will be married in St. Patrick's church in Monson next Wednesday morning.

Miss Linda Holbrook of Nortb Main street and Miss Annie Bemis of New Haven, Ct, have returned from a visit with relatives in Westboro

Tockwotton tribe of Red Men is planning for a smoke-talk and entertainment for members on the evening of November 14, to be held in the lodge room.

Mrs. Clara Johnson of Converse street was painfully but not seriously hurt by stepping through the cover of an abandoned cesspool at her home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cheney, who have been spending a few days with their cousin, Mrs. Frank E. Sherman on Church street, have returned to their home in Webster.

All the schools of the town closed to-day to allow the teachers to attend the meeting of the Hampden County Teachers' Association in Court Square theatre, Springfield

Rev. F. A. Lane, a former curate of St. Thomas' church, who has been in Northampton, has been transferred to the parish of the Immaculate Conception in Eastbampton.

G. S. Holden, Dr. B. E. Loring and J. C. Shaw returned Monday from a week's hunting on Cape Cod. They reported good luck and brought with them a fine string of game.

E F. Mitchell, who has been a clerk in the Kinsley pharmacy since its opening, has left that position and taken one in the freight office of the Boston and Albany railroad.

Rev. C. C. Gorst, pastor of the Congregational church in Thorndike, preached in the Congregational church Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor, Rev. F S. Brewer.

George A. Branford and Freeman A. Smith attended the meeting of the great council of Red Men in Holyoke this week as representatives from Tockwotton Tribe of Palmer.

The sun made its appearance along about the middle of the day Monday, after an almost continuous rain of nearly a week, and it certainly did seem good to see it once more.

The Republican candidate for senator in the Worcester-Hampden district, with Walter S. Mellen of Brookfield, the present incumbent, were in town Tuesday looking over the political situation.

E R. Smith did not think it necessary to go to the fox hunt in Belchertown Tuesday in order to make a killing; he simply started out in the forenoon and came back in a couple of hours with a big fox.

An auction sale of 30 cows and other cattle, some of them thoroughbred Ayrshires, will be held next Thursday at 11 o'clock a m at the farm of Fred Rindge near the Flynt quarry in Monson.

Carl Linnehan, who for several years has been a clerk in the Boston and Albany freight house, has taken a position in the signal tower at the crossing, working the second trick, from 3 in the afternoon until 11 at night.

An official visit was paid Thomas lodge of Masons Monday evening by District Deputy Paul R Bridgman and suite of Ware, the fellowcraft degree being worked Royce catered after the work, and there were remarks by the visitors and others

A cow belonging to Charles Kruszyan strolled on to the electric car track near Thorndike Sunday evening, and was so badly mussed up by the last car down from Ware that her future usefulness as a milk producer was reduced to a minus quantity.

Mr. and Mrs. F L. Jones of Park street entertained their Sunday school classes last evening. A jolly crowd of 20 girls and boys sat down to the long tea-tables, laden with good things, at 5 30 Games were played and a very enjoyable time was reported.

Frederick A. Upham of Three Rivers will address the Palmer Historical society at th ir next meeting November 7. He will take for his subject "A visit to rural England," and his talk will be illustrated with stereopticon views Mr. Upham has recently returned from a trip to Great Britain.

The Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's church have arranged for an entertainment to be given in the church parlors next Tuesday evening, when Miss Marion Wilson will present character studies in costume Miss Wilson comes with the highest recommendations, and a pleasing entertainment is assured.

"The Newark."

The Shoe With a Record.

There is always a reason for the continued growth and success of any business; a reason—that must be plain to every one in the town or city where the successful business is located It must not only be plain, but it must be proved to the public that the reason exists

You will read here the story of a business that not only ranks as a great success but whose products are recognized standards By reading this story and investigating the proposition in person you will not fail to realize the wisdom of joining the great army of Newark Shoe wearers.

The real, great cause of the success of the Newark Shoe is the value given Every nerve is strained in producing a shoe that will fit every need, supply every want, humor every fancy, fit to a nicety, stand strenuous wear and yet retail for $2 50

You ask, "How is this result obtained?" We will tell you — Behind the Newark Shoe is a great factory, unlimited resources and an active organization which makes it possible to bring down the cost of manufacture to the lowest mark; but added to that, is the greatest factor of all, a chain of 87 retail stores to which the products of this great organization are shipped direct, thus reducing the usual costly system of selling an article through a jobber and retailer, to a single step — that of bringing it from the factory to your home.

This means to you that a "Newark Shoe" if it had to come through the usual channels would cost you no less than $3 50

Now we have made it clear why the Newark Shoe is the great success it is today, and how it has been possible to establish the enviable record of opening over 80 retail stores in little more than seven years — It is the actual cash saving of a big round dollar on every pair of shoes you buy, as over a million wearers can testify to-day. We want your testimony

Let us prove to you that $2.50 is enough to pay for Shoes.

A representative of the Newark Shoe Company will be at Hotel Burns, Palmer, in the lobby from 6 30 to 9 next Thursday evening to show and advertise our famous shoes selling at $2 50 We invite the people of Palmer, Monson and surrounding towns, Thorndike, Three Rivers and Bondsville, to come and look at these wonderful shoes. A little pocket booklet will be given to each one who comes. Newark Shoe Co., 270 Main street,

Tea[illegible] Violin,
[illegible] Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

A FAMOUS LAWSUIT

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

The town of Bidwell, up in the New England hills, was a town of peace. It had been founded just forty years when its first real sensation came. One day Deacon Goodhue borrowed Deacon Hardman's garden hoe, and after using it a few minutes he broke it off at the shank. While he contended that it was old and rusty and ready to break, he offered to buy a new one to replace it. Much to his surprise, he was allowed to do so, and he went home to say to his wife:

"Martha, I've known Deacon Hardman for thirty years and have just found him out. He's a human hog, and if he ever goes to heaven I want to go somewhere else."

For two weeks after that the two deacons nodded coldly to each other whenever they met, and it gradually became known to Bidwell that their relations were strained. Then one morning Deacon Goodhue set out to drive five hogs over to the weighing scales. He had to pass the other deacon's house, and as he came along the gate was open, and all the hogs made a rush for it. He was trying to drive them out of Deacon Hardman's yard when the latter came out and said:

"By gum, Deacon Goodhue, but this is goin' too fur—too fur! You opened that gate and driv' your hogs in on me a-purpose!"

"I never did, and you know I didn't!" retorted Deacon Goodhue as he paused in his running.

"Yes, you did!"

"No, I didn't!"

"Do you call me a liar?"

"Yes, if you call me one."

"Take it back or I'll mop the ground with you!"

"Come out here and I'll make you see stars!"

Then and there the deacons clinched and rolled on the ground together, and they were choking each other and breathing hard when Moses Schemerhorn came along and separated them. Deacon Hardman went straight to Justice Somerfield and swore out a warrant for assault and battery.

Both men had their friends, and the public was divided. The only person who had witnessed the fracas was Deacon Hardman's wife, but there were other witnesses sworn.

Old Mrs. Taylor swore that she had always suspected Deacon Goodhue to be a man of violent temper and that he only needed to be kicked to become a murderer. Moses Hunt was a mile away that morning looking for his cow, but he swore that Deacon Hardman was the sort of man to lose his temper and do awful things if he found a strange hog rooting up his hollyhocks. Abner Crossman, who had known both parties for thirteen years, swore that he had known Deacon Goodhue to fall off a haystack, get mired in a swamp and fight bumblebees for half an hour without losing the smile on his face, and he could not believe that he had begun this fuss. Opposed to him was Truehcart Johnson, who said he had seen Deacon Hardman kicked head over heels by a cow, run over by a hog and knocked down by a ram and that he preserved a humble spirit throughout and even asked the cow to forgive him if he had hurt her feelings.

Mrs. Hardman's testimony was that she was washing the dishes after breakfast when she heard her husband give a grunt and rush from the house She followed him to the door and heard and saw all that subsequently passed, though in such a nervous state that she could not be sure of anything. She felt almost sure that Deacon Goodhue said "by gum" and "devil" and "old crank," but she wouldn't be positive of it. She was almost as sure that her husband started to sing a hymn and made some Scriptural quotation, but she might have been mistaken. She was not sure who grabbed the other first, but she could swear on the living Bible that they had trodden all the cucumbers into the earth and broken down most of her tiger lilies.

It took two days to try the case, and meanwhile all business was suspended, including the sawmill. There was no jury, and when almost everybody in town had sworn on one side or the other Justice Somerfield put on his most dignified look and said:

"This case seems to go back to the hoe and to Deacon Goodhue's garden. Was there any need of the deacon working in his garden that day? What had become of his own hoe? Was the borrowed hoe rusty in the shank or was it not?

"Then there were the hogs. Any man who had ever set out to drive one hog along the road, to say nothing about five, knew that the animal wouldn't go straight for a rod at a time. He wouldn't be a hog to pass an open gate without making a rush for the opening. As to whether the lie was actually given and who gave it first is a matter of doubt. The same is true as to who grabbed first, but there can be no possible doubt that many cucumbers and tiger lilies were destroyed and that Deacon Hardman emerged from the conflict with a skinned nose. Taken full and by and back and forth, it was about an even thing. The costs will be divided between them, business resumed at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, and if either has any root beer in the cellar he will be expected to treat the other and both make up and let hoes and hogs go to grass forever more!"

Many Children Are Sickly.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children break up Colds in 24 hours, relieve Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. At all druggists, 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

NOTICE TO VOTERS.
REGISTRATION.
OFFICE OF BOARD OF REGISTRARS OF VOTERS.
Palmer, Mass., Oct. 17, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Registrars of Voters will be in session at Ruggles' Hall, Three Rivers, Wednesday evening, Oct. 25 from 6 to 7 p. m.; at Holden's Old Store in Bondsville, Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, from 6.45 to 7.45 p m; at Temperance Hall, Thorndike, Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, from 7.15 to 8.15 p. m; and at Selectmen's Room, Library Building, Depot Village, Saturday Oct. 28, from 12 m. to 10 p. m. for the purpose of receiving evidence of the qualification of persons claiming a right to vote at the election to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1911, and of correcting the list of voters.

No name can be added to the voters' list (except to correct omissions made by clerical error or mistake) after ten (10) o'clock of the evening of Saturday, Oct. 28, 1911, at which time registration closes.

By order of the Board of Registrars of Voters
CHARLES H. BANNISTER,
FREE AN A. SMITH,
JOHN F. FOLEY,
P. BELANGER. } Board of Registrars.
29-2

BY VIRTUE OF A POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles W. Hunter to Luella J. Pase, dated May 14th, 1909, and recorded with Hampden county deeds, Book 771, Page 488, will be sold at public auction on the premises at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, November 11th, 1911, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed namely,

That certain piece or parcel of land lying and being on Dublin street in Palmer in said Hampden County described as follows:—Beginning at a point in the southerly line of said Dublin street near a stone bound near the westerly corner of land formerly of D. Mulvihill now of one Cook; thence running southeasterly by land of said Cook 10 rods to stake and stones; thence southwesterly 4 rods 5¼ links; thence northwesterly 10 rods 17½ links to stone bound on the south side of Dublin street; thence by said southerly line of said street 2 rods 6 links to the place of beginning, containing 32 1-6 square rods more or less, except ont of said land the land described in release by Frank and Antonietta Sarno to Mary J. Cook recorded in Hampden County land records, Book 730, Page 576, and also conveying hereby the property described in a certain release made by Mary J. Cook to Frank and Antonietta Sarno, dated May 6th, 1908, and recorded in said land records in Book 739, Page 526, described as follows: A certain tract of land in said Palmer, beginning at the northeast corner of land herein described on the southerly side of said Dublin street; thence on line of said street, easterly 4 feet to an iron pin; thence S. 24° E 40 feet, thence N. 22° 40' W. 40½ feet to the first mentioned bound. The premises will be sold subject to unpaid taxes and accrued interest. Terms cash.
29-3 CHARLES L. YOUNG Assignee.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St. Palmer

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers.

BORN.

In Palmer, 24th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merrick.

MARRIED.

In Palmer, 25th, by Rev, P. A. Zedren, J. Edwin Rosenblad of Worcester and Myrtle Johnson of Palmer.
In Ware, 24th, by Rev. John J. Roberts, Arthur Gloster Jr. of Bondsville and Nora McBride of Ware.

DIED.

In North Wilbraham, 20th, Jennie Roberts, 8.
In Warren, 24th, Miss Juliette Beemis, 78.
In Springfield, 22d, Miss Mary E. Rindge, 63, of Palmer.
In Dalton, 22d, Edward H. Brewer, 60, formerly of Wilbraham.

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

TO RENT—To a small family a five-room tenement. 28 Pleasant St., MRS. TUTHILL

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson.

THE CENTER of the hunting territory; woodcock, partridge, deer.
30-2 WALES HOTEL, Wales, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Pen S. C. White Orpingtons for half of cost to me last fall. Also a few cockerels. J E. TOOLE, Palmer. 30-1

AMERICAN BOY of 15 years would like light work out of school hours and Saturdays. Address P. O. BOX 291, Palmer. 1-ks

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices.
3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs.
46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

TO RENT—Tenement on Pine street, second floor, $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

APPLES FOR SALE—A few barrels of choice hand-picked Baldwin and Greening apples for sale. Inquire at JOURNAL OFFICE.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card.
44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

TO RENT.—Upstairs tenement of 5 rooms, family without children preferred.
MRS. MARY MASON, 26 School St., Palmer.

PETER MILLS is continuing his cobbling business on North Main street, Monson, having moved into an adjoining room in the same building in which he has been located.

FOR SALE.—Good sound driving horse; afraid of nothing; can road fast; lady can drive; sold for no fault whatever; a good one.
30-2 WALES HOTEL, Wales, Mass.

WANTED—One or two rooms for housekeeping. Plain sewing and mending also desired. 1-ks
Address P. O. BOX 291, Palmer.

MR. AND MRS. E M. CURTIS, 7 Dresser St., Southbridge, Mass., are agents for Aluminum Ware for Palmer and Monson. Orders may be left with Mrs. Helena Davis, 22 Pleasant St.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 28-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

Billousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish billousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

W. B. T. Smith,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office and residence, 80. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.
Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.
Tel. 104—5.

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

Palmer Trucking Co.
Successors to S. H. Brown.
Trucking and Jobbing of all kinds.
Piano Moving.
Dealers in Spring Water Ice.
Orders solicited, prompt attention guaranteed
F. M. Ralton, Manager.
Office, South Main street.
Telephone connection.

TOWN WARRANT.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
County of Hampden, ss. Town of Palmer.
To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County,
GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the several polling places in said Palmer, designated by the Selectmen, towit: In Precinct A, at the Engine House on Park street in the Depot Village; in Precinct B, at Temperance Hall on Commercial street in Thorndike; in Precinct C, at Ruggles' Hall on East Main street in Three Rivers; and in Precinct D, at Holden's old store in Bondsville, on Tuesday, the 7th day of November, A. D 1911, at 6 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to give in their votes on one ballot to the precinct officers of the several voting precincts of said town for the following officers, to wit:

Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer and Receiver General, Auditor, Attorney General, Councillor for the Seventh Councillor District, Senator for the Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District, one representative in the General Court for the First Hampden Districts, one County Commissioner for Hampden County, one Clerk of Courts for Hampden County, and one Register of Deeds for Hampden County.

Also to vote by ballot, which shall be "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following questions:

1st. "Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the use of voting machines at all elections be approved and ratified?"

2nd. "Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution increasing the power of the legislature to authorize the taking of land and property for highways or streets be approved and ratified?"

The polls will be opened at six o'clock in the forenoon, and may be closed at three o'clock in the afternoon.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this twenty-third day of October, A. D. 1911.

GEORGE L WARRINER,
HAROLD W. BRAINERD,
CHARLES D. HOLDEN,
Selectmen of Palmer.

A true copy,
Attest:
GEORGE A. BILLS,
Constable of the Town of Palmer.

The Rexall Store
Liggett's and Quality Chocolates
Newsdealers and Stationers
50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c
Lynde & Gould
Palmer, Mass.

We Want to Show You
OUR
Elegant Lines
OF
Suits and Overcoats
They are right up to the minute, both in quality and workmanship, and at prices that no one need to go cold.
Fashionable Hats, Caps, Shirts and Neckwear.
Call and be convinced that we can give more for your money than any one else.
C. K. Gamwell,
Clothier and Furnisher,
Palmer, Mass.

Comply with the law
which requires all vehicles to carry a lighted lamp after dark.
If you use

The Neverout PATENT LAMP
TRADE MARK
for 10 years the world's standard, you will run no risk of arrest.
The Neverout is guaranteed to positively stay lit, to throw light front, side and rear, as the law directs.
(Illustration shows The Neverout No. 44)
Patented All styles and finishes of the celebrated Neverout for sale by
These are the best lamps made, and we sell them.

Whitcomb & Faulkn
Main Street,
Palmer, - - -

Mrs. Rose
Late of New York City.
Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shamp and Manicuring.
Hours: 9 to 5 Appointments made.
Telephone 49-11.
17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mas

Remember,
That upstairs in the P. O. Block, the ladies, men and children can get their fall and winter needs at very reasonable prices.
My Excellent Line of Wearing Apparel
is of the highest grade and best workmanship. It consists of LADIES' COATS, (fur, caracul and cloth), SUITS, FURS, SKIRTS, DRESSES and SHIRTWAISTS. GIRLS' and CHILDREN'S COATS. MEN'S and BOYS' SUITS and OVERCOATS.
All ladies' garments made TO ORDER from measure at regular retail prices. Come and look my GOODS OVER before having the expense and trouble of going to the city.
M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.
P. O. Block. Up one fligh

FLINT & BRICKETT
Opp. Court Square. 439 Main St., Springfield
Every Style of the
New Sterling Ranges
Shown in our enlarged Stove Department. The easy terms on which we sell the STERLING RANGE gives you an opportunity of testing its baking qualities before you pay for it. You as part payment.
New H. R. Sterling Range for Same Range with Tea Shelf for
With Room Mantel Shelf,
Three-burner Gas End Shelf, $9
Complete Gas End Combination, $19
High Gas Combination, $27
The large fire box, a special feature of these ran extra size water front or extension brass coil, g hot water at any time.
STERLING RAN
Do you like a range with a hearth or without? leg base range, or one with a low closet base? conduct the ashes to the cellar, or do you prefer the sort of a shelf or warming oven? Reservoir for h water front? Do you do a lot of baking and requi oven, or will a smaller one do?
No matter!
Whatever you want, you can get it in the Model it is made on the Unit System, and we can combi as to give you any type or style or size of range y
Why not have a range built to your order?
It's the only way, but you can get it only in the ling. Don't forget that.
The Polished Top that needs no blacking; also Li Patent Broiler. Many other features you wouldn't dred dollars.
Why not see about it to-day?
FLINT & BRICKET
Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main Spr.

Are You Interested in Parlor Stoves?
The GLENWOOD ba[illegible] work. T also carry a full sto[illegible]
Mod[illegible]

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 3, 1911. NUMBER 31.

HIS FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. M. S. Howard Takes Leave Of Wilbraham Church.

43 YEARS OF CONTINUOUS SERVICE.

Took Same Text as on Installation. Church Burned During Hard July Storm.

A large congregation gathered at the service in the Memorial Methodist church in Wilbraham Sunday morning to listen to the last sermon Rev. Martin S. Howard will preach as pastor of the First Congregational church. Mr. Howard recently resigned after a successful pastorate of 43 years. More than half of Mr. and Mrs. Howard's life has been spent among the people of Wilbraham, where they have endeared themselves to the people. They have labored with untiring zeal, always ready with words of sympathy and cheer. The close attention which the large audience gave the pastor's talk manifested the love, appreciation and esteem in which Mr. Howard is held.

Rev. Martin S. Howard.

Martin Stoddard Howard was born in Milford August 22, 1830, the son of Jotham and Mary Ann Howard. He fitted for college at Mount Hollis Seminary, Holliston, and was graduated from Amherst College in the class of 1855, after which he was engaged in teaching in South Dennis. He was ordained pastor of the West Yarmouth Congregational church in November, 1856. After a pastorate of three years he was installed pastor of the Congregational church in South Darmouth in May, 1859, and was settled over the church in Groveland December 29, 1863. From Groveland he was called to Wilbraham in 1868, where he was installed October 29 of that year. September 25, 1855, he married Mary Adeline Carlton of Holliston. They have three children living, Mrs. Horace Green of Hackensaek, N. J., Edwin Carlton, submaster in the Lawrance school in South Boston, and S. Francis, instructor of chemistry in the Congregational Church, Wilbraham, Burned July 5.

Massachusetts Agricultural College. Mr. Howard has published a large number of discourses and addresses and has written many articles for the public press in poetry and prose. He is still a man of keen intellect and vigorous health. Mr. Howard has been made pastor emeritus of the church and will continue to make his home in town.

Mr. Howard took for his text Sunday II Corinthians, xii:14, "For I seek not yours but you." He stated that this was the text of a sermon he preached on the Sunday after his installation in Wilbraham just 43 years ago Sunday. He said that he could not recall just what he had then said, except that he endeavored to mark out the probable course of the ministry among this people so far as could be controled by his action. After preaching from the text of the morning Mr. Howard spoke of his long service in Wilbraham.

Grade Crossing Hearing.

County Commissioners Consider Petition of New Railroad.

The county commissioners gave a hearing in Springfield Wednesday afternoon, after viewing the locations, on the question of how the Southern New England railroad is to cross the highways in Palmer, Monson and Brimfield, lying along its route. This road is the extension of the Central Vermont railroad from Palmer to Providence, R. I., which has already received the approval of the state railroad commission. The law does not permit a new railroad to cross highways at grade, and the county commissioners have the power to determine just how each road shall be crossed. There are 21 crossings in the three towns mentioned, and in each case the railroad will pass over or under the highway. The selectmen and some of the other citizens of Palmer and Brimfield wanted the grades approaching the proposed bridges to be not over 5 per cent, while the railroad company proposed to have some of them as high as 6 per cent. The hearing was entirely informal and the citizens and railroad representatives came to a substantial agreement about all the crossings. The commissioners will later make a decree giving in detail the manner for crossing the highways. Judge Thomas W. Kenefick of Palmer, Locating Engineer A. S. Going of Montreal, P. Q., and Engineer H. C. Estey of Southbridge represented the railroad company. The engineers assured the commissioners that the road will be built and that work will be started on the extensions as soon as possible.

Car Truck Leaves Rail.

Fine Chance For Serious Accident, But No One Hurt.

The morning train from New London over the Central Vermont railroad was delayed about a quarter of an hour Monday morning by an accident between South Monson and Monson. The train had just passed the South Monson station when the occupants of the smoking car felt a jolting and the train slowed up and stopped. Examination showed that the forward pair of wheels of the rear truck of the mail car had dropped from the rails about an eighth of a mile back and had plowed deep furrows in the ties. No other damage had been done, and after a couple of attempts the train crew got the wheels back in proper place again. The stop was on a curve on an embankment, with unlimited possibilities for serious trouble had the train been moving fast.

Assault on Warren Woman.

But Dinner Box Proved a Good Weapon And She Easily Escaped.

Mrs. Stephen Romauski of Warren was assaulted by some unknown man Monday night as she was returning from her work in the Sayles & Jenks' mill. Her assailant, a young man about 20, caught her by the hair, and thrust his hand over her mouth. He tried to drag her into the brush beside the road, but she struck him over the head with her dinner box, and the passing of an automobile scared him away. The woman hurried to her home, and, her husband, taking a lantern, went out looking for her assailant. No trace of him could be found. Mrs. Romauski escaped with a few bruises on her face. Constable Joseph St. George is investigating the matter.

Probate Court Business.

At a session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday, the following was among the local business transaeted:

Wills proved of—Sanford Booth, late of Brimfield, Ellen and Elmer E. Booth of Brimfield executors; Maryett Walker, late of Wales, James H. Walker of Wales executor.

Administration granted in the estates of Emeline C. Bugbee, late of Monson, Nelson A. Bugbee of Monson administrator; Morris Disley, late of Palmer, Mary C. McGinness of Palmer administratrix.

Guardianship decreed — Jennie S, Grant, an insane person of Monson. Fernald Hutchins of Dedham guardian.

Accounts allowed in the estate of Hattie E. Lockwood, late of Monson.

Distribution decreed in estate of Mary Kennedy, late of Palmer.

End of Belchertown Fox Hunt.

The New England fox-hunting club, which held its annual hunt at Belchertown the past week, brought it to a successful finish Saturday. Two foxes were killed Friday and one Saturday. Only about 25 participated in the chase Saturday, 40 of the party having returned to their homes Friday evening.

October Attendance In Palmer Schools.

Three Rivers Leads, With Thorndike a Close Second. Record Better Than For Previous Month, But Still Better Wanted.

The attendance statistics for the second month of the Palmer schools have been made up by Superintendent Hobson and are given below. A distinct gain has been made in the matter of attendance and lessening of tardinesses, and in some rooms the gain is of large proportions. The elimination of the absence habit and the carelessness which is responsible for a large proportion of the tardinesses is a matter of time, but it is probable that the next report will show a still better record as a whole. Last month the room containing the eighth and ninth grades in the Bondsville building was at the head of the list with a record for perfect attendance, the third and fourth grade room in the Thorndike building being second with 99.35 per cent. This month the best record goes to the eighth and ninth grade room in Three Rivers with 99.42 per cent, the fifth grade of the Palmer grammar school standing second with 99.18; several other rooms are a close third.

	Enrollment	Average Membership	Average Attendance	Per cent	Tardy	Perfect Attendance
High School	148	145.33	142.28	97.9	5	99
PALMER GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 9	34	33.77	32.63	96.62	0	25
8	33	33.	32.19	97.54	0	25
7	35	35.	34.36	98.17	0	24
6	43	42.72	41.2	96.25	0	33
5	52	51.22	50.8	99.18	1	27
4	49	48.82	44.71	91.6	2	27
3	47	47.	45.27	96.32	0	36
2	60	57.22	52.75	92.18	0	29
1	77	72.	65.11	90.43	7	27
	430	420.75	390.02	94.83	10	274
THORNDIKE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	27	27.	26.62	98.6	0	22
6 and 7	35	34.11	33.08	96.98	0	21
4 and 5	36	35.27	33.47	94.9	1	23
3 and 4	30	30.	29.3	97.66	0	22
2	37	37.	35.5	95.9	0	28
1	48	47.11	42.8	90.86	1	23
	213	210.49	200.77	95.81	2	140
THREE RIVERS GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	24	24.	23.86	99.42	0	21
6 and 7	46	46.	44.3	96.3	0	30
5	33	33.	32.55	98.65	0	23
4	44	43.2	42.25	97.1	0	34
3	38	37.22	36.19	97.23	3	12
2	38	38.	36.66	96.48	4	19
1 and 2	42	41.44	39.13	94.42	2	23
1	44	43.16	40.02	92.72	4	11
	309	302.02	294.94	96.54	13	179
BONDSVILLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL.
Grade 8 and 9	20	20.	19.83	99.15	0	15
6 and 7	34	34.	33.52	98.58	0	29
4 and 5	36	36.	35.36	98.22	0	28
3 and 4	47	47.	45.78	97.4	1	34
2	49	49.	47.72	97.39	1	38
1	56	51.44	48.19	93.68	3	27
	242	237.44	230.40	97.4	5	171
DISTRICTS.
Wire Mill	46	45.61	45.13	98.87	9	31
Palmer Center	27	27.	26.2	97.04	1	21
Forest Lake	19	19.	17.33	91.21	13	0
Shorley	18	17.	16.	94.11	5	6
	110	108.61	104.66	95.11	28	57
SUMMARY.
High	148	145.33	142.28	97.9	5	99
Palmer Gram.	430	420.75	390.02	94.83	10	274
Thorn. Gram.	213	210.49	200.77	95.81	2	140
Three R. Gram.	309	302.02	294.97	96.54	13	179
Bond. Gram.	242	237.44	230.4	97.4	5	171
Districts	110	108.61	104.66	95.31	28	57
Total	1452	1428.64	1372.10	96.3	63	920

Another Oil Competitor.

Texas Company To Come Into Palmer and Surrounding Towns.

Kerosene oil ought to be low in price and good in quantity if competition has anything to do with the regulation of either, for a new source of supply is the Texas Company, which is planning to supply as many customers as possible in Palmer and the other towns in this section. This will make three bidders for the patronage of local dealers—the Standard Oil Company, E. A. Buck & Co. of Palmer and Worcester, and the Texas Company. The latter is already located in Springfield, and has worked up a considerable trade. It is not understood that the company plans to erect tanks in Palmer at present, at least, but will supply the towns from the Springfield plant. The transportation will be by auto truck, and the first visit of one to Palmer was made Wednesday, the apparatus attracting no little attention. The car is large and powerful and carries an unusually large tank. It made the trip from Springfield Wednesday with a full tank in only a little over an hour. The representative of the company in this section is Herbert E. Shaw of Wales, who is well known hereabouts.

Boy's Finger Chopped Off.

Laid It on Block and Failed to Move It Quick Enough.

Vodich Augustiniah of North Wilbraham lost the index finger of his left hand Wednesday. With another boy he was playing with a large knife such as is used for cutting rags in the paper mill. The other boy told Vodich to place his finger on a block, meaning to strike at it to scare him. Vodich did as he was told, but did not draw his hand away quickly enough, and the knife descended upon it, severing the finger at the middle joint. The other boy seemed heartbroken over the accident, and there was no reason for believing that it was anything but an accident.

Short-lived Strike at Wilbraham.

A gang of 15 Italian laborers employed at the sand screening plant struck Tuesday for shorter hours, and more pay per hour. The company refused to consider their claims and discharged the gang. Laborers from Ludlow were hired in their places.

Came Near Being Killed.

Warren Man Steps From One Track to Another In Front of Train.

Toney Gescola narrowly escaped being fatally injured at Warren Saturday afternoon at 3.12. He is employed by the Lucius Engineering Company in their concrete gang, at work upon bridge No. 86, a half mile west of Warren depot. He was struck by the locomotive of freight train No. 2628, eastbound. The Twentieth Century westbound was going over the bridge as Gescola was coming on to the track from the south bank, and he did not notice the freight until it struck him. He was thrown upon a pile of sand and narrowly escaped rolling under the wheels. The train was stopped and he was taken from his dangerous position. Dr. John E. Dalton was summoned and after an examination he was removed to his boarding place on River street. There Dr. Dalton made a thorough examination, but could find no broken bones, although his side was badly bruised and his head and leg were cut. He was taken to the Worcester Hospital later for treatment. He has no relatives in this country, but has a wife and child in Italy.

Looked Like a Burglary.

But Nothing Missing From House, Though Window Found Open.

What was at first supposed to be an attempt at burglary but which appears to have been a case of boy and broken window, was reported to the police Tuesday from the home of Herbert Blanchard on Willow street, in the vicinity of the carpet mill. Mr. Blanchard is employed at night and about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Blanchard, who was alone with the children, was awakened by a noise. She investigated, but was unable to find anyone in the house; neither could she find that anything had been disturbed. None of the doors were unlocked and none of the windows on the ground floor open. In the cellar however it was found that three small panes of glass in one of the windows were missing. Investigation by the officers seemed to point to an accidental breaking of the glass by someone, especially as the window was rather small to admit much of a man with burglarious intent.

Brimfield Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Entertain Friends Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis of Prospect Hill pleasantly observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage last evening at their home, Valley View, a large number of friends being present. Music was furnished by a trio from the Academy orchestra, consisting of Principal George F. Kenney, 'cello, Laroy Jarrett, violin, and Mrs. Kenney, piano. There were numerous gifts, including some very handsome silver, and about $40 in silver coin was presented by the townspeople, the presentation being made by Mrs. Samuel A. Fish, acknowledgment being made by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums, and refreshments were served.

The house in which the celebration was held was built by Capt. Samuel Nichols, an original proprietor and large landholder in Brimfield about 160 years ago, and is the oldest house in town; it has always been in the Nichols family until bought by Mr. Lewis about 10 years ago.

Belchertown's Oldest Woman.

Mrs. Letitia Warner Dead at Advanced Age of 93 Years.

Mrs. Letitia Warner, 93, the oldest woman resident of Belchertown, died at her home in that town yesterday afternoon. In spite of her advanced years, she was alert and active until within the past four months, when she was confined to the bed. She was a native of Southbridge, but after her marriage to the late Stephen Warner her home was in the West and South, her husband being a large manufacturer of iron. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elbridge Hotchkiss and Mrs. C. S. Paddock of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Ella Perry, with whom she made her home. The funeral service will be held Sunday in Belchertown and burial will be held Monday in Naugatuck, Ct.

Wilbraham Man's Bequests.

The will of Edward H. Brewer, late of Dalton and a native and former resident of the town of Wilbraham, was filed for probate in Pittsfield this week. Among the bequests were the following: To the Memorial church of Wilbraham, $1500, the income to be used for the church and society; to Wesleyan Academy, $2000; to Newton lodge, A. F. and A. M., Wilbraham, $200; to Rev. Martin S. Howard of Wilbraham, $250; to the town of Wilbraham, $200 for care of Brewer family burial lot in Deacon Adams cemetery; to an aunt, Mrs. S. E. Godfrey of Wilbraham, the homestead, including the mountain pasture, being all the real estate the testator owned in Wilbraham, with all furniture and personal property outdoors and on the homestead. Chauncey E. Peck of Wilbraham is named as executor.

Record Was Against Him.

And So Warren Wallace is Working Six Months For the County.

Warren Wallace of Monson, colored, appeared in the district court Tuesday morning on a charge of drunkenness, and was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction in Springfield. Wallace has an unusually long record in the court, and at the time of his arrest was on probation for a similar previous offense, hence the severity of the sentence.

The same morning a peddler who had neglected to have his name, place of residence and license number plainly marked on his pack, was assessed $10, and paid.

Illustrated Lecture Next Week.

The Palmer Historical society will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday night in the vestry of the Congregational church at 7.30 o'clock. F. A. Upham of Three Rivers, who has recently returned from abroad, will give a talk on Scotland and the English lakes, illustrated with stereopticon views. This lecture promises to be of much interest. No admission fee will be charged and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

BELCHERTOWN.

A. M. Baggs has returned from a western trip.

The primary school reopened Monday morning.

The winter schedule at the library started in Tuesday.

While in New York recently Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Fishburn celebrated the 35th anniversary of their marriage. They were tendered a surprise party by one of their daughters.

Rev. Newton I. Jones of South Hadley has been engaged to supply the Congregational pulpit between now and January 1, when Rev. Edward P. Kelley will assume the pastorate.

KNOW THE FIRE DRILL.

Engineers Make Tests in Public Schools Tuesday.

BONDSVILLE MAKES THE BEST TIME.

Every Youngster Out in 35 Seconds. But All the Schools Did Good Work.

The board of fire engineers made a round of the grammar schools of the town Tuesday afternoon to see how much the pupils knew about the fire drill when it was rung without any hint that it was coming. What they found satisfied them that there is little likelihood of any serious trouble even in case of actual fire. The records made were unusually good.

The Bondsville school proved the winner, both in time and in the manner in which the pupils removed themselves from the vicinity of the building. After leaving the doors, instead of gathering near the building the lines marched unbroken to some distance from the structure, showing excellent training and discipline. There are 241 pupils in this building and in 35 seconds from the tap of the gong which interrupted the study and recitations every person in it was on the outside and at a safe distance.

The next best record was at Thorndike, where it took only 40 seconds to clear the building of 205 pupils.

At Three Rivers the 309 inmates of the building were all out in 50 seconds.

The time at the Palmer grammar building—1 minute and 5 seconds for 400 pupils—was not as good as it will be later, when the pupils are all permanently placed. Some of the grades have recently been changed to new rooms and others are to be changed; under these conditions Superintendent Hobson did not deem it wise to get the smaller children accustomed to using halls and exits which a little later they would be obliged to "forget" and learn new routes, so the drill there has not been tried as often as it will be a little later. However, the time Tuesday was fast enough to satisfy those making the tests.

In a few instances the engineers found doors opening into the rooms instead of out, as required by law, and these changes will be made at once.

Gasoline Blazes Up.

Big Flame in Lewis' Garage, But Little Damage.

There was the "makin's" of a lively fire in Lewis' garage on Main street Monday afternoon about 3.30. A quantity of gasoline used in cleaning an automobile gear had been spilled on the floor near the door and in some way was set on fire. There was a big blaze instanter. The doors were closed to keep out the air as much as possible, and when opened to admit men with chemical fire extinguishers the flames rolled out and up to the top of the building for a moment or two; the interior also seemed to be a solid mass of flames. The fire died out quickly however, and the only damage was to the wheels of the gear under repair, and that was confined to a blistering of the paint. The fire department was not called out.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

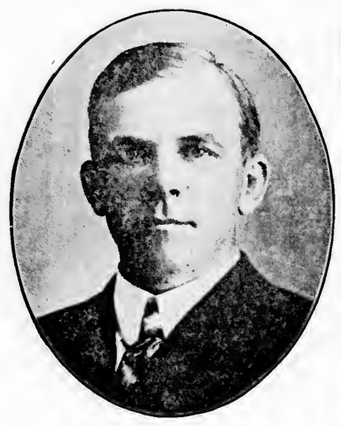
Miss Mabel Alpin of Springfield spent Sunday with Miss Nellie Fuller.

Everett Green, with Wilfred Calkins of Palmer, is comping in Wales for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Raymond had as their guests over Sunday Miss Jessie Newell of Springfield and Miss Lena Woodard of Hadley.

A party of young people were entertained at the home of Milo Green Tuesday evening at a Hallowe'en party and husking bee. A gypsy was there to tell fortunes. Games were played and refreshments served.

EAST BRIMFIELD.



Mrs. Oliver Dupree was painfully injured one day last week by being thrown from an auto in which she was riding. When near the home of Byron Charles the machine ran into an embankment, badly damaging the machine. Mrs. Dupree received a bad cut over one eye, besides being badly bruised. Her daughter who was with her escaped uninjured,

George C. Plimpton, a life-long collector of Indian relics, recently found 43 arrowheads of quartz, flint and jasper, a tomahawk, pieces of decorated pottery, a pierced ornament and a piece of wampum. His collection contains specimens of various utensils, weapons and ornaments of the first settlers and will be exhibited in the Brimfield town library, where it can be suitably arranged.

Candidates for the Senate and House.

William H. Wheeler.

Henry W. Holbrook.

William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston, who was given the Republican nomination for senator in the Worcester-Hampden district without opposition, was born in Lexington, Mass., Sept. 4, 1848. He has been a successful merchant for 36 years, and has enjoyed the confidence of his townspeople to a remarkable degree. He is now the town clerk and treasurer of Hubbardston, a position he has held for the past 16 years. He was a member of the school board of the town in 1880; of the board of assessors 1884-85; overseers of the poor 1886-88; selectman 1886-90; public library trustee 24 years to the present time. He was elected representative to the General Court in 1894, serving on the finance committee; he has represented the town again this year, serving on the committee on public charities. He is a member of these organizations: Masons, Hope lodge of Gardner; Royal Arch chapter; Ivanhoe commandery, Knight Templars; Ancient Order of United Workmen; the Grange and the Unitarian church.

Henry W. Holbrook, the Republican candidate for representative from the First Hampden district, is a candidate for re-election. Mr. Holbrook was for the first time a candidate for state office last fall, when he was elected representative from this district. He has filled the office in a manner satisfactory to his constituents. There have been few matters this year of especial interest to this district, but from time to time Mr. Holbrook has made an effort to learn the views of the voters in his district by personal conversation with those with whom he has come in contact. He stands upon his record. He voted upon every important measure and he voted as he thought was right, from his knowledge of the facts. More than that, he knows how he voted and why he did so and he stands ready to explain his attitude to any voter who will ask him to do so. His attitude leaves not much to be desired. It is that of an honest man.

During his term in the House, Mr. Holbrook won the esteem of his fellow members. Many of them have expressed the opinion that he brought good judgment and business ability to bear in his consideration of public business. He served on the election law committee and when Hon. A. P. Langtry was appointed secretary of state Mr. Holbrook was appointed on the committee on mercantile affairs, to fill the vacancy made by the withdrawal of Mr. Langtry.

Mr. Holbrook is a native of Palmer. He was born in February, 1875, and has spent his life here. He attended the public schools and graduated from the high school in 1891. He took a post graduate course and in the fall of 1892 entered Tufts College. He graduated in 1896 with the degree of A. B.

During his college career he displayed that business ability which has marked his later life. He became prominent in the affairs of the students, especially in athletics. He was made a member of the advisory board which controls the finance and management of college athletics. He was a member of the 'Varsity football team in 1894 and he was also a member of the famous baseball team of 1895, which defeated Harvard. He returned to his home in Palmer after graduation and became associated with his father, the late J. F. Holbrook, in the wholesale and retail coal business, under the firm name of J. F. Holbrook & Son. The retail business was sold in 1908 and Mr. Holbrook still conducts the wholesale business. He is a member of the firm of J. S. Knox & Co., of Palmer, dealers in fruit and tobacco, and an active member of the firm of Hawkes & Ford, of Monson, manufacturers of shoddy.

His ability as a public servant was well demonstrated during the years 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909, when he served as selectman of Palmer. He was chairman of the board during the last three years of his service.

A Comedy of Economy.

A comedy of economy is reported from St. Moritz. A stout couple, accompanied by a son and daughter who were also "thick," as the Germans translate stout, entered a crowded hotel at the busy time of lunch and ordered one lunch at table d'hote. The father sat down and finished two helpings of soup and all the bread near him and left the table, his place being taken for the entrees by his wife, who had been waiting with her children in the hotel corridor until her husband appeared.

The young man then took his mother's place to attack the joint, and he was followed by his sister for the sweets, all doing justice to the menu. In the crowd the tourists did not notice the unusual lunch, but the head waiter did, and when asked for the bill presented one for four lunches. The paterfamilias grumbled a good deal—and paid! — Geneva correspondence Pall Mall Gazette.

Winning the Derby.

It costs a good deal of money to win the English Derby. An authority tells us that a horse with the least chance to win will cost anywhere from $25,000 up, which will prevent the average clerk or newspaper man from owning more than half a dozen or so at the outside. Then there is the training, which is a thing not to be done on Sunday afternoons in the back yard. An experienced trainer must be employed, and his charges for the necessary period will amount to about $1,000 for each horse. The jockey has to be paid, and a good jockey would scorn the pay of an archbishop or the profits of even a senator. And if he wins he will expect a present. King Edward used to give his jockeys $2,500 for a win, which makes one wish to be a jockey. But of course it takes brain. —Exchange.

Just Like Himself.

The cheerful patient needed all his good spirits, for the severe operation had been a failure and the doctors were hesitating to tell him. The physician stood by his bedside in the hospital, and from his grave expression the patient suspected the truth.

"Well, doc," he said, with a sad smile, "it must have been like this."

He fumbled under his pillow and produced an envelope which had been erroneously delivered in another ward. On the envelope was scribbled in pencil, "Opened by mistake."—New York Sun.

A Quibbler.

"These people obey the letter, perhaps, but they don't obey the spirit of the law." The speaker was discussing certain troublesome and wily transgressors. He continued: "And they don't even interpret the letter of the law correctly. They and their attorneys quibble like the young man in Pike county.

"A young man and his girl were strolling in a Pike county meadow when a bull dashed upon them.

"'Stay here and protect my retreat,' cried the girl. 'You know, Reggie, you've often said you'd face death for my sake.'

"But Reggie, who had already sprinted fifty yards, called back over his shoulder:

"'Do you call that bull dead?'"—New York Press.

Why Rubber Tires Grow Hot.

When an automobile is running at high speed the rubber tires are rapidly warmed, and the heat sometimes becomes very great, with resultant injury to the rubber The cause of this accumulation of heat in the tire is ascribed to the kneading of the rubber, which generates heat faster than it can be radiated away. For this reason manufacturers have found it to be an advantage to have metal parts in the tread, such as the ends of rivets, in contact with the tire, because the metal being a good radiator, helps to carry off the heat of the outer air.

Origin of "Canard."

The French name for a duck is canard and a French journal recalls the etymology of "canard" in the pejorative journalistic sense. A Paris reporter once upon a time in the hot weather could find no news and he fell back upon his imagination. He published an account of a remarkable experiment conducted in a farmyard.

A farmer took twelve ducklings, chopped one up fine and gave it to the eleven others to eat. A second was chopped and the remaining ten gobbled him up. For eight more days one duckling was served up to the others. At last, when only two were left, one of the two was given to the other to eat. This remarkable experiment resulted, therefore, in the one remaining duckling having eaten up his eleven brothers.

The story of the "Twelve Little Ducks" sprang at once into fame. A "canard" in a newspaper has ever since meant a statement nearer fiction than fact.

Boston Letter.

Unprecedented Scene at Council Hearing — Reported Election Trade — Boom For LaFollette to be Worked -- Political Claims of Both Parties.

Boston, Nov. 1, 1911.

Though the daily papers will have, this afternoon, the main features of the hearing before the council upon the nominations which have been made by Gov. Foss and have not yet been confirmed, yet, as an eye and ear witness, something further may be added by me. The hearing, at the time of writing, is in progress in the room of the railroad committee, and the stenatorian voice of Daniel J. Kiley of Boston is ringing through the corridors and even being heard on the floor below as he pours forth his denunciation of the railroad commission and demands the confirmation of Prof. Garrett Droppers of Williams college, whom the governor nominated in the place of Commissioner Clinton White of Melrose. Gov. Foss sits in the chair of the chairman of the committee and conducts the hearing. At his right is Lieut. Gov. Frothingham, the two men sitting elbow to elbow and apparently as courteous toward each other as if there had not been the sharpest of political charges and condemnation uttered on the stump by the junior toward the senior. Other councillors sit on each side, all taking deep interest in the proceedings. Chairman Macleod of the railroad commission has been there. The room is packed to the doors and the standing room is filled. It is an incident which has never occurred in the memory of present political reporters and the public is making the most of the unprecedented fact of a public airing of the charges brought against nominees for public office. Prof. Droppers' case was heard this forenoon and was reopened this afternoon in order that Kiley might be heard. The hardest blow to him was given by Charles Francis Adams 2d, who was chairman of the special commission on commerce and labor two years ago, of which Prof. Droppers was secretary and principal executive officer. Adams wrote to the commission that he thought that Droppers was so lacking in a sense of justice and fairness that it would be a public calamity if he were confirmed and had to pass upon important railroad matters. It was brought out that the regents of the South Dakota State University, of which Droppers was president, had investigated charges against him of bribing a student and that Droppers was exonerated. But he resigned the presidency. It was brought out that he had the warm indorsement of former President Eliot of Harvard, and of Prof. F. W. Taussig, who is of the same class as Droppers. There were also demands that White be not confirmed, while there was also a strong support for him put up by the railroad men and others. I have been told today by one of our prominent state officials that a railroad president said to him that the railroads wanted White for railroad commissioner and they were going to have him.

Gerry Brown's case for supervisor of small loans was quickly disposed of. Nobody appeared to say a word against him. He challenged anybody to appear. The governor called for the opposition, but still no one showed himself. Brown then had put in a very handsome petition for his confirmation signed by a lot of the leading Republicans of Brockton, and some Democrats. Leading men were represented to over 600 and he got through in fine shape. The other cases followed and the day was consumed by them.

There is good reason to believe that a trade is on foot by which there will be a combination for the ticket of Frothingham and Walsh, to the throwing down of Foss and Luce. The leaders of the no-license league are satisfied that the liquor trade is in such an agreement. Robert Luce is worried about it, and it is said that he believes that it is true. If the arrangement could be carried through undiscovered and unsuspected, it might work, but now that there is a belief that it exists, the result will be to favor Foss and Luce, it would seem. It is believed that this will be well advertised before election.

There is further news which concerns the Republicans in their national campaign. The insurgent movement, which is being engineered by La Follette workers, has secured the support of one of the foremost and best known Republicans of the state who has plenty of money and has put his automobile at the service of the managers. Medill McCormick and his friend of Chicago are working for La Follette, but they recognize that Massachusetts is not well acquainted with him, and so the movement here is put on the ground of Republican insurgency. The most is to be made of the words of Abraham Lincoln, only a few days before his death, warning against the rule of the people of the country by the forces of wealth, and the effort will be to identify President Taft with the power of corporate wealth, in spite of his work against the trusts. The Massachusetts movement will soon come into the open, it is expected. For manager of the headquarters they have secured one of the ablest young Republicans of the last State House of Representatives, who was at the La Follette conference in Chicago, and they are sure of prominent men enough to make the movement seem strong from the start. It would seem that the Public Franchise League is interested for the Massachusetts insurgents, as might have been expected from its constant campaign before the Legislature against the corporations, and it has a backing which will compel attention. Thus the national campaign is right upon us before the state campaign is finished.

At the Republican state headquarters their confidence in the election of Lieut. Gov. Frothingham continues to grow. Though the chairman will not give out any figures, yet others of the committee will give their personal estimates and the man nearest to the lieutenant governor tells me that he agrees that the figure of 80,000 plurality which one of the state committee gave for "Louis" was about the right margin. They base their predictions upon the large number of Republicans whom they find in all parts of the state who voted for the governor last year who will not vote for him this year. They report line meetings in all parts of the state and their friends send them such glowing stories of the enthusiasm for the Republican ticket that they cannot see how they can possibly be defeated. They have been coming strong during the entire fall. State street believes that Frothingham will be elected. So do the business men in Boston. The air has been full of Frothingham here from the beginning of the campaign. It is a part of the daily living here that the Republicans will win a sweeping victory, carrying in their entire state ticket and a larger number in the Legislature than last session.

Against this outlook the Democrats, who are every whit as confident and as enthusiastic as the Republicans, allege these facts: that they are constantly finding Republicans who voted for Draper who will vote for Foss; that the Democracy is free from the very bad effects of the Faneuil Hall convention which cost them many votes; that labor is far more united for Foss than it was last year; that there are no serious bad spots in the state; that Foss will have a large part of the Republican vote among the farmers, and Secretary Ellsworth of Worcester of the state board of agriculture, a Republican, is quoted as holding this opinion; that the rallies have been so largely crowded and enthusiastic as to prove that the governor will have the people with him.

Each headquarters is working tooth and nail for victory. The Republicans have the stronger machine. They have the benefit of their constant work during the summer and early autumn. They have the assistance of outside stumpers and they are the favorites of the great upper section of business outside of the state. Each headquarters is thronged by men bringing in news, asking for help at rallies and keeping the state machines in close touch with all cities and towns. It is too late in the campaign to expect any evident turn of the tide either way. Each side will come up to next Tuesday with every nerve strained, feeling that much for the nation and campaign depends upon the result, while there is also much at stake in Massachusetts. Able generals are in command of both forces. Next to Foss, good words are said for Walsh, but many add, also, don't forget Anderson who is running against Attorney General Swift. The Republicans have no doubt that their entire ticket will pull through, without speaking any special words for any one candidate.

LANDON.

The shortest words sometimes carry the most weight.

Mrs. Rose

Late of New York City.

Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.

Hours: 9 to 5 Appointments made.

Telephone 49-11.

17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made In This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD W. G. WHEAT.

Over 1000 Different Carpet Size Rugs Shown In

OUR GREAT RUG GALLERY

Including the Very Cream of the Production of the Foremost Mills of America.

Our great rug stock is now at the best of the whole year—a magnificent exposition of beautiful rugs representing the very choicest patterns brought out by the leading mills of the country. In our great rug gallery we show on giant swinging frames over 1000 carpet size rugs by actual count—rugs in all the leading American makes, in all grades and in an assortment of the very latest and choicest patterns and colorings, suited to the particular requirements of every room in the house. This immense assortment means that you can have no rug want which cannot be supplied here to your complete and lasting satisfaction.

KERMANSHAH AND ANGLO--PERSIAN WILTONS
The Very Finest Rugs Made in America.
THE STANDARD ROYAL WILTONS
THE BIGELOW LOWELL, HARTFORD AND WHITTALL BRUSSELS
HIGH GRADE AXMINSTER AND ARDAHAN RUGS
THE POPULAR VELVET AND TAPESTRY RUGS

As these rugs are displayed in our rug gallery you can see a hundred different rugs at a glance, making careful and intelligent comparison, enabling you to select the exact rug that is most pleasing to you in pattern and coloring and best suited to the exact needs of your room.

OUR PRICES IN EVERY INSTANCE ARE THE LOWEST AT WHICH RUGS OF EQUAL QUALITY CAN BE SOLD.

An Immense Display Of Handsome Rockers at Popular Prices.

Getting our great furniture stock in readiness for the holidays we now have an immense stock of handsome rockers--hundreds of them by actual count, and in an almost endless variety of new and pleasing patterns. Especially noticeable in this great stock is the large showing of handsome rockers at popular prices--strong, well-made chairs in pleasing new patterns, made for solid comfort--the handsomest chairs we have ever shown at popular prices.

Graceful Arm Rocker, in mahogany finish or oak, with quartered oak panel back, made with saddle seat, all nicely finished and polished, $3

Strong Handsome Rocker made of quartered oak throughout, also shown in mahogany finish, at $3 75

Handsome well-built Arm Rocker on Colonial lines, heavy and solid, with saddle seat and rubbed polish finish. We show this handsome rocker in selected quartered oak or mahogany finish, and it is the handsomest rocker we have ever been able to offer at a strictly popular price. Chair that would be a good value at $6, special price $4

High Back Colonial Rocker in quartered oak or mahogany finish with carved top rail, $4.75

Another High Back Arm Rocker in handsome Colonial pattern with scroll arms, in quartered oak or mahogany finish, at $5

Better Chairs in a wide variety of new patterns in selected quartered oak and mahogany finish with handsome mahogany panel backs, at $5.50, $6 $7.50 and $8

Beautiful Parlor Rockers in mahogany finish with mahogany panel backs, richly inlaid with satinwood and pearl. Special values at $6, $6.50 and $7.50

Beautiful Linens for Thanksgiving

We are now ready with our special Thanksgiving display of linens --- a most extensive showing of the very choicest productions of the celebrated makers of the old world in beautiful patterns brought out expressly for the Thanksgiving trade. These include table cloths and napkins in all sizes as well as matched sets and linens by the yard from the most inexpensive up to the very finest linens made in the world.

MATCHED SETS --- Cloth and dozen napkins to match ---
Special values at $8.50, $10, $12.50, $14, $15, $16 and up to $75

TABLE CLOTHS --- In all sizes and a wealth of new and exclusive patterns ---
At $3, $3.50, $4, $4.50, $5 and $6

BANQUET CLOTHS --- Magnificent cloths in extra large sizes ---
Special values at $12.50, $15, $22, $25 and $30

NAPKINS --- Napkins to match all cloths in all sizes from 18 in. to 27 in ---
At $1, $1.25, $1.37, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3 and up to $30 doz.

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

Springfield, Massachusetts

Chest Pains and Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is an excellent remedy for chest and throat affections. It quickly relieves congestion and inflammation. A few drops in water used as a gargle is antiseptic and healing.

Here's Proof

"I have used Sloan's Liniment for years and can testify to its wonderful efficiency. I have used it for sore throat, croup, lame back and rheumatism and in every case it gave instant relief."
REBECCA JANE ISAACS,
Lucy, Kentucky.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is excellent for sprains and bruises. It stops the pain at once and reduces swelling very quickly.

Sold by all dealers.

Price, 25c., 50c., $1.00

Sloan's Treatise on the Horse sent free. Address
Dr. Earl S. Sloan
Boston, Mass.

O'Connor's Barber Shop

PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room. (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.

Trains Going South.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m and 3.50 p. m., for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.30 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

Going North.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 a. m. and 2.45 p. m., for Palmer, Brattleboro and intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London 5.25 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry.
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Officers.

H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

Auditors.

W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

Board of Investment.

H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. C. F. Smith.
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson

Trustees.

H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark. G. D. Mooers. L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell. L. R. Holden. C. L. Waid.
Geo. S. Holden. C. E. Fuller. E. B. Taylor.
M. J. Dillon. C. F. Smith. C. A. LeGro.

Treasurer.

C. L. Waid.

Safe Deposit Boxes for rent.

Banking Hours: 9 a. m to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

The Antalgica

Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by the Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor.

O P. Allen,
Palmer, Mass.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Leona Hurd will entertain about 25 of her friends at a husking bee at her home this evening.

William Ripley has returned from the House of Mercy hospital, where he underwent an operation two weeks ago.

C. W. Hardy, C. S. Merrick and M. L. Brewer were chosen delegates to attend the association of Congregational churches of Hampden county held in West Springfield Wednesday.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Miner Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brown and Mrs. F. Edgar Brown attended the Congregational conference in West Springfield Wednesday as delegates from the Brimfield church.

A party of officials visited the forest fire observation station at Steerage Rock Tuesday. There were J. G. Peters of Washington, D. C., United States inspector of such stations; H. C. Hutchins, superintendent in Massachusetts, and John P. Crowe, who has charge of the erection and equipment of stations. It was decided to erect a tower with a glass-enclosed observatory on top.

WARREN.

Hearing on New Highway.

The county commissioners gave a hearing Friday morning at the town hall in regard to damages to be awarded on account of building the new street from East Main street past the Warren steam pump company's plant. George W. Cook, Warren Goodale and Arthur C. Moore were present, as were also Charles L. Coombs and J. Edward Lombard of the selectmen. About 10 citizens were present. George C. Bridges and the Warren steam pump company were not represented, but James T. Cutler, in behalf of himself and Miss Ellen F. Cutler, asked that he be awarded $750 damages and that the stone steps and all water pipes be properly cared for. J. W. Furbur, representing the Boston and Albany railroad, had nothing to say in regard to damages, pending an agreement on the part of George C. Bridges and the Warren steam pump company to relinquish all rights to farm crossings at grade. The hearing was adjourned to meet at the court house at Worcester at 2.30 p. m. on November 21, when it was hoped that an understanding might be reached. The commissioners then viewed the premises so as to refresh their memories as to all the conditions.

Haley—Sheehan.

Miss Bridget Annie Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Haley of West Main street, and Daniel William Sheehan of Boston were married in St. Paul's church Monday morning at 8 o'clock, Rev. Thomas C. McCaughan officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Haley, and the best man was J. A. Sheehan, brother of the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and the couple left at noon for a trip to Washington.

Increase of Voters.

The registrars of voters held their final meeting Saturday. Thirty-one names have been added to the voting list this fall. The totals now stand 447 in precinct A and 215 in precinct B. The assessors have returned 1207 poll tax payers, an increase over 1910 of 31, and for the first time precinct B, which is largely West Warren, exceeds precinct A with 604 assessed polls against 603 in the larger village.

The selectmen Saturday appointed George H. Burbank and John F. Kellegrew tellers for the coming election in precinct A.

Court Warren of Foresters is making arrangements for a grand bazar to be held in the town hall on the nights of November 23, 24 and 25.

The Camp Rio Club broke camp Saturday for the season of 1911, and has moved into Warren from Walker's grove on the west shore of the Quaboag river.

A Hallowe'en party was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Rice on East road. About 40 of the neighbors were present. It was a sheet and pillow-case party. Hallowe'en games were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

A party of hunters, including H. N. Shepard, C. E. Wilson, R. H. Hyde, George E. Rice, George Mitchell, Harry Rice and Myron Rice, accompanied by B. H. Chamberlain of Sturbridge and his dog, captured a 15 pound coon Monday night in the southwest part of Brookfield.

John Kamuda was arrested Tuesday night by Constable Joseph St. George on a charge of committing malicious damage to the property of the Star Moving Picture Company. Kamuda, who formerly owned part of the property, sold out to Frank Lavigne, Kamuda being retained as operator of the machine. He finished his work Saturday and when Mr. Lavigne demanded the keys Monday, he made excuses not to return them. A little detective work caught Kamuda in the booth, and when the machine refused to work, he was placed under arrest, Wednesday in the district court he was found guilty and fined $5 and costs upon the promise to place the machine in perfect condition again.

HOLLAND.

Mrs. Freeman Blodgett has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Charles Webster of Union.

The family of Lewis M. Howlett gave a surprise dinner Wednesday in honor of his 67th birthday.

Mrs. J. F. Hebard, who attended the conference in Worcester last week as a delegate from Holland church, read an interesting report Sunday morning.

Edward E. Chapman of Ludlow and George Sherman of Brimfield, both workers in the State Grange, were in Holland one evening last week, to meet the people and see what can be done to organize a grange. A committee of three was appointed to hold a meeting and consider the matter. John F. Hebard, William F. Horton and Mrs. Arthur E. Childs constitute the committee.

HAMPDEN.

Byron Stebbins has been drawn as a juror for the criminal term of the superior court.

The Bon Tons met Saturday with Misses Florence and Edna Carew. Three new members were elected, now making a membership of 19.

At the meeting of the board of registrars Saturday four new names were placed on the voters' list. The registered voters of Hampden now number 150 men and 17 women.

The following were chosen delegates from the Congregational church to attend the conference of the Hampden Association of Congregational churches and ministers at West Springfield Wednesday: H. H. Thresher, Miss Esther Burleigh, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Warren, Miss Seraph Bliss, Dea. A. B. Newell, Miss Florence Lee and Mrs. Albert Ballard.

WARE.

Death of William T. Sherman.

William T. Sherman, 82, died Saturday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Agnes Marsh, on High street, from general debility. He was born in New York state and came to Ware about 38 years age. He was married in 1854 to Emily Babbitt. His wife died several years ago. He had been employed as a carpenter, but retired about 20 years ago, and of late years had been in feeble health. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Agnes Marsh and Mrs. Tillie E. Aber of Ware, and Mrs. Israel Brayton of Fall River; three sons, Dr. David Sherman of Brooklyn, J. J. Sherman of Fall River, and Silas Sherman of West Brookfield, and one brother, Dr. Wesley Sherman of Brooklyn. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. E. W. Lutterman officiating, and burial was in Aspen Grove cemetery.

Long Wanted Man Caught.

Henry Berube of Millbury was brought into the district court Friday morning, charged with larceny from the Cash and Credit clothing company of Worcester, which operates a branch in Ware. The local police have been endeavoring to locate Berube since July, but nothing could be learned in regard to his whereabouts until Thursday, when Chief of Police Buckley, who had heard of him in Maynard, sent Officer Denis there for him. The officer returned with his prisoner Thursday night, having found him living under the name of Harry Bailey. He pleaded guilty Friday morning in larceny of $50 and not guilty to larceny of about $900. Probable cause was found and he was taken to Northampton, having been bound over to the grand jury.

Death of Mrs. Diantha P. Brown.

Mrs. Diantha P. Brown, 82, widow of Benjamin Brown, died Sunday morning of illness incident to old age. She was born in Shutesbury, the daughter of Benjamin and Jerusha Shaw Winter. She had lived in Ware about 35 years. She was married 60 years ago to Benjamin Brown, who was later superintendent of the woolen mill of C. A. Stevens & Co. Since her husband's death, three years ago, she had made her home with Mrs. W. G. Loveland of West street. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Levi Nutting of Minneapolis, Minn., and one brother, Tyler Winter of Milaca, Minn. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, Rev. O. J. Fairfield officiating, and burial was in Aspen Grove cemetery.

Death of Christopher A. Boyle.

Christopher A. Boyle, 38, a member of the firm of Boyle & Gravel, wholesale liquor dealers, died Saturday afternoon after about two-weeks' illness with typhoid fever. He was born in Ware, and previous to engaging in business for himself was for several years employed in the grocery store of C. Hitchcock & Co. He is survived by a widow and two small children, Joseph and Helen. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. J. R. King, and a mother, Mrs. Mary A. Boyle. The funeral was held Monday morning at 9 in All Saints' church, and burial was in St. William's cemetery.

Run Over By Milk Wagon.

Harold, the seven-years-old son of Fred Johnson, was run over by his father's milk wagon Monday morning and some of the fingers of his left hand were crushed and his right leg bruised. The boy was coming from school and the milk wagon was passing. He did not wait for it to stop, but in attempting to get into the wagon fell under the wheels.

First Calculating Machine.

The first calculating machine was invented and constructed by Blaise Pascal, a Frenchman, in 1642, in which year he was but nineteen years of age. It was made by him with the aid of one workman and was presented to the chancellor of France. During the revolution it was found in a junk shop at Bordeaux and at present is the property of M. Bougouin of that city. All of the four simple mathematical operations can be made with it.

Great Writer Not Fond of Music.

Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt musick he should have been afraid he would have done nothing else but play," but explained that "it was a method of employing the mind without the labor of thinking at all and with some applause for a man's self." He also confessed that "he knew a drum from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a guitar which was about the extent of his knowledge of musick."

Quaker Slang.

A visitor to Philadelphia, unfamiliar with the garb of the Society of Friends, was much interested in two demure and placid Quakeresses who took seats directly behind her in the Broad street station. After a few minutes' silence she was somewhat startled to hear a gentle voice inquire: "Sister Kate, will thee go to the counter and have a milk punch on me?"—Lippincott's.

Nearly Out of Cheese.

A grocery salesman entering a store found the place in charge of the delivery boy. Upon being asked where the proprietor was, the boy replied: "I am the whole cheese here." The traveling man departed, leaving a note for the proprietor, which the boy promptly opened. "Permit me to suggest," he read, "that you are nearly out of cheese."—Success.

Education.

"The educational system which seeks to develop the mind into a money-making machine only is a mischievous system; but the system which crowds the mind with unrelated facts and turns out youths who can barely earn a living is scarcely less mischievous."—T. Sharper Knowlson.

Easily Detected.

Smart Aleck—Here's Jimmy Jiggers been arrested for uttering a forged note.

Stupid Steve—Then if he uttered it, they ought to have known it was forged.

Smart Aleck—How could they know?

Stupid Steve—Because he stutters.

Reason In Animals.

Watson in "The Reasoning Power of Animals" holds that they reason; Romanes in "Animal Intelligence" is inclined to the belief that some have reason and others sense, while James in "Psychology" holding that "dogs have sense to protect their owner's property, though never so taught."

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets do not sicken or gripe, and may be taken with perfect safety by the most delicate woman or the youngest child. The old and feeble will also find them a most suitable remedy for aiding and strengthening their weakened digestion and for regulating the bowels. For sale by all dealers.

Forbes & Wallace Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

To Mark the Opening of Our

Enlarged Blanket Section

We Offer To-day Our

Exceptional Values

The transfer of several departments to the new section of the second floor has enabled us to double the size of our Blanket Section, giving much-needed room for the display of this stock. To fittingly mark this expansion we have prepared the following very unusual values.

Full size White Wool Blankets, made from fine selected wool, with pink and blue borders, size 70 x 80 inches, regular price $6.50, special, $5.00

Full size White Wool Blankets, fine grade, with pink and blue borders, size 72 x 80 inches, regular price $5.00, special, $4 50

Full size White Wool Blankets, with pink and blue borders, size 70 x 80 inches, regular price $4.50, special, $3.50

Full size White Wool Blankets, warm and fleecy, with pink and blue borders, regular price $3.50, special $2 89

Plaid Blankets, all wool, fine selected stock, in a variety of new plaids, $5.00

Wool finish Blankets, full bed size, in white and gray, regular price $3.00, special $2.50

Full size White Cotton Blankets, made of selected stock, contain no waste or shoddy, pink and blue borders, regular price $1.69, special, $1.25

Full size Wool Finish Blankets, in gray with pink and blue borders, regular price $2.50, special, $2 00

Full size Wool Nap Blankets, warm and fleecy, gray and white, regular price $2.00, special, $1.50

Full size Wool Nap Blankets, in white and gray, with pink and blue borders, regular price $2.25, special, $1.75

Cotton Fleece Blankets in grays and white, borders in pink and blue.

Regular prices, 69c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25.
Special, 50c, 59c, 75c and $1.00.

Forbes & Wallace,

Springfield, Mass.

Boys' $1.00 All-wool Athletic Sweaters,	50c
Men's $2.00 Soft Hats,	50c
Men's $1.00 Bosom Shirts,	39c
Infants' Fleeced Undervests,	10c
Gas Mantles,	10c
Opal Gas Globes,	10c

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

Some Women Dread Baking Day—Others Use A Glenwood

The Glenwood Ash Chute

Bottles up all the dust and ashes and conveys them via pipe to a Tight Ash Receiver in cellar. See the Plain Cabinet Glenwood Range.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Large Copper Reservoir on end.

The E. Brown Co., Palmer

THE PALMER JOURNAL

Published

EVERY FRIDAY EVENING

13-15 Central Street, Masonic Block.

PALMER, MASS.

The Palmer Journal Company,

LOUIS E. CHANDLER,

Editor and Manager.

Terms of subscription—Two dollars a year: a discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents. Subscriptions continued until notified.

Entered at Post Office as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1911.

THE JOURNAL'S NEW FORM.

The Journal goes to its readers this week in a new form and with a new dress of type. Both changes have been contemplated for some time, but circumstances have prevented their accomplishment. In adopting the new form the Journal goes back to the size of page used when the paper was established, 61 years ago last April, though the number of pages at that time was four instead of eight. The change in form is made in the belief that it will be more acceptable to our readers than the larger and more unwieldy page. The smaller page will be easier to handle, and will admit of a better classifying of news than formerly. The smaller page will also be appreciated by advertisers, as it will prevent the overcrowding of their announcements and give them better positions. The new type used in the reading matter is larger than that of recent years, a feature we feel sure our readers will appreciate. The work of changing is a considerable one to crowd into one short week in a busy office, and so some improvements which have been contemplated have been forced to wait until a later issue.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Moulton, 122-21 Monson.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

Vagrants Ask Aid --- Arrested.

Call at Dwelling House and Request Night's Accommodation.

Two weary and footsore pedestrians strolled into town Wednesday evening. They had been on the road for some time and their pedal extremities were close to the point of refusing to do further duty. About 6.45 they approached the home of Miss Emma Mulvihill at 58 Park street, and while one waited on the sidewalk the other went to the door and when Miss Mulvihill appeared in response to his knock he requested a night's lodging. The request was not as gracious as it might have been and the door was promptly slammed in his face. The telephone was then resorted to and Officer Crimmins called; he succeeded in gathering in both of the men. In the district court yesterday morning their cases were continued from day to day for sentence.

At the same time another vagrant, picked up later, was given a jail sentence of 30 days at his own request.

New Teacher for Grammar Building.

Superintendent of Schools Hobson has engaged Miss Marie J. Knobel of Walpole to fill the vacancy in the Palmer grammar building caused by the resignation of Miss Mary E. Ledyard. Miss Ledyard taught the first grade, and this room will be given to Miss Rose Duffy, who was assistant in grades one and two. Miss Knobel will begin the 13th, and will have a new room to be formed from parts of grades one and two, which are now over-crowded. The fourth grade will be moved from a room on the first floor to one of the new rooms secured by dividing up the assembly hall, and the new room given their quarters; there will be about 45 pupils.

High School Partly Ready Monday.

As was determined some time ago, the repairs to the high school were not sufficiently advanced to allow the building to be used Nov. 1, as the contract called for. All the carpenter work has been completed on the roof and the plasterers are at work. It is expected to take at least two weeks for the plaster to dry. But with the completion of the heavy work and the plastering the recitation rooms below on the first floor can be used, and the school will return next Monday to the single session which it formerly held.

Lost Job --- Stole Money --- 60 Days.

Wajeak Wienieski of Three Rivers lost his job some time ago and wished to go in search of another. He lacked the funds, but some of his acquaintances were in better financial circumstances, so Wajeak borrowed of them, $25 of one and $5 of another. He borrowed it when the owners weren't looking and without their consent, so when he returned from Rhode Island last week he was arrested. Being found guilty of larceny he was sentenced to 60 days in the house of correction.

Must Not Give Boys Guns.

Dealers or Parents Who Furnish Them Liable to Prosecution.

With the opening of the hunting season and the awakening of the hunting fever in many of the youngsters of the place, come complaints of the reckless shooting of some of the boys who have armed themselves in some way with rifles of various sorts, some making use of air, some of springs and some of powder for the propelling force of the projectile. It may be news and it should be of interest to parents to know that no dealer has a right to sell any gun to a boy under 16, and all persons are forbidden to furnish them with the weapons. The law makers have evidently recognized the danger to citizens from weapons of this sort in the hands of careless and inexperienced youngsters, and propose to keep them separated—if possible—until the youths have arrived at years of discretion. The youngsters have been shooting at sparrows and other game to a considerable extent of late, but no accidents have been reported.

Hocked Glass Diamond.

Spent the Money and Refused to Buy The Gem Back Again.

George Knowlton of Wilbraham found himself short of funds one day recently, and as the need of them was urgent just at that time he made a canvass of ways and means. He was possessed of a handsome diamond shirt stud, but he could do without it if necessary, and so induced an acquaintance to loan him $10 on it. Time passed and the acquaintance needed the money and asked Knowlton for it. The funds did not seem to be forthcoming and an expert examination of the gem was sought. It was pronounced a fine specimen of glass, and nothing more. On this the possessor of the stud had Knowlton arrested for larceny. The case was heard in the district court in Palmer Tuesday; Knowlton was found guilty and the case was continued for sentence.

Successful Smoke Talk.

Quaboag Council, Royal Arcanum, Entertains Many Friends.

About 50 invited guests were present in Masonic Hall Tuesday evening at the invitation of Quaboag council, 876, Royal Arcanum, to enjoy a smoke-talk and entertainment and incidentally to learn something of the order. The entertainment consisted of an exhibition of sleight-of-hand by C. D. Holden of Bondsville, which elicited much applause at the skillful manner in which the clever tricks were done, and singing by the Pynchon council quartet of Springfield. There were remarks by John Hogan of Lowell, one of the trustees of the grand council, E. E. Hobson, Grand Regent of Massachusetts, and D. F. Dillon, regent of Quaboag council. A lunch was served. As a result of the gathering, several applications have already been received.

Building Additional Storeroom.

The Wright Wire Company is building a storehouse 64 by 30 feet at its No. 3 mill on Bridge street. In one department of the mill work has to be suspended at times until the finished product can be removed from the floor. When the new storehouse is completed it will be connected with this department by a chute and the work transferred thereto as fast as completed.

Providing Stock of Fish Bait.

With the approach of cold weather come thoughts of ice fishing next winter and local enthusiasts have been and are busy laying in a stock of shiners for use between freezing and thawing time next spring. Large quantities have been secured the past week, to be carefully hoarded and fed in large tubs of running water until needed to attract other fish of eatable size.

Won Box of Cigars.

As an incentive to work for the success of the Foresters' ball last Friday evening, Charles H. Burns, proprietor of the Hotel Burns, offered a box of cigars to the person selling the most tickets in advance of the grand march. The successful hustler proved to be A. J. Barslow, and he and his friends are enjoying free smokes for a time.

Jurors For The Spencer Murder Trial.

The selectmen last evening drew the following jurors for the panel called for in the Spencer murder trial, which is to be held next week: William Barrett, George Warriner, George Ezekiel and D. E. O'Connor of Palmer, Philip Story and C. P. Hayes of Three Rivers, George Brown of Bondsville.

Will Keep Open House.

The Palmer Business and Social Club announces that it will keep open house next Tuesday evening, the night of the state election. Election returns will be received and a buffet lunch will be served. All men who care to do so are invited to attend.

Sixty-seven New Voters.

The board of registrars held their last meeting before the state election last Saturday. Business was brisk through the afternoon and evening, and 67 new names were added to the voting list. The total number on the list is 1278.

Miss Elizabeth Riddle of Three Rivers is singing at the Bijou this week.

Mrs. F. F. Marcy has returned from an automobile trip in New York state.

The trustees of the Monson State Hospital paid a visit to that institution yesterday.

Mrs. A. T. Wing of Providence, R. I., has been a guest a part of the week of Mrs. Abbie Wing of Central street.

The trolleymen are selling tickets for their annual ball, to be held in the opera house on the evening of the 24th.

George Shaw is building a combination barn, carriage house and paint shop near his house on Thorndike street.

The stock of the Geo. F. Emmons Company was appraised to-day by W. E. Stone, S. H. Hellyar and G. S. Holden.

About 60 members of the Young People's Lyceum of Springfield had a Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening at the Hotel Burns.

The Entre Nous Whist Club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. H. W. Brainerd of King street. The prize was won by Mrs. Andrew Rathbone.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a rummage sale next Friday and Saturday in the building formerly occupied by the Journal on Main street.

Mrs. Sarah A. Parkhurst entertained her Sunday school class of the Baptist church with a Hallowe'en party at her home on South Main street Tuesday evening.

The pulpit of the Congregational church was occupied Sunday by Rev. James L. Fowle of Caesarea, Turkey, who spoke on mission work in Turkey at both services.

Friends of Mrs. David Micott of Pearl street, who has been at the Mercy hospital in Springfield for some time for treatment, will be glad to know that she is improving rapidly.

There was a good attendance at the entertainment given in St. Paul's church Tuesday evening. Miss Wilson's impersonations were well rendered and much enjoyed.

Several of the hunters who took part in the recent fox hunt in Belchertown are contemplating holding a one day's hunt in Palmer about Thanksgiving time, with a supper in the evening.

Mrs. Eliza A. Taylor, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. G. A. Bills of Pleasant street, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary yesterday, receiving calls from numerous friends.

Miss Mary A. McGrath gave a Hallowe'en party to a number of her friends Saturday evening at her home on North Main street. The evening was pleasantly passed with games and refreshments were served.

E. W. Phinney, who recently exchanged the "Emery" farm near Forest Lake for Springfield property, is to return there. Mr. Siddell, who has occupied the property, is returning to Springfield.

There was an audience of good dancing proportions at the annual ball of the Foresters in the opera house last Friday evening. Previous to the dancing Flanagan's singing orchestra gave a very enjoyable concert.

L. H. Gager, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Norman, Miss Blanche LeGro and Mrs. A. M. Wing were delegates from the Congregational church to the Hampden association of ministers and churches, which met in Springfield Wednesday.

The Woman's Tuesday Club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. C. K. Gamwell on Foster street. One of the subjects will be "Children's sayings," and each member is expected to have for repetition smart or unusual sayings of children which she personally knows to be true.

A horse belonging to the Palmer Trucking Company shied at escaping steam while crossing a bridge at the plant of the Quaboag Leather Company yesterday afternoon and dropped into eight feet of water in the canal. It was rescued after an hour's work and is apparently all right.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

The Palmer Woman's Club met this afternoon in the chapel of the Congregational church and listened to a talk on "Tennyson" by Clarence A. Brodeur. It is needless to say that Mr. Brodeur proved fully conversant with his subject and fulfilled in every way the expectations of his audience.

The commercial class of the high school, as a part of their regular course, are required to visit various manufacturing industries of the town and afterward to write essays on what they see and learn during the inspection. The mills of the Whittall Carpet Company have been visited, and others will be inspected later.

"I am pleased to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as the best thing I know of and safest remedy for coughs, colds and bronchial trouble," writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." For sale by all dealers.

August Peterson,

Monson, Mass.

Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

W. B. T. Smith,

Physician and Surgeon,

Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.

Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.

Tel. 104-5.

S. H. Wright,

64 Pleasant Street,

Lock and Gunsmith

Light Repairing of every Description.

Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer. Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis F. Chandler.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed, $1.00

Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed, 1.50

Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed, .85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,

Bridge St., Palmer.

Palmer Trucking Co.

Successors to S. H. Brown.

Trucking and Jobbing of all kinds.

Piano Moving.

Dealers in Spring Water Ice.

Orders solicited, prompt attention guaranteed.

F. M. Ralton, Manager.

Office, South Main street.

Telephone connection.

The Rexall Store

Liggett's and Quality Chocolates

Newsdealers and Stationers

50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c

Lynde & Gould

Palmer, Mass.

Quality Always First

Seasonable Goods at Reasonable Prices

Heaters to burn either coal or wood; standard makes; built for service.

Oil Heaters to use before you want to start up your furnace.

Coal Hods

Coal Shovels

Ash Sifters

Ash Cans

Glass and Putty to fix up the cracked windows before winter.

Loaded Shells

Double and Single Barrel Shot Guns

Hunting Coats

Hunting Vests

Cartridge Belts

Shot

Powder

Empty Shells

Primers

Whitcomb & Faulkner,

All Cars Stop in Front of the Door.

Main Street. Palmer, Mass.

Telephone.

I Have an Elegant Line

Of Ladies' Fur, Caracul and Cloth Coats at very popular prices.

My Ladies' Suits are up-to-date and made of the best of fabrics, and the Furs, Skirts, Dress and Shirtwaists, complete a very fine showing of ladies' wearing apparel.

I also have an elegant assortment of Girls' Coats, both in cloth and caracul, which cannot be beat.

My men's and boys' line of Suits and Overcoats cannot be excelled at the price.

A visit to my store will be greatly appreciated.

M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.

P. O. Block. Up one flight.

"There's Class to a Man Like That!"

So has said many a person after seeing a person with one of our $2.50 Stiff Hats—and with gloves and a shirt, collar and necktie purchased here.

We cater particularly to those who wish THE style—not imitations or "nears"—and we have THE hats, shirts, collars, neckwear, hose, etc., that meet the exacting demands of this class.

Our prices are moderate.

C. K. Gamwell,

Clothier and Furnisher,

Palmer, Mass.

Are You Interested in Parlor Stoves?

The GLENWOOD base burner does the best work. The E. Brown Co. handle this line. also carry a full stock of

Modern Hardware at Very Low Prices

E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

HORSE, Wagon and harness for sale. 31-tf D. F. HOLDEN, Palmer.

WANTED.—Board and room for active elderly lady. P. O. BOX 272, Palmer.

TO RENT.—Tenement of three rooms upstairs, near high school. Inquire of 31-2 MRS. E. F. SHAW.

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN. 25-tf

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf JAMES BURDICK, Mechanic St., Monson

THE CENTER of the hunting territory; woodcock, partridge, deer, 30-2 WALES HOTEL, Wales, Mass

AMERICAN BOY of 15 years would like light work out of school hours and Saturdays. Address P. O BOX 291, Palmer. 1-ks

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. 3-tf W. H. HOUSE, Palmer.

FOR SALE—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs. 46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

TO RENT—Tenement on Pine street, second fl or. $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

APPLES FOR SALE—A few barrels of choice hand-picked Baldwin and Greening apples for sale. Inquire at JOURNAL OFFICE.

WANTED—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price Notify by postal card. 44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

FOUND—In Palmer, a bicycle. Owner can have by proving property. MORRIS KELLEY, 54 Converse St., Palmer. 31-1

SALESMAN WANTED to look after our interests in Hampden and adjacent counties. Salary or commission. 31-1 THE VICTOR OIL CO., Cleveland, O.

LOST.—On Central, Pleasant or Thorndike streets Sunday morning, lady's breast pin. Reward if returned to MRS. W. F. DUNN, Elms House, Palmer.

PETER MILLS is continuing his cobbling business on North Main street, Monson, having moved into an adjoining room to the same building in which he has been located.

FOR SALE.—Good sound driving horse; afraid of nothing; can road fast; lady can drive; sold for no fault whatever; a good one. 30-2 WALES HOTEL, Wales, Mass.

CARPET CLEANER A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write a postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174. Palmer. 40-tf

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St Palmer

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

BY VIRTUE OF A POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles W. Hunter to Luella J. Pase, dated May 14th, 1909, and recorded with Hampden county deeds, Book 771, Page 488, will be sold at public auction on the premises at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, November 11th, 1911, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed namely,

That certain piece or parcel of land lying and being on Dublin street in Palmer in said Hampden County described as follows:—Beginning at a point in the southerly line of said Dublin street near a stone bound near the westerly corner of land formerly of D. Mulvihill now of one Cook; thence running southeasterly by land of said Cook 10 rods to stake and stones; thence southwesterly 4 rods 5¼ links; thence northwesterly 10 rods 1¾ links to stone bound on the south side of Dublin street; thence by said southerly line of said street 2 rods 6 links to the place of beginning, containing 32 1-6 square rods more or less, except out of said land the land described in release by Frank and Antonietta Sarno to Mary J. Cook recorded in Hampden County land records, Book 739, Page 526, and also conveying hereby the property described in a certain release made by Mary J Cook to Frank and Antonietta Sarno, dated May 6 th 1908, and recorded in said land records in Book 739, Page 526, described as follows: A certain tract of land in said Palmer, beginning at the northeast corner of land herein described on the southerly side of said Dublin street; thence on line of said street, easterly 4 feet to an iron pin; thence S. 24° E 40 feet; thence N. 27° 40' W. 49½ feet to the first mentioned bound

The premises will be sold subject to unpaid taxes and accrued interest. Terms cash

CHARLES L. YOUNG Assignee.
29-3

TOWN WARRANT.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
County of Hampden, ss. Town of Palmer.
To either of the Constables of the Town of Palmer, in said County.
GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the Town of Palmer qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the several polling places in said Palmer, designated by the Selectmen, towit: In Precinct A, at the Engine House on Park street in the Depot Village; in Precinct B, at Temperance Hall on Commercial street in Thorndike; in Precinct C, at Ruggles' Hall on East Main street in Three Rivers; and in Precinct D, at Holden's store in Bondsville, on Tuesday, the 7th day of November, A. D 1911, at 6 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to give in their votes on one ballot to the precinct officers of the several voting precincts of said town for the following officers, to wit:

Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer and Receiver General, Auditor, Attorney General, Councillor for the Seventh Councilor District, Senator for the Worcester-Hampden Senatorial District, one representative in the General Court for the First Hampden District, one County Commissioner for Hampden County, one Clerk of Courts for Hampden County, and one Register of Deeds for Hampden County;

Also to vote by ballot, which shall be "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following questions:

1st. "Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the use of voting machines at all elections be approved and ratified?"

2nd. "Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution increasing the power of the legislature to authorize the taking of land and property for highways or streets be approved and ratified?"

The polls will be opened at six o'clock in the forenoon, and may be closed at three o'clock in the afternoon.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof in the different public places designated by vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this twenty-third day of October, A. D. 1911.

GEORGE L. WARREN
HAROLD W. BRAINARD
CHARLES D. HOLDEN
Selectmen of Palmer

A true copy,
Attest:
GEORGE A. BILLS,
Constable of the Town of Palmer

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Take Indoor Pictures It's Easy.

The possibilities of a camera for indoor work are great. Our free book, "At Home with the Kodak," tells how to do the trick. Camera department

Books Stationery Picture Frames
Prompt attention to mail orders

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure
Absolutely has no substitute

Many mixtures are offered as substitutes for Royal. No other baking powder is the same in composition or effectiveness, or so wholesome and economical, nor will make such fine food.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

Personal Mention.

M. F. N. Carpenter has returned from a visit with friends in Dalton.

Miss D. E. Todd of Brattleboro, Vt., spent Sunday at her home on Pine street.

Miss Edith Farnham of Chester is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Beals of South Main street.

Miss Margaret Duffy of South Main street spent the first of the week with relatives in Atlantic.

Mr. Loring and wife of Worcester spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Loring of King street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Keith of Springfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Keith on Central street Sunday.

Miss Carrie Fish of Meriden, Ct., spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fish of Walnut street.

Mrs. William Goodes and daughter Gertrude of Waterbury, Ct., spent Monday at the home of E. Goodes on Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chandler and daughter Frances of North Main street spent Sunday with relatives in Willimantic, Ct.

C. Shaw, S. Galbraith and H. D. Osborn attended the initiation meeting of Bela Grotto of Springfield Tuesday evening.

Miss Bessie Denning of Brattleboro, Vt., Miss Grace Morgan of New York and Mrs. Bertha Ferguson of Montreal have been guests in the home of C. H. Hitchcock of South Main street.

Miss Ethel Wiggins, formerly of Palmer, who was recently operated on in Springfield for appendicitis, is expected to-morrow as a guest of Mrs. F. Keith of Park street for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Howe, Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Loring and Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Whitcomb attended the installation and dance of Springfield Commandery Monday evening.

H. M. Howe, B. E. Loring, Dr. J. P. Schneider and C. I. Whitcomb attended the meeting of Cypress Shrine at Albany Tuesday evening, being present at the big banquet dedicating Keeler's Hotel, at which 650 Shriners were seated.

Give Love.

Every year I live I am more convinced that the waste of life lies in the love we have not given, the powers we have not used, the selfish prudence which will risk nothing, and which, shirking pain, misses happiness as well. No one ever yet was the poorer in the long run for having once in a lifetime "let out all the length of the reins" of the better nature.—Mary Cholmondeley.

Vicious Habits.

They are so great a stain to human nature and so odious in themselves that every person actuated by proper feelings would avoid them, though he were sure they would be always concealed both from God and man, and that no future punishment awaited those who indulged in them.

Siamese Cotton Equals India's.

Japanese cotton mill interests are embarking upon the enterprise of raising cotton in Siam. Considerable Siamese cotton has been shipped to Japan at times in recent years and it is said in a general way to equal Indian cotton. Considerable areas in Siam are said to be suitable to cotton growing.

Fish-Eating Germany.

The inclination of the German nation to eat all kinds of fish in all kinds of forms is supported by a lively propaganda on the part of our fishery interests, rapidly and steadily increasing.—Tagliche Rundschau.

It Wasn't a Plot.

"What do you think of the plot?" asked the theater manager. "That isn't a plot," replied the man who had paid two dollars to see the show. "That's a conspiracy."—Washington Star

Finis.

He had a little auto car
And made it go so very fast,
He landed with an awful jar,
And broke his foolish neck at last.

Among the Churches.

Rev. A. C. Johnson of the A. C. church of Westfield will speak in the Advent chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Sunday school will be at 2, as usual.

There will be communion with sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning; Christian Endeavor service at 6 p. m., subject, "Lessons from great lives;" evening service at 7, subject, "The fall of Nineveh."

The subject of the sermon at the Baptist church next Sunday morning will be "The meaning of the Lord's supper." Bible school at 12, Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15. Evening service at 7; sermon subject, "Elijah, forcing the great decision." All are welcome.

Next Sunday will be observed as rally day in every department of the Universalist church. A parish letter has been sent to every family and a telegram has been sent through the mail to every member of the Sabbath school. The pastor will take for his subject "Saving grace or damning hell—which?" This is the first of a series of services on "Social service." The other subjects will be as follows: Nov. 12, "The great divide;" 19, "The eternal church and the social crisis;" 26, "The spirit of thanksgiving;" Dec. 3, "The world for Christ;" 10, "Trouble wagons;" 27, "The pulpit and the pew;" 24, "Peace on earth;" 31, "The New Year's message." The pastor will speak to the Sunday school and there will be a prolonged song service. The topic of the Y. P. C. U. will be "All Souls." Mr. Raspe will be the leader; sub-leaders, Edna Atkins and Helen Moulton.

His Sense of Humor.

Mrs Youngwedd had been taking cooking lessons through a correspondence course

Although there was a marked improvement in the culinary department of the Youngwedd homestead, the husband lost no opportunity for poking fun at his wife's cooking. One morning, just as he was leaving for business, she asked:

"My dear, what would you like for dinner this evening?"

"Well," he replied, smiling, "we'll have lesson 4 with exception 'c,' a little of lesson 9, and perhaps the postscript of lesson 12 for dessert."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Last Luxury.

Ten-year-old Arthur had been telling impressively of the number of servants employed in his home. He continued: "And our house is fixed so that if you want a drink, or a window raised, or to go upstairs, or anything, all you have to do is to pull a chain!"

"But what do you want with so many servants if that sort of a house?" asked one of his hearers.

"Oh," replied Arthur, "we have the servants pull the chain."—Judge

Blessing English Crops.

The quaint ceremony of blessing the crops was observed the other evening on the Earl of Craven's estate at Binley, in Northeast Warwickshire, says the London Daily Mail. Meeting at the parish church, the vicar and a number of parishioners formed into procession and various well-known farms were visited.

Duty.

Duty is a power which rises with us in the morning and goes to rest with us at night. It is coextensive with the action of our intelligence. It is the shadow which cleaves to us, go where we will, and which only leaves us when we leave the light of life.—Gladstone.

What the Client Gets.

The Client—I won't pay your bill—it's extortionate.

The Lawyer—What will you do? Hire another lawyer to contest my claim, and pay him?

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's cough remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by all dealers.

A Fright.

"Yes," said Miss Knox, "I saw her in that new spring gown of hers and she really behaved as if she was happy."

"Well?" queried Miss Ascum.

"Well, it's remarkable how happy some people can be no matter how they look."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Unwanted "Wants."

A great number of our wants are special wants of the imagination; we want them simply because we think that we want them; they give us no enjoyment when we obtain them; the want of them is only known by a disagreeable feeling that we are without them.

Incompetent Chauffeur.

"How do you like your new chauffeur?" "He's utterly impossible! On Park Heights avenue yesterday he completely missed two dogs, one baby, a telegraph pole, and another automobile. I am afraid he has had some great disappointment in life that has taken the spirit out of him."

WORK THAT TELLS.

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here In Palmer.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Palmer. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Palmer sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. Osborn, 38 Converse St., Palmer, Mass., says: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly and confirm all I said in their praise when I publicly recommended them in 1908. My head and back ached and it was plain to be seen that my kidneys were disordered. I always felt tired and I knew that something must be done. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a supply at Lynde and Gould's Drug Store. They soon gave me relief and after taking them I enjoyed good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.

The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works
W. H. MacLean, Prop.
10 Converse St, rear of High School.

Cannel Coal for Open Grates.

English quality Bostonia cannel coal, especially adapted for open grates and quick fires, of unusually good quality. Try it.

Juanita Forge Coal.

Guaranteed to be the best forge coal mined. Blacksmiths are requested to give it a trial.

Feiner Charcoal.

I have the wholesale agency for Palmer, Monson, Ware and Wilbraham.

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Rugs That Will Please You

Twenty years' experience with such well-known makes as Whittall, Bigelow, Hartford, Sanford, Ettrick and Firth, enables us to say that in their respective grades they represent America's Best Mills.

Under no consideration will they cheapen the quality, but out of the vast number of patterns made there are always some discontinued every season. Those mentioned below are dropped and we shall offer them to you at a great reduction.

HARTFORD SAXONY RUGS, 9 x 12 ft. sizes, very high pile. Actual $55 values for $44 00

HEAVY WILTON RUGS, in Persian and Turkish designs---$40 dollar values for $32.50

PEERLESS BODY BRUSSELS RUGS. In a variety of patterns, 9 x 12 ft. sizes, for $24.95

FIRTH TAPESTRY RUGS, colors absolutely fast, 9 x 12 feet sizes---$20 values for $15.75

FLINT & BRICKETT
Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St., Springfield
Crawford, Sterling and Stewart Ranges.

How a "Working Governor" Works the People

THE CLAIMS

The Workingman's Compensation Act

The 54-hour bill for women and children.

Eight-hour day for State laborers.

Direct Primaries.

Economy in State Institutions.

THE TRUTH

Proposed by Republicans, framed by a Republican, passed by Republican votes.

Passed by Republicans in the face of Gov. Foss's threat to veto it, signed only after threats of labor leaders.

Eight-hour day established by act signed by Gov. Guild.

First advocated by Wm. M. Olin, Republican Secretary of the Commonwealth, supported by Republican leaders, passed by Republican votes.

No reduction in appropriations for their support, because no extravagance could be found.

These are samples of the misrepresentations upon which he pleads for re-election. With them go the shameless untruths in the attack on Frothingham, such as the charge that he voted against free text books.

For honor, fairness and efficiency in the governorshipvote for

Louis A. Frothingham

Republican State Committee, Chas. E. Hatfield, Chairman, John A. Curtin, Secretary.

The Tenderfoot

By THOMAS J. HUNTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Ed Thatcher was a tenderfoot in the wild and woolly west. He went out there after being told by the president of an eastern college he had been attending that he needn't remain at the university any longer. Indeed, it would have been hardly worth his while to do so, since he would have been obliged to study during several vacations in order to make up "conditions," and before he could catch up his classmates would have been graduated and started in their careers. The cause of Ed's failure at college was athletics. He stood at the top in baseball, football, fencing, boxing, running and the high jump; in his studies he stood at the bottom.

Not liking to face his father, whom he had bitterly disappointed, upon his dismissal from college he buried his remorse in the worst part of the wild west. He did not seem on his arrival to count for any more in the new country than he did in the old. In the former, it is true, education was not considered of much value, the only accomplishment prized being an ability to shoot quick and straight. Ed did not even show that he was strong. His loose clothes covered his steel muscles, and he was rather thin in the face.

He was not in a good humor when he reached his new home. His failure in the east had, temporarily at least, soured his disposition. He went into a saloon to buy a cigar with which to solace himself. Half a dozen men were at the bar, and one of them named Wheeler, seeing a tenderfoot approach, turned to him and said:

"Betsy, have a drink."

"Thank you very much," said Thatcher. "I never drink. That's about the only virtue I have."

"Waal, we'll soon take that out of you here. We haven't got nary virtue in these parts. Come, step up and nominate yer likker."

"No liquor for me."

The man seized Ed roughly by the arms and gave him a jerk toward the bar.

One second later and there was a tableau. Wheeler was sprawling on the floor at the other end of the room, while the others present--Ed excepted—were wondering how he got there. It couldn't have been lightning, for they had heard no thunder, only a "biff." The tenderfoot had struck so quick they hadn't realized that he had had anything to do with the matter. Rising, Wheeler drew a revolver from his hip, but one of the men present happened to be between him and Thatcher, which occasioned delay. By this time the spectators realized what had happened and were so struck with admiration at this kind of warfare—entirely new to them—that several of them took Wheeler by the arms and forced him to keep the peace.

"Air you armed, stranger?" one of them asked Ed.

"No."

"Well, then you're the biggest fool in this yere territory."

"I prefer to protect myself with my fists."

There was a shout of laughter at this announcement.

"There's some fun in this," remarked one of the party. "Let's have one o' them tenderfoot fights. Come, Wheeler, give me your weapon and have it out with the tenderfoot in his own way."

Wheeler was so mad that he only wanted to get at the tenderfoot, and, since the crowd objected to his putting a bullet in him, he surrendered his revolver and made a rush for Thatcher, striking him with his big bony fist at the same time. Ed was not in front of him when he reached the place where he had been, and Wheeler's fist struck a wooden wall. Then Ed seized his antagonist from behind and threw him over his shoulder. Wheeler fell on his back. He was getting up when Ed knocked him down again; then Ed withdrew to the other end of the room, giving his enemy a chance to rise.

It was evident that this was a case of a cat playing with a mouse before devouring it. Every time Ed knocked Wheeler down or threw him down or got between his legs and toppled him over the crowd guffawed.

"Keep it up!" they shouted when the tenderfoot asked his oponent if he had had enough. "It's the best show we ever seen!"

But when Ed saw that he was affording an exhibition for the spectators he finished the contest by a blow under the jaw that floored his man, and it was evident by the way Wheeler arose that the contest was ended.

The crowd gathered around the victor.

"Stranger," said the man who suggested the fight, "you kin go around yere without a gun all you like. Ef any man draws on you there's plenty o' other guns'll take keer o' you. An' you needn't drink, neither."

Wheeler made no attempt to renew the fight. On the contrary, he admired the manner in which the tenderfoot had downed him and staggered toward Ed with outstretched hand. The tenderfoot had the good sense to bury the hatchet, and the man he thrashed has since been his ardent friend and admirer.

That was Ed Thatcher's introduction among a people who were at heart much as other people, but who had been modified by being their own defenders instead of being protected by the law. The tenderfoot is now the governor of the territory.

Persia's Pipe Guardian.

The queen of pipes belongs to the shah of Persia. Why is the great chieftain of pipes a queen? Probably because pipe is a feminine noun in French. The little shah's pipe was smoked by his father before him, and by his uncle, and by his grandfather, and how many more of the rulers of Darius' kingdom we know not. The pipe is adorned with all kinds of precious stones and is said to be worth £10,000. It is constantly guarded by a high court functionary, whose duties allow him as much leisure as the superintendent of the Persian arsenal, but as there is no arsenal in Persia so the extent of the sinecure may be judged. Still, this functionary is responsible. This is how his office was created: Once a grand vizier was found trying to pry out a stone from the pipe with his poniard. Then the office of guardian of the imperial pipe was created. What became of the grand vizier is not recorded.—London Globe.

Cruel Old Laws.

The laws of ancient Rome required the father of a deformed son to cause him to be put to death.

A Puzzling Applicant.

When needy Mrs. Caderette required a letter of introduction to the benevolent association Jules Duport, proud of his ability to express himself in English, obligingly helped her out. Imagine the bewilderment of the secretary when a large, robust lady in search of work presented what well meaning Jules had written:

"This is Miss Caderette that I induce wherewith to everybody. This lady has been sick for a long time and is still in bed. She has five children, all little and partly dead, and is in very poor condition, as she have no money. Her husband went away two years ago and has not never been heard of since. This man has rheumatism, is a cripple and cannot help herself. This lady is his brother's girl. Help her and she will be very comfortable."

As the sick abed lady could speak no English, she was unable to explain why she looked so well, but the secretary made her "very comfortable" with steady employment in a laundry.—Youth's Companion.

An Eye For Lines.

"The last time I was here I saw that same woman," said the man who was waiting for his eyeglasses to be adjusted. The optician looked across the room to a little woman in faded black.

"Yes," he said, "and if you should be here three months from today you would see her again. She comes every three months. She is a palmist. Nobody gives closer attention to the eyes than the professional palmist. Most of them wear glasses, and they visit an optician regularly. With every change in their eyes their glasses are changed. They have to do that to keep track of all the fine lines in their clients' hands.

"They have keen eyes themselves, those persons who patronize palmists, and are apt to pick out any number of little straggling lines and ask what they mean. If the palmist can't see the lines herself she is likely to get into trouble."—New York Times.

Modest Marie.

"In November, 1875," writes Marie Bashkirtsev, "the great day of the opera, I was nervous all day. I wore a white muslin jupe unie (whatever that may be) with a wide frill at the bottom; corsage Marie Stuart and coiffure in harmony with the gown. A very beautiful affair. Every one admired me. About the middle of the performance the feeling swept over me that I was beautiful to distraction. At the close I make my way out between two lines of gentlemen who stare themselves blind, and their verdict is not an unfavorable one. One feels that. Coming home, I looked at myself in the glass. I was like a queen, like a portrait that had stepped out of its frame. What a misfortune it is that instead of these pen scratches I cannot draw my portrait as I was then—my marvelous complexion, my golden hair, my eyes black like the night, my mouth, my figure!"

His Writings.

Kidder—Do you write for art's sake or for the money? Scribbler—For both. I write for the magazines for art's sake and to my father for money.—Toledo Blade.

The Dear Innocent.

Mother—When he attempted to kiss you, why didn't you call me? Daughter (innocently)—Well, mamma, dear, I didn't know you wanted to be kissed.

If All Housekeepers Knew the Advantages of the Crawford Ranges few others would be sold

In the saving of time, trouble and labor and in superior cooking ability, no other range can compare with them.

The Single Damper (patented) is the only perfect fire and oven control—one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," and the range does the rest.

The Two Hods in the base (patented) is a wonderful trouble-saving feature. One Hod for ashes, instead of the old, clumsy ash pan; the other Hod for coal.

The Oven with its cup-joint flues is heated all over alike; no "cold corner" no "scorching spots".

The patented Grates save trouble and money.

Auxiliary Gas Ranges at the end or above the range, if desired.

Ask the Crawford agent to show you and write us for circulars.

Walker Pratt Mfg. Co., 31 Union St., Boston

For sale by Whitcomb & Faulkner, Palmer Agents

For Sale

8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.

R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE

Of every kind placed at short notice and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours Truly

S. H. HELAR.

Office at store on Main St.

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS

Given by

Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.

Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

Haynes & Co.
Always Reliable
Springfield

Our Suits and Overcoats at $15 and $18

are more talked about this season than ever before.

There's good reason, too. The assortment is larger—there are fabrics that you would expect to find only in higher priced clothes—patterns and colorings are certainly handsome—tailoring is finely done and fashion's most favored models are all included.

You can pay $15 or $18 for your Suit or Overcoat here and know you will get satisfactory garments.

"Fair and Square Credit."

WE DO A FINE LARGE BUSINESS AMONG THE GOOD PEOPLE OF YOUR TOWN IN MEN'S, WOMENS AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLOTHING

And it is because we are not only "fair and square," but are CONSIDERATE to everybody and carry one of the FINEST stocks of Clothing, Hats and Shoes in all Western New England. We'll trust "ANYBODY who is honest"--- that's all we ask, and our prices are NOT ONE PENNY higher than those of any of the best cash clothing stores in this state.

Some Fine Bargains in Women's Coats

ALL-WOOL MIXTURES --- Soft shades of gray or brown, for street or travel, with shawl collar and deep cuffs. Roomy, comfortable, handsome. $15

NEW STREET OR TOURIST COATS --- Two-tone Irish Montagnacs. In popular shades. Warm and handsome, yet light weight. $22.50

WIDE WALE SERGE COATS --- Well-tailored, excellent material, satin-lined throughout. A garment that will satisfy you thoroughly. $16.50

TWO-TONE TOURIST OR MOTOR COATS --- Full length, large shawl collar, deep cuffs, grey and black, gray and blue and white

FASHIONABLE "POLO CLOTHS" --- the smart, handsome double-face fabrics, large collars and cuffs, braid or velvet trimmed. All sizes and colors. $20

NEW REVERSIBLE COATS --- The new rough wool goods in smart models with deep cuffs and combination collar. Blues and checks. $27.50

Women's and Misses' Suits—$16.50, $ $25 to $30

Some of Our Splendid Men's Goods

Suits In warm rich browns, deep and handsome shades. Also in business-like greys that make a man look "ALIVE." The handsomest suits you ever set eyes on. Every best model is here for you to select from. We guarantee high-grade and perfect $12 to $30

Overcoats The snappiest, handsomest as a young fellow, or any old fellow who keeps young, ever put on. A splendid line. The kind worn by the best dressed men of New England—and they are the best dressed men in this country. $12 to $30

Credit On the Most Reasonable Terms to Any Man or Woman who is Honest.

Benj. Goldstein Inc.
17—19 Elm Street, SPRINGFIELD
The Court Square Building.

OLDEST CREDIT CLOTHING HOUSE IN WESTERN NEW ENGLAND.

Monson New

McKenna—Authier.

Miss Jennie Mary McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna of Bridge street, and William Authier of Palmer were married in the chapel of St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Thomas O'Keefe. Only immediate relatives were present. Mrs. Thomas Helferman of Worcester, sister of the bride, presided at the organ. The bridesmaid was Miss May Carberry of Norwich, Ct., a cousin of the bride, and William Farrell of Palmer was best man. The bride was attired in a dark blue traveling suit and a white picture hat. The bridesmaid wore a blue serge suit with a white picture hat. The bride's present to the bridesmaid was a chain and pendant and the groom's present to the best man was a gold stick pin. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home and a buffet luncheon was served. The presents were numerous, including furniture, cut glass, silverware and linen. Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Authier will reside with Mrs. Authier's parents.

Academy Team the Winner.

The Academy football team succeeded in defeating the Connecticut Literary Institute football team Saturday by the score of 11 to 6 on Cushman field. The absence of Bowker from the local team served to weaken both the defensive and the offensive play greatly. In the first half on two plays Monson brought the ball to the visitors' 20-yard line, where in a pretty forward pass from Smith to Harper the first touchdown was made after a run of 20 yards. On two recarried punts Suffield had the ball on Monson's two-yard line and on three downs succeeded in pushing it over for a touch-down. In the second half Monson again succeeded in pushing the ball over for a touch-down, and cinched the game. A third touch-down was made, but they were called back and penalized. The work of Capt. Smith, Harper and Orfinger was excellent, while the playing of McHoffrey of the visitors was the feature of the game.

Death of Mrs. Evan D. Rees.

...s. Evan D. Rees, 48, died at her home on Mar... school street Monday at 12.30 o'clock after a long illness of anemia. Although she had been in poor health for some time her death was unexpected. Mrs. Rees was born in Collina, New Brunswick. She came to Monson 15 years ago and had since resided here, where she has many friends who mourn her death. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons and one daughter, Ernest of Springfield, Frank of Monson and Harry of Massachusetts Agricultural college of Amherst and Maud of Monson. The funeral was held from her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. F. W. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Burial was in the No. cemetery.

Sunday School to Present Comedy.

The comedy "Mrs. Briggs of the poultry yard," will be given under the auspices of the Congregational church Sunday school in the church parlors this evening. The cast of characters as follows:

Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business, ... Isabel Broad
Ralph, ... Wilson Bral
Jimmey, her ... Ernest Carpe
Alvira, family, ... Maud B
Melissa, ... Florence Grier
Silas Green, a near relative, ... Arthur
Mr. Lee, a wealthy neighbor, ... Mr. H. E. K
Virgina Lee, his daughter, ... Bertha St
Daisy Thornton, her friend, ... Hazel A
Mrs. O'Connor, with no liking for goats, ... Viola McF
Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumb... Mar

Lively Runaway, But No Dama...

An exciting runaway occurred... south part of the town yesterday... noon, when a hor... owned by... Smookler of the west part of t... became fr... ned on ... lake ... the ... Mr. ... sele... his ... rapt... an l...

Pain...

T... the ... lege... out... iel J... ate ... Jun... sch... the ... age ... tion ... thre...

D...

The l... who di... was bro... for bur... Miss Al... Mr. and ... residents o... many years a... leaves her m... Seymour, Ct., ... at present in H...

Homer have returned from Springfield, where they attended the fall conference of the Hampden Association of Congregational churches as delegates of the local church.

The last meeting of the registrars of voters before the fall election was held Saturday afternoon and evening. The total of names added this fall was but 17, which is considered small. Forty-four names were taken off the list this fall on account of death or removal from town. The total number of names on the list at present is 837, as compared with 854 last fall.

Academy Notes.

The bi-monthly report cards for September and October will be distributed next Friday.

The bi-monthly examinations for September and November have been held this week in the various class rooms.

The Academy football eleven will journey to New Britain to-morrow afternoon, where it will play against the high school team of that city. This contest is the last one to be played out of town.

The following program for the meeting of the Linophilian society this evening has been arranged: News items, D. Francis; reading, Barone; piano solo, Thorpe; debate, "Resolved that Massachussetts should re-elect Governor Foss at the state election on November 7th," affimative, C. Smith and C. Andrews, negative, E. Harper and R. Taylor.

The next meeting of the Linophilian society will be next Friday evening. The following program has been arranged: "Life of Shakespeare," Miss McPherson; recitation, "Shakespeare Sonnet," Miss Dalton; piano solo, Miss Pendergast. The last number will be the first scene of Act I of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." The cast of characters will be:

Theseus,	Miss Tolman
Hypolyta,	Miss Rogers
Egeus,	Miss Gulhan
Hermia,	Miss Ellis
Helena,	Miss Fagan
Lysander,	Miss Squier
Demetrius,	Miss Cadwell
Phelostrius,	Miss Corlish

The third division of rhetoricals was heard Wednesday morning after chapel exercises, under the direction of Mr. Perry. The program follows in order of the marks received: Harpe, Morocco's speech, from the "Merchant of Venice;" F. Foley, "Lincoln's Farewell to Springfield;" Miss Fagan, "Aunt Tabitha;" Hale, "The Pilot;" Cushman, "How Does it Seem to You?" Miss H. Bradway, "Jim Bludso of the Prairie Belle;" Miss Grindell, "The Execution of Joan of Arc;" Blood, "Incident of the French Camp;" Erickson, "The Roll Call;" Entwistle, "Memoirs;" Constantino, "Burial of the Minnisink;" Dewing, "Horatius at the Bridge;" Flynt, "Ade to Virgil."

Sure to Return It.

Lady—"Yes, I've an umbrella that needs mending, but how am I to know that you will bring it back?" Umbrella Mender—"Have no fear, mum, I allus charges more for mendin' than I could sell the umbreller for."—Boston Transcript.

Comparative Degree.

Said the clergyman who had received a trifle more salary: "Well, as far as preferment is concerned, I've got a mite."

Said the clergyman who had just been made a bishop: "And I've got a miter."

WHY POETS SING.

She—I wonder why poets always sing about the delights of spring?

He—Few poets have money enough to have a house; therefore they don't know the trials and tribulations of housecleaning.

Training to Blame.

The injustice in the case of a girl sixteen or eighteen years of age who cannot earn money enough to support her in decency lies not always in the insufficient wage, but in the fact that she has not been trained in the arts of self-support.—Christian Register.

His Wonderful Memory.

"Excuse me," said the absent-minded professor, "but haven't we met before?"

"Why, yes," replied the beautiful girl. "Our hostess introduced us just before dinner tonight."

"Ah, I remember! I never forget a face!"—Stray Stories

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive

...out the size of your shoes it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear ...es a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease into them. Just the thing for Patent Leather Shoes, and for breaking in New Shoes. Sold everywhere, 25c. Sample FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

Many Children Are Sickly.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children break up Colds in 24 hours, relieve Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. At all druggists, 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.

Boston, October 30, 1911.

I certify that the following is a list of all the candidates duly nominated to be voted for in the Worcester and Hampden Senatorial District, November 7, 1911.

ALBERT P. LANGTRY,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

1911.

Governor. Mark ONE

James F. Carey of Haverhill, Socialist
Eugene N. Foss of Boston, Democratic
Eugene N. Foss of Boston, Democratic Progressive
Louis A. Frothingham of Boston, Republican
Dennis McGolf of New Bedford, Socialist Labor
Frank N. Band of Haverhill, Prohibition

Lieutenant-Governor. Mark ONE

Walter S. Hutchins of Greenfield, Socialist
Robert Luce of Somerville, Republican
William G. Merrill of Malden, Prohibition
Patrick Mulligan of Boston, Socialist Labor
David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, Democratic Progressive. Democratic

Secretary. Mark ONE

David Craig of Milford, Socialist Labor
Frank J. Donahue of Boston, Democratic Progressive. Democratic
Alfred H. Evans of Northampton, Prohibition
Rose Fenner of Worcester, Socialist
Albert P. Langtry of Springfield, Republican

Treasurer. Mark ONE

Joseph M. Coldwell of Milford, Socialist
Jeremiah P. McNally of Salem, Socialist Labor
Charles E. Peakes of Weston, Prohibition
Elmer A. Stevens of Somerville, Republican
Augustus L. Thorndike of Brewster, Democratic Progressive. Democratic

Auditor. Mark ONE

Karl Lindstrand of Lynn, Socialist Labor
Sylvester J. McBride of Watertown, Socialist
William W. Nash of Westborough, Prohibition
Charles B. Strecker of Brookline, Democratic Progressive. Democratic
John E. White of Tisbury, Republican

Attorney-General. Mark ONE

George W. Anderson of Boston, Democratic Progressive. Democratic
Henry C. Hess of Boston, Socialist Labor
George E. Roewer Jr. of Boston, Socialist
James M. Swift of Fall River, Republican

Councilor. Mark ONE

Seventh District.

Winfield S. Schuster of Douglas, Republican
Arthur E. Seagrave of Uxbridge, Democratic

Senator. Mark ONE

Worcester and Hampden District.

Alexis Boyer Jr. of Southbridge, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston, Republican

Representative in General Court.

First Hampden District. Mark ONE

Henry W. Holbrook of Palmer, Republican
John S. MacQuaid of Monson, Democratic

Representatives in General Court.

Second Hampden District. Mark TWO

James F. Barry of Agawam, Democratic
William F. Emerson of Longmeadow, Republican
Fred W. Green of Wilbraham, Democratic
Frank P. Sargent of West Springfield, Republican

Representative in General Court.

First Worcester District. Mark ONE

John H. Johnson of Dana, Democratic
Ernest Warren Tyler of Athol, Republican

Representatives in General Court.

Second Worcester District. Mark TWO

Wendell P. Clark of Winchendon, Republican
James J. Hunt of Winchendon, Democratic Progressive. Democratic
John B. Moore of Gardner, Democratic Progressive
Edward N. Sibley of Ashburnham, Democratic
Judson I. Wood of Gardner, Republican

Representative in General Court.

Third Worcester District. Mark ONE

Harry C. Beaman of Princeton, Republican
Daniel J. Fitzgerald of Rutland, Democratic
John B. Marcon of Princeton, Democratic Progressive

Representative in General Court.

Fourth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Charles D. Sage of New Braintree, Independent Citizens
J. Thomas Webb of New Braintree, Republican
James Whittemore of North Brookfield, Democratic

Representative in General Court.

Fifth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Jonas Bemis of Charlton, Republican
Louis O. Rieutord of Southbridge, Democratic

Representative in General Court.

Sixth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Edward J. McDermott of Leicester, Democratic
Myron Abbott Young of Spencer, Republican

Representative in General Court.

Seventh Worcester District. Mark ONE

George J. Brunell of Webster, Republican
Patrick Foster of Oxford, Democratic Progressive. Democratic

County Commissioner.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

George Day of West Springfield, Socialist
William H. Ensign of Westfield, Democratic
William H. Porter of Agawam, Republican

County Commissioner.

Worcester County. Mark ONE

Warren Goodale of Clinton, Republican
Joseph E. Verne of Leominster, Democratic

Clerk of Courts.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

Percy Heap of Holyoke, Socialist
Robert O. Morris of Springfield, Democratic. Republican

Clerk of Courts.

Worcester County. Mark ONE

Willard J. Humes of Grafton, Democratic
Theodore S. Johnson of Worcester, Republican

Register of Deeds.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

William A. King of West Springfield, Socialist
James R. Wells of Springfield, Democratic. Republican

Register of Deeds.

Worcester District. Mark ONE

Walter B. Kennedy of Worcester, Democratic
Daniel Kent of Worcester, Republican

To vote on the following, mark a Cross X in the square at the right of YES or NO:—

Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the use of voting machines at all elections be approved and ratified? YES ___ NO ___

To vote on the following, mark a Cross X in the square at the right of YES or NO:—

Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution, increasing the power of the Legislature to authorize the taking of land and property for highways or streets, be approved and ratified? YES ___ NO ___

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

Your Particular Idea About Clothes

Is already anticipated and provided for in this fine new stock of suits and garments which we've got together for you.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Have made for us this season the best lot of good stuff we ever have seen. The new fabrics are particularly good; many fine worsteds, blue serges, fancy cheviots, Scotch tweeds; a wonderful range of good colorings and patterns to select from. Many new models to please your taste in suits and overcoats.

Suits $20 and up
Overcoats $18 and up

Other All-wool Suits and Overcoats as low as $10.

The W. J. Woods Co.,

Cor. Main St. and Harrison Ave.,
Springfield, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

Albert Steiger Company

THE WOMAN'S STORE.

Springfield, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

Garment Week

A Style Exposition of Ready-to-Wear Garments and an Offering of Them at Prices Well Under Their Usual Value

It's an assemblage that's taken months to complete. In fact we've shopped the country's style centers to secure it. It's the well-known policy of this store to offer for sale nothing but the best the style makers can produce. Not the least, however, is the fact that they're all of the very latest models and at the lowest possible prices consistent with quality. So we present to you again hundreds of models in exclusive garments of marked special value.

GARMENT WEEK SPECIALS
They Make Evident in Full Measure the Splendid Values That's Offered You Here

Strictly plain tailored suit—coat 30 inches long and lined with Skinner satin. Colors black, navy, purple and brown. A regular $25 value $19.75

Tailor-made suit of Lymansville Cheviot in navy, brown and black. This suit is splendidly tailored, lined with Skinner satin, silk velvet collar Regular $22.50 value. Special . . . $18.75

Suit of Fine French Serge. A very neat model. Has the long roll revers and still closes high at the neck. Is finished and tailored like the higher priced suits. Coat lined with Skinner satin. A good $22.50 value. Special . . . $17.50

Junior Suits of pretty gray and brown Mixtures and French Serges. Special at $15.00

Exclusive Man-Tailored Suit Models at $25

In a wide variety of styles and in materials ordinarily used in $30 and $35 suits. Eighteen models at this price $25 00

A particularly good model in two-tone whipped suiting in blues, grays, tans and browns. This suit is finely man-tailored, lined with Skinner satin and is a very exclusive looking garment . $25.00

Another very attractive model is a copy of a high class imported suit. The material is of heavy wide wale serge and is made with a wide sailor collar, revers of velvet finished with plain silk braid. The coat fastens with two handsome silk ornaments. The back of coat is slightly Empire, cuffs of velvet inlaid with braid. This model comes in blue and black only $25.00

Attractive Values in New Tailored

Suits at $29.75

All of Them Usual $35 Values

Suit of Imported Cheviot, fancy model, trimmed with velvet and braid. A copy of a French model. This suit comes in navy blue, brown and black $29.75

Strictly Tailored Suit of heavy wide wale cheviot, velvet collar and cuffs. A regular custom-made garment. This suit comes in navy blue, purple, brown and black $29.75

It Is Gov. Foss Again.

[Continued from First Page]

VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Hampden County.

District No. 1—[Candidates: Henry W. Holbrook of Palmer, rep; John S. MacQuald of Monson, dem.]

	Holbrook.	MacQuald.
Brimfield	61	30
Holland	19	2
Monson	313	289
Palmer	532	381
Wales	37	15
Totals, 5 towns	962	717

Majority for Holbrook, 245.

District No. 2—[Candidates: James F. Barry of Agawam and Fred W. Green of Wilbraham, dems; William F. Emerson of Longmeadow and Frank P. Sargent of West Springfield, reps.]

	Barry.	Emerson.	Green.	Sargent.
Agawam	329	175	120	130
Blandford	81	87	7	14
Chester	14	32	20	147
East Longmeadow	47	98	30	70
Granville	89	67	21	14
Hampden	41	49	33	42
Longmeadow	64	146	37	69
Ludlow	129	118	147	114
Montgomery	9	20	6	19
Russell	68	74	23	28
Southwick	100	106	45	64
Tolland	7	8	9	5
West Springfield	578	413	192	509
Wilbraham	62	71	134	57
Totals, 14 towns	1618	1464	824	1273

Plurality for Barry over Sargent, 345.
Plurality for Emerson over Green, 640.

Hampshire County.

District No 4—[Candidates: Edgar E. Sargent of Belchertown, dem; Almon L. Pratt of Belchertown, rep.]

	Pratt.	Sargent.
Belchertown	168	140
Enfield	84	45
Granby	83	18
Greenwich	45	15
Pelham	40	8
Prescott	34	10
Ware	337	608
Totals, 7 towns	791	844

Majority for Sargent, 53.

Worcester County.

District No. 4—[Candidates: Charles D. Sage of New Braintree, Ind cit; J. Thomas Webb of New Braintree, rep; James Whittemore of North Brookfield, dem.]

	Sage.	Webb.	Whittemore.
Brookfield	24	172	140
Hardwick	14	175	117
New Braintree	4	56	18
North Brookfield	25	233	237
Warren	20	240	210
West Brookfield	20	111	81
Totals	107	987	797

Plurality for Webb over Whittemore, 190.

VOTE FOR COUNTY OFFICERS.

Hampden County Commissioner.

[Candidates: George Day of West Springfield, soc; William H. Ensign of Westfield, dem; William H. Porter of Agawam, rep.]

	Day.	Ensign.	Porter
Agawam	18	177	233
Blandford	1	46	52
Brimfield	1	33	70
Chester	7	68	81
Chicopee	144	1195	903
East Longmeadow	1	29	117
Granville	1	56	44
Hampden	2	42	62
Holland	0	2	19
Holyoke	373	3281	2004
Longmeadow	9	47	133
Ludlow	9	128	156
Monson	37	225	313
Montgomery	0	9	21
Palmer	27	429	422
Russell	5	64	38
Southwick	4	79	87
Springfield	827	3873	5003
Tolland	0	16	5
Wales	0	10	36
Westfield	62	1400	545
West Springfield	127	403	445
Wilbraham	1	71	107
Totals, 23 towns	1655	11686	10896

Hampshire County Commissioner and Register of Deeds.

[Candidates: Commissioner, John Mullen of Amherst, dem; Frank M. Sibley of Ware, rep. Register of deeds, Charles H. Chase of Northampton, rep; Seth S. Warren of Northampton, dem.]

	Commissioner. Mullen.	Sibley.	Register. Chase.	Warren.
Belchertown	81	195	188	93
Ware	432	528	413	519
Totals, 21 towns.	2639	4013	4580	2601
Totals, 23 towns.	3152	4736	5181	3213

Majority for Sibley, 1584.
Majority for Chase, 1968.

VOTING MACHINE AMENDMENT.

[Question: "Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the use of voting machines at all elections be approved and ratified?]

Hampden Co.	Yes.	No.
Agawam	201	91
Blandford	29	24
Brimfield	38	23
Chester	53	23
Chicopee	1161	624
East Longmeadow	68	33
Granville	35	16
Hampden	50	25
Holland	10	6
Holyoke	2918	1806
Longmeadow	100	29
Ludlow	143	71
Monson	256	127
Montgomery	9	8
Palmer	408	221
Russell	54	22
Southwick	91	19
Springfield	5136	2824
Tolland	9	1
Wales	22	16
Westfield	967	547
West Springfield	483	235
Wilbraham	76	49
Totals, 23 towns	3682	2116
Majority for yes, 1566.
Hampshire Co.
Amherst	393	162
Belchertown	103	76
Ware	464	194

Protection of Records.

In every city of magnitude there are all kinds of valuable records exposed to destruction by fire. The most practical people in the world are strangely remiss in this matter of protection of records that cannot be duplicated or replaced when once lost.—Buffalo News.

Test for Water.

To test drinking water, put one teaspoonful of granulated sugar in a pint of the water you want to test. Cork tightly, place on the kitchen mantel shelf. If pure the water will remain clear, if not it will cloud densely, and ought to be analyzed

Gratitude.

Kind Man—I am glad that you were so willing to throw away that cigarette when I gave you a penny. Boy—Yes; I can get two new ones for a cent.

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive

About the size of your shoes it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear shoes a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease into them. Just the thing for Patent Leather Shoes, and for breaking in New Shoes. Sold everywhere, 25c. Sample FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,

SPRINGFIELD.

The Cloak and Suit Section

Will Be the Center of Attraction For Saturday Shoppers

Another Flurry in the Dress Section

300 New Serge Dresses, SATURDAY ONLY $4.98

Another special purchase of these popular Serge Dresses that created such great enthusiasm here last Saturday. They are mighty attractive, made in the prettiest styles with the Messaline Silk collar in plain and all new shades, also with cuffs of Messaline Silk. Then there are some styles with the Messaline Silk waists in faney pin-striped styles. These have the Serge skirt, panel back. All have the new set-in sleeves, trimmed with buttons, in fact, made in the most attractive manner. This value is, without exception, one that will excite the interest of every woman who visits the Kinsman suit section Saturday. While they last,

Saturday Special, $4.98

You Should Buy Your Suit Saturday

$25 Suits, Saturday Special $19 75

Splendid collection of handsome heavy Serge and Mannish mixture suits, also Broadcloth in finely tailored and Norfolk style trimmed with velvet and buttons. Skirt, plain, gored or panel effects. Made with all the clever touches of skilled designers and built from the best cloth in the market. Colors, blue and black, Edson and fancy mixtures.

Saturday Special, $19.75

$18 50 and $16.75 Suits, $12.50

Not more than 50 Suits in this collection. Suits of Broadcloth, Serges and Mixtures, skirts panelled, back and front exquisitely tailored, mannish coat, either single or double breasted, and lined with Skinner's Satin. Colors, blue, black and mixtures.

Saturday Special, $12 50

100 Handsome New Coats $12.75

Saturday we shall offer one hundred handsome new coats along with many of our own finely tailored coats at the above price. You will find Coats in all styles and cloths, some garments have the deep Roll Collar and Cuffs and patch pockets, fastening low inside or high military style. The double-faced mixtures come in charming color combinations in colors blue, black, gray and tan.

Saturday Special, $12.75

W. D Kinsman Co., Springfield

A Bride Prize

By IVAN TROGLOFF

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

A young man, evidently a traveler, was driven up to an inn in Smolensk, Russia, stepped out of the sleigh that bore him and went inside. After engaging a room of the landlord he threw off his long overcoat lined with fur, went to a fire of blazing logs and warmed his hands, then, turning his eye, was caught by a notice tacked on the wall. It read:

The fourth drawing for the year of the matrimonial lottery will take place at the town hall tomorrow evening, Nov. 12, at 9 o'clock.

The stranger turned to the landlord and asked for an explanation of the strange notice.

"In this place," said the landlord, "four times a year we have a lottery. One of our girls is put up as a prize. Five thousand tickets are sold at a ruble a ticket. The holder of the winning ticket is bound to marry the girl, the money serving as her dowry. If, however, she will not have him they may divide the money between them. In case the man who wins is already married he may turn over the prize to any friend he may select."

"Is not this a singular custom?"

"That may be, but it is a very good one. We have in Smolensk every year a new lot of girls that have come to a marriageable age who are without dowries. The lottery provides for four of them."

"And who is the prize for the present drawing?"

"Sonia Orloff."

The stranger started.

"Do you know the girl?" asked the landlord

"Yes. No. The name is familiar to me. But there are others of this name. How should I know her, I being a stranger in Smolensk?"

"She has not always lived here."

"Are the chances all taken?"

"I have heard that not half have been disposed of. The girl is not well known. She keeps aloof and is known to be averse to taking a husband in this way. But one of our philanthropic citizens will pay for all chances not taken just before the drawing."

The next evening the town hall was crowded with those who had come to see the drawing. The prize was present, a girl with the fair hair and eyes of a Russian. She looked sad—indeed, more like one to be sacrificed than to be made a bride. Before the drawing the philanthropic citizen the landlord had spoken of asked how many chances remained unsold that he might pay for them. He and those about him were surprised at being informed that all tickets had been sold. This they considered remarkable since the day before not over 1,500 had been taken.

A great deal of time was taken up preparing for the drawing. Tickets had been made bearing the names of the 1,500 who had subscribed, but since noon of the day of the drawing 3,500 more must be made to complete the 5,000. A dozen persons were engaged in an anteroom making tickets while those in the hall waited. The latter spent the time chatting and strolling back and forth before the prize, ogling her. On her face was the melancholy of those deformed persons whose deformities are exhibited in museums. This set the spectators wondering, for at these drawings the prize girl usually looked proud and happy.

It was quite late when the door of the anteroom was opened and a basket full of bits of paper, on which were written names of those who had subscribed for chances, was brought in. The contents of the basket were emptied into a huge wheel, which was revolved, and when it stopped a lid was opened and the master of ceremonies, blindfolded, put in his hand and drew forth a name. There was a breathless silence till the announcement. Then he announced:

"Paul Zableski!"

All eyes were turned upon Sonia Orloff to observe the effect the name would have upon her. She was sitting where she could readily be seen. Up to the speaking of the name of the man who had won her she seemed indifferent, but the moment the words rang out in the hall a change came over her. She started. A look of surprise came into her eyes. A rose tint started in each cheek and spread itself all over her face A light came into her eye. But most noticeable of all was a look of wonder.

The wonder was reflected in the faces of those who looked upon hers. What did this change in her mean? Who was this Paul Zabieski? No one present seemed to know him.

From the outside of those surrounding the wheel and the prize a young man came forward, approached the girl, knelt before her and, taking her hand in his, kissed it. Then he turned to the others:

"I am Paul Zabieski. In Poland Sonia Orloff and I grew up together and became lovers. But her parents removed to this place. I have become a successful merchant and came here yesterday to find her. I subscribed for the remaining chances, giving me more than three to one to win. Tomorrow the money subscribed by others will be returned to them."

It was not necessary for the bride to speak her acceptance of the husband provided for her by the lottery. Her face was beaming. Taking the arm of Zableski, the pair walked out of the hall amid the plaudits of those present.

Admire beauty, but don't worship it.

On the Day of the Game.

"Couldn't you tell the ballet master you want to get off because you have lost your grandmother?" asked one coryphee

"No," replied the other. "Grandmother saw him first and told him she wanted to attend my funeral."

Birthday Candles.

The birthday candles will burn longer and with less dripping of grease if they are kept on the ice for 12 hours before using and not removed until just ready to be lighted.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Many Palmer Women Are Learning the Cure.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause. Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, irregular urinary passage, weakness, languor—

Each a seeming torture of itself.

Together tell of weakened kidneys.

Strike at the root—get to the cause.

Quickly give the help the kidneys need.

No remedy endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Recommended by thousands—

Endorsed at home.

Here's convincing proof from a Palmer citizen:

Mrs. Anna Smith, Park St., Palmer, Mass., says: "For quite a while I had attacks of backache and there were pains in my loins when I stooped or lifted, showing that my kidneys were at fault. This trouble was particularly bad in the morning and I was hardly able to get up. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I began their use and it did not take them long to bring me entire relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Clean-up Sale of Monuments

Don't miss this chance of getting one of them. Manufactured from the best granite in the world and guaranteed to be satisfactory.

The lettering and placing on your lot will be executed in the same careful manner which has won commendation from past customers. The prices will be sure to suit you; they cannot be duplicated.

Palmer Granite and Marble Works

W. H. MacLean, Prop.

10 Converse St., rear of High School.

MISSION FURNITURE

In Fumed or Early English

Library Tables at $8.50, $10.20, $12.75
With Drawer and Undershelves.

Bookcases have single or double glass doors, adjustable shelves. $23 Case for $19 50; $33.50 Case for $28.50.

Small Stands, round or square tops. Were $2.80, $3.50, $4.50. Now $2.37, $2.98 $3.95.

SPECIAL—Arm Rockers with spring seats covered in good grade leather cloth—$5.50 value, $3 95.

Writing Desks flat table top or drop leaf style, $17, $19, $22, $24 values. Sale Prices—$14.95, $16 15, $18 70 and $19.85.

Cellaretts. Now $8.50, $12.75 and $13.60.

Pictures for Den or Livingroom. All popular subjects, at $1.35, 1 80, 3 15, $5 25

3-Piece Mission Sets—Arm Chair, Rocker and Settle. Spring Seat Cushions covered with Chase leather. Actual $34 value $28.90

FLINT & BRICKETT

Opp. Court Sq. 439 Main St, Springfield

Complete House Furnishers

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made In This Advertisement.

A. A. PACKARD W. G. WHEAT

Our Showing of Chamber Furniture

A Big Store in Itself

Our immense department of Chamber Furniture is brimming over with splendid new designs ---a whole store in itself, equal to any demand that can be made upon it in furniture of all grades from the most inexpensive to the very finest furniture made in America.

Bureaus and Chiffoniers

In bureaus with chiffoniers to match we show a magnificent assortment of handsome new patterns, made of selected woods and splendidly finished at moderate prices --- the very best values we have ever been able to offer in strictly high-grade furniture.

Colonial bureau in selected quartered oak with new roll edge.
Bureau --- $37.00 Chiffonier --- $34.00

The same pattern in mahogany ---
Bureau --- $37.50 Chiffonier --- $35.50

Handsome Colonial design with swell front and large oval mirror. In selected quartered oak ---
Bureau --- $31.50 Chiffonier --- $29.00

In bird's-eye maple ---
Bureau --- $33 00 Chiffonier --- $30.50

In mahogany ---
Bureau --- $33.00 Chiffonier --- $31 00

Other good patterns in quartered oak bureaus, well made and finished ---
At $17, $18, $23 and $24

Special mahogany bureaus with swell front and large French mirror --- $18

Special Sale of Cluny and Scrim Curtains

For this week we offer some uncommonly attractive values in beautiful Cluny and Scrim curtains—handsome new patterns in curtains of extra good quality at special low prices.

CLUNY CURTAINS---Handsome curtains with Cluny lace edge and 2-in. band---at $1.50 and $1.75 pair.

Beautiful new patterns with Cluny lace edge and insertion, in white and Arab---at $2.25 $2.50 and $2.75 pair.

Scrim Curtains

White and Arab Curtains in the stylish block patterns with Cluny lace insertion and 2-in. hem---$2.25 pair.

Scrim curtains with Torchon lace and 2-in. hem, in white, Arab or cream--- $1.50 pair
Plain scrim curtains with 2-in. hem in white, cream and Arab---at $1, $1.25 $1.50 pair
Handsome designs in cream and Arab with Cluny lace insertion and 2-in. hem--- $2.25 pair

Stock Pattern Dinner Sets At Temptingly Low Prices

We show for the Thanksgiving trade more than 60 different stock pattern dinner sets in imported and domestic chinas and porcelains, in a magnificent variety of beautiful new designs. We call attention to these patterns which we offer at much less than regular prices.

112-piece set in semi-porcelain, white with gold band---regular $12.50 value---at $9 98

112-piece set in American semi-porcelain in the dainty yellow buttercup design---regular $24 value at $16.98.

112-piece set in American semi-china in two handsome new patterns---regular $24 value---at $19.98.

112-piece set in fine Haviland in dainty pink rosebud patterns---regular $43 value---at $37 50

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

Springfield, Massachusetts

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Fred O. Carter purchased this week the Page property on Main street.

A son was born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah J. Kelley of High street.

Mrs. Dennis Crowley has returned from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Worcester.

Mrs. Martha Foster, who has been stopping with Mrs. Fanny Keith, has moved to Monson for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Noe Laplante of Spencer were the guests of Mr. Laplante's parents at the upper village over Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Hobbs of New York city, formerly of this place, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Tabor this week.

The wedding engagement is announced of Miss Louise Longtine to William Smith, an employee of the street railway.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Piper of New York are passing a couple of months in town and are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Thomas on Main street.

Mrs. Sarah D. Whiting has sold her property known as "Sunnyside Farm" to the new Hampden Railroad company and has gone to Springfield to live.

Mr. and Mrs. William St. George have moved their household goods from Warren to the Murphy house on Commercial street where they are to reside.

The Standard Bottling Co. have opened up for business in their new quarters on School street after some delay in securing the necessary machinery.

The Ladies' Society of the Congregational church will give a chicken-pie supper in the church next Wednesday evening, to be followed by an entertainment.

The young bachelors are completing arrangements for their annual dance which takes place November 8 in Union hall, with music by McEnelley's orchestra.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Annie Brosnan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brosnan, to John A. Shea of Bondsville. The ceremony will take place in St. Mary's church next Wednesday.

Hallowe'en parties were much in evidence on Tuesday evening. Gatherings were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doyle on Bondsville road, another at Miss Russell's on Church street and still another with Mrs. T. Longtine Jr. all of which were much enjoyed.

All Saints' Day was observed in St. Mary's church on Wednesday with special services at 5.30 and 7.30 a. m. All Souls' day was observed Thursday with masses at 5.30 and 7.30 in the morning, the latter being a high mass of requiem sung by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Griffin.

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911

All Goods Delivered Free In Palmer.

80==Sample Coats==80

The Most Exclusive Novelties of the Season

At One-Third Reduction

The almost endless variety of styles, models and fabrics shown in Coats this season has made it impossible to keep a complete assortment in all styles. The result is we find 80 handsome Coats in our stock of which we have only one of a kind. These include many manufacturer's samples as well as Coats from our own stock--garments which have been used for models by many of the leading tailoring houses of the country. These 80 Coats include the very latest and smartest novelties of the season.

DOUBLE-FACED GOODS
REVERSIBLE COATS
IMPORTED MIXTURES
POLO COATS AND
EXCLUSIVE NOVELTY WEAVES.

These comprise plain tailored and fancy trimmed Coats in an endless variety of smart styles in the popular hooded effects, the Coats with big revers and wide collars shown in contrasting colors.

Coats Formerly $30 to $60. Now $20 to $40.

High Class Suits

At Sharply Reduced Prices.

Our splendidly complete stock of Tailored Suits includes a beautiful showing of high-class models--suits from the very best houses of the country, superbly tailored and elaborately trimmed--dressy suits of elegance and rare beauty. These beautiful suits come in fine broadcloths and exclusive novelty weaves, in the choicest fashion shades.

These stunning suits we have now marked at sharp reductions.

Suits Formerly $50 to $85. Now $40 to $65.

D. H. Brigham & Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

The Handy Heater

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

You often need some heat in early Fall, when you have not yet started the furnace.

In whatever part of the house you want it, you can get it best and quickest with a Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater.

The Perfection is the most reliable heater on the market, and you can move it wherever you please.

Start it in bedroom or bathroom, and you dress in comfort on the coldest morning. Take it to the dining-room, and early breakfast becomes a pleasant, cosey meal. A touch of a match at dusk, and all is snug for the evening.

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater is beautifully finished—an ornament anywhere. Drums of plain steel or enamelled in blue; nickel trimmings.

A special automatic device makes smoking impossible. Burner body cannot become wedged. All parts easily cleaned. Damper top. Cool handle.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the Standard Oil Company

(Incorporated)

THREE RIVERS.

BOWLING.

Trimmers Win Match.

An interesting match took place on the Y. P. I. A. alleys Monday evening, when the Trimmers took three points from the High Rollers. The score:

High Rollers.

S. Cole	77	78	87	242
R. Cole	107	96	66	269
F. Twiss	70	74	83	227
A. Rogers	87	84	86	257
	341	332	322	995

Trimmers.

C. Lupien	84	91	84	259
A. Barber	81	85	87	253
E. Barton	79	85	74	238
A. Henrichon	103	86	105	304
	347	337	360	1044

Crescents Defeat Trimmers.

The Crescents took two points from the Trimmers Tuesday evening. The score:

Trimmers.

A. Barber	61	80	59	200
E. Barton	89	74	86	252
C. Lupien	83	73	84	242
A. Henrichon	91	98	84	268
	324	325	313	962

Crescents.

L. Keith	77	74	84	235
L. Rolette	80	80	81	241
J. Ritchie	97	69	84	250
W. Poitras	91	81	97	269
	345	304	346	996

Victor Fournier spent Sunday with friends in Ware.

Charles Gillette has taken a position with James Duthwright.

Nathan Kramer spent Sunday with his family in Worcester.

A. Labelle and E. Picotte have taken positions in Belchertown.

A. Cohen spent the last of the week with friends in New York.

Ernest Fenton spent the week-end as the guest of relatives in Ware.

Henry Winn spent the week-end with his family on Main street.

Alfred Jackson has taken a position in the dye house of Palmer Mill.

Wilfred Johnson has taken a position in the machine shop of the Palmer Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Domey are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Frank Burse of Springfield spent Sunday at his home on Springfield street.

Miss Nellie Conroy of Springfield spent Sunday at her home on Athol street.

Clinton D. Frame has taken a position in the machine shops of Wire Mill No. 3.

Walter Root of Springfield spent the last of the week at his home on East Main street.

Miss Rachel A. Shaw of Main street spent the week-end with friends in Springfield.

Steven McAdam of Gilbertville spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Magee on Kelly street.

George Murdock of Gilbertville spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. W. Kuss on Palmer street.

Dominic Accorsi is having the fronts of his blocks painted and an addition put on his store.

Miss Rachel Shaw entertained a number of her friends at her home on Main street Hallowe'en.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Boissey are being congratulated on the arrival of a young son the past week.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Union church held a social Monday evening in the vestry of the church.

The state road has been completed between the mill office and the bridge and has been open to travel.

Wesley Magee of Bondsville spent the last of the week at the home of William Chambers on Belchertown street.

Misses Ethel Doherty and Ethel Oakes were the guests Sunday of Mrs. H. E. Willis on Springfield street.

Miss Rose Paquette entertained a number of her friends at her home on Main street last Saturday evening.

William Gates of Maynard spent the last of the week at the home of Mrs. Sarah Fenton on Springfield street.

Albert Jenks of Amherst College spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Bessie Jenks on Belchertown street.

Mrs. Aurelia Bradley of Palmer was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Freak on Springfield street recently.

Mrs. William Freak of Hartford, Ct., spent the first of the week with her mother, Mrs. Rolette on Bourne street.

Walter Russell has moved his family to this village from Springfield. Mr. Russell has accepted a position in Palmer.

Moses Smith, who is employed in Springfield, has been home during the past week because of an injury to his hand.

Herbert Cole of M. A. C. was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson at their home on High street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noonan of Springfield were the guests Sunday of Mrs. Noonan's mother on Belchertown street.

Mrs. Harry C. Newell of Springfield spent the first of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Newell on Kelly street.

Miss Jessie Harrigan of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers on Springfield street.

The concreting which was being done around the Palmer Mill by P. J. Nelligan & Co. of Ware has been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rochford of Main street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parkhurst of Athol street entertained during the past week Mr. Parkhurst's parents from Stafford, Ct.

Barnard Allen of East Dixfield, Me., is visiting this week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Allen on Maple street.

Daniel Horgan of Holy Cross College spent a few days this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan of Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson on Athol street.

Dr. William C. Tannebring of Beverly was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tannebring on Springfield street.

John Connor of Wauregan, Ct., and Nellie Connor of North Dana spent a few days with their mother at their home on Main street.

Miss Mollie Hartnett returned Monday to her studies at Westfield Normal after spending a few days at her home on Belchertown street.

Mrs. C. M. Howell and daughter of Vermont have come to live at Barrett's Junction, where Mr. Howell has been employed for some time.

Miss Anna Bothwell of Westfield Normal spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bothwell on Palmer street.

Mrs. O. B. Sikes and son of Springfield, former residents of this place, have returned here to reside in the house of H. A. Shaw on Main street.

Miss Carrie Woodworth has moved from Athol street to South Hadley where she will reside for the future with her sister, Mrs. Annie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Springfield, who have been spending the summer with her sister, Miss Carrie Woodworth, left town Tuesday for South Hadley where they expect to make their home in the future.

BONDSVILLE.

Record Time In Fire Drills.

The board of fire engineers visited the grammar school Tuesday and tested the pupils in the fire drills. The building containing 241 pupils was cleared in 35 seconds, which was the best time made in any of the villages. The engineers report the test as successful, and that the pupils conducted themselves in an orderly manner.

Alec. Gowen, who spent last week in Lowell, has returned.

C. D. Holden spent Thursday in Boston on a business trip.

Harold Albro returned home Saturday from a visit with friends in Springfield.

Miss Edith Thompson of Palmer was a guest Friday of her cousin, Miss Alice Banister.

Miss Marion Albro was a guest of her cousin, Miss Barbara Potter of Springfield Friday.

Harry Randall has accepted a position in the carpenter shop of the Boston Duck Co.

Miss Viola Marsan was a guest over Sunday of her sister, Miss Lydia Marsan of Springfield.

Mrs. Mabel Cannon has resigned her position in Amherst and returned to her home here.

Miss Gladys Morse was a guest of her friend, Miss Edythe Twiss in Three Rivers Sunday.

Winfield Marsan of Brightwood spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adalard Marsan.

Harry Randall, who has been employed by T. D. Potter for several years, has resigned his position.

George Gunn and son Leslie visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wentworth in Amherst.

George Hearn, a teacher in the high school in Holyoke, was a guest Sunday of his brother, John Hearn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter and daughter Barl[illegible] are guests Thursday of Mr. and Mr[illegible] Albro.

Mr. and Mrs[illegible]les Holden and two sons spent Su[illegible] with their father, George Bray [illegible]ford, Ct.

Miss Jennie[illegible]anks finished her work as ste[illegible]er Saturday and Monday went [illegible]nglield.

Misses Molli[illegible] Nellie Manfield were guests ov[illegible]day of their sister, Mrs. Frank Su[illegible] in Springfield.

Mass was cel[illegible] in St. Bartholomew's church [illegible]sday morning at 5 and at 7.30, it [illegible] All Saints' Day.

Mr. and Mrs.[illegible] Wilde and baby have returned t[illegible] home in Lowell, after a visit wit[illegible] and Mrs. V. C. Faunce.

Mrs. Elizabet[illegible]mpson returned Wednesday fro[illegible]ek's visit with her niece, Mrs.[illegible]y Vaughan in Southbridge.

Mrs. Stewart,[illegible]s been visiting her son, Samue[illegible]art, for the past week, returned to her home in Lewiston, Me.

Miss Helen Su[illegible]ho was a guest last week of her[illegible] Miss Marion Albro, returned[illegible]y to her home in Springfield.

John O'Neill [illegible] his work here Saturday and we[illegible]day to his new position in Farmi[illegible] He will move his family later.

Mr. and Mrs.[illegible] Hanscom and two children were[illegible] Saturday and Sunday of Mr. an[illegible] William Hayes in Belchertown.

Mrs. Andrew Co[illegible] Longmeadow has returned to h[illegible] after spending a few days w[illegible] parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus B[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. A[illegible]loster Jr. returned Sunday fro[illegible] wedding trip and are staying for[illegible]ent with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C[illegible]

The Ladies' Aid[illegible]et Wednesday with Mrs. A[illegible]arsan with 13 present. The n[illegible]ing will be in two weeks with M. Billings.

Invitations have[illegible]ued to the wedding of John [illegible] Bondsville and Miss Annie Br[illegible]aughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel[illegible] of Thorndike.

T. D. Potter, who[illegible]d land of Mr. Shea several mon[illegible]s now cutting off the lumber [illegible]his intention to build two or t[illegible]ses before spring.

Mrs. E. G. Childs[illegible]ss Grace Childs, who have b[illegible]ding the summer at their bung[illegible]Amsden, Vt., are spending th[illegible]with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sird.

The house of George[illegible], which has been quarantined[illegible]iphtheria, was fumigated Wedn[illegible]rs. Merriam and daughter E[illegible] having recovered from the dise[illegible]

Misses Elizabeth[illegible]athleen Quirk, Agnes Carmo[illegible] Lucy Hannifin returned to W[illegible] Normal School Monday after[illegible]g the week-end vacation at[illegible] several homes.

The subject of the mo[illegible]orning at the M. E. church will[illegible] remembrance of Me." Sund[illegible] will commence at 11.45, Epw[illegible]ne at 6 o'clock. At the ev[illegible]vice, which will commence at[illegible] the subject will be "Ancien[illegible]tern cities," which will be[illegible] by stereopticon views sho[illegible] D. Holden.

Rev. W. H. and Mrs. U[illegible]nd-ed the funeral services o[illegible]nel Upham, mother of W[illegible]m, which were held in the c[illegible]lar Hill cemetery, Hartford. A[illegible] representative of the fac[illegible] w Seminary, Madson, N. J.[illegible]h Rev. Samuel Upham wa[illegible]n-nected, was present and re[illegible]s-tions adopted by the sem[illegible] making a few personal re[illegible]

What He Was Thinkin[illegible]

A grandfather of a So[illegible] phia home walked into [illegible] room and found his grand[illegible] thought.

"John," he said, "I will[illegible] nickel if you will tell m[illegible] are thinking about."

No effect was produce[illegible] grandson at all.

"I say, John, I will give [illegible] ter if you will tell me," [illegible] grandfather.

With that remark the[illegible] jumped up and demanded [illegible] which was readily turned [illegible]

"I was thinking, grandp[illegible] "how I could earn some [illegible] out working for it."

The Pacifier.

Some women while engag[illegible] ing a village church wer[illegible] that a goat was making a[illegible] "Peace on Earth, Good W[illegible] design on the leaves, whic[illegible] left in the church yard, s[illegible] Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Make haste, Pat," cried [illegible] "the goat is starting to ea[illegible]

"Let him ate away," s[illegible] am goin' to wait until he[illegible] 'good will to man' inside[illegible]

There is more Catarrh in t[illegible] the country than all other[illegible] together, and until the la[illegible] was supposed to be incurable[illegible] many years doctors pronoun[illegible] disease and prescribed local[illegible] by constantly failing to cu[illegible] treatment, pronounced it in[illegible] ence has proven Catarrh to a[illegible] tutional disease, and there[illegible] constitutional treatment. H[illegible] Cure, manufactured by F.[illegible] Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the o[illegible] tional cure on the market. [illegible] ternally in doses from 10 d[illegible] spoonful. It acts directly [illegible] and mucous surfaces of the[illegible] offer one hundred dollars f[illegible] fails to cure. Send for circ[illegible] timonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY &[illegible]
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for[illegible]

For pains in the side or chest dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Liniment and bind it on over the seat of pain. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound.

[illegible], Mass.—"I cannot express w[illegible] I suffered during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN B. GREATON, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most [illegible]cal period of a woman's exist[illegible] Women everywhere should remem[illegible] that there is no other remedy k[illegible] to medicine that will so succes[illegible] carry women through this [illegible] period as Lydia E. Pinkham's [illegible]table Compound.

The testimonials which are [illegible]stantly being published in [illegible] advertisements are guarant[illegible] to be absolutely genuine. m

The Mark on Silverware

The most beautiful, most durable silver-plated forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces are stamped with the renowned trade mark,

1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE

By this mark only can you distinguish the original Rogers ware (first made in 1847), and assure yourself of the best in quality, finish and design.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L," showing all designs.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO. (International Silver Co., Successor.) Meriden, Conn.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment Cures Strains, Bruises, Sprains, Rheumatic pains, Pains in the Chest, Side and Back, Swellings and Tumors, Frost Bites, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Croup, Hoarseness. 25c and 50c a bottle.

KINSLEY'S PHARMACY, SPECIAL AGENT

YOUR DRUGGIST STOPS THAT ITCH

If you are suffering from Eczema, Psoriasis or any other kind of skin trouble, drop in[illegible] our store for instant relief. [illegible] will guarantee you to stop that itch [illegible] two seconds. A 25c trial bottle will prove it.

We have sold other [illegible]edies for skin troubles, but none [illegible]ve could recommend more highly [illegible]nown compound of C[illegible]reen, Thymol and a [illegible]redients that have wro[illegible]erful cures all over th[illegible] This compound, know[illegible]rescription, will cool [illegible]hy, burning skin as [illegible]n. Get a regular bott[illegible]r no-pay offer.

BAY STATE DRUG [illegible]

McCall's Ma[illegible] nd McCall [illegible]

For Wome[illegible]

ve More Friends th[illegible] gazine or patterns. M[illegible] rable Fashion Guide[illegible] million one hundr[illegible] nes. Besides showing [illegible] igns of McCall Patter[illegible] rimful of sparkling [illegible] helpful information [illegible]

Money and Keep in Sty[illegible] McCall's Magazine at once[illegible] a year, including any one [illegible] all Patterns free.

all Patterns Lead all oth[illegible] icity, economy and numb[illegible] 's sell McCall Patterns tha[illegible] s combined. None higher th[illegible] your dealer, or by mail from

CALL'S MAG[illegible]
246 W. 37th St., Ne[illegible]
Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and on request.

Monson New

McKenna—Authier.

Miss Jennie Mary McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna, of Bridge street, and William Authier of Palmer were married in the chapel of St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Thomas O'Keefe. Only immediate relatives were present. Mrs. Thomas Helferman of Worcester, sister of the bride, presided at the organ. The bridesmaid was Miss May Carberry of Norwich, Ct., a cousin of the bride, and William Farrell of Palmer was best man. The bride was attired in a dark blue traveling suit and a white picture hat. The bridesmaid wore a blue serge suit with a white picture hat. The bride's present to the bridesmaid was a chain and pendant and the groom's present to the best man was a gold stick pin. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home and a buffet luncheon was served. The presents were numerous, including furniture, cut glass, silverware and linen. Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Authier will reside with Mrs. Authier's parents.

Academy Team the Winner.

The Academy football team succeeded in defeating the Connecticut Literary Institute football team Saturday by the score of 11 to 6 on Cushman field. The absence of Bowker from the local team served to weaken both the defensive and the offensive play greatly. In the first half on two plays Monson brought the ball to the visitors' 20-yard line, where in a pretty forward pass from Smith to Harper the first touchdown was made after a run of 20 yards. On two recarried punts Suffield had the ball on Monson's two-yard line and on three downs succeeded in pushing it over for a touch-down. In the second half Monson again succeeded in pushing the ball over for a touch-down, and cinched the game. A third touch-down was made, but they were called back and penalized. The work of Capt. Smith, Harper and Orfinger was excellent, while the playing of McHoffrey of the visitors was the feature of the game.

Death of Mrs. Evan D. Rees.

Mrs. Evan D. Rees, 48, died at her home on Main street Monday 12.30 o'clock after a long illness of anemia. Although she had been in poor health for some time her death was unexpected. Mrs. Rees was born in Collina, New Brunswick. She came to Monson 15 years ago and had since resided here, where she has many friends who mourn her death. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons and one daughter. Ernest of Springfield, Frank of Monson and Harry of Massachusetts Agricultural college of Amherst and Maud of Monson. The funeral was held from her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. F. W. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Burial was in the No. 1 cemetery.

Sunday School to Present Comedy.

The comedy "Mrs. Briggs of the poultry yard," will be given under the auspices of the Congregational church Sunday school in the church parlors this evening. The cast of characters is as follows:

Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business, Isabel Broadfoot
Ralph, Wilson Brainard
Jimmey, her Ernest Carpenter
Alvira, family, Maud Brown
Melissa, Florence Guenther
Silas Green, a near relative, Arthur Vallie
Mr. Lee, a wealthy neighbor, Mr. H. E. Kendall
Virgina Lee, his daughter, Bertha Stebbins
Daisy Thornton, her friend, Hazel Aldrich
Mrs. O'Connor, with no liking for goats, Viola McPherson
Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumble, Mary Buck

Lively Runaway, But No Damage.

An exciting runaway occurred in the south part of the town yesterday afternoon, when a horse owned by Jacob Smookler of the west part of the town became [illegible] on Hampden street, [illegible] was hitched to which were two [illegible] came and down Main into Bl[illegible] stopped in fr[illegible] of woolen m[illegible] Tribune.

[illegible] to his ho[illegible] on Thompson stree[illegible] Amherst.

[illegible] Holland s[illegible] ats on Lin[illegible]

[illegible] of West B[illegible] home on [illegible]

[illegible] was been vi[illegible] d to his wo[illegible]

[illegible] Miss Cath[illegible] friends in [illegible]

[illegible] South M[illegible] N. J., wh[illegible]

[illegible] Medford i[illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] nue.

[illegible] Main s[illegible] on a hunt [illegible] field.

[illegible] West A[illegible]

Banking

Th
Or
was in which sold e which adapte every pains ehial
in the Morbi
for Coug rheumatic limbs, spr other ills
and it will
and $1 0
Co., Lynde

O
Palmer,
Patter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Partelle[illegible]es street.

The King's [illegible]hters will meet Saturday afte[illegible] with Mrs. P. W. Soule at her h[illegible] Main street.

Harold Sh[illegible] Amherst College spent Sunda[illegible] his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. [illegible]on Bliss street

Burt P. A[illegible] has applied for a sixth class li[illegible]o sell intoxicating liquors as a d[illegible] at 52 Main street.

Charles a[illegible]therine Dion, who spent Sunda[illegible] friends in town, have returne[illegible]eir home in Springfield.

The Dorc[illegible]y held a meeting at the residen[illegible]Miss Hattie F. Cushman on Mai[illegible]et Wednesday afternoon.

Miss An[illegible]tour, who has been confined t[illegible]ome on Pearl street by illness, [illegible]rned to her duties as clerk in M[illegible]kery.

Day Spr[illegible]rge of Masons had an official vi[illegible] before the meeting Tuesday e[illegible] Following the meeting a banq[illegible] served.

The Ju[illegible]deavor Society of the Congrega[illegible]urch held a social in the chur[illegible]ors Monday evening from 6.30 o'clock.

Rev. F[illegible]Connell, pastor of the Methodis[illegible]opal church, will conduct serv[illegible] the Silver Street chapel Sunday [illegible]n at 3 o'clock.

Thom[illegible]ee has moved his family from th[illegible]ter farm on East Hill to a ten[illegible]n Bridge street.

Mr. [illegible]rs. Herbert Howe of Thomp[illegible] Ct., spent Sunday with Mr. H[illegible]parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. [illegible] Washington street.

Mrs. [illegible] Carthy, who has been visitin[illegible]e home of Mrs. Mary Foley th Main street, has returne[illegible] home in New York city.

The [illegible] good attendance at the Hallo[illegible]cial and dance given by the [illegible] court, M. C. O. F., in Mem[illegible]n hall Tuesday evening.

Mr[illegible] Gould, who has been in the [illegible]ospital in Springfield for the [illegible]days suffering with pneumon[illegible]eturned to her home here.

[illegible]tement of Mrs. Rose Wallace[illegible]own and Charles Stiles of Bos[illegible]nounced. Mr. Stiles is a form[illegible]ent of Monson, being a former [illegible]ent here.

[illegible]ier Belding of South Main street, [illegible] underwent a serious operation in [illegible] Springfield hospital some time ag[illegible]s improving and is expected to retu[illegible] her home soon.

The[illegible]ill be a meeting of the Fortni[illegible]y Club next Monday evening at [illegible] home of Mrs. M. R. Lull on Lince[illegible]reet. The meeting will be in charg[illegible] Mrs. Etta Orcutt.

Mis[illegible]arol Beckwith, who has been visiti[illegible] her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fran[illegible]eckwith of North Main street, has [illegible]rned to her studies at the Wil[illegible]tic Normal School.

Wm. Hanson, who has been spe[illegible]g several weeks with his mother, Mrs[illegible]harles Hanson on Hampden ave following an operation for appe[illegible]is, has returned to his work in Ho[illegible]e.

[illegible]rick Morris, who recently co[illegible]ted his four years' enlistment on the S. S. Louisiana and received an ho[illegible]ble discharge, is visiting his pa[illegible]s, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris on Wales road.

[illegible] and Mrs. Lindsay Brigham of [illegible] Main street, Harrison Howe of [illegible]ington street and Warren [illegible]on of Pease avenue left Tuesday [illegible]or Tampa, Florida, where they [illegible]pend the winter.

E. Fuller has resigned his position in the jewelry store of F. J. [illegible]van and has accepted a position [illegible]e American Optical works in [illegible]hbridge. Robert Taylor has [illegible]eeded him in the jewelry store.

[illegible]ss Ruth Miller celebrated her fifth [illegible]day at the home of her parents, [illegible] and Mrs. H. F. Miller on North [illegible]n street recently. Fifteen of her [illegible]ng friends were present and they [illegible]e entertained with music and [illegible]mes.

The Teachers' Study Club will meet [illegible]s evening at the residence of Supt. [illegible]. A. Wheeler on Fountain street. [illegible]o papers will be read, one on "Cur[illegible]nt Events," by Miss Carpenter, and [illegible]e on "The Life of Jane Adams," by [illegible]ss Bennett.

The Century Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. W. Capen at her home on Main street. The subject of the meeting was "Current Events," and was in charge of Mrs. W. L. Ricketts, Mrs. E. R. Cook, Mrs. F. A. Wheeler and Mrs. A. J. Buffington.

Dr. C. W. Jackson is suffering with a sprained wrist, which he injured while cranking his automobile Wednesday. At first it was feared that some of the bones were broken, but an X-ray picture was taken and it was found that there was no serious injury.

Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Soule, Mrs. F. A. Wheeler, Mrs. R. P. Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard and Mrs. Frank

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive

[illegible]bout the size of your shoes it's some satis[illegible]ction to know that many people can wear [illegible]oes a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-[illegible]se into them. Just the thing for Patent [illegible]ather Shoes, and for breaking in New [illegible]oes. Sold everywhere, 25c. Sample FREE. [illegible]dress, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

Homer have returned from Springfield, where they attended the fall conference of the Hampden Association of Congregational churches as delegates of the local church.

The last meeting of the registrars of voters before the fall election was held Saturday afternoon and evening. The total of names added this fall was but 17, which is considered small. Forty-four names were taken off the list this fall on account of death or removal from town. The total number of names on the list at present is 837, as compared with 854 last fall.

Academy Notes.

The bi-monthly report cards for September and October will be distributed next Friday.

The bi-monthly examinations for September and November have been held this week in the various class rooms.

The Academy football eleven will journey to New Britain to-morrow afternoon, where it will play against the high school team of that city. This contest is the last one to be played out of town.

The following program for the meeting of the Linophilian society this evening has been arranged: News items, D. Francis; reading, Barone; piano solo, Thorpe; debate, "Resolved that Massachussetts should re-elect Governor Foss at the state election on November 7th," affimative, C. Smith and C. Andrews, negative, E. Harper and R. Taylor.

The next meeting of the Linophilian society will be next Friday evening. The following program has been arranged: "Life of Shakespeare," Miss McPherson; recitation, "Shakespeare Sonnet," Miss Daltan; piano solo, Miss Pendergast. The last number will be the first scene of Act I of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." The cast of characters will be:

Theseus,	Miss Tolman
Hypolyta,	Miss Rogers
Egeus,	Miss Gulhan
Hermia,	Miss Ellis
Helena,	Miss Fagan
Lysander,	Miss Squier
Demetrius,	Miss Cadwell
Phelostrius,	Miss Corish

The third division of rhetoricals was heard Wednesday morning after chapel exercises, under the direction of Mr. Perry. The program follows in order of the marks received: Harpe, Morocco's speech, from the' 'Merchant of Venice;" F. Foley, "Lincoln's Farewell to Springfield;" Miss Fagan, "Aunt Tabitha;" Hale, "The Pilot;" Cushman, "How Does it Seem to You?" Miss H. Bradway, "Jim Bludso of the Prairie Belle;" Miss Grindell, "The Execution of Joan of Arc;" Blood, "Incident of the French Camp;" Erickson, "The Roll Call;" Entwistle, "Memoirs;" Constantino, "Burial of the Minnisink;" Dewing, "Horatius at the Bridge;" Flynt, "Ade to Virgil."

Sure to Return It.

Lady—"Yes, I've an umbrella that needs mending, but how am I to know that you will bring it back?" Umbrella Mender—"Have no fear, mum, I allus charges more for mendin' than I could sell the umbreller for."—Boston Transcript.

Comparative Degree.

Said the clergyman who had received a trifle more salary: "Well, as far as preferment is concerned, I've got a mite."

Said the clergyman who had just been made a bishop: "And I've got a miter."

WHY POETS SING.

She—I wonder why poets always sing about the delights of spring?

He—Few poets have money enough to have a house; therefore they don't know the trials and tribulations of housecleaning.

Training to Blame.

The injustice in the case of a girl sixteen or eighteen years of age who cannot earn money enough to support her in decency lies not always in the insufficient wage, but in the fact that she has not been trained in the arts of self-support.—Christian Register.

His Wonderful Memory.

"Excuse me," said the absent-minded professor, "but haven't we met before?"

"Why, yes," replied the beautiful girl. "Our hostess introduced us just before dinner tonight."

"Ah, I remember! I never forget a face!"—Stray Stories

Many Children Are Sickly.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children break up Colds in 24 hours, relieve Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. At all druggists, 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.

Boston, October 30, 1911.

I certify that the following is a list of all the candidates duly nominated to be voted for in the Worcester and Hampden Senatorial District, November 7, 1911.

ALBERT P. LANGTRY,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

1911.

Governor. Mark ONE

James E. Carey of Haverhill, Socialist
Eugene N. Foss of Boston, Democratic
Eugene N. Foss of Boston, Democratic Progressive
Louis A. Frothingham of Boston, Republican
Dennis McGoff of New Bedford, Socialist Labor
Frank N. Band of Haverhill, Prohibition

Lieutenant-Governor. Mark ONE

Walter S. Hutchins of Greenfield, Socialist
Robert Luce of Somerville, Republican
William G. Merrill of Malden, Prohibition
Patrick Mulligan of Boston, Socialist Labor
David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, Democratic Progressive, Democratic

Secretary. Mark ONE

David Craig of Milford, Socialist Labor
Frank J. Donahue of Boston, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
Alfred H. Evans of Northampton, Prohibition
Rose Fenner of Worcester, Socialist
Albert P. Langtry of Springfield, Republican

Treasurer. Mark ONE

Joseph M. Coldwell of Milford, Socialist
Jeremiah P. McNally of Salem, Socialist Labor
Charles E. Peakes of Weston, Prohibition
Elmer A. Stevens of Somerville, Republican
Augustus L. Thorndike of Brewster, Democratic Progressive, Democratic

Auditor. Mark ONE

Karl Lindstrand of Lynn, Socialist Labor
Sylvester J. McBride of Watertown, Socialist
William W. Nash of Westborough, Prohibition
Charles B. Strecker of Brookline, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
John E. White of Tisbury, Republican

Attorney-General. Mark ONE

George W. Anderson of Boston, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
Henry C. Hess of Boston, Socialist Labor
George E. Roewer Jr. of Boston, Socialist
James M. Swift of Fall River, Republican

Councilor. Mark ONE

Seventh District.

Winfield S. Schuster of Douglas, Republican
Arthur E. Seagrave of Uxbridge, Democratic

Senator. Mark ONE

Worcester and Hampden District.

Alexis Boyer Jr. of Southbridge, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
William H. Wheeler of Hubbardston, Republican

Representative in General Court.

First Hampden District. Mark ONE

Henry W. Holbrook of Palmer, Republican
John S. MacQuaid of Monson, Democratic

Representatives in General Court.

Second Hampden District. Mark TWO

James F. Barry of Agawam, Democratic
William F. Emerson of Longmeadow, Republican
Fred W. Green of Wilbraham, Democratic
Frank P. Sargent of West Springfield, Republican

Representative in General Court.

First Worcester District. Mark ONE

John H. Johnson of Dana, Democratic
Ernest Warren Tyler of Athol, Republican

Representatives in General Court.

Second Worcester District. Mark TWO

Wendell P. Clark of Winchendon, Republican
James J. Hunt of Winchendon, Democratic Progressive, Democratic
John B. Moore of Gardner, Democratic Progressive
Edward N. Sibley of Ashburnham, Democratic
Judson I. Wood of Gardner, Republican

Representative in General Court.

Third Worcester District. Mark ONE

Harry C. Beaman of Princeton, Republican
Daniel J. Fitzgerald of Rutland, Democratic
John B. Marcon of Princeton, Democratic Progressive

Representative in General Court.

Fourth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Charles D. Sage of New Braintree, Independent Citizens
J. Thomas Webb of New Braintree, Republican
James Whittemore of North Brookfield, Democratic

Representative in General Court.

Fifth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Jonas Bemis of Charlton, Republican
Louis O. Rieutord of Southbridge, Democratic

Representative in General Court.

Sixth Worcester District. Mark ONE

Edward J. McDermott of Leicester, Democratic
Myron Abbott Young of Spencer, Republican

Representative in General Court.

Seventh Worcester District. Mark ONE

George J. Bidwell of Webster, Republican
Patrick Foster of Oxford, Democratic Progressive, Democratic

County Commissioner.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

George Day of West Springfield, Socialist
William H. Ensign of Westfield, Democratic
William H. Porter of Agawam, Republican

County Commissioner.

Worcester County. Mark ONE

Warren Goodale of Clinton, Republican
Joseph E. Venne of Leominster, Democratic

Clerk of Courts.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

Percy Heap of Holyoke, Socialist
Robert O. Morris of Springfield, Democratic, Republican

Clerk of Courts.

Worcester County. Mark ONE

Willard J. Humes of Grafton, Democratic
Theodore S. Johnson of Worcester, Republican

Register of Deeds.

Hampden County. Mark ONE

William A. King of West Springfield, Socialist
James R. Wells of Springfield, Democratic, Republican

Register of Deeds.

Worcester District. Mark ONE

Walter B. Kennedy of Worcester, Democratic
Daniel Kent of Worcester, Republican

To vote on the following, mark a Cross X in the square at the right of YES or NO:—

Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the use of voting machines at all elections be approved and ratified?	YES
	NO

To vote on the following, mark a Cross X in the square at the right of YES or NO:—

Shall the proposed amendment to the constitution, increasing the power of the Legislature to authorize the taking of land and property for highways or streets, be approved and ratified?	YES
	NO

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

Your Particular Idea About Clothes

Is already anticipated and provided for in this fine new stock of suits and garments which we've got together for you.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Have made for us this season the best lot of good stuff we ever have seen. The new fabrics are particularly good; many fine worsteds, blue serges, fancy cheviots, Scotch tweeds; a wonderful range of good colorings and patterns to select from. Many new models to please your taste in suits and overcoats.

Suits $20 and up
Overcoats $18 and up

Other All-wool Suits and Overcoats as low as $10.

The W. J. Woods Co.,

Cor. Main St. and Harrison Ave.,
Springfield, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

Albert Steiger Company

THE WOMAN'S STORE.
Springfield, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

Garment Week

A Style Exposition of Ready-to-Wear Garments and an Offering of Them at Prices Well Under Their Usual Value

It's an assemblage that's taken months to complete. In fact we've shopped the country's style centers to secure it. It's the well-known policy of this store to offer for sale nothing but the best the style makers can produce. Not the least, however, is the fact that they're all of the very latest models and at the lowest possible prices consistent with quality. So we present to you again hundreds of models in exclusive garments of marked special value.

GARMENT WEEK SPECIALS
They Make Evident in Full Measure the Splendid Values That's Offered You Here

Strictly plain tailored suit—coat 30 inches long and lined with Skinner satin. Colors black, navy, purple and brown. A regular $25 value $19.75

Tailor-made suit of Lymansville Cheviot in navy, brown and black. This suit is splendidly tailored, lined with Skinner satin, silk velvet collar Regular $22.50 value. Special . . . $18.75

Suit of Fine French Serge. A very neat model. Has the long roll revers and still closes high at the neck. Is finished and tailored like the higher priced suits. Coat lined with Skinner satin. A good $22.50 value. Special . . . $17.50

Junior Suits of pretty gray and brown Mixtures and French Serges. Special at $15.00

Exclusive Man-Tailored Suit Models at $25

In a wide variety of styles and in materials ordinarily used in $30 and $35 suits. Eighteen models at this price $25 00

A particularly good model in two-tone whipped suiting in blues, grays, tans and browns. This suit is finely man-tailored, lined with Skinner satin and is a very exclusive looking garment . $25.00

Another very attractive model is a copy of a high class imported suit. The material is of heavy wide wale serge and is made with a wide sailor collar, revers of velvet finished with plain silk braid. The coat fastens with two handsome silk ornaments. The back of coat is slightly Empire, cuffs of velvet inlaid with braid. This model comes in blue and black only $25.00

Attractive Values in New Tailored

Suits at $29.75

All of Them Usual $35 Values

Suit of Imported Cheviot, fancy model, trimmed with velvet and braid. A copy of a French model. This suit comes in navy blue, brown and black $29.75

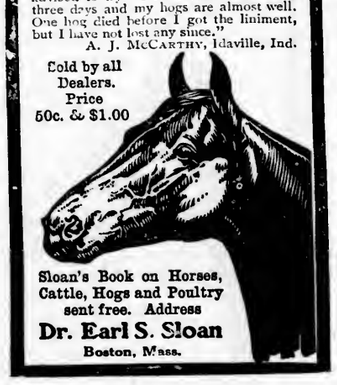
Strictly Tailored Suit of heavy wide wale cheviot, velvet collar and cuffs. A regular custom-made garment. This suit comes in navy blue, purple, brown and black $29.75

Stops Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a reliable remedy for any kind of horse lameness. Will kill the growth of spavin, curb or splint, absorb enlargements, and is excellent for sweeny, fistula and thrush.

Here's Proof.

"I used Sloan's Liniment on a mule for 'high lameness,' and cured her. I am never without a bottle of your liniment; have bought more of it than any other remedy for pains." BAILY KIRBY, Cassady, Ky.



"Sloan's Liniment is the best made. I have removed very large shoe boils off a horse with it. I have killed a quarter crack on a mare that was awfully bad. I have also healed raw, sore necks on three horses. I have healed grease heel on a mare that could hardly walk." ANTHONY G. HIVER, Oakland, Pa., Route No. 1.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for all farm stock.

"My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got your Liniment, which I was advised to try. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the liniment, but I have not lost any since." A. J. MCCARTHY, Idaville, Ind.

Sold by all Dealers. Price 50c. & $1.00

Sloan's Book on Horses, Cattle, Hogs and Poultry sent free. Address

Dr. Earl S. Sloan

Boston, Mass.

O'Connor's Barber Shop

PALMER MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room. (On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.

Trains Going South.

LEAVE Brattleboro, 7.25 and 10.15 a. m and 3.50 p. m., for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg Division B. & M. R. R. at Belchertown with B. & M. R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston and Springfield; at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Norwich Line steamers.
LEAVE Amherst, 8.45 a. m., 12.15 and 5.30 p. m.
LEAVE Palmer, 7.27 a. m., 9.55 a. m., 1.25 and 6.30 p. m. for New London and intermediate stations.

Going North.

LEAVE New London, 4.45 and 9.45 a. m. and 2.45 p. m., for Palmer, Brattleboro and Intermediate stations. The 4.45 a. m. connects from New York via Norwich Line.
LEAVE New London 5.25 p. m. for Palmer and intermediate stations.
LEAVE Palmer for Brattleboro, 7.30 a. m., 12.10 and 5.30 p. m., connecting with express for Montreal and the West via Grand Trunk Ry.
SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.
Trains run week days only.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Officers.

H. G. LOOMIS, President.
R. C. NEWELL, 1st Vice President.
W. E. STONE, 2d Vice President.
C. F. SMITH, 3d Vice President.
GEORGE A. RICE, Clerk.

Auditors.

W. E. Stone. E. B. Taylor.
C. A. LeGro.

Board of Investment.

H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. C. F. Smith.
H. E. W. Clark. E. E. Hobson

Trustees.

H. G. Loomis. W. E. Stone. J. O. Hamilton.
H. E. W. Clark. G. D. Mooers. L. J. Potter.
R. C. Newell. L. R. Holden. C. L. Wald.
Geo. S. Holden. C. E. Fuller. E. B. Taylor.
M. J. Dillon. C. F. Smith. C. A. LeGro.

Treasurer.

C. L. Wald.

Safe Deposit Boxes for rent.

Banking Hours: 9 a. m to 3 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Friday Evening, 7.30 to 9.

The Antalgica

Or Vegetable Pain Reliever

was introduced to the public in 1848, since which time thousands of bottles have been sold each year to an appreciative public, which is a good evidence of its merits. It is adapted to so many ailments it should be in every household, for it cures all kinds of pains both internal and external. For Bronchial affections it is unrivaled by any article in the market. It is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and Dysentery, if taken in season, also for Coughs. It is an effective remedy for rheumatic affections, stiff joints, swelled limbs, sprains, cramps, toothache and many other ills to which the flesh is heir. Try it and it will do you good. It is sold at 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle by the Bay State Drug Co., Lynde & Gould, and the proprietor.

O. P. Allen.

Palmer, Mass.

HOLLAND.

The bungalow of Mrs. Emily Brown is nearly finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Howlett are guests this week of Miss Lucia Howlett.

Work is being rushed on the new library building and a speedy completion is promised.

WARE.

Runaway Accidents.

There were two exciting runaways Friday, neither of which resulted seriously. About 3 in the afternoon a horse belonging to Liveryman James F. Lehan, which was being driven by a collector of the Cash and Credit Company, was left unhitched on Walnut street, and suddenly took fright. It ran downtown, ending its run at Lehan's stable. The carriage was badly smashed and the animal received cuts on the legs. About 4 o'clock a horse owned by M. J. Smith started to run from the office of the Ware Lumber Company. It crossed the tracks of the Boston and Albany railroad, ran across the trestle of the railroad over East street into the yard of the Boston and Maine, then bringing up against a switch with no more damage than a broken wheel.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Magilore Mailloux, well known residents of Ware, where they have lived for 30 years, observed Monday the 50th anniversary of their marriage. There was no formal celebration, but relatives and neighbors called and extended their congratulations and in many cases brought gifts of gold. Mr. and Mrs. Mailloux are both 73 years old. They were married in Canada. They have had 10 children, of whom six are living. Mr. Mailloux has retired from business.

Henry, the nine-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy of East street, was taken ill with appendicitis Saturday and was in a serious condition. He was hurriedly taken to St. Vincent's hospital in Worcester, where he was operated upon and is now said to be out of danger.

BRIMFIELD.

MRS. CATHARINE SHERMAN.

Highly Respected Resident Dies Snddenly Monday Afternoon.

Mrs. Catharine Sherman, 75, widow of Elijah T. Sherman, died suddenly at her home in Brimfield Monday afternoon. Mrs. Sherman was Miss Catharine Maria Roberts of Boston, the daughter of John L. and Maria Roberts of that city, and she was born May 2, 1836. Her girlhood was spent in Boston, and she was married May 9, 1855, to Elijah Tarbell Sherman, a representative of two well-known Brimfield families, who held a position with Silas C. Herring, the pioneer safe manufacturer of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman had their summer home in Brimfield on the estate of Mr. Sherman's father. The house was burned in the spring of 1910 and a new house was erected. Mrs. Sherman gave up her New York residence and her interest centered in her Brimfield home, whose hospitality she had always freely extended to city friends.

Mrs. Sherman leaves four children, Florenee, the wife of Dr. William Pearsall of Brimfield, Robert G., treasurer of the Remington-Sherman Company of New York, Gertrude, the wife of Dr. Frederick Hamlin of New York, and Dr. Irving P. Sherman of New York, who has spent the past year at the Brimfield home. There is one brother living, John L. Roberts of New York, and a sister, Mrs. Brice Collard of Jersey City. The funeral was held at her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Hall of the church of the Divine Paternity in New York officiating.

Summer Visiters At Steerage Rock.

George W. Sherman, who owns the field containing Steerage Rock and who has built a road from his house to the summit of the mountain, began keeping a visitors' register last summer, and the record is interesting. The number of names recorded since June 18 is 381, while 27 automobiles have ascended the route up the mountain. The visitors represent 62 towns and cities in California, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Long Island, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island and Vermont. The record does not include visitors who have gone up the east side of the mountain. This shows that the position of forest fire observer at Steerage Rock, which Mr. Sherman holds, is not a lonely one, although the United States inspector, in looking over the extensive rural scene reaching in every direction, wondered where the people came from to visit such a remote spot.

Mrs. Robert Metcalf and little daughter of Springfield are visiting at the home of her father, Orrin Hicks.

A pleasant entertainment consisting of recitations, readings, vocal and instrumental music was given by the Sunday school class of Mrs. F. Edgar Brown in the church vestry last Friday evening. Refreshments were served by the members of the class after the entertainment.

HAMPDEN.

The engagement of Albert G. Corey and Marion Grace Bickmore of Springfield has been announced.

Rev. C. B. Bliss preached a sermon Sunday morning which was preached in the same pulpit by Rev. E. S. Skinner in 1853, the Sunday after his installation. There were three members of the church in the audience who heard it then, two of them distinctly remembering it. Mr. Skinner now resides in Chicago, Ill.

EAST BRIMFIELD.

Miss Elizabeth Goodell of Hartford, Ct., has been spending the week with her sister, Miss Celestina Goodell.

Mrs. F. S. Child has returned from a visit in Hartford, bringing home with her her younger sister, Olga Stanger, from the Springfield hospital.

A chicken pie supper will be served in the church this evening from 6.30 to 8 o'clock. There will be an entertainment after the supper, with reading by Miss Olive Goodell of Hartford, Ct.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thayer of Springfield were given a postal card shower and beautiful floral gifts one day last week, the occasion being in honor of the 11th anniversary of their marriage. Many of the cards came from Belchertown friends.

William E. Bailey died suddenly at midnight Friday or early Saturday morning at his home on South Main street. He came to Belchertown from Lowell with his family about a year ago, being then in very poor health. He leaves two daughters and two sons, besides his widow.

Mrs. Laura Montague Cushman, who died in North Adams last Friday, was the daughter of the late Deacon Montague, and was well known in Belchertown, her former home. Besides her sister, Mrs. Alice L. Kendall, Mrs. Cushman leaves a number of cousins, among them Mrs. M. D. Longley.

The case of Honora Sullivan against Johanna Spellman, both of Belchertown, was tried last Friday afternoon in the superior court in Northampton. The plaintiff claimed that she was driving 17 cows by the residence of the defendant, when the latter set her dog on the cows and they were seriously injured. The suit was for $500 and after being out a short time the jury rendered a verdict of $30.

WARREN.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Day were pleasantly surprised at their home on Coy's Hill last Friday evening, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Day were presented with two handsome willow chairs, in addition to other gifts. The couple were married in Springfield, but have lived in Warren ever since their marriage. They have two children, Miss Emily Day, who is an accountant in Boston, and George Day, a student at the Amherst agricultural college. Both were present Friday evening.

The body of Mrs. William H. Blake of Boston was brought here to-day for burial.

A regular meeting of Castle Excalibar, Knights of King Arthur, will be held this evening. The former merlin, Rev. T. C. Richards, will be present and Charles W. Wilson, principal of the Lyman school for boys at Westboro, will speak upon "Giving the boy a chance."

At the annual meeting of Quaboag lodge of Masons Tuesday evening, these officers were elected for next year: Worshipful master, Edward M. Houghton; senior warden, John B. Canfield; junior warden, Daniel B. Hathaway; treasurer, Charles B. Blair; secretary, Charles D. Perkins.

An interesting meeting of Warren grange was held Friday evening in Brigham's hall, when the third and fourth degrees was conferred upon a class of 15. After the degree work there was a short entertainment under the direction of the lecturer, Miss Florence M. Williams. It consisted of readings and vocal and instrumental selections. Refreshments were served.

Seldom has as much interest been shown in any state election as there was this year. A large number kept in touch with the telephone bulletin until after midnight. Wednesday a number of election wager were paid. In the afternoon at 2.15 a large crowd gathered in the public square to see Alfred E. Shumway, clerk of the board of health, give Chief of Police Joseph St. George a ride around the square in his small handcart. Friends of the parties had procured a small band and a large number of boys with banners appropriately inscribed to accompany them.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets do not sicken or gripe, and may be taken with perfect safety by the most delicate woman or the youngest child. The old and feeble will also find them a most suitable remedy for aiding and strengthening their weakened digestion and for regulating the bowels. For sale by all dealers.

MUSICAL COMEDY.

Miss Askit—Did your cousin enjoy the play last night? She is so deaf.
Mr Wise—Yes, I know, but the costumes were awfully loud

A Black Outlook.

She—Why are you loking so solemn this morning?

He—I was worried over a dark suggestion an acquaintance made me yesterday.

She—What was it?

He—He asked me if I hadn't better get in the coal this summer.

A Summary.

"So Jaggsby has gone to Africa to hunt wild game? The last time I met him, he told it was wedding bells for him."

"Yes, but he and his bride were continually quarreling."

"Oh, I see how things went jingle, jangle, jungle."

More Fitting.

Rev. Mr. Hollers—Mistah Johnsing, what foh you call dat son of yoh's Izaak Walton, when he was baptized Geowge Washington?

Mr. Johnson—Because, sah, dat rascal's reputashun foh verac'ty made dat change imper'tive.

She Laughed It Off.

"What is wrong between them?"

"He suggested jokingly that her hair was false, and she started to laugh it off."

"And did she succeed?"

"Yes, when she threw back her head to laugh it off it caught in the back of the chair and came off."

Would Try Again.

Most everybody wishes he could live his life over again, but few would live much better.—Babcock.

The Red Moon.

Astronomers say the red moon is due to dense atmosphere from watery vapor and gases.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

Our Yearly Thanksgiving Sale of Table Linen

The splendid resources of the Forbes & Wallace Linen Store were never more strikingly demonstrated than in this selling event, prepared especially to meet the needs of all who want to replenish their linen supply for Thanksgiving. Our very best linens are offered now — linens that we have sold for years and upon which we have built up our reputation for quality, beauty of texture and pattern and wear,— at very liberal reductions. And remember — these reductions are from our own regular prices. Compared with the prices asked elsewhere for equally good quality and style the savings are much greater.

Our Sturdy Heather Linen

It Has No Superior for Service

Cloths and Napkins

One of our best known qualities— our No. 280 — which has been made for us for years by the same reliable Scotch manufacturer — everybody knows the quality and the prices we sell it for regularly— is offered in this sale at the following reduetions—

No. 280 Table Cloths

2x2-yard size, our regular price $3.75. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $3.00

2x2 1-2 yard size, our regular price $4.50. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $3.75

2x3-yard size, our regular price $5.50. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $4.50

No. 280 Napkins

22-inch size, our regular price $3.75 a dozen. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $3.00

Soiled and Odd Dinner Size Napkins

1 4 to 1-3 off

There are about 75 dozen in the lot in sizes from 24 to 27-inch. Former prices were $3.50 to $12 a dozen. We will close them out in the Thanksgiving Sale at 1-4 to 1-3 off.

Table Damask

Fine Double Satin Damask, all-linen, 72 inches wide, one of our numbers that sell regularly for $1.25 a yard. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $1.00

Napkins

100 dozen All-Linen Napkins, very heavy, 20-inch size, regular price $2 a dozen. Thanksgiving Sale Price, $1.75

Extra Special

200 dozen Fine Damask Napkins, all-linen, 22-inch size, a napkin always sold for $2.50 a dozen, special for Thanksgiving Sale, $2.00

Forbes & Wallace,
Springfield, Mass.

Cannel Coal for Open Grates.

English quality Bostonia cannel coal, especially adapted for open grates and quick fires, of unusually good quality. Try it.

Juanita Forge Caol.

Guaranteed to be the best forge coal mined. Blacksmiths are requested to give it a trial.

Feiner Charcoal.

I have the wholesale agency for Palmer, Monson, Ware and Wilbraham.

W. F. Fillmore, Palmer

Here's Something New

No more ashes to lug. No clumsy pan to spill dust and dirt on the kitchen floor.

The Glenwood Ash Chute

solves the problem. It is located just beneath the grate and connected by a sheet iron pipe straight down through the kitchen floor to ash barrel in cellar. No part is in sight. Not a particle of dust can escape. Just slide the damper once each day and drop the ashes directly into the ash barrel.

The Dust Tight Cover

to barrel is another entirely new Glenwood Idea and is very ingenious. The Ash Chute is sold complete with barrel and all connections, as illustrated, at a moderate price to fit any cabinet style Glenwood. This is only one of the splendid improvements of the Plain Cabinet Glenwood the Range without ornamentation or fancy nickel, "The Mission Style" Glenwood. Every essential refined and improved upon.

Up-To-Date Gas Attachments

This Range can be had with the latest and most improved Elevated or End Gas Range attachments. It has a powerful hot water front or for country use a Large Copper Reservoir on the end opposite fire box. It can be furnished with fire box at either right or left of oven as ordered. When the Ash Chute cannot be used an Improved Ash Pan is provided.

Makes Cooking Easy.

Glenwood

The E. Brown Co., Palmer

THE PALMER JOURNAL

Published

EVERY FRIDAY EVENING

13-15 Central Street, Masonic Block.

PALMER, MASS.

The Palmer Journal Company,

LOUIS E. CHANDLER,

Editor and Manager.

Terms of subscription—Two dollars a year; a discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents. Subscriptions continued until notified.

Entered at Post Office as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1911.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Electric wiring, etc. 'Phone Moulton, 122-21 Monson.

For all coughs use our Mentholated Pine Expectorant, 25c at Kinsley's Pharmacy, 357 Main St., Cor. Central. The Old Corner Drug Store.

PALMER NEWS.

School Census Completed.

Shows Material Increase in Number of Pupils of School Age.

The census of the school children of the town, which has just been completed and tabulated, shows that the number of children of school age is considerably larger than that of last year. This was known to be so through the increased attendance at some of the school buildings, necessitating the opening of additional rooms, but the exact number could only be guessed at. The figures for this and last year are given below:

	1911	1910
Boys between 5 and 15,	792	753
Girls between 5 and 15,	741	718
Total,	1533	1471
Boys between 7 and 14,	602	536
Girls between 7 and 14,	573	515
Total,	1175	1051

Where Did The Money Go?

It Hadn't Wings, So Evidently Someone Must Have Taken It.

For some time past employes on the "Sikes" farm near the Four Corners, now occupied by John Roman, have been missing various sorts of things belonging to them, including money and other property. At one time $52 disappeared, and a little later $26. Other personal property was also missing when needed. Suspicion finally rested on Joseph Wiskierski, and he was arraigned in the district court on a charge of larceny. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until to-morrow, when the matter will be inquired into. It is understood that some of the missing property has been found in his possession.

Men and Religion Movement.

Delegations from all the Protestant churches of the town will meet in the Congregational church in Thorndike next Tuesday evening at 7.30 to discuss the "Men and Religion" movement. Committees of five have been appointed from each church, and the conference will have in mind the taking up of the movement in this town.

Palmer Garage To Be Sold.

The Palmer garage, which has been conducted by John Lewis for several years, and the contents will be sold at auction to-morrow. Whether the business will be continued will depend wholly on the buyer.

W. H. Osborne is confined to his home on Converse street by illness.

A. J. Barslow, clerk in Truesdell's market, is ill with diphtheria on North Main street.

There will be a meeting of the W. C. T. U. in the reference room of the public library next Tuesday afternoon at 3.

Miss Ethel Naylor of Ware is forming a dancing class for juveniles, to be held afternoons in the opera house block.

The Palmer Woman's Club will meet next Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. A. Tabor in Thorndike. It will be a reciprocity meeting.

The hunters have been out in force this week, and report fair success. Rabbits are numerous and some good bags have been brought in.

The Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's church will serve their regular monthly supper next Tuesday evening. The public are invited.

Bernard J. Bancroft, teacher of piano, who has classes in Ware and Springfield, has consented to come to Palmer and will be in town every Saturday.

George Woodgate has moved his family from Pleasant street to the cottage across the river on State avenue, which he recently purchased of D. F. Holden.

John Collette has been ill at his home on Pleasant street as the result of a recent fall from a staging while at his work in Pittsfield. He sustained a fractured knee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Connor, both of whom were recently operated on for appendicitis in the Mercy hospital, Springfield, have returned to their home on Main street.

The meeting of the Woman's Tuesday Club next week will be with Mrs. E. G. Hastings of North Main street. "Reciprocity Day" is the subject named on the program.

The Worcester County Gas Company finished this week the introduction of gas into the Palmer Mill at Three Rivers, where it will be used in numerous mechanical processes.

The ladies of the Congregational church will hold their annual chicken-pie supper in the dining room of the church next Wednesday evening; supper will be served at 6.30.

Tockwotton tribe of Red Men will hold a smoke talk next Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows' hall. An interesting program has been arranged and a large attendance is desired.

William Hunter, who went to the Springfield hospital recently for treatment, died there last Friday of kidney trouble, at the age of 57. The body was taken to Monson for burial.

Miss Mary Ledyard, teacher in the first grade of the Palmer grammar building, who resigned to accept a similar position in Maynard, has gone to that place and will begin her duties Monday.

The next meeting of the Men's League will be held Monday evening, the 27th, in the parlors of the Congregational church. It will be a "Big brother and boys" meeting, and there will be story telling and straight talks.

Treasurer Charles L. Waid of the Palmer Savings Bank is to give a talk to the teachers of the public schools in the high school building next Tuesday afternoon at 4.15 on the new penny savings system which is soon to be established in savings banks by the state.

Miss Anna O'Connor begins work next week as bookkeeper in the office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company. Miss Florence Healey, who has held the position, returns to her former place as clerk in the office of the superintendent of schools.

There will be a bridge whist party at the Quaboag Country Club's house at North Monson next Wednesday evening. The entertainment committee is Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Lee T. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Holbrook.

Fraternity Notes.

Palmer aerie of Eagles meets next Thursday evening.

Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows meets next Wednesday evening.

Tockwotton tribe of Red Men meet on Tuesday evening of next week.

Cyrus W. Cross camp, Sons of Veterans, meets next Wednesday evening.

Division 15, A. O. H., holds a meeting next Sunday afternoon in Thorndike.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps holds a regular meeting next Friday evening.

A regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star is scheduled for next Friday evening.

Pilgrim commandery, Knights of Malta, hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

Several of the members of Thomas lodge of Masons attended the official visitation made Eden lodge of Ware Monday evening.

D. F. Dillon, Regent of Quaboag council, Royal Arcanum, is to be the principal speaker at a smoke-talk of Pynchon council of Springfield this evening.

Thomas lodge of Masons elected these officers Monday morning; Worshipful master, C. L. Waid; senior warden, Charles L. Kempton; junior warden, Lee T. Gray; treasurer, Walter L. Shaw; secretary, James T. Campbell; trustee for three years, David L. Bodfish; member of Masonic relief association, David L. Bodfish. There will be a public installation later.

An invitation has been extended to the members and visiting brethren of Thomas lodge of Masons to attend the installation of the officers of Hampden chapter, Royal Arch Masons, on Monday evening next in Masonic Hall. The installing officer will be the District Deputy Grand High Priest, Edwin L. Davis of Chicopee. There will also be an address by Waterman C. Russell of Chicopee. These officers will be installed: Emerson J. Loy, M. E. H. P.; Charles M. Kempton, E. K.; Harrie M. Howe, E. S.; Walter L. Shaw, treasurer; William C. Millen, secretary; H. E. W. Clark, chaplain; Thomas A. McCrea, C. of H.; Malcolm McKenzie, P. S.; Frank H. Lee, R. of C.; G. J. Rathbone, M. of 3d V.; Cecil I. Whitcomb, M. of 2d V.; F. E. Albro, M. of 1st V.; C. J. Chamberlain, S. S.; William J. Gillis, J. S.; G. A. Bills, tyler.

"I am pleased to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as the best thing I know of and safest remedy for coughs, colds and bronchial trouble," writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." For sale by all dealers.

Personal Mention.

W. H. Hitchcock of Lakewood is a guest of G. A. Rice of Pleasant street.

Mrs. Abbie Lawton has returned from a visit with her daughter in Brattleboro, Vt.

Miss Sophia Rice of Pleasant street was home from South Framingham Normal School over Sunday.

Mrs. Lucy Flynt of Central street has been visiting friends in Providence, R. I., this week.

Daniel Foley of Dorchester, formerly of Palmer, is the guest of Harry Munger on Pleasant street.

Miss Bertha L. Thurston of Newport, R. I., has been visiting her sister, Miss Clara M. Thurston, this week.

J. W. King of East Hartford, Ct., was a guest yesterday of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Taylor of Thorndike street.

Mrs. Franklin Blanchard of North Brookfield spent Sunday with her niece, Mrs. S. H. Hellyar of Squier street.

Mrs. Anna Hall of Willimantic, Ct., has been spending a part of the week with Mrs. L. E. Chandler of North Main street.

George Getchell Newton of West Upton has been spending the week with his uncle, A. E. Fitch of Central street.

Mrs. J. J. Todd, Miss Jennie Todd and Walter J. Todd of Pine street attended the Denning-Sisk wedding in Brattleboro, Vt., Tuesday.

Mrs. Frederick Lindstrom of Hamilton, Ont., is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burgess at Burleigh's Bridge, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Drury of Worcester were guests a part of the week of their daughter, Mrs. B. E. Loring of King street.

Mrs. L. E. Chandler of North Main street and Mrs. Abbie Wing of Central street are guests for over Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Harrison in Southington, Ct.

Mrs. C. F. Grosvenor will close her home on North Main street to-morrow and return to Ludlow, Vt., for the winter. Mr. Grosvenor was in town yesterday and to-day.

Among the Churches.

The initial meeting of the recently organized Mission Circle of St. Paul's church will be held Tuesday evening at 7.30.

Elder Frederick Viggers of Springfield will speak in the Advent chapel on Park street Sunday afternoon at 3. Sunday school will be at 2, as usual.

St. Mary's mission will hold services Sunday in Masonic hall as usual: Holy Communion at 8 a. m.; afternoon service at 3.15. Sunday school at 2.15 p. m.

A men's meeting will be held in the chapel of St. Paul's church Sunday evening at 7.30. This meeting is to organize the men for the work of the men and religion forward movement.

Next Sunday the pastor of St. Paul's church will give the second sermon in the series on "Social service," the subject of the day being "The great divide." This sermon deals with the existing gulf between the church and emigrants; the classes and the masses; the church and the world. All working men and those disinterested in the church are invited to hear an honest statement of the great problem.

A successful rally day was observed in St. Paul's church Sunday. A large and appreciative audience listened to the first sermon in the series on "Social service." The rally day was extended to the Sunday school. Out of an enrollment of 95, only 18 were absent; six new members were added and five former members reinstated. A Men's Bible class was organized, with the pastor as teacher. The class will study "The place of the church in the social crisis."

Harsh Demand.

One only need be a man to give up to a friend when he is wrong, but he must be a hero who will give in to his wife when he is right.

Reward of Fame.

"Now that you are famous, Mr. Rimer, we propose to place a tablet on your former home." "Well?" "What would you wish us to say?" "You might say that I was ejected for non-payment of rent," replied the somewhat embittered bard.

Among the Churches.

"What is religion?" will be the subject of the sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning; Sunday school at 12; Christian Endeavor service at 6, subject, "The case against the saloon;" evening service at 7, subject, "The prophet Jeremiah and his times."

The regular services will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday. Subject of the morning sermon "A small beginning of a great enterprise." Bible school at 12, Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.15, evening worship at 7; sermon subject, "Elijah and his great prayer." All are welcome.

Real Reason of It.

"These hanging gardens of Babylon are said to have been 300 feet in the air." "Why did the king put them so high?" "Perhaps the neighboring kings kept chickens."

August Peterson,

Monson, Mass.

Cement, Concrete and Stone Work of all kinds at Lowest Prices.

W. B. T. Smith,

Physician and Surgeon,

Office and residence, So. High Street, BONDSVILLE, MASS.

Office Hours 7-9 a. m. 12.30-2 p. m. 6.30-8 p. m.

Tel. 104-5.

S. H. Wright,

64 Pleasant Street,

Lock and Gunsmith

Light Repairing of every Description.

Locks, Keys, Guns, Pistols, Shears, Lawn Mowers, Skates, Sewing Machines, Saw Filing, Clocks, Pattern Making, Etc.

Notice to Piano Owners.

Mr. J. Frank Normand, Piano Tuner and Repairer, Nearly 20 years' experience on all makes of pianos. Over fifty satisfied piano owners to refer to in Palmer, Monson and vicinity. Orders left at Journal office or mailed to 800 Main street, Worcester, Mass., will receive prompt attention.

For Sale.

My residence on North Main street. 20 rooms and ground level basement—more room than I need. Steam heat, electric lights, bath. Can easily be made into two tenements.

Louis E. Chandler.

Low Prices for Shoe Repairing

See these prices for machine work:

Men's shoes, half soled and heeled, sewed, $1.00

Men's shoes, full soled and heeled, sewed, 1.50

Ladies' Shoes, soled and heeled, sewed, .85

Better than hand work and much quicker. Satisfaction guaranteed.

H. Platkin,

Bridge St., Palmer.

Palmer Trucking Co.

Successors to S. H. Brown.

Trucking and Jobbing of all kinds.

Piano Moving.

Dealers in Spring Water Ice.

Orders solicited, prompt attention guaranteed.

F. M. Ralton, Manager.

Office, South Main street.

Telephone connection.

The Rexall Store

Liggett's and Quality Chocolates

Newsdealers and Stationers

50c Cloth Bound Copyrights, 50c

Lynde & Gould

Palmer, Mass.

Quality Always First

Seasonable Goods at Reasonable Prices

Heaters to burn either coal or wood; standard makes; built for service.

Oil Heaters to use before you want to start up your furnace.

Coal Hods

Coal Shovels

Ash Sifters

Ash Cans

Glass and Putty to fix up the cracked windows before winter.

Loaded Shells

Double and Single Barrel Shot Guns

Hunting Coats

Hunting Vests

Cartridge Belts

Shot

Powder

Empty Shells

Primers

Whitcomb & Faulkner,

All Cars Stop in Front of the Door.

Main Street, Palmer, Mass.

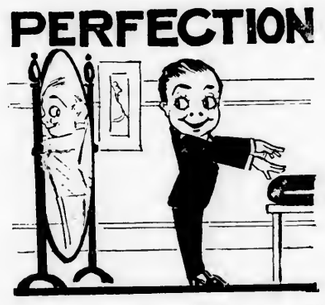
Telephone.

I Have an Elegant Line

Of Ladies' Fur, Caracul and Cloth Coats at very popular prices.

My Ladies' Suits are up-to-date and made of the best of fabrics, and the Furs, Skirts, Dress and Shirtwaists, complete a very fine showing of ladies' wearing apparel.

I also have an elegant assortment of Girls' Coats, both in cloth and caracul, which cannot be beat.



My men's and boys' line of Suits and Overcoats cannot be excelled at the price.

A visit to my store will be greatly appreciated.

M. Ecker, Palmer, Mass.

P. O. Block. Up one flight.

PERFECTION

You Just Can't Keep Your Eyes Off

Yourself when you're dressed in one of our suits --- they have that clean cut, swinging stride, uplifted chin and wee shoulder swagger air that YOU want.

$10 to $18

At $1.00 the garment, we have winter underwear that isn't what Mark Twain said was Nature's beneficent plan to make man exercise, willy-nilly. WARM, COMFORTABLE and non-shrinking. Ask to see it.

C. K. Gamwell,

Clothier and Furnisher,

Palmer, Mass.

Are You Interested in Parlor Stoves?

The GLENWOOD base burner does the best work. The E. Brown Co. handle this line. also carry a full stock of

Modern Hardware at Very Low Prices

E. Brown Co., Agents, Palmer, Mass.

An Indication.

"Is Bliggins the superior influence in his own house?" "I'm afraid not. He's one of those men who understand exactly what their wives are talking about when they describe what other women wear."

We Have Met Them.

There are men who seem to have the most unhappy faculty of saying the right thing in the wrong place every time.

Card.—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. George Murdock.
Mrs. William Kuss.
Miss Martha Kuss.

Three Rivers, Nov. 9, 1911.

BORN.

In Palmer, 5th, a son to Michael and Mary Farrelly.
In Bondsville, 3d, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rose.
In Hockanum, Ct., Oct. 10th a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bradway.

MARRIED.

In Thorndike, 8th, by Rev. P. J. Griffin, John A. Shea of Bondsville and Annie Brosnan of Thorndike.
In Holyoke, 8th, by Rev. J. F. Griffin, Dr. Enlick F. Sullivan of North Adams and Joanna M. Griffin of Holyoke.

DIED.

In Palmer, 5th, Mrs. Adaline D. Rogers.
In Thorndike, 10th, John Sullivan, 60.
In South Belchertown, 5th, Roswell S. Hastings, 71, a native of Palmer.
In Brimfield, 6th, Catharine M., 75, widow of Elijah T. Sherman.
In Springfield, 3d, William Hunter, 57, of Palmer.
In Seymour, Ct., 7th, Miss Ann B. Allen, 36.

TENEMENT TO RENT.
32-tf E. BROWN CO.

HORSE, Wagon and harness for sale.
31-tf D. F. HOLDEN, Palmer.

WANTED,—Board and room for active elderly lady. P. O. BOX 272, Palmer.

TO RENT. Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 453 NORTH MAIN ST.

FOX TERRIER PUPS FOR SALE. 17-tf
JAMES BURDICK, Meehanic St. Monson

IF YOU WANT your horse clipped in first-class shape, call on JAMES BURDICK, Monson. 32-tf

TO RENT.—Tenement at corner of South Main and Vaill streets; rent $11 per month. Inquire of DAVID F. DILLON.

TO RENT.—Tenement of three rooms upstairs, near high school. Inquire of 31-2 MRS. E. F. SHAW.

VAULTS CLEANED, gardens plowed, ashes and rubbish removed at reasonable prices. W. H. HOUSE, Palmer. 3-tf

FOR SALE.—One two-horse sleigh, one one-horse sleigh and four driving sleighs.
46-tf WHITCOMB & FAULKNER.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pine street, second floor, $12. Inquire at WHITCOMB & FAULKNER'S STORE. 27-tf

WANTED.—Hens, calves and cows. Will pay good price. Notify by postal card.
44-tf E. GOLDBERG, Three Rivers.

LOST.—Between Park street and Wire Mill, a brown overcoat. Finder return to GEORGE MOSES at S. Brooks Store, Main street.

APPLES FOR SALE.—A few barrels of choice hand-picked Baldwin and Greening apples for sale. Inquire at JOURNAL OFFICE.

PETER MILLS is continuing his cobbling business on North Main street, Monson, having moved into an adjoining room in the same building in which he has been located.

CARPET CLEANER. A Richmond Cleaner to rent with or without operator. Best way to clean carpets, rugs or furniture. Write postal or telephone 25-2. FRED McCOMBER, Box 174, Palmer. 40-tf

Bernard J Bancroft
Teacher of Piano

In Palmer Saturday of each week. Methods rapid and modern. Teaches at pupil's residence. Terms: 50 cents per lesson. Address 442 State St, Springfield.

Teacher of Violin,
Robert J. Wilder.
Palmer, Mass.

Upright Pianos to Rent
$3 to $5 per month
Money paid for rent applied if purchased.
STONE'S STORE,
370 Main St Palmer

John Winer, Three Rivers
Dealer in Cattle, Beef and Milch Cows, Poultry.
Pays High Prices
P. O. Box 339, Three Rivers

For Sale
8-room cottage, with bath; on car line. Bargain if taken at once.
R. E. Cummings,
Palmer, Mass.

INSURANCE
Of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yours Truly
S. H. HELLYAR.
Office at store on Main St.

Johnson's Bookstore
BOOKSTORE BUILDING
391 Main St. Springfield

Why Not Have Private Christmas Cards All Your Own?

Select from our hundreds of exquisite English and Scotch designs. Your order is then printed with your name and address, giving you personal cards that are peculiarly your own. It will be well to order early. Stationery department, main floor.

Books Stationery Pictures
Prompt attention to mail orders

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

Boston Letter.

A Variety of Matters Touching on the Election of Tuesday.

Boston, Nov. 8, 1911.

People who were not in the thiek of the excitement here the latter part of Tuesday afternoon and the early evening can realize how the crowd, the candidates and the managers felt over the first returns and the slump in the rosy Republican prospects which made the election of Frothingham seem absolutely certain. So strongly did the figures run in his favor from the towns in southeastern Massachusetts and from the first group of precinets from New Bedford that one paper issued an edition with the heading: "Frothingham 40,000," and most of the Boston papers conceded that Frothingham had won. It was generally accepted and the returns showing otherwise came as a shock to the Republicans and a welcome relief to the Democrats. Yet the early figures of the gubernatorial vote, worked upon the theory of percentages, warranted the expectations that Frothingham had won by a substantial margin. It is reserved for E. Gerry Brown alone, to-day, the man who is the tabled nominee for supervisor of small loans to relate how he held up the drooping Democratie spirits yesterday and showed that the pereentage figures were applied in the wrong plaee. He says that he took as a normal vote the figures of Frothingham and Cassidy for second plaee last year. Comparing yesterday's returns with them, he found that the figures, instead of being encouraging to the Republicans were all along showing sueh gains of Walsh over Cassidy that the totals, with the lead of Foss over Walsh, would eleet the governor by a few thousand. And the outcome demonstrated that his theory of working on a basis of normal vote was right.

While there is no doubt that the governor told a friend over the telephone this forenoon, right in the hearing of several persons in the room that he should not run for office again, yet a denial is given out by Secretary Harlow this afternoon. Doubtless there are qualifications and shadings which must be understood. One of the Democratie leaders says that it will be impossible for the governor to do as he wishes, for he must yield to the voice of the party, and that it is to be expeeted that he will be heard of next year in eonnection with the national ticket, that the Republiean interest all over the nation has been eentered in Massaehusetts and that sueh a vietory for the seeond time in sueh a rock-ribbed Republiean state as this proves that something may be done presidential year. It is expeeted that this result will lead to mueh activity on the part of the progressive Republieans and it is to be expeeted that the movement, for which a loeal head has been selected, will soon make a public appearance. There is a rumor that Gov. Foss wants to sueceed Senator Crane and that an offer of $4500 was made to a Western Massachusetts man to come down for a year and do the politieal work. It is a part of the story that Gov. Foss proposes to introduee at the eoming season a reeommendation that there be permitted here a popular expression of preferenee for senator, with the idea that this would prevent Crane from running again, just as it is believed that Senator Lodge is through his eandidaeies and that he will never be chosen by the Legislature again, nor could be eleeted by the people. But these are mentioned to show what rumors are eurrent and some people believe, with no pretense that they are well authentieated.

There is a feeling on the part of some Republieans that the eleetion leaves Joseph Walker the logieal eandidate of the party next year. Some say that he could have been eleeted this year over Foss. A thiek and thin Republiean, who would not vote for Foss tells me that he did not vote for Frothingham, though he would have voted for Walker, because of the standpat attitude whieh the Republiean state convention took on the tariff and beeause he believed that Frothingham was the representative of that influence. A former state senator from Worcester county, in town to-day, is emphatic in saying that Walker could have been eleeted and that if the Republiean party wishes to keep in office it must give the people what they want.

There is the other view, that the election leaves Robert Luee as the logieal candidate for first plaee next year, on the ground that he has already been tested by the running and has won a vietory over the most popular eandidate the Democrats could nominate, a man who has been the favorite orator of both parties of the campaign and who aroused more enthusiasm than any other man on the stump. This is offset by rehearsal of the objeetions to Luee as a candidate handicapped by his support of unpopular features of the direct nominations law, by his identification with the temperanee people and by other qualities which eaused him to be regarded as less liberal than the average voter. On the other hand, it is urged that Walker has not been aeeeptable to either Lodge or Crane with his radieal views, and that he cannot expect their support. During the coming months there will eertainly be eareful study of this problem of leadership.

Comparison of the votes for the first two plaees on the tickets with the four below shows that Massachusetts is still a strong Republiean state on state issues for the plain administrative state offices. The majority of the minor candidates of from 27,000 to 37,000 shows that there is a solid Republican strength not yet shaken, and that it is only by the independent votes that the Democratie candidates have seeured their pluralities. The margin for Attorney General Swift is one of the features which some want to see explained, for he had a margin of 32,745, or more than any of the four, exeept Treasurer Stevens, with 37,112. It is to be notieed, too, that he had a higher vote (208,715) which was larger than that of any of the four exeept that of 210,269 for Stevens. The New Bedford issue was not pressed at the front as it might have been, and the observer will note that the trouble down there has to do with the Ashley administration, and that Ashley is a Demoerat. One of the stories about the New Bedford eorruption yesterday is that the joke is on the voters who sold out, for they were to get $5 eaeh if their candidate won,—$1 down and $4 after he was elected. But he was defeated, and hence these tears.

Demoerats complain that there was no money for getting their vote to the polls. One of the Boston grumblers said that if anybody wanted to vote he had to walk, and he spoke of it as if it had been a hardship. One of Foss's friends told him that if he put out money for teams he could have had 40,000 margin, but the governor has put down his foot that he will not spend money for that object in addition to his other expenditures.

Every eandidate for presiding offieer of the Senate or House was eleeted yesterday on the Republican side. Of course the drop of the Democratic membership of the House from 112 to 97 disposes of the ease of Martin M. Lomasney as eandidate for speaker. But the sueeess of five Republieans and six representatives who are eandidates for president and speaker respectively insures a lively eontest from now till the issue is decided. Senator Tinkham of Suffolk told one of the state officials recently that he was going to be president of the Senate. Representative Cushing of Boston has told me that he is going to be speaker of the House and has the nomination assured. Yet some other members still think that it would be well to have an eleetion. The senatorial candidates, besides Tinkham, are Messrs. Greenwood of Worcester, Bennett of Essex, Blanehard of Middlesex and Barnes of Norfolk. The six eandidates for the speakership are Messrs. Washburn of Worcester, Haigis of Montague, Woleott of Milton, Cavanaugh of Everett, Cushing of Boston, and Underhill of Somerville. While there seems to be no doubt that Cushing has more members pledged to him than any of the other eandidates, yet the prospeet favors the field against him. Quite likely there will be a combination of some one who ean hold the votes of the other members and prevent them from scattering. The temptation of committee places counts for something and the leader has the advantage in such a contest. The doubtful element is whether the Republieans ought to take another Back Bay man.

Landon.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attaek of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable eures of colds and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

GOT AT A BARGAIN.

Miss Chance—Miss Parvenue has a splendid collection of portraits of her ancestors Where did she get them?

Mr Wise—At a rummage sale, most likely.

Daily Thought.

The noisy waves are failures, but the great silent tide is success. . . . Do you know what it is to be failing every day and yet to be sure that your life, as a whole, in its great movement and meaning, is not failing but succeeding?—Phillips Brooks.

She Knew.

"Of course I'll not let you kiss me," she declared.

"But perhaps you don't understand how pleasant it will be."

"Yes I do—I understand all about it. Even from here I can smell the onions you've been eating."

Blocks Curiosity.

Proof against the curious is a double envelope that a Frenchman has invented. The flap of each envelope seals against the back of the other so that the contents cannot be removed without destroying the cover

As a Cynic Sees It.

We are informed by the esteemed Kansas City Star that "the average citizen has only one chance in 24,000 to live to be 100 years old." Sometimes the average citizen almost convinces us that one chance in 24,000 is too many.

Squanderers.

Philosophers have been, they say,
For ages impecunious elves,
They gave their good advice away
Instead of taking it themselves.

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's cough remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by all dealers.

"Fair and Square Credit."

Men and Women

Do You Want Handsome CLOTHING? Do You Want It Now? Do You Want Credit?

Here's Just a Word About Our Idea of Credit

We believe that it's just as reasonable for us to offer and give credit to a working man or woman or anybody else who may not have a bank account, as it is for the so-called "CASH" stores to offer and give credit to people who they know are well fixed in a money way.

All we ask is that the purchaser be HONEST. We'll give the most reasonable and considerate credit, AND OUR PRICES ARE NOT ONE PENNY higher than those of the best cash stores in this city. No matter what people may tell you about prices in credit stores, you'll find prices here, in the oldest credit store in Western New England, NOT ONE PENNY higher than the stores that ask you for cash, and will give credit freely to people they know well.

We've a Splendid Display of Men's and Women's Garments

Women's Fine Coats, $15 to $27
Women's and Misses' Suits, $16.50 to $30
Men's Suits and Overcoats, $12 to $30

Call to See Us --- We Can Surely Please You.

Benj. Goldstein, Inc.
17-19 Elm St., Court Square Building
Springfield, Mass.

"Fair and Square Credit."

Crawford-Plummer Co.,

402 Main St. Springfield, Mass.

Wonderful Values in Tailored Suits

Our unprecedented business during the month of October, indicates the stronghold this women's specialty store has taken in centering the attention of women seeking the best in ready made.

With an outlet of four retail stores, and a general wholesale trade covering the country, is easy to account for the prices we quote on stylish outer apparel.

Serge and Mixture Suits $12.75

These suits at $12.75 are great values. Materials are serges, fancy striped worsteds, and cheviots. Navy blue and black are prominent. Coats lined with guaranteed satin; all sizes in the lot.

Tailored and Fancy Suits $16.50

We are showing fully two dozen distinct styles at the above price. The cloths are mixtures, serges, and broadcloths, in a good range of colors. Women's and misses' sizes.

Stunning New Suits at $19.75 and 25.00

Plain tailored and trimmed styles. In rough mixtures, tweeds, chiffon broadcloths, wide wale serges, and novelty mixtures. Nowhere else will you find such an assortment of styles, materials and sizes as we show in our $19.75 and $25 Suits.

Coats For All Occasions

Our coat department is full to overflowing with the best that fashion has decreed in Separate Coats, whether for rough and ready wear or evening dress. We have them in tremendous assortments, Polo, Motor, Broadcloth, Plush, Caracul, Heavy mixtures, etc., in a price range from - - - - - - - - $9.75 to $35

Thorndike
Three Rivers
Bondsville

Many items of interest from these busy villages.

THORNDIKE.

Brosnan—Shea.

The wedding of Miss Anna Brosnan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brosnan of Main street, to John A. Shea of Bondsville took plaee Wednesday morning, followed by a nuptial mass in St. Mary's church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Griffin, pastor. Miss May Brosnan, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Daniel Shea, a brother of the groom, was best man. Following there was a reception and breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, which was attended by only members of the families. The newly-wedded couple left for a short wedding tour. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts.

Griffin—Sullivan.

Dr. Euliek F. Sullivan of North Adams, formerly of this plaee, where he practieed medieine for some time, was united in marriage Wednesday at Holyoke to Miss Joanna M. Griffin. The eeremony was performed by Rev. John F. Griffin, a brother of the bride and assistant pastor of the church of the Holy Rosary. Miss Helen Sullivan of Belchertown, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Cornelius Sullivan, brother of the groom, was best man.

Death of John Sullivan.

John Sullivan, 60, died at his home near Hastings Crossing this morning after a brief illness of stomach trouble. Mr. Sullivan had been employed as flagman by the Boston and Maine at Hastings Crossing for a number of years, and was well known. He is survived by a widow and two children. The funeral will be Saturday from St. Bartholomew's church, Bondsville.

Whooping cough is quite prevalent in town at present.

John Foley, who resides on the Warren road near Palmer Center, is seriously ill.

Giles Roche is ill with diphtheria at the home of his parents at the upper village.

Wilbur McElwain of Kokomo, Ind., was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Fanny Keith, this week.

Thomas Morrison of New York was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Frank McCuska, for a short stay the past week.

Work on the new Main street sewer has commeneed and is being pushed with all possible speed. Streeter & Streeter have the contract.

The chicken-pie supper and entertainment given Wednesday evening at the Congregational church was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Tickets are now on sale by the children of the Sunday school of St. Mary's church for the annual coffee party, which will be held in church hall Thanksgiving night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason W. Miller announee the engagement of their daughter, Ethel May, to Alva Newton Fisher of New York city. The wedding will take plaee in the near future.

The second annual harvest social given Wednesday evening by the Young Bachelors' Club of this plaee, with music by McEnelly's orchestra, was largely attended and a success in every particular.

The many friends in Thorndike of Roswell Hastings were greatly surprised to learn of his sudden death in South Belchertown Sunday. Mr. Hastings was well known here and was for years a member of the Congregational church.

THREE RIVERS.

High Rollers Defeat Mohawks

An interesting match took plaee on the Y. P. I. A. alleys between the High Rollers and the Mohawks one evening this week. Score:

High Rollers.
F. Twiss	74	78	73	225
S. Cole	89	86	90	265
R. Cole	81	88	86	255
A. Rogers	88	93	92	273
	332	345	341	1018
Mohawks.
W. Ritchie	91	79	80	250
I. Cole	99	77	67	243
A. Garvaise	85	79	75	239
J. Paulin	95	93	76	264
	370	328	298	996

Brunswicks Win Match.

The Brunswicks took two points from the Mohawks the other evening. Score:

Brunswicks.
Trickett	81	89	85	255
J. Fogarty	86	89	71	246
Pierce	84	78	72	234
Upham	116	90	87	293
	367	346	315	1028
Mohawks.
I. Cole	96	94	82	272
Garvaise	59	83	76	217
W. Ritchie	68	86	83	237
J. Paulin	88	80	91	359
	311	342	332	983

Funeral of Raymond L. Murdock.

The funeral of Raymond Lester Murdock, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. George Murdock, was held at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. William Kuss, on Palmer street Saturday afternoon at 2.30. The service was conducted by Rev. C. B. McDuffie, assisted by Rev. Paul Webber. Several selections were effectively rendered by the Union church quartet, composed of Miss Alice Turkington, Miss Ritchie, Mr. Pierce and Mr. Cole. The bearers were Merrill Fenton, William Magee, Robert Swain and Samuel Matchett. There was a large and beautiful floral offering contributed by friends and relatives. Burial was in Four Corners cemetery.

Surprise Visit.

Thomas Cole was pleasantly surprised by a number of the young people at his home on Main street last Saturday evening. He was presented with a watch fob, Miss Beatrice Abare making the presentation speech. There were guests present from the other villages, and all enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Chicken Thieves At Work.

Chicken thieves are again at work in this village. They have visited the coops of James Barber and Ernest Barber, and also those at the Tenser farm. They were kind enough to provide food for the captives, helping themselves to grain at the home of Ernest Barber.

Bradford Stone spent Sunday at his home in Springfield.

John Duprey has accepted a position with Charles Ruggles.

Nathan Cramer spent Sunday with his family in Worcester.

Wilfred Matte of Ware was the guest Sunday of relatives here.

Clinton Frame visited friends in Springfield over the week-end.

David Callahan of Holyoke visited friends at the Riverside Sunday.

A Democratic rally was held Sunday afternoon at Cercle Canadien Hall.

Charles Kenworthy has resigned his position as machinist in Palmer Mill.

Miss Elizabeth Riddle has taken a position as singer at the Bijou in Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Senecal of Springfield spent Tuesday in this place.

H. C. Newell of Springfield spent the first of the week at his home on High street.

John O'Donald of the Riverside spent the week end at his home in Indian Orchard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson and daughter Marion spent the week-end in Boston.

Miss Maude Sands of Fitchburg is spending a few days with friends in this village.

Emile Bengle of East Longmeadow spent the week-end with relatives in this village.

Herbert Fulton of Gilbertville spent Sunday at the home of John Matchett on Main street.

Raymond R. Warriner and friend of Springfield visited Sunday at his home on Maple street.

Miss Clara Holmes, teacher in the fifth grade, spent the week-end at her home in Chester.

Mrs. J. J. Mills and son Harold have returned from a visit with relatives in New Hampshire.

P. C. Story and Charles P. Haynes have been drawn as jurors for the Spencer murder trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Provost have returned to the Wenimesset after spending the summer in Vermont.

Frazer Duthwright of East Longmeadow was the guest Sunday of his father at the Riverside Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mullen of Ware were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie on Palmer road.

Matthew Horgan of Holyoke was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horgan on Main street.

Mrs. George Moore has returned to her home on Springfield street after a visit of several days in Nashua, N. H.

Miss Efronne Sirard of Holyoke, formerly of this place, spent a few days the first of the week with friends here.

Moses Smith has resumed his work in West Springfield after spending about a week at his home on Palmer street.

James Cassells of West Springfield spent Saturday and Sunday with his family at his home on Belchertown street.

Peter Labelle and Edward Picotte of Belchertown spent the first of the week at their respective homes in this village.

Miss Marion Sands of Fitchburg was the guest for a few days of Dr. and Mrs. S. O. Miller at their home on High street.

Mrs. Nelson Matte and Mrs. John Gibeleau spent the latter part of the week as guests of relatives in West Springfield.

Bernard Allen has returned to New Hampshire after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Allen of Maple street.

The friends of Dr. W. C. Tannebring will be pleased to know that he has been appointed demonstrator of operative dentistry at Tufts College.

Quite a number of new books have been purchased for the library of the Union church Sunday school. They will be ready for distribution next Sunday.

Misses Rose and Ida Austin and Master Oliver Austin of Thorndike were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freak on Springfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell have returned to their home in Philadelphia after visiting here several weeks. Mrs. T. Powell accompanied them for a short visit.

Mrs. William Freak has returned to her home in Hartford, Ct., after spending a week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollet of Bourne street.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. George Richardson on High street Wednesday at 2 p. m. to sew. This is the regular monthly business meeting.

Several cases of chicken pox have been reported in the schools here and it is to be hoped that there will not be an epidemic as it would lower the percent of attendance greatly.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held the latter part of the week at the home of Mrs. J. H. Trickett. The ladies are planning to hold a sale of food and fancy articles some time in December.

As shown by the records in this paper last week the Three Rivers schools are much below the schools in the other villages in regard to tardy marks. The trouble is mainly among the smaller children. The teachers are making an earnest endeavor to correct this matter and are meeting with a slight degree of success. But little can be done in this direction without the co-operation of the parents. In several cases, in fact in the majority of cases, the parents seem at fault and it is hoped that they will see that their children are on time.

Next Sunday will be observed as Old Home Sunday at the Union church. Saturday evening refreshments will be served in the vestry to the out of town guests, after which there will be a social, to which all are invited. At the Sunday morning service at 10.45, Rev. H. C. Newell will preach. Sunday school will meet at 12 and there will be addresses by former superintendents and teachers of the Sunday school. At the evening service Rev. C. W. Christie will preach. Mr. Christie was pastor of the church 21 years ago. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will also be observed.

BONDSVILLE.

A cottage prayer meeting was held last evening at the parsonage.

Miss Bernice Hart of Palmer spent Sunday with Miss Viola Marsan.

John Ferris of Chicopee Falls is spending a few days with relatives in town.

Miss Nellie Monaghan entertained Mr. and Mrs. John F. Monaghan last week.

Miss Johanna Griffin has accepted a position in Springfield and gone there to work.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davis spent Sunday with their son, F. K. Davis, in Springfield.

Mrs. James Mansfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summers in Springfield.

Daniel Shea acted as best man at the Brosnan—Shea wedding in Thorndike Wednesday.

Byron Morse returned Sunday night from a short visit at his home in Whitensville.

Miss Laura Bond is a guest this week of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Cordner in Longmeadow.

A. M. Billings is spending a week's vacation hunting in the vicinity of Williamsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rose are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Friday.

Twenty from this village attended the chicken pie supper in Thorndike Wednesday evening.

Charles Merrifield of Detroit, Mich., was a guest Sunday of his sister, Mrs. Rowland McFarlane.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rhansenhousen of Longmeadow were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Albro.

Charles Billings of Springfield spent Sunday at the home of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings.

Winfield Marsan of Brightwood was a guest over Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adalard Marsan.

Christopher Magee Jr. of Springfield was a guest over Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Magee.

Miss Alice Banister returned Sunday night from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson in Putnam, Ct.

R. L. Bond Sr. and son Rufus will spend Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Cordner in Longmeadow.

Miss Mary McBride of Palmer has accepted a position as stenographer in the cloth room of the Boston Duck Co.

Charles Lane of Springfield and Thomas Shea of Chicopee were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Shea.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings entertained Sunday Oscar Fairbanks of Springfield and Samuel Stearns of Amherst.

William Albro, a student at the Springfield Technical School, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents.

A poverty social and dance will be held at the Boston Duck hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for members and their families.

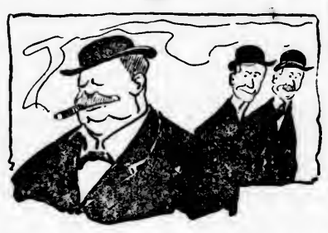
Mrs. John Heys, who has been for seven weeks in a hospital in Boston for treatment, returned home Friday, improved in health.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. A. M. Billings. These ladies will serve: Mrs. W. H. Upham, Mrs. F. E. Albro, Mrs. Charles Banister, Mrs. A. M. Billings and Mrs. Charles Collis.

Miss Margaret Callahan is at the Wesson Memorial Hospital in Springfield, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, and is doing as well as can be expected. Miss Callahan is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callahan.

The subject of the Sunday morning service will be "Importance of being on one's guard." Sunday school will be held at 11.45, Epworth League service at 6 o'clock. The evening service at 6 o'clock will have for the text "Boasting for the future."

Announcements of the marriage of Miss Jennie E. Fairbanks, for the past few months stenographer for the Boston Duck Co., to Arlie J. Chandler of Springfield were received early this week. While in this village Mrs. Chandler made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Billings. The marriage took place in Springfield Monday, November 6. After a short wedding trip to New York Mr. and Mrs. Chandler will be at home to their friends after December 1 at 100 North Main street.



The following attended the wedding of John Shea of Bondsville, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Shea, and Miss Annie L. Brosnan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brosnan, in St. Mary's church in Thorndike Wednesday: John D. Shea, Misses Elizabeth, Geraldine and Bernadette Shea, Daniel and George Shea, Miss Bridget Austin, Miss Margaret Moriarty, Daniel Austin, Miss Catherine Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shea, Misses Gertrude, Lulu and Anna Shea, Mrs. John Austin, daughter Lucy and son John.

The Good Meal Insured.

Mistress—I have some friends coming to dinner today, Mary, so I want you to cook your very best.

Cook—You can depend on me, ma'am; I've got some friends of me own coming too

NO WONDER, INDEED.

"Plugem Harde, the pugilist, is astonishingly successful."

"No wonder; his private secretary is an ex-college professor."

For pains in the side or chest dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Liniment and bind it on over the seat of pain. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

True Sympathy.

The thin man darted across the platform.

"Will you hold the train a moment for my wife, conduetor?" he gasped. "She is just crossing the street."

"Can't do it," snorted the conductor as he raised his hand to signal the engineer

"B-but, conductor, she's going away to stay six months," cried the thin man. "If she doesn't go now she may change her mind."

"I'll hold it," replied the conductor.

A Question.

Van Swagger—I say, old man, you have no idea what a stunning new car I've got! Why, it runs so smoothly you can't feel it at all! Not a bit of noise, no chugging—you can't hear a sound And it's positively odorless—can't spell a thing! And as for speed—why, it fairly whizzes! You simply can't see it go by!

Van Waggen—H'm, old man. Must be a fine car! Can't feel it, can't hear it, can't smell it, can't see it! How do you know it is there?—Judge.

1848 BRIGHAM'S 1911

All Goods Delivered Free In Palmer.

500 Handsome Coats

In A Hundred Different Styles

Ready to Make This the Greatest Garment Week of the Year.

The weather is here, the demand is urgent, and we have the goods that should make this the greatest garment week of the whole year. To maintain our splendidly complete stock and anticipating the first real cold snap of the season we have supplemented our already big showing until we are able to offer for this week the largest and handsomest collection of coats shown in Springfield this season — 500 beautiful practical garments in every fashion favored style and fabric of the season—a coat to satisfy every individual taste and requirement, and at the widest possible range of prices.

These include coats for every occasion — street coats, all round coats, automobile coats, fancy novelty coats and dressy coats for evening wear. They come in

Plain Tailored Serges and Cheviots
Brand New Models in Double Faced Serges
Exclusive Novelties in Imported Mixtures
Polo Coats and Chinchilla Coats
Double Faced and Reversible Coats
Fancy Novelties in Dressy Coats

The handsomest coats ever shown in Springfield at
$20 $22.50 $25 $27.50 $30 and $35

SPECIAL AT $20—At this popular price we shall show for this week more than 100 handsome coats, including brand new models in the best selling materials of the season, as well as a big variety of sample coats in exclusive novelties — garments made to sell for $30.

D H. Brigham & Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Haynes & Company
Always Reliable
Springfield, Mass.

Your Overcoat

From a showing of over three thousand coats; every one a bright, fresh, new, this season's coat. That's the opportunity we offer you now.

It's the finest lot of Overcoats we have ever shown; stylish coats and dependable coats; coats that it will be a pleasure to wear, for they can be relied upon to keep looking right, keep their shape and wear well.

We wish you might see them while the line is largest. It's a treat to be able to choose an Overcoat from a showing like ours.

Coats at $12, $13.50, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25, $30 and $35.

Monson News.

Monson Academy 21, New Britain 0.

The Monson Academy football team won a decided victory at New Britain, Ct., last Saturday, when they defeated the high school eleven of that city by the score of 21 to 0. The New Britain team are the probable Connecticut Interscholastic champions, but they seemed to be playing a team out of their class. The Monson team walked through their line and made several long-end runs. The entire Monson back field played a brilliant game, while Elliott's playing was a practice. Monson went on the line for three more touchdowns, but were called back for holding and incomplete forward passes. The generalship shown by the Monson team and the good judgment of Dunbar, the Monson quarterback, was responsible for the decisive victory.

Academy Team Defeated.

The Academy football team got the worst defeat of the season Wednesday when they went up against the Springfield Training school second team. The visiting team by steady line playing made 33 points, while the Monson team was scoreless. The visitors outweighed the local team 20 pounds to a man and used their weight to good advantage. Lorenze, the visitors' fullback and captain, was the star of his team, while Elliott seemed to be the only man in the Monson line to show any signs of real playing. Bowker and Peffinger were compelled to do nearly all the playing for the home team, as the Springfield backs came through the Monson line at will. Capt. Smith did not get into the plays, as his knee is still bothering him.

Deer Damage Orchard.

O. J. Wade of the west part of the town has been bothered to a great extent by damage done by deer in his peach orchard. Last Saturday he succeeded in shooting two deer that were doing damage. He notified Game Warden John F. Luman of this district, who investigated and found evidence of damage caused by the animals. The selectmen were notified and a claim for deer damage was made. Chairman of the board John P. Herlihy made an investigation. Mr. Wade has had a large orchard of young trees practically destroyed by deer, some of the trees being eaten off to a stub.

Children Win Prizes For Vegetables.

The prizes awarded by the Massachusetts Agricultural College in the potato growing contest this summer have been announced. O. E. Bradway Jr. and his sister Dorothy, children of O. E. Bradway of this town, president of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society, being the winners. In the Springfield show Master Bradway was awarded the first prize for the best peck of potatoes shown and the second prize for the best plate. His sister was awarded the first prize for the best plate shown.

Edwin Crosby has moved his family to Westfield.

James Shea has returned to Franklin after a few days in town.

Miss Margaret Flynt of Boston is visiting Monson friends.

Mrs. James Gough is seriously ill at her home on Thompson street.

The King's Daughters met Saturday evening with Mrs. P. W. Soule.

There will be a harvest concert in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Mrs. P. Enault and son Harry of Pittsfield are visiting friends in town.

Charles Kennedy has resigned as clerk in the store of James Pendergast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thompson have returned from a visit to South Hadley.

W. B. Whittemore has moved from East Hill to his home on North Main street.

Daniel W. Palmer of Providence, a former resident, is visiting local friends.

Miss Helen Fox has returned to West Brookfield after spending a few days in town.

Mrs. George Ellis and son Holbrook have returned from a visit to Bridgeport, Ct.

Walcott Moore of Hampden avenue has taken a position at James Pendergast's store.

A. E. Dunsford of Trinity College, Hartford, is visiting Henry N. Flynt on High street.

Charles Ricketts and daughter Constance have returned from a visit in Manchester, Ct.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church held a meeting in the church parlors Thursday afternoon.

D. H. C. R. Joanna V. Cantwell will pay an official visit to St. Valerian court in Springfield to-night.

The Dorcas Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock with Mrs. G. A. Andrews on High street.

Robert S. Fay of Massachusetts Agricultural College is spending a few days at his home on Main street.

Miss Margaret Fitzgerald has returned to her home in Norwich, Ct., after a visit with friends in town.

Mrs. George Anderson of South Manchester, Ct., is visiting at the home of N. P. Hanley on Main street.

Monson lodge of Odd Fellows held a meeting Monday evening. The second degree was conferred on one candidate.

A large party of Monson people attended the dance given by the Young Bachelors' club in Thorndike Wednesday.

Miss Grace Sullivan of State street has taken a position with the Travelers' Insurance Company in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. William Authier have returned from their wedding trip and will reside on Bridge street for the present.

Clayton Brown has gone to New York to be treated for the after effects of poliomyelitis. He will remain there for two weeks.

John Morgan and Richard Almstead, who spent Sunday with friends in town, have returned to their home in West Brookfield.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church will serve a supper in the church next Tuesday evening. An entainment given by the young people of the church will follow the supper.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Methodist church gave a supper and apron sale last evening. There will also be a supper and entertainment Dec. 5.

The Current Events Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. W. Ellis. The meeting was in charge of Miss Nellie F. Squires. The next meeting will be with Miss E. R. Holmes.

A special meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held next Thursday for inspection. Department officers will be present. A supper will be served to all corp members at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Timothy Connor gave a linen shower at her home on Main street Friday evening in honor of Miss Annie Brosnan of Thorndike. About 30 of her Palmer and Monson friends were present.

The entertainment under the auspices of the Congregational Sunday school, which was given in the chapel Friday evening, was largely attended. The parts were well taken and the music was excellent.

The Teachers' Study Club met Friday evening with Mr. Wheeler at his home on Fountain street. Following the roll-call two papers were read, one by Miss Carpenter and the other by Miss Bennett.

John W. Rochford has completed for this year the concrete sidewalk work for the town. More work was done this year than formerly, as walks were laid around the Mechanic street school. The largest strip laid this year was on Pease avenue.

The Current Events Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. F. A. Wheeler on Fountain street. Mrs. F. S. Chapman read a paper on "The War of 1812," Mrs R. H. Cushman on the "Development of transportation," and Mrs. H. F. Dewing on "Washington Irving."

L. C. Flynt of High street had several of his valuable stock fowls killed by a bulldog last week. The dog was shot by Mr. Flynt, but not until he had killed eight fowls and had injured several. Mr. Flynt notified the selectmen, who made an investigation and adjusted the loss.

Ensign R. C. Needham of the United States navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Needham of this town, has been commissioned lieutenant (junior grade) in the navy from September 13, 1911. He is at present on the flag ship Minnesota, where he has charge of the after gun turrets containing two 12-inch guns.

The body of William Hunter was brought here Saturday from Springfield, where he died. Mr. Hunter was a former resident of Monson and leaves a sister, Mrs. Margaret Sweet of Monson and a nephew, Frank Hunter of Chicopee. Rev. Abram Conklin of the Universalist church officiated at the funeral service, and burial was in No. 1 cemetery.

The Century Club and the members of the Current Events club and invited guests held a joint meeting with the Palmer Woman's club at the Quaboag Country Club at North Monson to-day at 3 o'clock. Miss Martha Shannon of Boston gave an address on "Art in Lace." She illustrated her talk by stereopticon views. All women attending the meeting were requested to bring samples of old lace.

The street lights have been greatly improved by the Central Massachusetts electric company. New fixtures have been put in all over the town and the lights are all 15 feet from the ground. Tungsten lamps have been installed and each light will give an additional seven candle power through the change. The lights were tried Monday night for the first time and a great improvement was noted.

Academy Notes.

The report cards for September and October will be distributed next Tuesday.

The Academy football team will meet the Connecticut State College eleven of Storrs, Ct., on the local gridiron to-morrow afternoon at 3.30.

A meeting of the Philomathean society has been arranged for this evening. The feature number on the program will be the opening act of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." The cast of character follows:

Thesus,	Miss Tolman
Kippolyta,	Miss Rogers
Egeus,	Miss Gulhan
Hermia,	Miss Ellis
Helena,	Miss Fagan
Lysander,	Miss Squier
Demetrius,	Miss Cadwell
Philostrius,	Miss Corish

The remaining part of the program will be: "Life of Shakespeare," Miss McPherson; recitation, "Shakespeare Sonnet," Miss Dalton; music, Miss Pendergast.

The fourth division of rhetoricals was presented Wednesday morning under the supervision of Miss Tolman. This division received the average of .82, which is the highest mark of any division this year. The program follows in order of the marks received: Jenkins, selections from "Webster's Reply to Hague;" Miss Ellis, "Marguerite of France;" Miss Keep, selection from "Julius Caesar;" Gillette, "The Duel;" Kimber, selection from "King Henry V;" Edward Hillard, "Rome and Carthage;" Granfield, "Heroism of the Hungarian People;" Elliot, selection from "Julius Caesar;" Miss Murphy, "The Perfect Woman;" W. Foley, "Washington on his Appointment as Commander-in-Chief;" Grindell, "The First American Congress;" D. Francis, "Lincoln's Farewell Words at Springfield;" Miss Edison, "How He Saved St. Michaels."

The One Who Suffers.

Well, get cross and angry, and fussy and cranky if you want to, you are the one who suffers the most, because you cannot run away from yourself. Others may make their escape from your vicinity, but you must always take yourself with you.

Rubbing It In.

The Departing Guest—Look here, you know This is a bit thick. You charge for writing paper and I haven't used a tally scrap all the time I've been here."

The Proprietor—Ah, pardon, m'sieu. It is for the paper on which your bill is made out!—London Opinion.

Only Use He Could See.

"Why are people so anxious to find the south pole?"

"It'll save a lot of money when they do."

"How?"

"There won't be any more expeditions to look 'or it them."—Stray Stories.

Season of Calmness.

Jane Jones said to me: "In case of not knowin' what to do next, I've found it handy to set around a spell and do nothin'. Arter that you're always some calmer and kin hoop yourself in."

Uncle Ezra Says.

"It's a purty steep climb up the ladder uv fame, an' therefore a purty easy matter to tumble off."—Boston Herald.

Many Children Are Sickly.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children break up Colds in 24 hours, relieve Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, and Destroy Worms. At all druggists, 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

We always have what we advertise. Springfield—Worcester.

Shake Hands With Brandegee Kincaid & Co. Clothes—Young Man

A clothing acquaintance thus begun will lead to many a month of solid satisfaction. These clothes are the kind you take to on the spot—sort of natural like, you know. But more than that—they wear well—make good in every way you can ask them to. Got to, for they're every thread wool and really hand-tailored. Don't fail to see these suits and overcoats. Drop in Saturday.

$18, $20, $22 up to $35

Other good suits and overcoats as low as $10.

The W. J. Woods Co.,

Cor. Main Street and Harrison Avenue.

Springfield, Mass.

EASY.

Ruyter—Did you find it difficult to interview Miss Nera Mann, the woman's rights agitator?

Scribbler—No, it was easy. All I had to do was to sit still and answer questions.

Seeking Explanation.

In vain the bard doth woo the muses,
And inspiration cometh not,
It may be 'cause much thought confuses,
It may be 'cause the weather's hot.

Deep Water.

"They're in society now."

"That's so."

"Do you hear anything like a faint call for help?"

Virtues That Command Success.

Vigilance in watching opportunity; tact and daring in seizing upon opportunity; force and persistence in crowding opportunity to its utmost of possible achievement—these are the martial virtues which must command success.—Phelps.

Mrs. Rose

Late of New York City.

Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.

Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.

Telephone 49-11.

17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

Boys' $1.00 All-wool Athletic Sweaters, 50c
Men's $2.00 Soft Hats, 50c
Men's $1.00 Bosom Shirts, 39c
Infants' Fleeced Undervests, 10c
Gas Mantles, 10c
Opal Gas Globes, 10c

Hellyar's Bargain Store

Converse House Block, Palmer, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

Albert Steiger Company

THE WOMAN'S STORE.

Springfield, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

5000 Mill Ends of Silks

At a Mere Fraction of Original Cost

As a particular favor to us a well-known manufacturer of silks sold us his entire season's production of mill ends in silks. We've combined these with our own accumulation of short lengths since our last Clearance, and now offer them at a mere tithe of former prices. These remnants run from 1-4 to 1 1-2 yards in length and are grouped in lots for quick selling. There are silks in these lots that originally sold as high as $2.50 per yard. Certainly a rare opportunity to secure silks for fancy work for Christmas gifts. Lots 7c, 17c and 27c a piece

500 Pieces of Black and Colored Velvets and Velveteens in lengths of 1-6 to 3-8 yards. Values to $3 a yard---Lots at 7c and 17c a piece

Corsetry Lecture and Live Model Demonstration La Resista Corsets This Week. 3 to 4 o'clock Daily

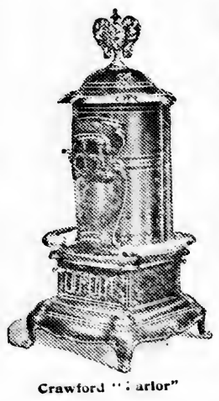
Madame De Peyster of New York, an authority on figure building, lectures daily in our Corset Section from 3 to 4 o'clock. You'll be interested.

Second Floor.

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The Rayo Lamp is the best and most serviceable lamp you can find for any part of your home.

It is in use in millions of families. Its strong white light has made it famous. And it never flickers.



In the dining-room or the parlor the Rayo gives just the light that is most effective. It is a becoming lamp—in itself and to you. Just the lamp, too, for bedroom or library, where a clear, steady light is needed.

The Rayo is made of solid brass, nickel-plated; also in numerous other styles and finishes. Easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and rewick.

Ask your dealer to show you his line of Rayo lamps; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Crawford Parlor Stoves

Crawford "Parlor"

"Crawford Parlor." A genuine indirect draft stove with full return flue; the smoke passes down between the firepot and the outside casing of the stove to a flue beneath the ashpan, thence up and out through the back smoke pipe to the chimney, giving more heat and burning less coal. The grate center slides forward for dumping. Large clinker door; wide, deep ashpan; dust damper; nickel rails removable. Four sizes.

"Tropic" Crawford

"Tropic Crawford." With or without down draft back pipe. Draw center grate. Best stove made at the price. Nickel rails removable.

Crawford "Wood Parlor"

Crawford "Wood Parlor." In this new heating stove for wood the front door swings open to give the effect of a fire-place. By moving a slide in this door the fire can be seen without opening the door itself. The slide openings are protected by wire gauze. The main top swings to one side and underneath it is a large plate that lifts to admit large pieces of wood.

This stove is made in both direct and indirect draft styles. It is strongly made and very handsome. Three sizes, to burn 19, 22 or 25 inch lengths.

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., 31-35 Union St., Boston

For sale by Whitcomb & Faulkner, Palmer Agents

VIOLIN AND PIANO LESSONS
Given by
Julia A. Allen, Palmer, Mass.
Orders promptly filled for Music, Violins, Strings, etc.

ASHAMED OF HER FACE

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Pickard of North Carolina. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema and that was three years ago."

This is but one of thousands of cases in which D. D. D. has simply washed away the skin trouble. D. D. D. cleanses the skin of the germs of Eczema, Psoriasis and other serious skin diseases; stops the itch instantly, and when used with D. D. D. soap the cures seem to be permanent. Nothing like D. D. D. for the complexion.

Trial bottle 25 cents, enough to prove the merit of this wonderful remedy.

We can also give you a full size bottle for $1.00 on our absolute guarantee that if this very first bottle fails to give you relief it will cost you nothing.

BAY STATE DRUG CO. (INC.)

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

THERE IS NO CASE OF
INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, RHEUMATISM, BLOOD OR SKIN DISEASE
arising from a disordered stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys which

"SEVEN BARKS"

will not materially benefit, or permanently cure; this has been proven for the past 42 years. Ask your parents, or neighbors, about SEVEN BARKS, as thousands have testified to its merits. Don't delay to get a 50 cent bottle at your druggist, and start yourself on the road to complete recovery.
LYMAN BROWN, 68 Murray St., New York, N.Y.

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns

For Women

Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the reliable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.

Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.

McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, simplicity, economy and number sold. More dealers sell McCall Patterns than any other two makes combined. None higher than 15 cents. Buy from your dealer, or by mail from

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
236-246 W. 37th St., New York City

Free—Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request

An Island Bride

How I Made a Match on Halloween

By Mrs. SARAH B. ROBERTS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

On the coast of Maine is an island (Bailey's island) where I have a summer cottage. My place is on the east side of the island, and on that side the Atlantic's waves are unbroken by any land or shoals, so that they come singing in upon the rocks. Surrounding the house, except on the sea side, are fir trees, whose odor hangs pleasantly upon the air, especially pure in that region. The people who live on Bailey's island on Orr's island, being next north of Bailey's, are mostly fisher folk, though some of them do a little farming in vegetables and milk.

The several summers during my occupancy of my cottage a girl about seventeen years old—Myra Crofts was her name—brought me milk. She drove about among her customers in a little buckboard wagon drawn by a small horse, so used to his mistress' stops that he would stand quietly wherever he was placed. Myra was a study for an artist. Her clothes were of the poorest, but her face was comely and her figure fit for a model for a statue. I did my own housework and used to receive the girl at the kitchen door, and since I liked her would always speak a pleasant word. One day I said to her:

"Myra, it seems to me that it is nearly time you were getting a husband."

"Oh, dear, no," she replied, showing by a toss of her head that the subject deeply interested her. "There's no one on the island who wants me, and I never go off it. And, as for the summer visitors, the young men are all too much taken up with the visiting girls to notice one who peddles milk."

I had my eye on a young fisherman, to whom I had taken as much fancy as I had for Myra. During the months of July and August he gave his attention to the summer visitors, taking them out in his motorboat, but after they had gone he would return to his fishing. I went out with him frequently and had every confidence in his ability as a skipper. There are numerous ledges in Casco bay, and Ned Ballard could sail among them almost with his eyes shut. I was once with him in a fog some seven or eight miles out to the eastward, numerous islands and reefs intervening between us and home. Ballard brought me into port safely, never lying to for a moment, and when we landed I said to him:

"How in the world did you do it?"

"Oh, to me," he replied, "it's like your walking about in your own house in the dark. I notice the flow of the tide by the direction of the buoys. I occasionally get a glimpse of a rock, a bit of shore, a point, which confirms me in my opinion as to where I am."

This was all unintelligable to me, for I had during the whole period seen nothing but that driving fog so common on that coast.

It occurred to me that Ned Ballard and Myra Crofts would make a good match. Ned brawny and strong, Myra a fine specimen of a country girl. So interested was I in bringing the two together by a plan I conceived that when the season ended and the other summer residents and visitors departed I stayed on. For a few days after the hegira from country to city I felt lonely at the changed appearance the region took on, but as soon as I became accustomed to the new regime I felt more pleasure in my surroundings than ever. There was above me the great blue dome of the heavens, about me the waters of the bay, and I breathed in as pure air as it is possible to find on the globe.

To carry out my scheme for bringing my two favorites together I was obliged to stay till after Halloween, for on that day it was to be put in practice. My sailing days were not so frequent now since Ned Ballard was engaged with his fishing. His work was in the night, and he slept by day. He fished principally for mackerel, spreading his nets at set of sun and taking them up at its rising, and when lucky would find them well filled with fish, which he sold at a handsome price. He told me that in one haul he once took in 1,300 pounds.

Moonlight nights were his favorite time to fish. There was sufficient light by which to work, but not enough for the fish down in the water to see the nets in which their fins were caught. I have myself seen him out between my cottage and Ragged island—so called from its ragged shore—and when his boat would lie in the moon's shimmer I could almost recognize the silhouette of his figure.

That year Halloween came at the full of the moon. I had thought of inviting Ned and Myra to my cottage unknown to each other and contriving to have them see each other's reflection in mirrors, but Ned was having such luck with his fishing and the light of the moon was so valuable to him that I could not prevail upon him to give me even one night. So I was obliged to invent another plan.

Ned knew very little about Halloween. He had heard of it, but did not know that on that evening girls were liable to get a vision of the man they would marry. There was no superstition about him, and I knew it would be impossible for me to induce him to ask Myra to be his wife through a childlike faith in an apparition. But we women are made of different stuff from men, and I could rely on Myra to believe in anything that had the appearance of being supernatural, especially if it pointed to a mate. A few days before Halloween, when she came to deliver milk to me, I said to her:

"Myra, are you going to try to get a glimpse of your future husband on Halloween?"

"I haven't thought of doing so," she replied consciously. "You don't believe in that, do you?"

"Why not? There are lots of queer things in the world. Is it any more wonderful that a girl should see the man she will marry than that messages may be sent through the air without even a wire to conduct them?"

"I never thought of that."

"If I were you, coming as you are to a marriageable age, I would try to get a glimpse of him."

"How?"

"Oh, at 11 o'clock on Halloween night start somewhere. The first unmarried man you meet you will marry."

"Where shall I go?"

"I have it. Go out on the water. I have a small motorboat, which I will lend you. You can run it, can't you?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Well, come here just before 11 o'clock. The moon will be nearly full. I will start you out on the water. You will pass but one person—a man in a boat. He will be your husband."

The innocent creature's face beamed with pleasure. She regarded what I told her as probable, as I had myself many years before considered it possible that with a bit of wedding cake under my pillow I would see my own future mate.

"He will be working at something," I continued, "but I can't just tell you what. You shall see for yourself."

"Oh, dear!" she gasped, putting her hand to her heart. "Do you really mean it?"

"Come at half past 10."

The next afternoon I saw Ned, who had just awakened from his day's slumber, and stopped to ask him how many mackerel he had taken the night before. He told me, and I led the conversation about through various themes till I finally broke away from what I was speaking of, saying:

"By the bye, Ned, do you know that tomorrow night is Halloween?"

"I didn't know it," he said.

"You don't believe in such things, do you?"

"I'm not a child."

"Well, child or no child, on Halloween the girl you are to marry will appear to you while you are working with your nets."

He smiled with the look of one who took but little interest in the matter of Halloween, but would not be averse to seeing a sweetheart.

"Remember," I added, moving on, "I tell you your future wife will sail past you tomorrow night."

"Mermaid on a seashell?" he called after me.

I gave him no reply. All was working well for my plan. I only hoped that the weather would be propitious, for should it storm or the sea be boisterous all would be spoiled.

As I expected, when Myra came to me on Halloween she was as becomingly dressed as her scanty wardrobe would admit. I had procured a flower during the day, which I put in her hair, and replaced her tawdry wrap with a white sweater. The nights are chill on Casco bay, even in summer, and in October they are cold. But Myra had the warm blood of youth in her veins, and I knew a sweater would keep her perfectly comfortable. Fortunately there was no wind, and the sky was covered only by broken clouds that rendered the heavens more beautiful, lighted, as they were, by the moon.

I took my charge down to a stony beach, where, there being only a long, low ocean swell, I had moored it. She got in, and as I pressed her hand at starting I noticed that she was thrilled with emotion. I pushed off the boat, telling her to steer for the north point of Ragged island. I could myself see Ned's boat between me and the point, but Myra was so excited that she was oblivious to it. As I saw her sail out into the moonlight I sent a prayer after her that she would find a husband and happiness.

Of her appearance to the fisherman I learned afterward from himself.

"I confess," he said, "that until I got to work setting my nets I thought of what you had told me, though I did not dream of its coming to pass, but as soon as I was busy I forgot all about it. Then I heard the explosions of a motorboat. Boats are rare out there except in summer, and I wondered who was coming. When the boat came near me I looked up, and there, her face lighted by the moon, standing with one hand on the tiller, was Myra Crofts. I was taken flat aback.

"'Why, Myra,' I exclaimed, 'what brings you out here in the night all alone?'

"She answered never a word, just looking at me strangely out of her eyes, as though moved by some deep feeling. Her boat passed mine and, turning, moved in the moon's shimmer toward the narrow waterway between Orr's and Bailey's islands. I could see it go through and turn northward, doubtless to the anchorage cove a little farther up."

It was Myra's faith that she had seen the man she was to marry that brought success to my scheme. Ned could not resist her innocent belief. The next spring the pair were married, and I was a much interested spectator at the ceremony. My wedding gift was a cottage.

Plans For the Future.

She was a visitor to the prison, kindly and well meaning, and as she chatted with a burglar who had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment she thought she detected signs of reform in him.

"And now," she said, "have you any plans for the future on the expiration of your sentence?"

"Oh, yes, ma'am," he said hopefully. "I've got the plans of two banks and a postoffice."—Stray Stories.

One Advantage of Esperanto.

"There's one good thing about Esperanto."

"Yes?" (Rising inflection.)

"Yes; you can't build a limerick in that language."

Seal Oil Ice Cream.

A favorite dish with the Eskimos is an ice cream made of seal oil into which snow is stirred until the desired consistency has been obtained; then frozen berries of different kinds are added. This decoction is said to be about as tempting to the civilized palate as frozen cod liver oil.

Some Thing.

Gloomy Individual—Have you any prussic acid?

Waitress—Good gracious, no!

Gloomy Individual—Then bring me one of your steak and kidney pies!—London Opinion.

Something Worth Borrowing.

"I'm going right over to call on those people next door."

"But, my dear, they moved in only yesterday. Don't you think you ought to wait a few days?"

"Not at all. I saw a vacuum cleaner among their possessions, and I want to borrow it before somebody else does."

What They Bring Forth.

"And what did May showers bring forth?" asked the funny man.

"Stocking dollies and kitchen utensils for the June brides," replied the woman who knew.

Height of Fame.

"And how is your son Henry getting on in literature?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, he's doing famously," said the proud mother. "His autograph brought $10 the other day."

"Really?"

"Yes—signed to a promissory note for three hundred. I bought it myself."—Harper's Weekly.

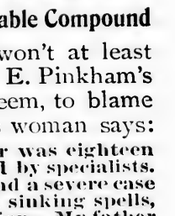
A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo.—"When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever,—my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change."—Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.



Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

The testimonials which are constantly being published in the Pinkham advertisements are guaranteed to be absolutely genuine, honest, and given without reward in any way whatever.

LYDIA E PINKHAM

When purchasing silverware remember that in silver plate no name stands for higher quality or greater durability than the renowned trade mark

"1847 ROGERS BROS. XS TRIPLE"

Ask your dealer to show you the various exquisite patterns in which the "Silver Plate That Wears" can be had. The wide latitude for choice in knives, forks, spoons and fancy serving pieces assures satisfaction to every taste.

Sold by leading dealers everywhere. Send for catalogue "C-L," showing all designs.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO.
(International Silver Co., Successor.)
MERIDEN, CONN.

Bloodine Rheumatic LINIMENT

Positively the Greatest Known Remedy for Quick and Permanent Relief of Pain.

For Bruises, Sprains, Cold in Chest, Headache, Neuralgia, Croup and Rheumatic Pains it is a never failing remedy.

No Home is complete without a bottle of Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment for every day ACCIDENTS and ILLS.

The* BLOODINE CORPORATION. Boston, Mass.

KINSLEY'S PHARMACY, SPECIAL AGENT

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME LXII. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 17, 1911. NUMBER 33.

FIRST IN THE STATE.

New Penny Savings System For Schools Next Week.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK THE PIONEER.

Under Law Passed by Last Legislature. Stamp System to be Done Away With.

A new system of penny savings collections will be inaugurated in the public schools of Palmer next week, displacing the savings banks system which has been in use for several years and has been productive of much good.

The new system will be handled by the Palmer Savings Bank under a law passed by the last Legislature permitting savings banks to engage in that sort of work, the Palmer bank being the first in the state to put the scheme in operation. Application was made to the school committee at its July meeting for permission, which was readily granted. When the law was passed the savings bank commissioner sent out to various banks a set of blanks which he suggested for use in in the work. These proved to be cumbersome, necessitating a large amount of work. Treasurer Charles L. Waid of the Palmer Savings Bank set to work to devise a simpler but effective system, and it is this system which will be tried for the first time in the state in the Palmer schools. It has been subjected to the closest scrutiny by the bank commissioner and others, and is believed will prove satisfactory, entailing a minimum amount of work on the teachers of the schools. Mr. Waid gave a talk Tuesday afternoon in the high school building to the teachers of the schools, explaining the system.

He began with a short history of the establishment of the penny savings system, which was introduced by the Home Penny Savings Society of Boston. It was intended to inculcate habits of thrift among adults in the saving of small sums, and collectors went from door to door receiving the amounts to be deposited, as savings banks are unable to receive very small amounts—less than one dollar. The plan finally attracted the attention of some women's clubs and they introduced it into the public schools, where the collections are made in any amount, the total then being deposited in banks in bulk and credit being given each child.

Mr. Waid digressed here to remark that savings banks are probably the nearest approach to the socialistic idea of common ownership of any business concern. Savings banks are owned by the depositors—not by a group of stockholders—and every penny of the profits after the expense of management has been paid goes direct to the depositors. In this it differs vastly from a corporation owned by stockholders, who divide among themselves the profits of the business. He described the organization and working scheme of a savings bank, showing how the trustees were chosen for their proved business ability in their own vocations, the idea being that they owe the community in which they have made their success some service for what they have gained from it. These serve without any remuneration, the only ones to be paid anything being the members who serve on the investment committee, and they receiving only sufficient to reimburse them for actual money expended in the performance of their duties.

The school savings scheme finally began to attract the attention of state officials, they recognizing that if habits of frugality and thrift are begun young they will very likely last through life, thus tending to make these persons more nearly if not quite self-supporting and so lessening the likelihood of becoming state or town charges in mature years. The child has the same right to save pennies that the grown person has to save dollars. The system is not a question of profit to the savings banks, but a question of teaching and helping the child to lay up something for the future.

Mr. Waid then explained his system, with the aid of the blanks prepared; it is extremely simple. A sheet large enough to hold the names of all the pupils of a room is ruled into spaces providing collection days for five months of the school year, the plan being to have collections made on a certain day of the week. In connection with each month are columns for receipts, paid to bank for deposit, and balance remaining. After the names of the pupils have been written on the sheet they are credited opposite their names with the amount they deposit

[Continued on Second Page]

Water Tank Gets Afire.

Incendiary Blaze in C. V. Yard Early Saturday Morning.

A fire in a water tank seems rather an incongruous proposition, but that is what the firemen found when they turned out at 4.15 last Saturday morning in response to the triple 15 call which signifies that the work is inside the fire district but not serious enough to warrant a full alarm.

The blaze was in the large tank at the Central Vermont yard, used for filling the locomotives. The firemen found a brisk blaze in the interior at the bottom, where the entrance pipes and the supporters of the tank are enclosed, and up under the roof of the tank. Two streams soon killed out the most of the blaze, but it took climbing and chemicals to put out the fire which had worked under the roof. There was every prospect that the fire had been set in the interior on the ground; the building had recently been painted and the fire ran up the new paint and under the roof in short order.

After the fire was out it was discovered that two of the locomotives housed in the yard close by for the night were out of water and the fires had to be drawn. The firemen kindly filled the tender tanks from their hose later. There was a suggestion that the water supply in the tenders had been tampered with, but this is scouted by the railroad officials. The alarm was given first by blowing the locomotive whistles, but their efforts were not very loud and Officer Crammins phoned to Chief Summers that the services of the department were needed.

Would Abandon Highway.

New Railroad Asks to Have Old Palmer Road Discontinued.

A hearing will be held December 16th by the county commissioners at the home of Mary E. DeLand on the Palmer and Brimfield highway in Palmer, on the petition of the Southern New England railroad company for the discontinuance of the highway in Palmer lying between the old Palmer and Warren road and the road leading from the Palmer and Brimfield road to the Studley place. The road in question is known as the road from the Keith place to Palmer Center, and the company wants to have it abandoned so that it may be crossed at grade. If the road is maintained as a public highway the railroad will have to go under or over it, as the charter does not allow it to make any grade crossings. It is claimed that the road is little used and that other roads in the vicinity are sufficient to care for the traffic now going over the road. Judge Thomas W. Kendrick of Palmer is for the railroad company.

Spencer Murder Trial Jurors.

One Eastern Hampden Man Serving. Several Others Rejected.

The little town of Holland in Eastern Hampden county is furnishing one of the jurors in the trial of Bertram Spencer of Springfield for the murder of Miss Martha Blaekstone in that city March 31, 1910. The Holland man is Ernest M. Bennett, a farmer, and he was the eighth to be chosen. There is one other juror from this section, Charles Graham of Ludlow, the sixth man to be chosen.

There were others from this section whose names were called, but they were excused or challenged for the following reasons: George Ezekiel of Palmer, insurance agent, formed an opinion; William Brown of Palmer, merchant, excused on account of ill health; Edward P. Donovan of Monson, bookkeeper, formed an opinion; Charles S. Tarbell of Brimfield, farmer, formed an opinion; Ansel H. Shaw of Wales, challenged by the prisoner; John McDonough of Ludlow challenged by the commonwealth.

Illiterate Minors Law.

Certificate For All Over 16 and Under 21 Must be on File.

A new law—or rather a change in the age limit of a former law—requires all mills and factories where illiterate minors are employed to have on file for inspection a certificate of illiteracy for every such person employed who is between the ages or 16 and 21. The standard of literacy is the ability to read readily at sight and to write legibly simple sentences in the English language; such a test as is required for the fourth grade of the public schools. Certificates must be issued by some person in authority, and Superintendent of schools Hobson has been looking the matter up. He has received reports from all the large manufacturing concerns of the town, and finds that there are about 250 illiterate minors in the town. He has begun issuing certificates as the law provides, and will proceed with the work as fast as possible.

W. R. C. SILVER WEDDING.

Twenty-five Years of Existence Celebrated To-day.

OTHER CORPS INVITED TO ATTEND.

Meeting This Afternoon, Supper This Evening, Entertainment to Follow.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps, No. 76, is celebrating to-day the 25th anniversary of its organization—its silver wedding day, so to speak. There has been much of interest for the members and their invited guests, and with the satisfaction of a successfully planned and executed celebration the Corps will pass into the second quarter century of its existence.

There was a regular meeting this afternoon at 1.30 in Odd Fellows' Hall, which was followed by a social and entertainment. The Corps of Springfield, Monson, Warren and Ware had been invited and sent generous delegations, the number of guests being about 100. There were also present the department president, Mrs. Nellie Libby of Lynn, and the Department Inspector, Mrs. Mary Laudt of Hyde Park. This evening at 6 there will be a supper in the Corps' quarters in Memorial Hall, to which the members of the Grand Army post and Sons of Veterans camp, and their wives, have been invited. An entertainment will follow.

Mrs. Ida L. Bond.
President Woman's Relief Corps.

L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps was instituted Nov. 19, 1886, with 20 charter members. Of these seven are still members of the organization; three have died and ten have been dismissed or have removed from town. The total membership since organization has been 196; the present number is 108. The first president was Mrs. Delilah S. Davis, who served four years; she was followed by Mrs. Clara B. Davis, two years; Mrs. Abbie J. Lawton, two years; Mrs. Julia H. Henry, two years; Mrs. Jennie E. Weld, two years; Mrs. Laura J. Davis, two years; Mrs. Edith J. Clark, two years; Mrs. Ellen M. Barnes, one year; Mrs. Lavinia E. Carpenter, four years; Mrs. Lillian E. Parkhurst, two years; Mrs. Ida M. Bond, who is the present president, serving her first term.

In addition to the regular work of the order, which is too well known to need explanation here, the principal action of the local Corps was the purchase, soon after organization, of a room in the Soldiers' Home in Chelsa, which they furnished and have since maintained. In 1908 a boulder "To the unknown dead" was procured and set in the Oak Knoll cemetery by members of the order working under the name of the Woman's Relief Corps Circle. The Corps is in a prosperous condition, and its meetings are attended by a considerable number.

Convicted By a Coin.

Spanish Piece of Money Fastens Larceny On Farm Hand.

In the district court last Saturday Joseph Wiskierski was found guilty of larceny and given a sentence of six months in the house of correction. Wiskierski had been employed as a farm hand by John Roman, on the "Sikes" farm near Four Corners, and was suspected of appropriating to his own use money and other articles owned by his fellow-workmen. There was not much to sustain the theory however until a search of his belongings disclosed among them a Spanish coin which was owned by one of the losers at the farm.

Walter E. Burnham, taxidermist, of Greenfield, is prepared to do first-class work in his line. Hides tanned, and rugs, deerfeet and specialties made up to order.

FOR COMMUNITY'S GOOD.

The Men and Religion Forward Movement.

CONSIDERED AT THORNDIKE MEETING.

Nine Churches Appoint Committees to Consider Extension of Work In Palmer.

A largely attended conference of representative men gathered at the Congregational church in Thorndike Tuesday evening to consider the Men and Religion Forward Movement and its possible application to Palmer. Each of the seven resident Protestant pastors had selected a committee of five laymen from his congregation, although the number was not restricted. Rev. Charles W. Williams, as senior pastor, presided. Rev. C. C. Gorst of Thorndike outlined briefly the origin and scope of the movement. Other pastors followed. The movement began in the hearts of a few men who without any previous conference or design were drawn together over an apparent failure of the churches to reach the men of the community and to interest them in definite forms of religious work. There are enrolled in the Protestant churches of the United States and Canada 3,000,000 more women than men. A committee of nearly 100 men representing nine different denominational brotherhoods, the International Sunday School Association, the Y. M. C. A. and the Gideons, has general charge of the movement with headquarters at the Christian Association rooms at 124 East 28th street, New York city. Mr. Fred B. Smith is the executive head of the committee.

An appeal was made for co-operation in the common work of the churches of Palmer for the men and boys. A leakage cannot exist in one part of the town without its having an effect upon similar work in another place. The appeal was made on the grounds common to all Protestant churches. It was recognized in the discussion at once that definite methods for work were demanded. But it was pointed out that definite information concerning the forces at work and the results that are now being obtained were also essential. To secure these facts survey blanks were presented, covering first, four departments of intensive work by the churches in their respective fields, Bible study, Evangelism, Boys' Work, Missions; secondly, blanks covering social service in the community, including some of the preceding topics but emphasizing boys' work under four departments, of education, industrial occupation recreation and religion, and a social survey; thirdly, blanks that tabulate the results of the intensive church work in the first named survey.

As the meeting progressed it became apparent that there were two questions in the minds of some: First, what are you going to do with the statistics when you have them? the fear being that the movement would resolve itself into a mere gathering of statistics. This was answered that in both church and community extension work the services of many laymen would be required, which of itself would be worth while, and particularly, that when results were obtained and tabulated they would serve as a basis for quickening interest in these various fields of effort. The oft-repeated assertion that men want something definite to do is answered by getting at the facts and letting those facts speak for themselves. The second query was, that Palmer is not especially interested in Springfield or New York, and what is being done elsewhere is no criterion for work here. But this was answered by the fact that what other communities have found helpful would likely be helpful here; that after all, our conditions are similar in social, moral, industrial, educational and church problems that we want to adapt the methods to local conditions and not discard them, but should look for as much inspiration and help as possible from a movement that is gripping so many communities in the United States and Canada. It was further pointed out that no new organization is needed, simply a federation of existing forces to the one end of community betterment.

A motion was passed to ask each of the pastors of the nine churches to appoint a committee of three from his congregation to consider the advisability of this campaign of Palmer, and to report at an adjourned meeting of the conference. Mr. Williams was asked to call the committee together. The meeting was looked upon as a success in that it brought together the men of the town who are working for the same ends, and it is hoped that the movement may grow until it shall develop into something definite for the town.

Small Strike at Ware.

New 54-Hour Law Cuts Down Pay of Women and They Quit.

About 25 spinners left their work in the No. 1 mill of the Otis company in Ware Friday afternoon as the result of dissatisfaction with the pay received under the 54-hour law recently put into effect. Friday was pay-day, and when the women received their pay and found they had less by two hours than the week previous, they demanded more pay. This the company refused to give, saying that conditions in the cotton business do not warrant an increase in wages.

Monday afternoon a number of spinners left their work in No. 4 mill after demanding an increase in pay to compensate for the two hours loss sustained under the new 54-hour law. The increase was refused. The spinners in No. 4 mill are engaged in the spinning of filling for the weave room and their leaving necessitated the closing of the weave room Monday night, thus throwing 200 weavers out of work.

The condition of affairs assumed a more favorable aspect Wednesday, when after noon the weave room was reopened. A sufficient number of spinners have returned to work to prepare enough filling to enable the starting of the looms and probably keep them running at least for the remainder of the week.

Yesterday all those who had gone out of No 4 mill returned to their work. There are still some out of No 1 mill, but unless something new develops, it is thought the mill will keep running.

Will Contest Election.

Belchertown Man Claims Election Through Error in Ware.

Almon L. Pratt of Belchertown, who was on the face of the returns defeated for representative in the Fourth Hampshire district by E. E. Sargent of Belchertown, has filed with Town Clerk Morse of Ware a notice of his intention to contest the election. Attorney H. M. Coney of Ware through whom the notice was filed, stated that Mr. Pratt claimed the election on the ground that the vote in Ware was invalid because of the failure of the selectmen to live up to the law in posting the warrant, and that he served this notice on the town that he would protest the election of Mr. Sargent. This will probably be done by a petition to the Legislature. Mr. Sargent, when interviewed in regard to the matter, stated that if he had been counted out, he would have accepted his defeat. When asked if he had any fears for the result of a protest, he said he had the very best authority to the effect that the people of Ware could not be disfranchised by the error of an individual or individuals.

Nearly Buried Alive.

North Wilbraham Man Misses Death by Very Narrow Margin.

George Cady of North Wilbraham narrowly escaped being buried alive Friday afternoon while at work in Riverdale. Mr. Cady was engaged in digging a ditch for a water connection and straightened up to speak to another workman when the bank caved in, burying him up to the neck. Help was quickly obtained and Mr. Cady released from his precarious position, barely in time however, as the weight of earth on his chest would soon have suffocated him. He was taken to his home and medical attendance summoned. Examination showed that his collarbone was broken.

Ware Hospital Report.

The annual report of the Ware Visiting Nurse and Hospital Association has been issued. In addition to the reports of officers, it contained the following interesting data: Number of patients admitted to the hospital for the year was 80; males 30, females 50; number of operations 21; number of births 15; male 8, female 7; number medical patients 21; surgical 29, obstetrical 15; number of deaths 4. The residences of the patients were as follows: Albany, 1; Boston, 1; Gilbertville, 7; Hardwick, 4; Wakefield, 1; Ware, 64; Wheelwright, 1; West Warren, 1. The receipts for the year amounted to $6604.87, and the expenditures $4079.63, leaving a balance on hand of $2525.24.

Probate Court Business.

At a session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday, the following business of interest to the people of this vicinty was included in that transacted:

Will proved of—Adelaide C. Rees, late of Monson, Evan D. Rees of Monson administrator.

Account allowed in the estate of Julia A. Smith, late of Wales.

AN OLD HOME SUNDAY.

Union Church of Three Rivers Holds Celebration.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT EXERCISES.

Supper and Social Saturday Evening. Special Services Twice on Sunday.

Old Home Sunday was observed at the Union church, Three Rivers, last Sunday. A supper was served in the vestry of the church at 6.30 Saturday evening for those who returned to attend the services on the following day. After supper an informal reception was held for the guests. Sunday morning service was at the usual hour, and there was a large attendance. Rev. Henry C. Newell, who is always sure of a large audience and a hearty welcome whenever he is announced to speak, was the preacher, and chose for his text, Rev. 3d chapter, 8th verse: "Behold I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it." His theme was "The God-given opportunity to service."

He said in part that the measure of a man's influence is his personality, and that the power which makes for righteousness is the personality of the best and most consecrated Christians. He said that his own conception of Christianity was in early boyhood moulded by a minister of the Union church, who at a time when one of the families of his parish was stricken with a malignantly contagious disease and when others feared to go, himself went and ministered to the needs of that family until the members were restored to health. He said that there is a great need to-day of Christian service. The open door of opportunity is before every one, and no one can close it. Shall the man hasten to cross its threshold?

At the evening service several letters from former pastors and from those who were once members of the church were read. After the usual service communion was received, that the day might be closed with the most fitting recognition of fellowship with Christ and with each other.

WALES.

Dennis Maynard has gone to Westhampton for the winter.

Mrs. Hattie Parker has returned from a visit to Springfield.

J. H. Loudon is starting the Dell mill and opened the boarding house this week.

Judge H. A. McFarland has been confined to the house by illness for the past week.

F. M. Parker has taken a position with the Standard Oil Company in Springfield.

Mrs. Kent has closed her house and will spend the winter with Mrs. Albert Sizer.

Mrs. Gustavus Drechsler has closed her house at the lake and gone to Palmer for the winter.

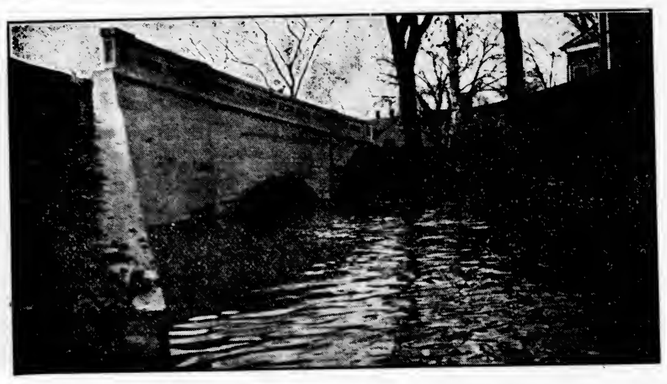
Mrs. C. M. Thompson fell from her piazza Wednesday afternoon and sustained a broken shoulder.

Frank Bailey, formerly of this town, moved from Monson to J. H. Loudon's house on Church street this week.

Mrs. George H. Lanphear entertained the Baptist Ladies' Aid Society at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Alice McGrath has secured a position in the schools of Easthampton and will not return after the Thanksgiving vacation.

The automobile truck of the Texas Oil Company met with a slight accident between this town and Brimfield Wednesday afternoon.



Mrs. John Royce slipped last Thursday and sprained her ankle. Lulu Sizer, daughter of Albert Sizer, sprained her elbow while playing at school the same afternoon.

Rev. Samuel A. Read of Springfield supplied the Baptist pulpit Sunday. The Rev. Charles T. Holt is taking a trip to Virginia and will visit Petersborough and Valley Forge with a party of members of the Legislature, accompanied by Governor Foss.

Springfield Bridge Built by Wales Man.

T. J. Hynes & Son of Wales completed last week a rather unusual concrete bridge for the city of Springfield, over Mill river, a cut of which is given herewith, the work comprising one part of the extension of Locust street.

The contract for the structure was awarded July 26 to Hynes & Son at $3687; the same to be completed in sixty working days, their bid being about $700 less than their nearest competitor. Many people wondered at the difference in the bids, and there were many conjectures as to whether the firm could build a substantial structure at that figure. The bridge is much more complicated than the accompanying photo would tend to show. In the first place, it is built on an angle of 34 degrees with the old structure; the spandrel wall and railing, instead of being on a straight line, are built on two distinct and different curves, one having a radius of 792 feet and the other curve a 32-feet radius; the bridge is also on a grade of over 5 per cent. It was probably the most "ticklish" piece of work of its kind ever attempted in or about Springfield.

Work was begun August 1st, and on account of high water the men were obliged to work nights for the first two weeks. After the first few days it was evident to the lookers-on that the contractors were thoroughly conversant with bridge construction; and those who had looked on optimistieally at first now became interested in the work. On Sundays large numbers of people would gather to note the progress of the work, and many of them were daily visitors.

A portable concrete mixer was installed on the bank above the site, and the concrete was conveyed through iron chutes to the forms. The concrete arch was two and one-half feet thick at the base and tapered to nine inches at the crown. It was reinforced by longitudinal steel rods placed one foot on centers, and transverse rods placed three feet on centers. Many expressed doubts as to whether such a light arch would support the enormous weight of clay hardpan (over seven feet in thickness) which was to be placed upon it. Those doubts have already been dispelled, as the fill was substantially completed prior to the heavy rain storms of October 17 and 18, during which dams failed and retaining walls were entirely washed away; the bridge withstood this test with no perceptible movement.

The railing is of solid concrete eight inches in thickness, with inset panels, tooled so as to show the aggregate. The structure combines durability with economy and beauty in simplicity of design. It is a type which might well be copied by towns and municipalities desiring durable construction combined with no cost for maintenance, as a concrete bridge properly built requires no repairing of any kind. The workmanship on the above structure is of the first order and reflects much credit on the contractors.

This bridge was designed by W. M. Denman, associate engineer Luten Engineering Co., Springfield, Mass., to carry the 100-ton cars of the Springfield Street Railway Co.

A Peacemaker

By EDNA JENKINS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"How long are you going to hang around Laura Troop, Charlie, before you get her?"

"I fear I'll never get her."

"It would serve you right if you didn't."

"Why do you say that?"

"You're no adept at the game of love."

"What do you mean by the game of love?"

"There is a game of love the same as a game of war or politics. There is a game in everything."

"Teach me the game of love."

"I'd rather play one for you, putting my hand on yours and moving the pieces for you, only you would have to promise to make no move independently."

Charlie Warren thought deeply on what had been said to him by his friend Hereford. He sometimes suspected that Miss Troop was amusing herself with him, but what the result would be he had not even an opinion. Hereford, on the contrary, had observed the girl in Warren's company and knew by instinct that she wouldn't lose her lover for the world. Very fond of Warren and knowing that he was made really miserable by Miss Troop, he had a desire to revenge his friend and bring him in a winner at the same time.

"Very well," said Warren. "Play the game for me with Laura."

"Not unless you promise to obey every instruction I give you."

"I consent," replied Warren haltingly.

"Then I will make the first move. Remember, you are to do exactly what I say."

"What am I to do first?"

"The next time you meet Laura cut her dead."

"For heaven's sake, what's that for?"

"To break the present deadlock."

"Then what?"

"I don't know. I shall be guided by what our opponent does."

Notwithstanding Charlie's promise it was some time before he could make up his mind to obey. However, he consented at last, and the next morning he did the deed bravely. He was used to passing Miss Troop's house on his way to business, and she often contrived to be where her lover could see her. One day she would smile at him, the next scowl at him. When he passed without looking up at her a scowl she had put on faded into a look of astonishment.

"Well, I declare!" she exclaimed, following him with her eyes till he had turned a corner. "What in the world does it mean? I wonder if any one has been saying anything mean about me. I can't remember having treated him any worse than usual. What has he got hold of, I wonder? How mean of him not to come up like a man and tell me to my face what's the matter. I suppose he thinks I'll knuckle down to him. Not I. I'll pay him in his own coin."

The next evening Charlie Warren rushed wildly into Hereford's room.

"It's all up with me!" he cried.

"What's up?"

"I cut Laura yesterday. By the mail today I received a note from her saying that, having been so unmanly and ungentlemanly as to pass her without speaking to her, she wished to inform me that she had no further desire for my acquaintance. Great Scott! What shall I do?"

"Cut her again. This time if you get an opportunity turn your back square upon her."

"I shall go at once and explain, begging her forgiveness."

"No you won't. You've promised to be guided by me."

Hereford found his friend unmanageable. The best he could do with him was to gain his consent that he (Hereford) should see Miss Troop and play the rest of the game directly. Warren could not wait, so, leaving him, Hereford sallied off to beard the lioness in her den. Within half an hour the messenger returned.

"Well?" asked the lover anxiously.

"I found her in."

"What did you say?"

"I told her that you had sent me to tell her that you had lost all respect for her."

"Oh, my good gracious! You've done me up. What did she say?"

"She asked why you had not the manliness to come with the message yourself. I replied that you wished never to see her again."

"Don't tell me any more or I shall kill you."

"All right; I think I'll have a smoke." He filled his pipe and lit it.

"I mean I'll kill you if you don't tell me the rest at once."

"Oh, I can't remember it all."

"Tell me what you remember."

"I told her that I had found you the other day disgruntled with her treatment of you; that I had endeavored to persuade you to be patient with her, but had failed; you had become thoroughly imbittered against her. She believed the yarn and admitted that she had teased you a little bit. If I could secure your forgiveness she would never do so any more."

Warren gave a jump for his friend and threw his arms about his neck.

Married women do not usually favor their husbands' intimate men friends. Mrs. Troop is an exception. She dotes on Hereford, thinking that he brought about a peace between her and the man she loves. Troop has had the good sense to keep the secret.

The way that wins is hard.

First In The State.

[Continued from First Page]

with the teacher; at the same time they are given a card folder on which the amount has been credited; the stamps now in use will be done away with. The money collected is put in an envelope bearing the name of the room and sent to the bank, where it is entered to the credit of that room. When a pupil has deposited one dollar or more a savings bank pass book is then issued to that pupil and the amount begins to draw interest. Simple methods of transferring the accounts and withdrawal when desired are provided.

Pupils who have books of stamps will be asked to bring them to be transferred to the new system.

The first collection under the new system will be made in Palmer next Monday morning by Mr. Waid personally, in Thorndike Tuesday, Three Rivers Wednesday and Bondsville Thursday.

How We Live.

The only right is that which allows man's individuality to expand, and the only wrong is that which contracts it—we live in the measure that we voice ourselves, and we but linger when self-expression atrophies and dies.

Oldest American Settlement.

Acoma, an Indian village of the southwest, is said to be the oldest settlement in this country. It was referred to by the Spanish 30 years before St. Augustine was founded.

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive

About the size of your shoes it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear shoes a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease into them. Just the thing for Patent Leather Shoes, and for breaking In New Shoes. Sold everywhere, 25c. Sample FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y.

Mrs. Rose

Late of New York City.

Hair Goods Made to Order and Remodeled.
Complexion and Scalp Treatment --- Facials, Shampooing and Manicuring.

Hours: 9 to 5. Appointments made.

Telephone 49-11.

17 Thorndike Street, Palmer, Mass.

A Penny Announcement

That Is Worth Dollars to You

I Will Retire Fom the Jewelry Business About Jan. 1, 1912.

Sale Now On

My entire stock of Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Silverware and Cut Glass is now on private sale at Cost Prices.

It is needless to make any comment on the quality of these goods and would suggest to those of my friends who wish the opportunity to secure Rare Bargains for Christmas Gifts or Personal Use, that they COME EARLY.

Enos E. Penny

417 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

W. D. Kinsman Co.,

SPRINGFIELD.

Saturday Brings a Great Sale of the Famous Belle Waists

Belle Waists have enjoyed a pre-eminence in our waist department never before equaled by any other brand of waist and they knowing of our immense outlet of their fine, high-grade waists, made us a proposition to close out over one hundred dozen at a mere fraction of their true worth. You can now buy Belle Waists at practically little or nothing of their former prices. This is not a sale of our own stock, but every waist represented in the offerings comes to you fresh, spick and span from the makers. Aside from this great offering of high-grade waists, every department in this busy, bustling store will be alive with special attractions for Saturday traders.

We Describe the Various Values Below So That You Get Your Share of Them

$1.50 to $2.98 Waists, 98c

Hundreds and hundreds of styles at this price in heavy Cheviots, Madras, Lawns, Linens in both plain, fancy, embroidered and tucked styles. Some of these styles are in the Lingerie effects and some of them are in Semi-Tailored effects. Every size represented in this offering. Every waist is an exceptional value.

BELLE WAIST SALE, 98c each

$2.25 to $3.98 Waists, $1.48 Each

These Waists are made of the choieest and daintiest Madras, French Percale and French Flannel styles, all sizes represented in this collection. In all pretty color combinations. Every waist is superbly designed and come with collar of self material or white laundered collar. It is needless to say that Belle Waists at this price will prove highly interesting to all who see them. Then again the vast assortment of styles and colorings will prove even more interesting. Every wanted size.

BELLE WAIST SALE, $1.48

$2.98 to $3.50 Waists, $1.98 Each

The finest and choieest of all the waist offerings is shown in this collection of fine French Flannels, choice tailored waists in plain and embroidered fronts. These are exclusive styles made of Flannels and Linens in the choieest and newest effects. They come in white and all pretty colors, both plain and striped combinations.

BELLE WAIST SALE, $1.98 Each

Another Big Offering Is the Collection of Slightly Imperfect Waists, 69c Each

Every waist manufacturer at some time or other has accumulations of odds and ends that are slightly imperfect. This is equally true of the Belle Waist Mfg. Co. Heretofore, these slightly imperfect waists have been sold by one of the large Boston stores, they having control of their entire collection of imperfect waists. By a fortunate circumstance, our buyer participated in this offering, the reason being that we were on the ground first, and owing to the fact that we intended having a sale, and as an extra inducement to help boom the Belle Waist Sale, they allowed us the privilege of securing these waists. We were mighty pleased at the opportunity that enabled us to bring before our patrons these handsome Belle Waists. In regard to the imperfections, we want to say that they are only slight and hardly noticeable. The offering represents Semi-tailored, some Flannels, Linons and even some Linens, made in pretty embroidered front styles and then there are some tucked effects in white and all good colored combinations. This offering is a rare opportunity for women to secure Belle Waists at prices lower than ever before.

BELLE WAIST SALE, 69c Each

W. D. Kinsman Co., Springfield

Springfield Meekins, Packard & Wheat Massachusetts

We Personally Guarantee the Absolute and Literal Truth of Every Statement Made in This Advertisement.

A. A PACKARD. W. G. WHEAT.

We Take Special Pride in Our Showing of Library Tables

We always carry a most complete line of library tables but this season our stock is larger and more attractive than ever before, including a superb variety of handsome patterns --- uncommonly good tables at most reasonable prices. We mention a few examples of this notable value-giving:

Quartered oak library table, in plain rich design with French legs, one drawer and undershelf---table 42 x 26 in.---at $10.50.

Heavy massive design in quartered oak or mahogany finish with drawer and undershelf---table 42 x 28 inches.---at $12.

Other excellent styles in quartered oak and mahogany---at $9, $11, $13.75, 15 and 17.

Beautiful Colonial table in solid Mahogany with graceful scroll supports --- table with top 44 x 28 in.--- special value at $35.

Magnificent pieces in solid Mahogany, many of them exact reproductions of fine old Colonial pieces --- from $35 to $100.

Lowest Prices of the Year on High Grade Carpets

In our mid-season carpet clearance in which we are closing out all discontinued patterns, we are offering the lowest prices of the year on high-grade carpets. We have gone through our entire stock, weeding out all patterns which we can no longer duplicate, and marked them at mill prices and less for a quick and decisive clearance.

Thus, at prices such as you would expect to pay in our January clearance, you can now buy the very best carpets made, in a big variety of desirable patterns suited to every room in the home.

Best Quality Tapestry Brussels

Regular $1 grades in 15 good patterns--- 79c yd

Axminsters and Velvets

Best quality Axminster and Velvet Carpets, regular $1.40 and $1.50 grades, in 17 desirable patterns---at $1.10 yd.

Madras and Filet Curtains At Attractive Low Prices

We are offering some especially attractive values this week in Madras and Filet curtains---two of the most popular curtains of the season at initial low prices. These are all brand new goods, of fine quality and quite the handsomest curtains we have ever been able to show at these very low prices.

FIGURED MADRAS CURTAINS in ecru, in the genuine imported Scotch Madras---curtains 2 1-2 yards long, in a choice selection of patterns.

Curtains regularly $2.50 $3.00 $3.50 and $4.00.
At $1.50 $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 pair.

FILET CURTAINS---made on fine scrim in white and Arab, in a variety of handsome new styles with Filet insertion, wide band and lace edge. Regular $4 curtains---at $3 pair

Equally good values in more elaborate designs---at $3.50 $4.50 $5 and $6.

Meekins, Packard & Wheat

Springfield, Massachusetts

BELCHERTOWN.

Death of Mrs. Mary Hastings.

Mrs. Mary Hastings, 83, died at her home on Maple street Wednesday afternoon after a long illness. Mrs. Hastings was the widow of Martin Hastings and had lived in Belchertown for many years on a farm, but moved to the Center about 10 years ago. Mr. Hastings died about eight years ago. Mrs. Hastings leaves a sister, Mrs. J. R. Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Ward have moved to the Center.

Department President Nellie P. Holt and Department Inspector Mary Land of Boston will inspect the local Woman's Relief corps at the annual meeting this evening.

BRIMFIELD.

Funeral of Mrs. C. M. Sherman.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine M. Sherman was held Friday afternoon. Relatives and friends from New York and elsewhere as well as townspeople were in attendance. Rev. Dr. Frank I. Hall of New York, pastor of the church of the Divine Paternity, of which Mrs. Sherman had been a member for over 50 years, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Mason of Waltham, formerly of New York. Mrs. C. W. Williams sang two selections. Burial was in the family lot in the Brimfield cemetery.

Mrs. Robert W. Lewis has been making a short stay in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brackett have been spending a part of the week in Boston.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

O'Connor's Barber Shop

PALMER, MASS.

Just across the street from the Waiting Room.
(On Corner going to Depot.)

4 Chairs, No Long Waits

Everything absolutely clean.

Shavers' Supplies For Sale

Razors Honed and Handles Put On. Why pay more? We warrant our Razors at $1.50. Each one is tried, so we know what we sell you.

Central Vermont Railway Co.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 1, 1911.

Trains Leave Palmer Going South:

7.25 a. m. Passenger for New London. Due Stafford 7.58 a. m., Willimantic 8.50 a. m., Norwich 9.27 a. m., New London 10.00 a. m.
9.55 a. m. Mail for New London. Due Stafford 10.31 a. m., Willimantic 11.17 a. m., Norwich 11.52 a. m., New London 12.20 p. m.
1.25 p. m. Passenger for New London. Due Stafford 2.03 p. m., Willimantic 3.08 p. m., Norwich 3.43 p. m., New London 4.10 p. m.
6.30 p. m. Steamboat train for New London and New York. Due Stafford 7.10 p. m., Willimantic 7.55 p. m., Norwich 8.30 p. m., New London 9.00 p. m., New York City via Norwich Line, Pier 70, East River, 5.45 a. m., Pier 40, North River 7.00 a. m., following morning.

Above trains connect at Willimantic and New London east and west for points on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Trains Leave Palmer Going North.

7.30 a. m. Mail. Due Amherst 8.15 a. m., Millers Falls 9.00 a. m., Brattleboro 10.00 a. m.
12.10 p. m. Express. Due Amherst 12.55 p. m., Millers Falls 1.20 p. m., Brattleboro 2.07 p. m.
5.30 p. m. Due Amherst 6.16 p. m., Millers Falls 6.50 p. m., Brattleboro 8.00 p. m.

These trains cannot connect at Millers Falls with trains east and west on the B. & M., and at Brattleboro with express trains for White River Junction and Montreal and points west thereof.

These trains run week days only.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

J. W. HANLEY, General Passenger Agent.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

McCall's Magazine and McCall Patterns

For Women

Have More Friends than any other magazine or patterns. McCall's is the indispensable Fashion Guide monthly in one million one hundred thousand homes. Besides showing all the latest designs of McCall Patterns, each issue is brimful of sparkling short stories and helpful information for women.

Save Money and Keep in Style by subscribing for McCall's Magazine at once. Costs only 50 cents a year, including any one of the celebrated McCall Patterns free.

McCall Patterns Lead all others in style, fit, quality, economy and number sold. More dressmakers sell McCall Patterns than any other two combined. None higher than 15 cents. Ten cents at your dealer, or by mail from

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
236-246 W. 37th St., New York City

Send for Sample Copy, Premium Catalogue and Pattern Catalogue free, on request

HOLLAND.

Mrs. Oliver Howlett is visiting in Worcester.

Work has begun on the new state road from the Brimfield line to Holland pond.

At a recent meeting of the parish it was voted to retain Mr. Lovering as pastor for another year. The solicitors for the year are Loring M. Howlett, John F. Hebard and Miss Howlett.

HAMPDEN.

Morton L. Day has bought the house nearly opposite Sidney Chapin's residence.

Mrs. Roxannah Warner has presented a quantity of plates, cups, saucers, etc., to the Grange. The grangers have decided to buy a piano.

Hampden Grange will meet this evening. The third degree will be worked by the women's degree staff and the fourth degree by the regular officers. An oyster supper will be served.

WARE.

Whist Club Observe Anniversary.

The Married People's Whist Club observed its 10th anniversary Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Storrs. The members of the club at its inception were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ossian Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Sibley, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bridgman, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schoonmaker, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. George D. Storrs. Mr. and Mrs. David Wooley and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wetherbee have since become members and Mr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker have withdrawn. There has been one death among the members, Mrs. R. C. Snow dying in 1910.

Death of Octave Mandeville.

Octave Mandeville died Saturday at his home on Cherry street of pulmonary tuberculosis. He was born in Canada, but had lived in Ware 15 years. He is survived by three daughters, Maria, Anna and Mrs. Artel Demers, and four sons, Fred, Louis, George and Napoleon. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated Monday morning in Mt. Carmel church and burial was in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Donaldson—Plouff.

Joseph A. Plouff of Church street and Miss Emma Donaldson of West Main street were married Wednesday morning at 5.45 in St. Anne's chapel, Rev. W. J. Lucey performing the ceremony. The couple were unattended and left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip.

At the annual meeting of Eden lodge of Masons Monday evening, these officers were elected: Master, David Woolley; senior warden, J. Gardner Lincoln; junior warden, Walter H. Apperson; treasurer, Herbert W. Sibley; secretary, John H. Schoonmaker.

WARREN.

Death of Patrick Rooney.

Patriek Rooney, 75, died suddenly Saturday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Riley on School street. He had been in his usual health and had been at work for the telephone company. He worked up to Wednesday night, but had caught cold and did not work after that. He lived alone in his house on Pine street and nothing was known of his illness until Friday night. He was removed in James White's automobile Saturday morning to his daughter's home. Death was due to acute congestion of the kidneys, probably following a chronic attack of Bright's disease. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Kate Riley of Warren and Mrs. Lizzie Bradley of Dorchester, one son, John L. Rooney of Springfield, and two step-sons, Thomas McGovern and William McGovern. The funeral was held Monday from St. Paul's Catholic church.

Was Painfully Injured.

Benjamin Halley was painfully injured Monday afternoon. He drives one of the school teams and was returning down Maple street when his horse suddenly became frightened at a passing train. Mr. Halley feared that the covered wagon was going to tip over and jumped out, catching his foot in the spokes of the wheel. The horse did not run and Mr. Halley lay on the ground for a few moments until J. Victor Sherburne found him. He was helped into the wagon and driven home, where he was attended by Dr. J. E. Dalton. He suffered a fracture of both bones of his right ankle.

The body of Mrs. Carrie J. Gould Blake, wife of William H. Blake, who died in North Weymouth Tuesday, was brought to Warren Friday for burial. The funeral services were held in the Universalist church in the afternoon, Rev. O. I. Darling officiating and burial was in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

For pains in the side or chest dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Liniment and bind it on over the seat of pain. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace | Forbes & Wallace

MAIL ORDERS Promptly and Carefully Filled.

A Remarkable November Clearance of Floor Coverings

Featured By Many Extraordinary Offerings---Prices Lower Than We Have Ever Quoted Before

We are planning many changes in our Department of Floor Coverings. Already we have taken up a lot more of the new room which it is to occupy when the changes have been completed. We have also made large purchases of new goods and must adjust the stock to meet the new conditions. Therefore we have made a bigger event than usual of this annual stock-clearing. More goods are offered. Larger assortments are shown. Prices have been cut more deeply than ever before. Altogether this is Without Exception the Greatest Opportunity to Buy Floor Coverings of High Quality and Desirable Style That Has Ever Been Presented to the Public of Western New England.

Two Unprecedented Offers of Very High Grade Domestic Rugs

$35 to $40 High-grade Royal Wilton Rugs at $29.95

A lot of high-grade Royal Wilton Rugs, new patterns, mostly choice Oriental designs, some of the very best domestic makes. Size 8 feet 3 inches by 10 feet 6 inches. Rugs that usually sell for $35 to $40, November Clearance Price $29.95

$37.50 to $50.00 Dobson's Saxony and Wilton Rugs at $31.95

These fine rugs include Dobson's high-grade Saxony and a lot of Royal Wiltons. They are in beautiful designs in soft, rich colorings. Size 9 x 12 feet. They are values sold regularly at $37.50, $42.50, $45 and $50. We offer them in the November Clearance for $31.95

Tapestry Brussels Carpets, Regular $1.10 grade, November Clearance Price, yard 79c

Wilton Velvet Carpets, Regular $1.45 grade, November Clearance, price, yard $1.05

$1 35 Grade Linoleum in a great variety of patterns, at, a yard $1.15

Hodges' Fibre Matting in very attractive patterns, usually sold at 35c a yard, November Clearance Price 25c

Department of Floor Coverings, 4th Floor.

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.

Three Meetings

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Three times I saw her, three times I gazed upon her, each time being drawn nearer to her before I knew her sorrow.

I was riding on a railroad train to my home in the suburbs of a great city when looking up I saw a girl who faced me gazing at me with a pair of large brown eyes. There was in her face something like sadness, but not sadness, rather the appearance of one born under different conditions from other mortals—a resignation, yet a contentment in resignation. I have tried by these words to describe it, but am conscious of having failed.

Though her eyes were fixed upon me, there was no boldness in them. Rather she seemed unconscious of meeting my gaze. Perhaps, I thought, she is thinking of something so absorbing that though she is looking straight at me she does not see me, or it may be that she is looking at something beyond me. I have often returned a salute from a person who meant it for one behind me. So I continued to gaze at the girl and she at me till she turned her face in another direction.

She was sitting by a lady double her age, and the likeness between them indicated that they were mother and daughter. Presently the train stopped at a station, and the two left the car together. I had noticed by the affectionate glances the mother gave the daughter that she idolized her, and when they passed out it was hand in hand.

I did not forget the face, and a year later I saw it again. This time it was in a church. She was, as before, accompanied by her mother. I was sitting in a transept; the girl was facing the pulpit. There was the same look, indescribable in words, that had impressed me twelve months ago. Her gaze was fixed on the clergyman, though occasionally she would drop it as though looking into her lap. There was in me a vague feeling—something like a hope—that when I had seen her on the train she had been, at least a part of the time, looking at me, cognizant of my presence; that she had remembered me as I remembered her. I watched to see if she would not look in my direction. Just before the close of the services I was rewarded by seeing her turn, and her eyes rested upon me. I looked for something to indicate that she was conscious of my presence and that she had seen me before. But there was only that strange look of resignation I had seen before. After the benediction she and her mother left the church in the same manner as they had left the train.

The third meeting. Having a law case I was waiting in the courtroom for it to be tried. A criminal case was called—that of Evelyn Bryce. Who should come into court to answer to the charge of forgery but the girl I had seen twice before. She came hand and hand with her mother.

Naturally I was wrapped in the trial. The prisoner's attorney was evidently trying to prove a conspiracy on the part of certain persons against his client. When he made a point in her favor or her case appeared to be going against her I looked to see what effect it had upon her. I could see very little. I was not sure that I could see any. I noticed that the jury—indeed, all those in the courtroom—were looking at her; that they seemed as much impressed with that look of mingled resignation and content as I.

The defendant's counsel exhibited the document that the girl was accused of forging and showed that the name had been written on the line intended for it without the raising or depression of a single letter and without incline either up or down.

